Co-operation Shown by Industrial and Domestic Users Since Hydro Crisis Began

Industrial and domestic users in the city today are taking steps to cut down their consumption of electricity during the current hydro crisis.

Mr. Black, Northern B.C. Power Co. manager, said that, despite appeals, consumption of power has increased noticeably, a situation that may presage a further reduction in power.

Chiang May Come Back?

TOO MUCH FOR LOCAL FINANCE

Local financing does not appear to be available for the conversion of the former United States Army administration building on First Avenue.

The special committee, through R. E. Montador, so reported to the Chamber at its regular monthly meeting last night.

There have been estimates varying from $75,000 to $200,000 on the cost of such conversion.

The Chamber, at its January meeting, received a complete structural report from W. H. Shortridge who had been employed for the purpose.

In order to encourage the project, the Canadian National Railways has advised that it would be willing to sell the land on which the building stands at the assessed valuation which is comparatively low.

A threatened housing shortage here in view of new industrial developments has been spurring the local Chamber into seriously studying the situation and acting in connection with the administration building resulted.

Meantime, it has been reported that the Celanese Corporation of America has been in communication with the Central-Mortgage and Housing Administration on the matter of housing here, arousing the hope that the government company might interest itself more actively in new housing here.

DYNAMITE FREES STEWART HARBOR OF ICE MENACE

Dynamite charges were used last week by the provincial public works department at Stewart to clear the wharf area at the head of the Portland Canal to permit the entry of the Union steamer Camosun which made its first mooring to the wharf in three weeks Monday, notwithstanding 14 below temperature there Sunday night.

The dynamite was laid on the ice at the edge of the formation in sufficient charges to break off the outer edges. Then the process was repeated until the ice had been broken back to the wharf. The loose floes then drifted harmlessly before the wind down the canal.

The foot-thick ice formation previously had denied the Camosun entry to the Stewart wharf for three weeks. During that time, cargoes were lightered to the wharf at Hyder, farther down the canal.

Capt. John Bowden, who brought the Camosun to port this morning from Stewart, said that the vessel had taken the role of an ice breaker to clear out the remaining chunks of ice along the channel. The area is cleared right back to the tide flats at the head of the canal and no further trouble in that respect is anticipated.

Temperature at Stewart on Monday was eight degrees below zero, Capt. Bowden said, and a moderate northerly wind was blowing.

Snow level at Stewart is more than 23 feet, believed to be an all-time record and five feet greater than normal.

Weight of snow has broken down the roof of the mine hospital at Premier, despite snow-shovelling efforts of a skeleton crew which remains at the mine.

About $300 worth of dynamite was used to blast the wharf area at Stewart free of ice.

Margarine, Public Works, School Tax Relief, Help To Industries, In Speech

VICTORIA (CP)—The Speech from the Throne, presented by the Lieutenant-Governor as the session of the Legislature opened this afternoon with usual formalities, included the following proposals:

Equalization of borrowing powers for public works and power development.

Relief of school taxes.

Further financial assistance to enable the University of British Columbia to proceed with its program of expansion.

Extenuation Is Found In Case of R.C. Primate

BUDAPEST (CP)—The Hungarian People's Court today convicted Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty of treason and sentenced him to life imprisonment. The 56-year-old Primate of the predominantly Catholic country was also found guilty of trying to overthrow the Communist government and speculating in foreign currency.

The court rejected a prosecution demand for the death sentence but ordered the confiscation of all the Cardinal's possessions and the depriving of civil rights for ten years.

All six of the Cardinal's co-defendants were convicted on treason charges, sentence: ranging from three years to life.

Mindszenty's sentence will be reviewed by the Supreme People's Tribunal following an appeal by the defence.

The court found extenuating circumstances in the Cardinal's case. He had confessed and expressed regret and had lived far from worldly affairs.

The United States, through the minister here, had "made him hope that the United States would start a war and this war would help him attain his aims."

The Cardinal is the first Primate of the Catholic Church to face penal measures of the government while actually a member of the Sacred College of Cardinals.

Local Concern Takes Over Island Resort-- Development Planned

Acquisition of the well known Sangan River pleasure resort seven miles from Massett on the famous North Beach of Graham Island and a five-year improvement and development program thereon is announced by Neil Kingston, president of the Northwest Construction Co. here, who has organized the Lumberlost Lodge company to operate the property.

