Communists Must Be Driven Back By Force Of
If Prestige And Influence Is Maintained

Prince Rupert Rotary Club yesterday heard a analysis of the new international crisis old friend whom the chairman described as repressive thinker and a fine orator.

The speaker was Harry G. Perry, publisher of Prince Rupert Daily News and former minister of the Interior, who showed that not speaking as fre-
these days as he once
has lost none of his facility.

Perry chose to speak on
"Shock and Dilemma Western World." He took in the course of his

of the current

WASHINGTON — The former deputy chief of United States intelligence says the Russian Politburo has decided to move the United States before 1956. Retired Admiral Ellis as makes the assertion in a book "Behind Closed Doors"
and Thursday.

he writes:

FOOD PRICES MOUNTING
NEW YORK—Cost of living, within the past week, has kept climbing. Foods mentioned include coffee and sugar, lard, pepper. It has been stated that if the range of increasing costs grows wider, it may all result in controls or rationing.

IN "DUCK" TO AZORES
HALIFAX—Ben Carlin and his Boston born wife have put to sea again in their "amphibious duck" it was learned today. They are apparently heading for the Azores. This is the third time that they have tried to cross the ocean.
The first two times ended in failure.

ORDERS FOR CANADA
OTTAWA — President Truman's multi-billion dollar arms program is expected to spill over into Canada and place Canadian industries at work on orders running into many millions of dollars, authoritative sources said today.
It is felt here that Canada's post-war ambition to get the peacetime equivalent of the war-time Hyde Park, arm-integration plan with the U.S.
is nearer fruition today than at any time in recent years.

TOWN DESTROYED
TOKYO — American and British ships have destroyed
the east Korean town of Yongdok by gunfire. Yongdok is the city seized by Korean Communists in a drive on the supply port, Pusan, 95 miles to the south.

SILVERBERG WINS
SASKATOON—Doug Silver-
berg, Red Deer, Alta., Thursday defeated Laurie Roland, Vancouver, in the 18 hole play-off for the Canadian Junior golf championship.
Silverberg fired 75 over the par 70 course against Roland's 81.

BEVIN NOT LEAVING
LONDON — Prime Minister
C. R. Attlee denied today that Ernest Bevin was leaving the post of foreign secretary. The decision was entirely up to Mr.
Bevin, the Prime Minister said,
and he had not stated such an intention. It has been rumored that Sir Hartley Shawcross would succeed Mr. Bevin.

DESTROYERS BLACKED OUT
OTTAWA — There will be no
further news of the movements of three Canadian destroyers dispatched to Korea, unless authorized by General Douglas MacArthur.

Harry Gold Is Convicted

PHILADELPHIA — Harry Gold pleaded guilty Thursday to espionage charges and was committed to prison to await sentence. He could receive the death penalty for turning over United States atomic secrets to Russia.
The research chemist admitted
he acted between, delivering secrets
to Klaus Fuchs, German born British scientist and convicted spy.

Meat Price Rise Soon To Slacken

TORONTO — A steady rise
in meat prices during the last several months is hitting the housewife's budget. However, the rise will end temporarily in the next few weeks with the normal seasonal dip, packers said today. The increase has caused a drop in demand and turned housewives to substitutes. The price boost is attributed to the United States demand.

ASIATIC FOOTHOLD

This map shows the area of hostilities in the Korean theatre of war. American and South Korean ground forces, supported by United Nations naval and air bombardment of enemy communications, fight to maintain on the mainland from which the North Korean invaders can be forced back to Parallel 38. United Nations troops reinforcements crossing the Pacific, with sea and air support, are now unloading at Pusan in South Korea.

U.S. Talks Price, Wage Controls

WASHINGTON — The possibility of price and wage controls in the United States was discussed today by Truman administration officials. Congressmen also demanded action to take profits out of the Korean war. Most demands came in the form of proposals for early enactment of an excess profits tax aimed at profiteering.

King Returns To Throne Tomorrow

BRUSSELS — King Leopold is expected to return to his throne tomorrow and today strong security measures were taken to prevent anti-Leopold demonstrations. Thousands of police and sold-for riot duty. The premier and cabinet left for Geneva to meet the King and accompany him here.

Negro Troops Score First Real Victory For American Force

Important Rail And Highway City Of Yechon
Recaptured—General Still Missing

WITH THE UNITED STATES INFANTRY
TASK FORCES IN SOUTH KOREA (CP)—United States Negro troops today drove North Korean communists out of Yechon and occupied that rail and highway city. It was the first sizeable American ground victory in the Korean war.

The Negro doughboys captured Yechon after a 16-hour battle which began yesterday afternoon and ended shortly after dawn today. Casualties were light.

Extent of enemy losses was unknown.

Yechon is 60 miles northeast of Taejon and 55 miles north of Taegu.

Today at Yechon was a far different story from the past few dark days when gallant but outnumbered 24th Division soldiers battled the surging Reds farther west as United Nations forces traded space for time.

Meanwhile the battered 24th
Division dug into new defence
positions today as North Korea's Red horde, reluctant to move without tanks, failed to follow up its victory at Taejon although it appeared poised for new frontal and flanking
thrusts.

Superior numbers of Communist tanks, infantrymen and guerrillas won control of Tae-jon after two days of fierce and costly attack. But that victory cost them at least twelve tanks
—all knocked out by the new United States 3.5-inch rocket launched—and other damaged.

