Government Cracking Down On Doukhobors

PRINCE RUPERT COMMUNICATIONS Halted AS BEAVERS FALL TREES

Beavers falling trees before the winter freeze-up put all communications in and out of Prince Rupert off until late this morning. A total failure involving the Canadian National Telecommunications lines and the transmission of radio network. The point of trouble was 25 miles west of Terrace. The Royal Canadian Corps of Signals radio teletype to the rescue and was handling some of the communications this morning. Daily News Canadian Press dispatches were among those that was held up.

Tip Good

Greatly encouraged a Tooth veteran miner returns from a tip which has just been from his Silver Tip Trail smelter. Nine tip ore yielded a net return of half an ounce of silver and 73 ounces of gold. A smaller shipment of one ounce of gold to 333 ounces of silver. Returned at the first tip to Stewart after a journey to arrange matters in connection with the Silver Tip. Next morning on the property for rifting and packing into two-foot tips for mining purposes 100 feet to go. Two miles north and the ore which was packed out. Have been employed last season on Silver tip most of their work development. The tip gotten out in two Gold Mines Ltd. was back in 1920 and the company consisting of and associates is still active. Fifteen hundred underground work has been done. Back-Premier back in again and Evan Harris a resumption of open Morris Summit Gold in 1950 after a suspension. Mr. Tooth expressed opinion that Stewart for another era of

EVANGELISM NOW TABOO

Rev. James A. Munro at Local Church for Two Weeks

Evangelism is taboo in Communist China and the Christian Church has been driven underground says Rev. James A. Munro of Toronto, a secretary of the board of missions of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, who is a visitor in Prince Rupert. Mr. Munro will be here for the next couple of weeks on business in connection with local Presbyterian Church, particularly the matter of filling the pulpit which is now vacant. He will preach this Sunday and next and will tell the congregation of conditions in the Orient, whence he returned this year after a six months' visit. He will deal with Japan and Formosa tomorrow and China and India a week from Sunday. In view of fast-moving military and political developments in the Orient, his discourses should be of timely interest.

"Everyone has to be making a technical contribution," said Mr. Munro to a Daily News interviewer in speaking of conditions in China after Communist regimes take over. Carrying on of evangelism is out officially. Yet many Chinese ministers and congregations still meet secretly.

Rev. Allan Reoch, one Presbyterian missionary, is still in Peiping, having chosen to remain there and carry on relief work rather than leave with the taking over by the Communists. There are five active Presbyterian missionaries in Yuan Province.

Fire Calls This Year Are Fewer

The month of November has seen city firemen rush to nine calls, only one of which caused financial loss. This brings the 11-month call total to 78 as compared with 94 in 1948.

During the same month last year nine calls were received and the men at the fire station hope the situation doesn't become worse.

On November 6 at 11:30 a.m. the fishing boat M.S. was rocked by a gas explosion. Docked at the provincial government float, Cow Bay, fire on the vessel, owned by Walter Morris, caused $50 damages.

