WHADDYA MEAN, DAYLIGHT TIME?—The change of daylight time in Canada for the summer comes in Prince Rupert at 2 a.m. Sunday, April 30. But Bossy doesn't get it. Farmers, staunch opponents of advancing the clock one hour, use as one of their main arguments the contention that you can't change milking time. The Alberta Legislature saw the farmers' side of the story and outlawed daylight time in that province. However, the extra hour of daylight is in effect in most sections of the country. (CP Photo)

Federation of Western Democracies and World Government is Forecast

PHILPOTT STIRS ROTARY— Time has now been reached in the definite pattern of history where world government is due and the question is whether it will be in "blue" or "red print," Elmore Philpott, newspaper columnist and lecturer, told the Prince Rupert Rotary Club in a stirring luncheon address yesterday.

"If you get fed up and discouraged at the superficial evidence which would make you swear that a terrific world war is liable to pop up anytime, I suggest that you read up on your history. You will find, as I have done to my comfort, that there have been other times when war seemed just as imminent and never happened. One hundred years ago, said Mr. Philpott, war between United States and Great Britain seemed even more imminent than does war between the West- ern Powers and the Soviet Union today. "They wanted the inter- national border line not so very far from where Prince Rupert is today. We wanted it near Portland but we settled it." The Russian question was by no means new, Rudyard Kipling visited Vancouver in 1885 four days after the Big Fire and was annoyed with the people of "Gastown" because all they could talk about was how slow the fire department had been in coming from New Westminster and what superb weather they had. "Kipling thought the people of Vancouver should be worrying instead about the menace of Russia whose fleet he thought might steam up any day." Tracing the history of inter- national relationship and its "very definite pattern," Mr. Philpott recalled first the tribal days when there were thousands of little governments and thou- sands of little wars, then the small nations and by the time of World War I when there were 60 or 70 nations. Through history nations had, so far, been unable to adjust their relation- ships except by war. The law was within the nations and not between them and only power politics governed relationships. Both of the two great wars had centred on the coming up of Germany, Italy and Japan. Now, as a result of those two wars, the division of the human fam- ily into nations had been knock- ed into a cocked hat. Today there were three major groups: 1. The western democracies, 2. Soviet group challenging for leadership, 3. The neutral group—India, Africa and Asia—more sym- pathetic to the West. "In my opinion," ventured the speaker, "the present great world struggle will be decided in the long run by the moral judgment of the third bloc." As a result of the two great wars, Great Britain was no longer able today to hold the front line of trade, commerce and economy as she had done through the years, enabling United States thereby to build up her greatness. It was to Canada's advantage to do everything in her power to restore British influences in the Western Union. The crisis for Britain had not passed, he believed. Regardless of what form of government she had, there were deep and funda- mental problems which she would find it extremely difficult to come through. "Britain's crisis is most surely Canada's," the speaker declared. He described as "insanity" Can- ada's protest at the competition from British cars. "What do we want, jam on it?" He could not comprehend how Canadians could expect a system to carry on whereby this country sold three times more goods to Brit- ain than she bought back. "Why, all our traditions and

Ultimatum of Gov't Results in Call-off

LONDON (CP)—The government today had, apparently, broken a paralyzing wildcat strike of 14,000 London dock workers. Troops which had been sent in to unload precious food cargoes will be called away from the docks tomorrow to permit of orderly resumption of work, the government announced today.

The solid front of the strikers—some officials said their walk- out had been communist-in- spired—was broken this morn- ing. Faced with a government ultimatum to get back to work on Monday or lose their jobs, 2,000 of the strikers voted to go back tomorrow. Other meetings of strikers are called.

