Doctor Lucky To Be After Sea Miracle

Into Chatham Sound from Stranding Boat, Swims Mile and Half to Shore After Being Conceded Lost

William S. Kergin is alive today to tell the tale of an almost incredibly fortunate Easter Sunday afternoon from a watery fate in grim Chatham Sound outside Prince Rupert. His prowess as a swimmer, courage and presence of mind were factors in his preservation in almost fantastic marine episode.

After a good luck element. Giving up yesterday afternoon, Kergin was discharged today from the General Hospital. He spent the night in a room more than a cold. Even by the time she got on deck the vessel was listing heavily to starboard and was down by the bow.

First instinct was to launch the lifeboat and, in so doing, she almost lost grasp of the line. However, she held on and lashed it alongside. The Full Moon was moving ahead all this time.

Such clothing as could be gathered together was pitched in as well as some food supplies. Then the children were somehow lowered into the skiff, suffering bruises in the transfer. A dog was left on the boat.

Mrs. Kergin frankly was not clear as to whether she got away with the lifeboat before the Full Moon struck Tugwell Bar or co-incidentally therewith.

In any case, they all got out on the bar and soon a boat passed by and responded to frantic signals.

"I sent the boat to look for my husband and then set out in the skiff and rowed to Metlakatla," said Mrs. Kergin. "It seemed ages but finally we made it. I was all but exhausted when I saw a man burning brush. I told him of our experience and soon the entire village was around offering assistance. Boats were quickly mustered to take up the search and we were given shelter. They were most kind and their aid is something which we will never forget. It was a wonderful thing."

Dr. Kergin was resting at his home this morning, still suffering from the effects of exposure and exhaustion but quickly recuperating.

It was the fishing boat Al Rita that picked the Full Moon up and towed it in to Prince Rupert.

Pentiction Wins Over Nanaimo

NANAIMO — Pentiction Vets Saturday captured their two-game total-point Senior B basketball series with Nanaimo by virtue of an 82-79 win on the aggregate.

Nanaimo won Saturday night's game 54 to 48 but Pentiction annexed the series with a surplus of three after winning 34 to 25 Friday night.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis
Southeast gales were buffeting the exposed waters of the Queen Charlottes and Northern Vancouver Island as another Pacific storm moved into those areas this morning. Rain became general over the northern coast during the night and showers occurred along the southern coast. Variable cloudiness extended into the interior. This disturbance appeared to be moving slower than previously expected and rain is not likely to reach the southern coastal regions until this afternoon or evening. There will be rain on the coast tomorrow morning and showers in the afternoon. Widely scattered showers are expected to extend into the interior regions.

Forecast
North Coast Region—Rain today and tonight. Showers Tuesday. Little change in temperature. Winds southeast (40 mph) decreasing to southwest (20) this afternoon and increasing to southeast (30) again overnight. Lows tonight and highs Tuesday — at Port Hardy, Sandspit and Prince Rupert, 40 and 45.

Fatal Airplane Crash at Pentiction

ON THEIR WAY FOR A THREE TO FIVE-YEAR TRIP AROUND WORLD—Four Rover Scouts from London, Eng., are seen on first lap of a hike around the world which is expected to take them from three to five years. The Rovers, Peter Williams, 21, Tom Hodgson, 21, George Grainger, 21, and Cyril Wyncoll, 20 plan to work their cross-channel passage on a French onion boat. After that they will earn their way by doing odd jobs—there will be no hitch-hiking. The hikers have no set route, but the broad plan is to pass through France, Belgium, Holland, West Germany, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland and Italy and on to Malta, Egypt, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, U.S.A. and Canada.

BASKETBALL— Prince Rupert Jets to Meet Pentiction in Finals For B. C.

Prince Rupert Jets will meet Pentiction in the British Columbia Senior B Basketball finals to be held in Pentiction. A tremendous 10-foot drive off the rugged defenceman's stick whistled by Walter (Turk) Broda in the Toronto nets at 8:39 minutes of the first overtime period and gave the National Hockey League champions a four to three margin in games in the thrill-packed semi-final round.

Easter Sunday— World Prayer Is For Peace

A worried Christian world returned to every day today after an Easter Sunday dedicated to prayers for peace. Throughout Christian countries that believe in a Saviour risen from the dead, the faithful knelt yesterday in pleas for the dead of two world wars. Everywhere they asked that war's destruction would not be repeated.

