

Man Charged With Murder Air Liner Disaster

(CP)—Dark-haired J. Albert Guay, a 40-year-old man, was arraigned today on a charge of connection with the home-made bomb exploded on the air liner, sending his wife and child to their death on September 9.

Guay was charged specifically with the murder of his wife and child.

RIGHTS ISSUE MAY ECHO BACK IN U.S. SENATE

By GEORGE RONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (CP)—There is a possibility that the United States Senate will wind up its 1949 business with a wordy echo of its first big fight of the year—a filibuster on the civil-rights issue.

Senator Walter F. George (Dem. Ga.) said this week he is certain the Truman administration will try to force a vote. Civil rights is but one of several important matters still on the Senate program and, in the drive for adjournment of a session already almost nine months old, it might be side-tracked.

But deep political feeling surrounds the issue. Civil rights was one of Truman's main election campaign pledges last fall. It remains an important plank (Continued on Page 3)

T.L.C. WARNS COMMUNISTS IN UNIONS

CALGARY (CP)—Communists in the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada had warning today to head for shelter.

The convention of the policy making group asked all affiliated bodies to expel Reds from their ranks in the most drastic move in the Congress history. It might result in sharp changes in some unions known to be under Red leadership.

One high official said his union would undertake a Red purge right away now that the Congress is behind the move.

Th T.L.C. really has no power to tell local unions and provincial labor federations to boot out the Reds but the Congress resolution strengthens the hands of right-wingers trying to clean up the unions.

Earlier in the convention, the Canadian Seamen's Union which Congress threw out left-wing it had backed last year in opposition to the right wing group.