CHECK-UP ON STEAMSHIPS

Department of Transport Investigators Paying Surprise Visit

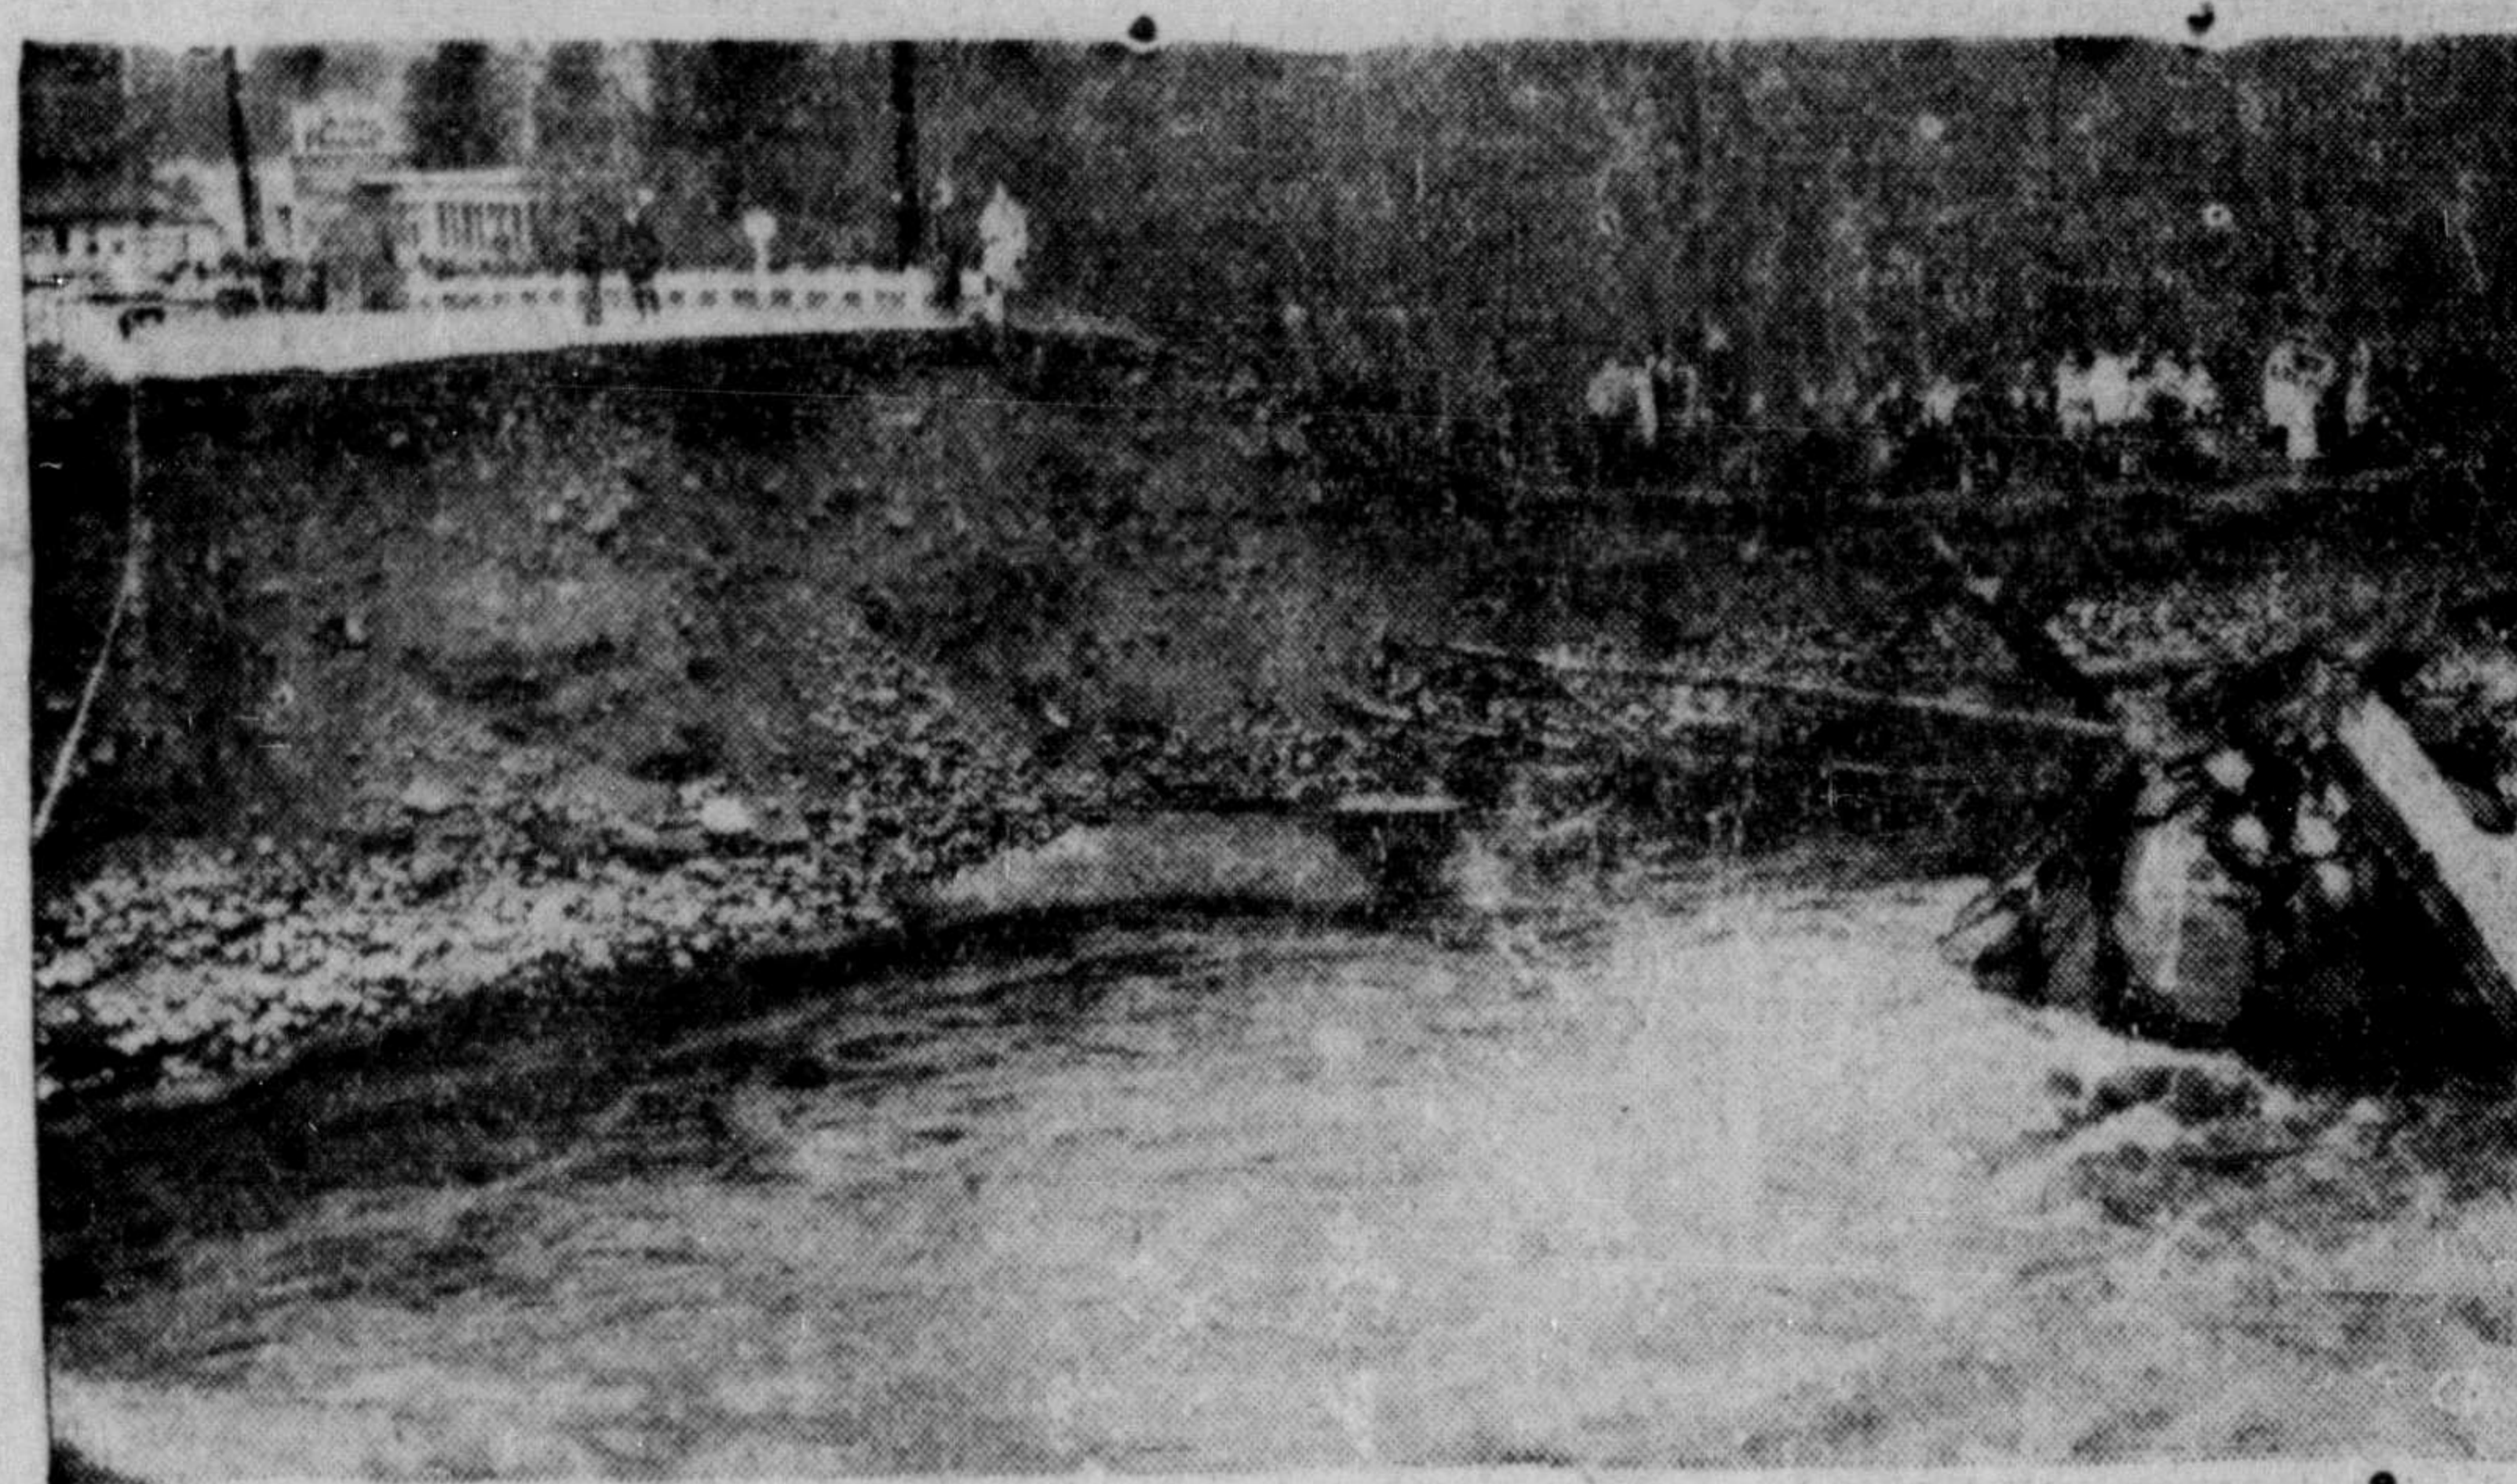

VANCOUVER — Following complaints by the Vancouver city council as to the passenger service being given on the Victoria and Nanaimo runs, Canadian Pacific Steamships vessels drew a surprise inspection last night from Department of Transport investigators.

The inspection continues today on all coastal passenger ships. Life belts are being examined as well as fire fighting equipment and boat drill.

The only statement was that a report will be sent to Ottawa.

ARMY HANDIWORK—This Bailey bridge was erected by Army engineers when Capilano Creek, swollen by heavy rainstorms, tore out a huge section of the Capilano Bridge at West Vancouver. It did not last long and collapsed Thursday night when Capilano Creek reached new heights. A new one is being put in. (C. P. Photo)

FLOOD DESTRUCTION—Rampaging Capilano Creek ripped out part of the Capilano Bridge at West Vancouver, isolating the community from Vancouver proper until the Army put up an emergency span which was in turn swept away. (C. P. Photo)

Bo-Me-Hi Wins Opener In International Basketball

Prince Rupert Leads All the Way to Finish
Up With Ten-point Margin

Bo-Me-Hi rooters were out in full force last night to cheer their team on to a decisive victory over this year's edition of the Kay-Hi team. It was a Prince Rupert victory all the way as the students took a margin over Ketchikan early in the game to lead 10 to 6 at the quarter, 20 to 10 at the half, 27 to 15 at three-quarter time and to win by a ten point margin, the final score being 37 to 27. Only in the final period did Ketchikan outscore Rupert, and that by a single basket. Typical of most exhibition and play-off series games, this first game of a two-game total point series was ragged, with a lot of poor shooting and sloppy checking. Tonight should see both teams at their best. Ketchikan will be used to the floor and Rupert will no doubt get over their apparent lack of confidence in their own ability.