Late in the day the Communists had failed to launch the expected attack on strong new United States defence positions in the hills four miles southeast of Taejon. Apparently, the Reds are without tanks now and are awaiting new armor.

GENERAL MISSING

Whereabouts of Major General William F. Dean, 50-year-old commander of the 24th infantry division, is still not known at the United States command post. Efforts to locate him have, so far, been unavailing.
Dean was last seen in the thick of battle Thursday night passing ammunition to a barzooka team and personally
leading attacks against Communist tank columns. A relief column is now trying to reach Taejon to rescue the missing general. Late reports were that the column was unable to break through to the city.

United States troops have pulled out of strategic Taejon and taken up the defence in positions four miles to the southeast. Gen. MacArthur's official communique said last night. A Friday communique said the Americans withdrew at midnight.

Fierce street fighting raged
before the 24th Division gave up Taejon, leaving the city ablaze.
The Americans were forced to fall back because of flanking and infiltration attacks, which left their positions untenable in the city of 150,000. Concern is felt in Tokyo that further withdrawals may be necessary.

Western World Aroused

GRIM warnings and calls to action that the national leaders of United States, Great Britain and Canada are issuing these days over the Korean situation need and should not dishearten us. To us they should be realistically accepted as an appreciation of the seriousness of the situation. To the last stronghold of despotism in the world they are a warning. And what is most important they should lift the morale in the sinking hearts of millions who five years ago laid down the sword, only to see the cultivated seeds of decay take root over much of Europe and Asia.

At last the great powers of the western world are showing that they will fight with those who are willing to fight on any front for the right to live lives free of dictatorship and aggression.

Meantime Korea helps us to realize that Bolsheviks are Bolsheviks, no matter what their pretensions may be and cannot be trusted to behave as good world citizens.

It may be better than we think, but it need not be too late to save what's left of the free world for posterity. The first task is to stamp out the fire in Korea. The next one is to prevent other fires from being started anywhere else, and that is the great task that will occupy the west for the next few years.

ALASKA ON ALERT

ALASKA, now on the alert and even appreciating the possibility of a "Pearl Harbor" attack, appears to accept the vulnerability of its position a good deal more seriously than we do here.

Ketchikan, although it could by no stretch of the imagination ever have anything nearly as much in the bag as would Prince Rupert, is calling its young men to enlist in the national guard for local protection. Buildings that may be available are being listed and organized for use in case of disaster. The Coastguard is being reassigned.

And what is going on in Ketchikan is occurring in many other communities of Alaska.

Maybe, and we hope so, there is no cause for alarm here but it is at least something to think about when we see what our neighbors so close are doing in the way of preparation for war which they assume would strike them physically this time.

VANDALISM IN PARK

VANDALISM of a despicable type has spread to McClymont Park where hundreds of children daily enjoy themselves at the swimming and wading pools and on the other recreational facilities.

By night, according to information given to the Daily News, visitors come to the Park and the latest and meanest depredation has been the breaking of beer bottles and the throwing of the glass into the pools.

Of course, McClymont Park was never intended for nocturnal parties and, when practices such are now reported commence, it is time for an effective patrol and strict action in breaking them up and dealing with the offenders.

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT
LION'S FUTURE
NOT LONG AGO I

wrote in this column about the remarkable symbolism used by the ancient prophets whose works are recorded in the Bible.

I specially mentioned Daniel who—thousands of years ago—had a vision of the history of our own times. He used the Lion to represent Britain, the Eagle to represent the United States, and the Bear to represent Russia.

Daniel predicted that the Lion would first grow mighty wings like an Eagle; then he would stand up on his feet and become a man—not be a beast any longer.

I pointed out that if old Daniel was right, it was going to be pretty tough on both the Lion and the Eagle; harder on them than on the Bear. For everybody knows that a Bear will willingly live on berries and or honey. But whoever heard of a vegetarian lion or a berry eating eagle?

I SHOULD HAVE KNOWN better than to quote the Bible. Mr. D. W. MacKenzie of Lloydminster, Saskatchewan, want to know what I think of the prophecies in the Biblical book of Nahum, especially verses 11 and 12 and 13 Chapter 2

Here they are:

Where is the dwelling place of the lions, and the feeding place for his whelps...

Behold I am against thee, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour the young lions; and I will cut her prey off from the earth, and the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

WELL, MR. MacKENZIE, IT looks as if we lion nations are going to have to turn over a new leaf. But I wouldn't think we would need to interpret some obscure old Biblical prophecy to realize that.

Besides I think you can carry this Biblical stuff too far. I once had a fine friend whom we, in the army, called Padre Vipond. He was an Anglican of the very High Church variety who had been stationed in a very Low Church district in Ontario.

One of the good ladies in his congregation demanded scriptural authorization for everything said and done in the church. Why should the parson wear robes, she demanded? Where did the Bible give authority for that?

Padre searched the scripture diligently and found this text which satisfied the lady: "The Lord delighteth not in the legs of a man."

I SPENT MY HAPPIEST summers as a boy in Bronte, Ontario. Even in our time, the place was still full of legends about the famous preacher who had written a book called "The Lost Ten Tribes." This purported to prove that the western democracies were the ten tribes of Israel which had disappeared at the time of the conquest of Palestine by Babylon.