AN EXTRA HOUR'S SLEEP TONIGHT

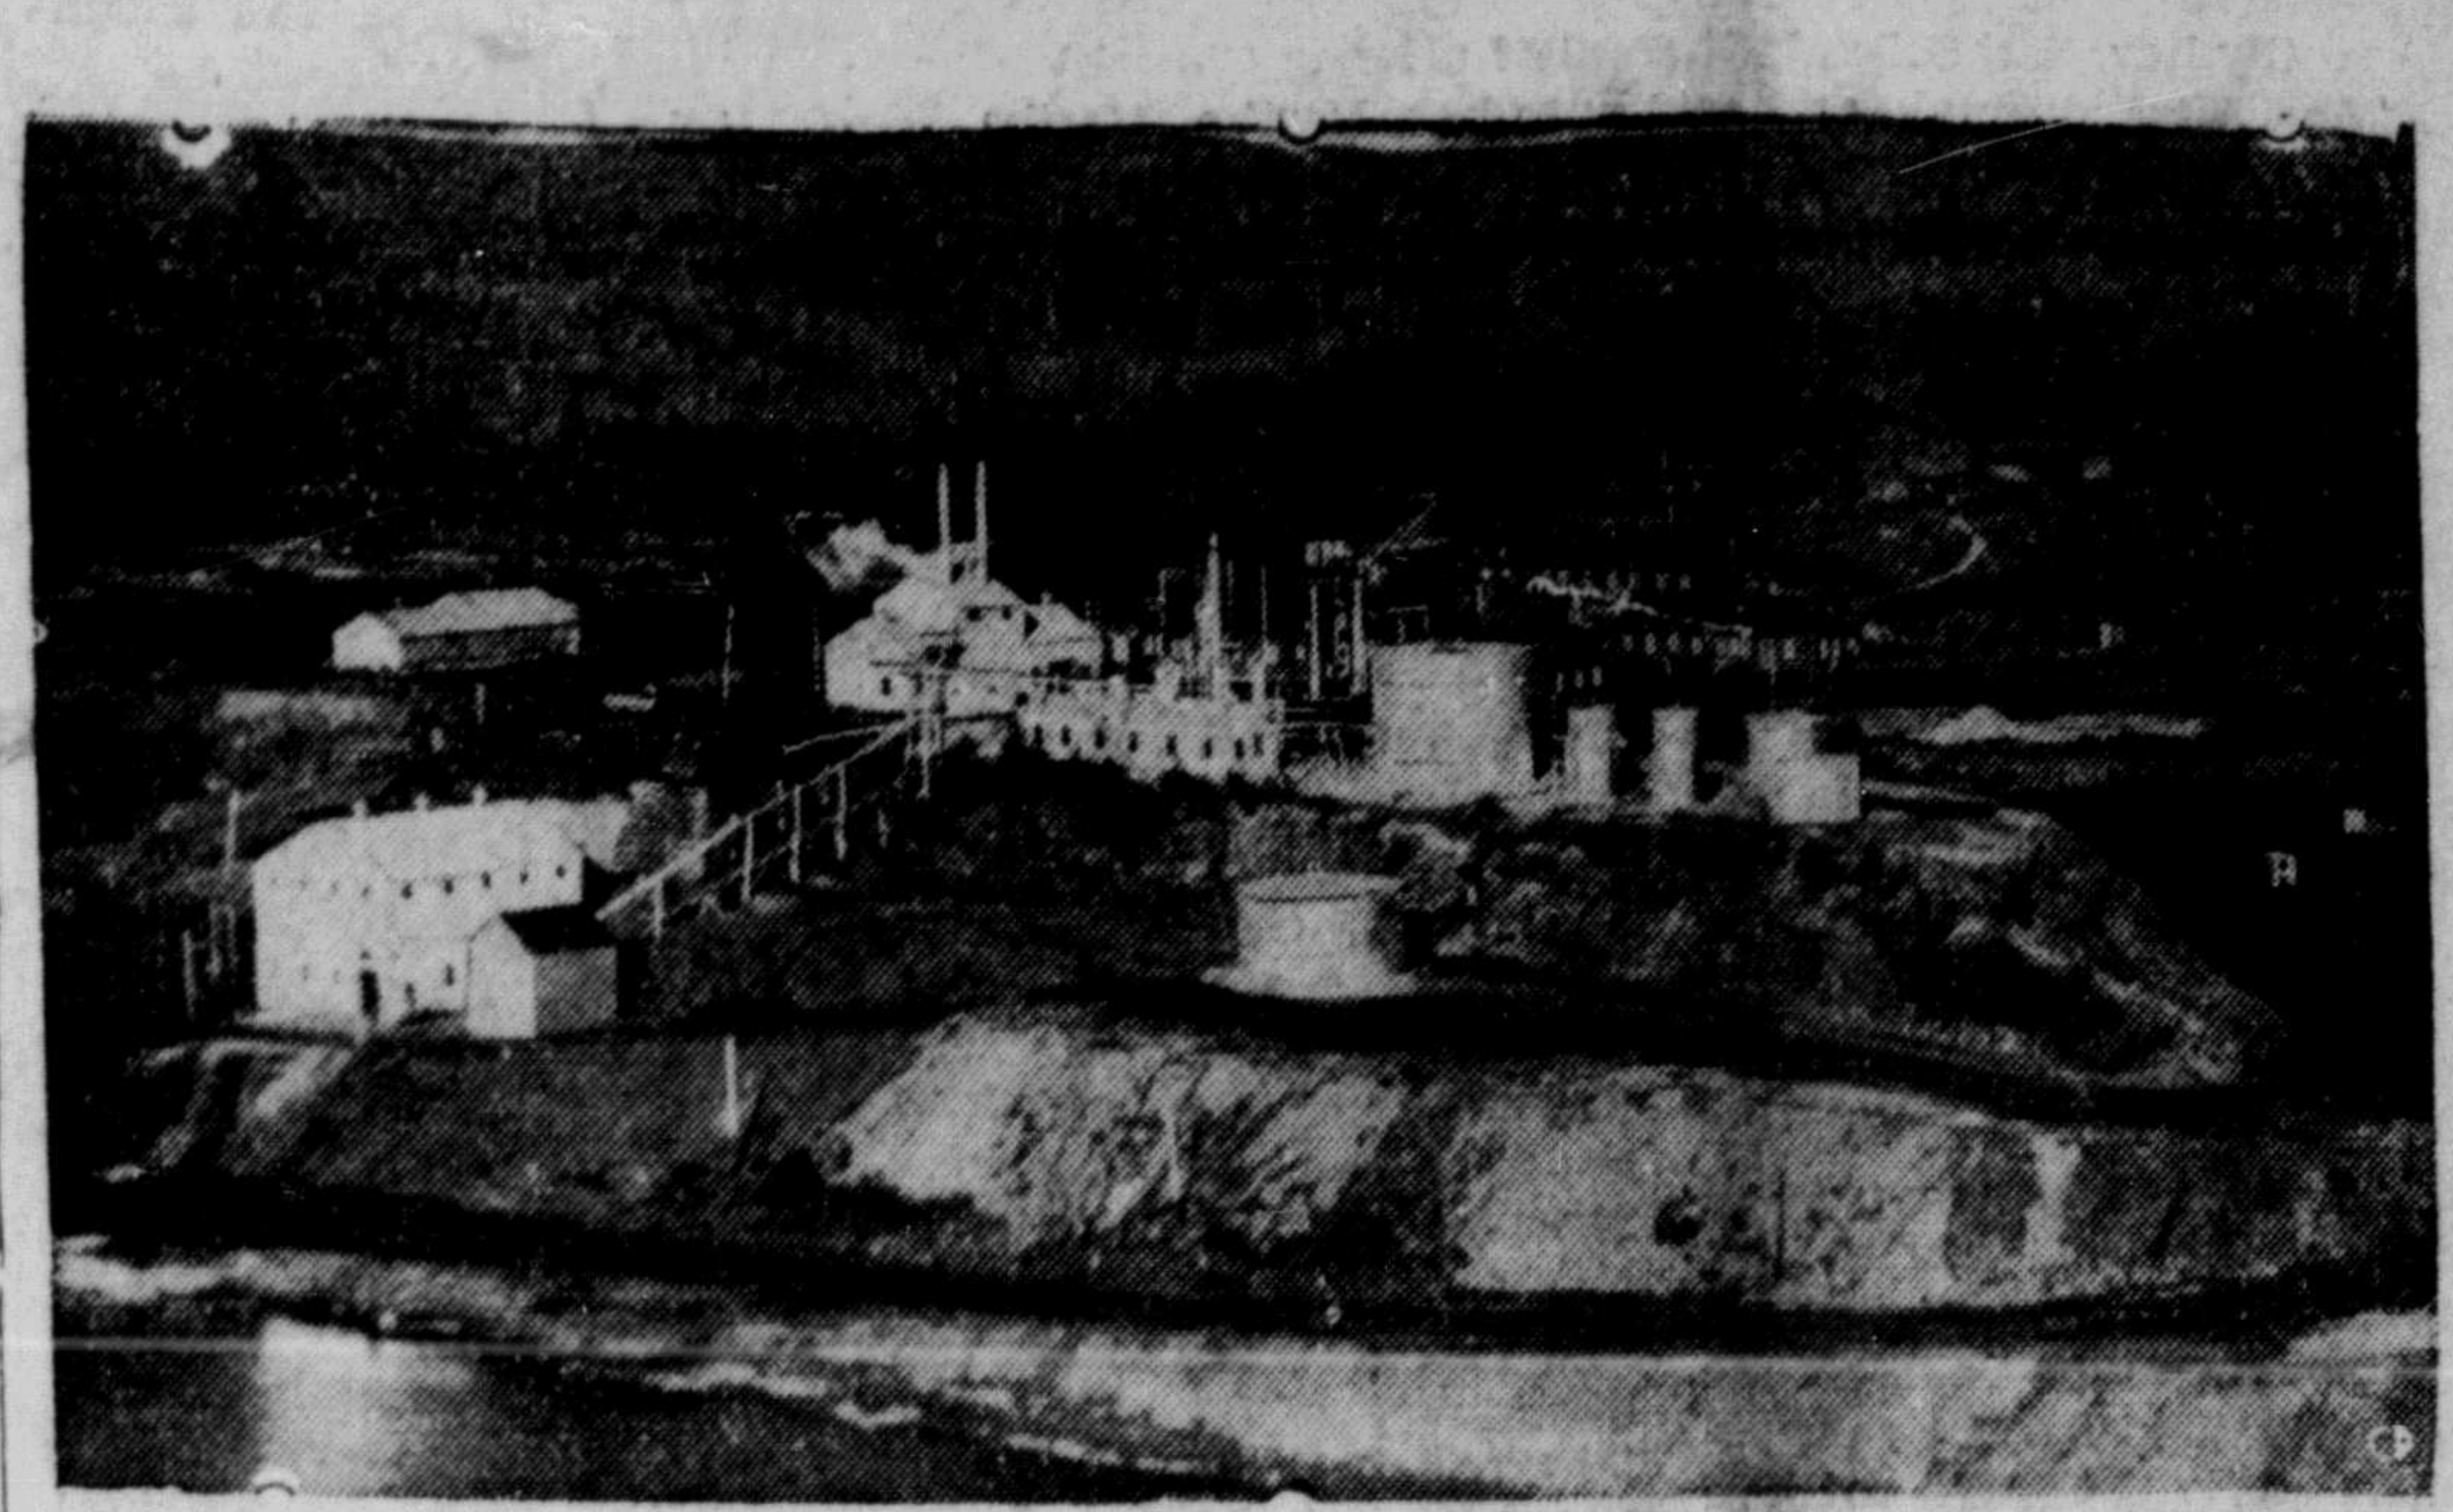

Prince Rupert people tonight will regain an hour's sleep which was filched from them five months ago by Order-in-Council.

At least, they will regain it if they get safely tucked in before midnight, because that is when the clock slips 60 minutes to return to standard time.

On the other hand if they happen to be partying or dancing, the merriment can continue an extra hour in public places, because the stroke of midnight will be exactly one hour long.

