DENTAL FIRMS CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

TORONTO, (P)—A grand jury at the winter Assizes of the Ontario Supreme Court returned a bill against 18 dental supply companies charged with violating the law against combining in restraint of trade. The charge against the firm was that between 1930 and 1947 they "did unlawfully conspire, combine, agree or arrange together and with one another and with 42 individuals and firms to unduly prevent or lessen competition in the production, manufacture, purchase, sale, transportation or supply of new, used and refined dental equipment."

The companies charged include the British Columbia Dental Supply Company Ltd.

WARRINGTON, Eng. (P)—

FISH BUYERS LICENCED

HALIFAX, (P)—An act passed by the 1946 session of the Nova Scotia legislature, providing for the licensing of all fish processing plants and all fish buyers in the province, is effective as of January 1, 1948.

DIRECTING THE ATTACK—Not military manoeuvres, but a war operation is shown here as a Greek army platoon attacks a guerrilla machine-gun emplacement on Mount Vermion. The platoon commander uses a field radio to direct the attack, one of many in the Mount Vermion area where the guerrillas, who have proclaimed a government of their own, have become well established.

Price Control Measures felt Little So Far

OTTAWA, (CP)—Maximum butter prices will range from 70 to 74 cents a pound under the new price ceiling order, it was announced today by the Prices Board. The new price will be effective Monday. Top grade butter in prints will retail at 72 cents in British Columbia.

TORONTO (P)—Re-imposition of controls on meat and butter brought little immediate change in prices on those commodities throughout Canada, but reactions ranged all the way from mild approval of the federal government's action to predictions that the ultimate result will be black market activity.

Price reductions were forecast in Toronto and Winnipeg, but in all other cities dealers adopted a "wait-and-see" attitude.

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, termed the government move a "cruel, practical joke at the expense of the consumer," and the C.C.F. chief, M. J. Coldwell said it was a "bitter disappointment."

In Prince Rupert, price of butter remained unchanged at 76 cents a pound, retail. Dealers said they had received no word which would alter the present level.