The stories around Bronte were not about the reverend's prophecies, but of his thundering fallings off the water wagon, and how tobacco juice stained his white beard.

NOW THAT SCHOOL OF prophecy has grown into a numerous world cult. They use the Great Pyramid of Egypt as the basis of their prophecies.

But not long ago a prophetic calling himself or herself El Pharaoh wrote me a new interpretation of the Great Pyramid. The interpretations which came to me on Senate note-paper, from Ottawa, proved that Russia, not Britain, etc., was "the chosen people."

Could it be that every nation is chosen if it chooses to do the right thing?

LONDON—Workers trimming trees for London's Remondsey Council get a raise in pay the higher they go. They receive a penny extra an hour for working from 15 to 30 feet up; two-pence at 30 to 45 feet; and three-pence at 45 to 60 feet.

Despicable Acts McClymont Park

The most despicable depredation yet is reported from McClymont Park—the breaking of beer bottles in the children's wading pool. Steps are being taken to check this practice as well as nocturnal bathing in the swimming pool of which there has been evidence.

While the nocturnal misuse of the park is reported, daily the swimming and wading pools continue to attract hundreds of children and the swimming classes are proving of exceptional popularity.

Health authorities declare the water as safe in both swimming and wading pools. It is being chlorinated regularly. Water in the swimming pool is being changed once a week and the wading pool twice a week.

Temperature in the swimming pool is being maintained at a fairly constant 62.

Crop Prospects Are Improving

WINNIPEG — Western crop prospects continue to improve as a result of the good rains a week ago. In sections of South-western Saskatchewan and Central Alberta, early sown crops which had deteriorated because of early drought are too far advanced to benefit greatly from the precipitation but all later sown crops are definitely improving, according to the weekly crop report of the Department of Agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

Weed growth is fairly heavy in many areas where wet weather interfered with spraying operations but damage from grasshoppers and other pests has been held to a minimum.

In the Okanagan Valley there were light local showers. Cherry

Forest Fires Not Numerous

Except for one outbreak the country tributary to the Canadian National Railways between Prince Rupert and the eastern end of the Bulkley Valley has been practically free of forest fires for weeks, said Superintendent C. A. Berner Thursday. So far, this season, general conditions in this part of the west, have been normal. Mr. Berner returned to the city this week from a trip through the interior which extended from Jasper to Vancouver and the Okanagan.

Shipments are about finished and early apples are moving from Penticton, also apricots and peaches. No damage to fruit crops from hail or other causes occurred. Vegetables are maturing well and moving freely.

Ketchikan Readying

Full and half page advertisements appearing in the Ketchikan newspapers appealing to the young men of the nearby Alaska city to enlist in the Ketchikan company of the Alaska National Guard "in the first line of defence of the home front" indicate the appreciation of that and other communities of the territory of their vulnerability in the event of a spreading of the now incipient Korean conflict further afield.

Meantime, reports brought to the city from Ketchikan are that local civilian defence authorities are listing and organizing premises that might be available in the event of sudden attack or disaster.

The United States Coastguard, removed following the last war, is also being moved back into Ketchikan.

King And Queen Join Margaret

By MURIEL NARROWAY

Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON—The King and Queen are joining Princess Margaret in a round of late nights. For the first time since the King's illness last year, the royal couple is filling a heavy round of social engagements.

One of the most glittering assemblies took place recently at Hertford House, London, when the King, the Queen and Princess Margaret were guests of honor at the 50th anniversary of the opening of the Wallace Collection.

London newspapers generally hailed the event as one of the most brilliant held in London since King Edward VII, as Prince of Wales, opened the collection to the public. The collection of art treasures was described as the most fabulous ever presented to the British public.

At the foot of a grand staircase, under Lawrence's famous portrait of George IV, the Queen made a lovely picture in a lemon crinoline decorated with hundreds of brilliants that sparkled in the lights and vied with the fire reflected from her diamond tiara and necklace.

The King and Queen made a round of the collection and left shortly after midnight. Princess Margaret stayed to finish the evening.

AT COMING-OUT BALL
A day or so later at the coming out ball of 18-year-old Ann Abel Smith, granddaughter of the Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice, the King and Queen led the ball with a fox trot.

The Queen wore a deep pink crinoline gown trimmed with silver and a necklace and tiara of diamonds and rubies. Princess Margaret wore a white tulle gown with crinoline skirt and a three-quarter-length cape of white ermine.

The ball was held in a Knightsbridge hotel (Hyde Park). Dancing continued till 3 a.m. During the evening the King asked the orchestra to play one of his favorite tunes, "True To You In My Fashion."

Princess Margaret stayed after her father and mother left and danced with Lord Plunkett, the Duke of Northumberland and the Marquess of Blandford.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Haywood, after visiting in Vancouver with the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. K. Haywood, have returned to Prince Rupert.

TEACHING TO POLITICS—From school teaching to politics was the step taken by Robert Ross (Roy) Knight, who is C.C.F. member of the House of Commons for Saskatoon. He was born Dec. 12, 1891, at Cookstown, County Tyrone, North Ireland, and came to Canada in 1909. He entered the Commons in the 1945 federal election. (CP Photo)

Mr. and Mrs. G. Ford, Prince George, leave this evening on the Camosun to make the round trip week end tour to Masset. Mr. J. Hamm and Mrs. J. Christianson leave this afternoon on the Camosun for Masset.