Ketchikan gave a good display of ball-handling, working the ball up within shooting distance, time after time, only to lose it by poor play under the basket. Nelson, Tucker and Hinman all showed up well in passing and team play. Tucker being the high scorer of the evening with 10 points, followed by Lewis of Ketchikan with 9.

Ray Spring of Bo-Me-Hi played a driving game from the very start. In fact it was his own drive going into score that piled him full force against gymnasium wall with ninety seconds left to play. He was knocked out cold, and carried off the playing floor by the two St. Johns Ambulance men in attendance.

It is expected that he will be back in the line-up for tonight's game. Coach Jack Evans had his substitutions working effectively and young Bud Ratchford and Lawrence Kristmanon gave good account of themselves when relieving first string men. Carlson, Scherk and Spring. Another player up from intermediate ranks this year, who is coming along better each game, is Chuck Webster who scored seven points last night and played a good game whenever on the floor. Eric Moore, Ray Spring and Sid Scherk who left the game on five fouls with three minutes left, all scored six points.

The time-out intervals were enlivened during the evening by the Bo-Me-Hi yell squad, and the half-time period was the occasion for a very fine demonstration on how basketball was first played fifty years ago. Suitably costumed for the occasion the students put on a highly enjoyable show.

Line-ups

Kay-Hi—Nelson 4, Lewis 9, Tucker 10, Hinman 3, Boyd, Ohashi, Lund, Leask, Anderson, Reynolds 1. Total 27.

Bo-Me-Hi—Carlson 4, Spring 6, Scherk 6, Webster 7, Moore 6, Bill 2, Ratchford 4, McChesney, Sharpe, Kristmanon 2. Total 37.

