George Man New Head of Associated Trade Boards

A. M. Patterson Elected President at Juneau Convention

(Special to the Daily News)

Alaska—A. M. Patterson who served as mayor of Prince George, was formerly on the Board of Trade there, held numerous offices and finally made a Freeman of the City of Juneau on Thursday afternoon elected president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia at a session held at the Juneau Hotel.

Duncan K. Kerr of Terrace was elected secretary-treasurer. The convention went on record as favoring a planned immigration scheme for British Columbia similar to that operated in Ontario. The Associated Boards of B.C. will undertake, in support of such a scheme, to correlate through its member Boards information on business, technical and professional opportunities and the demand for both skilled and unskilled labor.

This information is to be available to all interested parties, including the appropriate government agencies.

Representatives of the federal and provincial governments in the persons of H. W. Brighton of Vancouver and J. P. Gawthrop of Victoria, told of steps being already taken along these lines. Co-operation of the Boards of Trade would be greatly welcomed.

Highways came up for considerable attention at the closing session which urged upon the government of Canada the construction of a highway link from Hazelton to Whitehorse to connect the northern trans-provincial highway in Central British Columbia with the Alaska Highway. The need of such a highway from a defence standpoint was emphasized, but its importance from a tourist and economic standpoint in the way of opening up great natural resources such as the Groundhog anthracite coal field was also stressed.

Other features brought forward in favor of such a road were the possibility of branch roads to southeastern Alaska such as Hyder, Ketchikan, Wrangell and Juneau. The favorable aspects of easy construction and lack of snow were also brought out.

A resolution of distinctly international tone was one which urged United States - Canada joint defence board and the government of Canada to maintain the Haines Highway between Haines, Alaska, and the Alaska Highway on a year round basis.

The convention was told that already the use of the Haines Highway by trucks has cut the cost of freight on 100 pounds of potatoes by $4.00 but this was but one example. A Haines delegate said that freight traffic on the Haines Highway was in two and a half months of this year 400 per cent greater than in all of 1947.

Similar representations to the United States government will be made by affiliated Chambers of Commerce of southeastern Alaska.

The convention closed Thursday night with a banquet and dance in Juneau's palatial hotel.

The conventions sailed on the Chilcotin Friday morning for Prince Rupert enroute to their homes in Central British Columbia.

A pause will be made at Ketchikan where a reception is in store for delegates. The Union Steamship Company received a vote of thanks from the convention for the service it had given.

The Juneau Chamber of Commerce was also thanked for its hospitality and the efficiency of convention arrangements under chairmanship of N. C. Banfield.

Canada-wide interest is steadily increasing as the Progressive Conservative party go forward with their plans for their convention on Oct. 2 to name a successor to John Bracken. Last appearance as leader of the Progressive Conservatives was graphed with Ted Conover, Y. P. C. president, centre, and Gordon Graydon, M. P. Figuring prominently in the convention will be Ontario's Premier George Drew, John Diefenbaker of Saskatchewan and Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec.

BANK BANDITS SOUGHT AFTER POLICE KILLING

MONTREAL (CP) —

Two policemen were killed Thursday in a fusillade of revolver shots from bandits who robbed an east-end branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale.

Police captured the bandits' accomplice, a car driver, a few minutes after the daring robbery and said they are looking for two brothers, Donald and Douglas Perrault, in connection with the slayings.

The bandits' loot was an estimated $6,000.

The police set in motion one of the biggest manhunts in the city's history for the two gunmen who cut down Policemen Nelson Paquin, 42, and Paul Emile Duranleau, 35.

DUTY TO AID GREAT BRITAIN

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que. (P) —

An Australian diplomat, Hon. Francis M. Forde, high commissioner to Canada, said today that it is the duty of all Commonwealth countries to "give maximum assistance to the United Kingdom during the present financial and industrial crisis."

This duty, he said, stems from the costly lone front which Britain put up against Germany in the early part of the war and which cost her $20,000,000,000.