BROTHERHOODS SET FEB. 6 AS STRIKE DATE

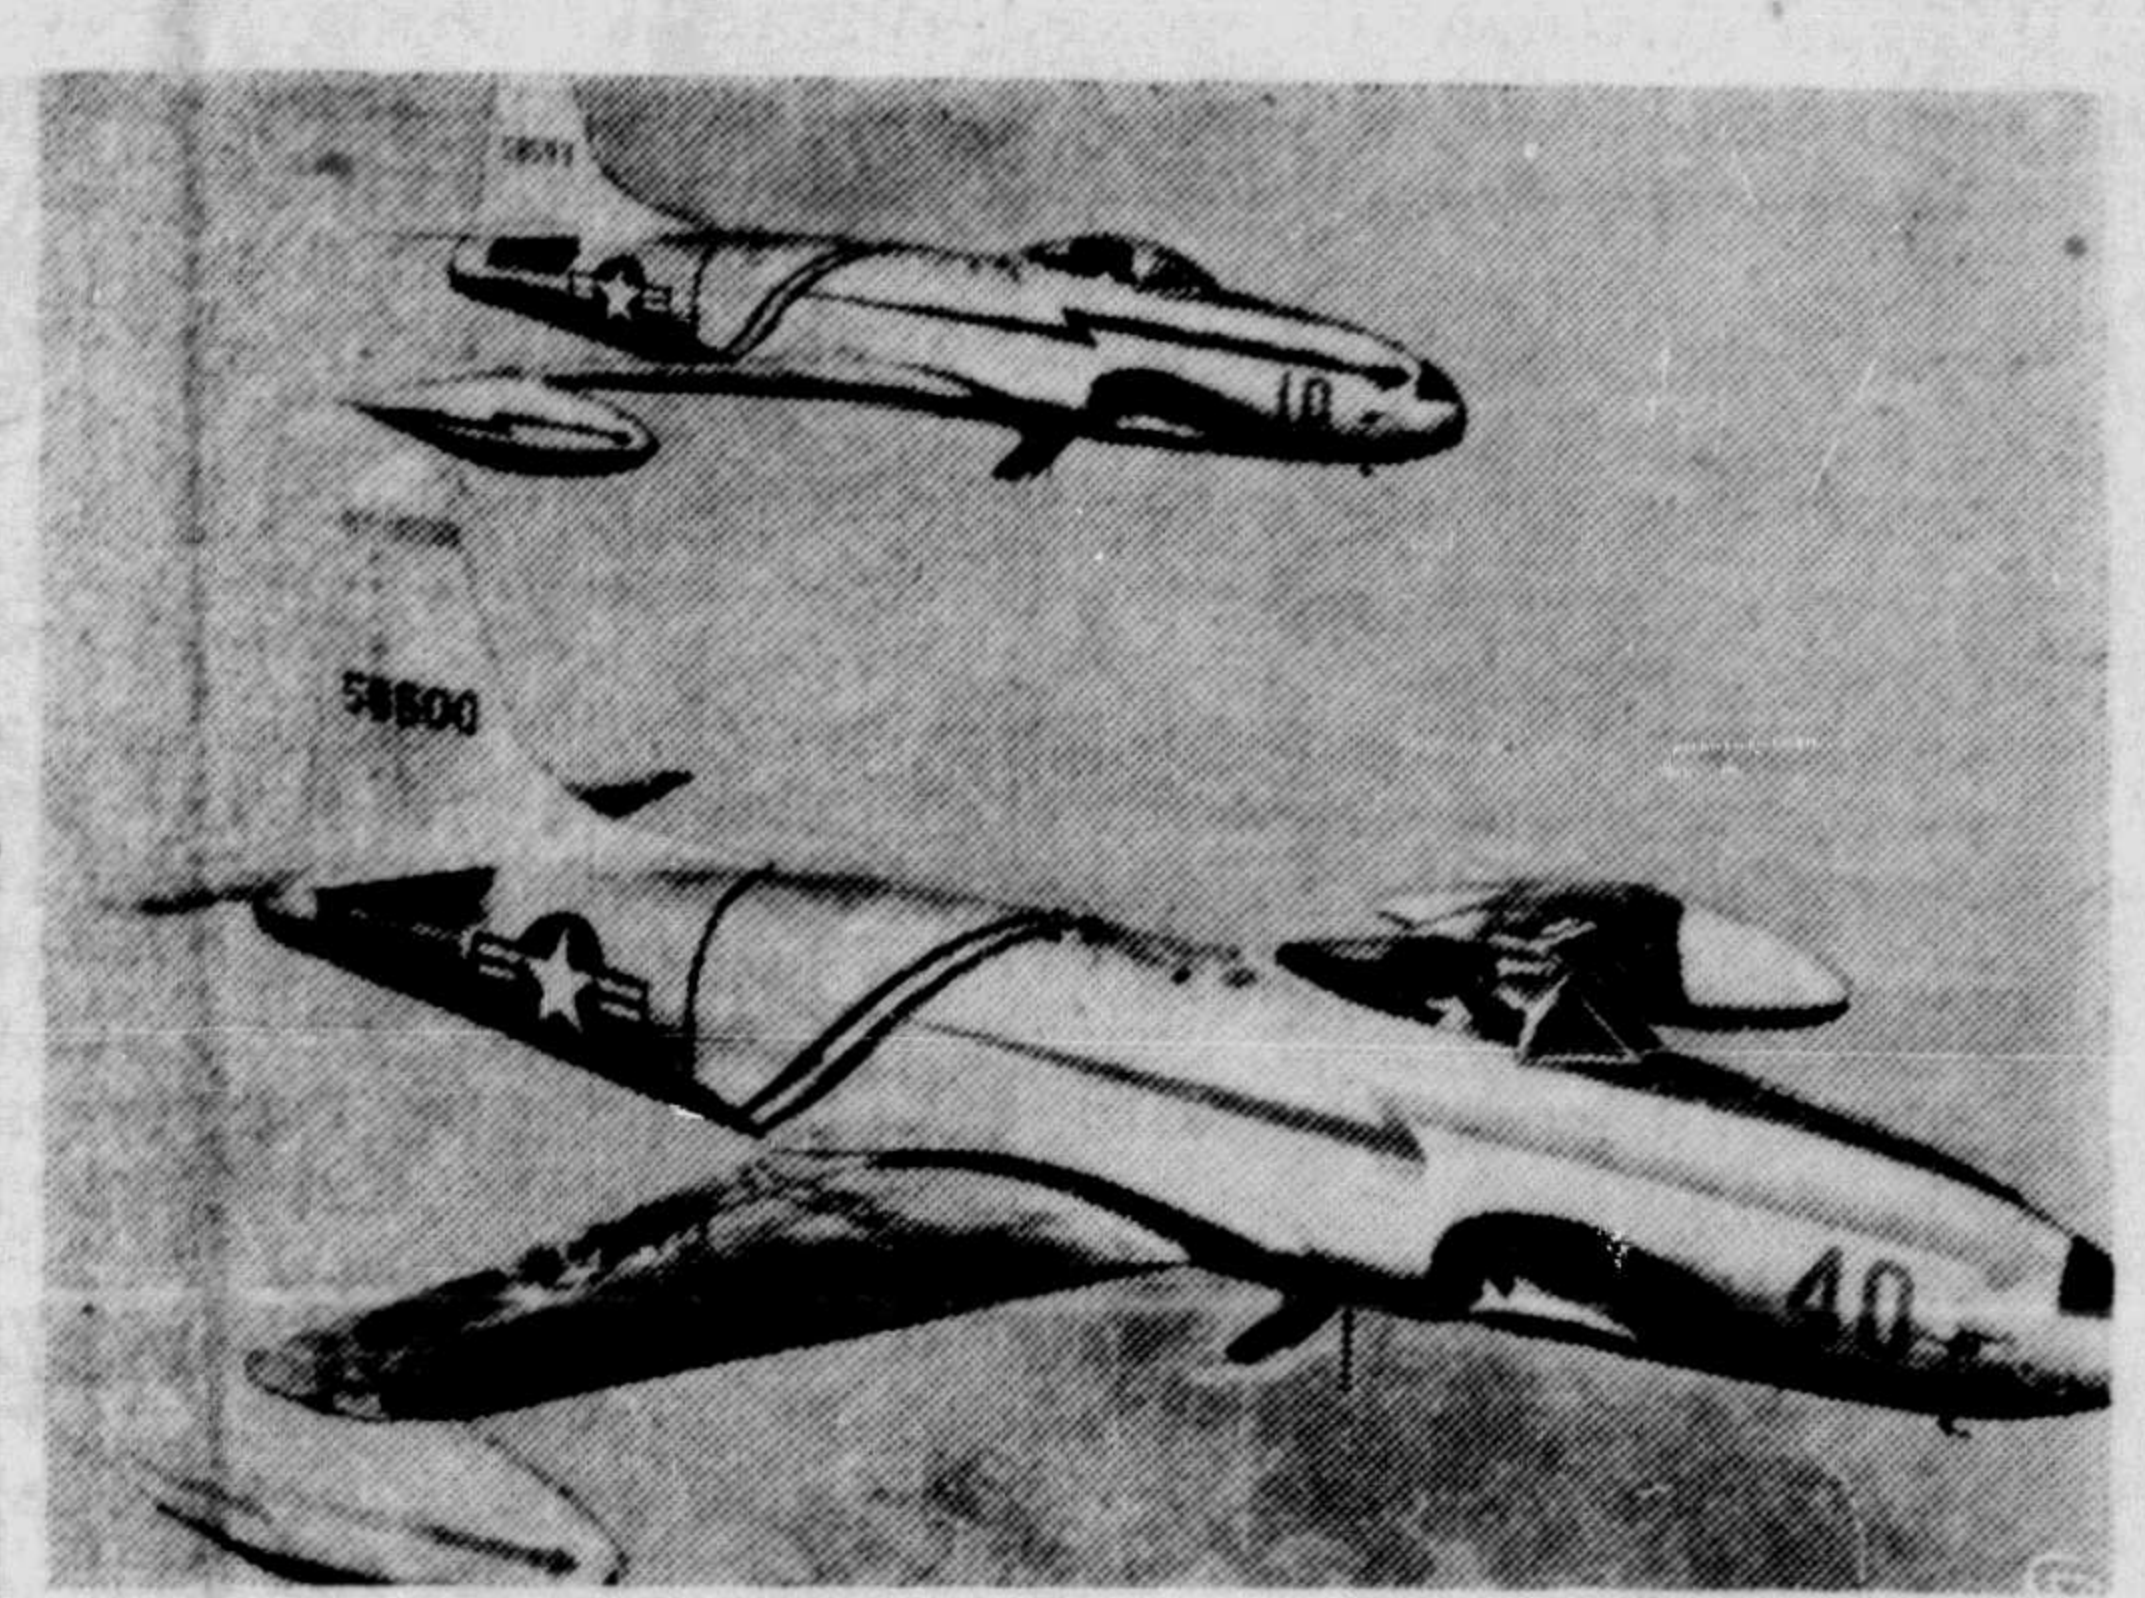

CLEVELAND, (P)—Three United States railroad brotherhoods representing 125,000 operating workers today set February 6 as a strike date, while in a separate move, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen launched a move for contract improvements in both the United States and Canada.

The strike date by the locomotive firemen and engineers, locomotive engineers and the switchmen's unions was set following the collapse of efforts to mediate their demands for a 30 per cent pay boost.

Under the Railway Labor Act, the 30-day "cooling off" period will be mandatory after February 6 before the strike can become effective.

Tropic Blooms In Alaska

Up the coast, only the thickness of a pane of glass separates the bright tropical blooms of the Hawaiian Islands and the coldness and storms of an Alaskan winter. The blossoms look mysterious, as well as very beautiful. Stranger flowers, for which no names have as yet been provided, have been flown at Juneau and in the windows of the Pan American office, attract much interest.

WOULD EMPLOY CANADIAN SHIPS

Use of Canadian vessels facilities between Skagway and other Alaska ports is recommended by the U.S. Maritime Commission. The Bill is expected to become law through enabling legislation. Chairman Smith in approving the measure says:

