United Nations Face Gravest Crisis As Chinese Communists Invade Korea

Capitals Are Worried; Special Session of U.N. Assembly Asked

LAKE SUCCESS (CP)—The United States today called for a special meeting of the Security Council of the United Nations on Wednesday to consider the intervention of Red China in the Korean war. The action came after General Douglas MacArthur today formally notified the Security Council that Chinese Communist forces were now fighting United Nations troops in Korea. The charge was made in a special report transmitted to Warren R. Austin, chief of United States delegates. Sources close to General MacArthur said that the start of a third world war might well hinge on Red China's reply to the United Nations commander's special report on events in Korea.

Chinese Communists by name. American troops in northwest Korea recovered half a mile of ground lost to the Communists and fought bitterly for no gain in the northwest against the enemy by then identified by MacArthur as Chinese Reds.

An extraordinary communique branded the Communist move from Manchuria into Korea as "one of the most offensive acts of international lawlessness" in history.

The tense situation is viewed with concern in world capitals. The United Nations faces the gravest crisis in its five-year history—what to do about intervention of the Chinese Communists in the Korean war.

A United Nations decision to label the Red Peiping government aggressors and order a full scale military effort to drive its troops out of Korea conceivably could touch off a chain of events that might lead ultimately to another world war. It is known, however, that the United States is trying desperately to avoid spreading the Korean war.

Pending clarification of the American situation (this was before the United States called for the special meeting of the Assembly) diplomats were cautious in speculating about possible United Nations moves. The American request would bring the whole question of Chinese intervention into debate before the Assembly.

U.N. TIGHTEN DEFENCES
Meantime the United Nations troops tightened their defences in the face of strong attacks as General MacArthur charged that "alien Communist forces" had moved down from Manchuria when the United Nations had the Korean war all but won. The flow of fresh Chinese troops flushed new life into the shattered North Koreans. MacArthur did not at first mention the