STRESSES NEED FOR NEW SCHOOL

Construction of a new high school in Prince Rupert should be a major concern of the Parent - Teachers' Association, members of the Booth P.-T.A. were told by Principal A. M. Hurst at their initial meeting of the term Wednesday night.

Mr. Hurst stressed the need for a new school, in a brief address in which he also outlined the problems of adjusting the timetable of studies at the beginning of the term. These, he said, are being surmounted.

The meeting, attended by 50, elected Miss Townsend secretary, replacing John Church who left at the end of the last term. Chairman of the meeting was Rev. Basil S. Procker, president of the Association.

INQUEST FINDS NATURAL DEATH

Investigating the death of Mary Anderson, 23-year-old native woman, a coroner's jury yesterday brought in the verdict that she died of natural causes in the Prince Rupert General Hospital at 9:15 a.m. September 21. Actual cause of death was given as pneumonia.

Dr. R. E. Coleman who performed an autopsy Tuesday on the body of the deceased woman, presented his finding at the inquest and also records from the hospital showing that when Mary Anderson was admitted to the hospital on September 20, she was suffering from convulsions.

Members of the jury were Alfred Rivett, foreman, George Ross, Trevor Hill, Albert Woods, Benny Sprinkle and Frederick Edwardson.

Shells Burst Without Warning Among Planes Flying to Berlin

Tension Over German Capital Tightens — U.S. Bans Russian Newspapers

BERLIN (CP)—The Russians began to fire anti-aircraft guns in the Berlin corridor today, in what was described as "practice" maneuvers while British and American planes continued their air lift to supply the capital.

The firing continued for 90 minutes before the

ARABS ATTACK JEWISH HEIGHTS

TEL AVIV (P)—An Israeli spokesman said today that Arab Legion forces attacked and captured Jewish-held heights east of Lydda this morning. He said that Israeli forces counter-attacked and recaptured them.

HARVESTING WEATHER SAID "EXCELLENT"

However, B.C. and Northern Alberta Hampered by Rain

OTTAWA (P) — Apart from northern areas in Alberta, "excellent" harvesting weather has generally prevailed throughout the prairie provinces over the last month, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said today in the last of a series of telegraphic crop reports.

Rapid progress in harvesting cereals has been made in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and in southern Alberta, the Bureau said. Rains have held up work in northern Alberta but the crops should be under cover within three weeks.

Quality of cereals generally is high throughout Manitoba and Saskatchewan. In Alberta, the quality is variable, particularly in northern sections where frost and wet weather have affected the sample.

Harvesting of cereal grains is practically completed in Manitoba, except in west-central and northern areas. In Saskatchewan, wheat is nearly 90 per cent harvested and coarse grains more than 70 per cent completed.

In British Columbia, harvesting is under way throughout the province. Wet weather, however, has delayed operations and some spoilage of cereals is reported. The apple crop is maturing rapidly but the size of the fruit is smaller than usual. Harvesting of hops is nearly completed.

DANISH BUTTER FOR CANADIANS

OTTAWA (P) — Trade Minister C. D. Howe announced today completion of arrangements for the purchase of 6,000,000 pounds of Danish butter, bringing the total butter imports this year to 15,000,000 pounds.

COMMUNISM GREATEST FOE OF CHRIST

VANCOUVER (P) — The Very Rev. Jesse H. Arnup of Toronto, said Thursday night: "I refuse to exchange Jesus Christ for Joseph Stalin as the saviour of the world."

The former Moderator of the United Church of Canada told the thirteenth meeting of the church's General Council that Communism "is bidding for dominion over every Christian mission field abroad."

He pointed to nationalism as the second greatest threat to Christianity. Communism, the first and foremost, is destroying human morality and violating the Christian conception of the divinity of man.

