Prince Rupert Girl Is Awarded Bravery Cross

Virginia Clark, formerly of First Prince Rupert, Girl Guides, who is now on her way to South Africa, with her parents, Major W. Yurgenson of the Salvation Army, has been awarded a Girl Guide Gilt Cross for a swimming rescue during the past summer. She swam 100 feet to rescue a child who had fallen into the water.

LEGION POPPIES BRIGHTEN STREETS

Blood-red poppies, symbol of the sacrifices of Canada's fighting men in two world wars, bloomed on Prince Rupert's streets today as the Canadian Legion and the Legion Women's Auxiliary held their annual Poppy Day, preliminary to Remembrance Day next Friday.

More than two-score school children and Legion Women's Auxiliary members took part in the sale of poppies on downtown streets and they reported a kindly reception by Prince Rupert citizens.

Headquarters for the poppy sale was at the Canadian Legion hall, where Auxiliary president Mrs. J. S. Black, assisted by Mrs. D. Heale, Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mrs. D. G. Kerr, Mrs. A. J. Croxford, Mrs. Henry Smith sr., Mrs. E. Connerly and Mrs. W. Davies directed the campaign.

Up to noon, 39 children from King Edward, Borden Street, Conrad Street and Annunciation schools were selling poppies to the public. Friday, there was a sale of poppies throughout the city schools.

This afternoon, the strategic street corners were taken over by volunteers from the Legion Women's Auxiliary.

COAL STRIKE SETTLEMENT?

WASHINGTON D. C. — United States Federal Mediator Cyrus S. Ching today announced that he will have a series of meetings with coal operators next week in an effort to end the coal strike.

Ching made the announcement after meeting for two hours with John L. Lewis, president of 400,000 striking United Mine Workers of America.

Meantime, the steel strike situation also appears more encouraging with indications that Republic Steel, the country's third largest operator with 54,000 employees, may settle soon along similar lines to the Bethlehem agreement.

Abolition Of Lords

At Least As Far As Heredity Is Concerned, Beaverbrook Urges

MONTREAL — Lord Beaverbrook said in an interview last night that the hereditary House of Lords of Great Britain should be abolished and replaced by an elected Chamber.

"The principle of heredity in the House of Lords is long since obsolete," said the Canadian-born British newspaper publisher who is visiting Montreal.

He added that powers of any body elected to replace the House of Lords "must not interfere with the wide sweep of the House of Commons."

Plane Missing In Woods of Quebec

AMOS, Quebec — A light plane, with three or four men aboard, which has been unreported since Thursday, was today the object of search in uninhabited bush land north of this Abitibi county town. The plane went into the Lake Chibougamau area, 200 miles northeast of here, Tuesday to bring out prospectors before freeze-up.

WARSHIPS RETURNED—Russian and U.S. officers in Tokyo discuss the docking problems at Yokosuka of the transfer of the destroyers to U.S. Soviet officers allowed no photos to be taken of their crews, and as soon as the transfer was completed, boarded a transport for Russia.

JAYCEES INVITE NEW CNR HEAD TO VISIT CITY

Donald Gordon, new president of Canadian National Railways, looks forward to the opportunity of visiting Prince Rupert and "to acquaint myself personally with your enterprising community," he said in a letter to the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Gordon's letter was in reply to a note of congratulation sent to him following his appointment as president of the nationally-owned railway. On behalf of the citizens of Prince Rupert, the Junior Chamber message asked the former deputy-Governor of the Bank of Canada to accept the city's "sincere congratulations" on the appointment.

"We feel confident that the policies of your organization as administered by your lieutenants resident here, will play no small part in the development and progress of this portion of Canada's great north west," said the letter which was signed by Junior Chamber Secretary D. W. Nixon.

"In a country as wide and diversified as ours it is perhaps understandable that we Canadians might become localized or sectional in our thinking, and that the 'other side of the mountains' might not be considered. But it is to be hoped that in the near future, we of the Junior Chamber of Commerce could welcome you personally, here at the end of the line."

In his reply, Mr. Gordon commented that "I am glad to know that you recognize the dangers of sectional viewpoint and suggest that one of the great strengths of this country has been that we have always been able to reconcile different outlooks."

