"We will object to the adoption of any resolution which has implicit in it the maintenance of foreign troops in Korea."

MIDDLE EAST MASTER KEY

Since 1945, when Britain was prepared to renounce her Treaty rights to keep a garrison in the Suez Canal zone in Egypt, world events have vastly increased the importance of that zone, which is the master key in a key area.

Through the Suez Canal run the routes between the Middle Eastern States and their sources of supply, as well as the world traffic between Europe and the Far East.

The three "roof-level" defence areas of Greece, Turkey and Persia now receiving military aid and equipment from the West depend upon the Canal as their supply route.

The Canal, is therefore, not only the last line of defence in the Middle East, but is vital also for the defence of the first and second lines. To weaken its security would invite fatal consequences.

YOKOHAMA (CP)—Second Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, more than 1000 strong, arrived here today for service with the United Nations Korean forces. The "Pats" were told they would continue their voyage to the Korean war theatre tomorrow.

The Pats left Seattle November 25. They will probably be attached to the Commonwealth Brigade operation in Korea.

Egypt Talking Pro-Communist

CAIRO—The Egyptian parliament last night applauded a deputy's proposal that Egypt make agreements with Communist-bloc countries and use these agreements to pry concessions from the western powers.

Sollman Abdel Fattah, member of the ruling Wafdist party, advanced the proposal. He was speaking in the debate on King Farouk's recent throne speech which asked Great Britain to withdraw her troops from Suez Canal and quit the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Applause also had greeted an assertion by a Wafdist deputy, Ibrahim Talaat, that Egypt should recognize Communist China and establish an accord with "the Soviet Union and all Eastern bloc nations."

Marshall Aid Soon To End

LONDON—Hugh Gaitskill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced today that flow of Marshall Aid recovery dollars to Britain will be ended January 1. Great Britain has received $2,540,700,000 from the United States.

The Americans now take the view that Britain has reached a point where no more aid is needed.

McADAM, New Brunswick—Two train crew members were killed and three others injured today when a Canadian Pacific Railway double-header freight train plunged off a washed-out stretch of rail twelve miles from here.

Killed were Engineer Joseph H. Doiron and Fireman C. M. McKay.
Injured were D. W. McDermott, engineer of the second locomotive on a 36-car train. Fireman Creighton White and Trainman George Madire.

LOSES HEAD IN ELEVATOR SHAFT

VANCOUVER—Alfred Shaughnessy, 30-year-old Indian fisherman, was killed in a downtown hotel yesterday when he became entangled in elevator cables. He was decapitated. He had wandered into an elevator motor cable room during the night.

Ludlow Type Setter Here

A new Ludlow typesetting machine for the Daily News was among the cargo carried by the Prince George when she docked here today. The machine, ordered last fall, will be another modernization added to the mechanical department of the newspaper and will produce new and versatile type. It is expected to save time in the composing room.

Safe After Stranding

A wire cable around the propeller was the only thing that prevented the seiner Eastview from being able to reach port last night under her own power, Capt. Joe Katnick said this morning.

After being stranded on the rocks for many hours after she ran ashore during ebb tide near the southern end of Porcher Island, she was refloated with the help of the Westview, Capt. Joe Malatestinic, the Yankee Boy, Capt. John Pahl, and the B.C. Packers 43, Capt. Dave Carpenter. The Westview and Yankee Boy towed her to Nelson Bros. reduction plant at Port Edward where Capt. Katnick said she delivered her full load of 115 tons of herring. She docked about 7 p.m.

Capt. Katnick said the boat could not use her own power because of the fouled propeller. Everything was closed and very little water was taken aboard. During the time she was stranded, she remained on an even keel until a gust of wind keeled her over. In her position sheltered from the north wind yesterday she received no buffeting from the waves. Capt. Katnick said that she was at no time in danger.

Bumper Set Of Herring

B.C. Packers' packers are today engaged in bringing into port the fish from a big 800 to 900 set which has been taken at Ogden Channel by the seiner Van Isle. This is one of the largest sets of the season.

From noon yesterday until noon today 2,100 tons of herring have been landed, bringing the total catch for the season to 18,000 tons in the northern sub-district. That is 60 per cent of the year's quota of 30,000 for the sub-district.

Fishermen have been working toward filling the quota before December 16, the date agreed upon by the union to stop fishing before Christmas. The seiner might be able to meet that deadline but it is doubtful if the packers will be able to take the catches away fast enough.