There is a continued necessity for better passenger service between Skagway and other points in Alaska, which cannot be applied by United States flag vessels in the present circumstances. There appears to be no prospect that under the project, interim operating contracts, which will expire June 30, 1948, United States flag vessels will be able to furnish sufficient passenger service between points in Alaska. The permission granted by the bill will be in effect only until June 30, 1948. By that time it is expected that some permanent plan can be worked out to meet the water transportation problem here involved.

GIRLS THUMB WAY ACROSS CONTINENT

Start With $100, Tour 15,000 Miles Working as Waitresses

VICTORIA, (P)—Two young, self-reliant sisters, Alma and Dulcie Malcolm, have returned to their home here after a year's hitch-hiking tour of 15,000 miles through the United States and Mexico.

They had a little over $100 between them when they left on the jaunt, and carried their clothing in one big suitcase and two small bags.

The hitch-hiked from one city to another, worked for a month or so to get a stake, then set out again.

"Though we lived most of our lives in Victoria," said Dulcie, "we were born in the United States. That gave us dual citizenship, so we had no trouble arranging to work or in staying over the usual six months."

Terms were not made public but a reliable source said it provides that both the Netherlands and Indonesian Republic are to issue an immediate cease-fire and stand-fast order to troops, and a demilitarized zone is to be established in all boundaries were not specified.

Home Influences

THE MOST IMPORTANT years for the fostering and developing of healthy attitudes and emotional habits in life are the years of childhood in the home. There are two important features of these years for mental health—the type of discipline and the character of the patterns of behavior the child has to follow.

In the good home the discipline is consistent and reasonable. The goal of the discipline is not just to keep the child from being bad, but rather to help him develop self-discipline.

A child's general attitudes are a reflection of those of his parents, says a prominent psychologist who states that "if his parents evade their responsibilities, use twisted methods of thinking, have prejudices and intolerances, we can expect the child to reflect the same patterns."

Standards of truth and honesty are "caught not taught," according to the writer who states further that in a good home the child is not expected to be perfect; he is never told that he should behave like some other child; nor is he put on display or talked about in his hearing. In the good home, the child is allowed to grow up and is not hindered by too much parental protection or domination.

The good home shows a blending of freedom and responsibility. Each individual member of the family has a measure of freedom, but must show a certain amount of responsibility along with it.