Flood is Emergency

WINNIPEG (C)— Minister of Public Works Eric F. Willis said today that the Red River flood this year is "far worse" than that of 1948 when damage amounted to a million dollars. Mr. Willis, acting Premier in the absence of Hon. Douglas L. Campbell, said the deluge is "in every sense a national emergency and should receive immediate attention of the federal govern- ment. The floods are of a na- tional character as were those in British Columbia in 1948 and national assistance should be made available in the same way." Mayor Harry Shewman today asked Ottawa to declare Mani- toba's flood a national emer- gency. The mayor also an Inde- pendent member of the Manitoba Legislature, said the swollen Red River has made 15,000 persons homeless in his constituency. Mayor Shewman also asked from Ottawa: 1. Prompt financial aid for flood victims. Investigation of the cause of the floods with a view to prevent- ing recurrence. 3. Income tax reductions for persons who must pay for flood damage to private property.

Confidence Is Voted

Government Sustained in Two Divisions at Ottawa

OTTAWA (C)—The House of Commons yesterday rejected two Opposition motions of non-con- fidence in the government. Last night—both hinged to the March budget—and then knuckled down to the concrete task of passing the budget resolutions. By a vote of 129 to 43, the Chamber defeated a Progressive- Conservative motion expressing regret that government policies made higher taxes inevitable, in- cluded no adequate attempt to reduce costs and contained no program for national develop- ment. By a vote of 167 to 14, the Chamber defeated a CCF amend- ment that the government pol- icies indicated the government was prepared to accept the present level of production as ade- quate for Canadians.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis A storm over the Pacific which threatened to give rain is dying out now and is likely to give only a few showers along the northern coast tonight. The southern in- terior valleys are still reporting a little cloud after yesterday's downpour. However, sunny and milder weather will return there by this afternoon. From Victoria and Vancouver and northward to the Cariboo it will remain clear today and tomorrow. Forecast North Coast Region— Cloudy today and Saturday. Scattered showers overnight. Little change in temperature. Southerly winds (15). Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—at Port Hardy, Sand- spit and Prince Rupert, 40 and 52.

Beauty Parade Is on Tonight

Choice From Five Being Made For Miss Northern B. C. Contest Five beautiful Prince Rupert girls will wear bathing suits and gowns as they parade tonight at the Junior Chamber of Commerce dance in the Civic Centre for the favor of the judges in the contest to represent this city at the "Miss Northern B.C." contest in Smithers May 4 at the interior town's spring frolic. Tonight's lucky girl will be hustled off to Smithers with all expenses paid as well as receiving the prize here. If the lass from Prince Rupert can win at Smithers, she would be presented with a $100 matched set of luggage, an $80 dress and accessories, an engraved compact, and two other gifts in the $25 to $40 prize range. All participants will receive a gift in the $35 to $40 prize range. The candidates here are Joyce Tattersal, 18; Beverlea Matson, 17; Margaret Gagnon, 17; Edna Ronald, 17; and Betty Campbell, 20. Alf Worthington will emcee to- night's show. Before the coming of the white man to America, most of the In- dians east of the Great Plains lived in settled villages and cul- tivated the soil.

Overhaul of Two Vessels Suspended

VICTORIA—Work on two coastal vessels of the Canadian Pacific Railway has been ordered suspended here pending clar- ification of new steamship fire regulations the cost of imple- menting which might prove pro- hibitive. The vessels are the Motor Princess and Princess Vic- toria.

Fire Destroys Westview School

WESTVIEW—The school build- ing here was destroyed early to- day by an $85,000 fire. Fire de- partments came from nearby Powell River and Cranberry to assist in fighting the flames. As a result of the fire three hundred school pupils are with- out classrooms until emergency arrangements can be made. It was the second fire to school property within a few hours. Earlier a school bus was destroyed when the home of the driver was burned down.

VICTORIA—Damage estimated at $100,000 was done by fire which swept the plant of the Victoria Box and Paper Co. here late yesterday. Several firemen were overcome and one spec- tator went to the hospital suf- fering from injuries sustained when he tripped over a hose. The fire started in the basement of the plant.

