United States Is In Greatest Danger Says President To Nation

Declares State of Emergency Exists—People to Service to Save Their Liberty

WASHINGTON, D.C.—After declaring the nation in the gravest danger, President Harry S. Truman today issued a proclamation that a national emergency exists. The President announced the setting up of an office of defence mobilization with full powers. Charles Wilson, president of General Motors, was named to head the office.

The defence program be set up, that forces be expanded and production speeded up. Within the coming year, he said, plane production would be increased five times, tanks and motor transport four times. American armed forces would be increased to 3,500,000 men and women on active duty, with full mobilization if necessary.

The economy of the nation would have to be expanded and kept on an even keel. Each and every person would have to accept more responsibilities and would have to change their way of life. All would have to pay more taxes if the democratic way of life was to be preserved.

There would have to be more workers and more hours. Young and old alike would be affected. "Our freedom is as important to us as the air we breathe," Mr. Truman asserted, "and we will lose it if the Communists win."

Mr. Truman spoke of the present railway strike which was a danger to the security of the nation. He called on unions and striking workers to return to work at once. There was no excuse or justification for such a strike as this which was endangering the security of the nation at the very time that other brave Americans were fighting and dying in Korea that democracy might live and aggression be cut down.

"We are today the leaders of the free world," Mr. Truman declared, "but we can achieve peace only with co-operation. Our goal is not war but peace, but we are willing to meet aggression with whatever instruments may be needed for we will not submit to aggression or resort to appeasement."

4-Point Program

Truman Plan to Preserve Nation And Freedom

In his major address last night, President H. S. Truman told the American people that an hour of "grave danger" confronts the United States. He outlined a four-point plan as one to help preserve freedom:

1. This country will uphold and defend with arms, if necessary, the principles of the United Nations. The United States believes in settling disputes by peaceful means, the President said, but it cannot yield to aggression and it will not engage in appeasement. If negotiations are possible, the United States will try for a settlement to make Korea a united, independent and democratic country.

2. The United States will continue to work with other free nations to strengthen joint defenses.

3. The armed forces of the United States will be built up. The United States will make more weapons for itself and its allies.

4. The economy of the nation will be expanded, too and kept on an even keel. This means very high production targets and willingness to make an all-out effort to reach them.

Wm. McLeod Passes Away

Pioneer Citizen Succumbs At Age of 54—Widely Known and Esteemed

Former local business man and fisherman, veteran of World War I, for the last few years custodian of the local Federal Building, prominent Mason and well known and esteemed citizen, William McLeod passed away early last evening in Prince Rupert General Hospital. The funeral will take place Monday afternoon from First United Church under Masonic auspices. His passing will be mourned by many friends and general sympathy will be extended to bereaved family members.

The late Mr. McLeod was born in Lochinvar, Sutherlandshire, Scotland, and was fifty-four years of age. As a youth he came to Prince Rupert in 1910 from the Old Country with his parents, the late Donald McLeod and Mrs. McLeod, and other members of the family. For several years he was with the pioneer grocery firm of Williams & McMeekin and, enlisting in World War I, he saw two years' service in Europe with the Royal Canadian Artillery.

Returning home to Prince Rupert after the war, he engaged in salmon fishing for a time and then joined his father in the shoe business which he continued after Mr. McLeod died in 1937. He relinquished the shoe business in 1941 to join the dry dock staff which was then building ships in the war effort. After the war he took over duties at the Federal Building.

Situation Worse But Not Hopeless As Yet

LAKE SUCCESS (CP)—The United Nations Korean cease-fire committee was reported today to have been in contact with Chinese Communist representatives here amid indications that negotiations for stopping the fighting in Korea were having a rough time.

Censorship Over Korea

SEOUL — Tightening security and censorship regulations are blacking out the news from the Korean front.

Chinese Communist pressure on the United Nations forces both on east and west continues. There was denial, however, that the Chinese had crossed the 38th parallel, except possibly for odd irregular forays.

For several days there has been no official word of the progress of the evacuation from Hamhung.

Buried Miner Is Out Safely

SELLECK, Washington (CP)—Rescuers last night brought John Wolt, aged 54, safely to the surface of the Big Four coal mine here after he had been trapped by an avalanche 400 feet below on Wednesday. Wolt had a broken arm but, otherwise, was in fair shape.

