North Korean Breakthrough Admitted

Government Is Upheld

OTTAWA — The House of Commons voted 145 to 59 today against a Progressive-Conservative motion of non-confidence in the government.

The motion was sponsored by the Progressive - Conservative leader, George Drew who charged the government with having "failed to provide adequately for the defence of Canada" and with having "failed to take steps to deal with inflation and the rapidly rising cost of living."

It was moved during debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. The debate ended with the adoption of the address "on division" with a formally recorded vote.

On the non-confidence motion, the Progressive - Conservatives were supported by the CCF and Social Credit parties and by two Independents.

A C.C.F. motion of non-confidence was defeated Saturday by a vote of 93 to 18. It was similar to the Progressive-Conservative motion but, in addition, called for reimposition of price controls and revival of subsidies. It also urged government aid to backward countries.

Conclusion of the debate opens the way for discussion on government measures to increase defence expenditures, recruit a force for service in Korea or elsewhere and provide armed assistance to countries of western Europe.

MRS. SUNDAL PASSES

Funeral takes place tomorrow afternoon.

SABOTAGE IN FIRES
TORONTO — The Toronto Star said today in a dispatch from Quebec that evidence had been uncovered that fires which burned the liner Noronic in Toronto a year ago and the liner Quebec at Tadoussac, Quebec, this summer were caused by sabotage by the same two persons in each case.

Big Dance Tops Off Labor Day

The Civic Centre auditorium was crowded to capacity Monday night with merry-makers topping off the last summer week-end. Following the successful sports day for the children, dancing to the Blue Star orchestra provided the fun for adults. The Trades and Labor Day committee in charge report the dance successful financially as well as socially.

H.M.C.S. Chatham Staff Officer

New arrivals in Prince Rupert are Lt. Cdr. and Mrs. Golby and family who arrived on the Princess Louise yesterday. Lt. Cdr. Golby takes over duties as staff officer at H.M.C.S. Chatham, relieving Lt. George Brown, who has held the post for the past few months. He comes from Esquimalt where he has been attending the U.N.T.D. school. He was formerly commanding officer of the reserve fleet at Esquimalt.

Lt. Cdr. Golby said his transfer to Prince Rupert was part of the plan to build up the establishment here. Local men will be used as much as possible, although the staff will be increased also.

During the war he served on the Atlantic coast, England and for a while on the Pacific coast. In the family are three daughters, Sharon, Georgina and Riska, and one son, Wake.

Organized Labor Vigorously Defended By Minister Gregg

TORONTO—Hon. M. F. Gregg, V.C., minister of labor, yesterday vigorously defended the good name of organized labor against the reflections which had been made in the recent railway strike dispute. Speaking at a luncheon of the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition which was attended by national and Toronto labor leaders, Mr. Gregg declared that reflections which had been cast upon organized labor could not be allowed to go unanswered. Charges of blackmail against organized labor were no more justified, declared the minister, than were charges of dictatorship against the railway managements. Both parties, in the course of the dispute, had followed every process of law to the letter.

Mr. Gregg said: "I do not intend today to review the complexities of this dispute. The dispute has been fully covered by the press of Canada, examined and re-examined from every conceivable point of view. The effects of the stoppage of our rail transportation has reached into every community in the country. Public examination of this matter is valuable and desirable and everyone has formed opinions of his own. These opinions, as time goes on, will be modified as they are proven right or wrong."

"However, there is evidence of one opinion being held which must not go unchallenged. I refer to a misinterpretation of the events resulting in a tendency to cast reflections on the good name of organized labor in this matter. The term irresponsible has been applied to the action of organized labor in this dispute. The charge of blackmail against the workers is the kind of talk that can do no more good than the charge of dictatorship against management. The long history of labor-management relations in this country stands as absolute proof against this charge. If any specific example is needed we do not have to look back farther than World War II to find evidence of trade unionism's acceptance of its responsibilities to the nation."