UNCLE SAM AT POLLS— Voters To Decide Some Odd Issues in U.S. Election

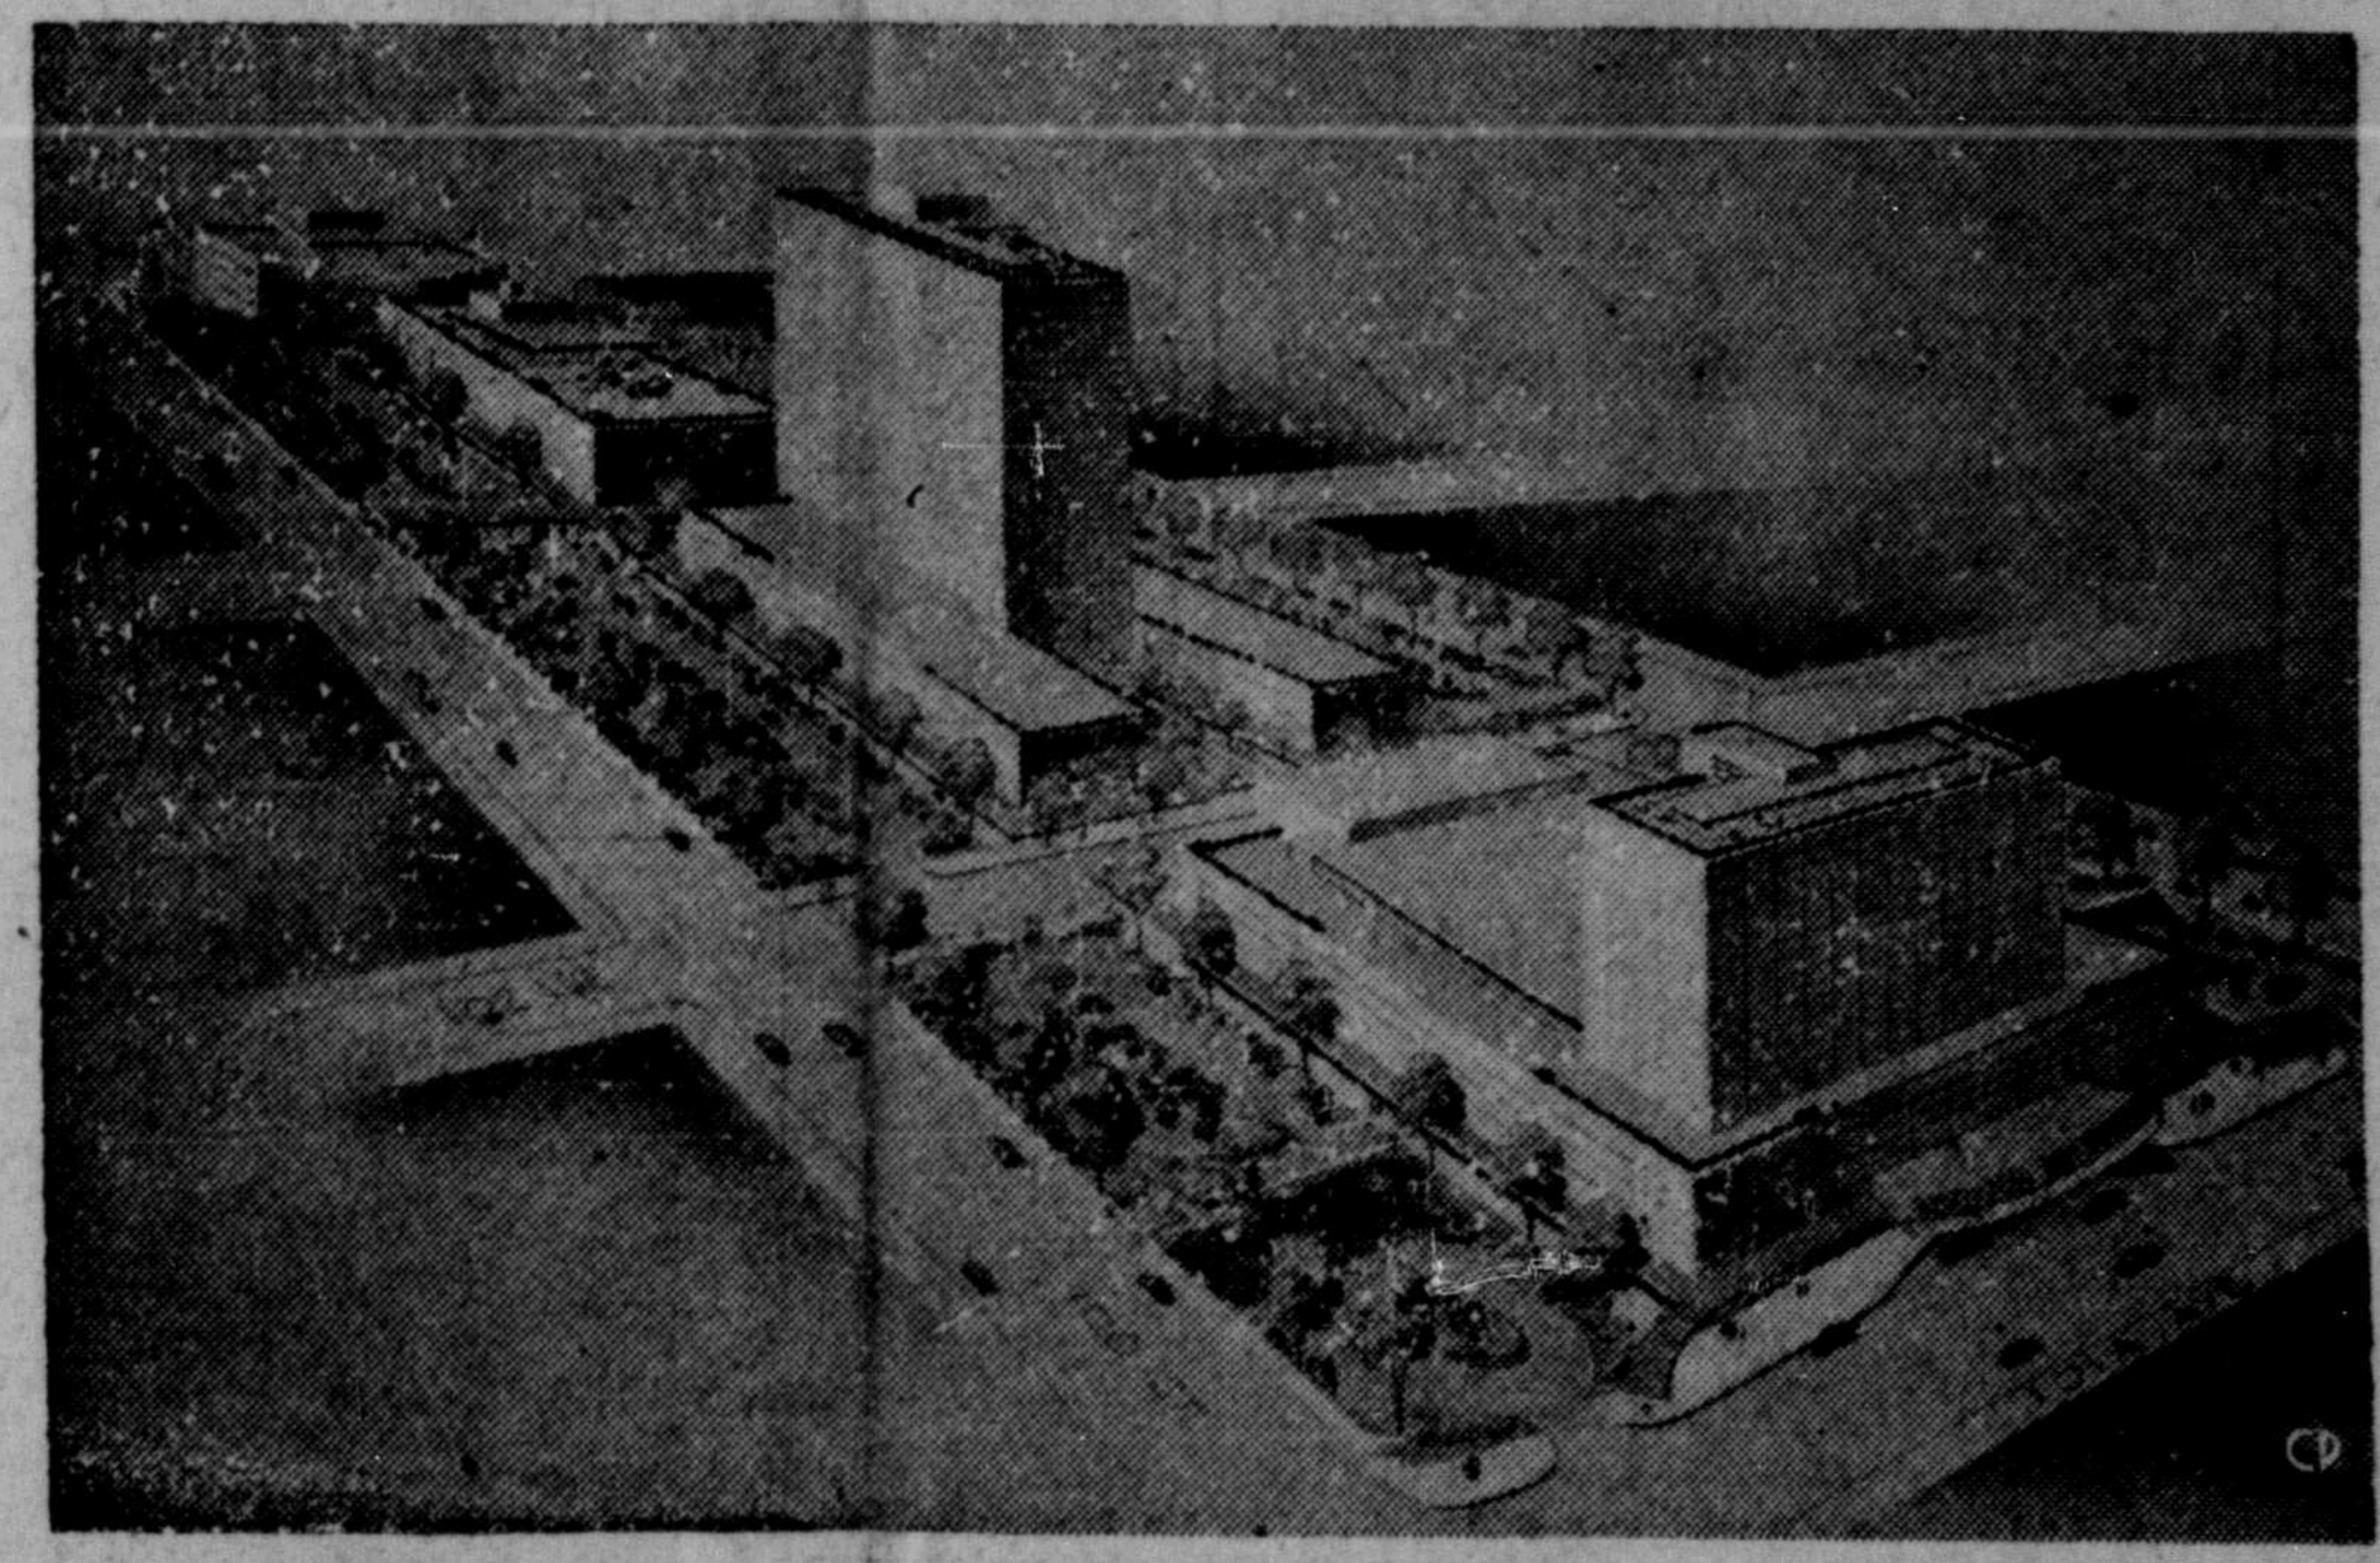

NEW YORK (CP)—The United States elects a new Congress tomorrow. But many local issues also will be decided. In 34 of the 48 states, the voters will register their decision on such diverse topics as prohibition—an old favorite—veterans' bonuses, gambling, old-age assistance, schools, bond issues, taxes, legislatures and civil rights.

Chinese Feud, Woman Dead

VANCOUVER (CP)—Toll of a long-standing Chinese feud, one woman is dead and one is injured. The feud, believed to have been born in the Orient, reached a climax last night and resulted in the death of one of the participants.

Found in a vacant house in the East End was Mrs. James Lee, wife of a cabaret owner. She is believed to have committed suicide. Poison capsules are reported to have been found beside the body. Meanwhile, Mrs. Lee's sister-in-law, Mrs. Lee Yuk Lim, is in hospital suffering from head wounds and a broken wrist. She had, apparently, been beaten with a hammer.

A few hours later police found the body of Mrs. Lee. D. Klassen, arrested Saturday and charged with operating an automobile while intoxicated, appeared in magistrate's court this morning. He was remanded for trial until November 14.

MIRACLE MILE—This is an artist's sketch of the proposed $25,000,000 city centre for Edmonton which voters turned down recently by a small margin. The scheme was proposed by New York financial interests, who sought a tax-free, 69-year lease on the four-block area and agreed to pay an annual rental of $50,000. The city would have had a share in the profits and become owners of the property on termination of the lease. (CP PHOTO)

Mother of Local Man Passes Away

Prominent pioneer woman of Calgary, Mrs. Isabella Christie, widow of the late George M. Christie, who for many years was manager of a paint and oil company in the prairie city, and mother of Thomas M. Christie of this city, passed away Friday in Santa Monica, California, where her funeral took place today. She was 92 years of age, was born in Montreal and lived in Calgary from 1900 until ten years ago when she moved to California. Her husband died in 1944.

Mrs. Christie's death was sudden. Despite her advanced age, she had telephoned to her son here only ten days ago. There are three other sons—Llewellyn Christie of Pittsburgh; Joseph Christie of Los Angeles, and George Christie of Trail. Mrs. F. Burnett of Calgary is a daughter. Lt.-Gen. Sir James Handyside, famous British soldier and commander of the 41st Division in two world wars, was a cousin. Mrs. Christie took a keen interest in Prince Rupert. She was a subscriber to the Daily News and not long ago wrote a letter to the office congratulating this paper on an editorial.