Be Sure and Vote

WHILE this is an off-year for the mayoralty contest and the campaign may, therefore, lack the interest that attaches to the selection of the incumbent for the key municipal position, tomorrow's municipal election is nonetheless an important affair that should command the attention of the electors. Prince Rupert is growing rapidly and never has it been more important that there should be good and capable municipal administration in view of the many pressing problems that require attention. Half of the aldermanic body will be elected tomorrow and that the best talent available should be selected is a matter of some urgency.

It is good citizenship to exercise the privilege of the ballot and it is remiss to fail to do so. This is the one occasion when every person has the opportunity to have his or her inviolate say-so in the conduct of the community's most important business. It is a privilege which every one should consider it a duty to take advantage of. They should not have to be urged to get out and vote.

FUTURE CITIZENS' DAY

IT WAS a pleasure to have the Future Citizens with us again yesterday. The Jaycees are to be commended on the success of their endeavour to thus bring the young folks in contact with the public services and the industrial, business and professional life of their city. It was a good practical day's education for the students and it is quite evident that they enjoyed the experience and profited thereby.

If the enthusiasm that the young people who came to the Daily News office to help us and observe a day's newspapering work was any sample of what prevailed in the many other places they visited, it must have been a happy experience for their hosts. We have given some space today to their efforts and know our readers will be indulgently interested.

Future Citizens' Day is quite an idea and is worthy of being made an annual institution now that it has had its second year.

Letters to the Editor

APPEAL FOR BYLAWS

Editor, Daily News:
 Due to the importance that the members of the Canadian Legion attach to the plebiscite to be taken tomorrow with regard to the sale of the Legion Building and lot on Third Avenue, I would ask your kind permission to publish this letter in your paper.

I think it is necessary to explain to the citizens just what is intended and why it is necessary to explain to the citizens just what is intended and why it is necessary to have a plebiscite.

Shortly after the first world war the people of Prince Rupert approved the sale of the property on Third Avenue to the returned veterans for the sum of one dollar. The property consisted of the lot and an old frame building that had been used previously as the telephone exchange. The lot and building were sold to the veterans on the understanding that, if the property was not used for Legion purposes, then the lot and building thereon were to revert to the city.

Now, although the bylaw made reference to a building it is not the building that is commonly known as the "Old Legion." The present building was erected by the veterans themselves, but, on account of the interpretation of the old bylaw, this building has now reverted to the City. What we are asking the public to approve is the sale of the lot and building to the Canadian Legion for the assessed value of the lot then we will become owners of our own building. We will pay the taxes levied against the property until we dispose of the building.

I hope I have made it clear that the present building was built by the veterans for their use as a clubroom and that all we ask is approval for the sale of the lot and building for the assessed value and that we are not asking for something that we are not entitled to.

I may add here that we are much encouraged to know that all the present Aldermen and the Mayor have expressed themselves unanimously in favor of the Legion's request.

Thanking you Mr. Editor, I remain,

Yours truly,
 J. NICOLL
 President,
 Can. Legion No. 27.

LEGION BYLAW

Editor, Daily News:
 I would be pleased if you could find space in your valuable newspaper for a few comments on the bylaw to exempt certain properties owned by the Canadian Legion from taxation, on which certain taxpayers will be asked to vote "Yes" or "No" on Thursday at the municipal election. I think it should be pointed out to the taxpayers that the Canadian Legion owns in all 3.5 acres of land, on part of which stands their new Legion quarters.

The Canadian Legion is not requesting tax concessions on the entire 3.5 acres but only on that land on which the premises are situated and a reasonable approach thereto.

This means that the tax concession requested is applicable to approximately 1/2 of the present holdings and the request for concession of taxes is in accordance with previous procedure when the old Canadian Legion property was acquired on Third Avenue. Full taxes would be levied against the remaining two-thirds of this property, which the organization is quite prepared to accept.

After hearing some remarks on the street the writer gathered that some people are of the opinion that concessions are being asked on the entire 3.5 acres and this letter may clarify the situation for them. Thanking you Mr. Editor, for your valuable space.

SKATING AND CURLING

Editor, Daily News—
 I would like to put in a few words on behalf of the skating and curling rink, being an old-time curler and also iking skating.

I think a rink would pay for itself even if it cost a great deal of money to get ready.

I went out to the Oliver Lake pond for a little skating one day. There was a large crowd, not only children but grown-ups as well.

Among them was an old man who told me his age was 70 and who told me that he looked for a cold spell every winter and would never miss a day's skating if he could get onto ice. If there was a rink in town he would be there every day, he said.

As for curling, that's a sport for young and old—men and women alike.

BEN SKALMERUD.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont. (C)—A store owner in northwestern Ontario found money missing from the cash register. When it was taken apart, mice were discovered using paper money for beds in the back of the machine.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Years ago, a municipal election in Prince Rupert, sometimes became a subject of discussion the preceding summer. But it did not stop there.

