Vishinsky Assails U.S. Plotting War

Russ Delegate Asks Reduction Of Arms, Atomic War Prohibition

'Same Old Stuff Warmed Over' Comments U.S. Representative

PARIS (CP)—Russian delegate Andre Vishinsky made a scathing attack on the United States in the U.N. General Assembly today, charging the western power with plotting atomic war on the Soviet Union and the economic subjugation of Europe.

The attack was described as the most bitter ever made in the United Nations, but it failed to stir up much excitement among western delegates.

Senator Warren Austin, American delegate described it as "the same old thing warmed over" and Hector McNeill, British delegate summarized it in comparable terms.

Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky said that the United States has laid plans for the atomic destruction of the Russian cities of Moscow, Kiev, Odessa and other centres and charged that it has embarked on an armament race to "destroy the new democracies."

His attack was accompanied by an assurance that Russia wanted only peace.

Vishinsky was noted at earlier sessions of the General Assembly, notably last year's meeting at Lake Success, for his vitriolic outbursts against United States policy. Today's hour-long speech contained little that he had not previously said.

He proposed that the five major powers reduce their armed forces by one-third within the next year, after charging that the United States had embarked on an armament race aimed at destroying Russia.

He attacked the European Recovery Plan as an instrument to obtain the economic subjugation by the United States of the whole of Europe.

He accused the U.S., Britain and France of trying to isolate Russia by military alliances and asked the U.N. General Assembly to set up an international control body to supervise the reduction of armaments and the prohibition of atomic weapons.

PARIS, (CP)—An official British source said today that five defence ministers of the western (Brussels) alliance will meet in Paris Monday to discuss common military problems. The report came shortly after Andre Vishinsky denounced the five-power alliance as one directed against Russia and eastern Europe.

Five Missing Men Brought To The Pas

HUNGARY PRESIDENT — Deputy Premier Arpad Szakasits (above) has been approved by leaders of every Hungarian political party to succeed Zoltan Tildy as president. The latter resigned after the arrest of his son-in-law, Victor Csorokny, on espionage and treason charges.

THE PAS, Man. (CP)—A Canso rescue plane bearing five military men, found after being lost for nearly two weeks in the Manitoba wilds, landed here today.

They were welcomed by a crowd of trappers, Indians, and military men who crowded the airport.

Capt. Ben Scott Custer, naval attaché at the American Embassy in Ottawa declared: "Because of God and the R.C.A.F. five people were saved. We're damned happy to be here."

They were taken immediately to hospital for a physical examination, but their general appearance seemed quite good.

MONOPOLY SUIT FILED ON ALCOA

WASHINGTON, (CP)—The United States Justice Department said Friday that it had filed a court action designed to force the Aluminum Company of America to "reduce its power and size." Attorney General Tom Clark said that the proceeding was filed in an effort to carry out a monopoly judgment entered against Alcoa in 1945.

METZ RETAINS LEAD WITH 208 IN OPEN GOLF

VANCOUVER, (CP)—A friendly sun dried the Shaughnessy Heights course here Friday, but failed to heat up the golfers, and Nick Metz of Virginia Beach clung to his two-stroke lead in the $10,000 Canadian Open.

Metz Friday shaded par by one swing with a 71 to close the third round with a 209 total.

Only Chuck Congdon, of Tacoma, and Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago were able to break 70. Congdon slouched around in 68 for the day's best score, giving him a 211 total and he enters today's final alone in second place.

Low amateur was Walt McElroy of Vancouver, who went around in 70 for a 215 total.

Thirteen players are under the par of 216 at the end of the third round. The field, which numbered an even hundred on Friday, is expected to be cut to about 60 today.

ARGENTINOS DEMONSTRATE AGAINST U.S.

BUENOS AIRES.—A two-day demonstration over police reports of a plot to kill President Juan D. Peron and his wife, turned into the strongest anti-United States campaign in Argentina in more than two years.

A 14-hour general strike, which freed workers to march, chant and shout slogans, ended at midnight.

Peron delivered a fiery address, blaming the plot on former U.S. embassy cultural attaché John Griffith. He charged that "foreign gold" was used to finance the plot.

VAST FRENCH PROTEST STRIKE

PARIS, (CP)—Between five and six million French trade unionists stopped work promptly at 4 p.m. Friday in response to a two-hour general strike call.

Observers said that it was the most widespread and thorough strike that France has ever known. It was called in protest against new taxes imposed by Henry Queuille's government and against a sharp increase in the cost of living in the large cities.

W. FINLAYSON IS CALLED BY DEATH

William Finlayson, superintendent of the government grain elevator here, and a resident of Prince Rupert for the last 21 years, died Friday afternoon in hospital. He was 51 years old.

A native of Stornoway, Isle of Lewis, Scotland, he came to Canada a quarter-century ago after serving in the Imperial Army and the Royal Air Force during the First World War and in the merchant navy following the conflict.

Mr. Finlayson had been ill since last May, succumbing to a heart condition.

He enlisted in the Seaforth Highlanders early in the First World War, serving in France where he was wounded and gassed. Late in the war, he transferred to the Royal Air Force where he completed his service. Following the war, he served with the merchant marine, sailing between the United States and England.

Leaving the Old Country, he went to the United States, where he resided briefly before coming to Canada. For four years he lived at Fort William, Ontario, where he was employed at the terminal elevators. He came to Prince Rupert with the Alberta Wheat Pool, which leased the local elevator at that time.

He had been superintendent of the elevator here since shortly after his arrival.

Mr. Finlayson was a member of Tye Masonic Lodge and the Royal Arch Chapter, holding office in the latter. He also was a member of the Canadian Legion.

He is survived by his wife and three sons, Malcolm, William and John, and a daughter, Mary, at the family home at 1103 Beach Place. A brother, John, resides at Stornoway.

Burial will take place at Vancouver, where the body will be taken on Monday. A Masonic service will be held here Monday afternoon.

132 Vessels Tied Up In Coast Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (CP)—Ship owners reported today that the Pacific coast maritime strike has tied up 132 American flag vessels and predicted that if the deadlock continues the total will reach 375.

They forecast that if no settlement is made soon, an estimated 580,000 jobs in Pacific coast industries may ultimately be jeopardized.

Some 6,250 officers and merchant seamen, together with almost 12,000 longshoremen are involved in the strike.

