Load Line Clarified

Action May be Obtained Following Visit of Official Concerned
Clarification of the situation as regards Prince Rupert's long fight to have discrimination against the port under the international load line regulations came this week with the visit of F. A. Willsher, chairman of the board of steamship inspection, Department of Transport, Ottawa. The international load line, it appears, is Mr. Willsher's own pigeon and he is the man with whom the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, always active in connection with the loadline relief agitation, should have been dealing.

During his stay here between arrival by train Tuesday night from the East and departure last night on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver, Mr. Willsher met with President G. R. S. Blackaby and others of the Chamber of Commerce who heard from him that modification of the load line regulation could be obtained by administrative action of a controlling body without waiting for an international convention as had always been understood to be necessary. Indeed, the amendment to the international load line which would remove the discrimination against Prince Rupert as compared with Vancouver has already been approved by reference to most of the nations included in the convention. Mr. Willsher assured the local Chamber of his co-operation in seeing that the matter was further pursued.

In the Campaign—Would Be Righteous

Social Credit on Tax System—St. Laurent for Gold Relief
OTTAWA (C)—A general election program that would "strengthen the forces of righteousness" by a revision of the tax system and the adoption of Social Credit monetary theories was announced in a radio broadcast last night by Solon Low, leader of the Social Credit party.
Elsewhere in the campaign Prime Minister L. S. S. Laurent told an Ontario audience that the government planned to provide further assistance for high cost marginal gold mines. Mr. St. Laurent was speaking in the gold mining area of northern Ontario.
M. F. Coldwell, CCF leader, concentrated his fire on the Liberals and the Progressive Conservatives at Windsor, Ontario, charging that they had sought to serve "big business" by dropping controls and subsidies.
George Drew, Progressive-Conservative leader, told an Edmonton audience that the free countries of the world should not be forced to endanger their freedom by trading with Iron Curtain countries. His party believed that action should be taken to solve exchange difficulties by making pounds and dollars convertible.

PRINCE RUPERT ELECTION RESULT MAY BE IN DOUBT FOR 21 DAYS

Should the outcome be close, it may be at least twenty-one days after the polling on June 15 before the result of the provincial election riding becomes known. This is suggested by Returning Officer A. Bruce Brown who points to a very heavy absentee vote which is expected, possibly as many as 1500 ballots which will not be counted on the night after the polls close but will remain sealed until the official count which takes place in the returning officer's headquarters at not less than twenty-one days after the election.

Due to the migrations of many Prince Rupert voters, particularly during the fishing season, Mr. Brown estimates that there will be at least 1500 absentee ballots. Many of these will be natives who will be voting in divisions other than those in which they are registered in which case they will cast their ballots as absentees. At Sunnyside alone it is expected there will be some 400 absentee voters—the majority Indians.

In addition to those voting as absentees away from their home divisions within the riding, election day is expected to find a considerable number of electors from Atlin and Skeena ridings voting in Prince Rupert. Coastal steamer crews will also be here and the most of these will be from Vancouver divisions.

The voters' list for Prince Rupert riding, just out of the hands of the printers, contains 7077 names, a new record, including 4931 in Prince Rupert city.

There will be twenty-seven polling divisions and six special polling places in Prince Rupert ridings. The polling divisions are established by order-in-council while the polling places are set up by action of the returning officer for the short notice convenience of people. The six special polling places, where all ballots will be classed as absentee, are largely for fishing people.

Prince Rupert polling division will have nineteen polling booths and two or three booths for absentees. The polling here will be at the Civic Centre.

APPEAL LIKELY IN LIQUOR TAXI PROSECUTION

An appeal appears likely to result from the conviction in city police court Wednesday of Russell H. Morgan, city taxi driver, who was found guilty by Magistrate W. D. Vance on a charge of keeping liquor for sale on April 23.

Magistrate Vance denied a request for suspended sentence and imposed a $300 fine, the minimum under the Liquor Act and ordered confiscation of Morgan's automobile.