Bill Dunford, B.C. publicity man, has his own idea of how the Indian greeting "Klahowya" came to be. It seems that a Hudson's Bay factor named Clark flourished away back in the early days. The Indians would hear the welcome "Clark, how are you?" And so, as you unravel the story of British Columbia, here's another one. Anyway, Dunford must be an ingenious hombre.

Billy Rose has discontinued his newspaper column "Pitching Horseshoes." A lot of readers liked it. Most columnists are just a bit off, or said to be. Beyond any question, Billy must have been like that. He owned a theatre and all he got out of it was $12,000 a week.

5. Careful consideration been given the question financing the foregoing and a study of the 1949 Report of the City has been made. We note that unlike Canadian cities Prince has no business tax, the contribution to the finance the City being through the dium of property tax business licenses. In most cities, licenses are used to regulate business and revenue is derived from a business tax. Our candidates therefore have been instructed for the implementation of a business tax which would be graduated tax, based on the space occupied by the establishment. This would take the tax load off the small owner and distribute it equitably.

Miss Cross Is Coming Again

As a service to its members the Civic Centre has invited Eileen Cross of the University Extension Department to come and give courses again this winter. She has accepted this invitation but so far the exact date of the course is not set.

If she can find someone else to do the teaching in Vancouver she will come in January. Then she will be able to stay for three weeks. In a three weeks' course Miss Cross would give sewing and home furnishing on alternate afternoons and the same on alternate evenings. This would give everyone a chance to attend either or both courses yet keep up with their other activities as well.

Should Miss Cross be unable to come in January she will be here for two weeks in late March or early April. At that date she will try to bring an assistant so that sewing and home furnishing could be taught at the same time in different rooms at the Civic Centre.

Whenever she arrives her increasing popularity as a person and an efficient instructress will assure her of a hearty welcome.

Miss Joyce Leslie, formerly head public health nurse of the local health unit and now residing in Hazelton, is a visitor in the city. She arrived from the interior on last night's train.

Fred Minty, who has been following the calling of an accountant at Prince George, arrived in the city on last night's train to join the accounting staff of Columbia Cellulose Co. here. His wife and family will arrive later. Mr. Minty is the son of the late A. C. Minty who years ago was district chief of provincial police here.

Fire Destroys Forestry Boat

J. P. MacDonald, fire inspector attached to the local Forest Branch, returned to the city on the Prince George today from Ocean Falls in which area he was aboard the departmental cruiser White Cloud when it caught fire and sank last Friday. Others aboard the White Cloud were Ranger Aale Antilla and Skipper Neil McMillan.

It was when she was about thirty minutes out of Bella Coola that disaster befell the White Cloud. The three men on board made a hasty getaway in a lifeboat and were picked up by the police boat which was in the neighborhood and taken to Bella Coola.

The White Cloud burned to the water's edge.

The vessel had had a checkered career. Built in 1911 at Hong Kong, she was at first a sailing vessel with auxiliary engine. Later she was brought to this coast and years ago was acquired by the Forest Branch, first having a Hall-Scott gas engine installed and later a diesel power plant. Sixty feet long, she was based for some time at Prince Rupert before being transferred to Ocean Falls.

ORGANIZING FOR DISASTER— Prince Rupert Red Cross Mobilizing for Emergency

With City Clerk H. D. Thain as chairman and Donald Darling as secretary, Prince Rupert's Red Cross disaster relief committee, aware of the potential danger of current conditions, is about to move into action. For the purpose of co-ordinating efforts and knitting an effective organization, representatives of the various sections of the community—public service, industrial and business—will be called together shortly to perfect the disaster relief set-up.

Under the banner of the Red Cross, citizens will band together for their mutual protection and relief. Amateur radio operators will be organized to take over in the event of a breakdown of regular communications, trucks will be mobilized to act as ambulances, shelters will be arranged and emergency clothing stockpiled. Nurses will be enlisted by Mrs. O. L. Murray and assigned for emergency duty.

Preliminary arrangements along these lines were made when the local Red Cross Society was in special meeting this Monday night prior to the departure from the city of President R. A. Morley who is about to be transferred from here to Westview in the service of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Mrs. T. Norton, vice-president, will assume the leadership of the society pending the annual meeting to be held in January.

Occasion was taken at Monday night's meeting to honor Mrs. C. H. Elkins with the Red Cross long service award in acknowledgement of her consistent and faithful work for the society ever since World War I including ten years on the executive. The presentation of a service badge was made to Mrs. Elkins by Mrs. N. E. Arnold.

Acknowledgement was also suitably voiced by Mrs. Arnold of the work of the departing president and the regret that was felt over Mr. Morley's departure.