The Older Citizen

THERE IS GREAT NEED for the study of the problem created by the increasing number of persons in society who are old only in terms of years, states an editorial in the current issue of the magazine HEALTH, published by the Health League of Canada.

The ruthlessness of modern competition and the enthusiasm and energy of youth have contributed to the disadvantage of the older section of the population. Industry is discouraging the employment of persons over a certain age, either because such employment interferes with their pension schemes or because younger persons have more ability or energy and, hence, may turn out more goods to the profit of industry.

At the moment we do not propose to argue whether, in disdaining the advice and steady work of older employees, industry is working to its own disadvantage, insofar as immediate results are concerned. Here the remarkable results achieved in many fields by older people give us food for thought. Experience and stability, the product of experience, should surely be disregarded with caution.

Quite aside from this question, the percentage of older people in each community is sure to steadily increase as preventive medicine becomes more and more effective in younger age groups. If society in general and industry in particular do not utilize the services of older people in science, then the younger generation will be forced into the position of supporting the older generation, by their own efforts. And the more older people who are summarily dismissed or retired and left to their own resources, the more likely the oldsters are to deteriorate and become a real burden for society.

There is great need for the study of the problem created by the increasing number of persons in society who are old only in terms of years. The problem of preventive medicine is not only to make it possible for people to live longer, but also to see to it that longer life means a longer period of physical and mental fitness. It is the problem of society to see that man is no longer as old as his years but as old as his arteries. As long as his arteries hold out, society should utilize his services to the full for his own happiness and the welfare of his fellow man to which he is still able to contribute.

SUPPORT CANCER FUND

BEGINNING MAY 1, city householders will be confronted by individuals requesting money. But do not close the door in haste! Citizens all across Canada for the past few weeks have enjoyed the privilege and now it is Prince Rupert's turn to aid a worthy organization.

To many people, cancer is only a word. But to thousands of others, the victims who suffer from the dread disease, the five letters spell misery, pain and death. The Canadian Cancer Society, this year as in the past, have sent canvassers to the doors of Canadian homes. Most of the Dominion has subscribed so far and Prince Rupert is one of the last cities to commence a campaign.

Talent and Taste In 1950 Hobby Show

Appreciation Of Art Seen

Artistic appreciation is slowly and surely developing in Prince Rupert's citizenry if the number of visitors attracted to the hobby show and art display is any criterion.

The interest shown in the collection of paintings by Jean Park Cameron and in all the other exhibitors would indicate that the art display is a main attraction.

One senses the enthusiasm of the members of the local Art Club from the surprising array of paintings exhibited. The picture subjects are mainly "still life," landscapes and character studies. So far all reflect the talents and influence of their teacher, Miss Jeanne Faure. To untrained eyes, some of the pictures by Ruth Harvey, hanging beside those of Miss Faure, are not easily distinguishable from them. Local artists exhibiting pictures are Ruth Harvey, M. McLeod, E. Christie, Grace Green, Rita Rogerson, Kathleen Hill, Adele Davidson, Mary Smith, Mrs. McCarthy, Ester Husvik, Hazel Hopkins, Grace Priest, Jimmy Baldwin, Andrew Wasend, and Annette Rogers.

Paintings exhibited by the Quesnel Art Club drew varied comment. One lady declared she could never learn to appreciate modern ideas of color effects. A southern visitor to the city remarked that the group appeared to have a good approach to painting. "They seem to paint for the mere love of painting rather than just to produce a picture. That picture has humor," she remarked, pointing to one entitled, "Quesnel Back Yard," which among other things shows a cat in the act of raiding a garbage can. "The groupings in their 'still lifes' are artistically assembled too," she said.

Many visitors thought that the exhibit from the Prince George Art Club showed much talent. But many also agreed that some of the artists had attempted too much and had concentrated on detail at the expense of the theme of their painting.

Cancer Campaign In City Now On

The objective this year of the cancer campaign in Prince Rupert is $1,000 for the city. The provincial figure is $100,000. Both objectives are identical to the 1949 figures.