SHOULD WALK HUMBLY

THERE IS A DEPLORABLY harsh aspect of our North American attitude to Great Britain and Europe that should be softened. It is the North American tendency to exaggerate our contribution to victory and to minimize, when we do not ignore, the incomparable sacrifices and suffering of the people of Europe and Asia. We are prone to believe that we would do better than they in similar circumstances; an infantile misconception.

Britons, Europeans and Asians whose capacity and courage saved the world, while they waited for us to join in the job, must despair of recovery when reconstruction depends upon our understanding of the reasons for their extreme poverty and for our phony prosperity. It must be almost impossible for them to see how they can restore and maintain a free Europe in co-operation with North Americans who find it so difficult "to do good, and to walk humbly before God."

LIFE in this Prince Rupert

by BIDDEE JINKS

One of the first slogans in my memory is "Easy on the butter boys—40 cents a pound." It was a part of the first World War, and also a very early impression with myself. Which makes me feel that most of my life has been a grubbing about the price of butter for I frequently hear myself saying that French toast requires much less butter than the young members at the table find palatable.

Down town, shopping for more than butter, it is much the same. Everyone says to anybody who will listen, "Isn't it a price we pay today for things?" with no answer expected. It is a saying that goes as comfortably with a shopping bag as the big loop handle. And it is as much an overhead, and a greater factor in deciding how much the bag will hold.

A recent picture in a Vancouver newspaper showed how much less goes into the bag for $5.00 than did 10 years ago. After checking their list and taking in the shrinkage with one gasp, I pulled out a little book of my own. It has a dull red cover, is marked "Memoranda," and is proof positive that I have tried, now and then, to be a methodical person, and run a well-governed household. (I memorized that last phrase from a book just prior to marriage. It appealed to me—then.)

The little book is dated 1936. Apparently it was part of a New Year's resolution, for all dates are of January that year, the last one being January 25. (Well, how many people keep resolutions more than three weeks anyway?)

Noting an entire vegetable list I checked the calendar page to find the twenty-fifth was a Saturday which meant that day's shopping was done at the door from a great green van driven by a Chinese gentleman who once told me he had not been back to China for 10 years. Later, he blithely spoke about his youngest son, "Velly small. Not six years yet."

Because these vegetables mark the last of a valiant effort—and incidentally, show a slight rise in prices—I shall list them. In careful pencil it says:

Potatoes, 15 lbs. 25c.
Carrots, 13 lbs. 15c.
Onions, 10 lbs. 10c.

On another sheet there is another story, dated January 15, 1936. It came directly from a grocer, all regular price except the eggs which were 5 cents higher than usual. They came from a poultry farm noted for producing fine white eggs from contented hens. And this list goes like this:

Milks, 1 qt., 9c.
Tomatoes, 2 tins, 20c.
Butter, 1 lb., 25c.
Tea, 1 lb., 50c.
Eggs, 1 doz., 25c.
Bacon, ½ lb., 18c.

It looks good. In fact I sat looking at it, wondering why we all haven't more money after coming through such a period of low cost living. Then I remembered that a can-opener was just as expensive a toy then as now, if not more so, and decided it all depends on how much is curled up in your purse whether things are available or not, whatever the cost. In those days more people were doing without 25 cent butter than are today with the price tripled. And bread, at 7 cents, was an item for many. This was demonstrated on the following Christmas,

FILM COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS

Prince Rupert Film Council elected a permanent slate of officers at a meeting in the Civic Centre last night and laid plans which will make films and projectors available to any organization which takes out membership in the council.

Sgt. L. A. N. Potterton, who had been acting as temporary leader, was elected president, with C. H. Collins vice-president and Mrs. J. M. Black secretary.

The council will send out requests to more than 50 local groups to take out membership. Annual fee was set at $2.50. This entitles members to the use of films and projector when required.

Also discussed were plans to purchase a block of films which could be exchanged with other towns and cities, and a projector. The National Film Board will supply the films and equipment.

LOCAL COUPLE WED 65 YEARS

With 65 years of married life behind them, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wilkinson, parents of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McAra of 659 Eighth Avenue East, are certainly the longest-married couple in Prince Rupert, and probably in all of British Columbia.

Former residents of Edmonton and Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson were married in Manchester, England, on Christmas Day, 1882. They came to Canada in 1909, living for 13 years in Vancouver, then moving to Edmonton where they lived until coming to this city a year ago.

They celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary five years ago, and at that time were recipients of congratulations from King George and Queen Elizabeth, Prime Minister MacKenzie King and other dignitaries. Their latest anniversary was marked by congratulations from their children and grandchildren and friends.

Mr. Wilkinson is 86 and his wife 85. He retired from active work 27 years ago when his doctor warned him that because of a heart condition, his chances of reaching a ripe age were slight.

BIRTHDAY PARTY HONORS FOUR YOUNG PEOPLE

A four-fold birthday party was held by the St. Peter's Young People's Association in St. Peter's Hall last night in honor of four of their members—Charles Graham, Carol Brentzen, Lloyd Pedersen and Dick Large. Because this is leap year, the party took the form of a "Sadie Hawkins Day" celebration, with the girls doing the honors for the boys.

The first half of the evening was spent in dancing and playing games, under the guidance of Mistress of Ceremonies Joyce Peterson. The waltz contest, one of the features of the evening, revealed so many excellent dancers among the young people that club advisors Mrs. Helen Marchildon and Robert Kelsey had difficulty in choosing winners. They finally decided it was a tie between two couples—Charles Graham and Hazel Tweed, Mildred Furness and Dixie Gilker.

In the French Minuet contest, the same difficulty was encountered, and two couples were again chosen winners: Ralph Overgaard and Anne Whiting.

to an indelible degree. It was Christmas Eve in Calgary, Alberta. With friends, my husband and I drove to a large party, having been instructed to arrive at the back entrance at a certain hour to take delivery of fruit cakes. It was snowing, and thin wisps of snow that fell through the air when it is still 30 below. It was a perfect Christmas Eve we thought, until rounding a corner it was necessary to slow and stop for a moment as people suddenly in the middle of the headlights. They were standing, several dozen of them, in the alcove formed by the jutting wing of the building. There was little movement among them. They didn't even move their feet to keep warm, but simply huddled lower under their shoulders, eyes glued to the door marked "Employees Only." In consternation, we sat watching, noting the young people there, and also the scattering of old men and old women in the group. Sadly, there were children too, small boys and girls with feet thrust into large shoes and their hands tucked into opposite sleeves.

Northern B.C. Championship Track and Field Meet Planned

Preliminary plans for a northern British Columbia track and field here on July 1 were laid at a meeting between representatives of the Canadian Legion Athletic Committee, Civic Centre and the city's schools last night.

The group of 15 who threshed out the initial strategy for the project decided it would be dedicating it to intermediate and senior age groups, leaving the junior meet to the Kinsmen Club which has sponsored athletic events on May 23 for youngsters for several years.

Committees appointed by Legion Athletic committee chairman James Nicoll will lay the groundwork within the next couple of weeks and report back to a general meeting on January 30.

Objective of the meet is to provide for some observance of Dominion Day in Prince Rupert, an honored Canadian date that has received little recognition in the city for years.

Because time will not allow the completion of junior, intermediate and senior events in the one day, the meeting decided to concentrate on the two latter. Blessing of the Amateur Athletic Union will be sought so that contestants will not come under the A.A.U. ban.

Winners of the events will be listed as Northern B.C. Champions, and will be awarded trophies.

Teams from Terrace, Smithers, Ketchikan and the native villages in the area will be asked to compete. The entries will be on a team basis, each team to consist of not less than four.

Feb. 24—Brownwoods vs Savoy, Bo Me Hi vs Merchants, High School vs Stones, People vs Sweet Sixteen.

However a team may consist of as many contestants as there are events.

Co-operation of Prince Rupert's civic authorities will be sought to aid in preparation of the Roosevelt Park grounds. Needed for track and field sports are cinder tracks, jumping pits and prepared field space. Preparation of cinder tracks will be the biggest job.

Committees named by Mr. Nicoll last night were:
Program—Neil Ross, J. S. Wilson, Miss Margaret Slinn, Dr. G. E. H. Montgomery, A. M. Hurst, R. G. Moore. This committee events, rules, age limits and other similar details.

Public Relations—Don Forward, T. G. Bateman.
Ways and Means—To be appointed from within the Canadian Legion Athletic Club.

