COMMUNIST PUSH FOR SHANGHAI BELIEVED ON es on Great City n Two Directions

Two British Police Inspectors Are Main In Incident Near Hong Kong

SHANGHAI (CP)—A big Chinese Communist Shanghai may be on. The nationalist garrisons said today that strong communist attacks rolled up on the southwest and northwest. That the one on the southwest was being held back on the northwest was beaten back.

CHARGE HEARD

Charge on Great City in Two Directions

Meanwhile the Reds have knifed deeper into central and southeast China although there is little indication of fighting on either of these fronts.

There appears to be a hint that two landing operations into Nationalist China's vitals were virtually unopposed.

An incident occurred at Hong Kong when two British police inspectors and a Chinese detective were shot dead early today by pirates while they lay asleep in a police launch anchored in Mrs Bay, 25 miles northeast of the British port. The killing may be the first development in a wave of internal unrest in the colony, it was suggested.

ASSIZE COURT DOCKET LIGHT

Seven divorce cases will constitute the docket of Prince Rupert's spring Assize Court session which will open before Mr. Justice Herbert W. Wood next Monday. No criminal cases are scheduled for the court session. The session will be the first one in years in which no criminal cases are listed.

UNAWARE OF REQUIREMENT

It paralleled the testimony given by the police sergeant.

In it, Manson said that he had no knowledge that purchases of gold must be registered at the court registry office. Letters sent by Manson to the Dominion Assize office, asking for settlement for the gold he had shipped indicated that he was unaware that such records were required.

Court Registrar Andrew Thompson, who testified that no such record had been registered at his office, said that he had not been previously familiar with the requirements of the Criminal Code in reference to recording gold sales and purchases.

Frederick R. Mulford, manager of the Dominion Assize Office, Vancouver, who was brought here as a witness, said that he had received gold on January 27 in an express shipment but that no covering letter of instructions were included. He said that he had decided to investigate the shipment to determine whether it was "new mined" gold or gold which had been sold before.

IRELAND CELEBRATES DEBUT AS INDEPENDENT REPUBLIC — Here is a view of part of the big parade that marked the celebration of Ireland's debut as an independent republic. Units of the Irish army are marching past the Bank of Ireland, once the Irish House of Parliament, on College Green, to the saluting base at the General Post Office, which was Irish Republican Army headquarters during the Easter week rebellion of 1916. Taking the salute here is Sen T. O'Kelly, president of Ireland.

WINCH PREDICTS BITTER ELECTION BATTLE IN CAMPAIGN SPEECH HERE

WILLIAM BRETT AND FRANK CALDER ARE ALSO HEARD HERE LAST NIGHT

Harold Winch, C.C.F. provincial leader, opened his party's election campaign here last night with an address before an audience of 250 in the Civic Centre auditorium in which he predicted that the June 15 election will climax "the bitterest battle in the history of this province."

Gunfire In Blockade

Russians Trying to Enforce Berlin Tie-up Until Last

BERLIN — German police today enforced the Russian blockade with gunfire, six days before the barriers are due to be lifted at midnight next Thursday.

A wild fusillade from German guards on the boundary east of Berlin failed to halt an automobile racing into the American sector under cover of darkness.

Another shooting occurred on the east of Berlin's boundary during the night but the details are not known to the police.

BOARD PONDS WAGE INCREASE FOR JANITORS

A "sympathetic" view was taken by Prince Rupert School Board Wednesday night to a request from a delegation of janitor-engineers of the city's four public schools seeking a wage increase of $10 a month but the board has still to decide whether or not the increase can be granted.

Complicating the request is the fact that it was made after the board's estimates—largest in the city's history—have already been turned in to the city council for inclusion in annual estimates. The board, therefore, finds itself in a position where it is unable to budget for that purpose.

The scene of the crash is 100 miles east of Vancouver.

