ITALIAN LABOR LEADER SLAIN

ROME—A Sicilian labor leader was machine-gunned to death today and two persons were wounded as violence broke out again in the midst of Italy's election campaign. Dispatches from Palermo, Sicily, said that Calogero Gangalosi, secretary of the Labor Federation, was shot and killed at midnight.

The situation, as a result of the incident, becomes even more intense following the declaration yesterday by Giuseppe di Vittorio, Communist president of Italy's six million-member General Confederation of Labor, that a country-wide strike would be called if the police fail by April 8 to find another Sicilian labor leader who disappeared twenty days ago and who the leftists charge had been killed or kidnapped by the rightists.

Finns Reject Russ Demand

Hitch In Negotiations At Moscow Cause Tension At Helsinki

HELSINKI—Guards were stationed around President Juho Paasiviki's home today to deal with possible demonstrations following reports of a hitch in negotiations for a military pact proposed by Soviet Russia.

Cause of the hitch is said to be Finland's insistence that Russia should send military aid only if specifically asked to do so. The Finns insist Finland herself shall decide when she is threatened with war. New instructions are reported to have been sent from the Finnish government to its treaty delegation at Moscow. These are said to reject a Russian demand for permission to be allowed to fortify borders.

TRAINS ARE NOW MOVING ONCE MORE

BERLIN (CP)—The international situation concerning Berlin was much eased today although the Russian government had flatly rejected the protest of the United States, Great Britain and France on the travel restrictions which require all British, American and French trains to submit to inspection before passing through Soviet-controlled zones to and from the German capital.

Two British freight trains moved into Berlin today despite the advertised blockade of land traffic without submitting to Soviet inspection. A score of United States planes pierced the barrier too, flying food and passengers into the city.

British officials reported they had no special trouble getting trains into the city.

The United States Army issued orders for movement of similar trains tomorrow.

The first public utterance by a high Russian official in reply to the protest by the western allies that the Russian restrictions violated agreements came today. Col. Sergei Tulpanov, the Soviet military administration's information chief, said: "What we have decided on border and traffic controls remains in force."

With the allied train service to and from Berlin remaining uncertain on the second day after refusing to submit to the inspection, United States military authorities continued flying food into Berlin Thursday to thwart the Russian squeeze which aimed at forcing the wartime western allies from the former German capital with the program of travel and transport regulations which they have put into effect.

All military trains between Berlin and the western zones had now been halted up to today with the exception of one; British barge traffic to the four-power capital has been stopped; rigorous examination of traffic has been instituted on Autobahn, the only highway linking the city with the west, and one railway coach occupied by civilians of several nationalities has been turned back.

One United States officer permitted his train to be examined yesterday and it went through but there was no explanation as to the reason for this exception.

There was the makings of an incident yesterday when the Russians put up a road block against a British convoy on a road near Berlin, withdrawing, however, when a force of United States armored cars was brought up.

A British spokesman said today that "we have just as much right to remain in Berlin as in our own zone."

Thus Britain served notice that she intends to stay in Berlin regardless of what happens to the Allied Control Commission.

The Foreign Office spokesman told a press conference, when asked whether Russia was technically within its right in imposing traffic regulations in Berlin, that "any restriction which hampers quadripartite administration in Berlin is contrary to the Potsdam declaration."

TORONTO—Provincial Treasurer Frost today announced a record $25,039,000 surplus in Ontario government accounts for the fiscal year ended March 31. He said Ontario had acted wisely in refusing to accept the Dominion grant in return for yielding provincial fields of taxation with British Columbia which proposed a sales tax to bolster up its revenue.

train service between Paris and Berlin was suspended today by order of French occupation headquarters. The cancellation order followed action by Russian border guards at Marienborn yesterday in evicting sixty-seven passengers from a French train on the ground that their documents were not in order. All inland water traffic in or through the Russian zone from the British zone had been suspended today by Soviet refusal to accept as valid documents carried by canal barge skippers.

Sinister Infiltration Is Menace Asserts Canada's Prime Minister

WILLIAMSBURG, Pennsylvania (CP)—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada declared here today that, if freedom is to be preserved for nations still free, a way must be found speedily "to ensure the nations will not be subordinated, defeated or destroyed one by one."

"Menace to freedom comes from sinister plans to undermine the structure of free government within the borders of individual nations."

Mr. King was speaking at a special convocation of William and Mary College in celebration of Canadian-American Day.

The Prime Minister, with President Truman, Viscount Alexander and Governor Tuck of Virginia received honorary law degrees.