Campaign manager is Rev. E. Antrobus. Response was very good last year, Mr. Antrobus stated today, and it is hoped the people of Prince Rupert will make as good a showing for 1950.

The local branch of the Society raised $1800 last year from generous persons in the city and district.

About 25 canvassers will cover the city.

CHIROPRACTIC EDUCATION

By JULIUS DINTENFASS, D.C., B.Sc., F.I.C.C.

Although yet comparatively new, the course of study presented by chiropractic colleges today compares very favorably with those in the best medical schools. The number of hours spent by the student in chiropractic colleges is equal to that required of the student in leading medical schools. Every accredited chiropractic college today is presenting an academic course of four calendar years. These colleges are equipped in the most modern manner with anatomical, physiological, pathological, chemical laboratories and lecture halls. The courses of study are most comprehensive and cover the following subjects: Anatomy, physiology, pathology, chemistry (including urine analysis and toxicology), bacteriology, symptomatology, gynecology, diagnosis, clinical microscopy, hygiene, public health, dietetics, chiropractic analysis, clinical adjusting and X-ray.

Civic Centre Activities In Handicrafts Are Featured

The Hobby Show this year centres around the work of the various groups who have attended classes in the Civic Centre. Displays, in most cases, include the tools and the materials used in the craft as well as the finished articles.

The leathercraft exhibit displays some excellent workmanship. There are expertly tooled handbags, brief-cases, loose-leaf binders, slippers, belts, change purses, key cases, book-ends and other articles. Mrs. R. Cameron has several fine purses on display. Other exhibitors are Mrs. Seiber, Mrs. R. Long, Mrs. C. A. Berner, M. H. Waters, Mrs. G. Redhead, Mrs. M. Valderhaug, Mrs. Boulton, B. Berg and Dennis Adolph. The home furnishings group have recovered everything from overstuffed chairs to delicate lampshades. Quite a number of them refinished a small piece of furniture. In this group are entries by Mrs. Boas, Mrs. D. Forward, Mrs. P. Forman, Mrs. Parsons. Smartly tailored suits, dresses, a child's outfit remade from an old coat and dainty blouses are displayed by some of those who took the Sewing Course. Exhibitors are Mrs. M. Valderhaug, Mrs. J. DeLorme, Mrs. Priest, Mrs. Anne Kelly, Kathleen Smith, Mrs. H. Humphrey and Mrs. D. Forward.

Miscellany

Teen age folks have also been very busy as evidenced by the excellent photographs shown by the Teen Camera Club. Composition of most of them is remarkable and the captions are particularly pertinent. Names as taken from the photos are B. Mills, R. Morrison, Allen Kelsey, Nancy Hill, Dave Blackhall, Marna Mark, Reg. Ronald, J. Croxford and PHEME FRASER.

The Junior Girl Weavers have made a cosy and colorful afghan which is to be raffled. Besides this there are tea cosies and pot-holders.

Close scrutiny of the stamp collection displayed by the Junior Philatelic Society will explain the fascination of this hobby.

Moccasins in all sizes, made by native folk in Fort St John, have been sent to the Hobby Show to be sold. Natives from Kibwanga have spun wool and knit their famous Indian sweaters, also to be sold.

An exhibit from Smithers includes dyed burlap shopping bags, embroidered in wool, which are for sale. There are other knit garments as well as crocheted articles entered by Sylvia Johnson and Mrs. Tweed.

Exhibits by young folks, some of them showing outstanding work, are a hand hooked rug made by Shirley Haugan; a hand knit sweater made by Sheila Bennett; "The Seven Dwarfs" in woodwork by Brian Roberts; model airplanes made by Arthur Parent.

The displays by the Conrad Street, Borden Street and the Booth School attract the attention of both the children and the adults. Children are anxious to point out their own work—parents like to admire it—and both like to compare it with the work of other pupils and other schools.