In previous years, the change has been effective at 2 a.m. but this year the government ordered the return to normalcy to begin at midnight.

An electric power failure at noon today held up mechanical operations in the Daily News press room, delaying publication by more than an hour and causing several stories to be held over until Monday.

PIONEER PLANT—In the heart of the fabulous oil sands area of Northern Alberta, this $700,000 plant at Bitumount, operated by the Alberta government, is extracting oil in an effort to find the economic value of the sands. Their content is estimated at 250,000,000,000 barrels of oil. (C. P. Photo)

KARLENKO MEETS McLAUGHLAN FOR NORTHERN WRESTLING BELT TONIGHT

BLONDE MENACE TUMBLES GUS
JOHNSON FOR TWO FALLS IN OPENER
AT CIVIC CENTRE FRIDAY EVENING

Curly-thatched Leo Karlenko, unregenerate villain of the coast circuit moved out of the cramping atmosphere of down-south wrestling and into the wider opportunity of the Northern B.C. Championship when he flattened Gus Johnson, a midwest import, in two stop-it-he's-killing-me falls at the Civic Centre last night.

The anti-social blonde menace now qualifies to meet Vancouver's cauliflower darling, Jack McLaughlan, in the final bout of the two-day tourney tonight, a prospect which has an obviously juicy ring to the ears of the fans who would delight in seeing McLaughlan carry off the Karlenko scalp.

Karlenko went through his usual routine of endearing the fans by scowling at them dreadfully and rebutting any friendly overtures with definitely non-intellectual retorts, before, during and after the bout.

The non-capacity gallery entered the auditorium with the idea that they would see Karlenko tangle with Frank Stojak of Tacoma. However, for some reason, Stojak didn't make it and was replaced by Gus Johnson, of Minneapolis, via Edmonton, a ring-wise veteran who was almost, but not quite, prepared for anything Karlenko had to offer in the way of mayhem.

Stojak's dereliction will in no way affect the arrival of Jack McLaughlan, the Coast Champ, who will arrive on today's plane to polish off a long and successful career by treading on Karlenko's prone form.

The indescribable anguish which Karlenko wrung from Johnson last night in the first and third falls was matched only by Karlenko's own anthropoid grunts as he stalked and clutched the Scandinavian.

Perspiration, to describe sweat politely, poured in gallons from Karlenko, causing the fans to suspect that he may have consumed (Continued on Page 6)

INFLATION MAY CANCEL EFFECTS OF DEVALUATION

ILLANDUDNO, Wales (CP)—Prime Minister Attlee today told Britain that inflation threatens to wipe out the benefits of the cheapening of the pound. He said that there is no occasion for general price increases and that it is the duty of every citizen to co-operate to prevent inflation.

To let prices, wages and profits to get out of line would jeopardize Britain's "economic survival," he declared.

AUSTRALIA, BRITAIN TO BORROW FUNDS

CANBERRA (CP)—Britain and Australia are to seek a $1,250,000,000 loan from the international monetary fund, it was learned today.

The source which said the official announcement was "highly secret," added that this was one of the "other" steps agreed to at the Washington financial talks.

NO DECISION ON SALMON CLOSURE

OTTAWA (CP)—Fisheries Minister Mayhew told Commons Friday that no decision has yet been made to close the Fraser River to salmon fishing next week.

Mr. Mayhew, replying to a question from Angus McInnes (C.C.F.-Vancouver East) said his department already has replied to a similar telegram received from the United Fishermen's Co-operative Association in Vancouver pointing out "that the situation is at present under review."

JAILED FOR LIQUOR SALES

Murray Oliver a local taxi driver was sentenced to six months in Oakalla yesterday when he appeared before Judge Vance charged with keeping liquor for sale. He pleaded not guilty. R. M. MacLeod defended the accused and Corporal A. H. Taylor prosecuted.

Skull Is Swiped, Skeleton Lingers

THE PAS, Man. (CP)—There's a headless skeleton in town which is giving authorities no end of trouble and embarrassment.

The skeleton is one of several unearthed during sewer excavations on the main street here. The bones are thought to be those of Indian women.

But before anything could be done with the bones some prankster stole the skull from one skeleton.

Regulations provide that the skeleton be taken to a funeral home and the coroner issue a death certificate before the remains can be reinterred as "unidentified." But these legal formalities can't be carried through until the stolen skull is rejoined with the headless skeleton.

That's why town police travel the streets muttering "skulduggery."

GIRL SHOTS FATHER IN MERCY DEATH

STAMFORD, Connecticut (CP)—Police sergeant Carl Paught, 50, died today in his hospital bed after being shot by his 20-year-old daughter Carol because he was hopelessly ill with cancer.