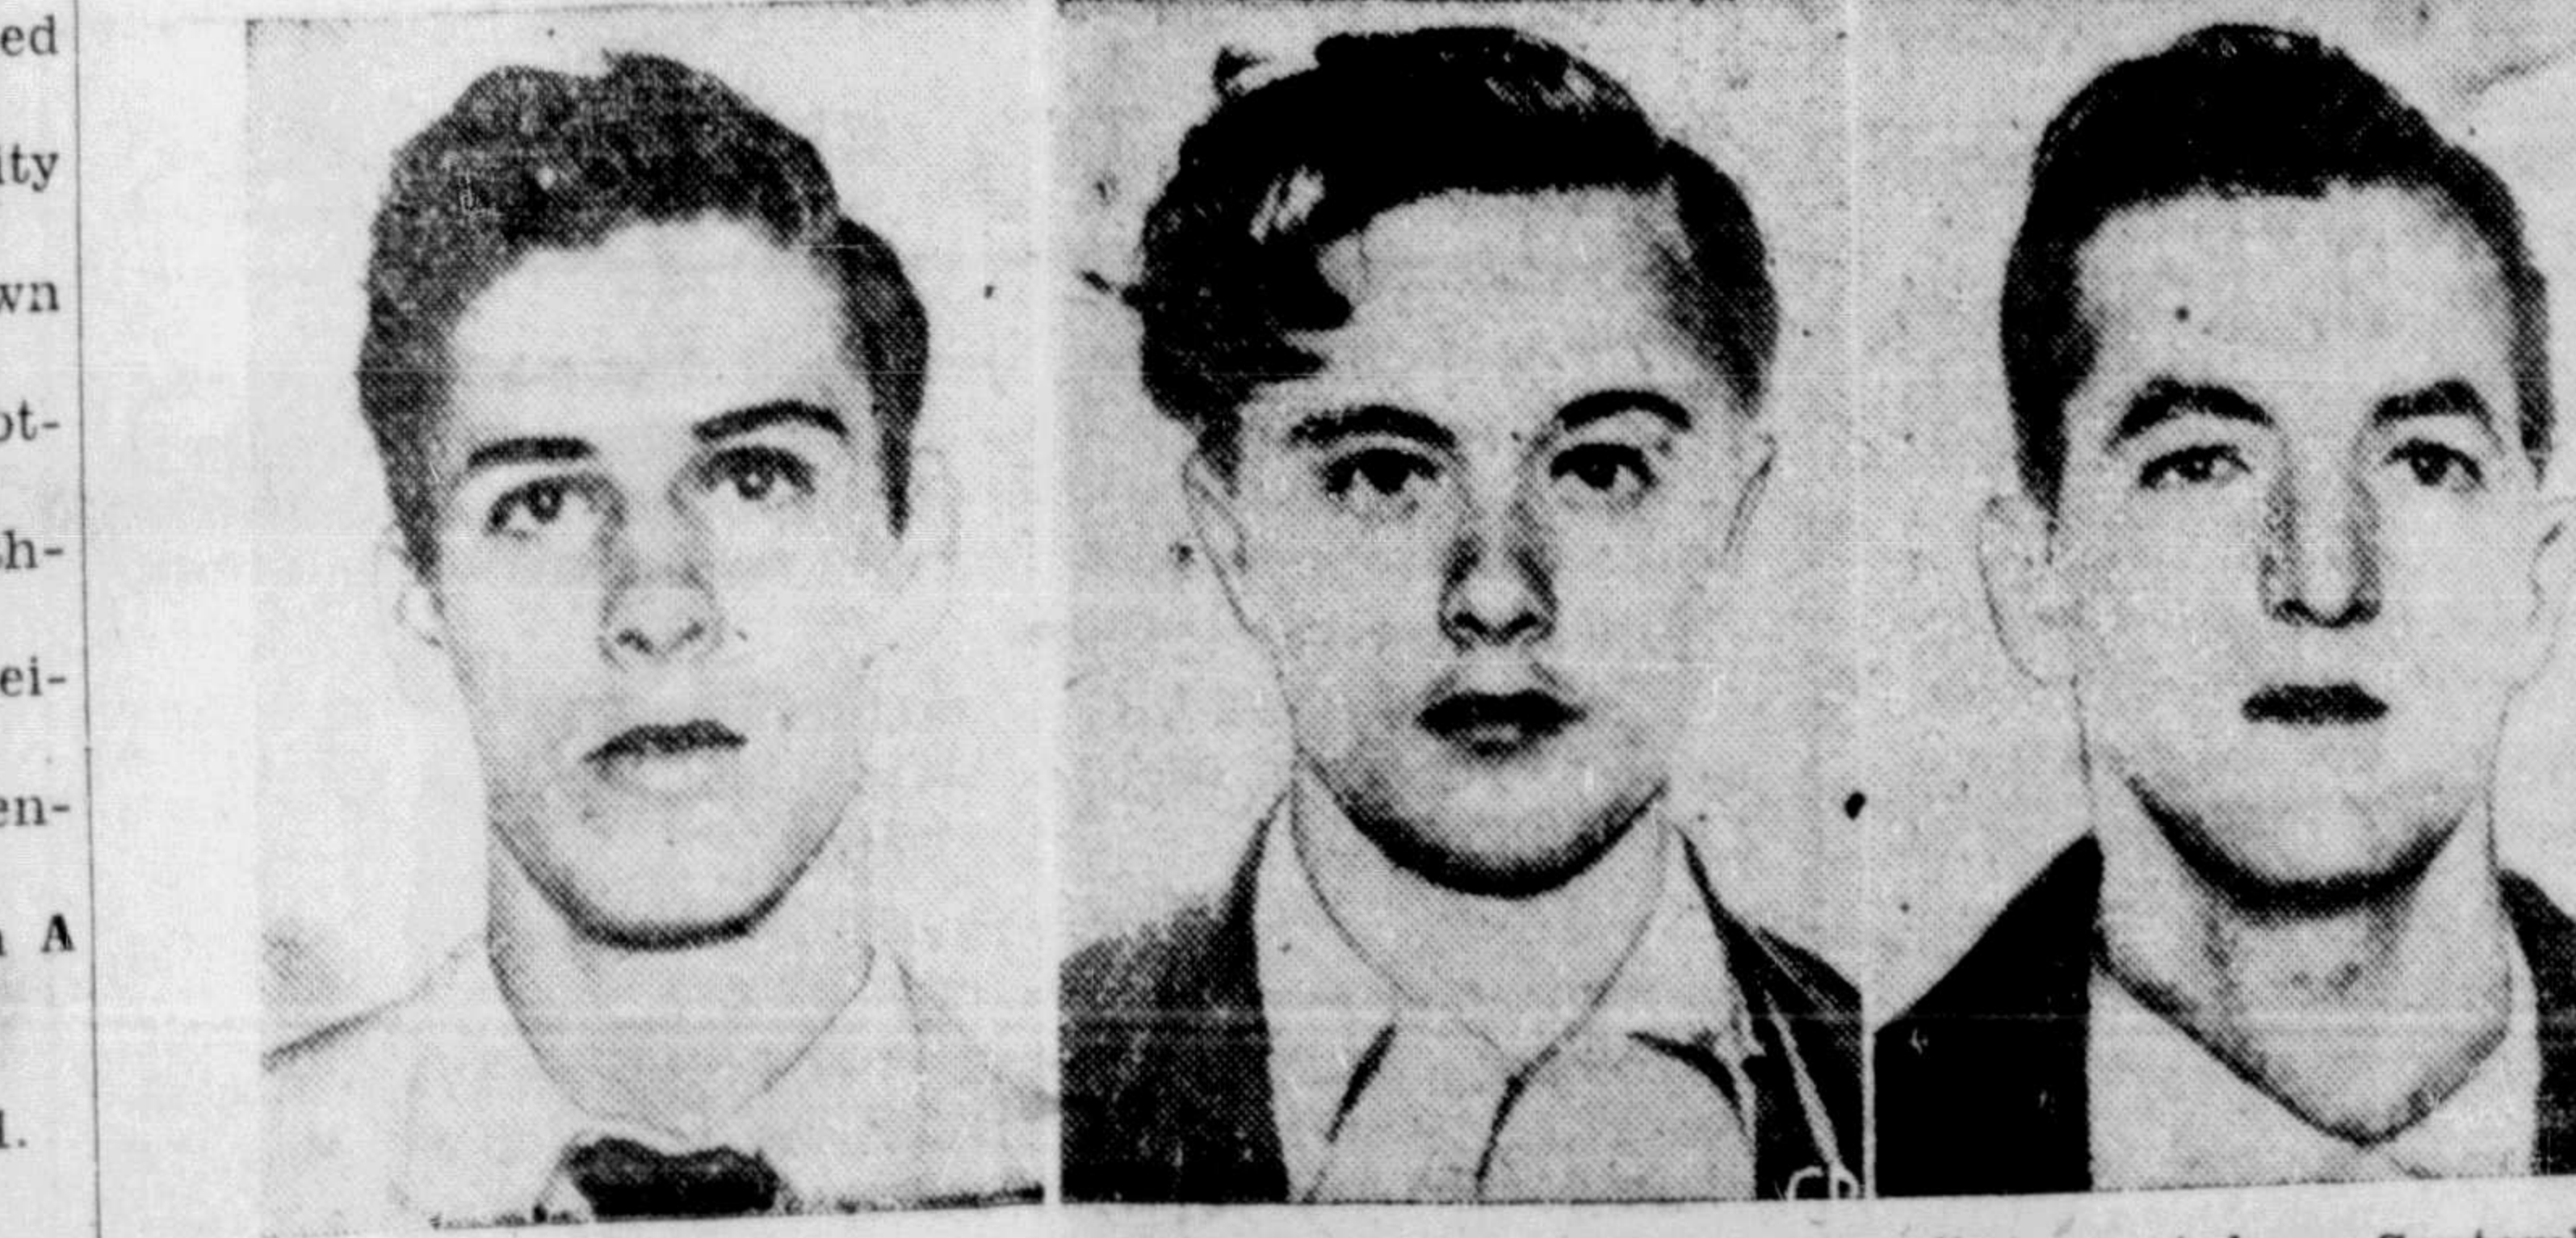

No break in the wages deadlock has appeared.

HUNGARY TAKES U.S. OIL CO.

BUDAPEST (CP)—The Hungarian government today assumed full control of the American-owned Maort Oil Company to prevent oil production from "being recklessly and artificially decreased." The move followed last week's arrest of the American president and vice-president and several Hungarian directors on sabotage charges.

Strong Defence, Solid Democratic Front Needed to Prevent War

(Special to the Daily News)

JUNEAU, Alaska—Speaking at the closing banquet of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia and affiliated Chambers of Commerce of Southeastern Alaska here, Governor Ernest Gruening prescribed two means of obviating the challenge of an "unthinkable ideological shooting war" which faced the world today.

First, the chief executive of Alaska declared that defences should be built up strongly and well; second, it must be demonstrated that the democratic system could be made to function practically even here on the periphery two great nations with common bonds could unite in a small way to make a reality of democratic action and to prove that the democratic system was the best system.

The Governor called for a cutting away of red tape in international relations. He referred specifically to such matters as keeping open for the year around of the Haines Highway and the removal of aerial travel restrictions between Alaska and Canada.

The Governor spoke before a gathering of 150, comprising convention delegates and guests and prominent Juneau citizens, members of the Juneau Chamber of Commerce which was the host body.

S. W. Brighton, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Vancouver; J. T. Gawthrop, director, Regional Development Division, Provincial Department of Trade and Industry, Brigadier Connelly, Canadian Army commandant on the Alaska Highway and E. T. Applewhite, secretary of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce were other speakers.

The gathering was opened by Joseph McLean, president of the Juneau Chamber of Commerce who turned over the proceedings to Dr. L. M. Green of Smithers, retiring president of the Associated Boards of Central B.C.