At St. Peter's basilica in Rome 500,000 Holy Year pilgrims of the Roman Catholic Church heard Pope Plus lead for a return to the Gospel spirit and the idea of social justice. The Holy City of Jerusalem was jammed for services at a shrine dedicated to Christ's death and resurrection.

Blackpool Is Storm Swept

LONDON — A 92-mile an hour gale struck the holiday resort of Blackpool today, sweeping people off their feet, tearing slate off roofs.

At First United Church

At the First United Church at 11 a.m. Rev. L. G. Sieber spoke on "Dawn in the Garden" and the anthem "Easter Day" was sung by the junior choir. At the evening service, he spoke on "Man Has Forever" and the senior choir rendered the beautiful Dutch Carol "This Joyful Easter Tide" impressively and in the evening Rowland Miles gave an effective interpretation of "In The End of the Sabbath". Henry Pluym at the organ provided splendid accompaniments.

At First Baptist Church

At the First Baptist Church Sunday morning, Rev. Fred Antrobus spoke on "The Risen Lord's Appearance To Waverling Disciples". At the evening service he spoke on "Why Seek Ye The Living Among The Dead?" In the afternoon at 12:15 a large number of adults and children attended a special Sunday School program. Special features of the program was a solo by young Jean Golds, and a pageant by the Explorer Girls.

Sunday School at First Baptist

Sunday School at First Baptist was in two sections—one department in the church proper and one in the social hall. The Easter Story was depicted with the flanelgraph by John Antrobus with Henry Vanderheide, Sunday School superintendent, as chairman. Mrs. T. Lloyd was chairman downstairs and Mrs. Fred Antrobus organist.

Beautification

THERE IS NOT MUCH THAT CAN BE said about beautification which has not already been repeated several times. Progressive communities know well the advantages of a clean, tidy and well-painted town. There is satisfaction of living in such communities.

With the coming of spring, Prince Rupert certainly presents evidence of the need for a clean-up campaign. The accumulated debris of winter lies exposed in the spring sunshine. Dirty buildings, or those needing paint, are conspicuous.

A snappy local beautification campaign, given ample publicity, would be a real service to the community and would bring credit to the sponsors of a worth-while community project.

It remains only for someone to spark the campaign in the community.

Canadian Beautification Campaign period is May 13-27 but there is a lot of preliminary cleaning up to be done in the meantime.

LOCAL HOTEL PROJECT

PRINCE RUPERT CHAMBER of Commerce, decided at its meeting last week to assist a local business concern which desires to obtain a tavern licence for a modern hotel but feels itself not of the financial capacity to undertake a project of more than 40 rooms. The Chamber was not supporting any particular concern but was actuated by desire to protest any arbitrary ruling in such matters, as the view of impending city growth.

Any $100,000 hotel project in which a well-conducted and modern hostelry is assured would be indeed an acquisition to the city and should not hurt any existing business.

If private enterprise is going to be held up, it will seriously hamper the progress of the city. They may not be swank big city palaces but 40-room hotels do not grow on trees.

Eritreans Welcome U.N. Commission

Members of the United Nations Commission for Eritrea are greeted by the local population upon their arrival at the town of Massawa. Established by the last session of the General Assembly, the Commission is in Eritrea to ascertain the wishes of the inhabitants of that former Italian colony and to make recommendations on its future.

All of diplomatic London, including Their Majesties the King and Queen and Princess Elizabeth, were on hand to attend the dinner given at the French embassy in honor of President and Mrs. Vincent Auriol of France. Prime Minister and Mrs. Clement Attlee (top photo) seemed rather glum on their arrival, though Mr. Attlee's Labor party won the recent election, if only by a narrow margin. On the other hand, war-time Prime Minister Winston Churchill, shown with Mrs. Churchill on their arrival at the embassy despite party defeat in the recent election, was smiling and seemingly pleased with himself as he waved to crowds lining the walk outside the embassy.

Bottle Reason, Was Collecting

Paddy Madden, an Indian, came through with an explanation to the police that he had been engaged in collecting bottles for sale when officers sought to ascertain why he had an accumulation of liquor bottles in his room. Paddy was fined $10 for being drunk.

In other liquor cases involving natives at the week-end, Louis Dixon was fined $25, with option of one month's imprisonment for possession.

James Inkster and Bob Dixon were each fined $16 for drunkenness. Terence O'Brien, a white man, was fined $15.