Police said the girl shot her father with his service revolver because "she didn't want to see him suffer."

No charge has been laid yet.

U.S. Holds Substantial Lead In Atomic Weapons

WASHINGTON (CP)—Top American officials today said that the United States still holds a vast lead over the Russians in the field of atomic weapons and in all probability, will never lose it.

President Truman's calmly-worded statement that there had been an atomic explosion in Russia brought hopeful new demands from law-makers, scientists, diplomats and others for effective international atomic controls.

It caused a withering among the Congressional opposition to sharing atomic secrets with Britain and Canada.

SIX MONTHS ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Found guilty on a charge of keeping liquor for sale, Joseph Feiler was sentenced to serve six months in Oakalla by Magistrate Vance in city police court Friday. Evidence was given by Corporal E. A. Wales of the B. C. Police. The accused was defended by Willa Ray.

FINED $750 FOR ASSAULTING POLICEMAN

A fine of $750 with an option of one year in jail was handed down by Judge W. O. Fulton in County Court Friday to Paul Postula after he had been found guilty on a charge of assaulting a police officer.

The case was brought up in County Court rather than in Assize Court because Postula had entered a plea of not guilty in County Court last Spring. Later, he asked to elect jury trial, which was granted by Judge Fulton. However, it was later learned that the County Court was seized with the case because plea had been entered in that court.

Postula was charged with assaulting Constable Jack White of the city police last Spring. Henry Castillon, K.C., of Vancouver appeared for Postula and T. W. Brown acted for the Crown.

'UPPERS' FOUND IN LIBRARY LOOT

VANCOUVER (CP)—A treasure of assorted articles left in books returned to the public library here gives librarians a few laughs—and sometimes a bit of annoyance.

They have found objects ranging from photos and keys to lipsticks, crochet needles and even a hairbrush. Not so welcome are chocolate smears and wads of chewing gum, most noted in children's books.

The library's lost and found drawer has held dresses, trousers, money, watches and cream cake. But, the staff hastens to add, such things were left in the building—not in books.

And the librarians are still looking for one certain book-borrower.

He left the uppers of a set of false teeth as a book-mark.

ON STAGE OF SAND—Ballet audiences usually witness presentations in theatres but on a remote Georgian Bay beach, near the resort town of Wasaga, ballet is presented on the sand dunes against backdrops of foliage already coloring Ontario's north woods. Here members of the Volkoff ballet an all-Canadian organization organized in 1938 by Boris Volkoff, go through a routine. Acrobatics are combined with grace as this group performs. Left to right, are: Doris Wade of Toronto, Mary McMillan of Port Hope, Lila Anderson of Lambton Mills, Lillian Jarvis and John Marsha, both of Toronto. (C. P. Photo)

Solid Background

WITH THE school children of Canada resuming studies, the words of the Federal Minister of Labor, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, are worth remembering and, if possible, put in actual practice. He said young people should not be too anxious to seek employment at the expense of formal training and education.

"You will," he declared, "have to face the problems of the working world soon enough."

There is, undoubtedly, a definite relationship between the number of years spent in school and earnings. It is not meant to imply that there should be special training for "white collar jobs." But it is meant to emphasize that the more one is equipped to give his knowledge where it is needed, the less likelihood will there be of becoming too old at forty. The competition for jobs is becoming increasingly keener.

LETTERBOX

LABOR'S TRADITION

Editor, Daily News:

I think it was the late President Taft of the U.S.A. who said the history of the human race consisted of action, then reaction. And that every generation emerged from shirt sleeves back to shirt sleeves again.

That all may be true in general appearance, but viewed in the light of the history of our time, it is not true. As mankind is gradually working its way out of the wilderness, the pace may be painfully slow, but nevertheless, the direction is toward the rising sun of understanding and security.

Two significant happenings have taken place in the city of Calgary in the past 30 years under the banner of organized labor which may warrant a little meditation.

In 1919, a convention known as the Western Canada Conference met in Calgary and dispatched a message of greeting to the Bolsheviks of Russia and the Spartacists of Germany. That dispatch conveyed the sentiment of that labor convention of more than 30 years ago.

It would now appear that the Trades and Labor Congress is instituting a witch hunt for any or all who are, or dare to look in the direction of Russia or espouse communism, the political creed of Russia, in any form. This, in my opinion is a simple expedient adopted by the leaders to avoid a head-on collision with built-up public sentiment.

And the oath of office for officials was never taken from the writings of Tom Paine, who said "the world is my country and to do good is my religion."

This sentiment was repeated by Mr. Editor in a few words uttered by Eugene Debs in my presence 50 years ago. The labor agitator of that early day held no office, had no title, drew no salary, saw no footlights, heard no applause, never saw his name in print and fills an unknown grave. The labor movement is his monument and thought his name is not inscribed on it, his soul is in it and it marches on forever.

