Canadian Vessels Enabled to Land Halibut in Alaska

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—Reciprocal halibut landing privileges are granted Canadian fishing vessels in legislation signed Friday by President Truman. The bill provides that ships in the North Pacific halibut fishery will be permitted to land catches of halibut and sablefish in Alaska ports providing United States fishing vessels are granted the same rights in British Columbia ports. It is effective until January 1, 1950.

Canadian vessels will have to comply with existing customs laws.

STRIKE SPREADS

Liverpool May Also Be Affected By Walk-out of British Dockers

LONDON (CP)—The strike of 20,000 dock workers which has tied up the port of London for thirteen days has threatened to spread to other British ports.

A member of the strike committee told a mass meeting that "things are moving in Liverpool."

The strike originated in the suspension of eleven workers who refused to handle "dirty cargo" without extra pay.

RAIN WELCOMED

Prairies Getting Needed Precipitation—Cherries Moving

WINNIPEG—Conditions have improved in Manitoba due to this week's rains and Thursday there were soaking showers in Saskatchewan and Alberta where it was badly needed, only scattered showers having fallen up to then, according to the weekly crop report of the Department of Agriculture of the Canadian National Railways. The crop in Saskatchewan has so far held its own but, if some more rain is not received very soon, the crop will deteriorate rapidly.

Grasshopper damage is fairly general in Saskatchewan but is worst in the Semans-Saskatoon-Rosetown areas. In all three provinces, early sown wheat is standing up well but later sown coarse grains show very poor germination and are very backward. Recent rains have improved conditions in the Peace River area.

The weather in the Okanagan Valley has been warm with showers during the past week and little or no change has been reported since last week. The first of the cherry movement started Wednesday with three cases being shipped from Kelowna.

HIGHWAY OPEN ON WEDNESDAY

Completion of Flood Damage Repairs Delayed

Highway traffic between Prince Rupert and Terrace will not be resumed until after next Wednesday, the Public Works office here reported this morning. Road crews constructing a new bridge a mile west of Shames station have been delayed by the breaking down of their pile driver.

An earlier estimate set the opening date at Tuesday but the breakdown has set the work back 24 hours.

In the meantime, Canadian National Railways were reported to have taken up the planks which had been laid down on the railway bridge a mile west of Shames to facilitate the passage of Public Works trucks making road repairs.

The planks were lifted in order to stop trespassing on the narrow rail bridge which is high and dangerous to motor traffic.

BOOTH SCHOOL GRADUATION

59 STUDENTS CENTRE OF INTEREST AT IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Fifty-nine students of the senior class of Booth Memorial High School were the centre of interest of more than 600 parents and friends as they officially terminated their high school careers at graduation exercises held in the Civic Centre auditorium last night.

Among them were 23 girls and 36 boys heading for university or for jobs after twelve years of elementary and collegiate studies. They received the congratulations of the community as they walked individually to the floral decorated stage whereon sat representatives of the teachers, school board, city and Department of Education.

The class heard an inspiring address by Mayor Nora Arnold in which she gave words of counsel on moral and human values and a summary of their activities of the past year by class valedictorian Donald Main.

Dressed in their youthful best, the students entered the packed hall to a Processional played by Miss Laverne Linney at the piano. There was no sign of the bobby-sox attire which normally is a veritable student uniform. Instead, the girls wore lovely white floor-length graduation gowns with elbow length net gloves. Setting off the whiteness of their dresses were corsages of deep red roses, the class flower.

Each of the carefully groomed boys wore a carnation button-hole in his lapel.

DIPLOMAS LATER

Chairman of the function was Principal A. M. Hurst, who welcomed the audience and explained that because results of many of the examinations had not yet been received, it was impossible to award diplomas at the exercises. Instead, he called on Assistant Principal R. D. Cleland, who introduced each of the students as they came on the platform and gave a brief summary of their school accomplishments.

On the stage during the ceremony were Mayor Nora Arnold, representing the city; Rev. Basil S. Procter, representing Booth Parent-Teachers' Association; Inspector of Schools E. E. Hyndman; A. Bruce Brown, representing the School Board and J. Henry, of the high school staff.

An interesting school-community ceremony preceded the graduation exercises when Miss Margaret Brain, pretty Grade Eleven student, was presented with a wrist watch by A. P. Crawley, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Miss Brain was winner of an art contest for a cover design for the Junior Chamber bulletin "Jay-See-Saw," a month ago.