CHILD AID CONTINUES

Despite "Iron Curtain" Which Now Envelops Czechoslovakia

Distribution of food and clothing to children in Czechoslovakia by the Unitarian Service Committee will be "scrupulously supervised" to ensure that the intention of contributors to feed needy children is being properly put in to effect. The Prince Rupert Rotary Club has been advised by the Unitarian Service Committee.

Following a visit here in February by Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova, U.S.C. director for Canada, the Rotary Club "adopted" a Czechoslovak child. Since the Communist coup in that country, fate of the arrangement has been uncertain.

Authority for the assurance was given as Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, Minister of External Affairs, who told Canadian representatives of the International Children's Fund of the United Nations that distribution of supplies will be properly supervised even in countries behind the "iron curtain."

In a letter to the Rotary Club read at Thursday's meeting, Dr. Hitschmanova stated that "we now have assurance that the International Children's Emergency Fund is continuing to work in Czechoslovakia. We will keep in touch with Unitarian Service Committee field workers and the United Nations authorities, and you can be confident that at the first sign of supplies being misused, they will be diverted to France immediately."

SEES MENACE—Premier King concerned about infiltration threatening free nations.

U. N. Assembly Being Called

LAKE SUCCESS—The United Nations Security Council last night called a special session of the 57-member United Nations Assembly to reconsider the Palestine problem. The vote for the special meeting was 9 to nothing, Russia and the Soviet Ukraine abstaining. The Assembly will convene April 16 in New York City.

Second Annual Rup-Rec Show To Climax Civic Centre Season

The most active season in the history of Prince Rupert's Civic Centre will culminate on April 16 and 17 with the second annual Rup-Rec mass display in which more than 300 people, ranging from pre-school children to adults will demonstrate phases of their gymnastic and recreational programs.

Directed by the Civic Centre's two Rup-Rec instructors, Neil Ross and Margaret Slinn, the display will compress into an interesting two hours, highlights of the modern techniques used in modern "keep fit" instruction.

Gymnastics, rhythm drills, folk dances and other types of elementary and advanced training routines and specialties will make up the program.

The display will be officially opened on the night of Friday, April 16 by Mayor Nora Arnold and on the following night by Civic Centre Association President Dr. R. G. Large.

Premier Byron Johnson, who was invited to attend the opening of the display, will be unable to come but he has replied with a letter wishing every success to the show.

Rup-Rec directors Neil Ross and Margaret Slinn are confident that the participants in the display will put it over with an equal amount of enthusiasm as they have shown during the last six months during the regular class sessions.

"The fine part of this type of work is that those who take part do so because they want to. The features of the display will be the things they learned during voluntary attendance at classes."

"The 'physical jerks' have no place in Rup-Rec training, Mr. Ross points out. The gymnastics used for all exercises have been scientifically worked out in accordance with the theories of Niel Buhk, organizer of the People's College of Physical Education at Ollerup, Denmark. The theories propounded there are internationally accepted as the best modern standards of physical education. "The theory is that smoothly flowing continuous rhythmic exercises are superior to the old static positions and hard, jerky movements," Mr. Ross said. "Most advanced work will be demonstrated by the Rup-Rec leaders' class—men and women. These 10 people, organized and directed by Neil Ross, will show advanced tumbling, balancing in precision routine, while five of the men in the group will demonstrate samples of advanced and spectacular apparatus work. Other demonstrations on the program will be: Group games by Rup-Rec junior boys, a group of 18 directed (Continued on Page Two)

Hospital Insurance

COMPULSORY contributory hospital insurance, to which the government of British Columbia commits itself with the announcement by Premier Johnson that legislation to bring it into effect is being introduced at the current session of the Legislature, stands to revolutionize the whole set-up of hospital service in this province.

High cost of hospitalization under the present set-up is, no doubt, keeping many people out of hospital who might otherwise be there. Under the new scheme there may be many situations when the fine points must be decided of where hospitalization is really necessary and where it is not.

TRENDS AND ENEMIES

IN LIFE, Franklin Delano Roosevelt heard the plaudits of his fellow countrymen to an almost unrivalled degree. No other President had been returned to office so many times.

In death, it happens to be different. This, of course, is election year, and politics across the line, just now, can be regarded as complex, of unusual importance, with many significant angles and not without varying shades of bitterness.

KEEPING HEALTHY

IT MAY BE a matter of surprise to know just how much longer we can expect our lives to be in comparison with the life expectancy of previous generations. It is cheering to know that the average span of life has increased 18 years between 1912 and 1944.

