Andrei Vishinsky Assails Trygve Lie

Contention In U.N. On Peace Proposals

NEW YORK (CP)—Andrei Vishinsky, Russia's foreign commissar, assailed Trygve Lie's 20-year peace plan today on the ground that it was dictated by Washington. He also blasted Lie personally and warned the United Nations that it is useless to talk of peace through the United Nations if Russian peace proposals are ignored.

City Council Talks Housing

Government Plan Essentially For Low Income Worker
Stressing that the new federal-provincial housing project is for the low income worker, J. E. Brown, housing commissioner for the province of British Columbia, addressed the city council yesterday afternoon.

Says Canada Has Curtain

But It Is Hatred and Not Iron, Declares Professor
WARSAW — Dr. Leopold Infeld, who returned to Poland last summer after 11 years as professor at the University of Toronto, told the Communist-sponsored world peace conference today that he has found no "iron curtain" in Poland but there was one in Canada. It was not one of iron "but of hatred" of him and criticism of his attitude, he told 3000 delegates.

Canada To Pool Ships

One Hundred Vessels Will Be Available to Fact Nations If War Comes
OTTAWA — Canada will contribute 100 or more ships to the new wartime merchant shipping pool of the North Atlantic Fact nations. Plans of the Canadian government are to make available to the pool, set up in Washington, Canadian-owned vessels which has been transferred to the British flag under an agreement made a year ago with the United Kingdom government.

Wheat King Drives Engine

TORONTO—Thirteen-year-old Rickey Sharpe, the world's champion wheat king of Munson, Alberta, today piloted the Canadian National Railway's crack "Continental Limited" into Toronto on the last leg of its long trip from western Canada. When the young wheat king learned he was to travel over a thousand miles to attend the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, his one desire was to see the horse show. Rickey has a special love for horses and for him, it was the dream of a life to stand behind the controls of a 330-ton "Iron Horse" while veteran engineer Fred Culverson of Toronto, explained the intricate controls.

The Continental Limited made a special stop at Oriole and Rickey raced from his coach to the cab of the giant locomotive, where fireman Ben Cookson and Fred Culverson helped him aboard. After the twenty-six mile ride into Toronto, Rickey was undecided as to whether he would remain a top notch farmer or become a locomotive engineer.

The boy was accompanied to the fair by his mother and an uncle awaiting them. They met at the station by his aunt and uncle and Colonel T. L. Kennedy, minister of agriculture for Ontario, and amid the popping of flash bulbs and questioning reporters he flashed a big smile and took the proceedings calmly. Rickey has come to the agricultural show to personally receive the Canadian National Railways trophy, emblematic of the world's wheat growing championship. The boy will also receive an engraved silver tray and a cheque for $100.

Pedestrian Is Hit By Truck

Running from the rear of a Columbia Cellulose lorry parked at Seventh and McBride, Einer Lynum, 252 Ninth Avenue East, was struck by a dairy panel truck at 5:18 p.m. yesterday. Injuries are reported not serious by the attending physician. The milk panel, driven by R. Thorkelson, 1256 Park, was proceeding from McBride onto Seventh Avenue. "I saw the man get out of the lorry so I slowed down into second gear," explained Mr. Thorkelson. "My right fender brushed the man, but I believe he was hurt mostly in his fall into the ditch," said the milk driver. City police, who were driving behind the dairy truck, saw the accident and report no charges are laid.

Concussion, superficial cuts to the scalp, and bruising were the injuries found upon examination of Mr. Lynum. Mr. Lynum is recovering in hospital. The injured man was taken to Prince Rupert General Hospital in the city ambulance driven by W. H. (Buster) Hill.

AMERICAN WORLD VIEW—Maps influence political thinking; and maps can be misleading. It will never be known how much traditional American isolationism owed to the conventional world maps in Mercator projection, which created a false impression of an "isolated" America, safe and sheltered behind two oceans. The map above (based on an Oblique Mercator projection computed by the late Arthur Hinks, F.R.S.)—centred on the United States—illustrates the interdependence, in the air age, of the United States and countries on the opposite shores of the North Atlantic and North Pacific. It explains the background to modern American strategic thinking and justifies the view of most of her leaders that Europe is not only geographically America's nearest neighbor, but also strategically her most exposed and vulnerable flank.