The audience had an opportunity to learn of some of the talents of the students when Vaughan Tattersall entertained with a violin solo "The Humming Bird" and a vocal quartet composed of Bill Lees, Solveig Mork, Berpice Mostad and Richard Tweed sang "Now Is the Hour." Both were accompanied by Miss Laverne Linney.

Following the introduction of the graduating class, Donald Main delivered the valedictory address. Then Mayor Arnold spoke to the array of students sitting in the front rows of the hall.

At the conclusion of Mayor Arnold's address, the class rose and faced the audience and sang a graduation song. They filed out of the auditorium as Miss Linney played the "Recessional."

Following the hour and a half ceremony, parents of the graduating class were guests at a reception in the gymnasium where light refreshments were served by girls of the Grade Eleven class.

THE GRADUATES

The following were members of the graduating group:

Lois Thompson, Richard Tweed, Barrie Watson, Percy Welter, Pat Wilson, Jack Wynn, Norton Youngs.

PLANES CARRY ON

TransCanada Has Been Doing Good Job During Rail Tie-up

VANCOUVER—Although rail traffic between Vancouver and the East has been resumed for the past week, TransCanada Air Lines continues to operate extra North Star flights over the mountains daily to meet public demand.

In addition to two regular transcontinental flights, daily flights between Calgary and Vancouver and Edmonton and Vancouver are being operated, the latter carrying Canadian National rail passengers.

T.C.A. officials here state that, while the transportation emergency produced by the floods has passed, extra sections will be flown as long as required.

During the three weeks that trains could not operate in or out of Vancouver, the P/North Star planes carried 8,000 passengers over the mountains between Vancouver and Calgary-Edmonton. To do this, T.C.A. pilots flew 272 flights, 190 above normal schedules. Each North Star has a passenger capacity of 40, and about 6,000 of the total carried had been stranded by the disruption of rail service.

In cargo, butter had priority due to the shortage in this city. A little more than 214,000 pounds were flown in the bulk of the 402,000 pounds of cargo that reached this city in T.C.A. planes and 61,000 pounds of yeast. A diversified list of British Columbia produce, totalling 198,000 pounds, was flown to the East, much of it highly perishable foodstuffs. Lettuce, tomatoes, strawberries, were among them as well as insecticides and three thousand pounds of turkey poult and young chicks.

Much of the 65,000 pounds of air express carried were shipments of badly needed medical supplies and emergency equipment. Machines and electrical parts, anti-typhus, anti-typhoid and anti-measles serums and vaccines were flown in during the round-the-clock operations of the air line.

Maintaining the tradition that the mail must get through, the T.C.A. planes hauled over 20,000 pounds.

W. H. Crocker, provincial rehabilitation officer from Prince George, has been at Terrace on a business visit.

WORK AND INTEGRITY STRESSED

Mayor Arnold Gives Timely Advice to High School Graduates

Wisdom of making proper choice of one's life work and the satisfaction resulting from labor well performed were the themes stressed by Mayor Nora Arnold in her address to the graduating class of Booth Memorial High School in the Civic Centre auditorium last night.

Speaking directly to the senior students who sat at the front of the packed hall, Mayor Arnold warned that a "life spent in doing something you don't like is a life of frustration" but reminded them that accomplishment in the right field will provide "satisfaction and purpose."

"To those of you who have not yet chosen, I would give some advice," she declared. "Do not seize on the job that offers the most pay, whether you like it or not. Think about it first and find out if it leads somewhere. Find something that you want to do and, having found it, make up your mind to learn all you can. Don't adopt big shot qualifications, and do not be afraid to work."

"There is no easy road to success nor to happiness. Both require effort and application. The trade unions today seem to be spending all their efforts in shortening hours of labor and lengthening hours of leisure and I seriously question their wisdom."

"The busy person is the happy person and enjoyable labor never hurts anyone. I do not mean that I would wish for a return of the killing, long hours of labor that were prevalent in the last century. Too much leisure will soften our race, taking from our people their respect for work."

Mayor Arnold urged the students not to give up reading after finishing school. Their education "in the classroom sense" might be ending but there will still be a tremendous amount of knowledge to be gained, she declared.

She advised the girls of the class to learn a trade or profession as a means of gaining self-confidence, whether they ever used their profession or not.

"I have heard parents ask what use is there in giving a girl a profession when she will marry anyway and it will be of no use to her. That is a great mistake. Many women have had to get out and earn a living for their families and, even if this should not happen, your training will make you a better wife, a better mother and a better citizen."