Make Fresher-tasting Jam this Easy, Short-boil Way

Saves 3/4 of your Time. Gives 50% More Jam from your fruit. Sure Results

For sparkling jams with the delicious flavor and color of fresh fruit, try this short-boil method with CERTO.

CERTO is fruit pectin—the natural jelling substance in fruit—extracted and concentrated for better, surer jam and jelly making. These 5 points, typical of CERTO recipes, explain why CERTO is such a boon.

Point 1 ONE-MINUTE BOIL
CERTO recipes need only a ONE-MINUTE full rolling boil. Right there you save 3/4 of the time needed for old-fashioned long boiling... saving money, hot, tiring work!

Point 2 2 lbs. FULLY RIPE FRUIT
You use RIPE fruit at the peak of luscious taste and color... NOT the under-ripe fruit called for in long-boil recipes. The boil is so short it does not dull the color or spoil the fresh-fruit taste. They stay right in your jam.

Point 3 3 lbs. OF SUGAR
A pound of jam made with CERTO contains no more sugar than a pound made the old, long-boil way.

Point 4 4 OZS. OF CERTO
Adding a half bottle (4 ozs.) of CERTO ensures the correct ratio of fruit pectin to fruit and sugar for a perfect set. CERTO removes the uncertain element from jam making... helps all fruits to jell perfectly.

Point 5 5 lbs. OF JAM
Yes! An average of 5 lbs. of jam instead of about 3 the long-boil way! In the short CERTO boil practically no juice wastes away in steam as it does in long boiling. You average 50% more jam from the same amount of fruit.

FOLLOW THE RECIPES EXACTLY—
With CERTO you get 78 kitchen-tested recipes because different fruits need different handling. Be sure to follow EXACTLY the simple instructions for the fruit you are using. You get CERTO at your grocer's.

Football

The team to represent the General Motors in their Manson Cup Football series tonight will be chosen from—Boulter, Lien, Wellens, Hornell, Olsen, Currie, Letourneau, J. Wilson, Pat Wilson, Ford, Owens, Price, Magee, White, Large and Lee.

Tomorrow evening's exhibition football game will be between Port Edward and Prince Rupert and a week from tomorrow the game will be between Kincolth and Prince Rupert. These games with the natives have provided large crowds with a good exhibition of football. The Aiyansh team was a well-balanced, fast clever eleven who played the game with a fine sporting spirit. For tomorrow night's game Joe Daniels states that he has a goal-keeper who alone will be worth seeing, and a back, whom he did not name, but who he says is also a stand-out.

LONDON — London's summer sales opened to the worst bout of wet weather this summer.

Shopkeepers blamed the elements for the first day's small sales-crowds, but the crowds, like the weather, showed only slight improvement all through the first week.

Many shoppers looked, but not so many bought. Bargain-hunters had definite ideas—to find something they really needed, at low prices. If they couldn't find what they had in mind, they didn't buy.

"Crazy" bargain-buying was lower than usual, apparently because of slender purses.

Real eye-catching price-cuts in the cheaper ranges were few and far between. Any decently-styled coat, suit, dress or skirt was priced from £ ($3.10) upwards—mostly upwards.

Best buys were found in the higher-price ranges where coats, suits and dresses costing 10 to 20 guineas sold at half-price and under.

One Oxford Street sports outfit cut the price tags on winter coats £1 an hour. By late afternoon £12 coats sold for £8 and there were still plenty on the racks.

For those seeking a winter outfit and willing to pay from £5 upwards, the search was more rewarding.

This writer found that one article missing the bargain rails was pencil-slim skirts—especially black. Good quality pencil skirts, without ornamentation of any kind, sold from £3 upwards, but all-round-pleated skirts ranged from £1 to £2.

Shoes offered some bargains. One Bond Street store had 2,000 pairs which ordinarily sell for about 9½ guineas, going for as low as three guineas. Many other shoe stores had good quality models selling for 20 to 30 shillings.

PROOF OF UNITED NATIONS

GREAT CHANGES

Mr. Perry discussed great changes which had taken place in the Far East during the past century. Relatively speaking, it had enjoyed peace, established and maintained by the supremacy of the British Navy by which same means freedom of world trade had been developed and maintained not for Britain but for such nations as Germany, United States and Japan.

Since World War II there had been a great change arising out of the development of the system of self-government by the nations of the British Commonwealth. The "retreat" of the Empire, perhaps prematurely before the nations had been able to order themselves, had created great problems.

The United States, the speaker suggested, had failed to realize that the great power which it had attained since World War II had carried with it great responsibilities that they were totally unprepared to assume.

Today it was recognized that such British Commonwealth possessions of Hong Kong, Suez, Canada and Gibraltar were as essential to United States security as they were to the British Commonwealth. On the other hand, Pearl Harbor, Panama, Wake Island, Alaska were as essential to the security of the British Commonwealth as they were to the United States.

Japan, before World War II, was nurturing a spirit of nationalism in the Far East but owing to its defeat, had derived no benefit therefrom. Nevertheless, that spirit of nationalism and racial pride had been developed in those countries and with it political consciousness, a feeling of strength and hope for a better life. Now Russia had replaced defeated Japan as the stimulator of national spirit, although masquerading under the name of Communism and with the appeal of brotherhood of man and common rights, was the desire for Imperial power.