ARRESTS AT ASBESTOS

ASBESTOS—Flying squads of provincial police rushed about this strike-bound industrial town today, picking up miners believed to have been involved in yesterday's violence. Inspector-General Norbert LaBee, provincial police, said "the total of those under arrest is now near 100."

The Air Lift Victory

THE BIGGEST AIR LIFT of all time, that to Berlin, was the principal factor in the final decision of the Russians to end the Berlin blockade. It was the air lift which really made possible the great moral victory for the western powers in the cold war.

The logistics angle—moving of goods—has been described many times as miraculous. With 200 planes, the British, American and a few French planes moved as much goods in 24 hours as 30 freight trains.

More important, however, while the blockade of Berlin was at first seen as a forerunner to war, it probably was instrumental in ending the threat of such war because United States and Great Britain were able thereby to go through on commitments to the people of Berlin, and thereby showed Russia that they could cripple Russia from the air if the Soviets moved beyond their present lines in Europe.

This ability to strike hard at a Russia that could not strike back has been a decisive factor in the cold peace or cold war. It provided the balance of power and the balance of time for erasing and rehabilitating Europe.

CAPTAIN ELFERT

CAPTAIN JOHN RITCHIE ELFERT, harbor master and port warden of Prince Rupert, who passed away yesterday afternoon, will be remembered as a loyal supporter of this port and its aspirations. Whenever it came to putting in a good word for Prince Rupert and boosting its advantages as a marine shipping centre, Captain Elfert could be relied upon.

The late official will also be remembered appreciatively by many present-day mariners who went to his classes and qualified for masters and mates at the school for navigation for fishermen and others which he conducted here for years prior to World War II. A former deepsea captain and experienced mariner himself, he had the ability to transmit and impress his knowledge upon those whom he tutored.

The "skipper's" passing is deeply regretted by many friends.

SOCIALIZED INDUSTRY

LOOKING BACKWARD it is probably more a matter of rejoicing rather than regret that the C.C.F. party were successful in the 1944 (Saskatchewan) election and again last year. It has given an excellent opportunity to prove that the socialization of industry is bad medicine. Thousands of dollars of the province's capital were hastily and ruthlessly invested by the government in buying plants and setting them up. To the dollars which are being lost in these is being added the losses in operation which have taken place. Government industry in Saskatchewan has proven a costly trial. In the meantime, the taxpayer foots the bill.

—Estevan (Saskatchewan) Mercury.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

The man who directs the Massey Harris Company, Mr. Duncan, says there is no such thing as just a little state control. It's like trying to have a little pregnancy. He said a mouthful that time.

After tonight, beards will be distinctly "out." So, with elections growing in interest, anyone who feels moved to make a charge, or at any rate an admission, it will be of the bare-faced variety.

Where Canadian public affairs are concerned, Newfoundlanders are said to be almost ruddy with rust. That's natural enough, when policies were made in Whitehall and delivered at St. John's all ready to take. But Newfoundland is already discovering plenty. There has been a good beginning. Crowds have been listening to election spellbinders headed by Mr. Drew et al.

Skeena's first election on party lines was in October 1903. Polling was in Port Essington. The total vote was 123 and the Liberal candidate won. The habit appeared to be quite popular for a while, changing from time to time. These little things will happen.

Oil, like gold is where you find it. There is a revival of interest in the Queen Charlotte Islands and it is reported wells will be sunk. Why not? The only reason there were no discoveries in Alberta earlier was because of lack of enough men with the know-how, determination and enough funds. It's a big and a hard business, but the market is certain and gushers have a pleasant look.

Sir Robert Laird Borden, a former Prime Minister, visited Saskatoon once. This was before the overthrow of Laurier and Borden was busy campaigning. He spoke one evening in a poor-relation looking sort of village called Warman but drew a packed house. The train was crowded. Borden was in great form and for three solid hours, we heard all about the sins of Ottawa. A feast on eloquence lacking nourishment and, sighting what looked like a dimly lit restaurant, a stampede was

JAMES RIGHT.

