FIRE—Vancouver's industrial False Creek area still smoldered 6½ hours after the blaze that swept three blocks of factories and injured 13 persons. This aerial view shows the fireboat J. H. Carlisle pouring water on the embers of the fire, which razed and destroyed 13 buildings. (C. P. Photo)

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED

Remembrance of the dead of the wars was freshened today as the Mary Chapter I.O.D.E., the Legion and the Legion Women's Auxiliary afternoon with memorial ceremonies at the Shrine Club Band and the soldiers' new Cemetery which was dedicated on Decoration Day here. The groups, totalling 70, fell into parade formation at 3 p.m. behind the Shrine Club Band and the Canadian Legion. The Cenotaph was laid at the stone column by Stewart, Regent of Chapter, James and Mrs. J. S. Black, the Legion Women's.

then sounded by Legion Bugler W. J. Rance, after which two minutes' silence was observed. Bugler Rance then sounded "Reveille."

Rev. George Sendax, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, addressed the open air gathering on the theme that Canadians must guard the liberties which those whom they honored had made sacrifices to preserve.

"We are all one in this battle of life," he declared. "Surely our liberties and these things we commemorate are more precious to us than life itself. Those same liberties are being challenged today in a way they have never before been challenged in modern history. We can easily lose them."

Those who would rob Canadians of their liberties would do so insidiously—by promising a Utopia in exchange—but they make no mention of the bargain which would cost us the things that men have died to preserve or of the fact that "our lives would be ordered and we would be given no choice" on the basis of conscience or reasonable thought, he said.

"We would let down those whose names are engraved here if we were to let down our fundamental way of life," he said. Following the decoration of the graves, the Shrine Club Band directed by Peter Lien, led in the singing of "O God Our Help in Ages Past."

When the group returned to the city, the parade was reformed at the corner of Third Avenue and Sixth Street and marched to the Canadian Legion hall where it was dismissed. Parade marshal was J. S. Wilson.

SALMON BOATS STAY IN PORT

Skeena River salmon fishermen remained at the canneries Sunday night, letting the opening without dipping their nets by of the sockeye season slip pending settlement of the 1949 price schedule with the operators.

Final point of settlement may be reached today at a meeting between the cannery operators and a joint negotiating committee of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union and the Native Brotherhood of B.C. who represent the fishermen.

Settlement of the dispute on the Skeena and Naas Rivers will set the pattern for the whole coast. Sockeye gillnetting and fishing on the Fraser River has been set to start on June 26.

Agreement has been reached on the sockeye price, which will be 18 cents a pound, but other points must be cleared up before the fishermen will start their seasonal operation.

It is anticipated that between 700 and 800 gillnetters will fish on the Skeena this summer.

SAVOYS TAKE COMERCIALS IN GAME OF CITY BASEBALL

SAVOY 8, COMMERCIAL 5

Prince Rupert's three-team baseball league met at one corner as it has been known to in years or will it remain a rigid, equalateral in which all teams will give equalized stimulating competition?

A question that is going to be in the minds of other crowds as the Savoy and it was one to take growth in Savoy won the second game of the season, over the Commercial by a score of 8 to 5.

The fact that Commercial lost both games have so far played, suggestion that they are the weak corner of the league. If the trend continues also will be no such an attitude will be played in the Savoy and Commercial. Yesterday's game them take an early lead over the Savoy squad, behind when Savoy scored four runs in the is reminiscent of former years when they turned out to be impregnable, to their own greater glory, but to no particular advantage to the game itself.

Commercial moundsman Dick Letourneau may have had an off-day Sunday. At least, he did not show up as well as he has in earlier games and was replaced in the seventh after allowing four hits—two of them doubles—in that inning.

He was replaced by Stan Cornwell who carried through to the ninth, striking out three and allowing five hits. Letourneau allowed 11 hits during seven and one-third innings.

Jack Lindsay pitched the course for Savoy, facing 38 batters, striking out seven, allowing 11 hits and two bases on balls.

TORONTO (C.P.)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said that a Progressive Conservative government would call a new Dominion-provincial conference to iron out social security problems and other matters.

Agreement On Austria Reached As Big Four Parley Comes To A Close

"Live And Let Live" Keynote

PARIS (CP)—The Big Four foreign ministers announced tonight that they had reached agreement on principles of an Austrian peace treaty. Frontiers will remain the same as in 1938 and there will be no reparations.