A copy of the J.C.C. letter to Mr. Gordon was sent to E. T. Applewhite, M. P. for Skeena, now at Ottawa and Mr. Applewhite has added his invitation to that of the Junior Chamber for the railway president to visit this city.

Another Name For Memorial

Another name being submitted to the Canadian Legion for inclusion in the local memorial is that of Rifleman William Charles Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hood, who was killed in action June 8, 1944, while serving in Normandy with Royal Winnipeg Rifles after having taken part in the "D-Day" landing. He enlisted in Winnipeg before his parents moved here in 1944.

AUTHORITY IS ASSERTED

PARIS — The Council of Europe's Upper House—the foreign ministers of twelve member countries today cracked down publicly on the lower consultative assembly.

The ministers, winding up a three-day session here, invoked control over the council's purse strings. They over-ruled the Assembly's desire to hold standard committee meetings in various European capitals as a means of bringing the European Council home to member states.

To Organize Ratepayers

TERRACE—Sponsored by the Board of Trade, a public meeting of the ratepayers of Terrace will be called in the near future with a view to forming a Ratepayers' Association which would act as a screening agent for the village commissioners in their course of action. C. J. Norrington, vice-president of the Board of Trade, was asked to call the meeting in the absence of the president, after representation had been made by Mr. Robinson of the necessity of such an organization to assist any new commissioner in civic administration.

Wednesday night's meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Credit Union Hall with D. G. Little presiding. In a letter from Hon. E. T. Kenney, the board was advised that the work on the rock cut near the east approach to the Skeena bridge is being taken up with the district divisional engineer.

Work is going ahead on Brauns Island to have the homes supplied with electric power. Mr. R. S. Weston of the B. C. Power Commission advised the board, but the cost of supplying power to the residents south of the Skeena would involve too much expense to consider doing it. Dudley Little was instructed to take a copy of Mr. Weston's letter to Hon. E. T. Kenney in Victoria as it was felt that the Power Commission was picking out certain sections of the Electrical Energies Act to work on and not carrying out other sections. Even though electrical consumption in the district had increased from 335 consumers in 1945 to 335 on March 31, 1949, it was felt that the Commission should keep to their promise of supplying adequate power to any isolated district. Mr. Howlett stated that the generating capacity of the local power plant will be increased for the time when further loads are placed on it.

Canadian National Not Taking Over Pacific Great Eastern Ry.

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition members suggested in the House of Commons yesterday that Canada's two largest railways take over or at least do more to develop the Pacific Great Eastern line in British Columbia. They spoke as the House of Commons gave first reading to a bill to pay a subsidy of $1,250,000 to assist the 83-mile extension of the Pacific Great Eastern which is owned by the British Columbia government.

A. L. Smith, Progressive-Conservative, Calgary West, suggested that the P.G.E. should become part of the Canadian National Railway.

Angus McInnes, CCF-Vancouver East, said the railways were facing increasing competition and the government would have to subsidize them or provide revenues. He felt that some arrangement was due where the P.G.E. would be made a part of the Canadian National.

Transport Minister Chevrier said there was never any question of the C.N.R. taking over the P.G.E. There were good reasons, he said, why this was not done but, since these were not involved in the bill at hand, he felt there was no need to give them.

Not Only Canadianizing

IN THE FACE of opinions of three such eminent commissioners as those who brought in the recommendations following the incidents on Canadian naval vessels, comment here would appear to be almost presumptuous. The findings were more drastic and the recommendations more fundamental than some might have expected.

By many, no doubt, expressions of discontent among the men of the navy might have been dismissed as so much loose talk. It is significant that the commission found there was justification. Not only Canadianization but democratization and modernizing of the Canadian Navy would appear to be in order and, such done, justifiable cause for complaint would, doubtless, be removed.

The Canadian Navy has, doubtless, suffered from the effects of its sudden wartime expansion when inexperience of officers would be inevitable and purser methods would be transparent.

Canadianization of the Navy should be readily achieved after the officers have been duly instructed in technique, organization and discipline and better understanding and harmony is brought about by removal of some of the artificial and needless distinctions between the ranks. Management-employee relations are much stressed in business and industry. They would appear to be as desirable in the services.

Implementation of the commission's report, already largely under way, would eliminate conditions which led to the troubles of Magnificent, Athabaskan and Crescent.