LIBERAL AFTER ALL
Editor, Daily News:
There was a mix-up in an article on page one of yesterday's News dealing with the provincial election of 1903.

The statement taken from the Cunningham diary of October 3, 1903 reads:
Peter Herman, Liberal, 72.
W. D. Clifford, Conservative, 51.

As the conversation on the subject took place over the phone, it may help to account for the error.

For my own part I was not interested in the political issue but only in the tremendous increase in the voting potential of this district—then and now. If the mistake was mine, I apologize.

made in that direction. The dump was well stocked but the financier and proprietor, face to face with real business, declined to co-operate.

"Say you," shouted an angry Tory. We're starving and will pay you whatever is asked."

"I was just going to bed and it's too late anyway."

"Come on Mike," cried his Grit pal, "loosen up. Give us anything—coffee, sinkers, bread—whatever you've got."

More kept crowding in. But they were soon crowding out to start a hungry journey back to Saskatoon. The restaurant man had blown out the lamp.

WINCH PREDICTS BITTER ELECTION

While the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. had a net profit of $54,300,000 last year, all the mines in British Columbia paid only a little more than $1,000,000 in taxes to the provincial government, he said.

"That is the point where the greatest part of our tax money should originate, not in the sales tax and other direct raids on the pockets of the people."

ATLANTIC PACT

Questioned about the provincial C.C.F. party's attitude towards the North Atlantic Pact, Mr. Winch said that it was similar to the national party's attitude—in favor of it. However, there are elements within the party that do not look with favor on attempts to achieve world peace by military alliances.

"Those of us who went on record against the Atlantic Pact did so because we remembered the experience of the League of Nations after the First World War. The League of Nations failed to achieve peace because it attempted to gain it by military alliances rather than by efforts to speed European and world recovery."

"In regard to the North Atlantic Pact, a great many in our organization feel that peace could not come by making military pacts but through the social and economic reconstruction of Europe. It was an attempt on the part of some of our members to bring attention to the power for peace which is contained in the United Nations."

When the North Atlantic Pact vote was taken in the House of Commons, the C.C.F. had the highest percentage of members present of any of the four parties at Ottawa, he added.

BRETT SPEAKS

William H. Brett, provincial member for Prince Rupert in the last House, recalled legislative measures pushed through and declared that "it was obvious from the beginning of the session that the Coalition was not going to bring in any contentious legislation this year. That they planned to announce an election at the end of the session."

He struck out at what he described as Coalition "crowding" tactics in which the major part of the session is spent in long debates on general subjects and the last couple of days filled with important legislation.

"This does not give the opposition time to analyze the legislation. It seems to be planned deliberately for the purpose of not giving the C.C.F. time to develop a policy toward 'what they are doing.'"

Regarding the native vote he forecast that the "Coalition is going to be fooled if it figures it is going to get the native vote en bloc. The C.C.F. has fought for the native vote for years and the natives realize it."

NATIVE CANDIDATE

Frank Calder, C.C.F. candidate for Atlin, described as the first Indian to seek parliamentary office in Canada, declared that he was proud to be put up as a C.C.F. candidate for the reason that for sixteen years the party had fought for the franchise for the natives.

He charged that Coalition campaign publicity is aimed at intimidating the Indians into voting for the Coalition, saying that threats had been made that Things were much better in the Good Old Days... or so the Old Timers always tell the younger generation. Yes, time is kind to old memories... and when we think of the days gone by we tend to remember only the good things, and to forget the bad.

Down through the years, however, certain things have remained constant... unchanging... as good today as they were then—like Princeton Beer, for instance. Unvarying in its unique quality, goodness and mellowness, Princeton Beer is top favorite today—just as it was when Grand-dad was a young blade.

CLUB SPONSORS BARREL CONTEST

A Rotary Club barrel sweepstake, aimed at raising money to assist in the beautification of Roosevelt Park, will be held on June 30 if plans approved by the Rotary Club Thursday afternoon are completed. Beautification of the hilltop park is a project assumed by the Rotary Club a year ago.

