Seamen's Strike "Communist Plan"

LONDON—A "cold and deliberate" Communist plan, cooked up months ahead of time in Canada, caused last spring's serious dock strikes, Labor Minister George Isaacs said today. In a long report on the strikes, Isaacs said that the dispute began after collapse of a similar strike in Canada. He said that the British action was planned in Canada even before the Canadian deepsea dispute of the Canadian Seamen's Union began.

Precipitation Record—Ketchikan Gets Lavish Rainfall

Anybody who thinks Prince Rupert is a rainy place might consider the case of Ketchikan, where 1949 is going down in history as the year of greatest rainfall. Ketchikan is just touching the 200-inch mark for precipitation this year whereas Prince Rupert has yet to reach 100 inches.

Dollar Outlook Better—Parliament Prorogues

Hearing Into Stabbing Affray

Preliminary hearing into a stabbing charge laid against Loretta Barnhardt on November 4, began Thursday in Magistrate W. D. Vance's court.

The charge of assault occasioning grievous bodily harm was pressed a few hours after Ben Peterson, city halibut skipper, was admitted to General Hospital with a series of deep and profusely bleeding wounds along the left side of his body. The carving incident had its beginning in the small hours of the morning of November 3. Peterson, Miss Barnhardt and a party of friends had been celebrating the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Barney DeFehr, two of the witnesses. After they had visited the homes of friends and a local beverage parlor they came to Peterson's room.

Prince Rupert's Court House will no longer be illuminated in pleasing outline on gala occasions as has become familiar in the past. Recently all the wiring for such lighting was pulled out, it being either a case of doing this or renewing it. Hundreds of lamps had to be taken out in the operation. There is no intention, as far as can be learned, of renewing the illumination.

Mr. and Mrs. Neville Gerrard returned to the city on the Prince Rupert this morning from a trip to Vancouver.

Eleven hundred workers were still out today at three plants in the walk-out which has been condemned by the Communist-led Union.

The Speech from the Throne, proroguing the Parliament, said there was every reason to believe that Great Britain's dollar gap would be closed, thanks to "generous help" of Canada and the United States.

Trade with North America still presented special problems, the Speech said, but the gap between receipts and payments is being progressively reduced "as the drive to increase direct and indirect dollar earnings gathers momentum."

Absurd Radio Situation

THE squabble between the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and the government telegraph service of the Department of Transport, which is preventing some 35,000 people in northern B.C. from getting adequate radio service, has been aired in the House of Commons comments the Vancouver Sun.

The Department of Transport, which had been demanding $32,000 rent from the CBC to transmit its commercial programs to Prince Rupert, has come down to $18,000. Presumably the CBC is still holding out and the people of northern B.C. are waiting in vain—for Liberal M.P. E. P. Applewhaite, who represents the area, expresses the pious hope that the offered rent reduction might hasten an end to the stalemate.

Transport Minister Chevrier announced to members the reduction which his department had made in its demands on the CBC. But Mr. Chevrier apparently has not quite caught on to the absurdity of the situation. It is an absurdity which Gilbert and Sullivan would have delighted to toy with. One department of the government is quarreling with another about a bookkeeping item while the people whom that government is pledged to service whistle for the service. And pay $2.50 a year while whistling.

WHAT OIL WOULD MEAN

OIL bearing formations are reported from the Queen Charlotte Islands where drilling is now going on near Skidegate. While this does not mean oil, the development is encouraging. Drilling commenced only a couple of weeks ago. It is the first such serious attempt that has ever been made on any of the numerous islands scattered along the coast. A major strike within Prince Rupert territory would vastly enhance Prince Rupert's general status as a seaport and city and would be a far reaching factor in widening the business of the entire coast.

XMAS DOWN UNDER

THIS is not the Christmas season in Australia, as Canada understands it. The island continent, just now, is in the public eye, chiefly because of the election turnover. But, there are other features of interest, many rather novel, to most of us. Today is mid-December. Down under of course, is a time of gift-giving, praise and general joyousness, and from the standpoint of winter, it's the same as mid-summer in Canada. People flock, in their thousands, to the beaches to bathe and loll on the warm sand. The sun has power. Sports do not have to be encouraged for the holiday season is everywhere and it, of course, is associated with the sanctity of Yule. There is feasting, but perhaps not in lavish, even prodigal manner of the Dominion.