RED PLANE USED

LONDON (P)—A foreign office spokesman said today that a fighter aircraft which yesterday shot down a regular Arab airliner near the TransJordan frontier was a "Yak" plane, a type normally used by the Russian air force. The Yak was believed to be under Jewish control.

Narcotics Cause Heavy Losses

VANCOUVER (P)—Canada's three to four thousand known narcotic addicts cost the Dominion millions of dollars each year, K. C. Hissick of Ottawa, narcotic control chief of the Department of National Health and Welfare said Thursday.

In an address to the four-day convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada he said that "two thousand addicts using a grain of morphine daily can be responsible for an economic loss of $42,000,000 yearly."

Much of this loss, he declared, is caused to businessmen by desperate addicts breaking into shops to obtain money to get drugs.

'Blue Laws' Criticized By Judge

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canada's statutes on Sunday observance, bookmaking and lotteries were termed "outmoded" by Judge R. A. Sargent at the forty-third convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada Thursday.

Strict enforcement of the Lord's Day Act he said would close cities so tight "that life would be unbearable." The jurist asked delegates to bring public opinion on these laws before the attorney-general and legislators of the various provinces.

The Lord's Day Act, he declared, was first invoked as a means of enforcing the six-day working week for workers and not as an instrument for narrow moralists.

Northern Waters Are Vital to U.S.

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, Maine — Home from a voyage that took him to the Arctic, Commander Donald MacMillan, says the United States should know far more about the waters of Northern Labrador, for such waters are vital to the defence of North America.

MacMillan made extensive soundings. "Much more hydrographic work in Northern Labrador is needed," he said, "in case of an attack. At present, we know comparatively little about those waters."

Northern Labrador is convenient to Greenland but not nearly so close as the Arctic regions far to the north.

MAYBE THEY HOPED TO HAVE A GREEN HOUSE

CHICAGO — A five year old boy and seven year old sister have admitted they took a five month old baby from its carriage and painted it green, leaving the child in a weed patch. They took the baby "to play house," but discovering a can of house paint, changed their plans.

MISPLACED SYMPATHY

A COUPLE of Glasgow physicians, after having given special attention to the subject, agree that to overdo the expressing of sympathy when there might be some slight excuse for compassion, is distinctly harmful. There is much in what the doctors say. It cannot be denied there is a tendency today to look for aid, to expect assistance as one's right, to shrink from actual, unlovely facts—in other words inclination to welcome balm-like words and listen gladly to a line of talk you think is coming to you, when it honestly is not.

Self pity is part and parcel of the philosophy that depreciates one's own powers and capacity, and supports centralization of authority as a policy. Pride, independence, ambition—once these healthy qualities begin to crumble and decay, there is not much left to live for.

TRADE BOARD CONVENTION URGES ROAD TO ATLIN TO AID IN MINING

(Special to the Daily News)

JUNEAU, Alaska—Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia rose to the rescue of the historic old mining community of Atlin in far northern British Columbia Thursday when it adopted a resolution of Whitehorse, Yukon Territory Board of Trade, calling upon Dominion and British Columbia governments to take action to connect that area up with the Alaska Highway.

By constructing a road from there to Jakes Corner on the Alaska Highway, 70 miles, half in Yukon and half in British Columbia, it would be possible to transport economically modern mining machinery into the Atlin district.

The population of Atlin has dwindled from 1500 before world War II to 150 now.

By the present circuitous coastal steamship, railways, motor vehicle, and barge routes or by air, transportation costs are now prohibitive, it was held.

The convention contended that such a road was of vital national importance and urged that construction of the road be commenced by the spring of 1949.

R. J. Rawson, of Whitehorse, spoke strongly in support of such a road and E. T. Applewhite, of Prince Rupert, pointed out that the provincial government of British Columbia had already committed itself to granting $200,000 toward the construction. The Dominion minister of mines and resources had put himself on record as favoring the inclusion of federal funds in the next estimates for the purpose.

Mining companies had indicated that millions of dollars would be available for mining operations in the area if such a road were available. Without the road Atlin would be left to starve to death, said Mr. Applewhite.