OUR CHIEF BLESSING

A GREAT DEAL OF TIME is spent in talking about rain. Yet how many ever think that rain has a lot to do with pay envelopes? With all of us, the pay cheque is greatly loved, while rainfalls are heartily disliked. The making of aluminum, pulp and what not leads to pay cheques. Before there can be the product there must be rain that helps form rivers. Hence, dams, powerhouses and electricity. It's because of rain that engineers are today seeking plant sites in Northern British Columbia with a view to eventual vast industrial outlay. Rain, more than any other single feature, is pictured as this city's main disadvantage. Why? For it's all so silly and wrong. It ought to be regarded as a blessing instead of affliction.

CHRISTIAN CREDENTIALS

(Captain William C. Poulton, The Salvation Army)
Text: 1 Corinthians 2:2.

It behooves every Christian to have his credentials ready for presentation when asked for same, and I, accordingly, cherish this early opportunity afforded me by the editor of the Prince Rupert Daily News to proffer mine. It almost borders on the presumptuous for one so recently arriving in the City of Prince Rupert as I have, to have the privilege of as wide a pulpit as this newspaper affords. What fine men and women of God must have preceded me in the various pulpits, to say nothing of the present incumbents, for the editor to feel safe in extending me the honor of an article bearing my own byline even though he has only met me once and that for a few minutes. Truly I appreciate the inheritance that is mine and feel very much the responsibility to maintain such high standards.

From whence come these high standards? Come they not from the text we have read together and which text I offer you, my readers, as my Christian credentials. Paul's use of the legal language is so exact and exacting that it leaves no room for controversy. He had come from blasé Athens, the seat of education and philosophy—Athens, the smug, Athens, the super-appeaser. There he had seen the statue to the Unknown God, built to satisfy those who were unable to locate a statue of their own particular God or gods.

Is there any quarrel with this attempt to be "all things to all men?" It is not good psychology to agree with the man you meet, and thus win his friendship? At least so we are told on every hand even in this day of great enlightenment on such matters. Paul, forgetting all his previous knowledge of men and their foibles, fell prey to this same theory and so preached in Athens. His preaching was a failure and he came away disconsolate. To Corinth he comes with a renewed determination to stake his success, in winning souls for God, on the one great theme of knowing Jesus. But that is not all he says for he adds "and Him crucified." Can we take this as an afterthought, an interpolation, a qualification? Nay but an emphasis on the central fact of the whole Christian structure. What a titanic struggle goes on today to evolve a Christian dogma without a crucified Christ! Jesus died for Adam only—Jesus saves by love not blood—Sin is a matter caused by the mind and there is no need for eradication by sacrifice—and so on, ad infinitum. I have found that, in the hour of man's extremity, he is not too particular about the theory of Jesus but very anxious about the fact of His Salvation being available to poor sinful mankind. Paul wisely says: "Jesus and Him crucified." I beg leave to take Paul's words and offer them to you, as my Christian ambition, my life's purpose. May I challenge all fellow Christians in Prince Rupert and the areas served by the Daily News to think seriously about the need for us to be in the place where we believe our beliefs and doubt our doubts, to be emphatic to all men, about Jesus, to offer no apologies for His great demands upon mankind, and to at all times remember that our prayer should be:—

"Forbid it Lord that I should boast
"Save in the death of Christ my God.
"All the vain things that charm me most
"I sacrifice them to His Blood.
"Were the whole realm of nature mine,
"That were an offering far too small
"Love so amazing, so Divine,
"Demands my Soul, my life, my All."
God Bless you and make you
God Bless you and make you
Sabbath of the Christian a rich one, at your Church and in your home.

NEW ORGAN DEDICATION

During the Morning Service in First United Church tomorrow, a New Hammond Organ will be dedicated. The organ replaces the very old Pipe Organ which was installed for the opening of the then New Methodist Church in Prince Rupert on March 3, 1912.