Judge W. O. Fulton and local barristers, J. T. Harvey and R. M. MacLeod, returned to the city on last night's train from Smithers where a session of County Court was held this week.

Ray Reflects . . . and Reminisces

The first Great War started in Berlin. So did the second. And, if, internationally speaking, the glory of peace as a first class idea does not strike the world (including Russia)—so will the third.

The docks, railway station, civic centre, Canadian Legion, Court House and, after a while the liquor vendor's store, and hotel will be contributing to Second Avenue traffic. It's increasing and will continue to do so. It's just as well that the totem pole, erected in the centre of the junction of Second Avenue and Second Street years ago, did not remain there long. Both taxi drivers and hikers have enough to worry about.

Having been a halibut consumer several times each week for about forty years, small wonder we confess to being fish conscious. But not so much a local duty as a personal preference.

Baseball matches are interesting millions in different parts of the globe, with the exception of Uncle Joe Stalin and his crew, and the United Nations. The latter would cheerfully stage any number of games but Joe won't play. Neither would Hitler. If some of Europe's headliners would look more to sport and less to politics, there might be happier countries.

Constable Kidd, on duty at Crestova, had to use force to prevent his clothing being torn off by enthusiastic Doukhobor women. They managed in partly unbuttoning his tunic before he beat them off. The ladies evidently wish to see how an officer looks in undress uniform.

Mr. Jones advised the alderman that the department had heard a new route entering the city was to be proposed and, therefore, had no estimate prepared for surfacing or widening and of the present roads that had been set aside as provincial arterial highways.

"I explained the city council's position in regard to the present state of McBride Street between Second and Seventh Avenues, Mr. Frizzell said, and Mr. Jones suggested the willingness of his department to co-operate with the city council and asked that our city engineer submit an estimate on cost of hard surfacing the latter streets." He added that the city engineer should have the local department engineer here check the estimates and submit the total cost to the department at Victoria.

If it was found that the cost was not too excessive, Mr. Jones said, the department might authorize the work being done with city equipment and material.

Ald. Frizzell Is Port Day Head

Arrangements for Big Event Get Under Way With Appointment of Central Committee

With Ald Douglas Frizzell as chairman, a strong and representative general committee was named at a meeting last night to handle the annual Port Day celebration in Prince Rupert which will be held on Dominion Day this year and which it is planned to bring back to a scale comparable with what was staged years ago.

A large and comprehensive program of marine events on the harbor is planned, these including not only races and contests but demonstrations of the fishing industry. Prince Rupert's economic mainstay.

International baseball, football and field sports will also feature the day which will have its social angle as well with a big Port Day ball on the Friday evening preceding the day itself.

All in all, it will be probably be the major gala celebration of the summer season in Prince Rupert.

The Royal Canadian Navy is being requested to send war vessels here to lead color and dash to the proceedings.

An outdoor motor runabout will be built for raffle sale to help in the raising of funds.

There will also be an essay for the school pupils.

With Ald Frizzell as chairman, H. F. Glassey was elected secretary and Ed. Mussellam as treasurer.

Representing a wide list of organizations, some of which will be assigned special functions in connection with the day, the following were appointed last night to the central committee: Vincent Wells, Chief Petty Officer James Woods, Rudolph Olsen, Gunnar Selvig, Sid Gonick, S. A. Cheeseman, R. G. Wood, W. J. Scott, Dr. R. G. Large, J. C. Gilker, Harold Thom, Hugo Kraupner, Don Forward, H. E. Robins, W. H. Fudger, G. A. Hunter, Howard Reid, A. P. Crawley, N. A. Modern Etiquette

Q. Should a young woman ask her escort to come in when he brings her home from the theatre or a party?

A. She should not ask him. A few words of acknowledgment of a pleasant evening should be said as her escort leaves her at the door. However, if it is still early in the evening and some of her family are still up and about it would be at right.