Morgan's counsel, Angelo Branca, of Vancouver, told the court that he did not propose to enter a defence at the police court hearing. Previously, he said that objections as entered in three liquor cases against other individuals six weeks ago would hold in the Morgan case.

In finding Morgan guilty, Magistrate Vance commented that "I think this case is parallel to the other cases." He withheld sentence until Thursday morning.

The cases referred to by Mr. Branca and Magistrate Vance were those of Sam Julian, Pat Mazza and Dominic Montesano, whose appeals, conducted by Mr. Branca, are scheduled to come up in County Court during his current visit. They were convicted after Magistrate Vance ruled at that time that telephone calls made by police constables for the purpose of obtaining liquor at night were admissible as evidence.

Constable George Redhead testified Wednesday that he had made such a call from a residence on Frederick Street and, using a simulated Indian accent, had asked for "a couple of crocks" on the night of April 23. About half an hour later, he testified, Morgan had driven up.

Constable F. R. Gibson, who had been with Constable Redhead, told the court that he had found two bottles of rye whiskey on the floor in the front part of the car.

Both Constable Gibson and Constable Redhead said that (Continued on Page 7)

TROOPS UNLOAD SHIP

LONDON—The British government yesterday assigned troops to unload a perishable cargo of bananas from a steamer in the port of Avonmouth where the Canadian Seaman's Union strike precipitated a walk-out of 800 dock workers in support of the seamen. IS UP TO RUSSIA

PARIS (C)—Western powers have drafted a plan to unify east and west Germany, official sources close to the Big Four foreign ministers said today. Sources said that the western blueprint would be placed before the Russians "in a day or two."

1. Not one railroad wheel moved from west Germany toward Berlin and the city's freight yards are a vast grave yard of stalled cars.
 2. Western sectors began to dip into the back log of three weeks' supply of air lift food.
 3. The western allies insist that the bitter stand-off between independent railway workers union and the Soviet-controlled management was a German matter. They refused to do anything that would look like strikebreaking.
- General George P. Hays said there would be no interference with the strike.
The Russians said nothing.

Impressive Ceremony

Among Picturesque Surroundings as Premier Johnson is Hailed at Kitzeukla

KITZEGUKLA—Impressive indeed were the ceremonies last Friday afternoon when the natives of this historic Skeena River village went all out to welcome Premier Byron Johnson as "The Great White Father" and to express their gratification to the head of the government which gave the privilege of the franchise to the Indian people. Visitors from many parts of the Skeena Valley gathered to join in the observance.

As the caravan of some four or five cars drove up to the community hall the natives gathered on either side of the road to greet the party. Earlier in the day the young men and women had contrived a decorated approach in what one might almost consider the middle of the hinterland for there was no other sign of habitation (Continued on Page 4)

Pacific Security

HERE is something ominous about the fall of Shanghai to the Communists. A few months ago such an eventuality would have seemed remote and unlikely. But now it has happened and only four provinces remain in south China before the whole great nation of the Orient comes under the Red domination and virtually falls behind the iron curtain. As the President of China says, the Communist sweep may have been diverted in Europe but now it is overflowing into Asia. Next Hong Kong may be imperilled and possibly then the Malays and westward The pattern, in fact, has some aspects of the Japanese overrunning in World War II.

The European situation, as a result of the Atlantic pact, may now seem more secure. Danger may not yet seem immediate to us even in these parts. However there seems good enough reason, as many observers of the international situation both in Canada and the United States are suggesting, that some more definite attention to Pacific security might be given before the situation in the arena in which we ourselves live becomes too critical.

NATURAL GOOD NEIGHBOR

IT IS INTERESTING to read comment in the Victoria Times about an incident which occurred in Central British Columbia during the recent visit of Premier Byron Johnson. Says the Times:

"The unassuming 'Good Neighbor' personality that his own friends for Premier Byron Johnson throughout the many portions of this province which he has visited represents the sincere feelings of a man whom high office has not made artificial. The airs and affectations that occasionally accompany political leadership, the simulated enthusiasm that masks dislike or boredom, are not his."