Attention is now being directed to the value of the early recognition of diseases which are insidious in their onset. That is, they develop without the patient being aware of their presence until the process is well advanced. Two notable examples are cancer and tuberculosis.

A routine health examination is designed, among other things, to uncover the onset of such illnesses as these.

The original examination should include an inquiry into the previous health record and health habits, a thorough physical examination, and a urinalysis, chest x-rays and blood examination where indicated.

There is general agreement of the importance of yearly examinations for people over 40. In the case of the younger set in good health, a periodic examination every 2 or 3 years is considered adequate.

SKAGWAY—OLD AND NEW

THE AVERAGE TOURIST voyaging north every summer is haunted by thoughts of the days of '98—the lady known as Lou, Sam McGee and all the rest of the sprightly crew.

This being the fiftieth anniversary of the rush, the mayor of Skagway, alive to the value of timely publicity, is planning the re-enactment of some of the colorful scenes out of which grew yarns and traditions glamorous and unforgettable, when the Klondike beckoned.

It's an idea involving light expense, but giving, like enough, a vast kick to the boatload after boatload of chechakos stepping ashore at the head of Lynn Canal.

It would give a real thrill to arrive just in time to see Soapy Smith, the bad man, shot dead by Frank Reid and Reid himself drilled by lead. The tenderfeet would have something to talk about when they returned home.

URGES CARE OF TOURISTS

Jack McLeod Stresses Importance of Industry in Rotary Address

Canada's "visitor industry"—the tourist trade—is a rich source of dollars and a basis of international and interprovincial understanding which should be cultivated carefully.

He spoke in observance of National Tourist Service Education Week—March 31 to April 6—which is set aside as a reminder for Canadians to cultivate the visitor industry with care and wisdom as a major national asset.

Tourists last year brought to Canada $238,000,000 in "new" money which helped stabilize Canada's international financial situation and provided employment and business for thousands of citizens.

Six million vehicles brought 26,000,000 visitors to the country, an increase of about six per cent over 1946. They also spent $17,000,000 more than did the 1946 tourist flow.

He described the tourist trade as an "invisible" export industry which is concentrated on selling goods and services to new consumers. It also is the most because it involves no cost to Canada beyond our own borders. "Our scenery is inexhaustible—mountains, seashores, lakes and picturesque roads—all virtually undiminished in their ability to earn for us. They can be sold to visitors year after year and over again," he said.

With this scenery, however, is the need for fair and considerate treatment of tourists and the necessity of creating more services such as better roads, comfortable resorts, lodges and hotels. This is particularly true of northern British Columbia.

Guests at the meeting, welcomed by club president Lee Gordon were Martin Grasdal, G. A. Hunter, Harry Herget (Edmonton) and Ernest Chapman (Port Clements). Mr. Herget was awarded a can of Skeena River canned salmon for being the visitor from the greatest distance.

Letters to the Editor

ATTACKS UNIONISTS

Editor, Daily News: May I have the privilege of replying to the author of "Bogey and Ghosts"?

He is trying to defend the very fallacy that produces bogeys and ghosts. They are nothing but illusions of popular fancy, conceived in ignorance, propagated in some set form of words, and forced into amazing growth in the fallow soil of idle and bored brains warmed with a sense of communal semi-hysteria.

The fallacy is that any large number of aggressively noisy people are wiser than one ignorant but patient man privately looking for truth. Thus you will hear those of shallow mind say this or that must be right because everybody is saying it or everybody is doing it, and thus you may hear them repeat: "The majority is always right."

Even though history shows that popular notions change and suffer such inversions, reversions and mutations from time to time and from place to place as to prove that the majority is often wrong, perhaps invariably wrong.

Your trade unionist correspondent imagines that he can defend collective bargaining on principle. However, it seems to me that the whole trade union movement is founded on three fallacies, which are:

(1) That an employer, trusted, perhaps for years, to pay wages and deliver the goods or services, is still less trustworthy than an employee who gangs up on him and snipes at him from the anonymity of a trade union.

(2) That the group wisdom of employees expressed in strikes and more strikes, for more and more wages, for less and less work, for fewer and fewer goods, for poorer and poorer strikers—is wiser than the creative wisdom of the business management.

(3) That Capitalism, with its world-circling achievements and responsibilities in human welfare, ought to bargain in cheques and promises with gangsters who picket business premises and threaten the liberty of non-union employees.