As Tenseness Mounts MAY CANCEL RECOGNITION

LONDON (CP)—Qualified informants reported today that Great Britain is thinking of cancelling its recognition of the Chinese Communist government. An important announcement on Anglo-Chinese relations is expected to be made in the House of Commons shortly.

RUSSIAN AIR SUPPORT
TOKYO—An Air Force spokesman reported today that Russian-made jet fighter planes are operating from Manchurian bases. Marine fighter pilots observed planes flying back into Korea.

TRUMAN WORRIED
KANSAS CITY—President Truman, visiting this city, had a long distance telephone conference today with Secretary of State Acheson over Korea. Mr. Truman is reported to be deeply concerned over the movement of Chinese troops into North Korea from Manchuria.

Cariboo Member Sees Prince Rupert Second Greatest City In B.C.

Sees Peace River and Alaska as Important Contributing Factors—Enthusiastic Advocate
Prince Rupert, by the natural process of evolution and pressure of expanding industry into new areas of natural wealth in the northwest of Canada, is destined to become British Columbia's second-largest city and port, in the opinion of George Murray, M.P. for Cariboo, who indicated in an interview with the Daily News yesterday that he is one of this city's greatest advocates as a Pacific coast outlet for the northland.

Burglars Get Year's Sentence

Sentence was passed today on Bruce Mountney and Denzil Johnson on four charges of breaking and entering over the week-end of October 28. Each received the same sentences and all sentences were concurrent. They were: Brown & Harvey—one year; Crawford Moore—$100 or one month; Canadian Immigration—one year; Northern Power Company—one year.

Vancouver Has Little Sunshine

VANCOUVER—A scanty 55 hours of sunshine for the month of October broke Vancouver's previous lack of sunshine record for October by eighteen hours. Average October sunshine is 110. There were 22 days of rainfall and this, for Vancouver, takes top spot. Temperature dropped nearly ten degrees.

Trained Populace Can Survive Atom Attack

MONTREAL (CP)—Civilization can protect itself from the bogey of present days—an atomic attack. That's the opinion of P. W. Swain, editor of the States magazine Power and a spectator at the Rimini atomic tests. He disclosed his findings at a recent Montreal meeting of the Institute of Power Engineers.

It is his belief that a well-trained populace can survive an atomic attack. His explanation: "First, atom bombs would be used only against targets of tremendous importance. This would rule out a general attack against all civilian points. "If a bomb exploded, there are three things that can kill you. They are shock wave, gamma rays and heat flash. "The blast, or shock wave, kills indirectly by pummeling the populace with falling buildings and flying debris. The answer to this is shelters. "The heat flashes last three seconds and anyone within a mile of the explosion will suffer badly burned hands and faces. But even a shadow can serve as some protection from this, and a well-trained populace could be trained to duck—to fall with their backs to the flash and with their hands and faces covered. "The gamma rays are the far-reaching killers. Anyone closer than 4200 feet to the explosion will die—unless protected by at least 40 feet of concrete. Beyond that 4200-foot border fatality from gamma ray drops sharply."

Mr. Swain said he doubted whether atom power would be used for anything but bombs. It might have a limited use in the power field, but right now it appeared as though man had harnessed atomic power only to treat himself to new lessons in destruction.

Alaska Steam is Resuming

SEATTLE—Alaska Steamship Co. will resume passenger sailings this week to Alaska. They had been interrupted since October 5 by refusal of Marine Cooks' and Stewards' Union (CIO) to comply with United States Coastguard anti-Communist security screening regulations.

Fire Department Called to Garage

The fire department was called out Saturday morning to Bob Parker's Garage, where an automobile engine had caught fire. Quick action by attendants at the garage averted possible serious damage by prompt use of pyrene. The fire was out when the fire brigade arrived at the garage. Friday afternoon the department was called to 1315 First Overlook, where a flooded oil stove was burning. The fire caused no damage.

Milk Price May Go Up in City

The price of milk in Prince Rupert remains the same at the moment, according to a statement this morning by A. A. Sheardown of Northland Dairy, but there will be an upward revision in the near future. Mr. Sheardown said today the price paid to farmers would go up after the announcement of the two-cent increase in Vancouver and that his company would not be able to absorb the whole increase.

Former Local Doctor At Scout Ceremony

A Vancouver Boy Scout troop recently received its charter, making the organization official, and it gave the boys great satisfaction. Dr. W. T. Kergin, director of Children's Hospital, received the charter on behalf of the youngsters at a brief ceremony.

An independent daily newspaper devoted to the upbuilding of Prince Rupert and northern and central British Columbia...

A Year Too Soon

EVEN the greatest of publications make bloomers and the Saturday Evening Post has a fine one in its current issue.

This prize bit of misleading information appears in a big two-page-spread advertisement of a well-known automotive concern...

The story of the advertisement, therefore, is just about a year too soon.

PATHOLOGIST NEEDED

THE SITUATION which has arisen in a local inquest where a city doctor has declined to conduct an autopsy involving pathological examination...

Since the need was only for legal satisfaction in regard to the cause of death in this particular case, it was not a matter of life and death...

The hospital board, as reported at a recent meeting, has already been devoting itself to getting some action with this end in view with government assistance.

FARMING IS BUSINESS

FARMING is everyone's business, not only because it furnishes our daily food but because it is the base of so many industries...

Agriculture is our most important single industry. It employs a quarter of our gainfully occupied population.

City people have quaint ideas about farm life. They see a farmer living in his own house, without rent to pay, growing a big part of his own food.

These things are true, but the impression turns out differently if we follow a successful farmer around the clock.