"Boss Johnson is a man who likes people, and people like him. On a tour of the Burns Lake area last week, where he stopped to talk with Indians, school children and hundreds of adults who lined roads and filled meeting places to greet him, that basic sincerity was evident. As one report of the tour noted, 'he made so many impromptu calls that he was late arriving at Burns Lake.'"

"There is a sense of security to be derived from this. The man who can be considerate of others, view them as worthy individuals with worthy life objectives, see their need and their right to be accepted on a basis of equality and respect, will in turn be given similar consideration. His public will be his friends, and, knowing this, he will work with a full measure of devotion for their best interests."

SMALL BUSINESS MEN

THE BACKBONE of local Canadian communities is their small town businessmen. Retailers are by far the most numerous and best known of small businessmen.

Not only do small businessmen provide employment and supply a variety of goods and services but they are important citizens of their home communities. They have a personal stake in the welfare of the community and they are the ones upon which its civic undertakings, from good schools to community advertising, depend. In all civic betterment movements or good causes the community merchant or service dealer takes a leading hand.

It is true that large corporations now pay more attention to their public relations and responsibilities in the small communities where they have plants and outlets but still the chief interest must come from those who live in the communities and know their needs.

However large industry may grow, small enterprise grows alongside and in a large measure keeps pace if it does not always lead the way.

The presence of small independent business men is a wholesome influence in our community life. The opportunity to enter or leave a business, to lose or grow by one's efficiency and judgment, is one of the basic freedoms of our way of living.

POLITICAL BROADCASTS

Editor, Daily News:
In the interests of fair play, I would appreciate your publication of this reply, to your editorial of May 25.

The CBC has made available a limited amount of free time to all parties. This time has been apportioned according to the standing of the parties in the House of Commons. On this basis, the Liberal party has a time allotment of five hours, the Progressive Conservatives three hours and forty-five minutes, the CCF three hours and fifteen minutes, and Social Credit one hour. All parties, through mutual agreement, have arrived at the days and times of broadcast. Your local political parties can each furnish you with the information as to the time and dates of these broadcasts, or you could have very easily obtained this from me.

With reference to the two broadcasts mentioned in your editorial, these were not carried on the National or Trans Canada Network, which feeds into CFPR, but on the Dominion Network which, is a supplementary one, serving another audience.

The logs of Station CFPR will bear out that the opening talk, in this free series was made by the Hon. St. Laurent on May 9 at 7:30 p.m. Further, we would direct your attention to the paid political ad for the Liberal Party, on Page 5, of the May 9 edition of the Daily News. Quote: "Rt. Hon. St. Laurent, Prime Minister of Canada, opens the Liberal Campaign tonight, 7:30 to 8:00 CFPR." Unquote. There have been other Liberal broadcasts since then and more are scheduled as the local Liberal Committee can easily assure you.

There is absolutely nothing technical about any explanation, as to these free time political broadcasts, the only requirement being a few moments study of the published schedule, which is readily available to you.

Any interested party can easily obtain facts re these broadcasts, by contacting myself, or any of the political parties concerned. Surely, if they have enough information to insert a paid political ad in your columns, drawing attention to these, they must know the whole picture.

Should it happen, that CFPR does not carry any of the scheduled free time talks, it will be solely due to interruptions of the line service bringing these into Rupert. Over this, CBC, the telegraphs, or no human agency has control.

LETTING KINSMEN DOWN

Editor, Daily News:
Hats off to the Kinsmen but what happened to the rest of Prince Rupert on Victoria Day? I went to see the parade and thought it a very poor show on the part of the businesses, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Senior Chamber of Commerce who are always shouting about being a Prince Rupert booster. I did not see any floats representing their boosting. Maybe it was just a little too much like hard work. I feel it is too bad these various organizations could not support the Kinsmen better in the wonderful work they do—or maybe they don't like children.

Thanking you for your space, Mr. Editor.

PRINCE RUPERT ELECTION

TECHNICALITY

Mr. Branca's second point, and the one on which he asked to submit written argument, was that, since the formal charges against the men did not name the Government Liquor Act or any section of it as the statute alleged to have been broken, there was no basis for a charge.