Two great dangers faced the newly-arrived nations of the Far East: (1) hunger, (2) their being used as pawns for some other great power.

Hundreds of millions of hungry people were not thrilled at all with the words democracy, freedom and liberty but would follow the promise of food and a better life. As Confucius had said: "Without a full stomach one cannot speak of principles." The promise of a full stomach had caused the people of China to follow communism. Only two nations were capable of satisfying the hunger and the need of economic aid on a tremendous scale—Russia, on the one hand, United States on the other.

As for the danger of being used as pawns, certainly neither the United States or the United Nations could be so accused. When the Americans had got out of China, the Russians had backed the Chinese Communists to take control and drive the Nationalists to Formosa. The Chinese Communists had been used as pawns. Now the same thing had been repeated in Korea.

"If Russia should succeed in this war," declared the speaker, "and the North Koreans become the government of South Korea, it will mean that Russia has taken another stronghold, feigning with all its might and power the Islands of Japan which are an outpost to the Philippines."

So had come to the world the shock of the sudden attack on South Korea with its tremendous force, drive and victory to date at least. Then there had been the shock of the poor United States intelligence service which had not reported the existence of such a force in North Korea, a force that attacked even as the United Nations commission on Korea was in the country.

A more pleasant shock had been the quick assumption by the United Nations of responsibility for the combatting of aggression with the United States promptly moving in, supported by the British Navy and the air fleet of Australia. The greatest impact of all, of course, was the first war of the United Nations.

There was a simple answer to any Russian claim of aggression on the part of South Korea, and the United States and that was the unanimous decision of the Security Council that the North Koreans were the aggressors. Absenteeism of Russia from its seat on the Security Council could not be construed as a veto. That was something that had been decided upon as far back as 1946. Who was the aggressor was a question that was too silly to even argue about. But it was part of the Goebbels type of propaganda which had been taken up by Russia.

Today, since this war had started, it was to be observed that air and naval power were not supreme. The effect of a retreat in Korea on the morale of anti-communist nations was something to be reckoned with. Such a retreat would bring the fear that the Western World was not capable of stopping the march of Communist Russia; that world war was inevitable and that the atom and the hydrogen bomb would bring the end of one of the antagonists—Russia or ourselves—and possibly the end of civilization on earth.

THE DILEMMA

Since the United Nations Organization had been formed at San Francisco in 1945 there had been the continuing dilemma through the Russian exercise of the veto. Persuasion and discussion had proven useless. It was impossible to reach an understanding with Russia on anything.

Now what was to be done with Russia? The answer had been done in Czechoslovakia: (1) contain by display of force as had been done in Greece and Italy or by patience, restraint and the air lift as had been done in Western Germany or (3) conquer as was being attempted today in South Korea following the failure to contain in China.

The speaker, in passing, reminded his listeners that a similar battle to that in Korea was going on in Malaya, where the United Nations was not assisting Britain, and Indo-China, where France was fighting alone against the Communists.

Since the war the Russians had taken the initiative and the United Nations had only essayed counter-measures. The present situation might be one of deadlock but there must be ultimate victory by the United Nations. If it failed it would be discredited in Asia and Europe and further advances by the Communists could be expected with explosive areas everywhere such as Germany, Italy, France and Yugoslavia in Europe and Formosa, Indo-China, Malaya, Iran, Burma and India in Asia.

The speaker considered it unlikely that Russia would be the first to declare war or that Russia or Communist China would actually engage troops of officially in the Battle of Korea.

The great danger as Mr. Perry saw it was that Russia had more to gain by bargaining for peace than by declaring war at this time. If North Korean troops were withdrawn by negotiation, Russia would brag that she had brought this about in the interests of world peace. She would gain prestige while the United Nations lost it. Therefore, it became necessary that the North Koreans should be forced back to the thirty-eighth parallel, thus demonstrating that the United Nations had the will and the ability to win against aggression.

So still the dilemma existed—and what had brought about the present position but the Russian aim for expansion which was as great today under Communism as it was in the days of the Czars. Russia had counted upon an economic depression in the United States and the capitalistic world and a domestic upheaval in the United States with withdrawal to isolation so she could take what she wanted. Meantime she had turned to Asia to back the Communists in China and Korea. Now that appeasement had failed it became necessary to contain or to conquer communism in North Korea. Otherwise a Russia, able to organize manpower and resources of the Far East, would be able to move on through Asia and Eastern Europe until West Germany became merely an outpost against the vast mass area of Russian influence.

It became increasingly evident that the freedom of mankind must be established and maintained by power. For, after all, had not all democracies been born out of war with liberty and standards of living expanding in spite of war?

The United Nations still remained the most promising organization for co-operation of the nations in which lay the only hope for ultimate and lasting understanding and agreement.

From the thesis of practicalism is mand the antithesis of communism might come the synthesis of peace and understanding but, as the poet had said: "Does the road wind all the way? Yes, to the very end. Will the day's journey take the whole long day? Yes from morn to night, my friend."

APPRECIATION

Appreciation to Mr. Perry for his address was suitably voiced by President A. Bruce Brown who announced that the regular Rotary meeting next week would be on Saturday night when there would be an official visit from the district governor, James Woodford of Seattle.