REAL VALUES

Turning to the values that make good men and women, Mayor Arnold stressed dependability and integrity and loyalty—ingredients of personality that are essential to successful living and good citizenship.

"All these things enter into personality which is the sum total of the effect we have on people," she asserted. "The enterprising, energetic, dependable, loyal person has an authentic dignity. The outward appearance is only the manifestation of the inward part and this inward strength usually inclines a person to take the favorable, the indulgent view of his companions' failings. Courtesy and gentleness are the marks of greatness and you will do well to cultivate them."

Decision Would Have Satisfied Him

Louis Kayoes Walcott

'Battle of the Ages' Results in Deferred Victory for Retiring Heavyweight Champ

YANKEE STADIUM (CP)—The savage Joe Louis of ten years ago lived again for a few violent seconds last night as he knocked out Jersey Joe Walcott in two minutes and fifty-six seconds of the eleventh round of his twenty-fifth defence of the heavyweight championship he has held longer than any other man.

Raining destruction on the stunned challenger with a furious right hand attack, the champion bombed Walcott to the floor for the first and only time after he had pinned him on the ropes. Wobbling and dazed, Jersey Joe tried valiantly to get up but he flopped over on his face and was counted out by Referee Frank Fullan.

As he climbed from the ring, the 34-year-old champion said he had fought his last fight. He said he would retire and enter politics. His eye was badly swollen from the early round of Walcott's stalling left.

For ten rounds earlier Louis had chased the jiggling challenger who had floored him for a one-count in the third round with a right to the head.

Jersey Joe three-stepped and danced throughout. Louis early concentrated on the body of his opponent, sticking left hands into the tummy of the 34-year-old lean Walcott. There was no question about the power of Louis' jabs compared with the flicking slaps of Walcott.

After pinning Jersey Joe to the ropes in the eleventh, Louis jarred him from head to heels with another right to the head and then cut loose with the frenzy of a wounded jungle beast.

The crowd of 42,600, which had booed intermittently throughout early slow action, paid a gross gate of $841,739.

Walcott, in his dressing room after the fight, said: "The referee beat me. He kept telling me to make a fight of it. It caused me to change my plans and style of fighting. I'd like to fight Joe again. I know I can beat him."

Louis said later: "Five years ago I would have come out in the first round and got it over with in a hurry. I'm not the fighter I was then. I would have been satisfied with a decision if I hadn't caught him."

TERRIBLE FIRE

Special Relief Being Organized For St. Lucia

MONTREAL—Captain R. A. Clarke, general manager Canadian National Steamships, yesterday ordered the fleet of "Lady" liners and the three diesel vessels of the company to pick up donations from the many West Indies Islands which are being made in response to an appeal by the Governor of the Windward Islands, to relieve the many thousands made homeless by last Saturday's havoc wreaking fire at St. Lucia.

Captain Pierre Lebray Scott, O.B.E., master of the "Canadian Challenger," one of the C.N.S.S. diesel vessels cabled the following eyewitness account: "Arrived off Castries Saturday night, fire two hours old. Windward side of town ablaze, with trade wind relentlessly driving fire through whole city. Flames 100 feet high and frequent explosions. Docked Sunday morning finding three-quarters of the city gutted. Working class quarters just a litter of galvanized roofing. Business section with only concrete shells of buildings standing amid still burning rubble. Frequent bursts of flame in all sections and a heavy smoke pall overhanging whole city."

The "Canadian Challenger" unloaded large quantities of flour, meat, butter, cheese and powdered milk, to help relieve the situation.

On Monday, C.N. Steamship "Lady Rodney" called at the port, also unloading large amounts of foodstuffs. The dock areas luckily escaped extensive damage.

Session Nears End

ACTIVITIES in Canada's parliament have been stepped up this week as members look forward to completing the nation's business this week-end. The session has produced less excitement and "fireworks" than was predicted at its opening.

One of the highlights of the session was a clarification of Canada's position in the United Nations and in world affairs. Perhaps never before has such unity been achieved in Canada as was shown in parliament on our policy in external affairs. Three important principles seem to underline the policy which has the support of the large majority of Canadians and the largest political parties. These are (1) Our membership as an independent nation in the British Commonwealth of Nations. (2) Friendship and co-operation for the general good with our "good neighbor" the United States of America. (3) Acceptance of our full responsibility as a member of the United Nations in an all-out effort to preserve world peace.