OTTAWA. — Arrangements have been made with Canadian tobacco companies whereby cigarette gift parcels may be sent to members of the armed forces on duty overseas, Defence Minister Brooke Claxton announced Tuesday.

The gift plan, similar to one conducted during the Second World War, does not apply to personnel of the special force stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., or other parts of the United States.

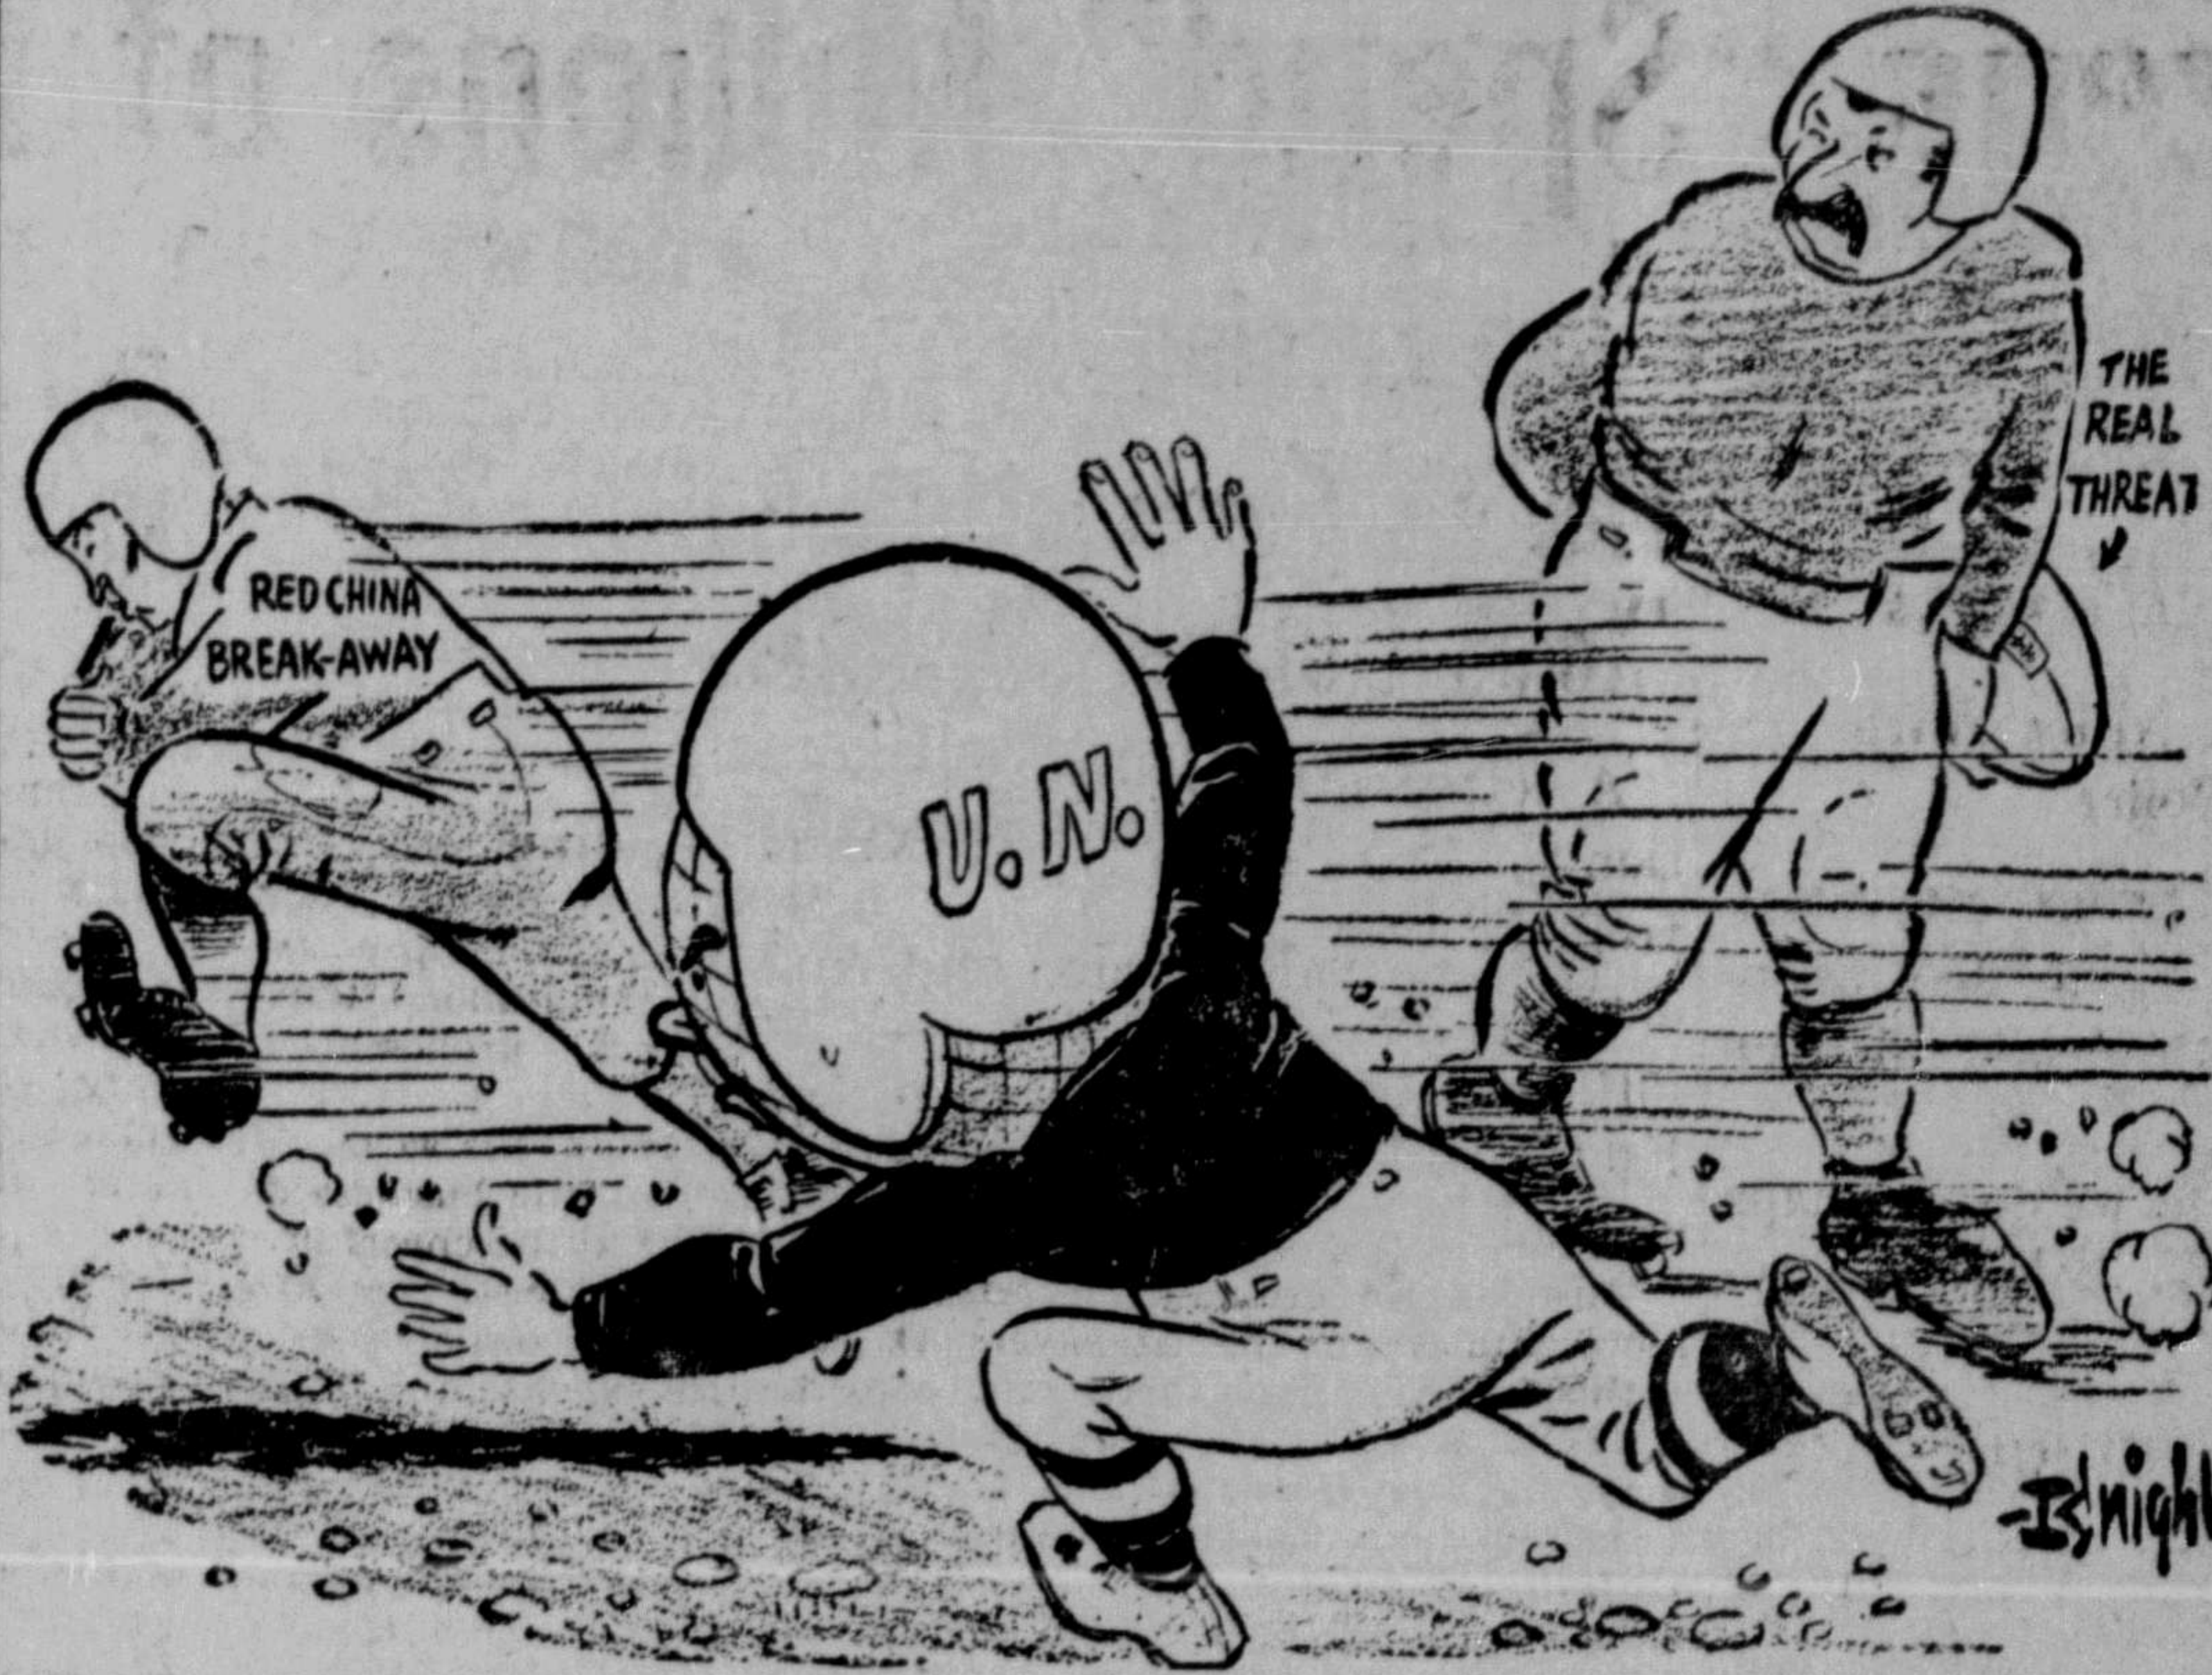

For delivery to soldiers, sailors or airmen overseas, orders must be placed direct with tobacco companies. The price for 400 cigarettes is $2. Only parcels of 400 cigarettes are available.

If they wish, troops overseas may place orders for cigarettes through their unit at the same cost.