The foreign ministers also announced they had reached a "live and let live" arrangement for the occupying powers. Present temporary arrangements, including lifting of the Russian blockade and continued consultations on transportation and trade, will be maintained.

The conference ended tonight with no decision as yet on the Far East.

PICTURED HERE is a model of the new, 10-room King Edward elementary school which Prince Rupert ratepayers will be asked to finance by a bylaw this fall. Designed along modern lines with all classrooms on one floor, the building will cost an estimated $304,920, of which the provincial government will pay half. Half of the $20,000 worth of equipment which will be needed also will be paid for by the provincial government. The architects, Sharp and Thompson, Berwick, Pratt, of Vancouver, have designed the building to sit on the westerly side of the present King Edward grounds, facing on Green Street. —Photo by Archer.

BABE BURNS TO DEATH

PRINCE GEORGE—Trapped in an upstairs bedroom, 13-month-old Kenneth Fox died in a fire which Saturday night swept the home of his parents. A vapor lamp, left under the bed, is believed to have ignited the mattress. The mother is in hospital expecting the birth of a fourth child.

HOWE ANSWERS DRW

VICTORIA—Neither the Merlin engine nor the North Star aircraft which uses it needs any apologists, Trade Minister Howe said Saturday night in election address here. The boy was identified in sketchy reports from the village as the son of Dominic Taulor, a fisherman.

C.C.F. POLICY

"Social ownership will free the people from the power of private monopoly." This quotation is taken from the first term program of the C.C.F. party and we quote further: "Social ownership will free the people from the power of private monopoly. It will make possible a higher standard of living through increased production and lower prices. It is an essential part of any plan for maintaining full employment, and for providing a fairer distribution of wealth. In some cases socialization may also be necessary to restore efficiency to a disorganized and undeveloped industry."

Following this extract from the C.C.F. platform their policy, their leader, Mr. Coldwell, in a speech delivered in Toronto to the C.C.F. University Federation on December 30, 1948, said that, as far as he could see, there was no chance of Socialism coming into power in Canada until we have another great depression. As long as good times continue, he admitted the "Capitalist system will keep going."

Modern Campaigning

WITH THE remarkable developments of communication and science, election campaigning is due for some streamlining and modernization, it is becoming evident as a result of the current battles for the ballots. Particularly in the larger centres, where the radio is so accessible to all, the day of the public meeting appears to be about out, except possibly it be for personal appearances of the leaders and the candidates which may be regarded as a courtesy to the electors. Apathy to public meetings, as shown in the slim attendance at meetings in Prince Rupert, is general.

Something will also have to be done about the radio too, since the political speeches on the air are becoming tiresome in Canada as they have been long since in the United States. Of course, the radio can always be turned off or ignored when the political speech comes on but that is not popularizing the radio.

Newspaper use still seems to be the most effective means of campaign advertising. One of the great advantages of the printed word is that it can be taken or left. It is there to be read and mentally digested at any time and, if it is missed on one occasion, it can be referred to again. The message is not lost and gone forever like the uttered word, be it in the meeting or on the air.

Experience is showing that, in spite of all the new developments and possibly, indeed, because of them, there is still no more effective way of conveying a message and conveying it pleasantly than by the printed word.

WHERE ALUMINUM?

THE PROPOSED hydro-electric project above Skagway offers some interesting problems, both engineering and diplomatic, that may tax the abilities of American leaders before that $300,000,000 aluminum plant is erected along Lynn canal.

Our old friend from Prince Rupert, W. D. Smith, longtime resident of the Stewart-Hyder district and member of the B.C. legislative assembly since 1945, said here that Canada has some ideas of its own regarding aluminum. The U.S. now has a two-cents per pound duty on Canadian-made aluminum entering the U.S. This duty protects American industry and employees. But B.C. has dreams of a big metal plant through harnessing of water in the lakes above the Kitimaat, some 80 or 100 miles south of Prince Rupert, where the Aluminum Corporation of Canada or Reynolds Metal Corporation may build a city of 40,000 to 50,000. Either maker would want to sell part of the plant's output in the U.S.A. and that two-cent tariff hurts. It might be enough to kill the project, even with lower wages and power costs.