Dr. Adams, company surgeon, said the miner was in "fair condition."

British Troops For Germany

LONDON (CP)—The British War Office yesterday directed the transfer of thousands of trained British troops to posts in Western Germany. The troops will be transferred from posts in Austria, Trieste and Britain and will increase British army strength to at least 20,000 men in Western Germany.

Intimidation For Germans

BERLIN (CP)—A law intended to frighten all Germans into the Soviet "peace offensive" camp through penalties up to death for support of western defence policies went into effect in East Germany today.

Persons found by Communist definition to be war mongering agents of the west are made legally subject to beheading on the guillotine.

Minor disturbances in this southwesterly flow will continue to give showery unsettled conditions for the next thirty-six hours.

Weapons, Not Manpower

IF A THIRD world war should come, Western strategists hope to win it by better weapons and better tactics. They can hardly hope to match the boundless manpower of the Communist world.

The present, localized conflict in Korea is an example of the kind of battling the American military planner had hoped to avoid—a struggle in which ground forces of the Allies face Red hordes which outnumber them almost five to one.

The West can be certain of one fundamental thing: the forces of the non-Communist world could never win a world war if numerical strength alone was involved. The Russian ground force alone numbers more than 3,000,000 men, the Western powers substantially less.

Now, without a Russian soldier moving over the border or firing a shot, the Communist camp has plunged the non-Communist world into an unhappy situation. In Korea, about 210,000 United States and other United Nations troops are facing 1,000,000 Chinese Reds. This Red force is only part of a total 4,000,000-man Communist China army.

Well, what about the better weapons?

Here the United States is in a curious position. It has among its arsenal of modern weapons the atomic bomb. Some think that weapon alone could wipe out the dangerous difference in manpower strength in Korea. But there is hesitation about using it.

Part of the reason is political and ethical, part of it tactical.

There is deep reluctance to use a weapon which would kill so many innocent men, women and children.

Also, the countries of West Europe worry lest use of the bomb in Korea might be the giant spark that would set off atomic war in Europe, with Russian A-bombs blasting the cities of the western democracies.

If American strategists know how many A-bombs the Russians have, they are keeping it as closely-guarded a secret as U.S. production of the bombs.

As for American use of the bomb, L. B. Pearson, Canada's minister for external affairs, raised the question of the psychological and political consequences of such attacks on the Chinese. With the U.S. wartime attacks on Hiroshima and Nagasaki in mind, Pearson warned that "certainly its use for a second time against an Asian people would dangerously weaken the links that remain between the western world and the peoples of the east."

What about other weapons? Only a few people know whether the United States' arsenal includes "unconventional" weapons other than the atomic bomb, and which also are designed for mass destruction, although it is known that intensive work has been carried on in the radiological and bacteriological weapon fields.

Respected Man Passes at 80

The death of Roger Wiat occurred at Old Masset last Sunday, after a long illness. Mr. Wiat who attained the age of 80 years, was a highly respected citizen in the village. He had become a Christian under the influence of the late Canon J. H. Keen and from the first took an active interest in the choir, then as a Church Army Captain and later as a Lay Reader.

On Tuesday afternoon a large congregation attended the funeral service in St. John's Church which was conducted by the Rt. Rev. J. B. Gibson, Bishop of Caledonia, assisted by Rev. M. S. Young, incumbent of the parish. The choir, under the leadership of Eddie Jones rendered the anthem "Gracious Father" and a quartette composed of Mrs. Emily Parnell, Mrs. Hester Marks, Victor Thompson and Eddie Jones sang "Oh That I Had Wings." The hymn "Lead Kindly Light" was sung by choir and congregation. Mrs. Williams presided at the organ.

The procession from the Church to the cemetery was led by the village band followed by the robed choir. The hymns at the Committal Service were "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Abide With Me." The selections played by the band were "Rock of Ages" and "God Be With You." There were numerous floral of-

SATURDAY SERMON

UNTO US A CHILD IS BORN

(By Rev. F. Antrobus, First Baptist Church)

Christmas, as an event, often obscures Christ as a person. Nearly seven hundred years before Christ was born in Bethlehem, the prophet Isaiah made this majestic announcement: "For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given; and the government shall be upon His shoulders; and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, the Mighty God, the Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace."