EARLY ELECTION IN BRITAIN SEEN

LONDON — Canadian Press quotes an authoritative spokesman of the Labor government as stating that the Labor party's present slim majority makes it impossible to effectively carry on the party's program and that an early election may be anticipated.

Pictures of New Zealand Enjoyed

The senior grades of Borden Street School had one of their most interesting lessons in social studies last week when Mrs. G. E. H. Montgomery took them on a trip to New Zealand.

Her large collection of beautifully colored scenes proved most informative to the children and her comments made the showing very realistic.

A vote of thanks to Mrs. Montgomery was moved by Roy Sieber and seconded by Julie Prockter and enthusiastically endorsed by the hundred children who attended the lesson.

Oil makes a country strong

Try to imagine life without oil! Oil supplies one-quarter of all the heat and power we use . . . in home and factory, on farm and highway. It helps us live better.

For years Canadians have had to depend on foreign countries for almost all the oil they used. Now, after a long and costly search, big new fields have been found in Alberta.

The more oil we produce right here in Canada the stronger we will be. Already the new discoveries have made thousands of new jobs. Millions of U.S. dollars once needed for imported oil are now being saved by the new oil fields, and the prairie consumers are saving money too.

In order that Canadians may reap further benefits, Alberta oil must reach new markets. It must be moved to eastern Canada—2,000 miles away—where it must compete with oil from other areas. That means holding transport costs down to a minimum.

To bring Alberta oil east a tube of steel will span one-third of the continent—from Edmonton to Lake Superior. It is taking shape now. To carry the oil on to Ontario refineries, the largest inland tankers ever built are being constructed in Canadian yards.

There's a big job still to be done before the full benefits of the new oil discoveries reach all Canadians. But the job is being carried on with increasing benefit to all of us. Oil is strengthening the nation.