Visiting delegates spoke highly of the hospitality extended by the territory of Alaska, the City of Juneau and the Juneau Chamber of Commerce. Such co-operation and understanding as had been indicated here could not but bring results, declared Mr. Brighton, who deplored that it was not exemplified in the field of international affairs.

Brigadier Connelly would not be drawn out as to a statement of policy of the Canadian Army in regards to the keeping open the year around of the Haines Highway and the permanent improvement of the Canadian section of the Alaska Highway which had been to the fore during the convention sessions.

The convention ended on a high note of international goodwill and reiteration of desire of the two outposts areas to cooperate even more fully on the meetings of common problems.

POLICE CHIEF WARNS OF REDS

REGINA, (CP)—Assistant R.C.M.P. Commissioner E. C. Rivett-Carnac of Regina said in an address here Friday that the public must be as active in support of democracy as are the Communists in undermining it. Speaking to the forty-third annual conference of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada, the R.C.M.P. officer said "it is the responsibility of the leaders of thought... to lend weight and influence on public opinion to shame in the eyes of all agents of foreign faith who seek to wreck us and profit immeasurably at our expense."

GRAIN MOVING TO VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER—From 50 to 60 carloads of wheat are now being loaded daily on the piers for delivery at Vancouver. It is expected the volume of wheat through Vancouver will increase as the late autumn lengthens and winter appears. Wheat board officials are expected from Winnipeg within the next few weeks to discuss the port's grain quotas.

OTTAWA, (CP)—The Department of Mines and Resources started today what may be a boon to civil servants. It has set up a departmental joint council which gives lower-paid civil servants a chance to butt in and have a say on any part of official work which affects their welfare.

NOISY WIND DOES LITTLE DAMAGE

The southeaster that started romping over the city about 9 o'clock last night rattled the rain on windows like showers of birdshot, shrieked past the eaves and in its playful mood it gently swayed some homes. By early morning it seemed thoroughly aroused but apparently it sounded worse than it was for the official average velocity of the wind was 30 m.p.h. according to the Dominion Weather Station on Digby Island.