Enables—Graham Alexander, F. E. Anfield, J. Nicoll and Bob McChesney.

Now that Barbara Ann Scott has brought Canada top honors in Olympic skating, the next big question to be answered is what kind of bacon our skiers are going to bring home. Tom Mowbraaten and the Irwin brothers are representing western skiers and a fine selection of Eastern skiers makes up the balance of the team. The famous Wurtele twins, Rhona and Rhoda, are the best bets for top honors in women's events.

Getting closer to home, from last Sunday's skiing it would appear that we have potential championship material right here. In fact we might even get a legitimate cup from the Smithers meet this year. Their big event is rumored to take place around the middle of next month and from indications there may be about a dozen skiers going up from here. Since we couldn't make it last year there is about twice the enthusiasm this year.

Ever since last spring an ambitious group of members have been tramping up the mountain to clear trails in preparation for the day when we can safely invite outside teams to participate in a meet here. Now, after much labor a downhill run has been partially cleared that should be a challenge to anyone who thinks they can ski. (With more hard work next year widening the trail, we should have the set-up for a ski meet with most of the events ending right at lodge level for spectators. (With the powder snow we had last week some of the fellows ran it and reported one of the roughest rides on the mountain.

SNOW TRACKS—Over 30 skiers have been going up every week-end since New Year's and interest is increasing daily—anyone wanting information should see Dunc McRae or Allan Armstrong—big party coming soon—watch for it.

Reminiscences By W.J. and Reflections

It is refreshing to realize that Prince Rupert's renown (or reputation) as a rain centre is commencing to receive it's just and even-handed due. People of recent arrival, some who have grown gray here and others who dwell elsewhere are coming around to the conclusion that the climate of the hub of the north has merit. And should it be seemingly, from time to time, to offer a bit of wholesome criticism, there are other coast communities that deservedly invite it, tart comment applied to plenty of other cities not so far away has not been neglected.

Can it be that everyone is becoming too conventional and proper, so to speak? Even a spot of innocent slang is becoming almost rare. Too bad! For example, you never hear your elbow neighbor tell the waitress to bring him "a few zepps on a cloud." Instead she gives him a glassy stare. What he means, of course, is sausage and mashed potatoes. And what would be thought should someone mildly call for "Adam and Eve on a Raft" anticipating, naturally, poached eggs and toast. These little pleasantries ought to be fairly reliable appetizers.

PLANNING MUSIC, DRAMA FESTIVAL HERE IN APRIL

Parent-Teacher Council Takes Initial Steps

At a special meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teacher Council held last night in the Civic Centre a report was received from a special sub-committee that had been appointed to inquire into and make recommendations with respect to the holding of a music and drama festival in Prince Rupert.

The committee, consisting of Mrs. J. H. Black, J. C. Gilker and R. D. Cleland, strongly recommended that such a festival be held. The program for the first attempt will probably be confined to adult plays, school plays, school choirs, rhythm bands, school glee singers and junior church choirs.

The Parent-Teacher Council is merely initiating the move to hold such a festival and is hoping to enlist the full support of service clubs and other organizations.

The Department of Education, through its drama section will give assistance and will supply adjudicators. School Inspector E. E. Hyndman has consented to act as chairman of the committee that will be formed locally.

It is hoped to have entries not only from Prince Rupert but also from adjacent communities. The tentative date suggested is April 15 but details will be arranged as soon as a meeting of representatives of all interested parties and groups can be called.

BASKETBALL CHATTER

(By BILL LONG)

Tonight at the Civic Centre brings the league-leading Co-op and Savoy together in a very important game. If the Savoy takes them it will put them even in games won and tighten the league up.

Port Edward intermediates make their debut in the final game of the evening when they meet the undefeated Bo-Me-Hi squad. The Senior game will be played early in order to facilitate broadcasting. Arrangements

This is an annual event which has always been looked forward to by local basketball enthusiasts. Ketchikan has always sent down a very strong team, in fact last time it was a little too strong as they beat the locals in both games. The locals claim that it will be a different story this have been made to broadcast all year and we're inclined to agree Saturday night Senior games, with them after their showing with the popular Neil Ross at the first of the year.