"Both parties to the dispute carried out to the letter every process required by the law. The strike, which was called, was a legal strike. In any other

McInnis Is Critical Of His Leader

OTTAWA—Angus McInnis, C.C.F. member for Vancouver East, criticized his party leader, M. J. Coldwell, yesterday in the House of Commons for being "unrealistic" in connection with the situation in the Far East. Mr. McInnis was referring to a statement made by Mr. Coldwell that Chiang Kai-Shek should be driven out of Formosa and kept out. If Chiang moved out of Formosa, the Communists would move in, Mr. McInnis declared.

Miss Prince Rupert Home

"It was just wonderful — an experience which any girl would be fortunate to have," enthused Lorraine Youngman, "Miss Prince Rupert" of 1950 who returned home last week from Vancouver where she vied with twenty-five other lovelies from all parts of British Columbia for "Miss P.N.E." honors at the Pacific National Exhibition. "Miss Bur-naby" (Della Calhoun) won the title this year and, with it, a grand prize of a month's all-expense tour from coast to coast of Canada to visit all the capital cities of the Dominion. "Miss Prince Rupert" did not do so badly herself. She placed within the first six girls in the contest and brought back a load of gift-which were showered upon her, such as kerchiefs, nyons, perfumes, cosmetics and, most prized, a silver plaque which will be prized as a permanent memento. Lorraine has now settled down again to her job at Columbia Cellulose.

For a whole week it was one continual round of pleasure and excitement — all on the house. There were banquets, luncheons, parties, visit to a North Shore "farm" for swimming and a visit to a racehorse stable. Twice a day there were public appearances on the stage of the Exhibition Forum where the "Sweethearts of B.C." provided background for the two star entertainers of the show—Will Carter and Rufe Davis, noted radio entertainers. Everywhere the girls were under surveillance of unidentified judges of beauty, personality and deportment.

Culminating and exciting event of the week came at the final appearance when the choice of "Miss P.N.E." became known after which a farewell banquet marked the conclusion of the competition.

Miss Youngman travelled to Vancouver and back by plane. The girls stayed at Hotel Georgia instead of Hotel Vancouver, where they were scheduled to be guests but which was closed at the time on account of the railway strike.

The out-of-town girls were taken on tours of the city and at Vancouver City Hall were received by Mayor Charles Thompson who took them around the fine municipal building and had them sign the same guest register as the King and Queen.

Competition For Young Married At Celebration

Friday was kiddies' day in every sense of the word. Hundreds of children thronged to Roosevelt Park for the Trades and Labor Council sports. Parents and friends were there in large numbers to watch the youngsters compete in the fast moving sports program. Lowering clouds threatened throughout the day but rain held off and went according to plan. The soap box derby was the main attraction. John Eloffson and John of the St. John's Brigade, who had the lead on the grounds, crashed into a truck. The Prince Rupert Band lived through the day. The high luck stories were told. Stanley Parker, box "Sio-Mo-Shun," completing a very long run on Sixth Street, crashed into a trucking him over the car beyond repair. He had almost won the prize for the best time when he tripped and fell. The course flocked with spectators. The crowd cleared a path for the contestants. For hard luck was the 15-16 year old race for boys. He up a strong fight when he tripped and fell halfway through the race. It was won by Gus Watson. Watson came along to win the straight over Gus Watson.

Box Derby is Outstanding

Created Even More Interest Than Anticipated
Yesterday's soap box derby proved even a greater attraction than was anticipated when the whole course was lined several deep from the top of the hill on Sixth Avenue West from Tatlow Street to McBride. Contestants were handicapped by people who swarmed over the road in spite of being pushed back by a police car prior to each heat. There were several mishaps, the most damaging of which was when Stanley Parker's Sio-Mo-Shun struck a policeman knocking him over and smashing up his car. In other accidents along the course, Dickie Bury's "Bat" struck a boy and was sent flying into the ditch, and two cars crashed on the way down.

Grand prize was won by Arthur Turcotte and Billy Watmough who brought their "Gray Streak" to a smoking finish. Second was "Low Gear," piloted by Harold Hill with Carl Jackson as passenger, winners of the first heat and "Junk Heap 56" with Brian Roberts and Art Parent.

Course officials were Sgt. L. A. N. Potterton, Tom Parkin, Mrs. van Pykstra, Henry Blair, Buster Hill, Don Llewellyn and Jack Ewart.