Q. In an introduction, is a woman ever presented to a man?

A. No; except to the President of the United States, a royal personage, or a dignitary of the church.

Q. How should one remove a fish bone from the mouth?

A. Remove it from the mouth with the fingers and lay it on the plate.

Recipes For Light Meals

MACARONI PUFF is a very unique recipe—and especially tasty! It's a type of soufflé that never fails. The flavor is out-of-this-world. It's colorful too—with chopped red pimiento and chopped green peppers. It goes well with Chef's Salad, which is our favorite. Use French dressing to point up the flavor. Serve this combination with Italian bread which has been sliced not quite all the way through in thick slices. Between slices spread the bread with a combination of finely chopped garlic and butter. Heat in the oven until very warm.

MACARONI PUFF

- 1 1/2-cz. tin cooked macaroni in cream sauce with cheese
- 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
- 2 eggs separated
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

Combine Macaroni, crumbs, pimiento, green pepper and beaten egg yolks. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into mixture. Pour into greased casserole and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees 5.) 45 minutes. Serves 3-4.

Wants Three Year Contract

Terrace Civic Centre Still Without Director

TERRACE—No agreement has been reached between the Civic Centre directorate and Alf Yoxall who applied in March for the position of managing director of the Centre here and no further action is being taken by the board here in regard to this application. Mr. Yoxall declined to come without a three year contract but the directorate felt that as they were only in office for one year, they could only give him a contract for that length of time. The yearly contract was turned down by him.

The matter was discussed at a recent meeting of the directors. Mr. B. R. Dodds, president, named the heads of the various committees:

- Finance—J. H. Smith.
- Publicity—G. McAdams.
- Building and Maintenance—J. MacKay.
- Athletics—P. Murie, sr.
- Drama and Choral—Mrs. L. Newhouse.
- Symphony—G. Grant.
- Membership—Mrs. Giraud.
- Social—Mrs. Mills and Mrs. S. Kirkaldy.

It was decided to change the monthly meeting to the third Friday in the month. At present a large number of boys are meeting up at the Centre for setting-up exercises, boxing and basketball. Nick Schmeling has charge of the boxers, Wally Peterson is training the young basketball fans and, between them they take care of the gymnastics.

TERRACE TOPICS

On her return from Prince Rupert, Mrs. Olson has reported that the people and business men of that city have been very generous in donating towards the prize list for the forthcoming Fall Fair.

Mrs. J. S. Irvine was a weekend visitor to Terrace visiting friends and relatives.

H. Leblanc drove to Prince Rupert on Sunday accompanied by J. Gordon, and returning on Monday with Mr. Steve Damas who had spent the past few days in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson of McBride are taking over the Terrace Hotel Cafe at the beginning of next month. Mrs. Murie, who has been conducting it since the beginning of the year, is leaving for a month's holiday in Langley. Mr. Murie will accompany her south next week and will stay there for a few days.

Word has been received from W. A. Bush, who is receiving physio-therapy treatments in Vancouver for a back injury, that progress is being made and that he is hoping to be home very shortly.

Mrs. Hoyme of Camrose, Alberta, leaves on Monday for her home after having spent the past few months here with her daughter, Mrs. H. Engeleke.

Mr. C. J. Norrington, accompanied by V. Giraud, left by car on Tuesday, on a brief business trip to Prince Rupert.

Rain may leave its mark on leather handbags, especially those with a smooth finish. To protect your bag, wax it. Apply an even coat of good quality floor or furniture wax, let it dry and polish it thoroughly with a clean soft cloth. Then repeat process in 24 hours. Wax not only helps to protect the leather from water marks and soil, but helps keep it from drying out and losing its flexibility.

Civilian consumption of all citrus fruit, including that processed on a fresh fruit equivalent basis, is estimated at about 90 pounds per capita during 1946. Inhaling considerable amounts of dry cleaning fluid vapors can make you sick. Do big cleaning jobs where there is plenty of fresh air.