The ranting little politicians and the busy little advocates of strikes and popular crusades have done nothing good for us. They have raised wages and taxes and have depressed the purchasing value of money, and have induced scarcity in many things that were once more than plentiful. There would have been more war and less peace and progress if popular assemblies and parliaments, with their orators, their slogans, and their battle-cries had been always solely in command.

The mighty stretches of steel rails that span a continent many times, the floating, steam-propelled palaces, more populous than many villages, that knit our Commonwealth in brotherhood and service, and link us with all our neighbors—these things were not planned, nor built, nor maintained by any co-operative enterprise or union of employees.

The rise of unions and co-ops has come hand in hand with a gradual decline and threatening decay or violent destruction of our wealth and happiness, even of our very life. The evil thing that threatens us is the boastful pride of ignorant little men and women who are intoxicated with a feeling of collective force, the force of mere numbers. Yet the force of numbers has never done anything of lasting value. Have we any useful article that is of superior quality and workmanship? It was produced by some workman who refused to abide by the common standard of his fellow workers. Have we any useful invention? It was designed by one or two clever brains, or perhaps by many brains improving it at different times, but never by a discussion group. Have we dependable public services? They are managed by men who can pick and choose employees, and who refuse to be satisfied with mediocre service.

But, have we unexpected breakdowns in our economies, our production and distribution of machinery or food? You can only blame the boastful little fellows who will vote to strike for any demands they fancifully call "just" or popular.

EDWARD J. G. LEITCHFORD.

MR. HLADUN'S VISIT

Editor, Daily News: On behalf of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club, I would appreciate the courtesy of the columns of the Daily News to thank the Women's Canadian Club for the opportunity of having had John Hladun as speaker at our luncheon on Wednesday. If we were able to thereby assist the Women's Canadian Club in the purpose of Mr. Hladun's visit we are glad. The volume of publicity which Mr. Hladun was given through the medium of the Daily News must also have been a matter of gratification to all concerned.

O. G. STUART, President, Gyro Club.

WHOSE SIDE? Editor, Daily News: After reading John Hladun's sreech in your paper, I still would like to know whose side he is on. When he starts talking about "Big Business," he is right back on his Communist bogie.

Where are his medals for fighting dictators in the past? What is he doing crawling from one party to another? He was born a Canadian and worked against our way of living. Now he has turned and is working against what he was working for. When will he turn again? I believe we can get someone better to tell us how to beat Communism.

TWO DAYS AND NIGHTS' DRAMA

Arrangements Finalized For Local Festival

Two afternoons and two nights of music and drama will be presented to the public of Prince Rupert when the Music and Drama Festival is held here during the first week of May. At a meeting of the festival committee held Wednesday night in the Civic Centre Martin Stuart and Mrs. F. E. Anfield of the program committee submitted a draft of the program.

The first afternoon will consist of selections by the younger singing groups and rhythm bands. High school drama will be the main feature of the first evening with two drama groups from Booth Memorial High School and one from the Hazelton Superior School competing for junior honors. To balance the night's performance the program committee planned to have some of the elementary school choirs present their vocal selections.

On the second afternoon, church choirs and other junior choirs will take the spotlight. On the final night the senior drama competitions will be held when two groups from the Prince Rupert Little Theatre will put on a one-act mystery and a one-act comedy.

In discussing admission charges the committee felt that the main purpose of the festival was to create interest among the students and public and that it was more important that as many people as possible have the opportunity of being present than to make large profits. Adjudicator for the local festival will be Ross A. Lort.

CANCER RESEARCH CONTINUES—Today cancer research goes along steadily in the medical laboratories. But outside the labs, the crusade against cancer takes the form of fighting the disease with facts. More and more information about the symptoms of the disease and the advantages of early treatment must be made available to the public.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.J.

It's not so long ago that the single or double step in many a Third Avenue store doorway helped spoil one's sunny temper—mother struggling with baby carriage, for example—or wrecked a promising sale. But, like snow wreaths in spring, Jean, they are fading away. And good, riddance, chortle the purchasing public.

A local newspaper file, published in March 1924, carries an Ottawa despatch, saying that Hon. C. D. Howe had recommended the construction of a terminal grain elevator at Prince Rupert. What could the man have been thinking of?

Some able-bodied parties always find everything wrong, and seek pity for no real reason. Others, with justification for at least some sympathy, wouldn't take it as a gift. A young fellow named Perron, with wife and family, runs a little farm back east. Serving in Italy, he had a leg blown off and part of an arm disabled. How he does it, no one knows, but he's a fine horseback rider and some time back, shot a bear and cub, from the saddle. The world and its woes! "Oh," he says with a grin, "it's pretty fair. We haven't any other."