The convention also interested itself in the tuna fishery off the Queen Charlotte Islands and Southeastern Alaska by commending the Canadian government for having instituted exploration which had led to the inauguration of the fishery and asking that the Canadian government continue its exploration and research while the American fishery authorities be requested to institute similar research in co-operation with the Canadian authorities.

A resolution to this effect was brought in by Ketchikan delegates who saw in the tuna fishery an industry which would continue to stimulate the fisheries not only of Prince Rupert but of Southeastern Alaskan ports.

The convention reiterated resolutions of 1947 calling for: An immigration program for Canada with the establishment of a separate Department of Immigration.

OLD METHOD OF HAULING WATER—Primitive methods of hauling water from a well are still occasionally seen in some sections of western Canada, especially in districts settled by people of Ukrainian descent. A heavy stone used as a weight on the end of the pole makes pulling up a pail of water a comparatively easy chore. The rope must be equal in length to the depth of the water below the top of the well. The photo was taken on a farm near Yorkton, Sask.

Prince George May Become Gate To Alaska Road Tourist Traffic

Completion of the Hart Highway to the Peace River country should make Prince George the jumping-off point for tourists heading for the Alaska Highway, according to Col. S. D. Johnston, who recently returned from the army's motorized "Exercise North II."

Speaking to the Rotary Club Thursday afternoon, Col. Johnston said that the "deplorable" condition of the Alberta government road from Edmonton to Dawson Creek, B.C., is discouraging Alaska-bound automobile tourists.

If the Hart Highway is completed before the Alberta government does something about its road, Prince George will get most of the tourist traffic," he said. "The road from Edmonton to Dawson Creek is in deplorable condition and many tourists who begin the trip turn back in discouragement."

Many of these tourists are under the impression that the Alaska Highway starts at Edmonton, whereas, it actually begins at Dawson Creek, 495 miles north.

Portion of the Hart Highway which is completed is modern in its specifications and surfacing and would provide a strong attraction to northbound tourists, he said.

Col. Johnston outlined the history of the Alaska Highway, which stretches 1,522 miles from Dawson Creek to Fairbanks, Alaska. Within nine months and six days after its construction received the "green light" in 1942, vehicles were passing

RESERVE LEADER OFF TO OTTAWA

Commanding Officer of the local naval reserve division, J.D. McRae, left today for Vancouver enroute by air to Ottawa where he will attend a conference of all commanding officers of reserve naval divisions in Canada.

The conference will commence on September 27 and last until October 1 or 2. The main concern of the delegates will be coordination of permanent and reserve navy division activities. Through exchange of information gathered from all across Canada the conference will seek to bring in a policy that will standardize reserve training in the various divisions. This is designed to ensure that personnel, in say Halifax, is receiving the same training and making the same progress as those of the same rank in Prince Rupert or any other division.

At the conclusion of the conference Mr. McRae will fly to Vancouver where he will meet Mrs. McRae who will leave Prince Rupert for the south next week. After attending to business matters in Vancouver, the couple will travel to Duncan, Vancouver Island, where they will spend a holiday at the home of Mr. McRae's parents.

METZ DOMINATES SECOND ROUND OF GOLF OPEN
VANCOUVER. — Nick Metz, of Virginia Beach, Virginia, on Thursday beat par and the rain for the second successive day to take a two-stroke lead at the half-way mark in the Canadian Open golf championship, but two Vancouver men loom as powerful threats.
Metz shot a scizzing 71—one under par—to bring his total to 138 for the two days.
At least half a dozen other golfers, including Vancouver's Fred Wood and Stan Leonard, could take over the leadership before the 72-hole tourney ends Saturday. Leonard finished up with one under par Thursday—a 71—for a total of 143. Woods posted the same count.
Metz' closest rivals are Herman Kelsor of Springfield, Missouri, and Johnny Palmer of Baden, North Carolina. Each have a score of 140.