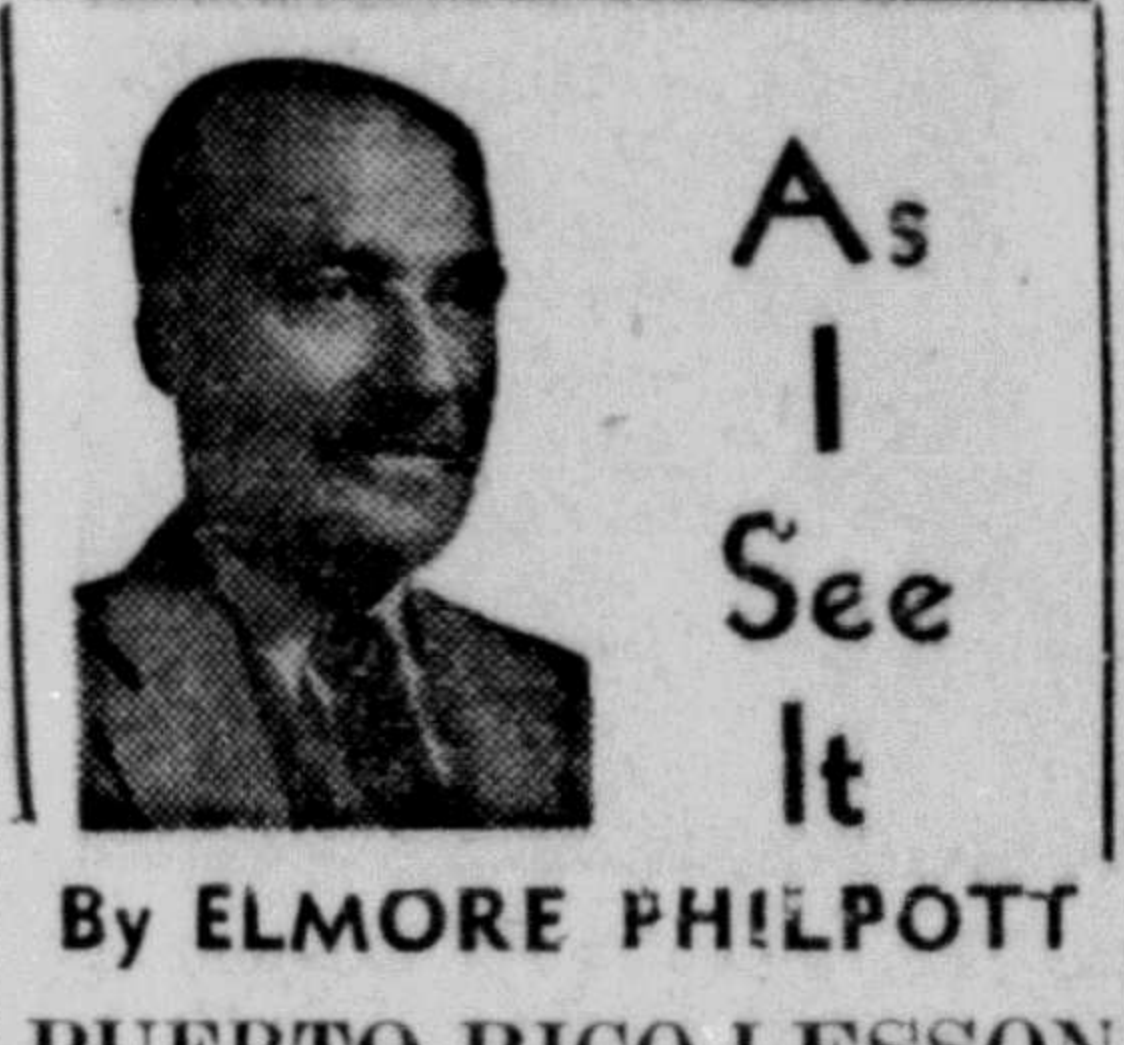

The man on the farm is the force that welds land and equipment into a producing unit. He plans his crop rotations, attends to the fertility of his soil...

That is a complex business. The changes wrought in farming during even one lifetime are astounding. Today's farmer must be able to use and maintain power machinery...

As I See It

PUERTO RICO LESSON

THE WHOLE civilized world shudders at the attempted assassination of President Truman. Some will say that the two would-be killers must have been crazy...

THE LESSON of history is that a vitally nationally-conscious people will never rest till it becomes a free nation. Even in our own country, Canada, we have seen that the demand for "equal national status" can become the strongest of all political forces.

Mr. King could and did win his battles with "ridiculous ease" because his grandfather, a century earlier, had led the people through the "dirty work" stage.

THE TRAGIC STORY of Irish-English relationship shows plainly that even full democratic rights within an unwelcome international union are not the answer to the demands of nationality.

WHY DOES THE U.S. cling to Puerto Rico, Britain to Cyprus, where the majority of the inhabitants want to join Greece? Why does Russia refuse real independence to the Ukrainians, and subordinate other nationalities within the Soviet Union?

Uncle Sam won't give up any...

Civic Union Being Purged

VANCOUVER @—The Vancouver Trade and Labor Council announces that it will reorganize the civic employees local to thwart "Communist" control.

The unprecedented labor manoeuvre came on the heels of the suspension Friday of twelve executive members, including acting President Thure Anderson.

LONDON @—British mountaineer Harold Tilman has just returned from the Himalayas with 1000 rare plants and 175 specimens of rare birds for the British Museum.

A TRUE WORLD parliament would have the power to enable colonial areas of the world to win their national independence by other means than the Americans won theirs from George III.

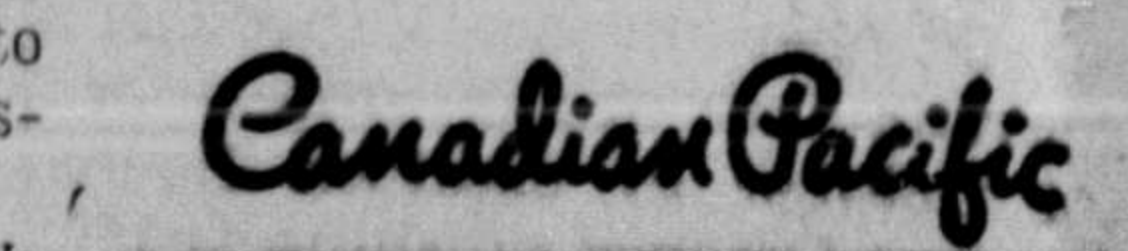

Enjoy the excellent appointments, the delicious food, and the courteous service.

HOUSEKEEPING

COOKING BY CLOCK—HOW TO GET RESULTS WITH PRESSURE COOKER

Commercial establishments and institutions have used pressure cookers to advantage for many years but cooking under pressure is a fairly new experience for homemakers.

When a new or improved way of doing any household task, is discovered there are always a few daring women who try it out. If they are satisfied that the job is done easier or better they tell their friends and neighbors. Small, home-sized pressure cookers are being used in more and more homes and are now standard equipment in the bride's kitchen.

Pressure cooking saves fuel and time but women must learn to use this new piece of equipment correctly in order that it will serve them well and cook the food so that the members of the family will like it.

The pressure cooker allows the woman who works to perform apparent miracles in meal preparation. It is also a boon to the homemaker on her afternoon out, for she is able to serve a delicious dinner half an hour after she arrives home. Economy cuts such as tongue, heart and stewing fowl, which ordinarily require such long cooking, may be cooked to delicious tenderness in an hour or under.

Vegetables are cooked in a matter of moments and can be served in all their delicious freshness. There is, however, a danger of overcooking and spoiling these delicate foods.

The wonderful food value of whole grain cereals gave them a permanent place on the breakfast menu when the coal stove burned all night and they could cook slowly for hours. The pressure saucepan shortens the time of cooking and makes it possible for the children, and father also, to start the day with a satisfying hot cereal for breakfast.

Although the individual homemaker must learn how she may best make her pressure cooker be an efficient servant, it is best to follow accurately, the rules laid down by the manufacturer of the particular cooker. Once she has mastered the basic rules she may try other ideas.

Home economists recommend the following recipes as being particularly good:

4 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Beat eggs until well add sugar and salt, blending well. Beat milk slowly and add to egg mixture. Add vanilla. Beat well, pour into greased, individual molds or one large baking dish, cover each mold with two layers of waxed paper and tie securely, place water in saucepan and place molds on rack. Cover and allow all air to escape. Cook at 15 pounds pressure for 4 minutes. Cool cooker quickly.

VARIATIONS:
Peppermint candy, broken into small pieces, may be sprinkled in bottom of each mold before adding custard.

One half the milk may be replaced with hot, strong coffee. Maple syrup or brown sugar may be used to replace white sugar.

One square of chocolate may be grated and melted in the saucepan.

OLD FASHIONED BOILED DINNER

3 lb. corned beef brisket, rump or blade
1 1/2 cups water
1 bay leaf
2 celery leaves
1/2 medium turnip, diced
6 large carrots, halved lengthwise
2 medium onions, halved
3 medium potatoes, quartered
1 small cabbage, cut into sections
1/4 teaspoon pepper.

Cover meat with cold water, bring to boiling point and simmer 5 minutes, then discard water. Place meat on rack in pressure saucepan, add 1 1/2 cups water, bay leaf and celery leaves. Place cover on cooker and cook

ANNOUNCING A GREAT NEW "RPM" DEVELOPED BY ATOMIC ENERGY

1. New atomic tool! Our scientists equipped test engines with piston rings treated at the Atomic Energy Commission's Oak Ridge Plant. For the first time, science measured wear as it happened!

2. Geiger counters detected instantly the rate at which metal wore away from these atomically treated rings—under different circumstances, and with different oils!

3. A New "RPM" was developed so superior that, compared with conventional oils, it doubles the life of average automobile engines between major overhauls due to lubrication. Laboratory tests proved it. Severe road service backed it up.

Doubles the life of auto engines ...in the toughest test a motor gets!

Cold operation tests under rigid controls were used to simulate stop-and-go driving conditions, the most brutal kind a motor meets. These tests showed that no motor oil gives you better protection than New RPM Motor Oil. Compared with conventional motor oils,* it doubles the life of average auto engines between major overhauls due to lubrication. It cuts in half the wear-rate of critical engine parts. It doubles protection against gummy carbon, acid, corrosion, rust and varnish... maintains the low-oil-consumption life of the average engine twice as long. Sold with a money-back guarantee of satisfaction.

* "Premium Type" oils designated by the American Petroleum Institute.

Giant Canuck To Guide U.S. Wage Controls

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Canadian-born Cyrus S. Ching is one of the biggest men in the United States government.