Some soap boxes were not eligible for competition because they had not been entered, according to contest rules.

British Labor Party Meeting

LONDON—Opening the annual conference of the British Labor Party yesterday, the president, H. L. Bullock, called for wholehearted support of the United Nations in Korea and a campaign against the Communists. He advocated discretion in wage increase demands in view of the world situation.

Then and Now

"The heart aye's the part aye That makes us right or wrang."

SAY what they will about the British Empire, although it has blundered and occasionally been in the wrong, the heart of the British people was always in the right place. As a world power Britain preserved the freedom of the seas and maintained general peace among the nations for a hundred years, and at the same time extended the bounds of civilization by her explorers, traders and colonization.

In comparing Russian imperialism with that of Britain, it must be remembered that the world today is very different from what it was a hundred years ago. The British Empire was a comparatively slow growth, and Britain did not start out with a mighty and highly organized military force to dominate and impose an ideology upon the civilized nations of the world.

In the present world situation, the truth is that we are all more or less right and wrong. Ideally the pacifist may be perfectly right in advocating non-resistance to Communist aggression because war is wrong. But we do not live in an ideal world, and however much we may hate war and strive for international peace, we would be cowards and moral paralytics if we refused to defend ourselves against the forces of evil and to fight for what we believe is right.

CHILD PSYCHOLOGY

ONE school of psychologists, for some years prominent in the field of giving advice to parents, used to preach, and probably still does, that children should never be frustrated. The theory was that frustration in childhood would bring on all kinds of undesirable complexes in adult life, whereas, with freedom to do exactly as it pleased, the child, if it survived its formative years, would learn by experience the value of socially useful behaviour, and would become civilized by the time it reached maturity.

The record of juvenile delinquency, particularly in larger Canadian cities, during the past decade suggests that there are flaws in the theory. Adolescents who were not controlled in childhood now have to be frustrated by the police when their unrestrained impulses lead them into gang warfare, car thefts and assault and robbery of peaceful citizens.

If they were to follow these amusements unmoled, these adolescents, it is true, might achieve the status of responsible adults, simply through boredom with their present courses. So the psychologists' theory cannot be completely disproved. Society cannot afford the experiment.

If the aim of education is to train a child to become fitted to the society of which he is a part, frustration should be an essential of his training and it can hardly begin too early. He should learn that punishment will follow bad conduct, while reward, less certainly, may follow good. Parents are safer in following the advice of King Solomon than the fashions of the latest Ph.D. in psychology.

The theory of frustration as a basis for education can certainly be supported by results, for most adults were brought up by the more or less old-fashioned method condemned by modern psychology, and old-fashioned parents believed in strict restraint of their offspring's natural predilection for mayhem and other forms of violence. One socially desirable result of the old-fashioned methods is that Canadians are, on the whole, a law-abiding people. Another result, socially desirable from the point of view of Ottawa, is the physical safety of the controllers and inspectors appointed under the authority of Acts and Regulations for the purpose of continuing indefinitely the process of frustration.

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT LAUGH AND LEARN CAMP

THIS WILL BE my last report from the 1950 YMCA Camp Elphinstone. We have really had a grand time here this year. One thing that puzzles me is why more people do not take advantage of such affairs. Certainly I do not know any way of getting more for $24 than the participants get here.

Dr. Wm. A. Black and I were chatting about this a few minutes ago. We came to the conclusion that the high sounding name scares off many people. The fact is the Public Affairs Institute—and hence people conjure up a picture of dull high-brow lectures, with a lot of tedious sessions.

ACTUALLY THERE is never a dull moment from morning to night—in fact, till far into the night. True, there are two lectures per day, plus one hour's group discussions. But the lectures are given either while the listeners lie around on the grass, in the glorious sun; or at night in a natural amphitheatre on the seashore, where the speaker stands beside a huge bonfire.

Last night, for instance, Professor Earl Birney talked on "Arts and the Future." He gave a close-up view of some of the problems of art and possibilities for young writers. Then after the question period and our goodnight cocoa, he read about eight selections of poetry.