The story of the old organ is very interesting. At a Conference held in Victoria in 1911 or early 1912, Dr. George H. Raley, then minister at Port Simpson and district chairman, appealed for an organ for the Prince Rupert church. Delegates from Metropolitan Methodist Church, Victoria, offered their old pipe organ which had been stored in a basement because they had just secured a new organ. The Prince Rupert delegates inspected the organ and agreed to accept it. However, extensive repairs were required. Dr. W. T. Kergin undertook to take care of the repairs and look after the shipping of it. So it was shipped to Rev. Charles R. Sing, Prince Rupert, and installed in the Methodist Church.

No one in Prince Rupert at the moment appears to know how long this organ was in Metropolitan Methodist Church, Victoria, or where it came from originally. But for several generations it has served in Churches as an instrument of praise in Christian worship.

This Sunday morning Rev. Lawrence G. Sieber will dedicate the organ to adorn the worship of God in First United Church. The combined choirs of the church will assist in the worship of praise, and Dr. R. G. Large will be the soloist. The morning service will also be a Remembrance Service with the Canadian Legion Branch 27 and the Ladies Auxiliary attending.

Two large views of Prince Rupert appear in a late issue of the War Cry. One is a panorama of townsite and harbor, and the other deals chiefly with deep sea fisheries. The number of boats seen in the picture is impressive, and incidentally is good publicity.

GOOD HUNTING AT BURNS LAKE

MONTREAL — Hunting in northern British Columbia is excellent and the outfitters are tops, wrote Tom J. Van De Car, of Hutchinson, Kansas, in a letter received here Thursday by the Canadian National Railways. He recently headed a party of four on a hunting expedition back of Burns Lake and their trophies included moose, deer, mountain goat, black bear and wolves.

Last year, Mr. Van de Car, who is an expert hunter and well known columnist and radio commentator in the state of Kansas, visited a neighboring area to Burns Lake along the Jasper-Prince Rupert line of the C.N.R. and bagged a black bear with a skull length of 13½ inches which was second only to the world's record.

Mr. Van de Car believes that September is the best month to hunt in northern British Columbia and he is planning to take other hunting parties into that area next year.

Let's Talk Things Over

Money doesn't go a long way in these days. That's what a friend said to me the other day. My reply was that it all depended on how he spent it, and I told him that I could put him in the way of securing a sizeable estate, say $10,000, for a down payment of a few dollars. What is more, even if he were to die anytime soon after the first down payment, the whole estate of $10,000 would belong to his family without the spending of another penny.

And, let me tell you, many large estates of several thousand dollars have come to the rescue of Sun Life beneficiaries following a first and only payment of a few dollars by a husband and father who realized the uncertainty of the future but knew how to make the best use of savings.

Let's talk things over—today!

Ascending Salmon to be Aided At Moricetown; Chum Salmon Running
Construction of a fishway at the Moricetown Canyon on the Bulkley River, some 20 miles above Hazelton, is planned next year by the Department of Fisheries to aid the struggling Skeena River salmon on their way to the spawning grounds.

While not a completely impassable barrier, the Moricetown Falls cannot be ascended at some periods of the year when the water level is at certain stages. Often, this condition arises when a heavy run of salmon is pushing its way to the upper tributary streams to spawn.

Purpose of the fishway will be to create a flow of water which will be constant and easily negotiated by the fish at all water levels. The structure will be of steel and concrete and will employ a series of baffles based on careful scientific study during the last few years.

Thus, migrating fish which might not be able to pass the barrier, will be able to swim through the fishway to calmer water above.

While salmon fishing has been closed in all areas in District Two for the season, a good run of dog, or chum salmon, is going on in the Skeena and other streams at the present time.

The fisheries patrol boat Sooke Post is on the west coast of the Queen Charlottes investigating the spawning run in the streams. Calculations are purely relative, that is they have reference to previous years and are made by highly experienced fishery inspectors.

Coho salmon also are still running. Cohos differ from most other types in that their spawning runs are not confined to any given period of the year but continue all summer and up to January. For this reason, fisheries investigators have difficulty in making predictions for later years since the fish do not migrate in large groups.

The Babine Lake area was reported to have had a fine escapement of sockeye salmon this summer. More than 500,000 of that variety were counted at the Babine counting fence before it was removed for the season.

Construction of the Moricetown fishway, will be, in a small way, a move similar to the Hells Gate fishway on the Fraser River, which already is showing results. This summer, for the first time in 15 years, salmon have migrated as far up the Fraser system as Stuart and Takla Lakes.