Ladies' League—The regular league fixture played between High School and the league-leading People's Store team, produced the best basketball of the evening. In fact it was by far the best game played in this division for many a day. The game was all tied up at full-time and a three minute overtime period was played. Rusty Thain of Peoples, was the hero of the overtime period getting two quick baskets, to give her team a four point lead. High School also scored three points in the overtime, and the final score was People's Store 27, Mona Lykegaard of High School played an outstanding game, garnering 16 points, which is mighty fine scoring in any league. Last night at the request of players and coaches fouls were called very closely, and if anything it proved the theory that the closer the game is called the faster the play becomes. If players are avoiding

Antigonish On Two-Day Visit

The Canadian Navy frigate H.M.C.S. Antigonish slid into harbor here this morning for a two-day visit in the course of a training cruise on the north coast. She carried a crew of 140, most of them trainees gaining sea experience.

The sleek vessel moored at the Canadian National dock where she will remain until Monday morning when she will leave to return to her base at Esquimalt. Antigonish left Esquimalt on Thursday.

Captain of Antigonish, which has been a frequent visitor here before, is Lieut. Commander W. S. T. McCully, R.C.N., a veteran navy officer. His first official act this morning was to visit Mayor Nora Arnold at the city hall. He was accompanied by Lieut. Commander J. D. McRae, commanding officer of H.M.C.S. Chatham, Lieut. Thomas Sheer, executive officer, H.M.C.S. Chatham and Canon Basil S. Procter, padre of H.M.C.S. Chatham.

No formal entertainment for the visiting navy men has been planned in the city, although hospitality of the Canadian Legion has been extended to the sailors.

"Open" ship will be extended to city residents by Lieut. Commander McCully and his officers on Sunday when the vessel will be open to inspection by visitors between 1:30 and 4 p.m.

Diesel Pumping Plant Suggested For Shawatlans

The city's venerable steam pumping plant at Shawatlans Lake which, despite its age, did yeoman service during the water main break last October, will be replaced by a more modern pumping unit—probably diesel powered.

Authority for the City Engineer to ask for bids for the purchase of a diesel pumping unit of equal capacity was given by city council this week after the aldermen were informed that the old steam boiler, which dates back from 1910, is in need of replacement.

Cost of repairing or replacing it might range between $6,000 and $10,000, Board of Works chairman George Rudderham told his colleagues. A works recommendation suggested that, instead, a modern diesel unit be purchased at a cost of $9,000.

Such a unit, Alderman Rudderham said, would have a pumping capacity of 1,250,000 gallons daily, equal to that of the steam plant. It would also be much cheaper to operate.

City Engineer Stewart told council that he favored diesel power over gasoline power because while there was only slightly more than $1,000 difference in cost—the diesel being higher—the cost of operating a diesel was about $2.50 an hour less than gasoline.

Council agreed with a suggestion by Alderman Daggett that bids from several companies be obtained before any choice is made.

The present steam boiler could be converted easily to a storage tank for diesel fuel. City Engineer Stewart said.

Police Reinforcement Sent To Nelson District

Threat of Vigilance Action Spurs Authorities to Action—Special Railway Guards

VICTORIA (CP)—Special police details flew into the Doukhobor country of the West Kootenay today as the government put the heat on the fanatical Sons of Freedom with action aimed, apparently, to end once and for all seemingly senseless violence in south central British Columbia. Six more will be flown to the Kootenays on Monday and at least ten officers will be dispatched to the scene from other parts of the province.

This is the government's answer to threats from Nelson that vigilante action will be taken unless the authorities act at once to stop recent dynamite bombings near Nelson which have been blamed on the Sons of Freedom. This is the latest crackdown on terrorism that has swept widely since the Doukhobors were split into two sections shortly after their arrival from Russia fifty years ago.

Home made fuses, a symbol of the Sons of Freedom, were used a week ago to detonate dynamite blasts that ripped up railway track thirty miles west of Nelson. Trainmen since then have threatened to quit work in the Doukhobor country unless the government acted.

Today patrol cars preceded all trains travelling Doukhobor routes and special railway car guards have been placed at stated strategic bridges.

The former No. 2 in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police is going to confer with the British Columbia police on how to combat Doukhobor uprisings in the interior of the province, it was announced yesterday in the House of Commons by Minister of Transport Lionel Chevrier. F. J. Mead, special consultant to the commissioner of the RCMP until his retirement several months ago, will go to British Columbia.

THE WEATHER
(Synopsis)
Several degrees of frost were reported from interior stations last night and coastal points were close to freezing. Low temperature at Cranbrook was 13, at Ashcroft 17, Vancouver 31. A new storm developing 500 miles west of Vancouver Island will reach the coast this evening, accompanied by a moderate rainfall. Interior points can look for showers overnight. Tomorrow will see continued showers on the coast and cloudy weather in the interior.

(Forecasts)
North Coast Region—Variable cloudiness today and Sunday. Showers this evening and tonight. Little change in temperature. Winds light, increasing to easterly (30 mph) this evening and decreasing to southeast (20 mph) after midnight. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—at Port Hardy 36 and 44, Sandspit 32 and 40, Prince Rupert 34 and 40.

WEST VANCOUVER STILL MAROONED
VANCOUVER — The Army would make no guarantee today that the temporary Bailey bridge replacement across raging Capilano Creek would be in before Monday. Meantime traffic to West Vancouver continues untidily by ferry. The new Bailey bridge replaces another which collapsed on Thursday.

Hesitation On Timber Orders

Canada Having Little Satisfaction in Ascertaining Prospects

OTTAWA, (CP)—The United Kingdom is showing a "great deal" of reticence in disclosing the amount of lumber she will import from Canada in 1950, a Department of Trade spokesman says.

Despite constant prodding by Canadian officials in London, the United Kingdom government is still leaving in abeyance the possibility of giving maritime countries another contract next year.

General expectation is that Britain will make a sharp turn in the 500,000,000 board feet she purchased from Canada in 1949. Most of the pinch will be felt on the east coast. The outlook is better on the west coast where the United Kingdom timber controller has called for tenders to compete for a 100,000,000 board feet contract to cover United Kingdom requirements for the first quarter of 1950.

Mrs. T. Fraser returned to Terrace on last evening's train following a brief business visit to the city.

Just Beginning

MANY of us have come to believe that our business in the state is nothing more than a matter of continual demanding. We do the shouting but we want some force to actually undertake the nebulous movements that we call human, forward-looking, constructive. We want everyone to have a better start and are content with easy cure-alls. We are vaguely concerned about our financial situation and declining foreign trade but we accept the remedy of federal control of exchange and distribution and added subsidies. We want an equalizing of rewards but instead we get taxation that limits incentive and strangles effort. We think of world government or the abolition of war and gladly turn over our worries to government groups and committees of study.