Bringing you oil is a big job . . . and a costly one

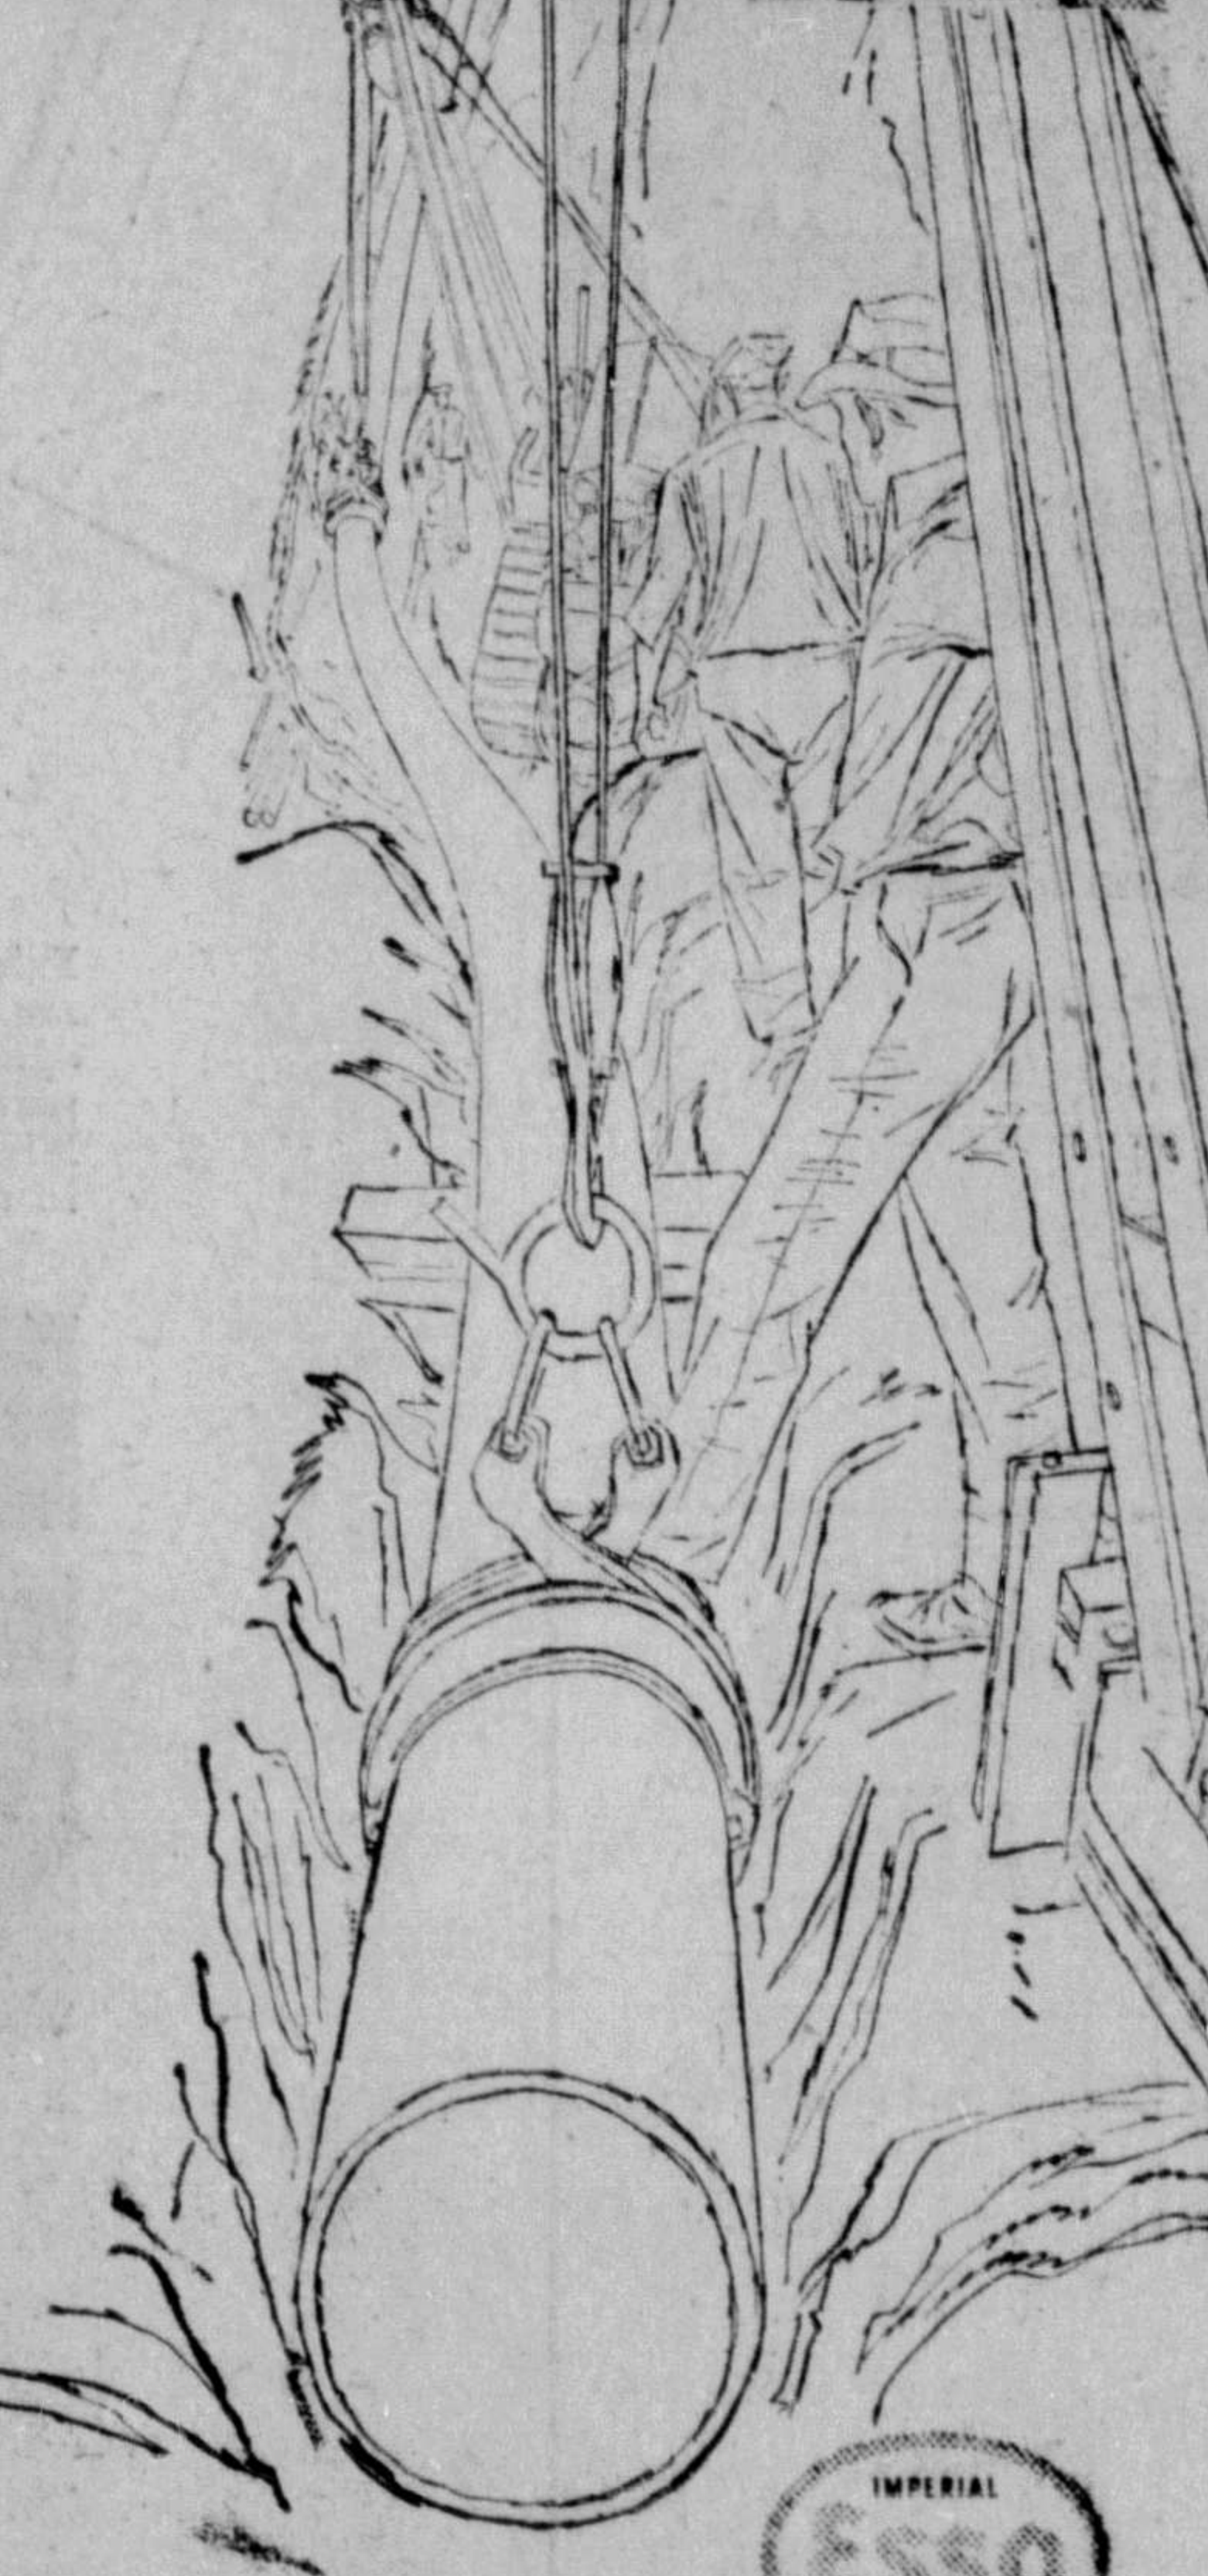

About Canada's Oil—Last year Canadians used an average of 300 gallons of oil each. This is more, per capita, than any nation except the United States.

By replacing imports, Canadian oil production is expected to save 100 million scarce U.S. dollars in 1950; next year, $145 millions.

Imperial is building a new refinery at Winnipeg at a cost of $10 millions to process Alberta Oil.

The 1,150-mile pipe line from Edmonton to Lake Superior is being built by Interprovincial Pipe Line Co., which was sponsored by Imperial and in which Imperial holds a minority interest.

HOUSEKEEPING

Honey was one of man's first foods. At one time it was considered a priceless treat, used only at celebrations of greatest importance.

The habits of the bee are the same today as a thousand years ago but man has improved the method of gathering and marketing honey. He has, however, not been able to duplicate it. The flavors of honey are due to the aromatic substances found in the nectar of flowers and therefore honey varies from time to time. Since taste preferences vary, one flavor may be more pleasing to the residents of one locality than that produced in another section of the country. Honey producers frequently blend several honeys to obtain a uniform color and a flavor that is generally appealing.

Another item of interest reported at Wednesday's Board of Trade meeting by Mr. W. Robinson, was that the frame of the mill of the Dorreen Gold Mines Ltd. is almost completed. Peter E. Peterson, director and manager of the mine, has stated that gold leads and 3 or 4 base metal leads have been opened up and these may increase the value of the property, set up production and increase the continuity of the operation.