Thursday afternoon the Rotarians voted to sponsor a barrel contest and to finance a "test run" from the Terrace bridge on the Skeena River to East Kwinitsa this week-end. The time the barrel takes to travel the 46 miles from Terrace to East Kwinitsa will be carefully checked as a guide to guesses on the official run.

The project is being directed by Fred Hensworth who has arranged to accompany the barrel down on its preliminary run by river boat. Success of the run will determine the feasibility of the contest.

The club hopes to raise a substantial amount to be used in beautifying Roosevelt Park which has had little attention since it was abandoned by the American Army five years ago.

INTEREST IN FIRST AIDING

Increased attendance and interest is marking the weekly classes of instruction in first aid under the auspices of the St. John Ambulance Association in Prince Rupert. There is competition among the members of the classes, being instructed by R. E. Eyclifson, for neatness and efficiency.

At this week's class on Wednesday night the subject was "Structure and Function of the Body." Importance of the first aid attendant being on the alert in case of accident or sudden illness was emphasized. COMMON MISTAKES—Too deep, too thick and too soon are perhaps the commonest mistakes made in gardening when it comes to sowing seed. Time and effort are wasted when any of these mistakes are made.

There are a few things like extra big seed, but more often bulbs, that require a fairly good covering of soil. Tulips, gladioli and dahlia bulbs or corms, for instance, can be planted anywhere from 4 to 12 inches deep. With the vast majority of seeds, however, deep planting is inadvisable. The general rule is three times the diameter. This means an inch deep for things like beans, peas, corn and nasturtiums, but mere pressing in for tiny seed like that of lettuce, petunias, carrots, etc. With the very fine seed such as alyssum or poppy, all that is necessary is to spread and press in gently.

The larger seed mentioned, that is peas, beans, etc., should be spaced at least three inches apart. This is not very difficult as it is easy to keep each individual seed separated. With the smaller carrot, lettuce or beet seed, or flower seed of about the same size, spacing will be more difficult. There are little gadgets on the market which will help spread out the sowing, or one can let a dribble trickle between thumb and finger. Even then, however, it is best to thin, as soon as the plants are up, to at least an inch apart. This will give room for development, which all plants must have if they are to grow well. To spread out the very fine seed, stuff that is only about the size of a pin-head or smaller, it is a good plan before sowing to mix with a little fine sand or earth and sow the whole mixture.

NOT TOO EARLY—Too early sowing, especially in the colder parts of Canada, is definitely not recommended. It is all very well to sow a few short rows of vegetables a week or two before the regular time just on the chance that there will be no late frosts this Spring, but the main sowings should wait until the time recommended by the seed catalogue or the local experts. For plants that are tender nothing is gained in planting in cold soil and before the weather has definitely turned warm. Of course, where extra protection in the form of special paper caps or something similar is provided one can get started earlier, but otherwise it is better to wait.

parts of Canada one can go on planting beans, beets, carrots, lettuce and such things every ten days or so from the time of earliest possible planting right up to July.

EASILY GROWN FLOWERS—A really imposing showing can be made with a few annual flowers and with a minimum of effort. Cosmos, giant marigolds, zinnias, petunias, portulaca, nicotiana, calendula, alyssum, nasturtiums, etc., are easily grown almost anywhere in Canada. Some of the larger flowers can actually be used in the place of shrubs. Cosmos, gladioli, dahlias, giant marigolds and zinnias should have about two feet each way—petunias need about a foot likewise be spread out. In most

GOLD CHARGE

"If it were new mined gold, it would have been allowed a cheaper refining rate than if it had been purchased by someone prior to coming to us. Gold is classified as "new mined" if it comes directly from the mine. If it has been sold before we get it it is charged a higher refining rate."

Mr. Mulford said that, if Manson had given him proof that he had been acting as an agent, the gold would have been refined for a charge of 20 cents an ounce. If he had purchased it the cost would have been $1 an ounce.