There may be much in our demands. They are often generous, well-intentioned and forward-looking but they are just the beginnings of thinking and doing. Credulously, we seem to think that someone other than ourselves will take life forward. We have thoughtless confidence in the goodwill, devotion and sense of the men in whom we have vested the power to put our reforms into operation. We don't approve of them when they touch ourselves but we hopefully expect miracles of broad-minded altruism on matters more distantly personal. But the lesson of history is that power is never so used; Maybe we had better not hope for it now. As individuals we should share the power, invest our individual strength and integrity in honestly informing ourselves and assume our own measure of responsibility rather than bridge it to some committee or group or government. We should remember that the people's representatives in Parliament are the mirror of the people themselves. Society has never been better than the quality of the units that compose it. If we ourselves remain at the beginnings we cannot hope that the government will provide more than the beginnings of our high and generous hopes.

Liberty is never the first concern of government. It is the charge of the people from whom the government springs. It is not a lasting and inalienable endowment. It is a heritage that is endangered by inertia and complacency on the part of the people, by reluctance and timidity in keeping abreast of the needs of progressive society.

Victor Hugo, looking out of his Paris window at the crowds behind the barricades screaming for government and justice, scoffed: "These are not the people, these are only the mournful beginnings of the people." Our demands and our hopes are only "mournful beginnings" which we ourselves must follow up with our talents and our energies.

THE MUNICIPAL FIELD

AFTER all there is no serious lack of municipal candidates—at least as far as numbers is concerned. The electors have full fields to choose from in the selection of their mayor and aldermen who will find plenty of questions and problems to consider and solve once they are in office.

The aldermanic board of 1950 is going to include some new blood which is inexperienced in the field of municipal affairs. That is as it should be. Sooner or later the novice arrives and he may have a contribution to make at that.

SATURDAY SERMON

GOD AND MAN

(Pastor C. Fawcett, Full Gospel Tabernacle)
"Then Peter said, silver and gold have I none, but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus of Nazareth rise up and walk." And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up, and immediately his feet and his ankle bones received strength. And he leaping up stood, and walked and entered with them into the temple, walking and leaping and praising God."
(Acts III 6-8)

Only men and women who have carried the compassion for and suffering humanity could possibly know the feeling that Peter must have had as he walked by the Gate Beautiful and saw the lame man begging alms from all who passed by. No greater picture is given in the Word of God, which shows the state into which man has fallen—and no greater example of Divine authority and deliverance, which is at the disposal of the minister of God.

The lame man asked only for material aid. He did not realize physical needs. Peter had no money but he knew he had the plan that God had for his something far greater than a few pennies. And immediately Peter said: "Look on us." There was real authority in that command, authority that was given him by the Lord Jesus Christ Himself when He said to Peter: "And I say unto thee thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven."

Peter knew that in the beginning of creation man had been given dominion over the creatures of the earth and that he had been given authority over material things as well as over sin and sickness. He also knew that man abdicated his throne when he sinned, and that Jesus came to re-establish that spiritual state, and place man back in Divine authority. He had seen all the miracles that Jesus had performed. Had he not heard Jesus say: "The things that I do ye shall do and greater than these because I go to My Father. Yes, Peter knew who he was, he was a child of God, he was a king reigning on a throne, and so are you and I if we have accepted the Lord Jesus Christ as our personal Saviour. In simple words Jesus had said to Peter: "You see the works that I do, the blind see, the deaf hear, the lame walk, the dead are raised, I perform these miracles, now I am willing you this power. You are one with Me, here are the keys of the Kingdom, take them and use them. That's where Peter received his authority. That's why he could say 'Look on us.' God is no respecter of persons. He still calls us men and women. He still commissions them as He did Peter. God has always used men and women. He is using them today in just the same manner as He used Peter.

It was Peter who denied the Lord in front of a little maid after he had boasted how he would never forsake the Lord. Yes, it was Peter who was so weak. What made the difference? It was the revitalizing power of the Holy Ghost. Peter had waited in the upper room for the promise of the Father. He had been filled and charged with the supernatural power of heaven. No other power under heaven can transform lives, nor take away pain and suffering, nor break the power of evil spirits, it takes the power of the Holy Ghost flowing through the lives of men and women, that realize who they are and then say "Look on us, Arise and walk. God is still the same. He is still using men and women filled with the Holy Ghost and He is still confirming His word with signs following.

Reader, God is able to satisfy every need and longing of your heart. He will meet your needs physically, materially, and spiritually. Why not give God a chance in your heart and life?

ince, still in Nationalist hands, and nineteen in Formosa which has long been the stronghold of the Presbyterian Church in Canada missionary endeavour in the Orient.

Eighty-five percent of the Church of Christ work in China is Presbyterian, Mr. Munro states, much of it being by the American Presbyterian church.

Much of Mr. Munro's three months in China was spent just ahead of the advancing Communists. He was in such places as Shanghai, Nanking and Canton, also visiting Japan, Burma and India. In Shanghai he found conditions of "inconceivable chaos" and disorder.

While here, Mr. Munro will meet in business session with the board of management and the congregation. He is hopeful that there will be a permanent settlement of the local pulpit in the near future.

War Services United Force

The triumphant results of tolerance among four widely separated groups banded together for a common end were illustrated Thursday afternoon by Senior Capt. William Poulton of the Salvation Army in an address before the Rotary Club's weekly luncheon meeting.

Capt. Poulton, who was director of the Salvation Army's war service activities in England and the continent during much of the war, used the Canadian War Services as the example of inspiring results of this co-operation.

The Canadian War Services, composed the Salvation Army, the Y.M.C.A., Knights of Columbus and the Canadian Legion, centralized their efforts after starting out on individual war service programs. With different, and often divergent viewpoints, their problem was to carry on a joint effort for the welfare and happiness of the fighting men.

"It is a tribute to our spirit of tolerance and co-operation that the Canadian War Services organization was the first of any in the field," Capt. Poulton declared. "Other armies copied us. We carried the work to the boys right in the fighting lines."