It is, indeed, hard for Canadians, unless widely travelled, to think of Christmas without plenty of frost, half a continent of snow, skating, "down to zero," furs and drifts, shovels and the filling of coal bins. Australia can have her kindly skies and all that, but to Canada, the coming of Saint Nicholas, under such circumstances, would lose something. It wouldn't be the real thing.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

A doctor declares the health of a man is indicated by the length of time he can hold his breath. There is more to it than that, however. It might be said that his wisdom is revealed by the length of time he can hold his tongue.

Annually one hears about "seasonal" unemployment and to an extent it is true. But when you are "too old at forty" for any sort of job, seasonal has nothing to do with the situation whatever. It's just a handy explanation that doesn't explain.

The 1949 rainfall in Ketchikan to date is 199.34 inches. The previous record there was in 1917, when it totalled 190.31 inches. Far be it from us to take a mean advantage. Perish the thought. Alaska's first city and her ambitious people are all to the good. But there were times during the summer when Prince Rupert's dust, for the sake of comparison, was an oft repeated nuisance.

"There are twelve types of drunks" says a police official. They range from obtrusive to obnoxious. They range also, from the opprobrious to the outrageous and ostentatious.

It is probably true that nearly everyone, addressing an audience, feels nervous at first. Perhaps this is often not noticeable but it can make the speaker uncomfortable. It is well worth while trying to be at home on the platform and that can only be accomplished through study, practice and resolve. The less affected the better and a bit of naivette can help a lot if you happen to possess it. But the ability to hold the house and tell it clearly never comes amiss.

A. B. Brown is leaving on this evening's train for a brief trip to Terrace on legal business.

Vexed Problems—Pasteurization, Liquor And Workmen's Compensation

By J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA—Pasteurization of milk is a subject that can always start a good argument. That's why the Legislature will have nothing to do with it, why B.C. will not introduce a pasteurization law, even though public health officials want it.

So the Board of Health promotes pasteurization by education, a slow method, but one that pays dividends in the long run.

For instance, in the latest monthly Health Bulletin of the B.C. Department of Health is this seemingly harmless little paragraph: "You'll have little need to worry about such diseases as bovine tuberculosis, typhoid fever, undulant fever, septic sore throat, paratyphoid and dysentery if you make sure the milk you drink has been protected by pasteurization. Pasteurization of milk makes it safe without harming its food value—and medical science has proven that pasteurized milk is a truly safe milk."

Another subject that sends chills down the government's spine is liquor.

So terrifying is this matter that Victoria can't even get another liquor store. Victoria has doubled in population in the last decade, yet there are the same two old stores that were here 25 years ago. The result is constant congestion, long queues at the end of each day. The smart boys come in, look over the queues, pick out someone at the head of the line and order through him. This is confusing all round, but it's the only way the public has of speeding up the service.

The prohibition element, of course, takes the stand another liquor store would make it easier for people to get booze and so increase consumption. It would make it easier, but it's doubtful if it would increase the sale, for a person wanting a bottle isn't going to be discouraged by a queue, even though he might get annoyed.

Chief Justice Sloan has started his official investigation into the Workmen's Compensation

Pays Visit To Interior Bridge

Inspection of the new Anlaw Bridge over the Skeena River at Four Mile on the Kispico road north of Hazelton was made recently by a party of officials consisting of Harry Minnall, erection engineer, and Anvus McLoughlin, designing engineer of the Dominion Bridge, and Murray MacDonald, resident engineer on Columbia Cellulose construction at Watson Island. They were accompanied by W. E. Bottomley, assistant district engineer for the provincial department of public works at Smithers.

Act. It is his second Royal Commission enquiry into this controversial Act, which always causes long discussions in the Legislature and which labor unions want amended each year.

The present Act is largely based on the recommendations of Chief Justice Sloan following his enquiry into the old act some years ago. The present enquiry will take at least a year. Witnesses will be heard in many parts of the province and then the Chief Justice will have to work on his report.

The 51-year old Chief Justice, native of Nanaimo, has had a remarkable career for one so comparatively young. He was Attorney-general (in the first Pattullo administration) when he was 35. That was in 1933. Four years later he went to the Court of Appeal. In addition to his first enquiry into the Workmen's Compensation Act, he enquired into the salmon fishing industry of Vancouver Island, the forest industry and has acted as mediator in many labor discussions.