Under common law, it is no offence to possess liquor or to sell it, therefore any violation was one of statute and the statute involved should have been specifically set out, he contended.

Mr. Brown argued that the wording of the charge "did keep liquor for sale contrary to the statute duly made and provided" was sufficiently specific under a previous judicial ruling. The practice of speculatively citing the sections of the law under which charges have been laid was generally dropped following the ruling he quoted, Mr. Brown said.

In the case of Dominic Montezano, who according to police testimony, had made the remark that he had paid $6 for a bottle after receiving a telephone call for the police, Mr. Branca argued that Montezano was merely acting as a purchasing agent for the police and, therefore, did not keep the liquor for sale.

He contended that since this testimony had been brought out in his cross examination of a police witness at the preliminary hearing, it should be considered defence evidence.

Mr. Branca was granted three weeks by the court to submit his written argument on the wording of the charge, after which Mr. Brown would be allowed 10 days to submit a reply.

for many miles around. A "welcome" steamer had been erected on two poles to straddle the road, and, from the ropes, there fluttered multi-colored paper streamers that rustled in the breeze. A large Canadian flag was draped over the door and, at the entrance to the hall, there stood Chief Peter Cooksen, with an ancient headdress unlike those normally seen among Indians.

It was a very ancient headdress that had been in the tribe for centuries and had been used by succeeding generations only on very important occasions to mark the warmest of friendship and the most cordial greetings the tribe could extend. It had been brought out to symbolize the deep rooted affection the Indians entertained for their "Great Father," an expression made by many of the Chiefs during their many speeches.

To the left of the Community hall entrance there stood a musical band of Indians who, after the Premier and Mrs. Johnson, their son, Byron, and other members of the party had lined up, struck up the strains of "O Canada" the surrounding hills picked up the strain of this grand old tune, and as the Indians and visitors stood bareheaded in the midst of this great valley, unsullied by signboards or other evidences of modern civilization, a great emotional upsurge took hold of the throng. It was an inspiring moment.

At the conclusion, Chief Arthur McDames introduced Chief Cooksen and explained the significance of his headdress, extended a cordial welcome and then invited the party to enter the hall.

ANCIENT BELL AROUND WORLD

CHICAGO—A two hundred year old bell from the mission of San Antonio de Padua, California, has arrived here on what may be a journey around the globe. The bell was located in Sitka, Alaska, and was first hung in the mission by Father Junipero Serra, founder of California missions.

Mrs. A. W. Newman, wife of the general freight agent of Union Steamships and son, David, are round trip passengers on the Coquitlam which arrived here this afternoon enroute to Masset Inlet ports. WHY GAINES WINS HIS HEART
EVERY POUND CONTAINS—
Proteins as in 1 1/2 lbs. beef;
carbohydrates as in 1 1/2 qts. cooked oatmeal; fats as in 1 oz. butter; minerals as in 1 1/4 lbs. cheese; iron as in 3/4 lb. beef liver.
Plus all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need.

"Could be!"
—unless you nourish every inch with GAINES

• Take no chances with your dog — nourish every inch! Feed GAINES — it's kennel-tested — biologically proved to be nutritionally complete — for all breeds!
Cheaper? Oh yes! — costs less to feed than any other type. A 5-lb. bag makes from 10 to 12 lbs. of ready-to-eat food.
So convenient! — just mix with water (soup, milk or gravy). For Variety — try GAINES KRUNCHON, which is GAINES Meal compressed into crunchy bite-size pellets.

Ray Reflects . . . and Reminisces

"I still feel rather new here. I never thought it would be just like this." As summer approaches, one hears more and more casual conversation like that. But, they are getting away from being classed as strangers. All are interested and curious. They want to know.

Almost any day, someone recently arrived will confess he still has a sketchy idea of the lay of the land in Prince Rupert. Now let's look at the wonderful harbor again, for it's just that. At which end did the boat I sailed on, come in? I'm not dead sure yet!