CLOSED GROUSE SEASON CREATES TERRACE MYSTERY
TERRACE—The Rod and Gun Club has received official word that there will be no open season on grouse this year, so all who thought that no mention of the open grouse season in this year's game regulations was an omission can consider their hopes frustrated.
Ordinarily a season is closed on game when the local Rod and Gun Clubs decide it is a necessity for preservation of this species but from what information Mr. Hall and Mr. Lambly have been able to gather, no such recommendation for closing the grouse season in the Skeena district was made by any of the Rod and Gun Clubs.
Who recommended closing the season, and why, no one seems to know, but Mr. Hall and Mr. Lambly intend finding out.

PENNANT BATTLE BECOME CRUCIAL

NEW YORK. — The three-way fight for the American League pennant enters its show-down stage today when the Boston Red Sox and the Cleveland Indians tied for the lead, and the New York Yankees, only one game behind, open a crucial series.
The Yankees flubbed a chance to pull into a three-way tie yesterday when they were beaten 4-2 by the cellar-dwelling Chicago White Sox.
All contenders have eight games left but the schedule favors the Indians.

"Listen to Your Ma," Writers Warn Reviving Brown Bomber

By Arch MacKenzie
Canadian Press Staff Writer
REGINA. — After months of silence, during which it was generally conceded Joe Louis would stick by his post-fight announcement he was retiring, the Brown Bomber exploded that line of thought by saying he would return to defend his world championship once again.
It was a bitter pill to most persons who want to see Louis retire while he has some semblance left of that ringcraft which held him on top so long. Most conceded his last fights showed a shadow moving through the gestures.
"Listen to your ma, Joe," said Tom (Regina Leader Post) Melville, after Louis' disclosure. "The millions you once earned may have dwindled away—goodness knows there were enough cuts to be made, but you still have enough to keep you in pork chops and golf balls."
"Stay away from Yankee Stadium unless there's a ball game going on inside."
Melville says the announcement after the Louis-Walcott fight last summer that Louis was retiring undefeated brought more thrills to the general public than the fight itself.
"He was a great champion, beaten by no one except time, saying farewell to the squared circle over which he had ruled so long."
"Now," says Melville, "he says he fights again—for Uncle Mike Jacobs."
Jacobs is smack-bang in the middle of a promoter's war, says Melville. Louis could be the fall guy after being Jacobs' meal ticket for some years.

Naval Reserve Offers Chance for Training, Outlet for Citizenship

In times of war Canada has had to call on her young men to discharge the greatest obligation a citizen faces—that of fighting for his country. Practically every man that has fought for Canada on foreign soil in the past has been a volunteer and discharged his duties with honor.

During the years of peace however, a career in one of the armed services, or even being a member of a reserve unit, has not been taken as an obligation by the majority of young Canadian men. Yet being prepared is essentially a duty of citizenship. Many countries have had a system of compulsory training for the youth of their nation which is much more up-to-date than a young man's plans than is the training a Canadian may take once a week in a reserve unit.

If it was a choice between compulsory service or membership in a reserve unit where practically all training is done in the recruit's home town, there is little doubt which would be the choice of the independent and freedom-loving Canadian. For the boys receiving training in their own town or city it means they can carry on with their education or job at the same time and from the standpoint of parents it is natural for them to want their young sons at home rather than take a year or two years out of their lives while undergoing military training.

Right now the Prince Rupert Naval Division under Lt.-Cdr. Jack McRae, is engaged in a recruiting drive which for the most part is taking the form of acquainting the public with the idea that the reserve navy is a vital factor in Canadian life. A factor that should have the full support of the citizens in order that it may play the role it was intended to take in furnishing training for young men so that Canada may be prepared, in the event of need, to rapidly expand its armed forces through reserve units which are well-manned and organized.

Eight young Prince Rupert men have felt the call of the sea during the past two weeks and are now among that company of volunteers who make up the Prince Rupert naval division, with headquarters at H.M.C.S. Chatham.