This morning Dr. Black gave his talk on "Immigration—Canada's Capabilities and Responsibilities." Thousands of ex-students of the University of British Columbia remember Dr. Black not only as an excellent lecturer on such subjects as logic but as their official personal counselor. Now he is a newly appointed citizenship director for the Department of Immigration. He gave a fine talk, not only on the policies of our government on immigration, but on ways and means of fitting the various ra-

Rail Headache Not Over Yet

OTTAWA — The railway strike is settled but the government railway headache lingers on as it faces the prospect that it may have to establish an arbitrator to settle finally on wages and hours between the companies and the unions.

The government also faces the question of reaching a decision on the appeal of seven provinces against the latest freight rate increases awarded the railways by the Board of Transport Commissioners and it must also deal with the report of the Royal Commission on transportation early this year or next.

The problem of equalized freight rates also looms. Special groups into the Canadian national family.

The most helpful things that came out of today's group discussions were these:

There should be trained social workers assigned to live right with the various groups, like the Doukhobors, so that there be a continuous mutually helpful and positive relationship between them and the nation as a whole.

There should be a greatly increased national expenditure to establish art training centres; scholarships for promising young artists (including painters, musicians, dancers, writers, and so on). It was suggested that some of these grants might be made "for services rendered." That is, that the recipient of such grants might be required to do some public service for them, either while receiving the grant or later.

BUT HERE RIGHT in this camp we see what latent possibilities there are in the Canadian people. Just in the natural course of the day's fun we get fine singing, and quite good amateur acting, mostly comic.

There are about thirty people out on the lawn now, taking their art lesson from Cliff Robinson. Many of them, including my wife, have never taken any lessons before but they are all having a whale of a time. Maybe the jokes and pranks that they go in for with such gusto would stale a bit if you had to take too much of this at a time. But for eight days—at $24 including board—hoot mon, it's a Scotsman's pride and joy.

TONIGHT we are having our masquerade dance. I am going as a Highlander, complete with kilt, improvised for a tartan blanket.

The wife is making a sari from a sheet. But the Scotch side is coming out in her too. Just in case, she's wearing a bathing suit underneath.

Illegal Fishing Brings Stiff Rap

QUEEN CHARLOTTE CITY — Capt. Ernest Gladstone of the seiner V.G.T. II was convicted here in Magistrate E. S. Richardson's court of fishing with a purse seine in a salmon stream at Lyall Island. He was fined $300, 1,100 pinks and his seine being confiscated.

Theft Conviction Brings $100 Fine

George Perrault was Saturday fined in Magistrate H. D. Thain's court, $100 or in default three months' imprisonment when convicted on a charge of theft of over $200. The charge arose after a woman missed a purse she had left in a washroom at Eagle Rooms. When she returned a little later it was missing. She was able to identify Perrault whom she had seen entering the washroom when she was leaving.

Inspector F. B. Woods-Johnson left on Saturday's plane for Vancouver enroute to Regina where he will take up new duties as training officer for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Yippee! DOUGHNUT TWISTS

Raised light and tender with new fast DRY Yeast!

● There's a new twist in doughnuts — a new thrill in all your baking! Say goodbye to perishable yeast! Fleischmann's Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast keeps full strength until you use it — retaining when you use it. Get a dozen packages — it keeps in your cupboard!

DOUGHNUT TWISTS

● Scald 1/2 c. milk, 1/2 c. granulated sugar, 1 1/2 tps. salt and 1/2 c. shortening; cool to lukewarm. Meanwhile, measure into a large bowl 1/2 c. lukewarm water, 1 tsp. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, THEN stir well. Add cooled milk mixture and stir in 2 well-beaten eggs and 1 tsp. vanilla. Stir in 2 c. once-sifted bread flour; beat until smooth. Work in 2 1/4 c. (about) once-sifted bread flour. Knead on lightly-floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl and grease top of dough. Cover and set in a warm place, free from draught. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough and roll out into a rectangle, 1/2" thick; loosen dough; roll again to 1/2" thickness. Cut into strips 7" long and 1/2" wide. Fold strips in half, twist, the a pinch ends together. Arrange well apart, on lightly-floured cookie sheets; grease tops. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Carefully lift, a few at a time, into shortening that has been heated to 365° — hot enough to brown a cube of day-old bread in 60 seconds. When under-sides are browned, turn and cook second sides. Carefully lift from fat and drain on absorbent paper. Coat with a mixture of fruit sugar and cinnamon or brush hot doughnuts with the following syrup: Heat, stirring until the sugar dissolves, 1 c. granulated sugar, 1/4 c. butter or margarine and 1/4 c. water; simmer 5 mins., then stir in 1 tsp. vanilla; keep hot over boiling water — if syrup becomes too sugary, stir in a little boiling water and heat to boiling point. Yield — 3 dozen doughnuts. Note: Dough may be cut with an orthodox doughnut cutter; fry the doughnuts and the "holes".