Here are a few lines handed to Bill Haywood in 1915 a few hours before Joe Hill was executed by an official firing squad in Utah:

Don't waste time in mourning, boy. Organize.

SATURDAY SERMON

ONE THING NEEDFUL

(By Rev. Earl Solland, St. Paul's Lutheran Church)

"And Jesus answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things: but one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken from her."—Luke 10:41-42.

Often life is so full of activities that one scarcely knows where to turn to get things done. It is common to have so much to do that it is impossible to get all done. Then it becomes necessary to make a choice and do that which is most necessary. Other things must wait a more convenient season. The wisdom, born of experience should be a major help in making the choice. It does not always follow that our choice is right.

If you read the whole account in Luke 10, of the conversation between Jesus and Martha you will notice that Jesus stresses the importance of taking time for spiritual instruction. Hospitality was the great concern of Martha. It was a high and necessary motive. Yet, there was something more necessary at the moment and Martha did not realize the importance of the choice.

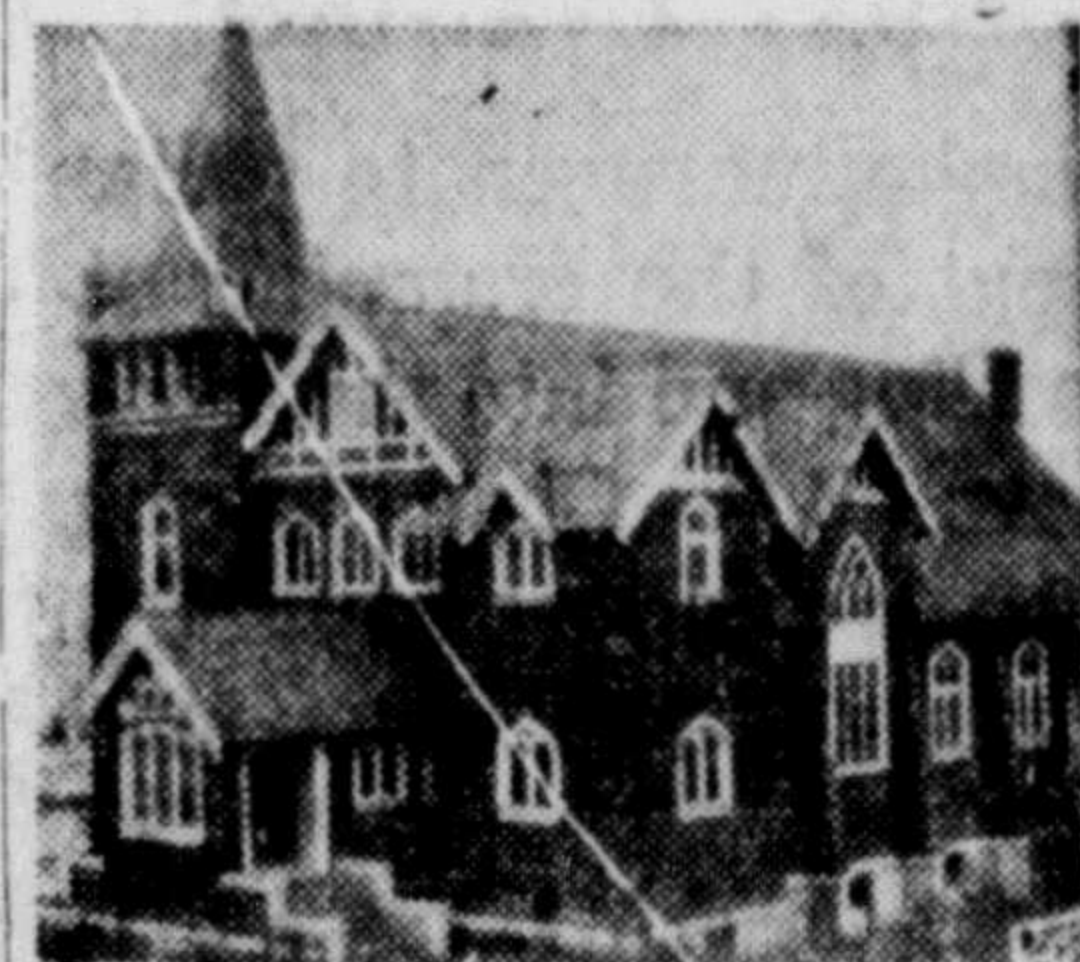

So many of us are like Martha. We see many things that are in need of our time, our effort and our thoughts. They are often important and custom or habit makes them even more important than they actually are. We face the choice and decision is often made without reference as to just what is most needful. However if we could use that idea and do that which is the most necessary, then we would improve our time and our lives would be more fruitful in that which brings contentment.