Life Sentence For Sex Killer

BRUNSWICK, Germany — A German court Friday sentenced husky Rudolf Piel to a life term in prison after he had said he killed nine women and a man to obtain "sexual satisfaction." There is not a death penalty in West Germany.
Piel, 26-year-old blacksmith, first killed a Russian soldier, he confessed.
His two accomplices, Karl Hoffman and Konrad Schuessler, were also sentenced to life terms.

Public Meeting Hears Government's Scheme

Solid, substantial stock model houses with concrete foundations and furnaces but without frills can be made available under the federal-provincial scheme to provide housing for rental and purchase in communities where an emergency exists and where the local authorities take the initiative in establishing the need, J. E. Brown, housing commissioner for British Columbia, told a large public meeting last night in the Civic Centre. The keen interest that exists in the problem of providing more adequate housing for the city was amply demonstrated by the fact that the common lounge was filled to capacity with the crowd overflowing into the corridors.

Mad Gunman Kills Five

Grim Tragedy in New Jersey Village Family Slays
VINELAND, New Jersey (CP)—A berserk man about 26 years old machine-gunned to death five people last night including three of his estranged wife's family and his uncle. At least six others were reported wounded in tragic shootings in Piney Hollow in the farm section of south Jersey.
The gunman was identified as Ernest Ingento. He killed the victims in the homes of his estranged wife and her father and then escaped in a green four-door sedan through a police dragnet.
Police said that gunman sped to another rural district and wounded several persons.
Among the wounded were Ingento's wife, Tessie, 23, and a nine-year-old girl, Jean Pioppie. All are reported to be in critical condition.

Strike Is All Over

VANCOUVER — Shipyard workers at Vancouver's Pacific Dry Dock returned to work late today following an eight-hour walk-out over a holiday clause in their strike settlement.
The men returned to work after an all-day session between company and union representatives.
Officials said an agreement had been reached.
The men returned after a month-long strike for more wages yesterday but staged a sitdown strike over the holiday clause.

POWDER-CARRYING YOUTHS REBUKED

VANCOUVER — "You should have your heads examined and work done on other parts of your anatomy," said a Vancouver magistrate yesterday in passing sentence on three youths in whose possession in a car dynamite was found Halloween night. They were sentenced to three days in jail and fined $100 each.

HOUSING BADLY NEEDED

Brother Bills To Reorganize

P. A. Miquelon of Edmonton, Dominion grand organizer for the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, told the Daily News today that he is meeting with a very favorable response in the matter of re-establishing the lodge in the city. He expresses confidence about the prospects of re-instituting a lodge with a new charter membership of at least one hundred within the next two weeks. An informal meeting of former members as well as others interested will be held at the Civic Centre Sunday afternoon.

Trout Hatchery In District Planned By Rod and Gun Club

Prince Rupert Rod and Gun Club is considering the establishment of a trout hatchery in the Prince Rupert area and this was one of the principal items of discussion last night when the club had a general meeting at the Civic Centre with 33 members in attendance and President Douglas Kerr in the chair.
As a preliminary step, it is hoped to have a biologist visit the city to advise the club as to site, most suitable type of fish for propagation here and other matters. Water tests and other conditions would be involved. The club would finance the construction of the hatchery and operate it in the interests of better angling hereabouts.
It was suggested that the biologist might be brought here as a featured speaker at the annual banquet in January or February.
Incidentally, the banquet will be attended for the first time by ladies who are being admitted as members of the club.
By Christmas it is expected the club's 22-calibre rifle range at the Civic Centre basement will be ready. Ned McLeod has been in charge of the organization of the rifle range.

WOLF HUNTERS WANTED

The meeting urged the advisability of having a hunter of predatory animals located in this area due to the increasing number of wolves which are causing the deer to become scarcer and scarcer every year.
Game Warden Ed Martin was present and suggested the idea of a game preservation pledge such as in the United States.
The club is working on the designing of a crest.
A dance is to be held December 8.
The meeting enjoyed the showing of a sporting subject film made available by the Prince Rupert Film Council.

Manitoba Oil Find

WINNIPEG — Provincial Resources Minister J. McDiarmid announced today that oil had been found in Manitoba. He said that oil, not yet in commercial quantity, had been discovered at the Souris Valley Oil Co's Downey No. 1 well, seven miles south of Melita. He commented that the find was "encouraging but not spectacular."

ONE NEED NOT agree with the views of Harold Winch, Leader of British Columbia's CCF opposition...