No report of damage on the waterfront or in the town has been received although some of the residents in the eastern section of town, who depend on electricity for cooking must have gone breakfastless, according to electric clocks the power went off at 5:30 a.m. and didn't come on again until 11:15. With the coming of dawn the southeaster was losing some of its force although at Triple Island it still was racing in from Hecate Straits at a 40 m.p.h. gale when the readings were taken at 7 o'clock this morning.

CHURCH UNION PROSPECTS ARE 'ENCOURAGING'

VANCOUVER, (CP)—The United Church's thirteenth General Council was told Friday night that negotiations for union with the Church of England in Canada are going ahead "encouragingly." Rev. Gordon A. Sisco of Toronto, the Church's general secretary, said a spirit of "mutual respect and understanding" between the two churches has been increasingly cultivated. He said "there is good reason and ground for encouragement."

THE JUNEAU MEETING

MUCH WILL BE GAINED, and it is certain nothing will be lost as a result of the convention that concluded in Juneau last Thursday. It was the second time in the history of the north that delegates representing each side of the border—Central and Northern British Columbia and Alaska—were assembled together, as neighbors and friends—as well as delegates, to examine and study problems dealing with development and expansion in great regions very similar, one to the other.

SATURDAY SERMON

SELF-ASSERTION AND SELF-CRITICISM

(By REV. R. A. WILSON, First United Church)

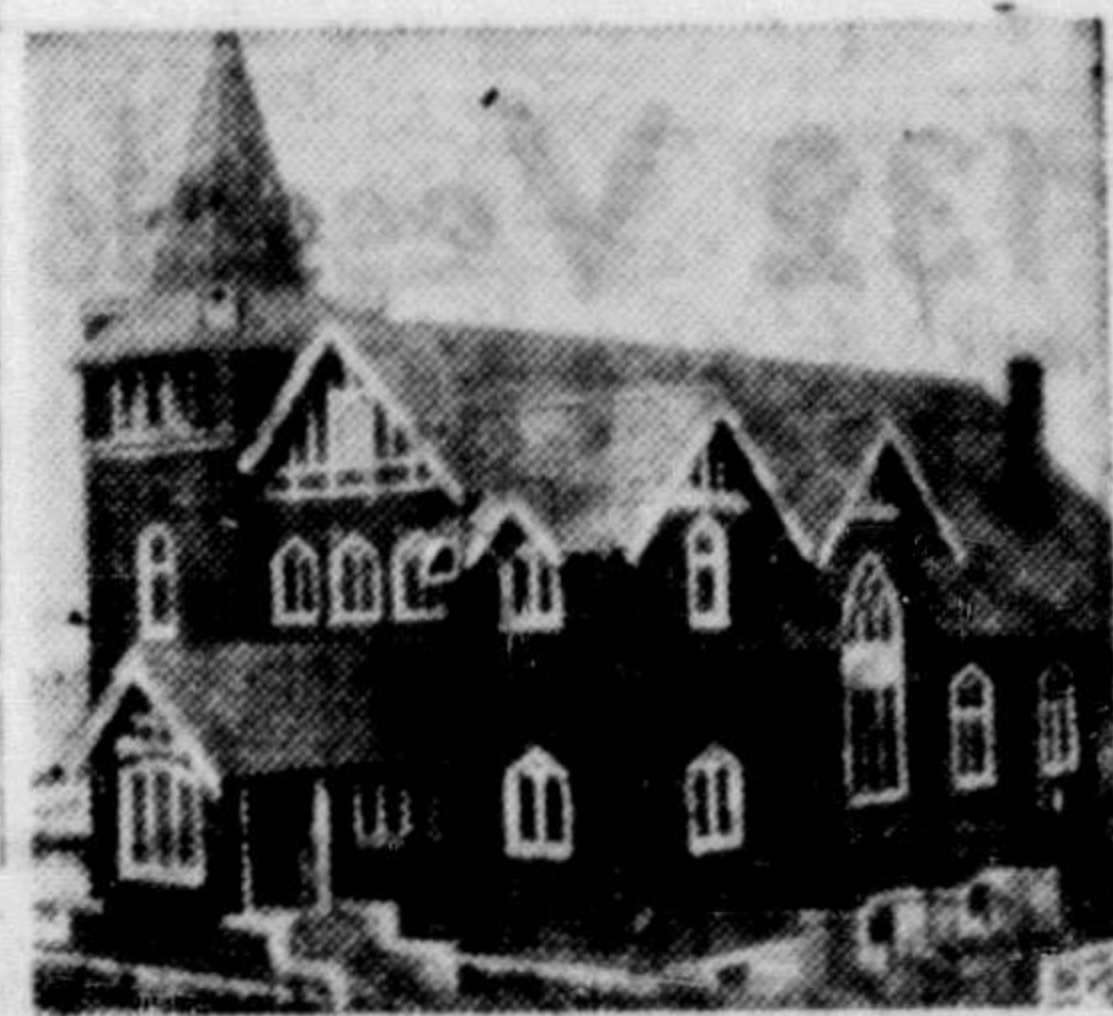

"Every one that exalteth himself shall be abased and he that humbly himself shall be exalted." —Luke 18:14.

Two men went up into the temple to pray, the one a Pharisee and the other a publican. The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself: 'God, I thank thee that I am not as other men are,' and the publican said: 'God, be merciful to me a sinner.'

There are two types of men suggested in our Lord's parable. On the one hand are the self-righteous or self-assertive and on the other are the humble or self-critical. These two types with their corresponding mental attitudes are to be found in every area of life.

It often seems as if the self-assertive man is getting ahead. He seems to get things done and, indeed, he does get things done. But the more he asserts his "self" the more he becomes the victim of his own pride. His world, no matter what power he may have over others, becomes small and smaller. His "self" becomes more and more isolated. In the words of the Bible he is "abased." On the other hand the whole movement of the humble man is expansive. In so far as his humility is genuine, and not merely a disguised self-concern, he is brought into contact with his fellow-men and God in His mercy can raise him up. For example, the student who admits his ignorance can learn, the friendless man who admits his need can find friends, and the morally defeated man who confesses his guilt can find strength for a new beginning.

In the words of the Bible: "He who humbly himself shall be exalted." This principle of Jesus is startling in its scope. A business man who refuses to criticize his business is heading for bankruptcy. A labor union which Does a Mother need insurance?

Unless a husband and father is very well-to-do his wife should have her own insurance policy. If a mother dies when there are no funds available to pay a housekeeper, the home may be broken up and the children put out for adoption or sent to relatives. The answer is, "Yes, a mother needs life insurance." Make an appointment to talk things over with a Mutual Life of Canada representative today.

Civic Centre Notes

This year the Leathercraft Group will work in a new, large, bright room that will be equipped and reserved entirely for hobby work. This room can be used by any member at any time that it is not occupied by a scheduled group.

Next to this room is a pleasant card room where card tables will be left set up for use by any Civic Centre members at any time. It is expected that these two rooms will work well in conjunction with one another.