John Bulger was congratulated on the occasion of his birthday. Luncheon guests were Keith Douglas and Jack McKay of Vancouver Rod McLeod of Langley; R. Richards of Montreal; W. G. Eyford of Edmonton and J. T. Harvey and G. A. Hunter of Prince Rupert.

Cool Summer Salads

Like a crisp cotton dress, like a tall frosted drink, a chilled salad is one of the world's blessings on a summer day.

When appetites are faint, the sight of a plate of fresh, crisp greens with a well-blended dressing stimulates the food est of the whole family.

Fruits take to tart or sweet garnishes: a light sprinkle shredded coconut, a cluster of ripe olives, a mound of cheese, cream cheese balls rolled in crushed nuts, pitted raisins, whole or shredded mint leaves.

Dressings point up the flavor of fresh fruits, add a tang natural sweetness. A tart French dressing is a happy companion with oranges, grapefruit, pears, grapes, pineapple, or berries.

Ketchup French Dressing
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 cup malted vinegar
1/2 cup salad oil
1/4 cup tomato ketchup
Combine all ingredients in French dressing flask or tightly covered jar. Shake vigorously.

Salads are best when assembled right before serving, but the fruits can be partially prepared in advance and chilled in the refrigerator. Greens can be washed, dried and stored in a damp towel on the lower shelf. Pineapples, grapefruit, oranges, can be peeled and segmented and kept chilled in their natural juices.

Many families prefer a creamy, uncooked mayonnaise dressing for their favorite salads. Here's one that takes to interesting variations:

Foundation Mayonnaise
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon sugar
1 egg
2 cups salad oil
3 tablespoons cider vinegar
Mix thoroughly mustard, salt, pepper and paprika, egg, and beat well with egg-beater. Beating continuously, add oil gradually in cup is used. Then add additions of vinegar as beating well. Mayonnaise be stiff enough to hold its cream.

Pineapple Dressing
Whip 1/2 cup whipping cream until stiff. Fold in 1/2 cup drained mayonnaise and 1 drained canned crushed apple.

A powerful United States naval squadron exchanged salutes at Quebec this week. Not so many American vessels have been seen there since the summer of 1939. That autumn, the second Great War broke out. A dictator had become ruthless, as well as restless. Another autocrat, by this time, has also succeeded in starting something, yet perhaps this time with a quicker finish than the coincidence might suggest.

Sometimes, one hears it said, in tones of weary resignation: "Oh, there couldn't be more of a housing shortage than this."

Hold on there, sister! Think again. A few bombers might come our way.

While President Truman's broadcast Wednesday evening concerning Korea could not exactly be called a "fireside chat," it was nevertheless clear and distinct and put in such a way that implications of national affairs were simplified. To some extent, the same was true of Franklin Roosevelt. But his voice had warmth and sociability, so suitable to the expression "fireside chat." Truman suggested the formality of a public meeting which it surely

SPORTS

Sport Shots

A man who is 81 years old today and knows baseball league inside out thinks the game is getting tougher on the front offices. "The pressure there can be terrific," said John A. Heyd-ler, former president of the National league. He believes something should be done about it and, as a start, he proposed a special committee to handle the business of the annual world's series.

Heydler was actively associated with professional baseball for 50 years and was president of the National league from 1918 until 1934 when he retired to preserve his health. "Yes, it's a tough business," he said, "and getting tougher—but it's a good business." He recalled with pride that he had never known of any dishonesty by a front office employee. He noted the furious pennant races, right down to the last game in some instances, and said this created an almost impossible world-series management problem.

Front offices of clubs in the race, Heydler observed, have to go ahead with seating, ticket and other series details without even knowing they will be there at the end. "They shouldn't have to take that burden," he said.
He declared the two major leagues should appoint a special committee and staff to handle
the world series.

Heydler, who figured in installing Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis as baseball's first commissioner after the 1919
"Black Sox" scandal, said he believed A. B. Chandler, the present commissioner, was proving a worthy successor. "He had to learn," said Heydler, "that it was no hand-shaking political job. It's a tough business and you have to be tough. I think he has learned that. They'd have a hard time replacing him with as good a man."

Commercial In Easy Win

Commercial 17, Watson Is. 2

In last night's senior baseball game, the Commercial Hotel boys took the Triple "C" from Watson Island into camp to the lopsided
score of 17 to 2.
Triple "C" started off with Carolei pitching but he was replaced in the first inning by Robinson
after two runs had scored. Robinson retired the side and but in the second inning the Commercials got two runs on one hit and an error. In the third inning Watson Island team came to life and scored one run on successive hits by Teichman and Barr followed by a walk to Levigne. Then in the fourth inning Commercial were able to score four runs with Rosedale starting it off with a hit followed by Shires hot hit ball past the pitcher. Marshall followed with another hit to score Rosedale.
Sinclair then hit a long one out to the fence in left field which was good for three bases to score Shires and Marshall. Sinclair himself came home on the overthrow, to end the scoring for the inning and put the Commercial ahead 8-0. Commercial scored five more in the fifth inning or two hits and three errors.
In the sixth inning the Triple
"C" again came to life to score
one run on a nice triple by Ber-quist who scored when Robinson was safe at first on an error.
But the Commercial came back in their half of the sixth to score four more runs. One of these was a long triple by Shires.
In the top half of the seventh,
Watson Island went down one,
two three to end the game
which was called on account of darkness.