At first glance that would seem to make the Skagway deal a cinch. Except that Canada controls the water for the needed power and the Canadians don't wish to lose such a big industry to Alaska because of the U.S. duty. They will want to negotiate, and perhaps hold out for a plant on both sides of the line, with no duty on the output of the one. Or else they might let Skagway go ahead if it hired an equal number of Canadians and Americans, and split its income taxes between the two countries.

Smith says there is an easier way to bring out water from the Lake Atlin watershed than by drilling two long and expensive tunnels down from Lake Lindeman. He says water can be taken from the south end of Lake Atlin down a tunnel and trench to the Sloko River which in turn empties into the Taku River. The latter empties into the inside passage at a point near Juneau. The drop is about 900 feet in less than eight miles, if the figures of a mining engineer of the Atlin region are correct. But that might mean locating the plant along the Taku or else transmitting the power overland to Skagway, which also could be expensive.

Smith says the draining off of water would also dry up inland waterways which serve industry of the area in the spring and summer. Even the Yukon depends on the watershed for some of its supply. That would mean another big task in allocating water. The Colorado River fight has already shown how involved such a controversy can become. A system of dams might protect the long inland waterways involved or of course the new highway into Atlin may solve the problem itself.

—Ketchikan Chronicle.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

The widening usefulness of aircraft is noted more as every fly-time comes around. Sprayed from above, countless winged pests suffer swift death. It is much more effective than individual action, such as slapping one's self on the wrists, or possibly, unmentionables. It should be a simple enough matter for an airman to steer up the Skeen River, drop low and, with a cheerful "Good Morning," destroy 137,000,000 mosquitos, no-seums and black flies of both sexes.

It has perhaps not passed unnoticed that, to date, numerous charges from public platforms have been promptly "nailed." This is merely mentioned today, so that, in the event of future scarcity, when such useful hardware is needed for construction purposes, the situation will be more readily grasped.

Linking Alaska and Skeena Highways with Haines Cut-Off and car barge service and making Prince Rupert a sort of transportation coupling-pin, tying all together appears to have caught the fancy of the north and it can't be said the south is indifferent. The scheme is large sale and the possibilities are there. This part of the continent is gradually coming within the framework of big business and, by the time such a service is provided, the traffic might be waiting.

Some of the campaign speakers, feeling doubtful about the future, have been hinting of a coming depression, or recession. The dictionary defines recession as "a quiet spot." During the thirties, we happened to be living in a place called Prince Rupert. In the holy hush, the pioneers tried to kid one another into believing that, after all, conditions were not so bad but that they might become worse. Yet it was a threadbare sort of comfort.

Something unusual happened this year, at the Trooping of the Color in London town. One man fainted and some of the others seemed a bit unfamiliar with the drill. These little lapses were blamed on the Second Great War. Soldiers had been through desperate fighting but could not march well in an old and formal movement of units. But that was not exactly their fault. And the soldier who took a weak turn could probably have furnished good reasons.

JR. RED CROSS SALE IS SUCCESS

Borden St. School Raises Seventy-Five Dollars Friday Afternoon

The Borden Street Junior Red Cross branches held their last sale of the school year Friday, and as a result, the sum of $75.50 was raised for Junior Red Cross activities. The sale was well patronized by parents and other friends while the pupils themselves found articles available for their nickels and dimes.

Since September of last year the children have collected almost twenty thousand tea and coffee coupons. This is a tribute to their persistency and to their steady determination to live up to the motto of the organization "Service." In addition to the sale of premiums such as aluminum ware, pyrex, hosiery, silverware, towels etc., there were plants for sale. For the young children there was a counter of homemade whistles that found a very ready sale. . . . and the noise of whistles of all pitches testified to the popularity of the article. There was also a very ready demand for cut flowers that the children had brought from their own gardens.

The Junior Red Cross executives of Grades Six and Five were in charge of the sale under the direction of Mrs. S. A. Cheeseman assisted by Mrs. H. C. Food. Principal J. S. Wilson was in general charge.

O. Moscrip and W. Traeger of the Standard Oil Co. of British Columbia arrived in the city on the Camosun yesterday afternoon from Vancouver, being here for a brief visit on company business.