I read of a group of people who were expelled from Europe and settled in South America. They were permitted to take with them only a limited number of pounds of baggage. The account said that among the first choice of articles was the Bible and the Hymn Book. They knew the value of those two books and considered them to be essential. That is the thought in our text. Spiritual things are the most needful. They are essential to a satisfactory life.

There are practical considerations. A child attends school. He also has music lessons and takes part in the activities at the Civic Centre. How about church? There seems to be no time for the child to get proper spiritual instruction. On Sunday it must have an extra period of sleep so that it can use the rest of the week in ceaseless activities. A choice as to the child's time must be made. The parent who thinks of the church last, is not choosing what is right. It omits the one thing needful.

Often money is not as plentiful as we would like. We find more places for it than we are able to meet. After we spend what we want, we have nothing left for the church. Our living takes all we have. What is wrong? We forget the one thing needful. God must come first in our plans. Otherwise our time is not properly made use of. When we leave God out of our consideration or make Him last in our plans, then we fail. The one thing needful in life is a proper fellowship with God based on taking time and effort for worship and spiritual instruction.

Lonely Island Has Woman As Printer

EDINBURGH, Tristan da Cunha. — This lonely island in the middle of the South Atlantic will soon have its first parish magazine, thanks to a woman. She is Mrs. Dennis Wilkinson, wife of Tristan's new chaplain, who arrived this fall with her husband and their two daughters.

With her, Mrs. Wilkinson brought the small printing press on which she has printed her husband's parish magazine in England for three years. Tristan, sometimes called the loneliest island in the world, is some 2,000 miles west of the Cape of Good Hope.

COYOTES KILL OFF FOOTHILLS SHEEP

MACLEOD, Alta., — Sheep by the hundreds are being killed off by packs of coyotes roaming the foothills region around Macleod, about 100 miles southeast of Calgary.

Losses running as high as 25 percent have been reported in sheep and cattle in the area. Farmers say an alarming increase has been noted in animal losses since the Alberta government discontinued the $5 bounty on coyotes last year. One farmer reported that the raiders killed 50 lambs on his ranch, resulting in a loss of about $800.

RIGHTS ISSUE

In his legislative platform and he may well decide to try again this year rather than postpone his effort until 1950.

WILL TRY AGAIN
Despite a stinging administration defeat on the civil-rights issue early this year, Senator Scott Lucas (Dem. Ill.), Senate majority leader, emphasized that the Truman forces "lost none of its determination to try again." He gave no indication whether he meant in 1949 or 1950.

Whenever it comes, it will mean a filibuster by southern Democrats. They are the traditional opponents of civil-rights legislation—they contend it is a matter for individual state governments—and the filibuster is their traditional weapon.

SHUT-OFF ATTEMPT
George predicted there will at least be an attempt within the next few weeks to shut off debate. If that move was successful, the administration then could more confidently introduce controversial legislation such as civil-rights measures.

Under a rule adopted this year,

64 senators must vote "yes" to end a filibuster against any Bill. That is a constitutional two-thirds of the 96 members. And, with a goodly number of senators absent from Washington now that the session seems in its final stages, the administration might have great difficulty in mustering 64 votes.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Dawn, as well as twilight in Prince Rupert has sometimes a colorful fascination of its own. Friday, for example the sky over Shawatlans rivalled the glowing tints beyond Hecate Straits. But who, he it asked, rises that early in Prince Rupert?

Advice from London says there will be no devaluation of whisky. It would seem the Scottish distillers will readjust prices, to the end that no matter what Sir Stafford thinks or does, there will be no missing profits. In other words, higher hooch!

Richard Dix, who specialized in "westerns," has passed on at the comparatively early age of 54. He did not bore one with too much artillery, extravagant frontier slang, and nats with too wide a brim. Dix kept within reasonable bounds. He had a good presence, and could also act.

British Columbia, this fall, will have one of the finest apple harvests ever picked. We feel in the best of health, and as far as that goes, the doctor can drop in any old day to have a chat and munch a Macintosh.

Los Angeles, on the map of Southern California for more than a century, climate, one of great nation, growing, oil town where the think? Los Angeles, upert. This fair cause there is no match Prince Rupert, not such a one make you feel five spot, to be dual drive!

Sr. Matrics Go Literary

The Letters Club of the Senior Matriculation Class met for the first time on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. A. M. Hurst. Esther Harrison gave a paper on the life, character and characteristics of Gilbert Keith Chesterton. In addition to the poets there were sandwiches, music and giggling. The purpose of the Club is to read, analyse and discuss the works of the contemporary poets who appear in the Grade XIII Literature Course. At the next meeting on October 12 Eric Moore will give a paper on Rupert Brooke.