Here the event is made subsidiary to the person. What a glorious vision of the Messiah is here! And yet this One was born the child of Mary. Great indeed is the mystery of Godliness: God was manifest in the flesh.

"Christ, by highest heaven adored,
Christ, the everlasting Lord,
Late in time behold Him come,
Offspring of a virgin's womb;
Veiled in flesh the Godhead see;
Hail, the incarnate Deity,
Pleased as Man with men to dwell,
Jesus, our Emmanuel.
Ancient kings were elected;
modern kings are hereditary monarchs: but Jesus Christ was born a King and He was born a Saviour.

"Born to raise the sons of earth,
Born to give them second birth."

But though innocent and pure, this Child could not have provided redemption for His race had He not been divine. He was the Son given by the Father, who so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son. Judas could give the body of Jesus to be crucified, but Christ gave Himself, for, "The Son of God loved me, and gave Himself for me." Here is where the atonement of Christ receives its infinite virtue. Is there anything too much for God to give now that He has given His Son? He that spared not His own Son, but delivered Him up for us all, how shall He not with Him also freely give us all things?

In a world like ours with its confusions and fears it is well for legislators and rulers to remember, that the governmental authority has been placed upon the shoulder of this new-born King. While men everywhere are saying: "We will not have this

with JOHN T. FOWLE
Most of us are reluctant to face unpalatable truths. That sensitive spot on our molar is probably just a temporary irritation; that twinge of pain in the region of the heart will no doubt go away if we give it time. Too many of us put off seeing our dentist or consulting our physician for a periodical check-up. Similarly, possibility of early death is an unpleasant fact that we try hard not to think about. Yet only two categories of people can afford to disregard such a contingency—those who have no dependents and those who have made, through life insurance, sufficient provision for their loved ones against the chance of untimely death. If you cannot conscientiously claim to be in either of these categories drop me a line—or telephone.

Nurses Given Farewell Party

Friends of the Misses Louise Larsen R.N. and Ann Pedersen R.N., of the Prince Rupert General Hospital nursing staff gathered at H.M.C.S. Chatham Thursday night to wish them farewell. They sailed on the Prince George for Vancouver. After spending Christmas at Cranbrook they will sail for Honolulu, where they will continue in their nursing duties.

On behalf of the gathering, Lloyd Lahti presented Miss Larsen with a gold compact and Miss Norma Tetlock presented a gold compact to Miss Pedersen.

Adding more zest to the evening was the announcement of Miss Elizabeth Stewart, also of the Prince Rupert General nursing staff, and George Fletter, writer at H.M.C.S., of their engagement.

Present at the affair, besides the guests of honor, were Robert Ritchie, Miss Ruth Luck, R.N., Neil Stromdahl, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lahti, Mr. and Mrs. James Woods, Ronald Irving, Miss Olga Nyhus, Jack Trudgion, Miss Ella Kronhaus, Donald McEara, Harry Cuttress, Miss Norma Tetlock, R.N., Miss Elizabeth Stewart, R.N., George Fletter, Wm. Thompson and Lorne Heath.

Miss Luck also sailed on the Prince George to spend the Christmas holiday at Chemainus, Vancouver Island.

'Xmas Trees At Hospital

At the monthly meeting of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary on Thursday the chairman of the Library Committee reported that shelves had now been built in a room in the hospital and the 750 books in hand can now be properly stored there. A further shipment of books had been received from the Women's Hospital Auxiliary in Vancouver and a supply from an ex-patient. More magazines are required for the patients. Otherwise the book position is sound.

At the suggestion of Miss Elizabeth Clements, R.N., lady superintendent, it has been arranged to supply a small Christmas tree for each room in the hospital. Mrs. Munthe has undertaken to convene a committee to decorate these trees which the 1st Prince Rupert Boy Scout Troop have offered to collect for this committee. This may become an annual undertaking.