Sucking on a pipe, his iron-grey hair matted, he's 74, weighs 230 pounds, stands six feet, seven inches.

President Truman recently appointed him chairman of the new wage stabilization board, a spot not likely to be very amusing for a man whose huge face always wears an amused and happy look.

Although he has plenty of savvy in labor relations, he'll probably need all of it if the government starts slapping controls on wages.

Before it went home this year, Congress set up an economic program to combat inflation. This calls for an economic stabilization administration and a wage stabilization board.

(If price controls are imposed by the government, wage controls have to be applied at the same time. Ching will be key man in wage controls.)

Ching was born at Red Point, P.E.I., but didn't like digging potatoes on his father's farm.

At 19 he headed west to make his fortune as a buyer for a fellow islander handling farm produce. His duties carried him back and forth between Calgary and Edmonton. But he made no fortune.

In 1900 he was in Boston, driving a street-car. He began learning some labor lessons there, watching relations between the car men and the company.

He seemed to do all right. He drove cars by day, studied law by night, got a law degree from Northeastern University, was made an assistant to the president of the company in charge of personnel problems.

He became a U.S. citizen in 1909, but he loves Canada's maritime provinces. Every summer he spends some time with fellow Americans on the Tobique River Salmon Club in northern New Brunswick and visits boyhood cronies at a lodge founded many years ago on the Murray River in Prince Edward Island.

In 1919 he went to work for the U.S. Rubber Company. Did pretty well there, too. Started in on labor relations, in time became director of labor and public relations; and kept the job till 1947.

GOVERNMENT JOBS

Meantime he filled a lot of jobs for the government.

While in one of these government jobs—as a member of a special board investigating the coal dispute in 1948—Ching received special attention from that well known acid-penman, John L. Lewis.

Said Lewis of Ching: "In attendance is Ching, a truly remarkable man, who sees through the eyes of United States Rubber."

This seems not to have wiped the grin off Ching's face. Not all labor leaders have the same acid feeling toward him, so it's said. From 1925 to 1931, and since 1940, he has been a member of the advisory council on industrial relations of the National Industrial Conference Board.

In the 1933 depression year he was a business member of the National Regional Labor Board of the National Recovery Administration.

President Roosevelt in 1941 appointed him a member of the National Defence Mediation Board.

U.N. Empowered To Use Armed Force

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly Saturday approved by 52 to five a Western-backed proposal for a veto-free system of collective security, giving the UN the power to meet aggression with armed force on a few hours' notice.