The next game will be Sunday
afternoon.

Terrace Girl Is Bride Here

Roberta Eugenie, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Laird of Terrace and formerly of Prince Rupert, became the bride of Richard Charles, youngest son of Mrs. F. Schaeffer of Prince Rupert, at a quiet morning ceremony on Saturday in the Church of the Annunciation in Prince Rupert with Rev. Father F. Raynor, O.M.I., officiating.

Beautiful flowers, placed by the Sisters of the convent, decorated the church and made a fitting setting for the bride, who was lovely in white. Her bridal gown of ballet length featured a white lace fitted bodice and full net skirt. She wore a large white embroidered picture hat and long lace mittens and carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and white sweet peas. A three-strand silver and rhinestone necklace, bracelet and earrings, the gift of the groom, completed her costume.

Attending as bridesmaid was the bride's sister, Peggy, who was charming in pale blue brocaded taffeta, long mittens, and blue fillet net headress with small coronet of fresh pink carnations. Her colonial bouquet was of pink carnations and white sweet peas. Attending the groom was his brother, Fred Schaeffer.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served for the relatives and close friends in the ladies' lounge of the Civic Centre, where the bride's mother received the guests assisted by the mother of the groom.

For her gown, Mrs. Laird chose navy sheer with grey accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Schaeffer wore white figured jersey with beige accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Four arrangements of bouquets of flowers and white tapers decorated the luncheon table which was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake made by the bride's mother.

The toast to the bride was proposed by J. Burns of Prince Rupert, a life-long friend of the bride's parents.

The happy couple left immediately after for a leisurely motor trip to the interior and as far south as Seattle, returning to Vancouver where they will make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Laird, Peggy and Jimmy drove from Terrace to Prince Rupert on Friday for the wedding, returning late on Saturday evening. Accompanying them was Mr. Laird's mother, Mrs. O. Laird, who had travelled from Saskatoon to be present at the ceremony and who left for the east on Tuesday morning's train.

FOR HEALTH

DIABETES

For years, Diabetes Mellitus has been considered incurable, and the use of insulin has been relied upon in order to save the life of the diabetic. Before the discovery of insulin, the mortality rate among these patients was very high.

Today, as a result of scientific advances in the application of Chiropractic, many diabetics are being restored to normal health, are able to discontinue the use of insulin and are, in time, able to resume a normal diet.

The Lofler Chiropractic Clinic of Miami, Florida, has made a specialty of the care of diabetics. For the past five years, this clinic has been reserved exclusively for these patients; and Dr. Lofler, in summarizing the first three years, reports that, in fully fifty percent of the cases, patients recovered completely, and in every case some reduction was made in the daily insulin requirements.

All Chiropractors have experienced similar results with diabetics, especially if the condition has been of less than ten years' duration. Diabetes is caused by the inability of the pancreas to supply the necessary quantity of insulin to meet daily requirements. Since the function of this gland is dependent on the function of the nerves controlling it, it is easy to see how, by freeing these nerves of pressure caused by vertebral misalignment, the disease may be corrected.

