MacArthur Calling For Korea's Surrender

Fraser Valley Schoolgirl Raped, Murdered

PRINCE RUPERT, (CP)—The nude, ravaged body of a 15-year-old school girl was found at dusk yesterday on a remote roadside, and hours later police reported they had no leads.

A senior RCMP officer said Laura Grant, daughter of a district farmer, had been "raped and murdered," then added, "Our immediate interest is to get the fellow who did this ugly crime."

The body was found by the Mission highway, 45 miles east of Vancouver in the Fraser Valley. A search for the girl was started after her parents reported her missing in the afternoon. A Mission constable spotted the body just as darkness crept over the countryside.

Police continued the search throughout the night and a police dog was transported from Vancouver for tracking purposes. The exact cause of death is not known.

Two Missing Since May 9

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—A Pittsburgh scientist and his pilot have been missing since May 9 on an Arctic flight from an Alaskan base, it was disclosed today. Missing are Rogers Dean Hamilton, Pittsburgh, and Bert Galbraith, formerly of Hamilton. Colin Mills, a friend of Hamilton, said he understands they were on a "highly secret scientific mission" for the U.S. Navy. He said he fears they may have made a forced landing on some Russian island in the Bering Sea.

Are Attracted By Fishing Streams

To see virgin lakes and streams abounding in trout with not a fisherman in sight was an intriguing sight for Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Littlefield of Santa Cruz, California, who are in the city after motoring north through the central interior. It is indeed a contrast to the angling resorts in California where people virtually jostle each other for a cast.

Mr. Littlefield is a newspaperman and is taking pictures as well as gathering material for feature articles. While the highway into Prince Rupert does not compare with the highways of the United States, Mr. Littlefield was, nevertheless, quite satisfied and enthused over the scenery and the attractiveness of Prince Rupert.

Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield are leaving on the Chilcotin tomorrow night for Vancouver. They are shipping their Buick car south from here.

Desperate Plight—Seoul Is Starving

SEOUL (CP)—Famine and disease face Seoul's million inhabitants. Food stocks are exhausted and the new crop of rice will not be harvested for several weeks.

One hundred and fifty tons of rice are being rushed from Japan.

Meanwhile, groups of civilians cluster around American soldiers in the streets, begging for food. Most of the soldiers give away most of their rations.

492 Give Blood At Donor Clinic

Shortness of time organizing was one reason put forth by T. Norton Youngs, chairman of the committee for the blood donor campaign, for the comparatively small response. This year there were 492 donors, compared with 518 last year.

Committees in charge of the last day's operation were:

Afternoon — Mesdames T. Glenn, R. Bean, W. H. Wilson, Murray, M. Erickson, C. Michaloff, J. A. Teng, R. Collart with Mrs. Collart, Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Anfield as nurses and Mrs. G. Montgomery and Mrs. W. D. Smith registrars.

Evening—Mrs. T. Boulter, Mesdames A. MacKenzie, M. Waksdale, E. Erickson, Edmondson and Miss Virginia Clarke with Mrs. O. L. Murray and Mrs. R. T. Collart as nurses and Mrs. G. Montgomery and Mrs. W. D. Smith as registrars.

Mr. Youngs has expressed his appreciation for the work the canvassers did in the short time at their disposal. He feels that if there had been more time the response would have been much heavier than it was. However, he was pleased that there were as many turn out as there were.

FLASH!! Dollar to Float Free

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Douglas Abbott announced tonight that the government had decided to allow the Canadian dollar to float free on the world exchange for the first time in eleven years.

DOLLAR PARITY?

Change in Canadian Exchange Regulations

OTTAWA, (CP)—The cabinet met today to consider foreign exchange rates. Indications were that the Canadian dollar would be returned to near parity in terms of United States dollars and that all emergency exchange controls will be abolished.

Finance Minister Abbott last night announced an indefinite suspension of all trading in foreign exchange by authorized dealers.

The cabinet's decision may be made known later today or possibly Sunday night. The current dollar rate is 9.1 percent discount in relation to United States funds.

KIDNAPPED, ROBBED

TORONTO — Three gunmen escaped with $1,600 yesterday in a daring kidnapping robbery on busy downtown Queen Street. Seized and robbed after he left the bank was William Gold, hotel manager, who lay bound with wire in a deserted alleyway for more than an hour before he was able to free himself.