Canada's membership in the British Commonwealth does not mean that our people or our government agree in every detail with the foreign policies of Great Britain or the United States. It does mean that almost all Canadians recognize that our interests are closely bound to the welfare of those two great nations.

U. S. CAMPAIGN

CANADIANS are watching closely the election campaign of our neighboring country. Whether justified or not, the Republican leaders feel that they are sure to win the presidential vote which takes place in November of this year. Then Thomas Dewey would be the chief executive.

Truman is considered almost a certainty as the candidate of the Democrats in spite of some opposition within the party. Known to many Canadians, and considered to be a good friend of our country, he will find many, perhaps most Canadians, wishing him a success which few seem to predict at this time.

The socialist party of the United States has made little or no progress and is not expected to poll more than 2 or 3 percent of the vote even if supported by the communists.

Church

SATURDAY SERMON

"FISHERS OF MEN"

By Rev. F. Antrobus (First Baptist Church)

Many years ago the Abyssinians took a British subject and consigned him to a dungeon in the fortress of Magdala. It took Great Britain six months to discover this and she demanded his release which King Theodore refused. Ten thousand soldiers were burning sun up mountain heights to the dungeon where the prisoner was hid. They fought, tore down the gates and released the prisoner. It cost the British government a quarter of a million pounds to release that man but such was the value placed upon the life and liberty of one British subject.

God puts a great price upon the soul of one sinner, the priceless and precious blood of Jesus Christ, His Son. It demanded the mobilization of all the forces of the Godhead to rescue man from the dungeon of sin. God the Father's love, God the Son's sacrifice, and God the Holy Spirit's power are united in this great work of salvation. John Wesley and a friend were walking down the street of a certain city when they passed a man, dead drunk, who had fallen into the gutter. The friend made some lighting remark but Wesley said: "But for the grace of God, there lies John Wesley" and helped the man. God has done all that He can do to provide for man's redemption, in giving us His Son. He has committed unto us the task of seeking out others to bring them to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ by means of the Gospel. God has shut the church up to this one supreme task. She has nothing to do but save souls.

Now am I as a Christian to give myself to this great task and become a fisher of men as Jesus bade His disciples to be? We must follow Him. We must learn the secret of daily abiding in Him, which means daily private prayer and daily private Bible reading and obedience to His will.

One muggy summer day in the early 1700's, a young German count strolled leisurely into the art galleries of Dusseldorf. He studied the paintings one by one but none left a lasting impression on him until he came to Stenberg's portrayal of the crucifixion of Christ. Here he stood reverently a minute, then two. His eye moved to the inscription below the painting. Over and over again he read:

"What hast thou done for me?" When he left the gallery, he carried with him a new purpose in life, for the count went out with a burning passion to serve Christ as never before and all Europe felt the effect. He was Nicolaus Ludwig, Count of Zinzendorf, the justice of Dresden. Even today modern missionaries remember Zinzendorf, and his Moravians for starting the "Go-ye-into-all-the-world" ball rolling again.

We shall find the secret where he found it. O Lord, fire us too with the same passion in place of our coldness, complacency, and powerlessness and make us fishers of men!

I WANT TO KNOW...

Does a Mother need insurance?

Unless a husband and father is very well-to-do his wife should have her own insurance policy. If a mother dies when there are no funds available to pay a housekeeper, the home may be broken up and the children put out for adoption or sent to relatives. The answer is, "Yes, a mother needs life insurance." Make an appointment to talk things over with a Mutual Life of Canada representative today.

Providing life insurance service since 1869

TALKING OF TREES

TREES ARE A CROP

—Just like peas, or potatoes, or peaches, or pumpkins, trees are a product of the soil. Fortunately, they do not demand a rich soil but grow well on low-quality sites unsuitable for agriculture. British Columbia has millions of acres of soil suitable only for tree-growing. Trees are our most valuable crop.

TRACK ENTRIES

Watchful Eye Being Kept on Possibilities

Chairman Graham Alexander of the Dominion Day sports committee is keeping an eager eye open for entries in the track events which take up the early part of the afternoon at Roosevelt Park on July 1.

Particularly he is seeking entries in the open events which will supplement the team functions during the day.

Team entries so far total five, two from Booth Memorial High School and three from the Prince Rupert Baseball Association. However, it is expected that Ketchikan High School will send down at least one team and it is likely that the Ketchikan baseball team will enter a group.