There are four officers and 30 men in the local navy reserve now and more are expected as the general public becomes more aware of the important role the navy reserve plays in community and national life.

In a naval reserve division there is ample opportunity provided for training along certain technical lines. Radar, asdic and loran are all part of modern navy equipment and are used by many commercial boats as navigation aids so in learning what makes these electrical installations tick, the navy man is gaining knowledge that may be of use to him in civilian life. Naval headquarters desire that each officer and rating takes two weeks extra training yearly aside from what he receives one night a week at his local division. A considerable number of the H.M.C.S. Chatham personnel have had this training in the form of cruises on warships that carried them to a number of foreign ports.

Drill forms a part of the week-day training provided for the navy reserve. They also have a chance to study and become familiar with up to date ship models. With the aid of a set of cutaway demonstration explosives, instruction is received on the composition and effectiveness of various ammunition. As a member of the local film council, the naval division is able to show some educational and entertainment films along with those that are strictly instructional.

The local naval division actively interests itself in the Sea Cadet program, assisting the Navy League whenever they can to provide suitable training for the boys who aspire to become men of the sea.

For the past two years H.M.C.S. Chatham has served as the headquarters for the enthusiastic group of men that make up the Prince Rupert Amateur Radio Club and this winter the club will be back in session making use of the navy facilities.

Lieut. J. L. Quinn and his staff of nine regular navy ratings are primarily concerned with the duties of keeping H.M.C.S. Chatham and its facilities shipshape for the Prince Rupert naval reserve division. There is no limit on the number of men the reserve division may have on its strength in Prince Rupert. Generally speaking a young man wishing to join the reserve should be between the age of 17½ and 28 years and have at least a grade 8 standing. There has been a good response from boys of the senior matriculation class in Prince Rupert and these are the type of young men who have an opportunity to rise rapidly in the ranks of the reserve navy.

DISTURBANCE BRINGS $10 FINE

Ivor Montgomery, charged in police court Tuesday with creating a disturbance in a public place, was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs or serve 3 days in jail.

Peter Machura, charged with supplying liquor to Hazel Harris, a native woman, pleaded guilty when he appeared in city police court Monday. Tuesday he reversed his plea and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs of the court or serve one month in jail.

Jimmy Danes, formerly of Queen Charlotte Islands, pleaded not guilty to two charges of supplying liquor to Indians. He was convicted in police court Tuesday and sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs or serve one month in jail, on each of the two convictions.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. If one is attending a dinner or banquet where wine is being served and one does not care to drink it, what should one do?

A. Follow the old-fashioned custom of turning your glass upside down. The waiter will then understand that he is to pass you by.

Q. When a wedding engagement has been broken, what should the girl return to the man?

A. All gifts of jewelry, including the engagement ring, all photographs and letters.

Q. Is it all right to ask a person to return books which he has borrowed?

A. Yes. If a reasonable length of time has elapsed, one need not hesitate to do so.

OLD BIBLE IS FOUND HERE

A 112-year-old Bible, once a birthday gift to an English girl, has turned up in Prince Rupert. It was found recently by Rupert Greissel of 512 Eighth Avenue West among a box of books when he purchased it a year ago.

Published in London by the Oxford University Press in 1836, the Bible—King James version—was the "gift of Mr. Scott to Miss Emma F. Bennett on her birthday, April 15, 1938." The letter "S" in the inscription is made in the old style, resembling an "F."

Mr. Greissel has no idea who the former owners were.

basket with fresh fruits and vegetables instead of the tinned variety.
Corn, grapes and tomatoes, are only three of the many foods that have fallen into the expensive class and it's time to stock up for the winter season.

Home economists have produced a recipe for tomato conserve, one of the special treats great grandmother used to make every autumn.

Ingredients: Four cups tomatoes (about 10 medium tomatoes); three cups sugar; one lemon; one cup raisins; one-quarter preserved or candied ginger.