Passing Of Canon Keen

Former Anglican Missionary On Queen Charlotte Islands Dies

Word has been received from his relatives in England of the recent passing of the Rev. Canon J. H. Keen at Tunbridge Wells. He had just celebrated his ninety-eighth birthday and had been in splendid health until a fall he received shortly before his death. The funeral service was taken by Canon E. P. Laycock, formerly of Prince Rupert.

Canon Keen came to the Diocese of Caledonia in 1890, a missionary of the Church Missionary Society of London, England, and was sent to work among the Haidas at Masset on the Queen Charlotte Islands. He remained there for eight years and, during that time, translated into Haida the Gospels of St. Luke and St. John, the Acts of the Apostles, and parts of the Prayer Book. He also compiled a grammar of the Haida language and, in doing so, gave great credit to his two faithful teachers, the late Henry Edenshaw and Mrs. Mary Ridley, for their excellent assistance. From Masset he went to Metlakatla where he remained until he left for England in 1913. For some years he was secretary-treasurer of the Diocese of Caledonia and in 1911 was appointed by Archbishop DuVernet an Honorary Canon of St. Andrew's Cathedral, Prince Rupert.

Alcohol Use Is Discussed

Too Much Specializing Says P. T. Speaker

Summaries of reports on interesting subjects which were the subject of addresses at the Easter convention of the British Columbia Parent-Teacher Federation were given by delegate F. R. Wright at a joint meeting of all city Parent-Teachers Associations this week. Among the special speakers at the convention were John R. Meredith, Dr. A. L. Doucette and Hon. W. T. Straith, minister of education.

Mr. Meredith, who has been carrying on a research into the effects of alcohol on the human being, assured the delegates that his Department does not exhort or condemn the use of liquor but serves only to provide the facts. "Law," he said, "whether we feel it to be fair or not in regard to liquor, does not affect liquor habits in the least." The matter lies entirely with the individual, Mr. Meredith declared.

Dr. A. L. Doucette, Professor of Educational Psychology at the University of Alberta in addressing the convention, attributed to the modern age two new ills, "specialitis," referring to modern specialists who seem to make human existence into an endless assembly line and "spectatoritis", a disease caused by too much leisure time through too many modern labor saving devices. He advocated more participation by everyone, especially young people in recreational activities, hobbies and avocations. Dr. Doucette said he believed education to be the greatest controversial issue in the world today—greater even than alcohol sex, the labor situation or the cold war. Everyone seems to be trying to decide, Dr. Doucette said, which is more important, to be able to date the Battle of Hastings, or the Captain of the basketball team. To be able to recognize the split infinitive or a split personality; to be able to repair the weak construction of a complex sentence, or the relationships in one's home; to know what is inside the cover of Scott's "Ivanhoe" or under the hood of a Ford Mercury. In short, Dr. Doucette advocated a fusion of the practical and the academic in education, and the application of the Golden Rule, to subordinate the individual aim to the common good.

Hon. W. T. Straith, Minister of Education, addressed the convention on the subject "Education Means More Than Classrooms", the duty of the school being to teach how to live, not merely how to make a living.

Dr. Straith reported that the new medical faculty of the University of British Columbia will open this fall with an enrollment of 60.

Home Primary F. C. Boyes of the Vancouver Normal School was the feature speaker at a banquet held for delegates. Mr. Boyes made it clear that home is where education begins. There a child should be given love, a set of ideals, an interest in the world, and a little training in good hard work. Mr. Boyes felt that too much of this training is oftentimes left to the school.

Delegates voted to hold the 1951 convention in Victoria on March 28, 29, 30. Mr. Wright's report concluded.

Before and after Mr. Wright's report, P. T. A. members were delighted by several musical selections rendered by the School Orchestra under the direction of BMHS teacher, Fred Huber. The organization, which has only been in existence since late in 1949, has made splendid progress, the audience felt, and in hearty applause conveyed to Mr. Huber and the students much appreciation and encouragement.

At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served in the staff room.