Trophies for the events have arrived and are now on display in the Northern B.C. Power Co. store window. These include the H. G. Archibald trophy for the individual open 100 metre dash; the Bulger trophy for the individual open running broad jump; the B.C. Packers trophy for the 400-metre dash, individual open, and the Northern B.C. Power trophy for the 800 metre run.

Team events, which will be entered by groups of four, will include the 100-metre dash, 400-metre dash and running broad jump in addition to the relay race, which is compulsory for all teams. Team events will be

The Dominion Day sports committee reports that plans for the gala Dominion Day sports are shaping up very well. The Northern British Columbia open track meet is the first item on the agenda. There is a total of 12 events listed in the track meet. Open events are 100 metre dash, running broad jump, 400 metre dash and 800 metre or 1/2 mile run. The team events are medley relay, 100 metre dash, 400 metre dash and running high jump. The medley relay is a four leg relay, the first two being 200 metre legs, then the third leg is a long dash, 400 metres, while the anchor man must be a middle distance runner, because the fourth leg of the relay is 800 metres. These team events have been divided into two classifications, junior and senior. Reports show that there should be a satisfactorily large entry list for both team events and the individual open events. Teams already indicating their intention of entering the meet include one team from Port Edward and possibly Sunnyside and other of the cannery villages. The local Baseball Association have promised to enter three teams in addition to individual entries for the open events, while one High School team is already entered.

The track meet is only one run in both closed and open classifications. Requirements for the closed junior classification is that the entrants be under 21 years of age.

SOCCER RAINED OUT

Last evening's showers rained out the first round soccer game for the Dominion Day Cup between Canadian Legion and 120th Battery.

part of the Dominion Day celebration and another major attraction on the day's list of events will be the final football match for the Dominion Day Cup. The Football Association have co-operated with the sports committee in charge of the day's arrangements and have arranged their schedule so that this Dominion Day final will be played in the afternoon of Dominion Day.

The Prince Rupert Baseball Association too have gone out of their way to co-operate with the Dominion Day sports committee and now the annual international baseball series between Ketchikan and Prince Rupert All Stars will be played in conjunction with the other events. This year the plan for the Prince Rupert end of the international baseball series calls for three games to be played in Rupert. The first of these three games will be played on Wednesday evening, that is June 30, year's dance will be the presentation to the winners of the championship trophies won at the afternoon's Dominion Day track meet.

Reminiscences and Reflections

If the average tourist misses having a mountie aboard, and the tour is along the gleaming, silent peaks and waterways of the north then the voyage automatically becomes second rate no matter how perfect everything else. Seasoned, supple looking young fellows—spurs and all—passed through Rupert yesterday. Their presence on the ship completed the picture. The Mountie is what they all, logically, look for. In other words, he's Canada.

The late Pierpont Morgan's yacht Corsair, now cruising this part of the coast, is said to have every known device for safety, and everything else in the way of luxury and comfort. How about good digestion?

President Truman, if half of what one hears is at all probable, will be on the unemployed list before long. He ought to be a darned handy man. One can't say he lacks experience. He's been in retail trade, knows the problems of the little fellows and is familiar with "inside stuff" in the nations' most exalted quarters.

It should soon be haying time along Second Avenue in the general neighborhood of the C.N.R. park. There is a most luxuriant growth, and good fat beef should be the logical result. While a mowing machine is out of place, there is ample space in which to swing a scythe. If the day is warm, pitchers of oatmeal and cold water will be provided.

LIFE in this Prince Rupert

by BIDDEE JINKS

The first day in Wrangell left me feeling as though I had been taken by the heels and dunked in a barrel of friendliness. We had docked at 6 a.m. If I was dull at the arrival it was not because two rotten piles broke in the middle when the boat touched them; or because a man nearly fell in the chuck catching the heaving line. Ketchikan bars were a mistake for a few aboard—and my very near neighbors among them. It was quiet now, and my through-the-wall friend had finally abandoned his story. "Now listen," he had shouted at intervals all night, "listen—an' I'll tell you a little joke—"

In the grey morning we left him sleeping the sleep of—well, sleep—walked up the slow ascent past the Federal Building set in the centre of rich green studded by a few rowan trees in full blossom; past where the postmaster lives; a small turn, to walk directly along the sea-wall—and home.

Except for two half-grown youngsters at my heels I might have been carried across the threshold. But I walked straight to the kitchen and an early breakfast.

"Home" is a cottage set on piles with a platform extending still further seaward at the back. Low tide leaves a beach stretching out but it was high tide. The waters broke in swishing waves just under us, and almost, it seemed we were aboard ship.