Purpose of the section of the act is to protect mines from high graders. If a man can prove legitimate ownership of gold its sale is legitimate and unquestioned.

Luther W. Elder told the court that he had sold Manson "15 or 16 ounces" for $400. The gold came from Kleanza Creek near Usk. He had signed no papers when he disposed of the gold, he said.

Mr. Elder said that he had sold gold before to jewellers and that he had never been questioned by the purchaser regarding its source.

He said that he also had sold gold to the Royal Mint at Ottawa, but always had included the source of the gold and the number of his free miner's license.

The 96 ounces of gold, sealed in a canvas bag, was presented for the view of the quest of the Crown.

At a time, although older, the baseball season is getting underway. Tony Allan (Tribune) points to the season as one of his against the proposal Selke of Montreal that the Memorial Cup be turned into a best-of-five series. It's Tony's contention that things already are bad enough with teams engaged in hockey well into May. The N.H.L. maestro proposed that four games be played in one part of the country and five in the other. But Allan, while stressing that he is convinced of Selke's sincerity in hockey matters, thinks that "we should leave well enough alone."

Allan, mentioning that both Montreal Royals and Brandon Wheat Kings (the Memorial Cup contenders) have been at play since last September feels that the five-four idea has plenty of drawbacks. For instance, suppose teams from Halifax and Edmonton should reach the final. Let's say the Halifax team wins the first four in Halifax. This could leave only one more game to complete the final, yet the clubs would be obliged to travel all the way across the country to Edmonton to get it.

Allan counters Selke's argument that the Royals are not getting an even break by being forced to play the entire series in the west by digging into the past history of play for the Memorial Cup. "The Royals are getting exactly the same deal any travelling team, eastern or western, has received in the past," says Allan. "And it is a matter of record that, since the cup final was inaugurated in 1919, the western team has gone east 20 times, while the eastern team has come west on only 11 occasions. If there are to be any changes," says Tony, "it seems to us that something should be done to shorten the playing season—even if it is necessary to reduce all best-of-seven series (including the final) to best-of-five."

ONTARIO'S FOREST AIR UMBRELLA OPENING UP AGAIN—With 100,000,000 acres of valuable forest to protect, Ontario department of lands and forests must be able to snuff out a blaze in minimum time. This year the biggest air patrol yet flown will cover forests to check on the 1,200 blazes statistics show to be on the way. Many of the blazes will look like this from the air.

INGLEWOOD, Cal., —Hollywood Park, one of North America's most lavish race tracks, was razed by a $5,000,000 fire early today but some 600 thoroughbred horses were spared. A fireman was seriously injured. The fire started in the swank clubhouse of the multi-million dollar plant and leaped within minutes through the grandstand and the turf club.

The Sign of CHARACTER

Ale-wise folk, the province over, rate Old Dublin as THE ale for perfect hospitality. In Old Dublin, there are extra dividends which can best be described as breeding, balance and delicacy of flavor. Where gracious hospitality prevails, Old Dublin stands high in preference. It is a satisfaction to know that this high rating is the achievement of our brew master to whom nothing less than perfection of product is the ever-constant goal

WITH NAVY IN TWO WARS

Capt. J. R. Elfert Sank German Submarine—Funeral on Monday

Death took place at Prince Rupert General Hospital at 1:15 yesterday afternoon of Captain John Ritchie Elfert D.S.C., who had held the position of harbor master and port warden at Prince Rupert continuously for more than 22 years with the exception of the period during World War II when he served in the Royal Canadian Navy as lieutenant commander.

Captain Elfert, who celebrated his sixty-first birthday last February, was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, and had followed the sea throughout his life, serving in ships of the merchant service in the Seven Seas. For several years when in command, he was accompanied by his wife.

In World War I Captain Elfert served from 1915 to 1919 as a Royal Naval Reserve officer with the Royal Navy in waters adjacent to the British Isles and it was while serving in command of a "Q" boat that he earned his Distinguished Service Cross for sinking a German submarine off the Channel Islands.