It was once more pointed out that the raffle tickets for the Russian squirrel scarf, although printed as being drawn in November, are still valid as the draw is not to take place until the tea which it is hoped to hold in the new nurses' home some time in January.

The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be held on January 13.

C.C.F. Bazaar Is Success

Substantial proceeds were realized from the C.C.F. bazaar and raffle held Thursday afternoon in the Metropole Hall.

Winners in the raffle were: Toaster and waffle iron Mrs. Fitzgerald; Bed-throw, by S. Larsen. Wood-carving set, by S. Hills. Supervising the raffle was Mrs. J. S. Black.

In charge of home cooking were Mrs. S. Tranquair and Mrs. E. A. Evans, with sewing under Mrs. Pottle.

Fisherman Is Presumed Dead

Mr. Justice J. V. Clynne, in Supreme Court in Vancouver, has ordered that Jack Rose, Skeena River fisherman, is presumed to have drowned last June. The order was obtained by S. R. Forest for Mrs. Thelma Rose of North Vancouver. Her petition stated that her husband disappeared two months after he left for northern fishing grounds where he was employed by the Inverness Cannery on the Skeena. It is assumed he perished June 25 near Union Bay north of Vancouver. His gillnetter was recovered on York Island.

Blackwood On Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

It is sad but true that gross overbidding is not always punished. In recent columns I have told you about several hands where Miss Lucy Brash, one of the world's better-known over-bidders, reached fantastic contracts and made them—through a combination of disgustingly good luck and opponents' errors.

On the receiving end of this brutal treatment were Mr. Dale, the expert on Humanities, and Mr. Muzzy, the expert on how not to play bridge. Mr. Dale was confident all along that Miss Brash was riding for a fall and in today's hand he got his revenge.

The bidding:

Pass 3 NT Dbl. All pass

Miss Brash's doubling of the opening one spade bid was not good. Her partner's most likely response was hearts, which she was not prepared to play. After her two no trump got doubled, Mr. Champion tried to sign off at three hearts (he would have liked to say, "I bid the third and final heart," but that would have been hardly ethical).

When three hearts was doubled, Miss Brash blithely put the hand in three no trump, hoping with typical optimism to find her partner with something like the jack of clubs three long and the king, queen of hearts. If East had held those cards the hand would have been not so far from three no trump at that.

But Miss Brash's luck had run out—and it was about time! East's cards were absolutely worthless to her.

Mr. Dale opened his nine of spades, which was allowed to win. A spade was continued. Miss Brash won and started the clubs. Mr. Dale won the ace and put his partner in with the jack of diamonds for another spade lead, removing Miss Brash's last stopper.

Declarer then laid down the queen of clubs hoping in vain for the jack to drop. When it didn't, she followed with the ten of clubs. Mr. Dale won this trick

Eighty-Six Capers Named

ONTARIO—Eighty-six Capers were nominated for running of the King's Canada's turf classic, next Friday afternoon under the leadership of their instructress Miss Gloria Sather.

They played games such as bingo, darts and pencil games. Prizes were awarded to the winners.

The boys then had a large lunch with plenty of sandwiches, cookies, cakes, and soft drinks. They sang Xmas Carols and exchanged gifts.

Port Shots

American League players vied for "revised" the record book when no fewer than 67 league and American marks were broken on the smashing assault on the fielding and pitching.

An increase of 32 over number registered in 1949, highlighted by the first visit made to Boston. In the game the Red Sox won 20-4 count, then followed by a 29-4 win that sent a mark to the books.

Recent heating troubles at the school didn't stop the 300 students from playing for their folk who received an opening greeting from Principal R. G. Moore.

The student announcer, Derek Allen, was introduced by his teacher, Joe Goscoe.

Entering directly into the holiday theme, Mr. Goscoe's grade 5 and 6 music class harmonized "Good King Wenceslaus" and "Little Star of Bethlehem," as well as playing flutophone selections.

This same choir, whose voices blended so well, was heard between acts through school recordings.

In "Little Boy and Girl Land" Christmas toys, wound up by the magic of egg-beater keys, suddenly came to life. The jack-in-the-box bobbed up; dolls danced; eight soldier boys stepped out as the drummer played.

Cheery rays of joy sung from red, green, white, blue and yellow candles wearing golden-yellow-red hats, was also included by Miss Caldwell's grade four class.