Lunch was different. Typical of Wrangell, an invitation to a church luncheon awaited us. The Presbyterian Seminar to Alaska, headed by Dr. J. Carl Jackson, was visiting Wrangell. These dignitaries and their wives had come directly from the annual meeting of the General Assembly in Seattle aboard the Princeton Hall (Presbyterian mission boat) enroute to Petersburg and Sitka. A special service and luncheon was planned in their honor but, arriving that same day, I came in for the crumbs.

The crumbs were chicken and noodles—that still set me drooling—shrimp salad, iced celery, ripe olives to the size of plums, hot rolls, and lemon pies blossomed all over the place.

It is hard to find right words for such a warm welcome as was given by this group of total strangers. They spoke first, never waiting for an introduction. They gripped my hand. They gave my arm a little shake as well, emphasizing "We're so glad you've come"—"We're so glad you're to stay a while." It was a buffet luncheon, and somebody handed me a plate. I was in line, I was one of them—and no one stood back debating whether they would lose a little dignity by showing real friendliness to a stranger.

At the long tables I noted with some surprise that natives sat easily with their white brothers. Some were serving, obviously members of the Crowell Group—named for the presiding minister and wife. One sat opposite me—a dainty little person with charming manners and speech. I found she is the wife of the superintendent of an orphanage a few miles out of town. Another, a shrunken old woman, was formally introduced by Mrs. Crowell to the visiting commissioners. Her English is not perfect but her faithfulness to the church is and her son is the Presbyterian minister at Sitka.

During luncheon the choir sang. Its membership of 17 has sunk to a double quartette for the summer months. They commenced with "Swing Low," arranged by one of the members, and concluded with "My God and I"—an anthem originally set for Latvian voices. As they sang, forks were laid down one by one. Many quietly left their seats to go through the open portals into the adjoining auditorium where the choir stood behind the altar.

There was a hush after the last note fell into silence, but great applause as the little choir in the little church filed out into the vestibule. Great men, whose churches held great singers and choirs had listened

FOR GRADUATES

Formal Dance at St. Peter's Hall—Presentations Made

A formal dance in honor of the 1948 High School graduating class was held by the St. Peter's Young Peoples Association in St. Peter's Hall last evening after the graduation ceremonies.

The dance was also held for the purpose of formally closing Y.P.A. activities for the season and presenting trophies to the group and to the individual member of the organization who made the best showing for the year.

The hall, decorated with subtle artistry by a committee of members under the direction of Tom Nicoll, was set up cabaret style, the young people sitting in groups around candlelit tables.

A floor show held at midnight received enthusiastic approval of onlookers. It featured a series of scintillating piano accordion solos by Eddie Ciccone and several swing vocal numbers by a septet composed of Y.P.A. members—Jim Hemmons, Dick Hedstrom, Dick Large, Bob Franklin, Don Main, June Roberts and Margaret Symes.

At the conclusion of the floor show, presentation of trophies was made by Y.P.A. supervisors. Mrs. Helen Marchildon and Robert Kelsey. The cup for the best group, which went to Group 2 this year, was graciously accepted by group leader June Roberts who will retain it in her possession until it is presented again next year. Group 2 won the competition with 611 points, followed by Group 1 with 582 and Group 3 with 578. Points are presented to the three groups throughout the year for such things as attendance, program construction, co-operation and original ideas, and count both toward the group and toward the member who wins them. Jim Hemmons, with 106 points, was the highest individual point winner for the year. Jim was

The highest scorers in each group were as follows:
Group 1—Tom Nicoll 80, Elaine Steffans 71, Frank McFadden 66, Hazel Tweed 63, Doreen Bateman 57.
Group 2—Jim Hemmons 100, Lucille Steffans 86, Henry Dixon 64, Ernie Braman 60, Lloyd Franklin 57.
Group 3—Ron Priest 100, Vin Elliott 77, Margaret Symes 75, Ralph Overgaard 56, Diane Kennedy 52.

Honors for best program construction went to Group 3 who won 91 points for programs alone, compared with Group 2's 79 and Group 1's 77 points. Elaine Steffans and Margaret Symes were the members with the most regular attendance, followed closely by Tom Nicoll, Vin Elliott and Jim Hemmons.

Q. If one is talking with two persons, isn't it rude to invite one of them to call without extending the same invitation to the other?

