The C.C.F'ers win again

MHILE THE C.C.F.'ERS exult over their notable VV victories the Liberals and Conservatives may well do some moralizing over the results of the two federal by-elections yesterday - Vancouver Centre and Ontario both of which swing to the left for the first time in their political history.

The Liberals threw strong forces into the Vancouver Centre fight and offered about everything making the presentation. in the book in their support of an admittedly strong candidate but the Socialists were not to be denied. Back in Ontario, principal city of which is the automobile town of Oshawa, there is a strong industrial vote but never before was the seat in anything but Liberal or Conservative column. The last member was a Liberal.

Added to the Yale by-election and the trend in the Ontario provincial election, it is anything but a rosy picture for the old parties. But it should all be enough to pull them out of their lethargy and complacency. There is no denying that Canada is a good deal closer to a Socialist national government than it ever was before.

Nor is there any use of the old parties trying to delude themselves that the Socialist tide is receding. To say so is but wishful thinking. Signs are abundant that Liberals and Conservatives will have to be doing something drastic and sudden about the situation as far as they are concerned.

The voters of Canada are in a mood of protest. They want something really better than they have been getting. Doubtless, the old line parties have it in their power to give the people what they want and are now demanding. The thing now is to show | fecting operation of the line | vanced. the people that they have the will and ability to do

This is political handwriting on the wall. It is the eleventh hour.

BEAUTY OR INDUSTRY

THE INSTALLING of machinery and equipment in certain parts of the highlands of Scotland for the large scale development of power is causing complaint. It is contended that work of this character will mar the natural beauty of famed lochs and glens and rob them of their charm.

Others—and they appear to be greatly in the majority-do not share the opinion. They say it will be quite possible to keep both power, and the natural loveliness of the landscape. And that's only horse sense. It has been discovered before this that one cannot live on scenery. Electrical power is a forerunner of industry. Bonnie Scotland will be more bonnie than ever when Jock goes to a well paid job every morning the year around.

Fewer people would be in debt if they didn't spend what their friends THINK they make.

CANADA IN SQUEEZE

CANADA, the political product of a world now dead, is deep in the greatest crisis in her his-

The immediate cause of the crisis is political and economic, according to Bruce Hutchison of British Columbia, in an article in the current issue of The American Mercury, but the greatest menace lies in what Mr. Hutchison terms "the intangibles."

These "intangibles" are closely related to the squeeze that Canada might suffer if the cold war btween the United States and Soviet Russia should become hot.

Although Canada became adept at living between the rival pressures of the United States and Great Britain and developed into a "sort of national middle man, a master of compromise and conciliation," she finds herself at present in an infinitely more delicate situation.

"When a small state happens to lie directly between giants engaged in cold war," Mr. Hutchison says, "and when the small state is cheerfully mapped out as the Belgium of the war if it gets hot, then the small state must be made of stern stuff indeed to maintain a real independence."

Canada means to make every effort to maintain that independence—especially to preserve it from the infiltration of or absorption by its friendly neighbor, the United States.

But, asks Mr. Hutchison, "can a nation so oddly conceived and so vaguely dedicated long endure in the dinosaur jungle which we call modern civilization?"