Miss Laila Husoy, who is attending college at Cheney, Washington, and who has been working in Spokane during the summer vacation, arrived in the city on Saturday afternoon's plane for a two weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Husoy, Fourth Avenue East.

Battery Wins Soccer Shield

Ganymers Defeat Canadian Legion 4-2 Last evening's Benefit Shield football game resulted in a win for the Heavy Battery over Canadian Legion by four goals to two after a well-contested game. The Battery pressed from the start as the Legion was short-handed and Darrow Gomez headed in a goal when Krause seemed slow in coming out to intercept the cross from Cameron. Darrow Gomez put the Battery two goals up with a fine drive. Then, from Murray's free kick, the ball went to Smith and Baxner who gave Morgan no chance with a hard drive from close range. In the second half the Battery did more pressing and Krause did well to save several good shots. From A. Gomez's cross Pavlikis put his team another goal up and from Cameron's cross A. Gomez beat Krause from close in. Smith finally got through and beat Morgan just before the final whistle went, leaving the Battery winners by four goals to two.

Can Anscob Take It?—Old Vic is Through —“Duff” Smart as Ever

VICTORIA—Political observers are wondering if Herb Anscob can ride the storm that's now brewing about his wine and beer interests.

The junior part of the Conservative party says Anscob will have to make up his mind whether he stays in the booze business or quits leadership of the Tory party.

The whole subject will be argued about at the October 6-7 convention of the Conservative Party in Vancouver.

Mr. Anscob said the other day that it has been well known his business is wine and beer and that it never went against his being elected Reeve of Oak Bay, Mayor of Victoria and five times a member of the Legislature. He said he will have something more to say on the matter at the convention.

There's no doubt Anscob will have a rough ride. He sells his wine and beer products to a Government board. However, there's no indication he gets any favoritism or that his brands have a monopoly. He sells in competition with beer and wine from Australia and Eastern Canada.

If there was anything irregular about Mr. Anscob's selling wine and beer to a Government board the Opposition would have smoked it out long ago and made political capital of it. The Opposition has long realized the hopelessness of such an attempt.

Just the same, if a politician can be smeared by calling him a booze baron it could well go hard with him. Mr. Anscob doesn't like the present situation. He's nervous, but defiant. He'll stick to his guns.

Capt. G. Cromack is getting ready to work with his sixth Lieut-Governor. He's private secretary at Government House, where Clarence Wallace takes over October 1 as Lieut-Governor. Cromack is something of an institution in Victoria. He's an expert on protocol, always knows who should sit next to who, and how far up or down the table, at an official Government House dinner. He knows the official Ottawa precedence list by heart and has never been known to make a social blunder.

Cromack went to Government House during the regime of Hon. R. Randolph Bruce in 1927 and has served under Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, Hon. E. W. Hamber, Hon. W. C. Woodward and Hon. C. A. Banks. He has made arrangements for many distinguished people. The most outstanding: President and Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt in 1937; the King and Queen in 1939.

In his spare time Cromack is an artist and has painted the coats-of-arms of every Governor-General of Canada who has visited Government House. This interesting collection of shields hangs over the baronial fireplace in the State dining room at Government House.

In this capital by the sea there's sadness because the gallant old steamer Princess Victoria has ended her days on this coast. Tired and worn out, she is to be sold to shipping interests far away or will be broken up.