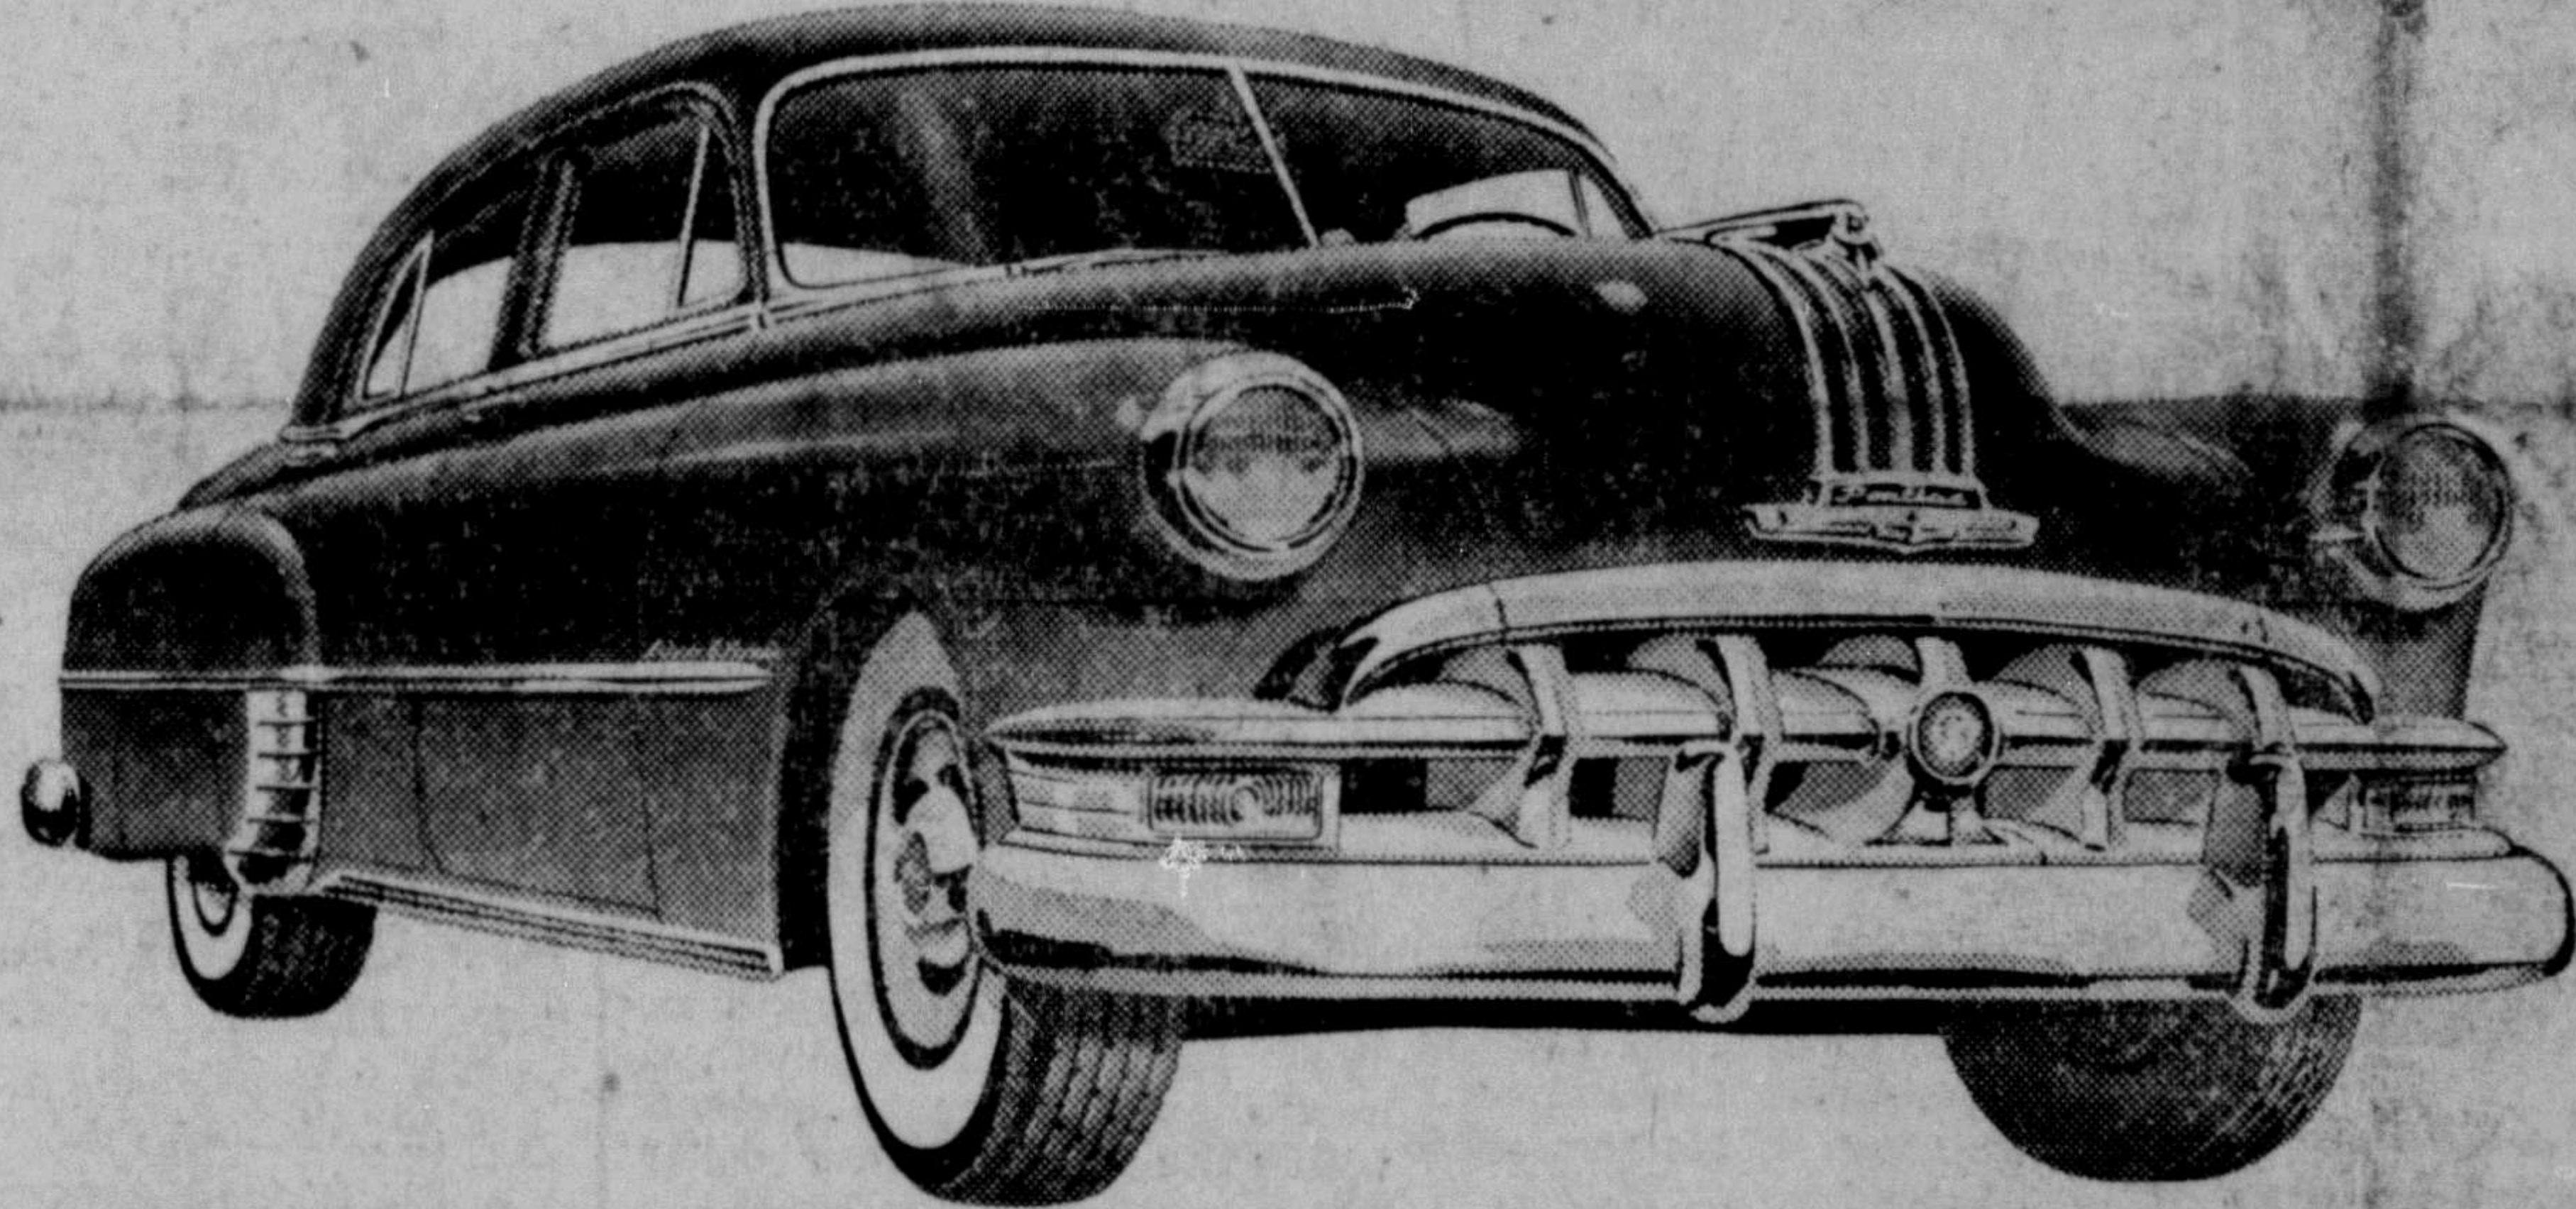

For the first time in UN history, the assembly was empowered to ask for troops if the Security Council fails to handle the aggression immediately. The action was hailed as the most important ever taken by the UN Assembly.

Fertilizer of Nature Best

OTTAWA — Northern British Columbia has a very large land area with a heavy clay soil. Such a soil, low in organic matter, is poorly aerated and slow to warm up in the spring. Because of this poor aeration, root penetration is limited, and bacterial action is at a low ebb. Barnyard manure greatly improves such a condition. It inoculates the soil with bacteria, increases the organic matter content, and makes the soil more loose and friable.

In a test conducted at the Dominion Experimental Station at Prince George, since 1943, barnyard manure was applied only to the second year of a four year rotation of oats, barley and two years hay. The barnyard manure gave the second highest yield in the year of application but out-yielded all other treatments in the subsequent years of the rotation. This residual effect has been outstanding even in the oat crop, four years after the manure had been applied. The average yield of oats from the manured plots was 69.3 bushels per acre while the yields from plots treated with commercial fertilizers ranged from 45.3 to 52.2 bushels per acre. Unfertilized plots averaged 48.9 bushels. This large residual benefit appears to be mainly due to the effect of the manure on the physical properties of the soil rather than due to the plant nutrients contained in the manure. Although commercial fertilizers are very important and are recommended for use in this area, they do not provide the same lasting benefits that are provided by manure.

the play. You can see that Mr. Muzzy won only the ace of hearts and three diamond tricks. His breezy two diamond bid was down a cool 1,100 points. Mr. Muzzy's partner was Mr. Masters, who is just about the perfect player—good on bidding, good on play, good on Humanities. He would have offered no advice or criticism, but Mr. Muzzy asked for it. "How could I possibly go down four on that hand?" he wailed. "What's wrong with my overcall? Why, I had an opening bid!"

Mr. Masters smiled resignedly. He had heard that crack before. "This may sound a bit cryptic, Muzzy," he said, "but opening bids are best used for opening the bidding." Mr. Muzzy's brow creased in perplexity. "Maybe that is rather thick," continued Mr. Masters, "but here is what I mean. When you open the bidding with one of a suit, the main requirement is that you have a certain number of honor-tricks—2½ or 3—and a sound rebid of some sort. "When you overcall you are required to have a certain number of winners with your bid suit as trump. Remember, an opening bid is tentative—but an overcall is a definite commitment."

tawa the influences which led to Vancouver's greatness. Meantime, Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce and such bodies should keep busy drawing constant attention to the strategic importance of the port, the possibilities of further industrial development here, the use of the grain elevator which has no grain and the shipbuilding plant which has no ships.

SHOULD BE BUSY PORT "This great harbor, with its port facilities, should be handling ocean-going vessels all the time," Mr. Murray declared. Mr. Murray advocates the setting up of Prince Rupert as a free port in view of its strategic position in relation to development of international trade and commerce—a position that had been taken advantage of during the emergency of World War II.

The Cariboo member has often expressed the opinion that railway and highway development northward from Prince George to the Peace River country would bring much traffic through this port. With the completion of the Hart Highway next year, prepared stock and vegetables could start moving by truck for the local market, Mr. Murray predicted. Such items as turkeys, hog carcasses, quarters of beef, turnips, seed potatoes and other such articles for which the Peace River is famous would start moving this way.

Later, with the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway into the Peace River country, would come the heavy commodities such as wheat and coal, said Mr. Murray in picturing the important part that Prince Rupert would play as a port in the opening-up of the northland. Mr. Murray stated that the Hart Highway, 247 miles from Prince George to Dawson Creek, where it connects with the Alaska Highway, was now all but 20 miles finished—the gap being in the Pine Pass where snow would soon stop construction for the winter months, to be resumed again next June to permit the opening of the road in 1951. The Hart Highway can be kept open the year around if there is adequate snow removal equipment, Mr. Murray is confident.