Mr. Claxton said that personnel stationed at Fort Lewis will be able to purchase up to six packages (120 cigarettes) of duty-free Canadian cigarettes a week.

It has been emphasized that tobacco companies will not accept orders for individual parcels to personnel of the special force stationed in the United States.

EDMONTON @ — A campaign to raise $175,000 for alterations and additions to St. Stephen's College at the University of Alberta is well under way. The amount is allocated on the basis of $4.50 per member of each United Church in the province.

As I See It

HARD-BOILED ANSWERS

NOT LONG ago I wrote that, just as the use of snuff had passed, and just as duelling and slavery had been abolished so too would war be overcome.

I suggested that "Mr. Hard Boiled" would challenge my reasoning and sure enough one has.

"Would you permit Mr. Hard Boiled to knock the stuffing out of your arguments?" he writes. "Snuff was a passing fad, like chewing gum, smoking, beer or canasta... Duelling was also a fad peculiar to a class. Slavery was never universal, and is not abolished by far. It may be only at low ebb and ready to increase. American slavery was abolished by the cotton gin.

"War was always there, as far back as we can ascertain. It will always be there because its basic causes cannot be removed either by well meaning reformers or religious fanatics. The fundamental causes of war are selfishness (an aspect of self-preservation), emotionalism (a characteristic of the human species), and the colossal stupidity of man, who is only a dumb animal like the rest of them, all the wishful thinkers to the contrary notwithstanding.