Sport Shots

Last Friday night's Dominion Day cup elimination football game started very slowly with Armstrong's run the first notable feature. There was much miscalculation on both sides. Krause caught and cleared a good cross. Armstrong fed Cornwell but Dumbar stopped him. Parkhouse and Vanetta both shot wide. Cornwell, Baxter and Aird made headway until Frank Gomez cleared. Parkhouse and Pavlikis shot uselessly. The first thrill came after Cornwell, Murray and Armstrong combined and Morgan saved on his knees with difficulty. Krause fielded a long shot safely but play was very uninteresting. Morgan saved a hard drive from Cornwell. Battery forwards were ineffective and Eby stopped Pavlikis. Ward did get across a good centre but Smith cleared. Then Pavlikis got clean through but shot yards over the bar. Cornwell fought good centre that Baxter headed his way through and crossed a goalwards for Morgan to run out and flit away. The defences were on top with Frank Gomez and Ferguson clearing and then Eby at the other end. Yelland intercepted a pass and blocked Darrow Gomez but halftime found no score.

Heavy Battery—Morgan; Dumbar, Ferguson, Mazzone, D. Gomez, Vanetta, Stead, Pavlikis, Parkhouse, Ward, Veitch. Referee — S. P. Woodside; Linesmen, Halverson, Foreman.

This was the first win of the season for the Canadian Legion and the first defeat of the Battery. The Legion deserved their victory. Actually the game was the poorest of the season with neither team doing as well as usual. Krause had little to do. Eby was very reliable and resourceful and Alexander, later replaced by Ralph Smith, tackled hard and stubbornly. Yelland did well and Greer came through with his usual well-judged play. Cornwell was always a great trier but wandered goal and was always a threat. Armstrong was the best forward, his constructive play being very noticeable. Baxter wandered too much. Aird and Murray were not very effective. Morgan had the most chances with either scoring and Ferguson clearing. Mazzone was very good. Frank Gomez in the second half of the season played well. Darrow was always a threat. The goalkeepers were not very good. It was their duty to worry about the game. Stead did well.

More Production and Trade

The products of our farms and forests, factories, mines and fisheries are worth twice as much as ten years ago. And Canada's exports are more than four times greater. Canada is the world's third largest trading nation under Liberal policies.

The Port of Vancouver has had a 30% increase in tonnage in 1948 over 1939.

The greatest dollar volume in British Columbia's history has been reached in our primary, secondary, and agricultural industries, while the increase shown in retail sales is second highest in the Dominion.

For Quick, Easy Sure Results Take Your Choice of CERTO or CERTO Crystals

Jam and jelly-making need not be a chore. The sensible, modern way to do it is with the help of CERTO or "CERTO" Crystals. Both are fruit pectin—the natural substance in fruit that makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell"—extracted and concentrated for efficient jam and jelly making. The name "Certo" is a trade-mark.