Last year Tuesday was the regular meeting night of the Leathercraft Group, but due to the concert on October 5, the first meeting will be on Monday October 4, when it will be decided which evening or evenings will be the most suitable to all.

The evening group will be for men and women, the afternoon, Thursday, will be for the women only.

Rowland Miles, recently appointed to the Civic Centre staff, will be the chief instructor, teaching leathercraft, beadwork, feltwork, and weaving. He will be assisted by members of the group who took the University Extension leathercraft course last spring. Mrs. Bob Reade will teach shellcraft.

A large and attractive supply of leather has been purchased for this group with money loaned by the Civic Centre. There is cowhide and morocco for purses, flasks for wallets and key cases, suede and kid for gloves, and shearing for mitts and moccasins.

Mr. Miles, recently from Bedford's leathercraft store in Vancouver, and with a thorough knowledge of leather and all handicraft supplies, will sell this leather to members on a cash basis. No deposit will be needed.

Many new leathercraft tools have been purchased, and three Inkle looms and one box loom are on order, as well as the wool to use on them.

The new hobby room is very suitable for woodworking, and if there should be enough call for it, power tools could be installed.

On alternate Friday nights beginning October 1 the Civic Centre bridge parties will be carried on in the new card room next door and the hobby room will be used for the preparation of their refreshments.

During the regular Leathercraft evening there will be casual bridge in the card room, and if there are enough wishing it, Garnet Hull, who will be there, will give bridge lessons.

On Thursday afternoons, if the ladies wish, they can work in along with their handicraft work, a little bridge, a sun lamp treatment, or an informal game of badminton.

SOCCER BENEFIT — SEASON'S LAST PLANNED SUNDAY

Arrangements for Sunday afternoon's football game have been completed. There have been a couple of changes in the original selected teams but replacements have been made and there will be two battling teams on hand.

This will probably be the last football game of the season and the players are looking forward to having the chance to give the ball a final "boot" and perhaps add a goal to their season's record. But a more important incentive is the determination to pay tribute to a good sportsman and a fine footballer, Doug Christison.

Doug is one of the many lads who began their football in the days of the Junior Football League, a league that functioned steadily for thirteen years and which produced many good players. When playing for his school, Doug gave early promise of developing into a better than average player and this promise he has amply fulfilled. As he grew older his game improved and he was a logical choice in all-star games for the centre-forward position. As did most athletes, he did his full share in the Second World War and when peace came he took up his place in the community as a good citizen. When the Canadian Legion football team was organized this year he was eager to get back into the game and the team manager was equally glad to have him. Spectators have always found his playing a clean, good game and there should be a big turnout at the benefit game on Sunday.

Everything But Guns, Knives Go In Siam Boxing

BANGKOK—Anyone looking for the world's roughest sport should come to Siam, writes Henry McLemore. Siamese boxing is just another name for attempted murder. He saw seven bouts, and in each the loser was carried away on a stretcher.

Under the rules, a fighter is allowed to use fists, feet, elbows, knees and head. When a man goes down, his opponent is free to jump on him and drive an elbow or knee, or both, as far as possible into his body.

Footwork is tougher than the worst that can be done with fists. A boxer, well trained in feet offensive, can leap high into the air and strike staggering blows to the mouth, or chin and back of the neck. Feet and ankles are taped to concrete hardness.

Siamese boxing is accompanied by weird sounding music. About all a referee has to do is see that the boxers carry no knife or pistol.

FOOTBALL STAR DIES SUDDENLY

SOX, YANKS, INDIANS IN TRIPLE TIE

NEW YORK—The Boston Red Sox, Cleveland Indians and the New York Yankees are in a flat-footed tie today for American League leadership, but there will be elbow room by nightfall.

The Yanks and the Detroit Tigers were responsible for this thrilling situation. The Yanks slaughtered the Red Sox 9-6 yesterday and the Tigers upset the Indians 4-3. All teams have just seven games left to play.

The Red Sox and the Yanks meet again today.

REBEL ARMS SOURCE IS MYSTERY

Official Observers Conclude Communist Army is Getting Substantial Aid From Outside

By L. S. CHALKALES
ATHENS. (P)—If you ask whether the guerrilla Vafiades Markos is getting arms and supplies from outside Greece, the Greek general staff will laugh at you.

During the last 18 months the Greek army has captured enough arms and supplies to disarm Markos' present estimated 25,000 guerrillas, but this hasn't diminished the guerrilla firepower.

Where is all this material coming from?

Markos' broadcasts insist that the "democratic (Communist) army" is capturing all its needs from the Greek army.

This the general staff dismisses as fantasy.

Two former United Nations commissions and the present Balkan observers have concluded that substantial help is coming across the borders.

The general staff says there certainly are no arms or munitions plants in so-called "free Greece," and if there were, these plants wouldn't be making German, Italian, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslav and British arms, it adds. Stores of German and Italian weapons were seized by the partisans of Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia immediately after liberation.

Old Balkan Custom
The replacement of old arms with new from "friends" is an old Balkan custom. When Franco was running his revolution both the Loyalists and rebels bought tremendous amounts of Greek army equipment. This was strictly a business deal, approved by dictator Metaxas. A well-known Greek arms merchant sold Greek army weapons to the Spaniards. He replaced them with new weapons purchased legitimately and at lower prices from English French and Czechoslovakia munitions makers. He pocketed the difference.

However there is no indication Markos is paying for his arms with money. Usually reliable sources says Markos signed an agreement with Premier Marshal Tito (before the Cominform blast) to give Yugoslavia part of Macedonia for Tito's physical and moral assistance.

A year ago the general staff complained, before the United States program became effective, that it was not uncommon for the guerrillas to fire three times as many rounds as the national forces in any sort of skirmish. This disparity wasn't caused by the unwillingness of the army to fire its guns. The army just didn't have that much ammunition. Now, with American assistance, it's the other way around.

In 18 months the regular Greek army has captured 21,063 rifles, 1,174 sub-machine guns, 283 heavy machine guns, 222,000 rounds of ammunition, 6,702 mines, 1,614 tons of explosives, 1899 radio transmitters and receivers and six artillery pieces.

LAST TRIP—These three pictures of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King were taken as he prepared to leave for England and France to attend the General Assembly of the United Nations and the conference of the commonwealth prime ministers. They show Mr. King in three poses, left, as he arrived at a press conference; centre, as he was asked a question which he considered startling; right, as he waved goodbye. FORMER LOCAL MAN NOW OWNER OF SOUTH STORE

A former Prince Rupert man has taken over a partnership in one of Penticton's oldest business firms which dates back to 1918. He is T. W. Bryant, son of George Bryant, former city businessman.

Mr. Bryant is now a partner in the men's wear firm of Bryant and Hill, which they took over this month from Arthur Basham and Charles A. Finch, founders. He began his business career in the men's wear line with his father who for 39 years operated a men's store in Prince Rupert.