"The only possible thing approaching permanent peace is Pax Romana and both Joe (Stalin) and Harry (Truman) are trying to achieve it and one of them will if either side can win a decisive victory.

"I know you believe that 'our side is different' but try to remember you are a privileged 'Roman'. Try the worm's eye view of the African living under Apartheid or the A-etic under his landlord or of a Korean whose home and family were smashed while being 'saved' from the Reds' and the difference between the sides might appear significant."

I ALWAYS ADMIRE writing that packs a real punch—so take my hat off to Mr. Hard Boiled.

But here are further reasons why I think his argument is silly and shallow.

If a man is "only a dumb animal" and predestined to fight war after war because of that, fact, how come that the once-most-warlike peoples have become the most peaceable.

The Swedes, the Norwegians, the Danes were the terror of Europe at the time of the fall of the Roman Empire. They attacked and raped and ravaged worse than any savages of today. They educated themselves into a better way of life. In the end of their war-like days even their kings could not get them to fight each other. Peace came up out of the hearts of these people. Now you could not get any of them to fight, except in self defence.

THE NATURE of the Scots and English did not change in the twinkling of an eye. But before the union of their two countries they fought each other hundreds, yes thousands, of times. They have never fought each other since. Why?

My conclusion is that wars are inevitable under a wrong political and social relationship—but next-to-impossible under the right one, which must be acceptable to all the people.

A PEACE IMPOSED on the Pax Romana model would be no real peace. Uncle Joe or Uncle Sam might be able to conquer the whole world, by sheer force. But the "peace" which would result would be hell on earth. It would be the "peace" of the penitentiary, the stability of the straight-jacket.

MAN IS NOT a dumb animal. Man literally has within him the "breath of God." He has self government. He can continue to ruin his life on earth. Or he can begin really to live.

BASKETBALL— Brownwoods Down Hardware Men During Rough Evening

HENRY BLACKABY
(Junior Citizen Guest Reporter)

Gordon and Andersons made a driving attempt to overcome the big lead obtained by Brownwoods in the second period of last night's basketball game but all efforts were in vain and Brownwoods came through to win a 72-62 victory.

In the first and second periods Gordon and Anderson had little drive and Brownwoods out-busted them to take the quarter 19-13 and the half at 43-29. The hardware team came to life in the third and fourth periods, but found it was too late.

Tiny Carlson and Reggie Lavigne were tops in shooting, swishing the hoop for 20 points apiece. "Tiny" put in some sensational hook shots and Brownwoods got well ahead in the second period. Lavigne played a driving game from start to finish, snagging many rebounds.

Ray Spring played a very good offensive game, setting up a majority of the plays and also scoring 12 points. Brownwoods felt the loss of Don Hartwig who was sent off the floor for a deliberate foul in the third quarter.

Harold Marshall of Gordon and Anderson played his best game of the season, scoring 16 points to be high way. Flaten and Holkestad had 10 points apiece and played a very aggressive game. Ciccone was a tower of strength for the hardware team but was put off for five fouls in the final period. Little Butch Currie started G. & A. rolling in the first period by scoring seven out of the 13 points.

Gordon and Anderson again fell down in their free throws, scoring only 10 out of 30 tries. The last half was rather rough as Doc Montgomery's boys tried desperately to gain the lead. In the second half Brownwoods didn't look like the same team as they let their 24-point lead drop to a six-point margin which put a scare into them, but they soon built it back up again.

Referees Comadina and Davidson called 21 fouls on G. & A. and 23 on Brownwoods.

INTERMEDIATE
The Thunderbird team looked much better as they lost a heart-breaker to the Hi Greens. Thunderbirds took a 7-5 lead at the end of the first quarter. In the second period the Greens began to click and took the period at 15-12. The game was close and exciting from start to finish. The Greens played a very effective zone against Thunderbirds but, with the help of Sankey, the Thunderbirds shot long shots and kept the game close. With seconds to go, Ron Rhodes shot a spectacular long shot from near center which swished the hoop with the belt and

Da Grosa Would Ban Joe Louis

PHILADELPHIA — John (Ox) Da Grosa, Pennsylvania athletic commissioner, is seeking to bar Joe Louis from more fights "in the best interests of boxing" and of the champion himself.

Da Grosa disclosed last night he has started a move to keep Louis out of the ring in Pennsylvania and will ask the National Boxing Association to do likewise.

He asserted that the aging Louis' scheduled fight with Freddie Beshore January 3 should be called off for the "health, welfare and future" of the Brown Bomber.

Moreover, he said, the permanent retirement of Louis would be in the "best interests of boxing."