Now, with another big Royal Commission enquiry on his hands he will more than ever burn the midnight oil in his dingy, book-lined office in Victoria's ancient, drafty, rattly courthouse.

Response To Seals Prompt

Prompt response to the two thousand Christmas Seal letters sent out in the current drive was reported to the Soroptimist Club when it met in regular monthly dinner this week. Tiny Tots' Xmas Tree

The Rup-Rec Tiny Tot class held their final session of the year Wednesday afternoon in the Civic Centre gym with a special Christmas Tree program. One hundred and seventeen children of pre-school age and approximately 100 mothers were in attendance. It was the high light of the year for the tiny ones as Santa Claus made a surprise visit and distributed gifts to every child present. He also took messages and requests back to his northern home many of which will no doubt be taken care of on Christmas Day.

The children sat in a circle around the huge Christmas Tree which had been decorated by the Civic Centre staff earlier in the day. During the telling of the Christmas stories and the presentation of the gifts the gymnasium was in darkness except for the Christmas tree lights which made a very attractive setting for the event. The parents watched from the gymnasium balcony and seemed to enjoy the proceedings equally as well as the children.

This Tiny Tots class is a co-operative effort with leadership provided by the parents and the Civic Centre staff. Leaders are Mrs. B. Dougherty, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. R. E. Mortimer, Mrs. Armine Boas, Mrs. E. Blain, Mrs. D. Forward and Mrs. A. Rivett, and Mrs. J. Bowman.

Children meet each Wednesday afternoon and play singing games, action games, have marching exercises, and hear stories. The class will take its Christmas holiday now, reconvening on Wednesday, January 4th.

Tiny Hole Ties Up Many 'Phones

A tiny hole in the outer casing of a telephone cable near the corner of First Avenue and McBride Street put telephone service in the Cow Bay area and further along that part of the waterfront completely out of commission for a time yesterday until Superintendent of Utilities J. F. Edwards was able to localize the trouble and effect necessary repairs. It was a combination of hunch and measurement that enabled Mr. Edwards to find the point of trouble, he says.

Telephones in that area started going out of commission on Monday and continued doing so in increasing numbers until late Wednesday when they were almost all out.

About a month ago power lines came down over the telephone line at this point and it is believed that this was the cause of the small hole through which water seeped along the wires in one of the big rainstorms at the first of the week, thereby causing short circuit.

Recurrence of such interference should be eliminated with the policy of gradually bonding all the city's telephone cables.

Letters to the Editor

THE ENGINE DEAL

Editor, Daily News:
In December 3 issue of the Prince Rupert Daily News there appeared on the front page an article stating that the city needed a new emergency pumping plant and that, after some discussion the council had decided to call for tenders from several machine companies for a new plant.

Upon making inquiries from the city engineer I found, or it appears, that there were no specification sheets prepared. However, the engineer was most helpful and supplied all the information required from memory. This was that a direct connected diesel pumping unit of about 200 horse power with pump capacity of 1200 United States gallons per minute at a 400 foot head including pipe friction was required and the tender must be in by 12 noon, December 12, 1949—a pretty short time for a tender of this type in view of present market conditions.

I now find that this had been under consideration by the council for some time prior to the local announcement. However, some of us were able to get our tenders in before the deadline. The pump capacity was stressed and, according to two reputable pump manufacturers, I am led to believe the actual continuous horsepower required I consider no reflection upon the city engineer as he was on the safe side in his estimate. But what I do find pretty stiff competition is the Board of Works figuring to recommend the purchase of a plant powered by a 140 BHP continuous after being advised that a 160 BHP is required to do the job we tendered on.

It is reasonable to assume that the lower power would cost less and, in view of the fact we were required to tender on a plant of a specified size, I do not think it a fair set-up to now buy one of less power unless they have had advice of an engineer thoroughly familiar or who has specialized in this type of equipment and who can say the smaller powered plant will do what was called for in the tenders. I wonder if the Board of Works has done this.

LIKED EDITION

Editor, Daily News:
I have perused the international edition of the Daily News and the Ketchikan Alaska Chronicle and would like to congratulate you upon the initiative and enterprise you have displayed and to express appreciation of the public service you are rendering both locally and internationally. Coincident is your announcement of the expansion of your plant and plans commensurate with developments. I was interested in your paper from an early date. Through me the Optimist was acquired and the name changed to the News. A number of citizens joined a syndicate in the enterprise. There were three papers in Rupert in the early days and going was tough. The News ran into rough water and it was necessary to reorganize. The late F. G. Dawson and myself acquired the paper. Subsequently I ran into the late H. F. Pullen who bought the paper and who deserved great credit for gradually expanding it under still very trying circumstances.