Internal problems were ironed out in a reasonable manner permitting a maximum effort in behalf of the men and a solid front against undue encroachment by army authority.

Capt. Poulton was thanked for his talk by Club President R. G. Van der Sluis. Guests at the meeting were W. R. Trench, Vancouver, John Bulger, Roy Collinson, Prince Rupert, W. R. May, Vancouver, J. Denholm, J. Eastman, Freeman Brown, Milne, Pougner and Alf Harvey, all of Ocean Falls.

Is Honored At Pretty Shower

A surprise bridal shower was held recently by Mrs. W.
Wain, 1144 Ninth Avenue East, in honor of her niece, Mrs. Elsa Floss, who recently arrived from Europe and whose marriage to Ervin Lindstrom is to take place on New Year's Eve.

The guest of honor was seated in a specially decorated pink and white bride's chair and presented by the guests with a pretty corsage of pink carnations, her favorite flower.
Games were played during which prizes were won by Mrs.
Bernice Hale and Mrs. Donna
George.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of many gaily wrapped gifts wheeled in on a child's wagon festooned with pink and white streamers. The wagon was brought in by two boys dressed in white, the 9-year old son of the guest of honor, Thomas Floss, and his cousin, 7-year old George Marchildon.

Following the unwrapping of the gifts, a delicious buffet supper was served by the hostess.

The guests included Mrs. V.
Wain, Mrs. Elsa Floss, Mrs. E.
Clapp, Mrs. W. E. Denning, Mrs.
W. Field, Mrs. Alan Hale, Mrs.
Pat Sims, Mrs. A. P. Crawley, Mrs. B. Sprinkle, Mrs. Helen Marchildon, Mrs. W. Murdoch,
Mrs. Lloyd George Miss Jean
Fought and Masters Thomas Floss and George Marchildon.

Paid Visit To New Brunswick

John Currie, pioneer contractor, who moved from here to Cobble Hill, Vancouver Is., two years ago, is in the city in the course of a brief business trip.

Mr. Currie, who was born and grew up at Stanley near Fred-erickton in New Brunswick, visited the province of his birth
last September—the first trip in 59 years.

He was called east on account of the illness and death of a sister. He met numerous relatives and renewed old friendships. He also answered many questions from those who were thinking of the new northwest.

Speaking of New Brunswick,
Mr. Currie said he noted industrial developments. There is more going on in the way of providing timber for pulp making. There is a decided improvement in roads. Aviation is more in general use. Mr. Currie flew east and west.

SENATE LEADER—Senator
Wishart McLean Robertson,

portfolio in the federal cabinet.
He was president of the National Liberal Federation from 1943 to 1945—the first years of his service in the senate—but resigned as Federation president when he entered the cabinet in 1945. He was born Feb. 15, 1891 at Barrington Passage, N. S. His father was a speaker of the Nova Scotia legislature and his grandfather was a member of that legis-

Ogden to be Replaced—Semi-Annual Meeting of the Co-op—To Revive Sea Cadets

Marking the tenth anniversary of the amalgamation of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association and the North Island Trollers' Co-operative Association, over 100 members and delegates met in the Oddfellows' hall here this week.

Principal speakers were T. H. Sorensen, Vancouver, manager of the mid-west (U.S.A.) division of the Fishermen's Federation Inc. who outlined progress made in the last decade and presented information regarding market conditions throughout North America. It was emphasized by the speakers that such information was not available before fishermen were organized co-operatively.

A. J. Wrick, Vancouver secretary of the B.C. Co-operative Union, explained the work of his organization. Other delegates gave similar reports.

Donations of $500 each were authorized by the meeting for the University Student Co-operative housing scheme of U. B. C. and the United Nations Children's Appeal. Building program for 1950 will include installation of a booster in the ammonia refrigeration system. The packer Ogden will be replaced with a newer vessel and the meeting approved an extraordinary bond issue of $50,000 to finance the new packer. The resolution will be taken up at the next annual meeting. Delegates to the meeting included A. V. Hill, D. G. MacDonald and Morgan Berg of the Fishermen's Co-operative Federation; Collin McKee and Alex Eytan of the United Fishermen's Co-operative Assn.; George Greenwell and John Donaldson of Kyuquot Trollers' Co-operative Assn. and Bill Sutherland of the Massett Co-operative Assn. Following the semi-annual meeting, a two-day meeting of the Fishermen's Co-operative Federation, of which the Prince Rupert Co-op is the largest, began today.

Since this week marks the tenth anniversary of the incorporation of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-op, it is fitting to comment, as other local leaders have done on the determination, prudence and devotion to an idea which has been the keystone of its growth.

The fact that everybody in Prince Rupert, or even Canada is not a Co-op member, or even sympathetic to the formal principles which inspire the co-operative movement, will come as no surprise to those who are members. Thinking members of the movement see this as a challenge and the uninitiated as potential co-operators.

Since this column has no intention of dissenting on the attitude of co-operation as opposed to competition we will let the philosophy go at that and look on the achievements of the co-operative movement in these parts.

The statement was made at a gathering this week that the B. C. fishermen's co-operatives are the biggest of their kind, that is producer co-ops, in Canada and that the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-op is the largest in the coast federation. That alone physically, is something to boast about, considering that the movement is older in other parts of the country and has enjoyed more guidance. Admitting Dr. Coady's statement that those on the west coast learned their co-operation from those in the maritimes, it must be said that they learned the lesson well.