Ross Kingston is proceeding at once to Massett to open up the resort for operation commencing July 1 this year.

There are at present nine cabins with capacity for forty guests. Within two years the capacity will be increased to 100 guests with 500 the objective for five years.

The Sangan River project marks the first large enterprise for the handling of tourist business on this part of the coast.

Plan is to operate it not only as a summer beach resort but also at other times of the year in connection with the hunting and fishing that abound on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Prince Rupert will be the embarkation point for visitors to the resort which is reached by the Union Steamship Co. service from here.

Mr. Kingston states that negotiations are under way for the steamship company when traffic warrants, to operate a 120-passenger motor vessel from here to Massett.

Massett may also be reached by a shuttle seaplane service connecting with Canadian Pacific Air Lines at Sandspit.

A new construction program will be instituted this year including the building of five or six more cabins and a 100 by 40 foot lodge this fall.

Eventual plans call for separate recreation hall, dining hall and kitchen.

Sangan River is connected with Massett by a plank road. The property composes 123 acres and is being acquired by Mr. Kingston from the estate of the late Dr. J. C. S. Dunn.

Mr. Kingston made his announcement at the monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night and it was greeted with interest and applause.

Stalin's Peace Offensive

Many experienced observers have been predicting a Communist "Peace Offensive" for some time. The shallow offer of Joseph Stalin to meet President Truman is one gesture which may be more impressive to the Russian people and their satellites than it is to us. Then there is the current move for non-aggression pacts with the Scandinavian countries which, having a knowledge of the basic strategy underlying Communist and Fascist endeavour to achieve world domination, will, no doubt, be distrustful.

Those in opposition to Communism as presently practised in those countries embracing that faith, are asking them if Stalin peace overtures could be sincere and hold hope for real and permanent peace.

The lessons of the past should provide a guide for the future. Let us then examine the record written in the history of the totalitarian states through the years, modern excerpts from which are the deliberately broken solemn pledges, the perversion of fact, the subversion of authority by criminal methods and the crude vilification of western statesmen, so characteristic of Communist Russia, Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy, as well as the Kaiser's regime in Germany. All evidence points to the active support of the theories that the end justifies the means, whatever the end, whatever the means.

Twice in the quarter century lying between 1914 and 1939 we were the victims of our own Christian ethics, in that we trusted others to keep agreements and promises as we would have kept them. Twice we suffered the effects of our own weakness, and all humanity suffered with us. Again, the lesson of the past should provide a guide for the future.

Continuous and lasting peace is our most cherished hope and would be humanity's greatest achievement, but in this materialistic world it cannot be attained without payment. What price should we pay? We know that the price can be too high; it will be too high if it mortgages the freedom and well being of future generations. That was the price we paid in 1918. Some observers believe the presently incipient peace overtures are an effort to weaken the determination of the free western powers to remain strong through unity, in order to soften opposition to a forthcoming coup. We believe this to be a valid observation. It is obvious then that our down payment on peace is the cost of remaining strong, strong morally, mentally and in a material sense. The final payment may be war, unless there be a change of heart, and not a change of tune behind the iron curtain. It will take more than even the lifting of the Berlin blockade and the removal of a few minor sources of irritation to convince us that such a change has indeed occurred.

All peoples, all rulers should have learned that the statement that "war is the surgeon's knife which cuts away the gangrene of peace" is fallacious. Some have not assimilated that lesson, and do not believe that the x-rays of human understanding and the therapy of earnest endeavour can diagnose and cure the world's ills. Until they do, we must not relax our vigilance or dissipate our strength. The man, or nation, with the strongest bodyguard is least likely to be held up in a dark street.

Hugh Aird, district pensions advocate from Vancouver, will arrive in the city on the Prince Rupert tomorrow morning from the south. He will discuss pension problems with local veterans while here.

HIS FUNERAL AT KITWANGA

Mourners From Many Villages Gather at Kitwanga for Robert Harris Rites

Native people from many villages in the Skeena River district gathered at Kitwanga recently to pay their final tributes of respect to Robert Harris, who died in Prince Rupert and whose funeral took place in his home village. One of the outstanding native leaders of the interior, Mr. Harris was high in the councils of the Eagle Clan in which he was known as Chief Gilawana.