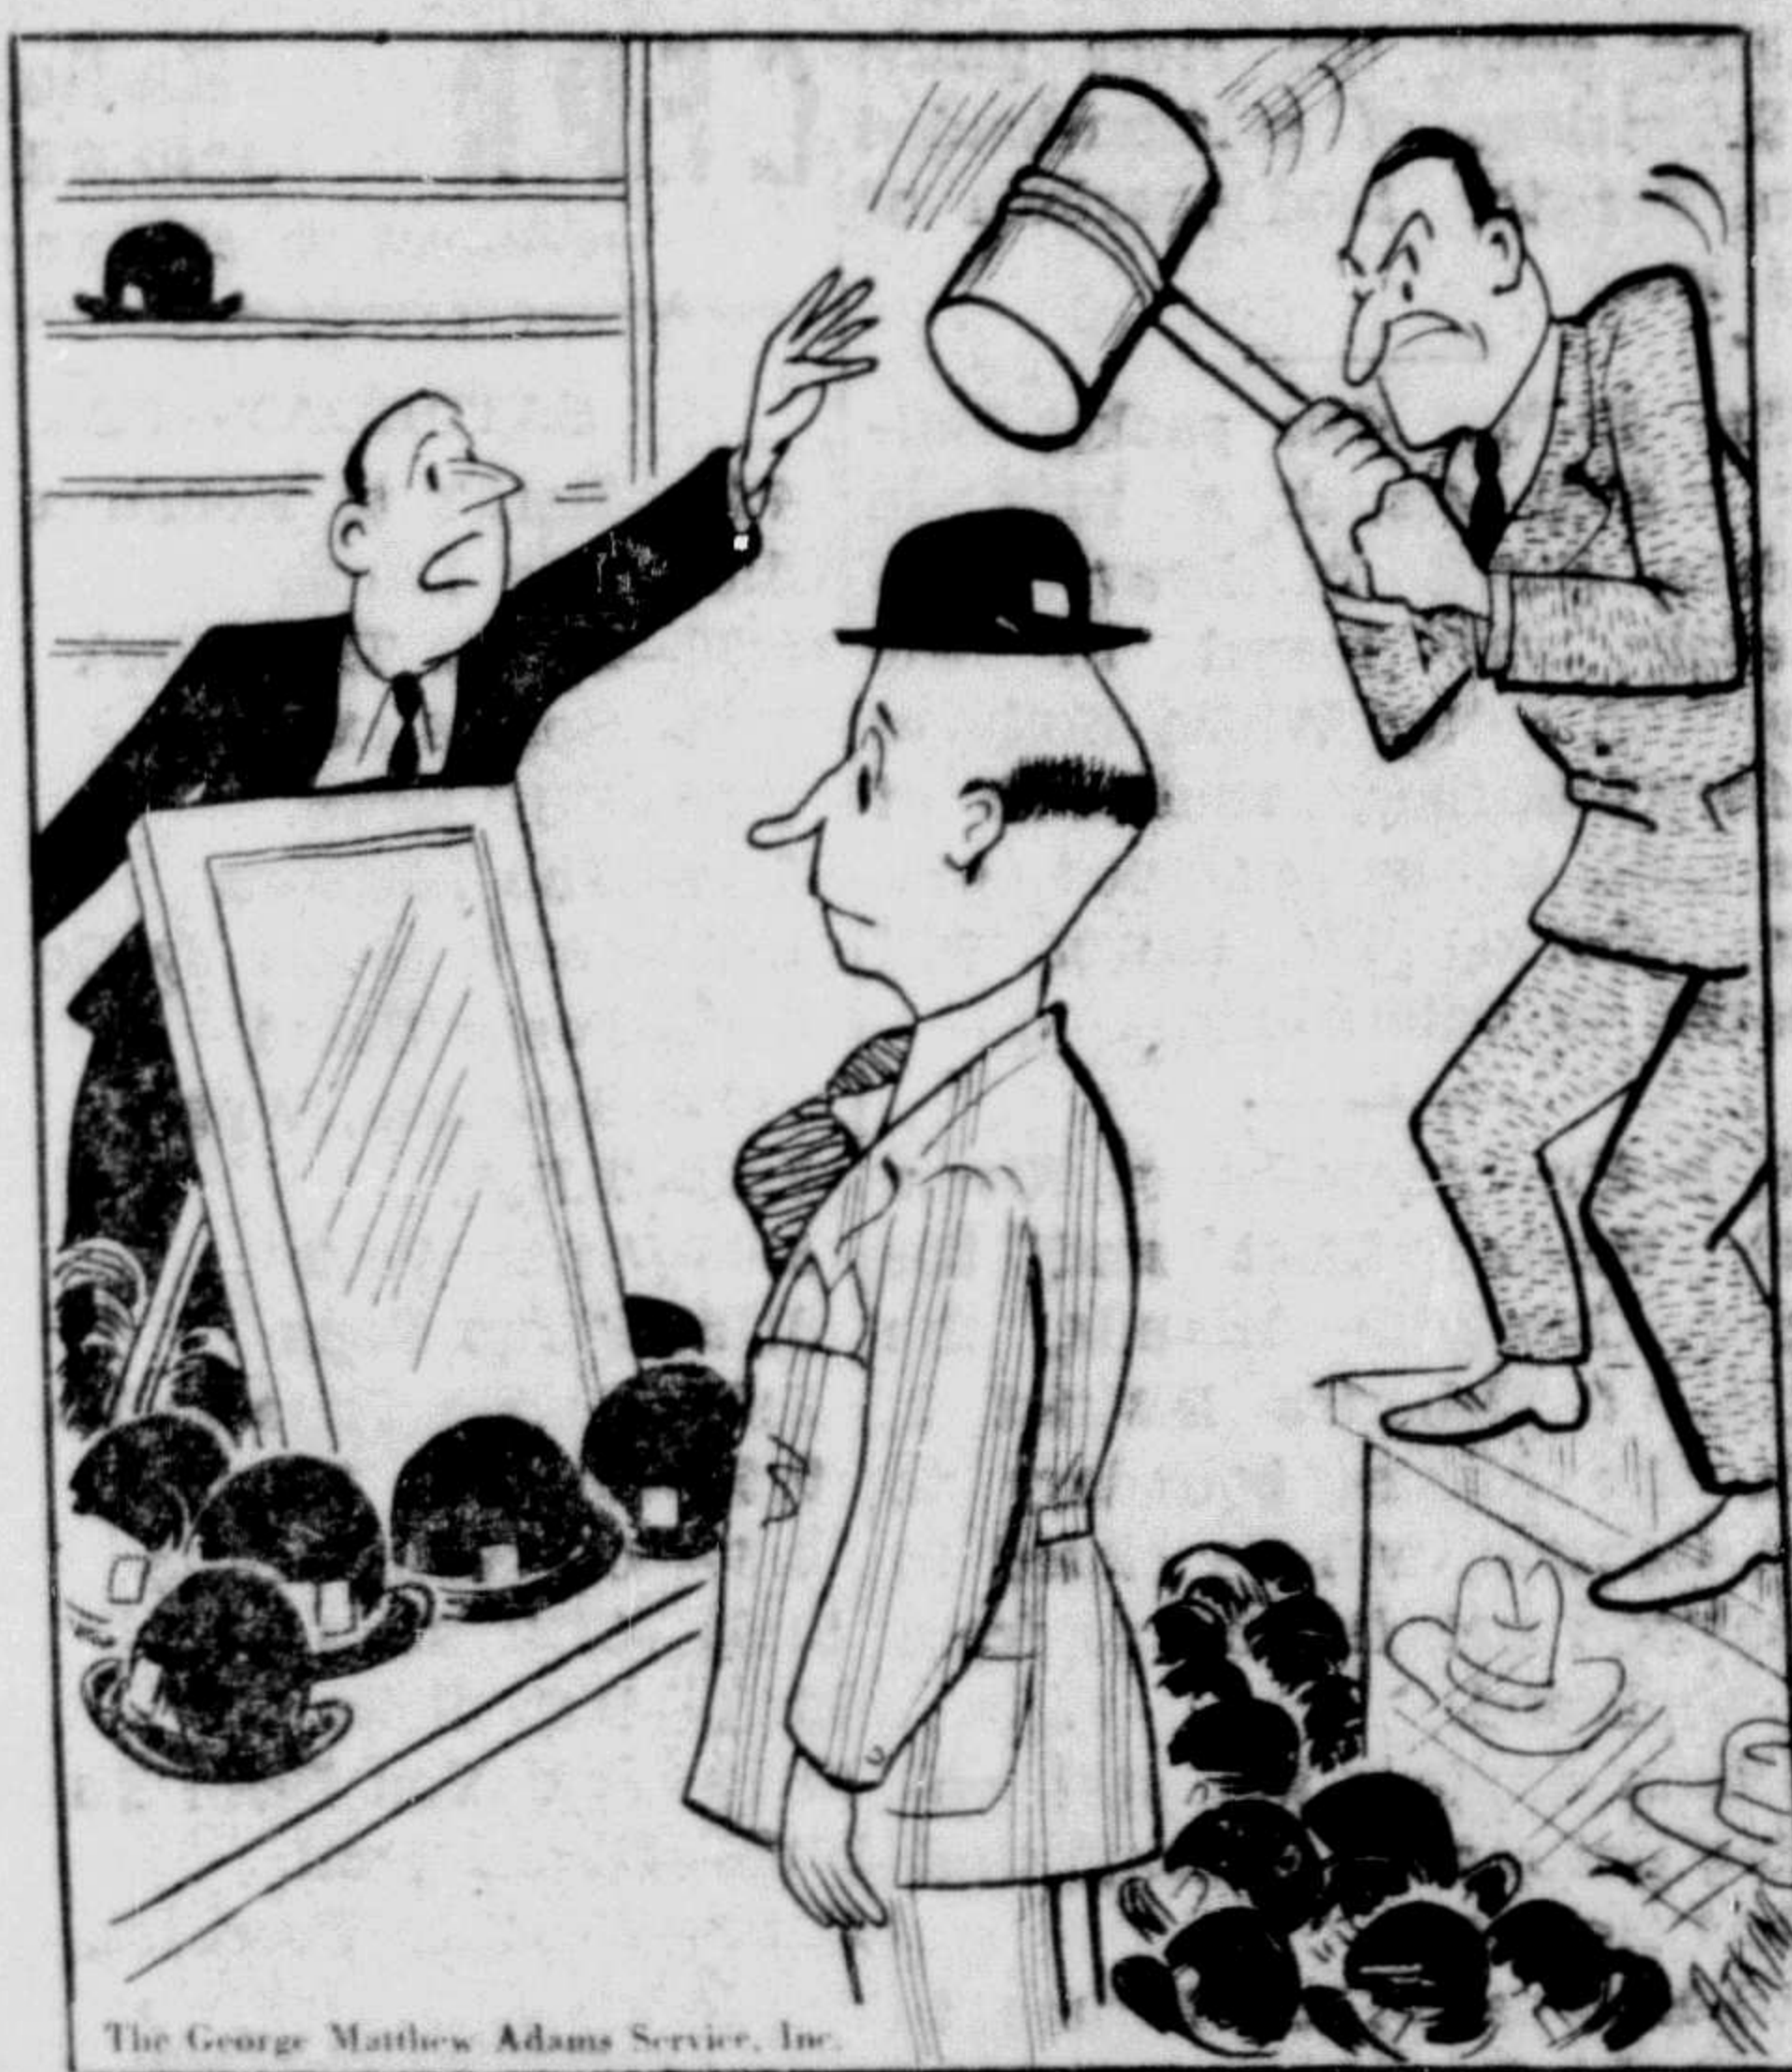

Mr. Bryant was assistant manager of his father's store, when, on August 25, 1939, he went active with the old 102nd Battalion, serving at Fort Barratt and other coast defence stations in this area.

He then took employment with Basham and Finch, the firm of which he is now an owner.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.I.

Fire has wiped out the new $325,000 packing plant of the Kelowna Growers Exchange. And this is the season when the Macintoshes are being harvested. If flames had to come, it was better to destroy an empty building than one full of fruit. Baked apples are fine, but not that many all at once.

And Edward's own description of those stirring times is what the reading public would welcome. No one could tell about it better—unless it's Mrs. Simpson.

It was in February, 1935, that Brigadier General William Mitchell, of the United States Army said: "Alaska is the most central place in the world for aircraft. I believe he who holds Alaska will hold the world." For saying that, he was court-martialed and discredited. Then illness ended him. Every year since then has been showing how correct he was. And never more so than now. Long ago there was a country on the map called Russian America. Since 1867 it's been Alaska. Has this started Moscow thinking?

When white men discovered America, the Indians were running it. There were no taxes. There was no debt. The women did all the work. And white men thought they could improve on a system like that.

Delegates to the Boards of Trade convention in Juneau know what they want. They have not overlooked anything and talked straight turkey. Incidentally, one gathers the notion that everyone looks toward Prince Rupert as the logical deepsea port of the north.

"Is it a modern farm house?"
"No. Five rooms and a path."

A despatch published in The Empire in June, 1923, records a few remarks by Sir Henry Thornton, speaking at Quebec. He says: "Our object is to transform the Canadian National Railway into a source of revenue and pride for the people of Canada. Whatever politicians may attempt to do to prevent it, we will continue undisturbed."