Wash, remove core, peel and cut tomatoes in quarters before measuring. Cook 10 minutes; add sugar, thinly sliced lemon and raisins. Cook 10 minutes again and add ginger, cut in small pieces and continue cooking five minutes or to jam consistency. Pour into hot sterilized glasses, cool and seal. Yield: four cups.

STUFFED TOMATOES—Stuffed tomatoes are excellent for the evening meal at any time now.

The recipe: Six medium tomatoes; one-half teaspoon finely chopped onion; two tablespoons butter; one-half cup bread-crumbs; one-half cup cooked bacon (minced); salt and pepper; one egg; one-half cup buttered crumbs.

Wash tomatoes and cut slice from stem end. Scoop out inside and let stand inverted for 15 minutes. Brown onion in butter, add crumbs, meat, tomato pulp and seasoning. Cook five minutes and then add egg slightly beaten. Cook one minute and refill shells. Cover with buttered crumbs and place in greased pan. Bake 20 minutes in a hot oven.

GRAPE JUICE—With grapes now in season, home economists have come up with a recipe for grape juice.

One basket grapes (six quarts); seven cups water; 2 2/3 cups sugar.

Wash, stem and mash grapes. Add water and boil 10 minutes. Strain overnight through a jelly bag. In the morning add the sugar and bring to a fast boil. Pour at once into sterilized bottles. Partially seal and process 10 minutes in the boiling water bath; seal tightly and store.

A white sediment may form in the kettle while standing overnight, or in bottles during storage. Shake well before using to distribute the sediment, which contains valuable minerals and should not be discarded.

Civic Centre is Fashion Centre as Latest Styles Shown at Cambrai Tea

Beauty and style highlighted the glamorous parade of fall fashions displayed yesterday afternoon before a large audience of interested ladies who attended the fall fashion show presented in the Civic Centre auditorium by the Cambrai Chapter of the I.O.D.E. in co-operation with the management of Sweet Sixteen store and Brownwood's.

Graceful and lovely models, parading to piano selections provided by Andy McNaughton, charmingly exhibited a variety of the latest creations in ladies' wear.

Accenting youth, Mona Lykegard, Nina Youngman, Lorraine Youngman, Margaret Brain and Evelyn Bussey displayed an intriguing selection of garments that ranged from twin-sweater sets and skirt combinations to coats with cape collars of fur. The young mannequins, with their air of easy grace received appreciative applause each time they appeared in a new ensemble.

Featuring selections from the wardrobe of career girl and matron were Mrs. Stan Saville, Mrs. Thomas Fraser, Mrs. William Noble and Mrs. W. Bussey. Here the audience was treated to a look at luxurious fur coats, distinctive dinner dresses, theatre suits and many other designs that have been planned for the well-dressed lady. Those present accorded enthusiastic applause to all the graceful models exhibiting the beautiful styles.

Mrs. Sheila Chater, a member of the Sweet Sixteen staff, supplied the commentary during the fashion show. In a capable manner she described each of the 26 costumes worn by the models, drawing particular attention to such distinctive features on some of the dresses as peplums, bustles and the pencil slim skirts. Shoes worn by the models were provided by Brownwoods.

Romantic climax to the parade of lovely ladies in fine apparel was Evelyn Bussey as a bride in an ivory satin gown with sweetheart neckline and short flared peplum. Her charming bridesmaids, Nina and Lorraine Youngman, wore mauve and primrose taffeta gowns.

Before and during the fashion show the ladies of the Cambrai Chapter served delicious refreshments. Presiding at the tea and coffee table was Mrs. F. M. Kempton and Mrs. J. A. Teng. Those serving were Mrs. Jack McRae, Mrs. Duncan McRae, Mrs. Robert Parker Miss Vivian Wrathall, Mrs. Bruce Wilson and Mrs. W. R. Young. The committee in charge of the catering were Mrs. T. A. McMeekin, Mrs. G. G. Withers, Mrs. W. A. McBroom and Mrs. Phillip Lyons. Mrs. W. F. Stone presided at the door.