Twenty-eight more April days to run, and, if each is anywhere near as good as yesterday, there won't—shouldn't be a single kick. It will be like old days in the bleedin' army when, at mess-time, an officer would shout

"The play goes on, Regina!"—When Jack Morton an actor in a drama festival here, was required to eat a piece of bread and butter during performance of a play, he found he had bitten off part of his crepe "beard." Without batting an eye, he chewed up the beard and swallowed it with the bread.

HAD EARLY TRAINING—Knud Rasmussen, Danish Arctic explorer, grew up in Greenland where his father was a parson.

LOURDES PILGRIMAGES—In peacetime about 500,000 pilgrims a year visit the shrine at Lourdes.

Babe Ruth Picks Them

Names All-Time All-Star Baseball Team

PHILADELPHIA—Babe Ruth picked an All-Time All-Star baseball team this week but left right field open because "I just don't want to pick myself."

Here is the line-up as it appeared in the Saturday Evening Post:

Pitchers—Walter Johnson, Washington Senators; Christy Mathewson, New York Giants; Grover Cleveland Alexander and Herb Penneck, New York Yankees.

Catcher—Ray Schalk, Chicago White Sox.

First Base—Hal Chase, New York Yankees.

Second Base—Napoleon Lajoie, Cleveland Indians.

Shortstop—Honus Wagner, Pittsburgh Pirates.

Third Base—Jimmy Collins, Boston Red Sox.

Centre Field—Tris Speaker, Cleveland Indians.

Right Field—Mr. X.

Leaving the selection of the right fielders to his readers, Ruth offered as candidates Harry Hooper, Joe Jackson, Harry Heilmann, Ross Young and Mel Ott.

Chase got the call over Lou Gehrig or George Sisler at first because he "was no punk at the plate" and had "unbelievable fielding ability."

"I put Larry Lajoie at second (for his) remarkable hitting skill (and because) Lajoie could make the hardest chances look easy," Ruth said.

HONUS WAGNER EXCELLED SHORTS

"Honus Wagner was just head and shoulders over anyone else at shortstop. Jimmy Collins could come in and pounce on bunts and short hits like a cat, if anyone tried to cross him up and rife a hard drive through him, Jimmy was always ready."

"No one can dispute Ty Cobb's right to be placed on anyone's All-Star team. He had the biggest lifetime batting average of anyone who ever played big-league baseball and was a whipper on the bases."

"My old sidekick, Tris Speaker, (Continued on Page Six)

SPECTACULAR BASKETBALL—

Magee Wins Second Game In Second Period Of Overtime Play

Magee 49, Bo-Me-Hi 47

In what was, without doubt, the most spectacular game of the season, Vancouver's Magee High School took a 49 to 47 win from Booth Memorial High School last night after fifteen seconds of the second overtime period before a roaring crowd that packed the Civic Centre gym.

Magee, which lost the first game Wednesday night by a score of 40 to 36, last night equalized the game standing but not the total score with their final basket which dropped through the hoop on a throw by Loutit.

Bo-Me-Hi won the series on total points by a margin of 87 to 85. With both sides playing a strong offensive, Bo-Me-Hi kept a slight advantage through the first furious half but, as the struggle entered the third quarter, Magee began to pour on the fuel and entered the fourth quarter with a 35 to 29 advantage.

Scherk 10, Boulter, Carlson, Thompson 4, Spring 4. Ladies' Game Peoples Store—Hamilton 8, McLeod 2, Sedwick, Bill, Youngman, Webster, Matson 1, Simonsen Kildal 5.

BASKETBALL CHATTER

The foul shot that Mel Thompson took with but five seconds to go in last night's great basketball show will be the talk of the town for a few days no doubt. It was the blunder of blunders, a product of anxiousness and excitement. Yet we must look on the human side of it all before condemning anyone.

The dramatic fourth quarter saw Booth pull up from the rear to tie the score at 41-all when the whistle blew. In the first overtime period, Scherk sank two field goals and Thompson one to tie the score at 47-47. Under High School basketball rules, the first team to get a two-point advantage in overtime becomes the winner, so the game ended in the second overtime when Loutit broke away from the toss-up and scored a field goal within seconds.

Last night's game was more of the wide-open type of play which the southern team is used to on its home ground and consequently, the number of fouls was greater than is usually seen in local games. Magee marked up 25 fouls and lost one man, while Booth totalled 22 fouls, losing two men from that cause.