The old "Vic" has been a remarkable ship. She came from her builders in England in 1903 and for years was the beauty and speed queen of the coast. She has carried more than a million passengers, has steamed hundreds-of-thousands of miles. Through the years she wrapped a personality about herself, much as a human being does. Her whistle has been unique; waterfront folk would know it if they heard it at winter midnight at the North Pole. Generations of Victorians set their watches by the Vic's whistle, for in all the years she was seldom late.

Ran into three noted retired politicians the other day—former Premier "Duff" Pattullo, growing older and stouter, but smart as ever; former Premier John Hart, looking dapper and slim in a Palm Beach suit and former Health and Welfare Minister George Pearson, looking well, but not feeling so. He's under daily hospital treatment. He told me he supposes he'll be able to carry on as a private M.L.A. for Nanaimo next session but is not yet sure. No one wants to get rid of George Pearson, but the scent of a possible by-election gets all the politicians eager as beavers.

Kitkatla Honors Respected Woman

Three funeral services were held for Mrs. Flora Hill, wife of Matthew Hill and one of the most highly respected native women of the village of Kitkatla, whose death occurred in the city last week. Interment finally took place in Kitkatla on Sunday.

First there was a service last Thursday afternoon at the chapel of the B.C. Undertakers at which Rt. Rev. James B. Gibson, Bishop of Caledonia, officiated, assisted by Rev. Canon Basil S. Prockter. Jonathan Hill, brother of the widower, presided at the organ and hymns were "Lead Kindly Light" and "My Faith Looks Up to Thee." It was a joint service, also for Joseph, the one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ridley of Kitkatla, who had passed away a few days earlier.

Following the service in the city, the remains were taken to Kitkatla on Saturday where they were met by Rev. C. L. Lomas and Canon Prockter with the Anglican mission boat Northern Cross who held a service at the home of the deceased. On Sunday another service was held by lay readers at St. Peter's Church who also conducted the burial service.

Mrs. Hill's death occurred at the Prince Rupert General Hospital after several months' illness. Fifty-two years of age, she was born at Kitkatla, the daughter of Henry Watt and his first wife, Louisa Twain, also of Kitkatla. Deceased's first husband was the late James Jackson of Kitkatla.

Following marriage to Mr. Hill, five children were adopted—three boys and two girls. Besides these foster children, Mrs. Hill leaves two sons—Wilfrid and Ernest Jackson—and several stepsons and a stepdaughter.

Mrs. Hill was a member of the choir of St. Peter's Church at Kitkatla and honorary president until 1949 of the Excelsior Club of which her husband is still honorary president.

A member of the Shanhabda tribe of Indians, Mrs. Hill, for the greater part of her life, was an interested worker and leader among the populace of Kitkatla. She was also a member of the American Woman's Auxiliary with which she was an ardent worker. Christianity being the keystone of her endeavours, she did much towards helping the people of Kitkatla to raise their standards of living and education.

In the month of April this year Canadians earned in salaries, wages and supplementary income $642,000,000, which was 5% more than in April, 1949.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

SEPTEMBER'S SHAKE!

That languid feeling will pass. It began to steal over one on Sunday, around breakfast hour—or did you have refreshments in bed? It was felt again on Monday, when, through the mists of sleep, there was no job persistently beckoning. But this awakening was brutal. This was the stern call of duty—but also pay checks.

Seems Familiar

A long, winding sort of steamship blast is due to blow over the harbor about 11.30 a.m. tomorrow. Plenty of local people will be prepared to say they have heard it before and missed it last week.

On the Up and Up

Plane crews took the place of trains and boats for part of August and each more than measured up to what surely was an emergency. For after all, the service is new, and to some, an adventurous novelty. With bookings by the column and many thousands anxious to be on the move and like enough worried sick, the alert men and women of the airways, worked to the limit, carried on without slip or flaw.

George Not Doing It

In nearly a dozen cases in the August building list, the jobs were performed by "self" instead of contractor or carpenter. It was not like that years ago. Today, anything favoring of construction, no matter how small, means cash—which is always important, and sometimes exclusive.