Following the fashion display, Mrs. C. G. Ham, regent of Cambrai Chapter, thanked Mrs. G. Stromdahl, manageress of Sweet Sixteen, her staff, Brownwoods, Andy McNaughton and all others who contributed to the

B.C., Alaska 'friendly neighbors'

JUNEAU, Alaska—Governor Ernest Gruening of Alaska at the opening of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia and affiliated Chambers of Commerce convention here Wednesday which he described as "an auspicious event staged between friendly neighbors in a good old fashioned Anglo-Saxon manner," expressed hope that it would contribute a part towards the perfecting in times of peace that perfect relationship which had been developed in time of crisis.

The governor was referring to the use to which Prince Rupert had been put in time of crisis of war as the strategic port of embarkation for Alaska. "Paradoxically," he observed, "this relationship functioned in time of danger better than in times of security."

The port of Prince Rupert and the central interior of British Columbia could well serve to better advantage Alaska, and the United States, Gruening asserted in the establishment of a wholesome regionalism which need not develop into harmful sectionalism.

He referred to the handicaps of long distance and red tape under which these regions "on the periphery of things" suffered and called for unity of effort in meeting common problems.

When one section lags the whole unit is endangered, declared the governor as he alluded to the two great areas which were gathered democratically and internationally to iron out their common problems.

The international body already consisting of 16 British Columbia boards and seven Alaskan admitted three new member boards—Fort St. James, Atlin and Whitehorse. Thus the Yukon receives its first representation. The Atlin and Whitehorse boards offered resolutions asking for the building of a road to connect Atlin with the Alaska Highway and for the improvement along permanent lines of the main Alaska Highway.

The convention was opened by Dr. L. M. Greene of Smithers, the president, who gave as the outstanding economic event of the past year in central British Columbia the advent of the Celanese Corporation of America acetate pulp mill operation at Port Edward which would change the whole economy of the area.

Mayor Waino Herickson of Juneau and President McLean of the Juneau Board of Trade added their voice of welcome to the party of 70 visitors from British Columbia which was joined here by delegates from Haines and Ketchikan.

Four past presidents of the Associated Boards are in attendance and each were heard briefly at opening, George McAdams of Terrace, J. T. Harvey, Prince Rupert; F. M. Dockrill, Telkwa, and J. W. H. Day, Vanderhoof.

Mr. Dockrill recalled that his first visit to Juneau had been in February, 1899.

Messages were read from several cabinet ministers both at Ottawa and Victoria including Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King.

One minute silence was observed out of respect to the memory of the late Louis Lebourdais, former M.L.A. for Cariboo, who died since last convention.

J. T. Gawthrop, Victoria, regional director of development, spoke for the Department of Trade and Commerce and the federal government.

H. W. Knapp, Seattle, brought greetings of the Pacific Northwest Trade Association.

Wednesday afternoon the convention went into consideration of 21 resolutions approved by the resolutions committee headed by J. T. Harvey of Prince Rupert.

Presidents and secretaries of visiting boards of trade were entertained at luncheon Wednesday by the Juneau Chamber of Commerce. Later a sight-seeing drive followed by a gubernatorial reception. Tonight the warmth of the reception being accorded by Juneau to the epochal international gathering is matched only by the warm, sunny weather of this Alaska capital city.

WHIRLWAY—Colonel Matt Winn, promoter of the Kentucky Derby for years, said the greatest experience of his life was when Whirlaway won by eight lengths. He charged, making the rest of the field look as though they had gone into slow motion. He ran the race in 2:01 2-5, fastest Derby in all history to that date—1941. Bred in Kentucky, at Mr. Warren Wright's famed Calumet Farm. In 60 starts, Whirlaway won $561,161.00—top money winner until 1947, when Armed, then Styrie, headed him.