Mr. Murray, anxious to get all the new information he could and see all the recent industrial developments here, also expressed interest in the possibilities of this port as a gateway to Alaska. He mentioned a new project which was in the air for the building of a railway from Haines to connect with the Alaska Highway. A ferry service between Haines and Prince Rupert was part of the scheme, he disclosed.

Mr. Murray also sees silver mining as a factor of potential industrial importance which should be pushed in this area. "You Prince Rupert businessmen should do more business with the actual silver dollar which is the legal tender of the country—even though you can hardly get them from the banks. The greater the material use of the silver dollar, the greater the demand for silver," he stressed.

The Cariboo member arrived in the city on the Camosun yesterday afternoon from Vancouver and leaves by the evening train for Prince George whence he will fly into Fort St. John.

Miss E. R. McKinnie was a passenger on the Chilcotin on her southbound trip Sunday night.

BASKETBALL— Biggest Crowd Ever Sees 1950-51 Season Opening

Brownwoods Lose Heartbreaker to Champion
Co-ops—Fine Entertainment

Seven hundred basketball fans witnessed the season's opening on Saturday night, the largest crowd ever to attend league games at the Civic Centre. The fans were treated to some fine basketball in both junior and senior divisions although the intermediate game was not up to the usual calibre for this league.

There was first class entertainment galore, with the Shrine Club Band providing stirring music before the official opening and again at senior half-time.

The Job's Daughters drill team was given a great ovation for their military drill which brought them first prize in Long Beach this year and Spokane last year. The drill team paraded before Mayor George Rudderham who took the official salute and complimented Drill Major Edith Jordan on the fine performance of the colorful aggregation. The girls presented an exhibition drill during the half-time interval that brought round after round of applause from an appreciative audience. It was a fitting opener for the 1950 season and it gave the large audience an opportunity to show their appreciation to the Job's Daughters, and their leaders Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mitchell, for the honors they have brought to the city.

The Co-op seniors started right off where last year's finals found them, at the head of the league. When they won the opener 44-43. However, Brownwoods served notice that they were a team to contend with, before any league champions can be declared. It is quite possible that they might have been Saturday night's winners if it had not been for an accident to Everett Pierce who sprained an ankle in the pre-game warm-up period. It was a fast, robust game all the way with the lead switching back and forth right from the opening basket, scored by Joe Davis of Co-op to the last-second long shot that was swished through the hoop by Art Olson of Brownwoods.

The score was tied 8-8 in the first quarter with Co-op having a 3-point lead at the half. Brownwoods pulled ahead 36-33 in the final quarter and it looked as though their speed was going to give them a win, but they were too excited and by a costly fumble or two, gave Co-op the edge which they used to obtain a quick five-point lead with only 90 seconds left to play. Brownwoods tried desperately at this stage and nearly pulled it out of the fire with four points, three of them in the last fourteen seconds, but it was too late, and they lost a heart-breaker.

It would be hard to pick the star players on either team although Art Olson was a tower of strength for Brownwoods, and Joe Davis and Sid Scherk showed plenty of first class ball for the Co-op. Ray Spring was high scorer for the evening with a big 17 points, but lost his effectiveness in the last quarter when the excitement was too much for him.

It was easy to pick the villains for the evening—Sonny Beynon making one of his frequent trips to the bench for five personal fouls, which of course is no new procedure for him. Carlson, for Brownwoods, and Sid Scherk and Davis for Co-op also watched out the game from the bench which they warmed during the final minutes after five fouls. Johnny Comadina and Fred Calderoni refereed and kept the game well under control, although a noisy audience and players' bench didn't agree with their decisions on a good many occasions. Perhaps the funniest incident of the game was when Calderoni blew the whistle for a foul under the basket and, before he was able to designate the offender, Spring was arguing that it wasn't him. Beynon also contributed to the humor of it all when he expostulated loudly after a very obvious foul: "Hey, what's this, on me?"

Sport Shots

Carl Liscombe of Detroit Red Wings scored three goals and assisted on four others as Detroit smothered New York Rangers 12-5 eight years ago tonight. The leftwinger from Galt, Ont., four years earlier in 1938 had tallied three goals in one minute, 52 seconds.

Dr. John C. Maynard, 48, one of the greatest halfbacks in Canadian rugby, died suddenly in Toronto 16 years ago. Native of Stratford, Ont., he was twice captain of University of Toronto teams which won senior inter-collegiate championships.

Henry (Bunny) Austin and Dorothy Round headed the tennis rankings published by the British Lawn Tennis Association 13 years ago. Miss Round was the all-England champion in 1937 and Austin replaced Fred Perry, who turned professional the previous year.

Vacant Lot Is Playville Home

TORONTO (C)—A small lot on a shabby east-end street is the home of Toronto's first "Playville."

The front of the lot is jammed with young children on swings, slides, gym equipment and teeter-totters. At the back, a group of older children engage in a hot game of volleyball, or basketball, badminton or deck tennis. A few adults play horse-shoes on the sides.

An experiment in co-operative recreation, Playville is designed to keep the children off the streets and to give residents somewhere to go in their spare time.

The idea began in the United States, where in a number of cities residents of poorer districts began pooling their spare space and setting up playgrounds and parks. Called Playvilles, there now are 400 such schemes in operation there.

The idea was picked up here by the Polaris Foundation, a social work group, who passed it on to the Junior Board of Trade. The groups selected a small residential section surrounded by heavy east-end industrial developments. An old parking lot was chosen for the first Playville.

Now the lot is covered with games, athletic equipment and playing space. A small building contains washrooms, cooking facilities and room for dances or meetings. Benches have been placed so mothers can sit and watch as their children play. And additional space has been obtained nearby for conversion into football and baseball fields.

Mr. Victor Royea, chairman of the movement, says if the idea works in their neighborhood, "it will work anywhere."

Good Yield From Sale of Poppies

EVERY VETERAN OF WORLD WAR II

YOU should know about Veterans Insurance

Re: Veterans Insurance—
Your Right to Apply Has a Time Limit

The Veterans Insurance Act put time-limits upon the right of the Department to accept applications for this insurance. Extension of these time-limits was discussed at the last session of Parliament, and may come before the House again next year. But as the law stands today, the time-limits remain as follows:

If you were discharged before February 20, 1945, your application for insurance must be approved before February 20, 1951.

If you were discharged after February 20, 1945, your application must be approved within six years of the date of your discharge.

If you are interested in Veterans Insurance, we suggest, therefore, that to be on the safe side you get in touch with the nearest district office of the Department of Veterans Affairs as soon as possible. A trained counsellor is on hand at every office to assist you with your insurance problems. If it is more convenient for you, write directly to the Superintendent of Veterans Insurance, Department of Veterans Affairs, Ottawa.

Intermediate

Fashion Footwear were in control all the way in the Intermediate fixture and were only outscored in the last of the four periods. They won by a tidy 48 to 34 margin. They were playing an entirely new Merchants team, and it was a case of winning over an inexperienced outfit. Jim Intermela scored 15 for the winners and Wesch led Merchants with 12. Sev Dominato and Les Matthews called a fine game, and kept the whistling down to a minimum. There was an unfortunate accident in the third quarter when Ralph Young slipped to injure an ankle, which will keep him out of the lineup for a few days at least.

Junior

The crowd that arrived early was treated to a top-notch Junior game, and they showed their approval with plenty of applause. Rupert Hotel was the winner over Cook's by a 25 to 19 score, but they only pulled the game out of the fire after it had been all tied at the half, when they scored 12 points to their opponents' 6 in the third quarter.

In the final period Cook's managed to hold even but the third period lead won the game for the Hotel boys. McIntosh led the scoring parade with 8 points for Rupert Hotel and Findlay, Hodskinson, Smith and Sankey each garnered 6.

Tuesday's schedule sees Manson's and High School playing in the Junior session. Hi Gold and Seuby's Thunderbirds in the first intermediate game, followed by Hi Green vs. Fashion in the same league. The senior fixtures is between Co-op and Gordon and Anderson with this scribe picking the last named team as the winner which should give Co-op plenty of encouragement as a sportswriter is rarely a good picker.