New Tanker on Her First Visit

Frank Waterhouse Co.'s new tanker Argus is paying her first visit to this port, having arrived at 8 o'clock this morning with full cargo of diesel oil and gasoline for Shell and Imperial Oil Co.'s here. Leaving tonight the vessel will call at Butedale and Namu on the way south to load fish oils.

The Argus was built at Oakland, California, in 1944 as the Argo and was acquired this spring by Waterhouse from Puget Sound Navigation and Trading Co. of Seattle and renamed Argus. She is a 162-foot motorship with 240,000-gallon tank capacity.

Arsonists Fire Seoul Capital

SEOUL (CP)—Arsonists yesterday set Seoul's capital afire shortly after General MacArthur and President Gyngman Rhee left the building, scene of the historic liberation ceremony. Security officers had removed a dynamite bomb from the building before MacArthur and Rhee arrived for the ceremony.

Officials agreed the building had been set afire deliberately. Flames appeared in separate parts of the shell-damaged structure.

The fire had burned itself out this morning, but not before the main floor of offices was charred.

Canadians May Yet See Korea

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said today Canada's special force still may go to Korea, despite the rapid march of events there.

"If, when it is ready, Korea is the place where it can be most useful, it will go there. If not we will make another decision and call Parliament to announce it," St. Laurent said.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Leland will be passengers on the Chilcotin on her southbound trip tomorrow night.

Brooklyn Hangs On

Could Tie National League By Winning Tomorrow

NEW YORK (CP)—The Yankees are "in" and the Brooklyn Dodgers are trying desperately to make it a Greater New York World Series.

Casey Stengel's Yankees are celebrating the winning of their seventeenth American League pennant today, while the Dodgers closed in last on the jittery Philadelphia Phillies, National League leaders. They beat them 7-3 in today's game. They play again tomorrow afternoon and, if the Dodgers win, it will be a tie, necessitating a play-off.

The Yanks, who were idle, backed into their second straight championship as the Cleveland Indians trounced Detroit 12-2 yesterday to eliminate the runner-up Tigers.

But the gaunt Dodgers are the talk of the baseball world.

Faced with sudden death, the Brooks came from behind in both ends of a double header yesterday and beat the Boston Braves 7-5 and 7-6 to prolong their pennant chances.

The Dodgers took the Phils to bring to eight the number of losses in the last ten games. It was the first of a two game series.

Johnson's Are Satisfactory

QUEBEC (CP)—Premier and Mrs. Byron Johnson, injured in an automobile crash Friday, are reported in satisfactory condition by hospital authorities here. It may be necessary for them to spend a week in hospital here before they can be flown home.

Commonwealth Plans Asia Aid

LONDON (CP)—Commonwealth ministers yesterday approved a $5,000,000,000 aid plan for South and Southeast Asia. The scheme—an 87 page document drawn up by their technical experts—represents a Commonwealth "Marshall Plan" to raise the living standard of a quarter of the world's population. Fisheries Minister Mayhew represents Canada at the conference.

Huge Shake-up in New York Police

NEW YORK (CP)—New York City's new police commissioner drastically shook up his graft-torn department yesterday, ordering the city's 400 plainclothesmen back into uniform. The sweeping shake-up by Commissioner Thomas E. Murphy meant replacement of all police assigned to gambling investigations. Last week a Grand Jury disclosed evidence that a vast book-making ring was paying the cops about $1,000,000 a year for protection.

U.N. Cuts Off Red Filibuster

Extraordinary Action Taken In League of Nations General Assembly

LAKE SUCCESS (CP)—The United Nations General Assembly's political committee decided today, being in extraordinary consideration of the Korean question after its chairman had taken the unprecedented step of ordering a brief adjournment, to shut off a Soviet bloc filibuster.

Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky revived Russia's old charges that the Greek government was prosecuting political prisoners and, in another delaying movement, Poland asked the committee to give priority to the Greek case as well as to Korea.

The Korean resolution would leave up to General MacArthur the decision as to whether the United Nations forces would cross the 38th parallel into Communist North Korea.

Robbery Inside Job

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police are working on the theory that a $4,769 armed hold-up in the payroll room of the Canada Packers plant here Thursday was an inside job.

A masked bandit invaded the office and grabbed the payroll box, taking to flight firing one shot. He missed about $8,000 sitting on the office desk.