A. Yes; a person who is well-bred will not do so. One can always wait an opportunity to see the favored person alone.

Q. Whom should a bride give preference as a maid-of-honor at her wedding?

A. Her sister should be given preference; otherwise, her most intimate friend.

Q. Should one always introduce a doctor or a judge by his title?

A. Yes, certainly; "Doctor Smith" or "Judge Brown."

Sockeye Season Opening Tomorrow Night—Trolling Looking Up— Nearly Ten Million Pounds of Halibut

Opening of the sockeye fishing season in the Prince Rupert fisheries district will see hundreds of vessels put out into the currents of the Naas and Skeena rivers after 6 p.m. Sunday night. Salmon canning should soon thereafter be in full swing in plants around Prince Rupert. To date almost 500 gillnet licenses have been issued for the Skeena River alone.

Apparently both operators and fishermen feel confident that the joint negotiating committee representing the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union and the Native Brotherhood of B.C., which has been dealing with the Salmon Canners Operating Committee will accept the latest offer by the canners.

The union and the Native Brotherhood representatives have been asking 20 cents a pound for sockeye, while the canners have reportedly countered with a proposal for 18 cents. Feeling along the waterfront is that the offer will be accepted.

Latest offer by the canners is 18 cents a pound for sockeye in all areas and 14 cents a pound for coho in all areas. For pinks, the canners have offered 7 1/2 cents a pound in Johnstone Strait, 7 cents in the central-northern area and 6 1/2 cents in the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Price offered for chums is 6 1/2 cents in Johnstone Strait, 6 1/4 cents in the central-north and 6 cents on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

This offer is substantially above last year's prices for all types. Price for sockeye last year was 15 cents a pound and 10 1/2 cents for coho. Pinks and chums brought 3 1/2, 3 1/2 and 3 1/4 cents respectively in the above mentioned areas.

Only areas open in this district for seining after Sunday night will be the Butedale and Lowe Inlet regions. Not many seine licenses have been taken out so far but it is expected that things will pick up as the season advances.

Prospects for a good sockeye catch on the Skeena seem promising. Early indications show a good run of sockeye and a surprisingly heavy run of coho. No reports have been obtained for prospects on the Naas nor is the number of boats which will operate there known.

In getting ready for the season, and movement of employees there was some inconvenience caused by the floods but aircraft brought some of the native workers from the interior and others arrived by train with resumption of rail service this week.

In southeast Alaska, fishing for pink salmon will not get under way until August 9. The closing date will be September 13. Fishermen will be expected to register boat catches daily.

Trolling is reported to be good off North Island in the Queen Charlottes. Trollers operating there are said to be bringing in between 300 and 500 pounds of spring salmon daily. Crab fishing also is good. The two or three large boats fishing off Massett are reported to be delivering about 12,000 crabs a week to the cannery.

The Royal Canadian Navy will be unable to send a warship to Prince Rupert on Port Day, next August 26, the Port Day committee has been advised, but that is not discouraging them from trying to get a British ship to come here to add naval atmosphere to the annual water carnival.

Reason given by the Royal Canadian Navy for being unable to send a ship is that the floods in the Fraser Valley, in which the navy played a big part in rescue work, have disrupted training and sailing schedules. Last year, the Port Day committee's request was put in about the same date and resulted in the frigate Antigone being present. The British cruiser Kenya also was here.

Although a Canadian ship cannot come, the committee will try to have the British cruiser H.M.S. Sheffield of the West Indies squadron stop here. Sheffield is scheduled to stop in Vancouver from August 16 to August 21 on a cruise to Alaska.

Prince Rupert is not to be a port of call but the Port Day committee plans to send a request that the sailing schedule be revised to permit the cruiser to visit here on August 26.

Halibut landings for the week ending Friday totalled 836,500 pounds, bringing total landings since May 1 at Prince Rupert to 9,706,500 pounds, very close to the 10,000,000 mark.

Thirty-two Canadian boats brought in 719,500 pounds and three American boats 117,000 pounds. In addition, two boats, the Atli and Tramp, landed 31,000 pounds of black cod.

The fishing vessel Cheechako, while off Baird Island, in Slocum Arm, Alaska, struck a rock recently and was given aid by the United States coastguard cutter Wachusett. Before the boat could be floated off, it was necessary to put a patch on the hull.

The steamer Prince George will arrive this evening from Alaska southbound on the first of her regular scheduled round trips for the tourist season. The next voyage is reported sold out. The current Canadian National Railways magazine features the new vessel with illustrations and numerous descriptive articles.