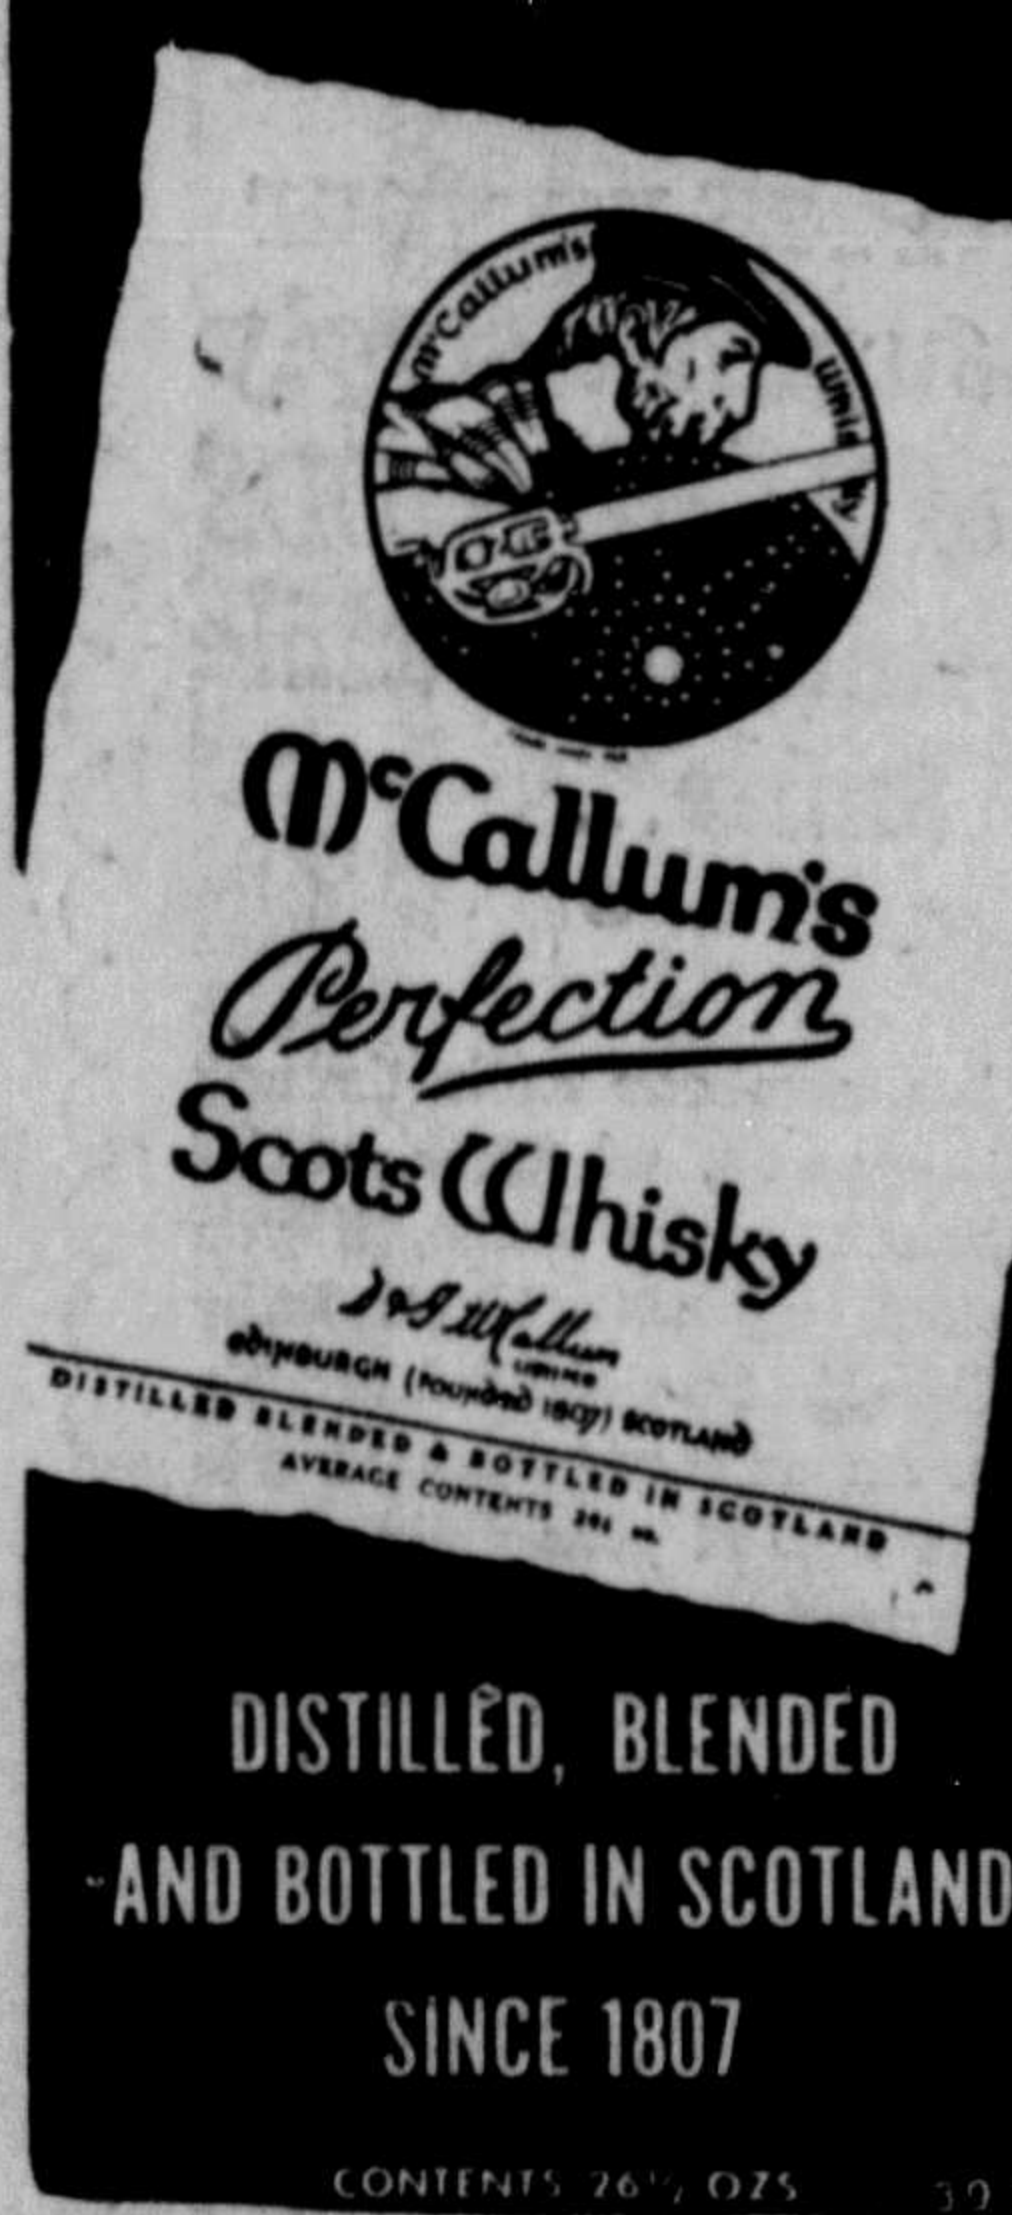

On the basis of results achieved over the years, there seems to be little doubt that scientific Chiropractic offers diabetics a great hope of restoration to normal health.