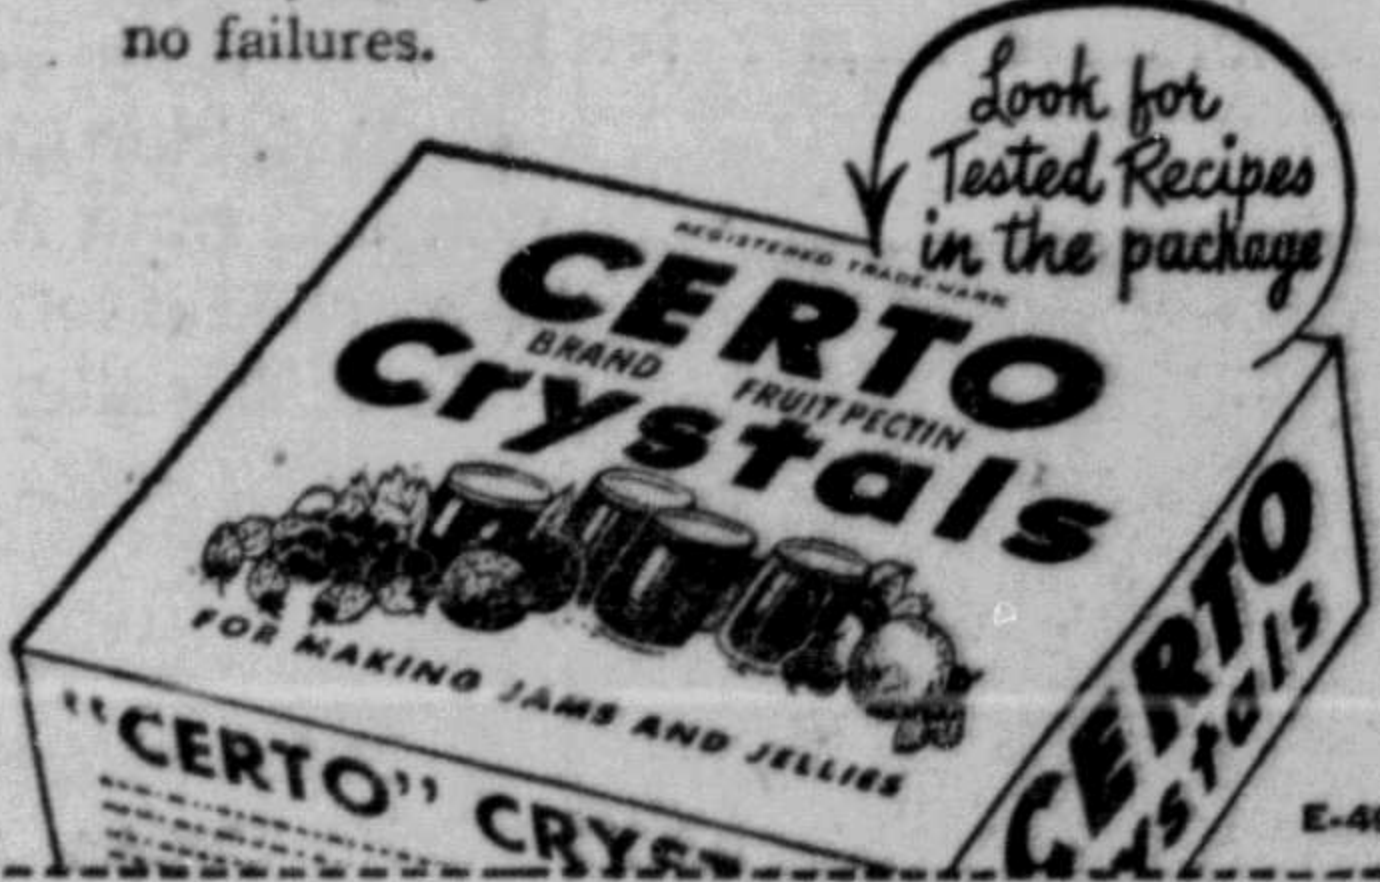

Please yourself which you choose... some prefer the liquid—some the crystals. Each ends guesswork and tedious long-boiling. Each gives sure results if you follow the instructions exactly.

Why CERTO Fruit Pectin or "CERTO" Crystals Make Better Jams and Jellies... Easier... Quicker

- 1. VERY SHORT BOIL. When you use CERTO or "CERTO" Crystals you need only a ONE-MINUTE full, rolling boil for both jams and jellies. Such a saving of time and work!
- 2. MORE JAM OR JELLY. Very little juice has time to boil away as it does in old-fashioned, long-boiling. You get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit.
- 3. FRESH-FRUIT TASTE... COLOUR. The lovely taste and colour of the fresh fruit stay in your jams and jellies because the boil is too short to spoil the one or dull the other.
- 4. NO GUESSWORK. With either CERTO or "CERTO" Crystals you get tested recipes—a different one for each fruit. Follow them exactly and you'll have no failures.

Prince George Starts Regular Sailings—Week-end Shipping—Corsair Running Again

Having completed an extra pre-season voyage with a Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce party, C.N.R. steamer Prince George, Capt. E. B. Caldwell, arrived in port at 9:30 yesterday morning from Vancouver and Ocean Falls on her first sailing in the company's 1949 Alaska summer cruise schedule of eight ten-day voyages between Vancouver, Prince Rupert and Skagway. The vessel sailed at 2 p.m. for the north and will be back here again Friday evening southbound. Names on yesterday's passenger list totalling 231 indicated that tourists from all parts of the continent were represented, the majority hailing from California, Washington and Oregon with a smattering from British Columbia. Eleven persons disembarked here and six went aboard.

Joseph Barrowelough, former well known pursuer of Canadian National Coast Steamships and later with Union Steamships, is back afloat after several years ashore in Vancouver. He has taken over the duties of cruise director aboard the steamer Prince George for the summer on the Alaska run.