Czech Ouster Try Goes Unsupported

TORQUAY, Devon, England (CP)—Czechoslovakia tried vainly yesterday to oust Western Germany and South Korea from the international tariff conference. Russia and her satellites recognize neither the West German republic nor Korea as legally constituted nations. Czechoslovakia was the only Communist led country attending the conference.

Crossing of Parallel Is Not Yet Revealed

TOKYO, (CP)—Authoritative sources said today General MacArthur will call upon the North Korean government to surrender in a broadcast statement of his terms tomorrow.

The sources did not reveal the terms which MacArthur would offer. Presumably they will be strong, and the broadcasts may call for unconditional surrender.

August Police Revenue $2467

Total revenue collections from the police court in August amounted to $2,467.75, of which fines accounted for 2,130 and court costs for $337.75. This compares with $1,635 for the month of July. In all 162 convictions were registered and six dismissals.

Monetary loss from Criminal Code complaints during the month was $1,230, of which $1,067 was recovered. Three major complaints were investigated. Fifteen motor vehicle accidents were reported during the month. Police vehicles travelled 3,100 miles during the period. There was one charge of drunken driving, two of reckless driving and one of joy-riding. There were convictions in all cases where charges were laid.

"Reluctant Maturity"

His phrase reminds a church publication which has reached the Daily News office of the habitue of the Irish Pub—of whom we are told in that delightful book, "Lovely is the Lee"—who greeted each stranger with: "I'm a man of few words. Tell me in a sentence what's wrong with the world." Perhaps there are too many things wrong for us to be glib about it. But one failing can be mentioned, and it can be done in a phrase. That phrase is "reluctant maturity." It is the unreadiness to assume obligations and face responsibilities, to grow through effort and to recognize that what may happen to us might be of lesser consequence than what we might help to make happen to our world.

One Friday many years ago a young man stepped into the San Francisco office of Louis Janin, the ranking mining engineer of his day. "Just out of Stanford U and looking for any sort of job?" Janin demanded.

"Not quite," said the young man, "I am going to be a mining engineer, and I think this is the place to start."

"Boy," Janin retorted, "I've a list long as your arm of young fellows like yourself who are planning to step into my shoes. Even if they were good, there isn't a job for them. The only job in this whole place is one for a junior stenographer."

"I'll take it," said the young man. "That is, if you can hold it till Tuesday."

Tuesday came, and the young man, Janin called him into his office. "I don't like puzzles," he said. "If you were so certain you were going to be an engineer, why did you have to wait till Tuesday?"

"I had to rent a typewriter and learn to use it," the young man answered calmly.

"H'm!" said the great Louis Janin. "And your name again?"

"Herbert Hoover," said the young man.

Not so long ago ex-President Hoover, accepting a degree at Ohio Wesleyan University, put a practice into words: "At all times in history," he said, "there have been those who sought to escape into security from self-reliance. Do not choose that mean and timid course, that kills the joy that lies in individual adventure, new undertakings and new achievements."

After all, what's the matter with growing up?

THE UPPER ROOM

Is the machinery of the church becoming more important than its mission? The Congressional Union of England and Wales, facing a sharp decline in membership, were challenged by Dr. Lovell Cocks of Bristol's Western College to answer the question whether the problem didn't go deeper than a declining membership, whether that decline was not merely a symptom of a declining faith, and whether the maintaining of an outward symbol of faith balanced the dynamic challenge of bitter and unfriendly creeds.

Said Dr. Cocks: "Can a faith as halting as ours outrun the fierce dynamism of the Marxist creed? Can we hope to beat the communists until Christians know their stuff as well as communists know theirs? Till we do, the communists need not be afraid of us."

"Big ill-attended churches," he challenged, "are bonds of brick and mortar, crippling to little fellowships. These fellowships have come to believe that the cause of the kingdom means keeping these buildings going, and everything else is sacrificed. May it not be that what Christ really wants them to do is to sell out, to get rid of their buildings and hire a room over a shop—an upper room, and begin all over again in an apostolic way?"

SCRIPTURE PASSAGE FOR TODAY

"My Grace is sufficient for thee." II Cor. 12: 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Starr left today for Terrace to spend the week-end. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Martin Miller and Miss Maryann Miller. Mrs. Miller has been visiting here with her daughter who has been ill and who will now spend the winter in Terrace.

Frank Skinner returned to the city on the Chilcotin yesterday afternoon from a vacation trip to Vancouver and Vancouver Island. Leslie Smith, who has been relieving as Union Steamship agent here, is returning to Vancouver tomorrow night.