Winston Churchill has asked the Duke of Windsor not to continue writing the story of his life. What he has written so far, does not include his abdication as King Edward, marriage and Britain's greatest sensation.

COLUMBUS' 'LOG' SAID TO BE FAKE

GIBSONS LANDING, (P)—A slim parchment volume of 22 pages, purporting to be Christopher Columbus' personal log of his voyage of discovery of America in 1492, was branded a fake by Willard E. Ireland, provincial librarian and historian. The book, entitled 'My Secret Log Book' was fished from the sea off the Welsh coast 58 years ago and now is in possession of Charles P. Smith of Gibsons.

Mr. Smith found it in the library of a brother in Devonshire, England, where it had lain since washing ashore in its lead-lined cask.

Mr. Ireland said the document is a spurious manuscript published in Dusseldorf, Germany, in 1890, and sold for $5 at an auction in 1944.

Mr. Smith maintains the document was in his brother's library "for many years."

The "log" contains a letter purporting to be from Queen Isabella of Spain to Columbus, dated Granada, April 13, 1492.

Language and history experts at the University of British Columbia notified of the "discovery," either labelled it a hoax or reserved judgment.

"It's a phony, and not a very good one either," said Dr. G. G. Sedgewick of the department of English. To him the language seemed 19th century, rather than medieval.

Although written in English, it was not on this account that its authenticity of the work was questioned. The Encyclopedia testifies that Columbus went to

Canneries and Waterfront Hit Quiet Stage As Gillnet Season Ends—Ocean Dock Busy With Movement of Canned Salmon

Canneries of this area, mothers to the gillnet fleet, will be gathering their brood around them next week, as this week-end brings to an end the salmon netting operations for another season. With Rivers Inlet, Smith's Inlet and the Queen Charlotte Islands the only waters open to netmen in District 2, most of the little boats will be going into winter storage.

It will be many months before river travellers again see the tiny boats with their characteristic reels trailing a string of bobbing corks and a fluttering flag like the tail of a kite or see the winking lights that mark the ends of drifting nets at night.

A few persistent troller men are still at work but as the salmon become scarcer and fall storms whip the coast, more and more are seeking the sanctuary of winter berths. Snug harbors that were fishcamp headquarters during the main part of the season, are all but deserted. No longer are the silent pre-dawn hours stirred by the throb and mutter of motors, prelude to a fishing fleet's departure for the fishing grounds. And by day nature reigns in her ageless fashion in a solitude that even the evidences man left behind, does not disturb.

Along the local fishdock front there is comparative quiet too, and as one worker put it: "The dog days of the fishing industry are with us." He may have been punning for the hardy men who seek the dogfish are still tending their gear when weather permits. A number of cod boats are on the grounds and beam trawlers are still at work. Yesterday the crew of the Hero I was busy overhauling their nets as they prepared for another trip to the banks where the flatfish feed.

But if it was quiet in the Cow Bay area, activity at the Ocean Dock was partially making up for it. In the giant, war-expanded warehouse stacks of canned salmon are everywhere. Part of this huge quantity of tinned seafood is an overflow from one of the Skeena Slough canneries but the bulk of it was packed in Alaska and has come out of the cavernous holds of American vessels.

When one of the larger vessels such as the Chief Washakie the Sword Knot or the Reef Knot which is discharging her cargo of 94,000 cases now, drop their hawsers over the bollards and uncover their hatches, there is work in large portions for the men who handle the cases of salmon from ship to shed. Whirl of electric winches, thud of loaded cargo boards on dollies, rattle of wheels, murmur and jest of men as they stack the laden cartons goes on from early morning until late at night. But all the Alaska salmon is not arriving in the large vessels. Thursday the Tolstoi, an ex-United States Army boat, and the Fairbanks were in port, making their small contribution to the growing piles of canned salmon awaiting transshipment by Canadian National Railways to Eastern United States.

At present sufficient cars are not available to clear the cargos as the ships unload but soon it is hoped, engines will be high-balling along the river grade with strings of salmon-loaded cars for the food markets of the east.

The 90-foot fish packer Salvor which struck a rock in Hecate Strait in heavy seas recently, was towed by the American cutter White Holly to Gedney Harbor, southwest of Wrangell, to be pumped out. From there, the Salvor will proceed to Petersburg.

With the exception of Rivers Inlet, Smith's Inlet and the Queen Charlotte Islands, the whole of Fisheries District 2, from the Alaska boundary to Cape Caution, will be closed to all salmon net fishing as from this week-end.

Salmon trollers are still operating but reports indicate that catches are light. Fisheries patrol boat Kitimaat, Capt. C. W. Earnshaw, left Friday for the west coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands where he plans to investigate a shallow spot in the Pacific, 125 miles southwest of Langara Island. There is a possibility that tuna in large numbers, may be found in the area Capt. Earnshaw intends to scout. The vessel will be out 10 days or longer.

TENDERS

Tenders will be received until 5:00 p.m. Wednesday, September 29, 1948 by the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Credit Union for the Trolling boat "Petrel." Powered with a 16 H.P. Regal. Boat at Cow Bay, can be identified by No. C.A. 2215. The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted. (228)

Vancouver Considers Self Up-And-Coming Cultural Centre

By ROBERT PHILLIPS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER—Vancouver has good reason these days to be proud of itself as an up-and-coming Dominion cultural leader.

It has sponsored a festival of the arts, the first time ever held here, and now hopes the event will bring forth greater cultural activity in the coming months.

The festival was the final week of a summer program sponsored by the Committees of Fine Art of the University of British Columbia, in co-operation with the university's extension department.

Miss Dorothy Somerset, who directed the Festival, said she was convinced the week's activity and the summer school planning and study which led up to it, "might really lead to something."

"The people are hunting for a cultural outlet," she said, "all they want is the right opportunity." She said she thought the university had presented a program second to none this year.

The arts festival was modeled on a similar international venture held last year in Edinburgh. It compared very favorably, she said, to Banff's summer school of fine art.

More than 200 persons were here from early July studying music, creative art and creative writing.

WIDE REPRESENTATION

They came from all parts of Canada, and one or two from the United States. Many were store clerks, housewives, school teachers or salesmen. About one-third were men.

During the six-week study period noted artists were invited to lecture.

Philip Freund of New York University gave a series of lectures on creative writing. Theodore Vrehman of Tulsa, Okla., and Bob Corrigan of San Diego, Calif., aided Miss Somerset in the drama and theatre section and staged Margaret Curtis' "A Highland Fling."

Classes in photography and creative art were conducted by Vancouver's H. E. Bulak and B. C. Binning. The completed work of these artists was hung along with oil and water paintings by the Montreal Federation of Artists.

Festival attendants were entertained with a joint piano and violin recital by Harry Adaskin and Frances Marr, both leaders in the university's musical life.

It was not entirely a university venture and the people who thronged to the campus during the festival were certainly not all students.