Two bands — the Kitwanga Totem Pole Band and the Skeena Crossing Brass Band — took part in the funeral processions from the home of deceased to St. Paul's Anglican Church where the funeral service took place. Rev. J. Hayhurst, the resident missionary, officiated, assisted by Deacon Walter Douse of Kitwancool, Alfred McDames, lay reader at Skeena Crossing, and Captain R. Thomson of Cedarvale. St. Mark's Church choir from Kitwancool was present and sang the anthem "Rock of Ages" under the direction of Albert Douse.

Following interment, there was the customary funeral feast sponsored by the eldest brother of deceased, Thomas Harris, assisted by the surviving brothers and sisters, the widow and sons and daughters.

Deceased was born at Kitwanga on Christmas Day 1886. He was employed on river boats in the early days of navigation on the Skeena. For ten years he lived at Skeena Crossing where he took an active part in local organizations and where he met the former Irene McDames who became his wife. At the outbreak of war he came to Prince Rupert and worked at the Dry Dock, having made his home in the city since. He was also through the years well known as a worker at Skeena River canneries, last summer having been at Port Edward with Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd.

Besides the widow, Mr. Harris is survived by three daughters—Miss Hazel Harris, Mrs. Robert (Lily) Jackson and Miss Molly Harris, all of Prince Rupert and two sons, Roy Harris of Kitwanga and Kenneth Harris who is studying for the Roman Catholic priesthood at the Seminary of Christ the King at New Westminster. Brothers are Thomas Harris and Matthew Harris of Kitwanga and Frank Harris of Hazelton and sisters, Mrs. Edward (Florence) Tait of Kitwanga and Mrs. Alex L. Charlie of Fraser Lake.

Mr. Dakin will take command of the Vancouver-Sandspit plane. Mr. McGinnis has been flying out of Vancouver, mostly on the Vancouver-Calgary run.

SOUTHERN ONTARIO BATTERED BY 80 M.P.H. GALE—There was not a single town in southern Ontario that missed the 80-mile per hour gale that swept through the province, causing damage that might never be fully estimated. This sign beside the Humber River in Toronto, Ont., was smashed by the force of the wind. Thousands of people throughout Ontario lay in their beds and heard the gale. One outstanding feature of the storm was the lack of serious injuries to individuals.

Reminiscences By W.I. and Reflections

A magazine specializing in giving the startling news that industrial problems says the housing difficulty will be with us for at least another 50 years. A few, in Rupert are that old already, look about 75 and how they feel is something else again.

Indians are requesting that Japanese fishermen be denied a return to this coast. Well, the natives were here—and catching halibut and salmon—long before Nippon ever heard of B.C.—and the same goes for all other nationals. Suppose natives from Skeena undertook to engage in commercial fishing along the shores of Japan? There would be "honorable protests."

Here's the latest low-down on the fishing industry. It appears that in England fresh cod and haddock, processed into a pulverized white material, become a perfect substitute for cake icing and chocolate filling. There is not the faintest suggestion of fish. We'd never have the heart to vote against a government like that, even if it does lean a bit against the left.

Chinese New Year Day was observed last week but few appeared to know it. Mythology says that on that day it is possible to stand an egg on end at 7:45 a.m. So far as Prince Rupert is concerned, it is doubtful if anyone was found trying to perform that feat. Instead, there were hundreds breaking a boiled egg or eating a fried egg (with bacon) and solemnly

SNOW SHOVELS ACTIVE AFTER BRIEF BLIZZARD

Snow, wind and low temperature combined last night to give us the heaviest thing to be experienced all winter but its fury calmed during the night leaving city streets piled with deep drifts, despite a relatively light snowfall.

Snow began falling at 4 p.m. Monday as the wind built up. By 7 p.m. the blow had reached its maximum velocity of 24 miles an hour from the southeast, according to records of the Digby Island weather station. An inch of snow fell overnight according to the official record, something with which snow shovelers may take issue.

Combined with the blizzard, and adding to its unpleasantness, was a temperature of 23 degrees which put an edge on the wind and made the particles of snow sting like ice pellets.

Result was an ardent snow shovelling campaign in all parts of the city this morning. In the downtown district, business places on the south side of the street seemed to be the victims of the largest snow drifts, some of which were two feet deep.