Canada in Good Financial Shape

OTTAWA (C) — A three-year struggle to rebuild Canada's depleted reserves of gold and United States dollars and put new power into her trade structure may soon be finished. Informed quarters disclose. A statement is expected within the next week or two showing more exchange than ever before in Canada's history.

SATURDAY SERMON

"The Christian's Daily Life"

"Present your bodies as a living sacrifice."—Romans 12:1.
(By Rev. Fred Antrobus, First Presbyterian Church)

In the first eleven chapters of his letter to the Romans, the apostle Paul had been setting forth the gospel of salvation by faith and of God's unsearchable wisdom and unfathomable methods in bringing it about. In chapter twelve he concludes these lofty meditations with practical applications to daily life of the themes he has been discussing. "Therefore," he says, in the first verse of chapter twelve, "in view of these things, put this salvation by faith, into your everyday living."

After this lofty soaring of his mind into heavenly themes, we might have expected him to come to a climax by calling for all to stand and shout the great "Hallelujah Chorus". Or we might have felt that he would call us apart to a Keswick Retreat, there to meditate upon the mystery and depth of the divine truth. Or we might have thought that he would urge us to organize a series of huge mass meetings and promote the doctrine of saving faith. These are things we would most probably have undertaken.

Instead Paul points his finger at each listener and says "Do you want to know what all this amounts to? "Therefore", in view of this fine salvation, in view of the glory of your redeemed life, do not forget your moral obligations, to yourself, to the government, and to your fellow-Christians."

The practical business of salvation by faith is daily, ethical living. True faith does not eventuate in shouting or orthodoxy, or ritualism, but in applying Christian love to everyday affairs. On this truth Paul is squarely planted. Salvation is not only high doctrine, but it is high living. Jesus had said it years before, "Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord', shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven."

I believe here is the central sin of all religions, namely, the substitution of church observances, no matter how right and proper in their place, for right living with others. Since the day when the prophet Amos decried the gaudy temple offerings, and demanded that justice flow like a perennial stream, on to Jesus scorn of the Pharisees who uttered "mint and dill and cummin" and "neglected—justice and mercy" even until now, religions everywhere have passed over Paul's "therefore", and what follows it.

It is hard to get "therefore" into the religious conscience, even the Christian conscience! We argue over baptism, quarrel about the Lord's Supper, disagree concerning ordination and apostolic succession, dispute regarding church government, divide on doctrine, and over literal or scientific scripture interpretation. How very far these are from "therefore", and the practical living of the Christian life. What little have they to answer to the world's demand, "So what?"

Paul's concern was to get Christian virtue into practical life, a matter which is so easy to forget or avoid. The Christian Gospel of the Great Salvation of Faith comes to its climax here in the practical injunctions and duties set for in chapters 12-14. Put your salvation into daily action in the humble duties of your everyday living!

Gospel Lighthouse At Francois Lake

FRANCOIS LAKE—Dedication and Thanksgiving Service took place at the Francois Lake Gospel Lighthouse on Sunday afternoon. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with flowers, sheaves of grain and a collection of vegetables on a sloping table to remind the people of a bountiful harvest.

D. C. Millar gave a word of welcome and extended a hearty invitation to all the people of Francois Lake and surrounding areas. The Thanksgiving scripture reading was followed by several appropriate hymns. Mrs. Carl Klassen brought an object lesson and song entitled "Tell It Again for the Children." Mr. Millar then brought the dedication message and prayer, which was based on various portions of scripture. The service closed with a Gospel Message given by Carl Klassen.

Rev. Dr. E. A. Wright, who went south last week to take the 25th anniversary service at the Presbyterian church at Murrayville, returned home yesterday on the Princess Louise.

German Ban Now Lifted

OTTAWA (C) — Immigration Minister Harris announced Friday that German nationals have been placed on the same peace-time basis as any other foreigners for the purpose of emigration to Canada. The eleven year ban against them coming here as enemy aliens is over.

Germans now will be subject only to general regulations governing the entry of immigrants of other nationalities. The new order makes it possible for any German to emigrate here providing he or she can comply with federal regulations.

Neither ex-Nazi nor communists, however, will be allowed to enter Canada. The wartime ban against them remains effective.