Both teams scored 18 field goals while Magee scored 13 out of 29 free throws and Booth 11 out of 28 free throws. RAINBIRDS BEAT PEOPLES STORE In the opening exhibition game, Peoples Store, the Ladies' League champions, lost by a score of 18 to 16 to Booth Rainbirds, their erstwhile competitors in the league play-offs.

BOSTON BRUINS STILL IN LEAD

Defeated Toronto Maple Leafs in Stanley Cup Play-Off Game BOSTON — Boston Bruins stayed in the Stanley Cup running last night by scoring a 3 to 2 victory over the National League champion Toronto Maple Leafs. land and it was the Athletic Club. Well the Athletic Club came down and went home a sorry bunch of lads and we could hardly blame them. They were treated a little roughly here by taking two whippings without making things interesting for the lads so they started the old alibi stuff of having left their better team at home. This remark was hardly appreciated by the local body and now it is going to be the other team, the New Metlakatla Vets, and on paper a very strong team, perhaps the strongest to visit us this season so far.

PERENNIAL WHEAT NO LONGER A MYTH—Dr. J. B. Harrington, in charge of wheat breeding at the University of Saskatchewan, and Prof. L. H. Shebresi of the University field husbandry department, discuss the future of perennial wheat in the west as they look over specimens of the interesting cereal growing in the greenhouse at the university. Plant breeders working at the university, begin crosses with grasses and wheats, have come across a wheat-like plant with perennial habit, and near immunity to a large number of races of stem and rust. Research on perennial bread-grain crops began in Canada as recently as 1935.

AROUND A LONG TIME

Anthropologists say man has existed in his present form for a period of from 800,000 to 1,000,000 years, or four percent of geological time.

PAINTING FOR WOMEN OF CANADA—This painting of a maid in a crinoline hangs in a Saskatoon, Sask., store because Bertram Willoughby amateur artist and ambulance driver, felt he owed a debt to the Canadian women. Willoughby, who lives in Streatham, South London, Eng., had his home blitzed twice during the war and months later he received a quilt from the St. James Anglican church of Saskatoon. As a token of gratitude, Willoughby painted the picture, saying he felt he had to "send something to show how appreciative we were of what Canadian women had done for distressed families in this country."

CANADIANS IN LONDON—Miss Jessie Rosa Mennie, left, Vancouver and Ottawa, who is now in London. She is a Carnegie Fellow at the Institute of Education of the University of London who arrived in September. She was with the National Film Board of Canada as education officer. She is studying films for schools in Britain. She is the second daughter of the late John Mennie who was a pioneer of British Columbia, and the late Mrs. Mennie. Miss Mennie returns to Canada next summer. Mr. Bonar Stuart, right, last descendant of the famous Scottish family who were pioneers of Canada and the U.S.A. 100 years ago. They built Balmoral Castle for Queen Victoria who afterwards sent them out to build the Houses of Parliament in Ottawa and the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec. They also built 20 miles of the lake frontage in Toronto. The name of James Stuart & Co. was known all over the continent as builders of the Grand Trunk Railway.

CONSTRUCTION $15,000 DURING LAST MONTH

Value of building permits issued by the City Engineer's office during March was $15,025, bringing the total for the first quarter of 1948 to $60,645—more than $18,000 greater than for the corresponding period last year.

Majority of the permits were issued to cover repairs and alterations to existing buildings, largest being for $5,800 issued to J. J. T. Collart for reconstruction of the Three Sisters Cafe, badly damaged by fire last month.

Largest construction work authorized was the building of an auditorium and meeting hall by the Prince Rupert Gospel Tabernacle congregation on the north side of Sixth Avenue west, across the street from their present hall. The permit was for $2,500.

There were 28 permits issued in March.

R. Long, Beach Place, $200, alterations.

Mrs. A. Wilson, Eighth Avenue East, $1,200, repairs.

R. McKay, India Avenue, $1,000 construction.

H. Sheardown, Sixth Avenue East, $125, construction.

J. T. Bowman, Sixth Avenue East, $100, repairs.

B. Beggs, Claud Street, $50, repairs.

WANTS FINES LOWERED

EDMONTON — J. Harper Prowse, Liberal leader in the Alberta legislature, said here that penalties for drunkenness provided by provincial laws should be lowered. When a man was fined $20 and costs or 30 days in jail, his family suffered, Mr. Prowse said. He recommended a $5 fine and costs.