Achievements of Prince Rupert Sea Cadets in the past should be targets for present and future members of the Corps to aim at. Harry R. Gillard, Dominion Secretary for the Navy League of Canada, told an executive meeting of the city League branch while here recently. Here on a visit in company with Lieut. Commander G. J. Manson, area officer, Sea Cadets, Mr. Gillard outlined the growing program of training and education which is being made available to members of the various corps across Canada. Purpose of the meeting was to lay plans for future activities of Captain Cook Sea Cadet Corps and to discuss general matters of the League which sponsors the corps. Commenting on the achievements of the local Corps, Mr. Gillard congratulated Ted Forman, son of the local League president, on winning a Navy League scholarship to Royal Roads joint services school, a scholarship which had previously been won by John Kennedy, also of this city. He also made reference to Cadet Billy Toderas who represented Captain Cook Corps at the Sea Cadet Empire Camp at Ottawa last July and to former cadet Albert Eyllfson who represented the Corps on a trip to England aboard H. M. C. S. Warrior. Enlargement of the local Corps was urged by Mr. Gillard, who pointed out that its objective is the development of good citizenship. "We realize that it is too big a task to re-mould the adult, therefore we are directing our attention to our youth," he declared. "Good citizens are those who, in youth seized the opportunities available to gain useful knowledge. When they are mature, they use that knowledge for the betterment of themselves, their families and others and if the country be threatened, to rally to its defence." He urged city cadets to participate in the League's current essay contest on "Our Canadian Navy", particularly so since "one of the objectives of the league is education of the public in matters regarding the navy and merchant navy." Resumption of rifle shooting, in which the Prince Rupert Corps excelled in years past, was suggested by Mr. Gillard. He said that teams from the corps with the best target shooting records throughout the country will be invited next August to take part in the Dominion of Canada rifle competition at Connaught range, Ottawa. Lieut. Commander Manson said that he hoped that Prince Rupert cadets would be able to attend a national bivouac in 1950 to be held at some Sea Cadet camp in central Canada with representatives of corps from coast to coast.

POUND TROUBLE—Goalie Walter (Turk) Broda, left, has been suspended by Managing Director Conn Smythe of the Toronto Maple Leafs. We're not running a fat man's team," said Smythe, ordering Broda to cut his weight from 197 to 190. Gil Mayer, right, 128-pound netminder, has been called up from Pittsburgh to take over big Turk's chores. Smythe also has bought another goalie, Al Rollins, from Cleveland. (C. P. Photo)

T.B. Seal Sale Meets Response

Prince Rupert's Soroptimist Club is already getting good response to 3100 letters of tuberculosis Christmas seals which it has sent out. This is Soroptimists' first year to handle the Christmas Seal campaign in Prince Rupert and it is hoping to collect $2500 as compared with $2000 last year when Kinsmen had it. Prince Rupert district extends to Hazelton to the east, Stewart and Alice Arm in the north and Queen Charlotte Islands to the west.

Miss Phyllis M. Mooney, R. N., is chairman of the local tuberculosis seal sale committee. Other committee members are Mrs. M. O. Kullander, Miss Winnie Poxon, Miss Ann McLeod, Mrs. C. G. Ham and Miss Muriel Vance.

Let's Talk Things Over

It's funny how a lot of people take a chance when they build a home. They go to all kinds of trouble with the plans. They want everything including a streamlined kitchen, the latest word in bathrooms, picture windows, and a landscaped garden. The money arrangements are perfect. In ten, fifteen or twenty years, the home will be really theirs. Just regular payments, somewhat like rent, only better, because they get something more for their money than just the privilege of living in a house.

But what is this chance? It's this: If you don't take the money-advance, you may no longer be able to get a refund for the full source of debt and interest. And yet, by a little plan—only a little plan—the monthly cost for the mortgage would be out in the event of a disaster. Mr. Hanley's advice, Mr. Hanley's advice, Mr. Hanley's advice. Let's talk things over.

JUNIOR CITIZENS' DAY —

All Set For Students To Take Over Tuesday

A meeting was held on the 29th of November in the Civic Centre with Eric Moore the Junior Citizens' Mayor, Miss M. Lykegard, City Clerk and several members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce attending. Mr. Cleland was there to represent the school. The business discussed was in connection with Future Citizens' Day.

Mayor Moore's speech on Junior Citizens' Day received a good deal of discussion and it was decided to have him introduce the candidates for the civic elections on December 8. It was also decided to have the Junior Council meet at 10 a.m. on December 6th.

The J.C.C. sponsored Student Dance on December 9 was confirmed and the prices set, student card also needed for admission. Guests may be invited on a basis similar to that used at the school dances. Invitations will be extended to all the people whose positions were taken over by students on Junior Citizens' Day. Dress is to be optional.

Some business was arranged for, in order that the Junior Council should have some work at the meeting, in which the aldermen, mayor and all those connected with city administration will participate. In the afternoon the council is to be free for activities now being arranged.

On Loyalty

Oh, there is much that can be said,
On loyalty, 'tis true,
Some are now precisely dead,
Because this trait they knew.
Others wish that they had too,
Possessed this quality.
So think what loyalty could do,
For folks like you and me.

Take the lad, let's call him
Fred,
Who to a friend stayed true,
He lives on H₂O and bread,
His costume black and white in hue,
His term is twenty years and two,
His guilty friend went free,
So think what loyalty could do,
For folks like you and me.

On loyalty thus far you've read,
That virtues are so few,
But sometimes profits can be had,
If loyalty you knew.
If friendship you would chance pursue,
This trait will pay the fee.
So think what loyalty could do,
For folks like you and me.

Some payment will be given you,
Though good or bad it be,
So think what loyalty could do,
For folks like you and me.

Waterless Town

The ancient Neolithic man
With nature did comply,
He drew his water in a pan
From streams that ambled by.
One heard him heave a heavy sigh
As daily bent he down,
He never knew, as you and I,
The comforts of the town.

He and his Pre-Pelagian clan,
When darkness filled the sky,
Homeward to a cavern ran
And slept till dawn was nigh.
He had no light to study by,
He could not tell a verb or noun,
He never knew, as you and I,
The comforts of the town.

To take a simple bath, this man
Deep in a pool would lie,
The dim horizon he would scan
With dark, untroubled eye.
He did not fret, or wonder why,
He had no laundered gown,
He never knew, as you and I,
The comforts of the town.

Oh modern world, I give you hail,
But to the Ancients goes the crown,
Who never knew, as you and I,
The comforts of the town!

"Future Citizens" At Council Meet

Booth High School's "Future citizens" city council attended the meeting of City Council this week and observed how things are to be done in preparation for their own brief tenure of office next week. With the exception of "City Clerk" Mona Lykegard, who sat at the desk with City Clerk H. D. Thain, the High School Mayor and Alderman observed the proceedings from the spectators' seats at the rear.

While the business of the meeting was discussed, the students paid close attention in order that they might have some idea of the duties expected of them on December 6. In general the students found the meeting interesting and educational, giving most of those present their first insight into the affairs of the City Council.