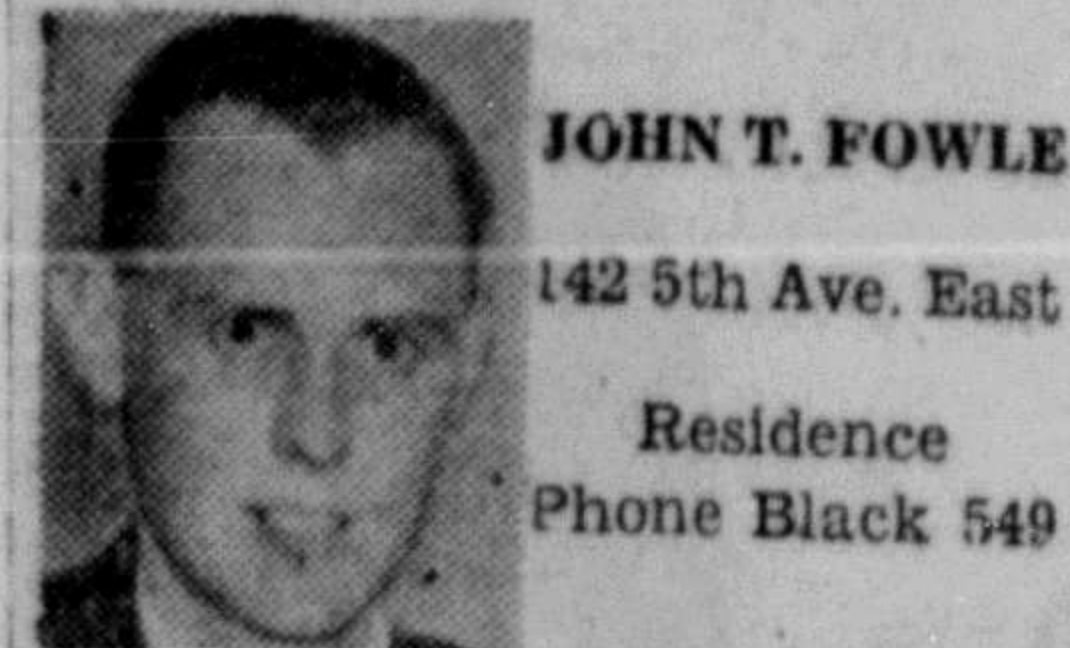

Mr. and Mrs. George Mayer of Port Clements, who have been visiting their son, in Telkwa, were in the city yesterday enroute home. They are old timers in the city and district.

Miss Ruth Jacobsen and Alek Bill United at Beautiful Church Wedding

St. Paul's Lutheran Church was the scene of one of the city's most beautiful weddings Thursday evening at 7:30 when at a candle-lit ceremony Ruth Eleanor, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jacobsen of Wayne, Alberta, became the bride of Alek Samuel, eldest son of Mrs. Sam Bill and the late Sam Bill of this city.

To the strains of "Because," Miss Mardell Solland and Miss Sonja Selvig proceeded to the altar with lighted candles with which they then lit the candles at the altar.

The bride, a graduate of Holy Cross Hospital in Calgary, Alberta, was given in marriage by Jack Lindsay. She was beautiful in a heavy ice blue satin gown fashioned on Princess lines and a long full train. The bodice had a sweetheart neckline inset with Chantilly lace and cap sleeves with matching elbow-length gloves. The headdress was a shield cap fashioned of the same material as her gown and the bridal veil was made up of two lengths — shoulder and hip length. Her only ornament was an opal pendant and her bouquet was of gardenias and baby pink rosebuds.

Preceding the bride were the bridesmaids. First came the bride's sister, Grace Jacobsen of Calgary, who wore a gown of rich velvet of a striking midnight blue. Her headdress was a skull cap of the same material from which flowed a chapel length veil of the same shade. Her bouquet was of pale blue carnations.

Next came the groom's sister, Millie Bill, who wore a gown of rich wine velvet and a skull cap of velvet with chapel length veil. Her bouquet was of pale pink carnations.

Jack Allen, old timer in the city and war veteran, has returned to Prince Rupert, after having been out of town for most of the fishing season and packing season.

Harvest Weather Generally Ideal

WINNIPEG—Since last report several days of ideal harvesting weather have prevailed but this ended when fairly widespread rains occurred across the prairies during the past 48 hours, according to the final crop report of the department of agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

Precipitation was heaviest in eastern Manitoba where threshing will be held up from three to four days. Only light rains, however, are reported from many points westward.