To the present owners and management I wish every success.

It is over forty years since I settled in Prince Rupert, having decided so to do after interviews with the late Sir Charles M. Hayes and the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier and have never regretted doing so.

Many vicissitudes frustrated early expectations. Time and endeavor and events have brought about developments which seem certain to proceed with increasing momentum.

T. D. PATTULLO.

APPRECIATION

Editor, Daily News,
On behalf of the fishermen of Alaska, I want to extend to you and to the people of Prince Rupert our heartfelt and sincere appreciation of your fine International Edition published jointly with the Ketchikan Alaska Chronicle as a prelude to Alaskan Statehood and Industrial Development.

I think that the fishermen of Alaska realize, more than most any other group, the part which Prince Rupert will play in the development of Alaska when Alaska becomes a State.

I wish, through this letter, to extend the thanks of the Alaska Fishermen, who sponsored the special edition of the Ketchikan Chronicle, to each and every organization and individual who helped to make the International Edition possible.

Very truly yours,

W. O. SMITH,
Chairman, Alaska Fishermen's Committee,
Ketchikan, Alaska.

Cambrai Chapter Christmas Cheer

Christmas hampers and gifts will be distributed to needy families in the city by Cambrai Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, it was decided by the chapter when it met this week at the home of Mrs. M. G. Gormely, Fourth Avenue West. Disbursements to the two adopted schools of the chapter—Booth Memorial and Conrad Street—as well as towards Empire work in India and seamen's amenities were made.

Following the meeting, delicious refreshments were served and moving pictures were shown by Mrs. Jens Muhle including very interesting scenes which were taken on a trip to Norway.

