Telephone Project

IN SPITE OF the more or less tacit approval of Lity council for the project, there is no doubt a considerable difference of opinion as to the merits of the proposal to involve the city's finances to the extent of $550,000 in an ambitious new telephone system. Ald. Casey's letter in the Daily News last week brought the matter into the limelight and it was an interesting idea which he expounded that the situation might be relieved at much less cost with a sub-exchange in the east end of the city where the critical shortage of telephone service now exists.

The council's certainty that a new half million dellar telephone system will stand on its own feet and pay for itself is not shared by all citizens it is certain. At best, the undertaking would prejudice the city's credit for some time.

It is obvious that large amounts of money are needed for such things as schools, sewers, street improvements—indeed almost everything that a reasonably up-to-date and modern city should expect to have. Certainly telephone service also needs improvement and extension but the gustion is whether "the other items are not needed worse and whether it should be permitted in any way to prejudice their consummation.

A plebiscite on the project—not a bylaw to approve the financing it—is to be offered at the civic election next week. Allowed to express an opinion on this will be all the voters, regardless of whether or not they are property owners who, through payment of taxes, will in the end, directly foot the financial responsibility.

'KNOW HOW' WANTED

COMPLAINING of the run down condition and appearance of the city with its unpaved sidewalks, its inadequate electric light service, its antiquated sewer system, its insufficient water services and a generally primitive state-of-affairs, the Prince George Citizen calls upon the people of Prince George to express their faith as responsible citizens by building a city in which pride can be taken and for which they need not apologize.

"With the aldermanic elections approaching," the paper says editorially, "it is well for candidates to remember that there is increasing dissatisfaction with city conditions. Any man or any party who shows signs of cleaning up the mess will be assured of overwhelming success."

What goes for Prince George also, no doubt, can go for Prince Rupert. In fact we have been preaching along these very lines ourselves for years. We also have our big civic inadequacies and problems and, like Prince George, do not seem to be getting very far with them. And it is not from a lack of realization or the will to do something about it. So far here it seems to be a matter of the "know how."

WAR CRY CHRISTMAS NUMBER

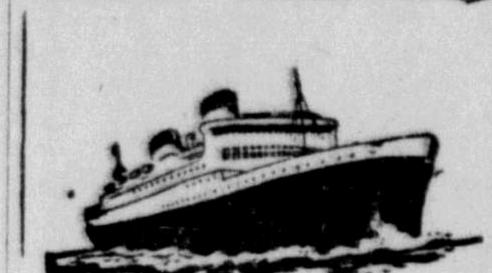

- A NOTHER Christmas issue of The War Cry, a 32-page edition, in new-size format has made its appearance.

The issue was completely designed and executed By The Salvation Army's own Editorial and Publishing Departments. The front and back covers are in timee color reproduction.

In common with all issues of The War Cry, this special edition contains no advertising whatever. This part of the country is prominently played in articles and pictures including the Skeena and Naas River sections with particular reference to the good work of the Army.

John Bulger Reaches Semi Finals in Canadian Legion Tournament

Good progress was made over the week-end in the Canadian Legion's second handicap English billiard tournament of the season. Five matches were played off. In three of these matche the results were in doubt unti the last few minutes of the game

In the first round A. M. Hursi (-10) scored a hard-fought with over Captain J. R. Elfert (x20 by a margin of 13 points. Hurs failed to catch up with his opponent until he had reached 121 when he took the lead and held it until the end of the game, the final score being 150 to 137.

George Dawes (x25), playing Rod McLeod (x20), trailed his of the match when he tied the score at 141, finally winning an

In the second round Mickey Fudger (plus 25) got back int form against W. Goddard (x10) and won easily with a score of 150 to 85.

Bert Morgan (x20), playing W Longman Gordon, (x10) had a keenly contested game in which they continually overtook one another, Morgan finally winning by 20 points with a score of 150

In the third round John Bull ger won his third successive game, thereby securing his place in the semi-final of this tournament. Bulger ,who conceded his opponent, Mickey Fudger, 20 points, played his consistently steady game, winning by 40 points with a score of 150 to 110.

Only one game, Alex Harvey vs. R. H. Simonson, remains to be played in the first round and this is scheduled for today. It is expected that the finals of this second tournament will be played off next week.

Work and Pleasure for Members of Prince Rupert Ski Club

There was another week-end of activity and enjoyment by members of the Prince Rupert Ski Club on Mount Hays.

Ascending the mountain on Saturday afternoon, bingo playing featured a social session that evening with Foster, Husoy. Eddie Dawes, Jessie Collins, Odd Fidsvik, Rusty Thain and Jeanne Husoy, the prize winners. Coffeand refreshments were served.

Sunday morning everybody went to work with a will. More bunks were erected in the cabins, stoves installed and curtains hung. Work was continued on the cabin at the ski run and smart drapes were hung i. the main lodge. There was also work on the woodpile with feliing of trees and carrying of the blocks to the cabins.

makes jobs for Canadians

Penicillin, life-saving product of medical research, begins with cultures of green mold. As the mold grows it secretes small amounts of penicillin. The production of penicillin and other drugs and vaccines demands absolutely sterile conditions. So the tanks, trays, tables, filters and other equipment used are made of Nickel alloys for ease of cleaning and resistance to corrosion. Practically all drugs, medicines, serums and vaccines in use today are products of scientific research. In designing laboratory equipment for their production, International Nickel has cooperated by supplying technical information regarding the most suitable metals. The large quantity of equipment required for pharmaceutical laboratories creates a new market for Canadian Nickel, and so increases employment for Canadians. Thus does research develop better products, increase the use of Canadian Nickel and create more employment. Poling ladle of Nichel in preparation for pouring F. Nickel shot which is used in make

The Junior Red Cross Sale held at Borden Street School Friday afternoon was a very successful affair. The sum of Articles on sale, in addition to a generous supply of home Mrs. Dee Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. tickets, which were drawn by cooking and candy provided by parents and friends, included pyrex, aluminum and flatware obtained in return for tea and coffee coupons collected by the pupils of the school. This has become a feature of the work of the Junior Red Cross members at the school. Already ated by Mrs. George Thain, ticket, since the summer vacation the children have collected 7,401

> One table loaded with plant slips and seedlings was soon disposed of. The boys of Grade Six had made many gliders and ! these all moved quickly. Woolly dolls were also a popular item and were sold out quickly.

The officers of Grade Six Junior Red Cross Branch are Julian Parnell, Alex Wesley and Emmett Meredith, with Eddie Juvik as secretary. All the pupils in the grade assisted at the sale. Mrs. S. A. Cheeseman was in general charge with Mrs. Flood, Mrs. W. McLeod, Mrs. C. Strand and Mrs. Lineham supervising the sales.

Gus Christiansen, well known hotel man of New Hazzelton, arrived in Prince Rupert Thursday evening and will be here for the next week or so. He has lived, in New Hazelton since the railway building days. The snowfall so far this winter is much heavier here than it is in his home town, he says.