Facing Possible Facts

General Pearkes, who has been heard in Prince Rupert, urges on Ottawa the necessity of more Canadian defence with special reference to the Pacific coast. He has been doing so for years and at times when there seemed less occasion for such a course than exists today. A winner of the Victoria Cross, he has seen war indeed, and is entitled to have his opinions received with respect.

"Action Stations!"

About nine days saw the commencement and finish of strikes on Canada's railways, and Pacific steamship organizations. Considering their enormous scope, the volume of travel and traffic, and the number of individuals affected as well as the complexities involved, that's pretty quick action. Many an industrial dispute of infinitely less importance has dragged on for months.

And Russia, at That!

With the exception of Great War veterans there are few who can picture Prince Rupert occupied by Russia, suggested as a possibility by General Pearkes,

Seiners Catch Up To 5,000 to Boat

Seining for chums off the Queen Charlotte Islands last week was very good with catches up to 5,000 per boat reported for some days. Mainland catches are remaining roughly the same at about 1000 salmon per day.

More area will be available for fishermen this week when inland waters in the Butedale area south of McKay Reach will be re-opened to seiners and gillnetters. The Bella Bella, Rivers and Smith's Inlet areas remain open. Masset Inlet at the north of the Queen Charlotte Islands was closed recently but the remainder of the islands, the west coast, central and southern areas are open.

V.C. M.P. of Nanaimo. Here, normal life has always been taken as a matter of course. There has never been real physical understanding of the expression "the enemy." There would come bewildering surprises.

MONTREAL, Aug. 31st—This is the surest way I know to take the uncertainty out of pickling... Rely on these two pickling helps!—The free booklet—"Pickling Success"—16 pages of grand recipes (Simply write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for your copy)—and be sure to use HEINZ WHITE VINEGAR at pickling time! When you shop for vegetables and fruits for pickling, you insist on the best. So why not do the same with vinegar? Heinz White Vinegar is made from corn, barley, malt and rye—distilled and then aged in wood to bring out the full aroma and flavour. Excellent!—not only for pickling and preserving—but for salads and table use, too!

It's A Toast to health and beauty when you drink the juice of one fresh lemon in a glass of water first thing on arising every morning... for this natural fruit drink helps you keep regular the healthful way! That's because lemon-in-water doesn't "tie you up in knots" as harsh laxatives do... simply alkalizes and aids digestion to help your system regulate itself! So follow the healthful way to natural regularity... let refreshing lemon-in-water "wake you up" every morning. But be sure to specify SUNKIST CALIFORNIA LEMONS... they're the finest, juiciest grown!

And Back To School they go! But, mothers, may I suggest right now while you're busy outfitting the children for school opening, that you insist on seeing the NEOLITE mark on the soles of all shoes you buy. Economy-wise Neolite outwears leather over 2 to 1—it's light, pliable and needs no "breaking in". Neolite does not cause itchy feet, perspiration, foot odours or foot burning... and, how much you'll appreciate the fact that these sturdy soles help prevent colds arising from wet feet, for Neolite is completely water-proof. Buy Neolite for all the family—you really can't get a more healthful shoe sole.

Keep It Hot... or warm baby's bottle... even boil an egg—all with the new RADIANT BK KETTLE! And all because of the new removable lid that lets you get inside or rest a pan on top! It boils anywhere there's a wall-plug handy... and in less than 3 minutes you'll have enough boiling water for 4 cups of tea! Just think of the power saved! This "kettle with legs" won't mark furniture surfaces for the heating unit is well-insulated and the feet ensure protection. So safe too... it shuts off automatically by thermostatic control—never boils dry—AND shuts off at once if it's plugged in without water. This Radiant BK Kettle with its new removable lid offers so many time-saving possibilities, you'll use it constantly.

Prize-Winning, Praise-Winning jams 'n' jellies can be happily yours when you use CERTO! Yes, jams and jellies made with Certo Fruit Pectin have that distinctive colour and flavour of gloriously tempting fresh fruits—the tender "set" that you find in the most admired jams and jellies. And on the practical side, there's the fact that Certo makes success so sure. You have no costly failures, if you follow exactly the instructions in the booklet tucked under each Certo label. You'll find you get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit, and you'll save up to 2/3 the time of the old-fashioned method.