Principal Allan M. Hurst, Assistant Principal R. D. Cleland and Junior Chamber of Commerce President Harold Hampton accompanied the junior civic leaders to the meeting. The Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring "Future Citizens" day. On Tuesday, December 6, selected members from the High School student body will "take over" key positions in the city's civic and business life for a day.

John Sande Of Terrace Buried

TERRACE—Funeral services were conducted in the Anglican Church on Monday afternoon for the late John C. Sande aged 82, who passed away at the home of his son, Ernest Sande.

Born in Norway, the deceased came to this country at a very early age and has lived with his son in Terrace for the past 18 months. He is survived by four sons and one daughter, 14 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren, a sister and brother in Manitoba.

Percy Mallett conducted the funeral services and the hymn sung was "Jesus Lover of My Soul" with Mrs. Norrington as organist.

Pallbearers were, Lloyd Johnstone, Clarence Michiel, Otto Landstrom, Geoffrey Lambley, Vic Perduzzi, J. Archibald.

Principal mourners were the immediate members of the deceased's family including his son, Walter from Sinclair Mills, Prince George and his daughter, Mrs. M. Neilson of Erickson, Manitoba, who arrived on Saturday for the funeral.

Moderate November

Nothing to Boast About But Better Than Last Year

Prince Rupert enjoyed a comparatively moderate November. As compared with November of 1948, the sun was seen for a longer period, less rain fell and the mercury did not slide below freezing.

In 26 days of last month, 11.74 inches of rainfall was recorded. At this time last year, 13.78 inches of rain had fallen. But the overall 11 month total of precipitation is greater this year. Up to the end of November in 1948, amount of rain recorded was 90.28 inches as compared with 92.34 inches so far this year.

Maximum temperature last month was 68 compared with a 49.4 high during the same period last year. Minimum reading last month was 36 above, slightly higher than the freezing low of 26 in November of 1948. The mean temperature last month was 46 above in comparison to 39.7 last year.

The sun was out for a longer period last month than in November of last year—29.7 hours against 13.4 hours—but the 11-month 1948 total of 1015.3 hours last year surpasses the 825.9 hours this year.

Maximum wind velocity this month was 34 miles per hour recorded on November 26.

Maximum barometer reading was 30.4, recorded November 19 and on November 26 the minimum was 28.5.

Kinsmen Had Busy Season

Improvement of Lakelse Camp and Other Activities

The Kinsmen's Club of Prince Rupert has concluded a very active Club year which included work on the Camp for Kiddies at Lakelse Lake, Peanut Tag Day, Shell Out and Halloween bonfires, fireworks displays and Kiddies Christmas parties.

During the past year the Kinsmen succeeded in establishing permanent buildings at their Lakelse Lake Kiddies' Camp, but because of heavy expenditures thereon, were unable to send any children to the Camp this season. However, with the proceeds from the May 24 contest and Monte Carlo Dance much was achieved in the way of switching the camp from canvas to frame construction. Of the gross profit of $1160 two hundred dollars was spent on the May 24 sports parade for the Kiddies.

With week-end work parties manned by members of the Club and interested outside helpers, also skilled carpenters and foremen from both Prince Rupert and Terrace, a T-shaped building was constructed at the Lakelse Lake camp. The base of this building was 20 feet by 40 feet and the leg 20 feet by 28 feet. Over 19,000 board feet of rough lumber was rafted seven or eight miles down the Lake to a point 250 feet offshore and man-handled 400 feet to the campsite. The site had been cleared earlier in the season but actual construction did not start until the later part of September.

The building has been completed since that time with the exception of a few minor details which, it is expected will be accomplished some weekend before the end of this year.

The building has been well braced with interior snow posts and should come through even a severe winter without damage. The actual cash expenditure on this project has been $750 with accounts still outstanding of $250. As well as labor considerable material was donated or good discounts given. A conservative estimate from a qualified source places the value of the building at $2700. It is the intention of the Club to build two large bunk-houses next year before the summer holidays commence as canvass has proven unsatisfactory for a camp of this nature.

Due to the heavy financial burden involved in rebuilding the Camp the Club has started negotiations with civic and service organizations to assist in financing the sending of children

FLYING SANTA—A group of orphans greets Edward Rowe Snow, famous New England author, lecturer and adventurer, as he arrives at Sydney, N.S., on another leg of his annual "Flying Santa Claus" trip. For 15 years Mr. Snow has distributed gifts to light-housekeepers along the Atlantic Coast. This year, on his first trip to Canada, he will drop gifts to isolated communities along the south coast of Newfoundland. (C. P. Photo)

Terrace Catholic Women's Fall Tea

TERRACE — The Catholic Women's League held their fall tea and sale in the Orange Hall recently, drawing a large crowd as usual. The hall had been beautifully decorated by the ladies with evergreens and berries and the stalls were laden with goods to sell.

to Camp for their holidays.

A profit of $125 was made on the Kin summer auction and $270 from the Peanut and Shell Out campaigns. This money will be used for Christmas treats at the Civic Centre on December 22. The Kinsmen and Santa Claus will call in at the Prince Rupert General Hospital on the way to the Miller Bay Native Hospital December 23.

The Club feels that the Halloween bonfires for the kiddies is a large factor in the exceedingly good behavior of our local youth on Halloween night.

Plans for bigger and better Christmas party, fireworks display, Camp and Halloween party are now being made.

General convener was Mrs. H. Doll, who with Mrs. A. Hobenshield kept everything running smoothly. In the evening, cards and bingo in the hall also drew a good crowd.

In the fancy work stall were Mrs. W. Christy and Mrs. H. Cote.

Others in charge were: Novelties—Mrs. J. Gordon. White Elephant—Mrs. T. result.

Home Cooking and Candy—Mrs. Irving, Mrs. Kofoed, Mrs. J. Lever, Mrs. A. Paulson.

In the kitchen were Mrs. J. de Kergommeaux, Mrs. Bissonnette. Serviteurs were Mrs. A. Sande, Miss B. Matte, Mrs. H. West.

Cashier was Mrs. George Hipp. Fish Pond was in charge of Henriette de Kergommeaux, Florence Normandeau.

Raffles, Ivy McConnel, Vicki Hipp.

Winners of the raffles were: Oil Painting—Jean McCor-mack. Fort St. John.