Being here for the first time, pray, we beg of you not to run off with the notion that you are on the mainland, and the shore opposite is Kaien Island and not the Tsimpsan peninsula, which it is. For, at first, one can feel that way.

tery, but you might never know it. Long before Fairview was heard of, there were deaths here on the construction front. There could have been far worse resting places—seclusion, and a setting of calmness, peace and natural beauty.

Highest mountain back of the city is named in honor of Charles M. Hays, whose guiding hand helped found the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. He went down in the Titanic disaster and it was a blue morning in 1912, when that word reached town.

Prince Rupert's drinking water comes from Lake Woodworth and Lake Woodworth is situated back in the woods, just across Shawatlans Passage and Shawatlans Passage is next door to Seal Cove at the eastern end of the townsite. Between the Passage and Lake Woodworth is another lake. It bears the name of Shawatlans. This city's water is good—either for taking straight or mixing.

Looking from the Acropolis on a clear day one can sight roofs a few miles distant on the way to Port Simpson. It must be 75 years now, since Father Duncan, missionary, founded Metlakatla. Duncan had a mind and a will of his own, could not agree with dignitaries of the church and moved to Alaska. The second Metlakatla grew up near Ketchikan and flourished.

To sail around Kaien Island today might not be so pleasant and artless as it was years ago, when Myhill Jones, amiable and well informed skipper of the "Oh Baby," would solicit business for every Sunday afternoon, and get it too. Back in ample time for tea, one would drift off to dreamland a few hours later to revel in it again.

MINISTER TO SPEAK HERE

Hon. Robert Mayhew Coming to Prince Rupert Next Week

Hon. Robert Mayhew, federal minister of fisheries, will be a visitor in Prince Rupert next week. On June 2 he will arrive by train from Prince George and on the night following, Friday, he will address a public meeting in support of E. T. Applewhite, Liberal candidate for Skeena in the federal election. On Saturday, Mr. Mayhew will leave by plane for Vancouver.

Mr. Mayhew is Victoria's Member of Parliament.

BLUE BABY FROM WEST—Blue Baby John Lloyd Anderson, 10 months, rests in the arms of his mother, Mrs. Ernest Anderson of Calgary, Alta., at Malton airport as they arrived in Toronto to obtain treatment which will relieve the baby's heart trouble. His condition was discovered when he was five weeks old but the cost of taking him to Toronto for treatment in Sick Children's Hospital was beyond his family's means. A city-wide drive for funds was launched in Calgary and sufficient money raised to fly the infant and his mother east for an operation if it will help the child. (C. P. Photo)

Changes In Local Wireless Station

Several changes are being made in the staff at Digby Island wireless station. Transferred to Point Grey, Vancouver, Norman S. Hutton will be leaving in a few days for the south. Larry Reid, who was here during the war, will be arriving soon to join the Digby Island staff. Bob Endersby, who has been at Digby Island for some time, has resigned. John Lawrence has resigned as operator on the lighthouse tender Alberni to leave for New Zealand where he is joining the staff of a shipping company. G. Reid, from Bull Harbor, is coming north to relieve Laurence on the Alberni.

Mrs. John Gayman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Morin of this city, has returned to her home in St. Catherine's, Ontario, after a visit here. Mrs. Gayman was accompanied by her little daughter.

ST. JOHN BRIGADE WEEKLY SESSION

The week's lecture for the St. John Ambulance Brigade was on the subject of strains and sprains and was presented by Instructor R. E. Eyclifson. The practical problem was on the transport of spinal injuries and improvising stretchers. At the close of the class, a special meeting was called by Superintendent Thomas Boulter. Meeting night will henceforth be Thursday at brigade headquarters.

ASKS ASSIZE COURT TRIAL

In County Court Thursday afternoon, Paul Postulo appeared before Judge W. O. Fulton for re-election on a charge of assaulting Constable John Robert White of the city police force, electing a jury trial instead of speedy trial as he had previously chosen. He was represented by A. E. Branca, of Vancouver. Crown Counsel T. W. Brown asked that $1,500 bail, set by Judge Fulton at Postulo's first election several days ago, be made in two sureties of $750 each, instead of one surety. Postulo will appear in assize court next September. The offence is said to have occurred on May 5.