SOUTHWARK, Surrey, England—A workman sinking a well-shaft on a building site here unearthed a skull said to be at least 200 years old.

MEDICAL FALLACY—The ancients believed that the arteries of the body held air instead of blood.

THE RATTLER—One of the main reasons why Calgary Stampede are far ahead of their Western Interprovincial Football Union opposition this season is Riley (Rattler) Matheson a 220-pound tackle who played professionally in San Francisco last season. Riley bolsters the mighty wingline that carried the Stampede to a Dominion title last year. (C. P. Photo)

Girls Basketball Gets Organized

About 19 prospective players from Grades 9-12 attended a meeting of Senior Girls basketball at the school on Thursday night. Mr. Hurst pointed out that at it was impossible for all the girls to play on the basketball team this year, the younger players would have to be content with practising. The girls came good enough for a place on the regular team. He stated, however, that there was a possibility that a few of the younger girls might have the ability to play for the team this year, but undoubtedly this will be decided upon after practice sessions start. The girls were then advised to take special exercises to get themselves in good physical condition before the season begins.

Junior Boy's Basketball

After a week of basketball practice in the Civic Centre gym between 7:30 and 8:30 in the morning, Mr. Evans, Jr. High School coach, chose this year's team. Those chosen were: Billy Clark, Jordan Smith, Bill Brown, Allan Shephard, Jimmy Flewin, Donnie Peterson, and Dick Nickerson.

FARM WIVES OVERWORKED

HEDEMARK, Norway ©—
Wives on district farms are responsible for at least 50 percent of the productive labor, according to a study recently completed by the Hedemark Agricultural Society. Results of the survey showed the average farm wife does more than 60 percent of the family work on the farm in addition to keeping house and caring for a family.

London Women Seek Well-Paid Hubbies

Marriage Mart Finds Little Demand For Shy Laborers
LONDON, ©—Women in search of husbands are "turning up their noses" at coal miners, bus drivers and every kind of worker bringing home less than $30 a week says Mary Blair, head of a London marriage bureau.

"I have on my books 200 men under 35, who are in manual jobs. They are looking for wives who can be satisfied with a modest income. Unhappily such wives are hard to find just now."

Most of the women who come here looking for husbands want men from the professions—white collar types.

Miss Blair said the majority of male applicants seeking help from marriage bureaus are "the shy type who find it difficult to strike up an acquaintance with girls."

"Some of them tell me they go to public dances but are too nervous to ask anyone to dance with them. Such men usually go to a marriage bureau in search of a wife."

In the hopes of finding "homey" girls as wives for the working man, the Mary Blair Marriage Bureau is slashing its registration fees for this type of applicant from five guineas to two guineas.

CASTLE IN THE AIR—Scottish immigrant Robert Fairweather, left rents, taxes and housing worries behind him when he took to the trees to find a home. His nine-by-nine cabin was built two years ago on the forks of three trees on the north shore of Vancouver Harbor. Unemployed and unable to get government assistance, Fairweather took to the woods with his axe. His motto: climb a tree and reduce your overhead. (C. P. Photo)

TESTING OUTPUT—A research student examines an important test tube of oil in the laboratory of the Alberta government's oil extraction plant at Bitumount in the heart of the Northern Alberta tar sands area. The rich sands have yielded an average of 250 barrels daily this summer. (C. P. Photo)

NEW INDUSTRY CONGRATULATED—Mayor Nora Arnold congratulates N. Y. Knox, vice president and general manager of Shell Oil Co. of B. C., on the completion of the company's new distributing plant at Prince Rupert. The picture was taken at the City Hall after Mr. Knox had made a presentation to the Mayor on behalf of the company.

PIE HELD RAZOR, HYGIENE DEMANDED

PLYMOUTH, England ©—
Plymouth's medical health officer, Dr. T. Pearson, says the time has come to do something about the standard of food hygiene in Britain.

In his annual report the officer said that a razor blade had recently been found in a mince pie, a ten-inch square of dirty rag in a meat patty and a two-inch nail in a loaf of bread.

Too often, he added, there was "evidence that food-preparing premises are vermin-infested."

British health authorities have launched a national campaign for a general tightening up in food hygiene.

SOUTHEND, Essex, England ©—
C. Newquist of Westcliff, was the 1,000,000th passenger to use the Southend pier trains since August 1.

LONDON ©—Children's cycles can be tested free at Tottenham cycle shops which are backing the Road Safety Committee's idea that majority of accidents are caused by defective machines.