During the fine weather good progress was made in harvesting in all sections and many points will complete harvesting in from one to two weeks with favorable weather.

Cool weather prevailed in the Okanagan with a heavy rain on Saturday and Sunday. Fruit is moving in more heavy quantities and apples ripening satisfactorily. Vegetable crops are good but tomatoes are not up to expectations so far as quantities marketed to date are concerned and although they are later than expected in ripening a good tomato crop is in prospect.

Good Highway—But Dangerous

Charles O. Albins, president of the Prince George Board of Trade, paying his first visit to Prince Rupert, is impressed with the condition of the highway over which he drove here. "For a new road there is certainly nothing to complain about," he says, "but I was also impressed with the danger as it skirts the Skeena River west of Terrace. It seems to be that, for the protection of motor traffic, particularly tourists, there should be no delay in placing curbs alongside the road on the river side."

Mr. Albins is accompanied by his wife. They arrived in the city Thursday and will return to the interior Sunday, heading for Telkwa that day.

Mr. Albins is manager of W. H. Malkin Co. at Prince George and is a prominent Rotarian.

Mrs. William Chapple suffered bruises at 9:4 last night while walking across Third Avenue at Fifth Street when she became involved in a collision with an automobile driven by Daniel Deveau. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. J. Rosedale, who jumped clear. Both women were taken to hospital, where Mrs. Chapple was kept for treatment. Her condition was reported as good this morning.

Sunset
The waters of the harbor took on hues that will be remembered for a long time by those who saw them. Every shade imaginable was shown either in the water or in the sky. It was the perfect sunset to set off a perfect day.
The motor vessel Sidney, Capt. O. Hendrickson, was in port this morning with three cars of frozen fish from Ketchikan for transshipment over C.N.R. lines to United States market.

Blackwood On Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Mrs. Keen is a fairly new patron of the bridge club where Mr. Masters is the genial host. She has only recently taken up rubber bridge after a long experience at party bridge playing. She has rapidly caught on to the different tactics used in rubber bridge. Actually Mrs. Keen is a pretty shrewd player and I notice she has picked up a lot of points through over-confident opponents taking her for a novice.

Both sides vulnerable.

For one thing Mrs. Keen has been tightening up on her defensive play. She did a nice piece of thinking on today's hand to defeat an adverse slam bid.

On lead against the six spade contract she opened the queen hearts which declarer won on the board with the ace. A small trump was led and Mr. Masters' king fell to East's ace.

Now declarer could see that the success of his contract depended upon his guessing the location of the queen of clubs. He could take the club finesse either way but rather than take it now, he decided to try for a pseudo strip and end play. He therefore cashed his king of hearts and the ace and king of diamonds, stripping all red cards from the closed hand and dummy. Then he put Mrs. Keen in with the high trump.

Now Mrs. Keen was supposed to lead a club. In other words she was supposed to figure that the return of a red card would give declarer a ruff in one hand and a discard in the other—thus presenting East with his contract.

But Mrs. Keen didn't even come close to falling into this trap. She knew declarer had started with exactly five spades and that if he had held more than two cards in either of the red suits he would have played them before throwing her the lead. Therefore she promptly returned the jack of diamonds realizing that the discard of a club from either his own hand or dummy wouldn't help declarer in the least.

She was right. East still had to guess the club situation and with a poetic justice which seldom seems to occur at the bridge table, he guessed it wrong—for down one.

Charles Powell, C.N.R. policeman who has been stationed here for the summer, left last night on the train for his home in Winnipeg.

Fairview Breakwater to be Completed Next Tuesday—Salmon Fishing Season Practically Over

Trucks today are plying back and forth from Acropolis Hill to the new breakwater at Fairview as fast as they can with loads of rock for the final fill. The work, which has been going on for three months is now nearing completion. Situated at the beacon at the entrance to the harbor, the breakwater is shaped like an "L" with the free leg running up the harbor. It forms a haven for boats just west of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative plant. The final coating of rock stands about ten or fifteen feet above high tide and has been left rough, so that it is nearly impossible to climb over it. It is expected to finish hauling rock today or tomorrow and to complete the whole job by Tuesday. All of which is a relief to the fishing fleet as the season of fall and winter storms approaches. Now the hope is that the connecting level crossing road to the fishermen's floats at Fairview Bay will soon be provided.