Healthy Increase Over Last Year Being Maintained

Log scaling in Prince Rupert forest district for the year 1950 is maintaining a healthy margin of increase over last year.

Up to the end of November this year, the scale amounts to 247,594,543 board feet compared with 232,303,030 board feet in the first eleven months of 1949.

The scale for this November was 32,885,275 board feet as compared with 28,891,788 board feet in November 1949.

Conservatory at Music Festival

Of considerable interest to local and district music teachers will be the information that the Royal Conservatory of Music, Toronto, has graded the test pieces for violin and piano contained in the syllabus of the Prince Rupert and District Music and Drama Festival.

Frederick Sylvester, registrar of the Conservatory, states that, although these pieces are now acceptable for the grades indicated, teachers must not forget to submit a list including them to the Conservatory prior to the music examinations in order to secure formal approval.

Conservatory gradings will be indicated in the syllabus which is to be published this week in the Daily News.

Education Week Here

Teachers' Wage Negotiations So Far Unsuccessful.

"Education, Everybody's Business," will be the theme of the 15th Dominion-wide observance of Education Week which is scheduled for March 4 to 10 next. National sponsors are Canadian Chamber of Commerce, Canadian Trades and Labor Congress, Canadian Congress of Labor, Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Canadian School Trustees' Association, the Parent-Teacher Federation, the Canadian Legion and the National Council of Women. The event will again be sponsored in Prince Rupert by the Prince Rupert District Teachers' Association. The responsibilities for education of the church, school, home, industry, commerce, labor and the community as a whole will be stressed. Representatives of these organizations and fields of activity will meet early in January to make plans.

At the December meeting of the local teachers Monday night possibility of sending a delegate to the B.C.T.F. Workshop at Qualicum Beach was discussed. The workshop last year dealt with matters under four head-

Chairman of the salary committee, R. G. Moore, reported that attempts to negotiate a 1951 salary schedule were unsuccessful so far.

Some members expressed concern regarding steamship sailings for Vancouver on December 19.

Smiles'n Chuckles

Two Scotsmen were traversing a hot, dusty road. They became very tired.

"Hae ye got any food wi' ye, Dougal?" one of them asked.

"A'ye a bottle of whusky?" was the reply. "What hae ye, Angus?"

"Dried tongue," replied Angus.

"Guid," exclaimed Dougal, "we'll go halves wi our provections."

The whiskey was duly divided and drunk. Angus wiped his lips.

"Noo for yer dried tongue, Dougal."

"Mon," replied Dougal, "it's no cry now!"

Jack: "What did your wife say when you got in from the club dinner last night?"

Bill: "Not a word. I was going to have my two front teeth pulled out, anyway."

Casey "All Wet" But Insistent

City Fathers won't tackle the age-old problem of changing the weather. But at least they decided Monday night at the city council they didn't like standing in the rain.

Ald. George B. Casey tackled the problem in unfinished business. The trouble started on the week-end. Little did the bus driver probably know that one of those 30 east end passengers he had gathered together outside the bus depot at the closed door of his bus was Alderman George B. Casey.

A general resolution was passed by the aldermen that any poor service such as off schedule waiting would be out of order.

Still, Ald. Casey persisted. "I don't so much mind waiting. But standing in the rain for 15 minutes while the bus driver sat contented inside the bus is rubbing it in!"

The first ten minutes Ald. Casey and the 29 others in the congregation endured.

"We didn't want to loose our chance for the ride," said the alderman explaining how he got soaked.

"Just then the bus behind pulled out and went ahead; meanwhile we stood there in the pouring rain," explained Ald. Casey.

"And the bus driver still sat there like a little giant," recalled the works chairman. He reminded the council that the bus company had a service to people left exposed under such conditions suffering the consequences of Prince Rupert rain.

Ald. T. B. Black suggested that the matter be referred to the incoming council.

Here Ald. W. A. MacLean interrupted with "there has been no seconder to Ald. Casey's motion."

"I will second that," Ald. D. G. Frizzell said. He felt that the people could stand outside the waiting room in the rain at the bus depot if they liked, but "as regards the schedule that's another matter. In order not to miss a chance for a ride to the east end, I would stand in the rain to catch a bus, too," said Ald. Frizzell.

Possible reason for the erratic service "might be because the bus had to make a try four or five times to get up the hill at Seal Cove. At this time of the year, extreme caution is necessary—we are very, very fortunate no accident has occurred on the hill," said Ald. W. J. MacLean.

Shelters along the route were suggested by Ald. Frizzell as a possible means of preventing customers from getting wet. Good business, because it is five minutes late you are late. I understand the other there was no excuse for—wouldn't open the door.