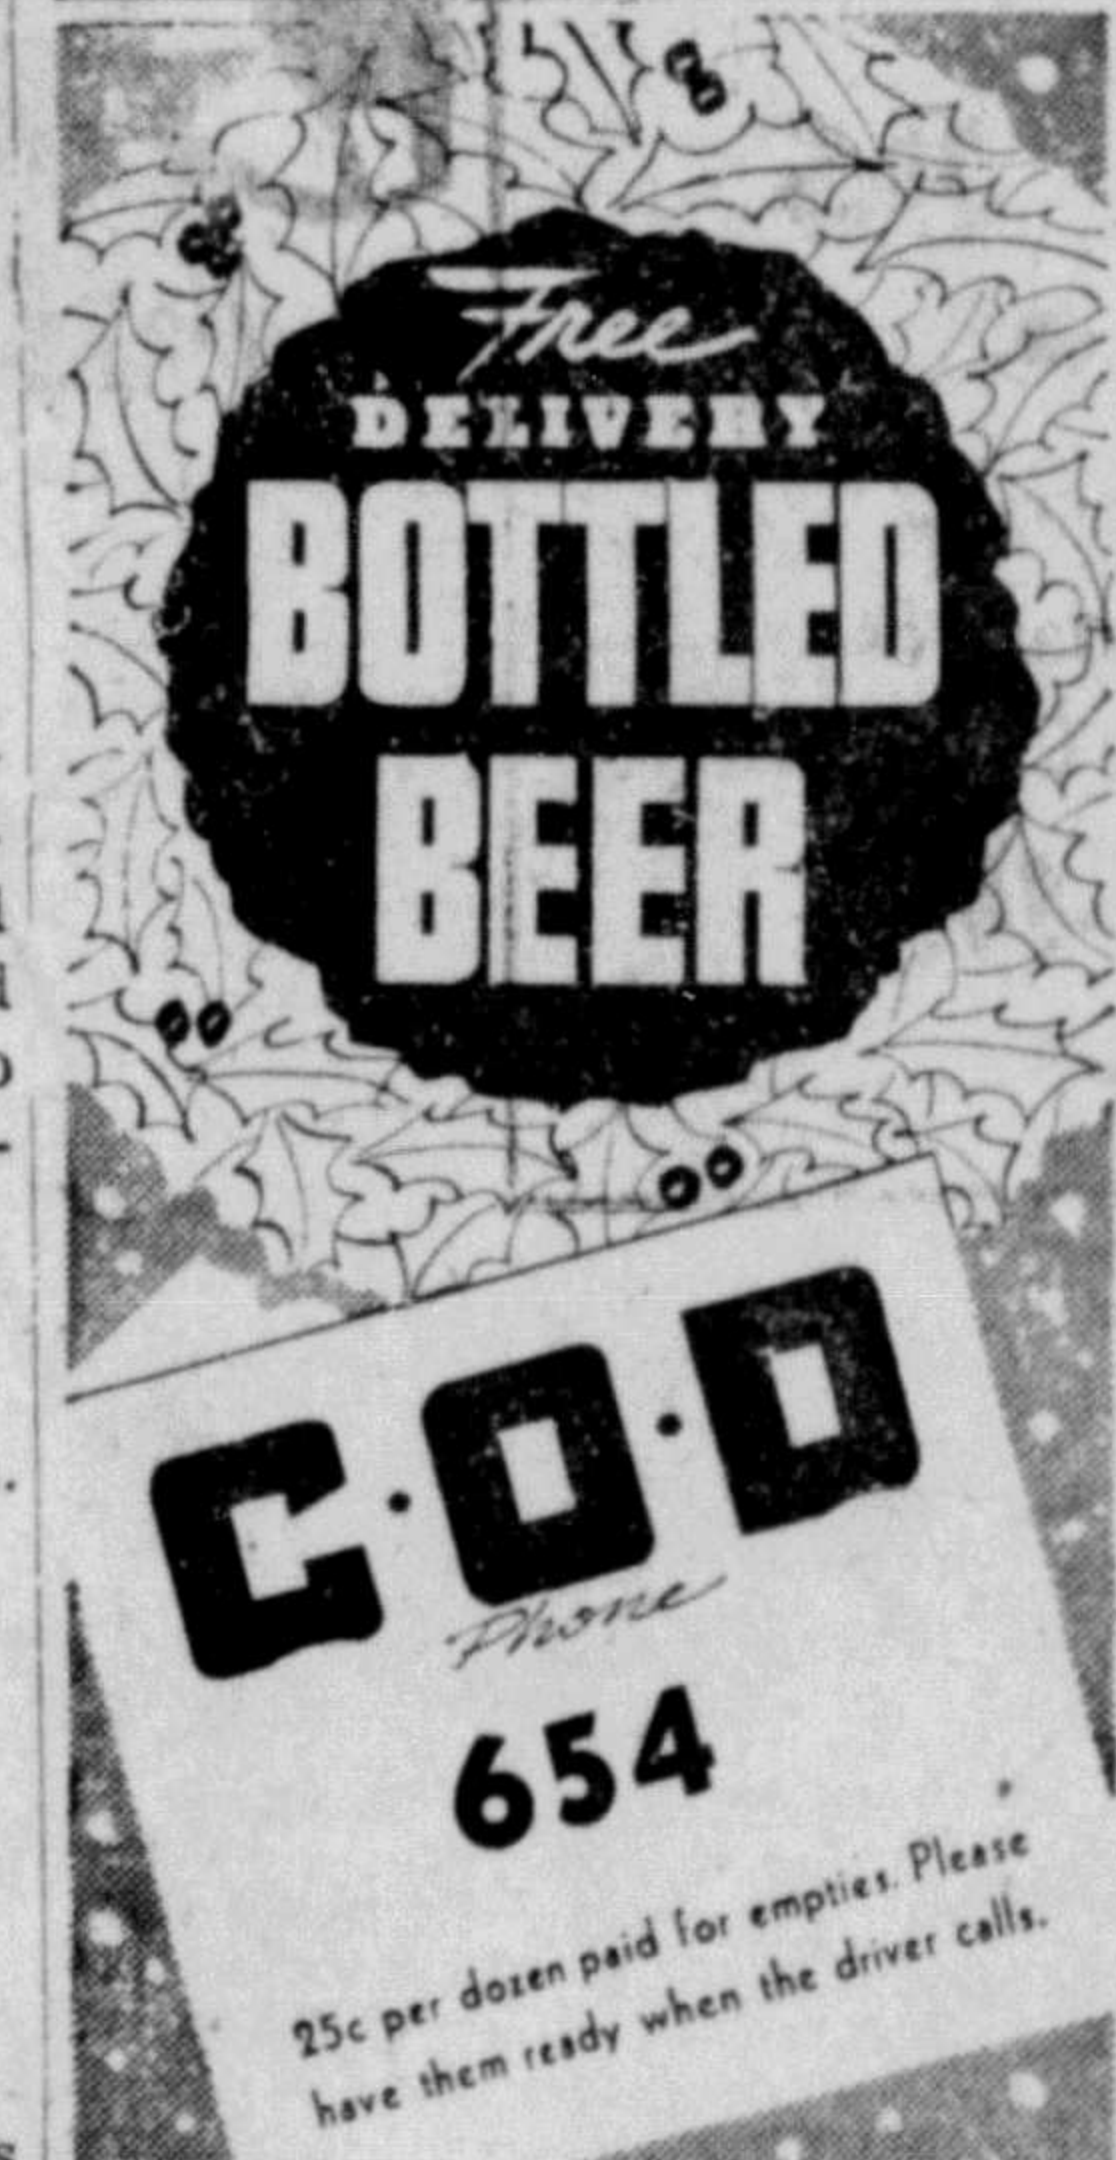

Pleased With Housing Plan

An interesting new plan for facilitating and extending assistance to housing projects within municipalities whereby entire new residential sections would be opened up with federal and provincial governments co-operating to distribute services which would be brought to the border of the area by the municipalities was discussed when municipal representatives got together with Premier Byron Johnson, Minister of Municipalities R. C. MacDonaid, their departmental officials and Central Mortgage and Housing officials in Victoria this week. The conference was attended by H. D. Thain, city clerk, who will present his report on the gathering to the city council at a special meeting late this afternoon.

Both Mayor Nora Arnold and the city clerk have expressed satisfaction with the plan and the possibility of its being adapted to Prince Rupert.

May Clinch Trophy—

Bo-Me-Hi Heading Ketchikanward To Resume International Series

The Booth Memorial High School basketball team headed north to Ketchikan on the Princess Norah today in quest of the First National Bank international goodwill trophy. They have a big lead over their Ketchikan rivals in the fact that they have already won two games of the four game series. They play the third game tonight and a win gives them the trophy. If they lose tonight but win tomorrow night they will still retain the trophy and if they lose both of their Ketchikan games, the series winner will be determined on the total point score of the four game series. Bo-Me-Hi carries an eighteen point lead into the series.

Coach Jack Evans will start tonight's game with his second string, playing Lawrence Kristmanson at centre, Bud Ratchford and Danny Bill forwards, Jack Sharpe and Bill McChesney guards. The first string has Sid Scherk at centre, Glen Carlson and Mickey Webster forwards, and Ray Spring and Eric Moore guards.