Service of Remembrance

Importance of Spiritual Weapons and Divine Aid Urged in Fighting Good Fight

In a Service of Remembrance before veterans of three wars in First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning, marking the commencement of Remembrance Week proceedings, Rev. Dr. E. A. Wright warned against leaving out of reckoning against an invisible foe the important factor of spiritual guidance and divine assistance.

The helmet of salvation, the sword of the Spirit and shedding of the Gospel of Peace were crowning and essential equipment in "Fighting the Good Fight." In lasting importance, these factors, he asserted, transcended in attaining the ultimate goal all material implements of war designed to retain peace, freedom and security.

In two world wars, there had been victory for the cause of right and the cause of Christ. He recalled the deliverance of defenceless Britain in the old days when the Spanish armada had been blown into the North Sea and destroyed by the elements. Then there had been the miracle of Mons in World War I when the fall of Paris seemed almost certain. In World War II there had been the miraculous evacuation of Dunkerque under the blanket of baffling fog.

The pastor exhorted his listeners to keep to the way of the Spirit rather than the way of the flesh. He warned against succumbing to material desires and passions. In that way lay destruction.

Finally Dr. Wright appealed for recognition and assistance, if necessary, in memory of the fallen of past wars and those who returned and still suffered themselves or through their dependents.

The pastor was assisted in the service by J. S. Wilson, who read the first scripture lesson, and Rev. C. L. Lucas, chaplain of the Legion, who read the text scripture from St. Paul's epistle to the Ephesians, Bugler for "The Last Post" and "Reveille" was William Rance.

Rowland Miles was soloist for the singing of "Come Ye Blessed," accompanied by the organist, John Currie.

The colors were placed and returned by Harry Calderwood and Edgar Woodward.

The parade of 100 veterans, under Canadian Legion President James Nicoll, was in charge of J. S. Wilson, zone commander, Mrs. William Rothwell, president of the Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary, was in charge of 75 women including a number of ex-service women.

The parade from Legion headquarters to church and back was led by the Prince Rupert Shrine Club Band under Bandmaster Peter Lien.

Catholic Wedding— Popular Pair Are Married

Miss Charlotte Balagno Bride of Denis Rowse

Miss Charlotte Josephine Balagno, Prince Rupert-born third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Balagno, Fifth Avenue West, was the lovely bride of Denis John Rowse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denis John Rowse, New Westminster, at a marriage ceremony of widespread interest in the Church of the Annunciation Saturday morning. It was the same church in which the bride's parents had been married thirty-two years ago.

Huge bouquets of mauve and white chrysanthemums in white baskets and silver candelabra adorned the altar where the popular couple exchanged conventional vows administered by Rev. Father F. M. Rayner, O.M.I. Many friends, including pioneers of the city, comprised the congregation which gathered to witness the impressive rites.

The bride, entering the church on the arm of her father as Miss Mary Zogas played the Wedding March, wore a beautiful strapless bouffant wedding gown fashioned of white imported lace over taffeta. Over this was worn a fitted lace jacket with high rounded neckline and long sleeves frilled at the wrist. Her only ornament was a choker of pearls, the gift of the groom. Her veil of silk tulle was held in place by a crown of Stephanotis. The bridal bouquet was of white orchids.

Miss Delphine Balagno, sister of the bride, was the charming bridesmaid and her gown was of petal pink imported lace over taffeta, featuring a ballerina length bouffant skirt with sash of purple velvet ribbon. Her hat was a purple velvet halo with matching plume. Her bouquet was of purple orchids with ivy.

William E. Bond was groomsman.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Matt Burns sang Rosevig's "Ave Maria" with Miss Zogas accompanying on the organ.

Aid, Donald Fitch and Louis V. Astori were ushers.

Assisting the officiating priest as altar boys were Edward Cloutier and Ronald Basso.

During the afternoon a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 325 Fifth Avenue West, where many friends gathered to extend their felicitations on the happy occasion.

Assisting the couple to receive the well-wishing guests were the bride's mother, in a handsome blue crepe floor length dress with corsage of mauve orchid, and Mrs. M. P. McCaffery in a striking gown of purple crepe with corsage of gardenia.

After a toast to the bride had been appropriately proposed by Father Rayner and a toast to the bridesmaid by Judge W. O. Fulton, the groom and groomsman respectively responding, the bride and groom duly cut their handsome four-tier wedding cake. The bride's table was covered with an elaborate hand embroidered cloth centered with a profuse bouquet of pink roses banked with tulle and flanked by pink tapers in silver sconces.

Presiding at the urns were Mrs. J. L. Blain and Mrs. Angelo Astoria. The servers were Mrs. William Bond, Mrs. Donald Fitch, Mrs. Martin Van Cooten, Mrs. William Russell, Mrs. Louis Astoria, Miss Pulmira Astoria, Mary Astoria and Miss Beverly Nelson.

Later in the afternoon the couple sailed aboard the Princess Louise for a honeymoon trip to Vancouver, New Westminster and Seattle. For going away, the bride wore a handsome navy gabardine suit with navy velvet cloche hat and sable neckpiece. She had a corsage of white orchids.

Returning to the city, Mr. and Mrs. Rowse will take up residence at 130 East Fourth Avenue.

The groom is a graduate of the University of British Columbia and University of Washington and is affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Formerly with the research staff of the International Fisheries Commission, he is now identified with the Pacific Fisheries here.

Winter Comes— First Snow Of Season

After a turbulent week-end which included strong winds, heavy rain and an early morning hailstorm, Prince Rupert began to feel the cold today morning and received a blanket of snow for the first time this season. In spite of what seemed almost a deluge of rain yesterday and last night, the gauge at Digby Island recorded only .68 inches precipitation in the 24-hour period ending at 4 a.m. today. The snow started falling at 7:20 and soon turned to slush. Maximum wind velocity recorded at the weather station was southeast, 30 miles per hour.

City telephones came in for a beating once again as at least 25 or 30 lines were put out of commission over the week-end. Superintendent Jack Edwards reported this morning that most of the damage was to old drop wires. New installations were not affected. Canadian National Telegraphs reported their service intact throughout the week-end with little damage, if any.

Canadian National Railways report there has been snow and rain at McBride, but nothing to interfere with service. At Prince George there was rain and the same from Smithers to Terrace is reported rough but buses have been able to get through on schedule. Snow was falling near the summit yesterday.

All in all, the district seems to have come through the first onslaught of winter with little inconvenience.

WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT A GARDEN?
LILLIES ARE TOUGH AND LIKE TO WINTER OUT IN GARDEN
Lilies are far from being delicate plants. If you fall with them it is more likely you were too fussy, than that you neglected them. Many failures result from planting hardy bulbs in the spring, rather than in the fall. Bulbs sold in the spring have passed the winter in cold storage where they lose vigor, and are less resistant to disease than if they spent the winter planted in the garden.

Pete the Raccoon Is Thiving Now
OSHAWA, Ont. (C)—Once a motherless walf who had to be forced to eat, Pete now thrives on ice cream and candy—and raw meat.
The raw meat is proper raccoon diet, while Pete soon acquired a taste for the ice cream and candy after Stan Pollard found him in the woods near here several months ago. At first, Mr. Pollard had to force milk into the starving baby coon's mouth, but Pete caught on fast.
Pete roams about in the open at night and follows Mr. Pollard around like a pup in the daytime. Apart from a weakness for picking pockets and raiding the family fruit preserves in the cellar, he's a welcome household guest.
OSLO (C)—An exhibition to persuade Norwegians to eat more ice cream was held here. Speakers said annual consumption in Norway is under two quarts per capita, compared with nearly 20 quarts in the United States.

West Mistrusts Red Proposals
WASHINGTON (C)—Russia at the week-end proposed a meeting of foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France on its Prague proposals for the creation of an all-German constitutional council to unify Germany under one government.
The initial reaction is to regard the Prague proposals as a political propaganda countermove against the defence plans of Western Europe.