The 12,000 ton cruiser U.S.S. Duluth is due to berth at the Esquimalt naval base the morning of June 30 where she will remain until July 6. On her arrival the Duluth will fire a 21-gun national salute which will be returned by the Canadian Army from the battery at Macaulay Point. The Duluth is making the first visit of an American cruiser to Esquimalt since the end of the war. She has a complement of 50 officers and 765 men. The cruiser flies the flag of Rear-Admiral Francis X. McInerney.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, is due in port at 5 o'clock this afternoon from the south and will sail later in the evening on her return to Vancouver and waypoints. Next week the Catala will be operating on a faster schedule which will bring her in here on Fridays, sailing that night for the south.

VENDORS AT RETAIL REQUIRED TO REGISTER AS AGENTS OF CROWN

The Social Security and Municipal Aid Act has been proclaimed to come into effect on July 1, 1948.

Its advent makes every seller, described in the Act as a "vendor at retail," an agent of the Crown, responsible for the collection of a three per cent tax on every taxable sale, whether on a cash, credit or instalment plan basis.

Close to 30,000 retail sales agents have been placed on the mailing list of the Commissioner under the Social Security and Municipal Aid Tax Act.

Anyone transacting a retail business of any kind on any occasion is obligated to register under the Act.

If he has not been placed on the Commissioner's list, he will not receive the application form for registration and other information helpful in collection of the tax.

If he is not on the Commissioner's list, he is obligated to take steps to register.

He must write immediately to the Commissioner at this address:

The Commissioner,
Social Security and Municipal Aid Tax Act, Victoria.

or to the nearest district office or Government agency. He must ask for the necessary forms to secure registration.

Retail vendors should watch the mails for application forms and other data pertinent to collection of the tax.

They should not fail to notify the Commissioner at once if this material has not been received.

EXEMPTIONS EASE THE BURDEN ON LOW INCOME GROUPS

The levy of 3 per cent on retail sales is payable by the purchaser, but because care has been taken that persons in lower earning brackets shall not find the burden too onerous there are wide exemptions allowed, including:

- Rent;
- Foodstuffs;
- Farm implements and machinery, horses, livestock, poultry, farm fencing;
- Agricultural feed, seeds, fertilizers;
- Insecticides, fungicides and disinfectants;
- Commercial fishing equipment, including boats and engines when used in production of a food catch;
- Ice;
- Gasoline;
- Coal, coke, fuel oil and wood fuels;
- Doctors' prescriptions, invalids' equipment, dental and optical appliances, artificial limbs and other aids;
- Restaurant meals under 51 cents;
- Any one purchase priced at less than 15 cents.

FURTHER EXEMPTIONS.

For the Manufacturer.—Where tangible personal property becomes part of a product which later will be sold retail, it is tax free. But machinery and tools, etc., used in manufacturing processes are taxable.

For the Wholesaler and Jobber.—Transactions between manufacturer, wholesaler and retailer are not subject to the tax if the products of the exchange are to be resold at retail. It is the consumer or user who is responsible for payment.

AIMS AND OBJECTS OF THE TAX.

The Social Security and Municipal Aid Tax is designed to raise an annual estimated income of $12,000,000.

It is laid down in the Act that two-thirds of the net amount of its revenues will be paid into the Social Security Fund to protect persons in receipt of social services of all kinds, such as:

Social Allowance Beneficiaries	10,755	12,591
Child Welfare Beneficiaries	958	1,402

Actually, the Social Security cost to British Columbia is many millions more than the tax is expected to yield, as the following table shows:

Social Security Costs in	1926	1930	1940	(Estimated) 1948
	$2,643,000	$4,110,000	$5,604,000	$21,000,000

The remaining one-third of this tax revenue will go to Municipalities proportionately for the express purpose of easing the tax burden on real property.

HERE IS HOW YOU WILL PAY:

EVERYTHING HASN'T RAISED IN PRICE . . .

- It may surprise many but 1847 Rogers and Community Silver flatware is the same price as before the war.

And as the tax is now off it should be doubly attractive.

Bulgers' always sell standard goods at Canadian advertised prices even though express charges are more than those of places nearer to the factories.

For instance a Big Ben clock or set of silver sells for the same price as in Ontario where it is made.

A large part of our stock is made up of standard advertised goods and we try to keep the balance in line with the prices of other cities. And we guarantee the satisfaction of our goods.

Something from Bulgers is always something worth having.