BIG REUNION — Paul DeRoy, 104-year-old resident of Summer Falls, N.H., visited his native Quebec, and the first person he looked up was his daughter—the first time he had seen her in 66 years. ## New Sawmill For Terrace

Carl Pohle, veteran sawmill operator of Terrace, expects to be cutting lumber by next spring in his new mill across the railway track about half a mile west of town. The plant has been in course of construction for the past three years. Soon Mr. Pohle will start moving machinery from the old mill which he has operated on the Kalum road since 1923. Mr. Pohle was in the city during the week-end buying bricks for the new mill which will have a capacity of 20,000 feet to start with and may be increased. In mill and woods he employs about thirty-five men altogether. Mr. Pohle reports an active market for lumber. Business has been a good deal more profitable this year than a year ago.

Materials To Be Diverted

OTTAWA (C.P.—) Trade Minister C.D. Howe, Saturday prepared to ask Parliament for economic controls which would give him power to divert "essential" materials from civilian to defence production. This power will likely cover a vast long-range defence equipment purchasing program for production of ships, aircraft and other defence weapons for Canada's forces and forces of her North Atlantic partners.

SHIPS and WATERFRONT

C.P. s.s. Princess Louise, Capt. Charles Robson, yesterday was the first passenger ship to dock here since the last of the south-bound cruise ships left here last week. Of her 130 passengers, 80 were making the round trip to Ketchikan, Juneau and Skagway. Disembarking here were Lt. Cdr. and Mrs. J. W. Colby and daughters the Misses S. and G. Colby, F. Rank, Mr. and Mrs. Winkler, R. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Prie, R. Kemp, Miss A. Waterman, Miss P. Coldwell, Miss S. McKenna, A. F. Robertson. The Louise arrived at 12:15 noon and sailed north at 2 p.m. Passengers from here for Alaska ports included Mrs. F. Nygard, Miss J. Nygard and E. Jefferd.

Seen on the harbor for trial run Saturday was a new plywood speed boat built in their spare time by Don Morton and J. H. Black. Fourteen feet long with a 70 inch beam, the boat is powered with a 12 h.p. Ebert outboard motor and reaches a top speed of 25 miles per hour. It was built from a plan in Popular Mechanics in three weeks. The 150 pound boat was constructed of 1/4-inch plywood and carries four passengers.

Running one day behind schedule after getting back into service following settlement of the seamen's strike, Union steamer Coquitlam, Capt. John Boden, arrived in port at 4:15 yesterday afternoon from Vancouver and waypoints with a substantial list of passengers and sailed at 11 p.m. for Alice Arm, Stewart and other northern points. The vessel is due back here tomorrow morning to sail south at 1:30 p.m. Next week she will be back on regular schedule, arriving from the south Sunday afternoon and sailing for Vancouver Tuesday afternoon.

The recent railway and seamen's strike brought to an abrupt end the Alaska tourist sailings of the C.P.R. steamers Princess Kathleen and Princess Norah. The Princess Kathleen will be seen here no more this year but will go on to the Vancouver-Victoria-Seattle run for the winter. The Princess Norah will come back on the Alaska run late in the fall to replace the Princess Louise for the winter.

Last connection at Wrangle! This fall with the Ritchie Transportation vessel running up the

Nearly Suffered Bad Eye Injury

Tommy Fraser, publisher of the Omineca Herald at Terrace, did not suffer serious injury when a splash of lead struck his eye as he worked in his shop last week, but he narrowly escaped serious impairment of vision. The splash came within an ace of landing in the pupil. He was taken to hospital where the lead was removed without permanent harm. He has since been able to return to work.

From 1939 to 1949 Canada's net federal public debt per capita increased from $279.80 to $369.41.

Stikine River to Telegraph Creek will be the voyage of the steamer Princess Louise calling here September 29 northbound, it is announced.

S.s. Princess Norah, which has been operating in the Alaska tourist service during the summer, has been temporarily decommissioned and crew paid off. When the coast service is resumed, the Princess Norah will remain tied up in Vancouver and be used only during the winter to fill in on different runs while regular ships receive the regular overhaul and any necessary repairs.