How many things made of aluminum can you see on a street corner?

UNLESS you look at the pictures on the right, you'll hardly believe there can be so many.

Yet this is only a few of them. For aluminum has so many advantages that you may see hundreds of other things made of it—on the streets, in store windows, almost anywhere you look.

This is because aluminum is so very light, and strong, does not rust and has lots of other special features.

Today more than 1000 Canadian companies are making aluminum into so many kinds of useful and beautiful articles that no one can keep track of them all.

Why is this so? Because so many people all over the world want things made of aluminum we have been able to make more and more.

Because we have been able to make more, we have been able, over the last ten years, to reduce the price of aluminum ingot by 25%.

ALSO, aluminum traffic lane markers, parking meters, street light brackets, direction signs — and eaves troughs, roofs, window sills, awnings, airplanes — and new things are being made of aluminum every day.

OLD TIMERS GAME SUNDAY

Sunday has been set for the official opening of the Prince Rupert baseball season with the traditional match between the Rookies and Old Timers. Originally set for the evening of May 24, the game was washed out by rain, although an experimental and entirely unofficial five innings played among the rain drops revealed that the youngsters this year have lined up an array of power which may be bad for the old-timers.

"GORGEOUS GEORGE" PAVICH SEES NEED TO SUPPORT HOME TALENT

Gentlemanly Grunt and Groan Artist to Meet Uncouth Invader at Civic Centre Saturday Night
"Gorgeous George" Pavich, who believes that community-minded people should support home town talent, is comforting himself with the assurance that he will be warmly received by the spectators at tomorrow night's wrestling card at the Civic Centre, even though he anticipates a different greeting from Los Angeles' Glenn Stone, his opponent.

Although he admits to being a bit of a cosmopolite in the past, Yugoslav-born George now has taken Prince Rupert to his heart and sees no reason why he should not expect reciprocity. After all, he has been here two months.

Besides, he has been laboring in the general interest for the last few weeks handling halibut on the fish docks and he feels that anyone who has been as closely associated with fish as he has had added a worthwhile thump to the heartbeat of the city.

His labors in the fishing industry have reduced him from a sturdy 245 pounds to a shadowy 238 but he still feels that he can wring both of the required falls out of Stone who weighs 225.

George shudders politely at the uncouth mannerisms of Stone whom he described this morning as being "rough," a characteristic entirely foreign to the Pavich makeup. There was a time when George was a bit "rough" too but he says he has mellowed lately.

"I used to be that way myself but now I have become a gentleman," he said.

But his refinement will not affect the quality of the bout, which is billed for six 10-minute rounds or two-out-of-three falls. The fact that Stone has been cutting a swathe down California way means little to George.

Tomorrow night's bout will actually be the springboard to monumental events in the wrestling industry here. The winner will be billed to meet one Jack Sherry, a 235-pounder who calls himself the heavyweight champion of Europe, on June 18.

These bouts will initiate a summer season which may see such classic grunners as Ali Baba and the great Jim Londos come this way. At least, that is what is planned. Incidentally, London, when at the height of his

This evening will see the official opening of the 1949 football season at Roosevelt Park when the first game of the league for the new North Star Trophy will be played between two old and bitter opponents—Canadian Legion and 120th Battery. Last season the Battery made a clean sweep of all four competitions in which they played but the opposition may prove somewhat stronger this season.

The Legion eleven has been strengthened by the surprise transfer of Stan Cornwell from the Battery and tonight's game will provide quite a battle between the two former club-mates Cornwell and Nick Pavlikis. It remains to be seen whether Nicky can score as many goals with Stan opposing him as he did when he was behind him.

The Battery team has not yet been announced but, with all the old stalwarts on hand, such as Dunbar, Ward, Ferguson, James and Morgan, Captain Gomez will be sure to field a team that will endeavour to be the first to have its name inscribed on the new North Star Trophy. Manager Alex Haig has signed a very strong list of players for this season and, in addition to old timers such as Greer, Eby, Yelland and Armstrong, he has come up with a couple of dark horses in the persons of Paul Prie and Baxter.