Among seiners this year with high salmon catches is the West Jack, Capt. Clifford Jones. Up to the end of last week it had totalled 70,000 humpbacks and 18,000 dog salmon.

The J. H. Todd & Sons fishing boat Robert Johnson, Capt. David Prevost, leaves Sunday for the south after spending the season about the Queen Charlotte Islands.

The first school of mackerel sighted in Alaskan waters in years has been seen by Olaf Winters, while fishing off Cape Cross. It's been 33 years since he has had a good look at any. The mackerel averaged between eight and ten inches.

Union steamer Chilcotin, Capt. Harry McLean, arrived in port at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Vancouver, sailing at 10 p.m. for Masset Inlet points whence she will return here Sunday to sail at 9 p.m. on her return south. The vessel had a fair sized list of passengers and substantial freight cargo.

The motor vessel Sidney, Capt. O. Hendrickson, was in port Thursday with three carloads of frozen fish from Ketchikan. The fish will be transhipped to the United States over C.N.R. lines.

Sleeping out of the mist into the beautiful sunshine of Prince Rupert yesterday morning, C.P.R. Steamer Princess Louise, Capt. William Hubert, docked just before noon. Disembarking here were Mrs. E. Bjornson, Miss B. Webber, Miss E. Edwards, Mrs. J. Cameron, Mr. Ponting, Rev. F. A. Wright. Embarking here were A. Vincent, R. Browne, Mr. and Mrs. Barkdoll and two children, P. Mishkoff, N. Junik, G. B. Lewis, F. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. E. Brown, Mrs. E. Carlick, and a group of 16 Indians bound for Petersburg. She sailed at 1:30 p.m. for Alaska and will return here next Wednesday afternoon southbound.

Mrs. Wiedswang, who has been visiting her husband here, sails tomorrow night on the Chilcotin on her return home to Nanaimo.

A. H. Ogilvie and S. Murdock were passengers on the Chilcotin on her trip to the Queen Charlotte Islands last night.

Miss Doris Anderson returned to her home in Masset on the Chilcotin last night after a visit in the city.

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT
Saskatchewan Leads

Saskatchewan leads all Canada in one respect—that is, in blood tests for all applicants for marriage licences. British Columbia has long had a similar act on the law books. But it was remained a dead letter. Here are the official figures from Saskatchewan which show how this is working out. In the first six months of 1950 there were 2,024 pre-marital blood tests made. Ten positive reports of syphilis were made. In the first six months of 1949 there were 5,751 blood tests with 25 positive reactions for syphilis.

I HEARD ONE of Canada's leading doctors remark the other day that the swift decline in the total number of syphilis cases was a sort of international wonder. What was the cause of it? He suggested that medical specialists themselves were not certain.

His offhand remark (to the Public Affairs Institute at Camp Elphinstone) sent me to the reference books. I read in the Encyclopedia Britannica Year Book '49: "The total number of syphilis cases (all stages) reported for the year ending June 30, 1949, for civilians in the U.S. and its territories was approximately 14% lower than for the preceding fiscal year—296,455 as compared with 345,992."

The figures for the preceding three years show a steady fall in the total number of all kinds of cases of syphilis. "That these occurred in the face of a 30% increase in efforts to find cases of venereal disease strengthened the thesis of diminished incidence."

IN LAYMAN'S language that is just another way of saying that the human race is winning the war against one of its oldest and deadliest enemies—syphilis. But whether we continue to win it or not depends on whether mankind once again plunges into international war—that is, self-slaughter.

Here is what war does to the struggle against syphilis.

Syphilis in Canada
	1940	1945
Prince Ed. Is.	2	34
Nova Scotia	433	657
New Brunswick	273	412
Quebec	2,038	5,956
Ontario	5,222	4,890
Manitoba	464	611
Saskatchewan	282	407
Alberta	550	581
B. C.	823	1,540
Total Canada	10,087	15,058

From a cursory examination of the above figures one might get the wrong idea that syphilis actually declined in Ontario. That was not true. The peak year was 1943 when Ontario reported 6,849 cases and Quebec reported no less than 9,142.

B.C. legislature long since passed a law requiring blood tests before marriage; and in view of the fact that the government itself lists "premarital blood testing" as a "must" in phlet on V.D. we might ask Why does B.C. lag behind itself lists "premarital blood katchewan?"