The telephone office will be seeking a new location soon, since the property on which it now stands is being required by the new tenants of the Sundal Apartments who plan to open up a restaurant. The Government Telegraphs have had notice to vacate.

Small Fruits Recommended

Do Well in Central B.C.
Says Experimental Station Chief

PRINCE GEORGE — Small fruits such as strawberries, raspberries, currants and gooseberries do very well in most districts of Central British Columbia, says F. V. Hutton, Superintendent, Dominion Experimental Station, Prince George. In the light snow-fall areas as south of Quesnel, it may be found necessary to supply protection for strawberries in the form of about four inches of clean straw or marsh hay. Where a good covering of snow comes before the ground freezes hard, this is not necessary however. Raspberries can be protected if severe top kill occurs by turning the canes down in the fall after the leaves fall and placing a shovel of earth near the tip to keep them down. The earth is removed when the ground is dry enough to work in the spring. Currants and gooseberries will require no protection.

Strawberries recommended are Gem or Pixie where an ever-bearing type is desired and British Sovereign when a June bearer is preferred. We recommend raising them by the matted row method rather than the hill system. Raspberries recommended are Laham, Herbert and Chief. If the grower wishes to protect the top as suggested, he may be able to grow more tender sorts such as Taylor and Washington. Currants recommended are blacks — Boskoop Giant and Black Naples; reds — Stephens and Red Lake; whites — White Cherry.

Gooseberries recommended are Pixwell which is red when ripe and Cosmo which is green. Several large European sorts are under test but none can be recommended for general growth.

Values Are Astounding

STEWART—Small shipment of high grade ore from the Phillips property on Tide Lake in the upper Salmon area of the Portland Canal Mining Division were made during the month of February of this year and the Smelter returns which were received recently show astounding values.

A box of ore weighing 91.25 pounds ran 64.927 ounces in gold and 87.55 ounces in silver. Gold at $34.9125 per ounce grossed $2,266.76 and silver at $73.25, $64.13 at total of $2,330.89 less treatment of charges gave a net return of $2,284.25. The other shipment of 3,656 pounds gave 54.225 ounces in gold and 126.65 ounces in silver. With gold at $34.9125 this gave a return of $1,893.13. Silver at $73.25 gave $82.77, a total gross return of $1,985.90. After deducting treatment charges this gave a net return of $1,920.71.

Mr. Phillips and his associates have been in town for the past two or three weeks, they are, naturally, highly pleased at the success of their operation and will be returning to the property early in April.

With a reduced snowfall during the past winter properties should be accessible much earlier than usual and there are indications of greater mining activity than there has been for the past few years.

TRANSFER OF MOOSE MEMBER

Mrs. F. Good, former resident of Prince George, was transferred from the Prince George chapter of the Women of the Moose to the city chapter at a meeting of the organization last week. First meeting of the month, regular business was discussed, with Mrs. H. Muncey in the chair.

Scrap Fishing Being Watched—Cape Perry Returns

To start scrap fishing in contiguous waters is not such a simple matter as just going out and starting operations. In fact, the Department of Fisheries is keeping a close control on this type of fishing to ensure that there is no catching of out-of-season or valuable types of fish which would find their way into other than food lines. In fact special permits have to be obtained specifying the type of fish to be taken and for what purpose they are to be used. This is made clear by the Department following a report last week that skate and other varieties were being taken for use in production of fertilizer at reduction plants.

Canadian Fishing Co.'s big packer Cape Perry, Capt. Henry Helin, arrived in port at noon yesterday from Vancouver, where she has been undergoing overhaul, and will be engaged as usual this season in packing halibut and other fish from Queen Charlotte Island camps to Prince Rupert. The Cape Perry brought north in tow a large freight scow. It was the Cape Perry which figured prominently in the rescue a couple of months ago of survivors who bailed out from a large United States bomber which ditched off the west coast of Princess Royal Island after bursting into flames.

Union steamer Coquitlam, Capt. John Boden, arrived in port at 7:15 last evening from Vancouver and waypoints, sailing at 11 p.m. for Alice Arm, Stewart and other northern points whence she will return here tomorrow morning and sail south at 1:30 p.m. A few minutes after the Coquitlam got in, the steamer Camosun, Capt. Harry McLean, arrived from south Queen Charlotte Island points and sailed at 9 p.m. for Vancouver and waypoints.

Miss Patricia Guyan sailed last night on the Camosun for a trip to Vancouver.