Singing the ABC's and Mother Goose nursery rhymes, the bedtime story-book children came to life playing their part for Mrs. Santa Claus before leaving with Santa. At "Little Boy Blue, Come Blow Your Horn," the audience laughed for fun. There was Little Miss Muffet, Jack and Jill and all of the nursery rhyme people, even "Bah-Bah Black Sheep." But really they were Miss Tait's class of Grade Ones.

Effective contrast was had in Miss Berry's Grade One class that sung and acted the Nativity Scene. Wise men and shepherds, angels and baby Jesus were in the scene with a background of choir boys in white raiment and black paper ties.

"Work! work! work!" complained Santa Claus to Mrs. Claus.

Instead of staying for Christmas, St. Nick wanted "to go to California and lie in the sun by the beach."

No sooner had Mrs. Claus packed his bathing suit, when an elf, John, brought a workshop worker, Brownie, to try to keep Santa from going south. But besides Brownie's red face, supposedly burnt by California sun, it took sneezing California flow-

Junior Boys 'Xmas Party

The junior boys of Rup-Rec held their Christmas party in the common lounge of the Civic Centre Friday afternoon under the leadership of their instructress Miss Gloria Sather.

They played games such as bingo, darts and pencil games. Prizes were awarded to the winners.

The boys then had a large lunch with plenty of sandwiches, cookies, cakes, and soft drinks. They sang Xmas Carols and exchanged gifts.

"Work! work! work!" complained Santa Claus to Mrs. Claus.

Instead of staying for Christmas, St. Nick wanted "to go to California and lie in the sun by the beach."

No sooner had Mrs. Claus packed his bathing suit, when an elf, John, brought a workshop worker, Brownie, to try to keep Santa from going south. But besides Brownie's red face, supposedly burnt by California sun, it took sneezing California flow-

JOE DAVIS—Tonight at the Civic Centre, Brownwoods of the City Senior Basketball League will again have a chance to even things up with Co-Op in the battle for front position in that section. They will, however, be without the services of Ray Spring who is at Ketchikan with Bo-Me-Hi on the schools' annual jaunt to the Alaskan city. Co-Op is looking to Joe Davis for a big lift in maintaining their honors. There will be no intermediate game either this evening so the senior tussle will start approximately an hour earlier.

ers, and a dancing ring of pajama-clad children to keep Santa home.

"But keep my bathing suit in mothballs for next year," warned Santa. There were three scenes to this skit directed by Mrs. Andrews and played by Grades 3 and 4.

Gaily dancing for the "King of the Dwarfs," who slipped out of his mushroom house to play his pipe, gobblins, sprites and fairies had an "Elves Holiday." Directed by Miss Patterson and Miss Robertson, the Grades 2 and 3 classes danced and played a rhythm band.

In a patriotic theme, the concert closed with a "Canada Pageant" acted by Mr. Freeman and Mr. Moore's Grades 5 and 6 classes.

Colorful with the backgrounds of actors representing Earth, Father Time, Jupiter and Her Majesty, Canada, was brought by her pages to the throne. The messenger, Mercury, sped with a microphone to each of the many representatives of Canada's provinces, industries, and arts that came to pay homage to their queen.

As Father Time handed the key of the new nation to Her Majesty, he expressed what the actors had already portrayed, the wealth and importance of Canada since Confederation.

Piano accompaniment for the concert was by Mrs. G. E. Freeman. Ushering was done by the school's Parent-Teacher Association, with F. E. Anfield as floor manager. The lighted Civic Center Christmas tree was erected.

Rail Strike Is Still On

CHICAGO (AP) — Striking railroad workers in Chicago and other key cities made no attempt to return to work today, apparently ignoring court, government and union orders and even the President of the United States.

About 10,000 railway workers are off the job, the bulk of them in Chicago. The strike has rendered idle others in rail-related industries.

The walk-out was apparently started in an effort to get a wage dispute settled before a wage freeze is ordered.

In Washington it is announced the government will move to bring contempt proceedings against the strikers. This could lead to heavy fines against the union. The strike has hit hard at mail and express shipments and some embargoes have been ordered.