Frank Wilson, one-time manager of the local Overwaita store, is another former local man who is with the steamer Prince George this summer. He is with the steward's department. Last year Mr. Wilson was aboard the tourist ship Corsair out of Vancouver and Victoria on the Alaska run.

Hugh Tennant, port steward of Canadian National Steamships, is making the round trip north aboard the steamer Prince George this trip. Years ago Mr. Tennant was a chief steward on vessels on this coast and later was on company vessels in the West Indies run.

Bringing in two carloads of fresh fish for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways, the Ketchikan motorship Sunday was in port from 4 to 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Freighter Alaska Prince, southbound from Alaska to Vancouver touched briefly in port from 8:50 to 9:30 yesterday morning, proceeding from here to Port Edward.

Union steamer Camosun, Capt. John Boden, arrived in port at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Vancouver and sailed at 11 p.m. for Port Simpson, Alice Arm and Stewart whence she will return here tomorrow southbound. Forty minutes after the Camosun yesterday afternoon, the steamer Coquitlam, Capt. William McCoombe, arrived in port from south Queen Charlotte Islands points, sailing at 10 p.m. for Vancouver. Both the Camosun and Coquitlam had upwards of thirty round-trippers included in their passenger lists.

One of the passengers aboard the S.S. Prince George during her recent cruise to Alaska when she carried the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce party, suffered a collapse and died within a few minutes as the vessel was nearing the dock on her return to Vancouver. He was William P. Keane, 45, a California broker. Mr. Keane was reported to have been reciting "Dangerous Dan McGrew" during a social, when he took a sudden weak turn. His home was in Santa Monica.

Mr. and Mrs. Roi Judge will arrive in Prince Rupert next Wednesday from Vancouver where the former is in the barbering business for himself, to attend the wedding of Miss Gladys Foster to J. Smith who is identified with the wireless station staff at Prince Rupert. Miss Foster is a sister of Mrs. Judge.

A Canadian crew will serve on the American luxury yacht, Corsair, once owned by J. P. Morgan, which is about to commence her second summer season to the north. Last year she was in Alaskan waters for weeks with Captain Nedden, formerly of the Canadian National Steamships line. The skipper, Capt. Nedden is still in command.

Canadians Call For action!

Canadians are voting CCF

Canadians know that they can depend on CCF National Leader M. J. Coldwell and CCF members of parliament to carry out the following program without fear, favour or stalling:

1. IMMEDIATE LOW-COST LOW-RENTAL HOUSING

"The government's failure to build houses is a national disgrace. We will launch immediate large-scale housing construction. Housing subsidies will be paid to bring the cost of homes within reach of our lowest income group. Government financing will reduce interest rates. Priorities will ensure the necessary supplies."

2. IMMEDIATE NATIONAL HEALTH PROGRAM

"Canada lags far behind almost every other country in the western world. . . Health Services will be made available to all regardless of the size of their pocketbooks. People will be encouraged to seek early treatment. A vigorous program to build sound, healthy bodies for Canadians will pay untold dividends in the future."

3. IMMEDIATE MEASURES TO PROVIDE JOB SECURITY

"CCF economic planning will keep the wheels of industry turning so that no one willing and able to work will be out of a job. Private enterprise, complete and uncontrolled, has never succeeded in maintaining full employment for more than a few years at a time. The investment and production policies of the giant key industries so vital to the economic

M. J. COLDWELL, CCF National Leader

4. IMMEDIATE STEPS TO PROVIDE FARM SECURITY

"If our foreign trade collapses, our farm economy collapses. Day by day the situation grows worse. . . the government seems to have no solution to prevent this drift to certain catastrophe. The CCF is not afraid of applying controls necessary to make our economy work. We shall negotiate long-term, bulk-purchase contracts for our exports. . . make bi-lateral trade agreements that our customers want. . . eliminate gambling and speculation."

5. IMMEDIATE AND COMPLETE SOCIAL SECURITY

"In a land of Canada's resources, no person should go without the basic necessities of life. . . A CCF government will inaugurate a comprehensive system of family security. . . The CCF will increase the old age pension to $50 per month payable at the age of 65 without a means test. Blind pensions will be increased to the same amount. Family allowances will be continued for children from 16 to 21 as they remain at school or college. There will be established a social security minimum below which no one in the country will be allowed to fall."