Sixteen miles outside the city a westbound Canadian National Railway freight train became stuck during the evening in drifts ranging from two to six feet in depth for a distance of two miles and had to be dug out by emergency snow fighting equipment. Rotary plow was rushed out to cope with what was one of the most sudden and thickets falls of snow in local railway history. The eastbound train, which left here at 3 p.m., was held up for 1 1/2 hours just outside the city.

The line was reported clear today with tonight's train due on time at 10:45.

You never save until you start
Most of us have a savings account. But to make it really mean something calls for planned saving... and a strong mind. One way is to work toward what you want most: a new home, a car, an education for your children, the extra security or opportunity that a "nest egg" provides... Savings can mean so many things... The important thing is to start... and to put aside so much a week—every week. Remember, some are born lucky; smart people save.

ASK HOCKEY BROADCASTS

Radio committee of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce was requested at the Chamber's monthly meeting last night to arrange, if possible, for the broadcasting from the local station CFPR this spring of the Stanley Cup National Hockey League play-offs. The hockey broadcasts are not regularly emitted from CFPR but there have been broadcasts in the past of important final series by special arrangement. The radio committee, George Daves, chairman, reported to the Chamber that it had received scripts for a series of Canadian Chamber of Commerce broadcasts which the local station was willing to put out if the necessary permission could be obtained from the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

REVISION COURT UPHOLDS SIX ASSESSMENTS

Valuations set by City Assessor H. D. Thain were sustained by the Civic Court of Revision this morning in six appeals against 1949 property assessments while one was slightly reduced and three were held over for further hearing on February 12.

The court which convened at 10 a.m., had completed its morning's work an hour later with the exception of the three appeals for which further information was requested before handing down a decision. Court members were Alderman T. B. Black, chairman; Alderman H. M. Daggett, Alderman George Rudderham, Alderman J. N. Forman and Alderman H. S. Waleel.

Hearing of an appeal by Canadian National Railways against assessments on various properties was deferred until February 18 because of the inability of a representative of the railway lands department to be present today.

An assessment of $400 on two lots owned by Mrs. Irma Johansen, corner of Conrad Street and Hays Cove Avenue, was reduced to $350 when the court agreed that one of the lots should not be assessed as high as the other which is on the corner.

The court decided to complete hearings of appeals by Robert Kelsey, 1929 Fifth Avenue East, and Albert L. Stiles, 315 Eighth Avenue East, on February 18 when the C.N.R. appeals are heard.

Assessments confirmed were: Vivian Garten, $400 on land, lot 13, block 18, section 5, Seventh Avenue East.

John D. Morrison, $500 improvements, lot 1, block 6, section 1, Second Avenue West.

Joseph Oskey, $400 on land, lot 30, block 19, section 5, Seventh Avenue West.

T. Frystay, King George Hotel, land $2,350 and improvements $6,000.

John Tokar, land $400 and improvements $500, lot 2, block 22, section 5, Eighth Avenue West.

E. Cavenaile, part of waterfront block "I" Seal Cove, land $270, improvements $4,530.

THEY NEVER GOT THE WORD

Two Japs who just never got the word that the war was over were Matsudo Linsoki, of Tokyo, and Yamakaze Kufuku, of Sendai. It wasn't until January 6, 1949, that the war ended for these machine-gunned members of the Japanese navy. At that time they gave themselves up on Iwa Jima, where they had been living in caves, and foraging at night, ever since the invasion of February 19, 1945. After the surrender to air force personnel, they were flown to Guam where they are shown being questioned with Cpl. John Kataoka, of Los Angeles, Calif., acting as interpreter.

School Patrol Practical Safety Measure at King Edward School

Safety warnings are more than verbal out at King Edward Elementary School where, for the last three months, students have put them into practice with uniformed school boy patrols which keep a sharp eye on heavily-travelled Seventh Avenue East and on their fellow pupils.

The only school in the city to have such patrols, King Edward is finding that the system pays off. Twice a day, 270-odd youngsters burst from the school doors but they come to a halt at the safety zone where a uniformed boy stands on point duty. That uniform stands for authority—and safety.

The patrols were formed at King Edward because it lies along Seventh Avenue East, one of the heaviest-travelled routes in the city. So far, it has not been felt necessary to form similar patrols at other schools.

“Our aim is not to stop traffic but to hold back over-eager youngsters till the road is clear,” said Principal K. G. Moore. “The patrol boys have good control over the children, but they do rely heavily on the co-operation of motorists, too.”