It is rumored that Baxter just arrived here about six weeks ago from the land of Bannocks and knows a thing or so about the game. Price learned his football in the south and is a big burly centre and will be very hard to check. But no matter how many players Alex can put on the field, Matt Peterson's boys will be in till the final whistle.

The second game will be played on Monday evening when General Motors will meet the Canadian Legion. This also should provide a thriller as the old High School Club playing under new sponsorship will have all last year's payers on hand with some new faces.

Teams are being reminded that games will start on time and that the home team is responsible for marking the ground. The Legion will wear their blue uniforms and the Battery will be clad in yellow, same as last season.

Used Many Planes On Campaign Tour

W. D. Smith, Coalition candidate in Atlin for re-election in the forthcoming provincial election, has no misgivings about his prospects following a flying trip through the far northern part of the riding. He reports an encouraging reception. He and Mrs. Smith returned to the city on Wednesday evening after a campaign tour in which they used no less than six different aircraft. They visited Atlin and Lower Post in company with Premier Byron Johnson and then headed for Telegraph Creek. Next stop was at Aiyansh on the Naas River in which area they spent three days over the Victoria Day holiday season. From Aiyansh they came on into Prince Rupert with the Skeena Air Transport Seabee.

Ground Floor Bowling Alleys

With seven alleys now in operation in their newly opened premises in the Mackenzie Block, Prince Rupert Bowling Alleys announced today their intention of proceeding almost immediately with the construction of another seven or eight alleys on the street floor of the building. The general plan will be similar to upstairs in design and attractiveness.

The front of the building will also be completely remodelled with a general face lifting.

Work will be carried out by the present contractors—Skeena Construction Co. and the National Manufacturing Co.

The investment so far in this project has been more than $30,000 and the extended plan will involve another similar amount, it is expected.

MAY DAY MINUTES

One little girl in the parade, Gail Bolam, had difficulties with her hooped skirt but she pushed back the tears and went on to win a prize.

Part way through the race program, a diversion was created when Harry Sheardown noticed smoke rising from the Albert and McCaffery truck which had been used as the Queen's float. A short circuit in the P/A wiring system used on the truck during the crowning, caused some of the serviette decorations to smoulder.

Under the direction of R. G. Moore, T. G. Bateman, Steve Cheeseman and Jimmy Mellor, did an efficient job at the race starting line.

There were more than 7,000 serviettes stuffed into the wire netting which formed the framework of the Kinsmen's Queen Float.

Bill Noble, on the P/A system, and Pierre LeRoss did a fine job of keeping the spectators and participants posted as to the prize winners of the races.

Eddie Garner, assisted by his committee and a number of the fair sex, had a busy three hours meeting the demand for hot dogs, soft drinks and ice cream.

Although the First Prince Rupert Cub Patrol, under the leadership of Canon Basil S. Procter, didn't win the cup they had

PREMIER MINE IS REOPENING

With the possibility of the early reopening of this great mine and the Morris Summit Mine there will undoubtedly be a resurgence of activity in the mining industry here.

the proper spirit and their standard bearer kept the color flying on the field until the last hot dog disappeared.

Clowns Benny Windle and Louie Van Pykstra had a heavy afternoon and there were times when they were hard put to keep ahead of the kiddies.

Harry Sheardown and his sports committee had a number of photo-finishes that tested their judging ability but, with the co-operation of the young runners, all situations ended happily.

R. E. Montador and his parade committee were kept on the hop lining things up. There were a few tense moments just before the parade started when the Queen's float arrived without the "Royal" party.

It was a hectic day for R. C. Barbour and his committee who were busy selling tickets, collecting completed books and registering the stubs in preparation for the grand draw.

WHAT ABOUT Self Winding Watches?

Some people are afraid to buy them because they do not know how they work. They have a weight inside the case which swings to a different position every time the wearer's arm is moved and this winds up a small wheel a tooth at a time and keeps the watch always wound.

The watch runs more evenly than one which is wound only once a day. They are satisfactory and convenient.

Two of our staff have been using them for some years.

Prices range from $45 to $95