If the trophy is won on tonight's game Saturday's game will be an exhibition one.

After a rest on Sunday the boys will travel to Metlakatla for a game with the strong Vets team on Monday evening.

Travelling with the team are nine members of the School Routers Club. Bill Harvey, Mona Lykegaard, Ann Stromdahl, Lenora Faught, Beth Astoria, May Leask, Joyce Tattersall, Madeline Youngma and Benita Windle. The whole party will be supervised by Jack Evans, High School physical director and coach

High Marks In Bowling

A new high Men's single game and three games total was set by Jack Paul Wednesday night in Mixed League Bowling. With a spare in the first frame, Jack Paul scored 11 consecutive strikes to end up with 435 and a three game total of 872. Bertha Dunbar, also of Manson's scored high ladies single and three game totals of 257 and 690, sparking Manson's to a four point victory over Royal Blues. Other team results were:

MAYBE HE SHOULD HAVE "SAT THIS ONE OUT"—Theodore Medina, gentleman at the right, French bantamweight champion, had a very busy, if not dizzy fight on his hands when he encountered Manuel Ortiz, bantamweight champion of the world. During a 10-round, non-title bout, at Paris, France, Medina was up and down (five times), so much, that he had the appearance of an elevator. It was during his last trip to the bottom that judges came up to give decision to Ortiz.

A picture of Kitimaat appears in a recent issue of the Vancouver Sun, together with the announcement that it is here a new northern community will follow the successful working out of Aluminum Co. of Canada plans. Kitimaat is described as a short distance below Prince Rupert with hardly any signs of settlement, and situated at the head of Douglas Channel which would be connected by a rail line with Terrace.

The Commission plan to expend $25,000 to complete the rebuilding and enlargement of its Burns Lake power project which would mean an extension to serve the Decker Lake area.