Shellfishing to Start After Holidays—Herring Fishing Ceases After Bumper Catch

Millerd's cannery will go into full production at the first of the year, it was learned today. Shellfishing to date has been slow because of unfavorable weather conditions. There have been a few spurts of activity during the fall but nothing continuous. Boats are expected at the beginning of the new year for shellfishing. Some boats will be digging shellfish in the Kitkatla and Metakatia areas and Stevens Island.

Herring fishing closed for the holiday yesterday by union agreement. In some districts it will not open against this season. At 10:30 a.m. yesterday the quota for Ogden Channel had already been filled. Boat crews are flying south for the two-week holiday. Some are leaving by chartered plane Sunday. Others are going down on packers and still others on commercial steamers. There will be a rush for the fishing grounds when the season reopens in the new year.

Missing the tide at Seymour Narrows after leaving Vancouver late had some far-reaching effects on passengers boarding the Princess Norah here. Normally due in port about mid-morning, the ship did not arrive here yesterday until 2:30 p.m. The Bo-Me-Hi basketball team, scheduled to play Ketchikan last night, had to cancel the engagement and play the game Monday night. Tonight's scheduled game will be played according to plan. Passengers embarking here for the north were Miss A. Stromdahl, Ray Spring, Bud Ratchford, Fred Simonsen, Darrell Young, Henry Blackaby, Dick Nickerson, Lawrence Kristmanson, Derek Letourneau, Bill Morrison, Bill McChesney, Gordon Graham (manager), Miss B. Windle, Mr. and Mrs. J. Evans, Alfred Blackaby and L. Van Pykstra. Disembarking here were Miss H. Astoria, G. W. Stokes, J. G. Prince, B. G. Prince, W. Berry and Mrs. Bartels. Capt. G. O. Hughes pulled his ship away from the dock at 3:30 p.m.

Should you chance to be a fair sailor, there are far worse places to be on Christmas Day than on the sea. Particularly is this true of a modern liner, or any well equipped and provided vessel. The feasting, decorations, social hours are something to remember. Right now, on thousands of ships on all the seas of the globe

James Cagney, filmdom's top star of underworld action, in "Kiss Tomorrow Goodbye," showing at the Capitol Theatre at the first of the week, plays the part of a mobster chieftain who utilizes his notorious background to launch an amazing criminal career.

Escaping from a state penal farm, Cagney kills the brother of his girl accomplice and, when two crooked cops involve him in a shake-down, he turns the tables by recording the proceedings as a means of blackmailing them. A daylight hold-up of a super market and a payroll heist, at the same time retaining a cloak of respectability in society, add up to excitement in typical Cagney manner.

Two beautiful actresses share the romantic lead opposite Cagney—Helena Carter, as a socialite whom he marries, and Barbara Peyton as a former moll who leads to his downfall.

Other character roles are portrayed by Steve Brodie, Luther Adler, Barton MacLane and William Frawley.

—everywhere from tropic shores to the icy north—observance of the day is at least being planned, prospective war or no prospective war.

With cargo of general freight, the steamer Chilcotin arrived from Vancouver Friday midnight. Longshoremen were busy unloading during the night and the vessel sailed early this morning for Queen Charlottes. Goods included a shipment of Japanese oranges.

The Dominion lighthouse tender Alexander MacKenzie's crew is looking forward to a little rest at the Christmas season. She returned to port Thursday from the last long run of the year. After remaining in port for the week-end she has a few short runs to Triple Island and other places next week.

The British freighter Silver Walnut caught fire in Vancouver harbor a few days back. One luxury stateroom was gutted. For a few minutes there was serious danger that the blaze would spread but quick work prevented it.

That huge run of herring in Ogden Channel not far south of Prince Rupert drew most of the British Columbia herring fleet during the week. Numerous seiners and auxiliaries from Barclay Sound were among the first. There was around-the-clock fishing.

The freighter Atlantic Star, of Panamanian registry, has been hung up lately at Kodiak to refuel and there is a reason. Bound from Yokohama to Vancouver, in ballast, she ran out of fuel when well out at sea. For six days this 10,000 ton ship was towed by a couple of navy tugs to Kodiak.