At 8:40 a.m. the morning patrol, consisting of two boys, or two girls, takes its place on each side of the street at the safety zone. They remain on duty until just after 9 o'clock by which time the last of the youngsters has passed in. The same pair are out again at 11:55 until 12:10 when the children leave for their noon lunch.

Two different patrol boys come on in the afternoon. The work is divided so that no particular group is overloaded. The second group stands by from 12:40 until 1:15 when school goes in again and again between 3 o'clock and 3:30 when the building clears for the day.

UNIFORM NOW KNOWN

The uniform is becoming well known to city motorists now. The white visored cap and white Sam Browne belt stand out whether the day is bright or dark and the bright yellow signal sign, marked with a bold “stop” cannot be missed. In wet weather,

British Party Organizers Are Preparing Nevertheless

By JAMES MCCOOK

LONDON. (C)—Government spokesmen who ought to know say there will be no general election before 1950 but party organizers disregard this assurance. They tell their supporters to be ready for a vote this year.

The election date may be decided by voting in local elections in April and May when county, municipal, parish, urban and district council members are elected.

In the important municipal elections, last held in November, 1947, Labor was badly beaten with a final score of 695 seats lost and 43 gained, compared with the Conservative record of 643 gains and 18 losses.

Labor received another pounding in the urban and rural district council elections last April when the party had 260 losses and 101 gains compared with the Conservatives' 286 gains and 21 losses.

RESULTS A SHOCK

These results shocked Labor adherents, still jubilant over their overwhelming general election victory in 1945. They weakened the confidence felt by the party after a long series of successes in holding Labor Commons seats in by-elections.

The political correspondent of the Sunday Dispatch (Independent) said Rt. Hon. Herbert Morrison, as government House Leader, may ask Prime Minister Attlee to recommend dissolution of Parliament in July. “If there is not a sensationally

The Dispatch said the government could go to the country this year with "full employment" as a platform plank. "More difficult conditions in 1950 may cause an attempt to fall," the newspaper adds.

NATIONALIZATION ISSUE

Labor sources said the prospect has been that Labor will fight the general election on issues already plain, such as the nationalization program. A leading issue on which the voters will decide is whether the bill nationalizing the iron and steel industry will actually be implemented after 1950. If the Conservatives are elected, it

HALIBUT SWEEP PLANS DELAYED

Various Forthcoming
Activities Considered at Kinsmen's Meeting

When the halibut season will open and whether it will be split into two periods was again a subject of concern to members of the Kinsmen Club at the regular meeting held last night in the Commodore Cafe.

on halibut landings could be obtained from the International Fisheries Commission but pointed out that a change in the season's opening might make the sweep impractical. On the suggestion of Bill Bremner, the executive was given the power to put the project into operation or to discard it.

Amateur Night will be held in the Civic Centre March 11, according to Harry Swaffield, chairman of the committee. He reported that efforts are being made to have a substantial number of participants and plans are being made for a sustaining program to be presented between parts of the regular show.

Lorne Vanetta reported that an auction sale will be held in the first part of April. He suggested that auctioneer R. E. Montador may have to sell everything from kiddie cars to eight-cylinder sedans.

One hundred and twenty-five Kinsmen, wives and guests are expected to gather in the I.O. O.F. Hall on February 19 when a celebration will be held in honor of the Kinsmen Club founders. Chairman Russel Cameron reported that plans for catering and entertainment have been worked out to the committee's satisfaction.

CELANESE MAN IS WELCOMED

Guests at the monthly dinner meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last evening included Charles Klotz, project engineer for the Celanese Corporation of America, who was welcomed by President G. R. S. Blackaby and Vice-President L. M. Felsenthal who agreed that the new celanese mill at Port Edward was a community affair in which the people of Prince Rupert were as vitally interested as the Corporation itself and who would undoubtedly be ready to lend all assistance possible to the project.

Speaking appreciatively of the welcome he had received since arriving in Prince Rupert and the ready co-operation which appeared forthcoming, Mr. Klotz said that it would take the co-operation of the whole community of Prince Rupert and of the province and Dominion to bring the project to a successful fruition.

Other guests at last night's dinner included Eric Speers, official representative of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and C. L. Bosdet, a new local young business man.

Upwards of 40 members were in attendance at the meeting and many matters were taken up at the session.