The Prince Rupert All-Stars will play host to Ketchikan in a three game international series on February 5, 6 and 7. It will be a best two out of three series. Coach Alex Bill has had his charges practicing once a week since they beat the highly-touted Vancouver Arrows, and now they have started on a stiff practice schedule to get in shape for the coming series.

POOR TEACHER! KROONSTAD, South Africa, —The Volkskool here probably holds a South African record for pupil twins. When the school closed for the December holidays there were 14 pairs of twins at the school—eight pairs were girls, four were boys and two were boys and girls.

CANBERRA —Tobacco is said to be Australia's "grossest dollar extravagance and her biggest agricultural flop." Fishermen and Vessel Owners Propose Regulations—Various Ideas on Opening of Season—Other Proposals

A fifteen-point list of recommendations was presented to the International Fisheries Commission at Seattle last week by representatives of the fishermen's unions and vessel owners from coast ports between Seattle and Juneau. The list was a compromise of ideas presented at a series of pre-conference meetings held by the fishermen and boat owners.

Two Prince Rupert delegates, George Anderson, representing the Prince Rupert Deep Sea Fishermen's Union, and Carl Giske, representing the local Fishing Vessel Owners' Association, went south, carrying with them a list of six recommendations, agreed upon here during December. Some of these were incorporated in the joint recommendations which were presented to the four-man Fisheries Commission.

Prince Rupert's primary recommendation—that the 1948 halibut season be opened on June 1, instead of May 1—failed to pass the committee stage. So diversified were the opinions of the various groups regarding a fitting opening date for the season that it was decided to recommend to the commission that the opening be left the same as last year.

For instance, the Vancouver vessel owners wanted the season opened February 15, while the Vancouver fishermen favored June 1, along with the Prince Rupert group. Ketchikan favored May 20.

Prince Rupert's second recommendation—that the commission urge the Canadian and American governments to immediately ratify the new halibut treaty proposed a year ago—was incorporated in the final list of resolutions.

However—the third resolution—that the use of otter-trawl gear be restricted to specified areas and that it be prohibited on regular halibut grounds—failed to impress the other delegates and was not included.

Use of a uniform size of halibut hook and regulation "gangings" of hooks in the gear was recommended by the Prince Rupert groups, and the recommendation was included in the final list.

The local fishermen's final recommendation—that in the event the commission increases the halibut quota for areas Two and Three the increase be allocated to incidental fishing—was also adopted, however, in slightly changed form.

The document presented to the commission urged that the present quotas—24,500,000 pounds for area Two and 28,000,000 for area Three—be each raised by 2,500,000 pounds. Another clause urged that the limit of halibut caught incidentally to other types of fishing be increased from one in seven to four.

The full list of recommendations, which represent the consolidated viewpoints of thousands of fishermen and vessel owners, follows:

1. That the 1948 halibut season open May 1.
2. That no decision be made by the commission of the opening date for the 1949 season until all organizations have had an opportunity to submit recommendations. Such recommendations will be submitted to the commission at a later date.
3. That the quota be increased 2,500,000 pounds in each of areas Two and Three.
4. That the limit of incidentally caught halibut be increased from one-to-seven to one-to-four.
5. That the commission continue to prohibit the landing and sale of halibut caught by nets of all kinds.
6. That vessels of all kinds and sizes landing halibut be licensed (at present only vessels of more than five tons need to be licensed).
7. That the commission assist in getting action in controlling sea lions.
8. That the commission continue to prohibit the issuance of permits for landing incidentally caught halibut to all vessels other than those using set lines.
9. That the penalties for violations of regulations be equal as between buyers and sellers.
10. That a yearly statistical report be compiled and published for the benefit of the fishing industry.
11. That the commission prohibit the taking of halibut by vessels operating in conjunction with mother-ships.
12. That the commission use its best efforts to secure adequate harbor privileges for Canadian boats in U.S. waters and American boats in Canadian waters.
13. That the commission use its good efforts to speed up ratification of the halibut treaty proposed last year.
14. That the commission continue its practice of holding conference board meetings in January. (This is the type of meeting to which the recommendations were presented).
15. That no hook smaller than size 6284 be permitted in the catching of halibut and further, that no gangings smaller than 12-pound, or shorter than 42 inches, be permitted.