Many will take issue with Mr. Winch's contention that the single transferable ballot, which he chose to call vicious, is as undemocratic as he made it out to be.

Mr. Winch seems to take it for granted that there would be disenfranchisement of a considerable portion of the electorate through the absence of an absentee vote or some means of recording the choices of people who might be away from their voting homes on election day.

20,000,000 IN CANADA

THE Financial Post has invited editors of Canadian newspapers to suggest what Canada's population target should be for the next 25 years and how it can be reached.

It is obvious that northwestern Canada, particularly British Columbia, with its resources of all kinds virtually untapped, is an area of great potential new population absorption.

LABOR ON COMMUNISM

COMMUNISM promises freedom, while it subjects peoples to dictatorships, secret police and slave labor camps.

Communism promises bread, land and economic equality, while people are kept in economic poverty and millions in the political bureaucracy, in the political police, and the gigantic military machine are living off the backs of workers.

Communism promises freedom of speech while filling the jails with political opponents, and the sound of firing squads echoes throughout the Communist world.

Communism promises freedom of religion while persecuting all religions, and God is replaced by Stalin.—Declaration of Positive Economic Philosophy, Canadian Congress of Labor.

Letters to the Editor

TEEN-AGER REPLIES

Editor, Daily News— In reply to the "God Help the Teen-Agers" of November 16: I have been taught since my earliest childhood to respect my elders and I respect the logic of your letter.

However, my dear "Ancient" this sobriquet seems more than adequate, we "mollycoddled," "aesthetic" young people of today are NOT as you imply a gigantic cell, capable only of playing, begging and indulgence.

Granted some of us make mistakes, but must you judge all of us by the few? One of our number stated that since there was nothing to do in Prince Rupert, he must turn to drink.

Our parents do receive family allowances and public health aid, they do not make "homespun" garments for us or for that matter, we for ourselves.

As a member of the senior class of Booth Memorial High School, I wish to point out as an example to you our present major project. We of the High School are endeavoring to raise $750 as half payment for a much-needed High School brass band.

It seems that you have become disillusioned with teen-agers. Perhaps the well-known fable of "The Fox and the Sour Grapes" might apply to you. I sincerely hope that I am wrong in both categories.

We, as much as you, admire our noble pioneers. Even they had their "bees," "box-socials," "quilting parties" and "square dances," all of which can best be classified as play.

JUST A TEEN-AGER. Editor, Daily News— We live and learn as time moves on in the struggle of life. Cause and effect is our constant companion.

Another Band Editor, Daily News— Many hundreds of years ago the people of Hamelin used a one-man band to draw rats and mice and little children into the river Rhine.

Today the Canadian Navy is going to use a brand new naval band to draw recruits into H.M.C.S. Chatham. We here in Prince Rupert are fortunate indeed in having a band that compares favorably with bands in much larger places.

Unfortunately there just is not room here for two bands. So where does that leave the men who have spent a great deal of their time and a good chunk of their own money to make the present band what it is?

Just recently we had a visit from the Greenville native band. Every one of us here in the north is rightly proud of those native musicians. We were all more than proud to see them take part in our local Armistice parade, and we were all very glad to notice that the Canadian Legion honored Mr. McKay, the native bandmaster, with an invitation to their banquet.

But we have a band here—a band whose members have loyally and voluntarily contributed their time, not only this Armistice Day but for many Armistice Days past. Yet the local bandmaster was not even invited.

Ye gods! And we talk about a navy band.

BE LOGICAL, "ANCIENT"

Editor, Daily News— I hope few teen-agers read "Ancient's" letter in your issue of November 16. It certainly would hardly tend to increase their respect for the wisdom and tolerance which one usually associates with advancing years.

"Ancient" tells of his younger days and the implication is that they were vastly superior from the standpoint of character-building than are present times.

And, "Ancient," don't sneer at our modern social services. It is probably due to some of them, notably the public health service and the efforts that have gone into its inception, that you are now ancient.

PEOPLE WHO KNOW nothing of the history of the past six years, or of the harsh military facts of 1950, might sign the above in all good faith.

LABOR GOVT WEAKNESS Editor, Daily News— We live and learn as time moves on in the struggle of life. Cause and effect is our constant companion.

Those who desire war should remember it is the blood of our sons which will pay the bill. The dollars involved in profit or loss, in comparison, are simple muck.

There are not many teen-agers that resort to drink. Many happy times are had that the older crowd never hear of. We are not lucky, as "Ancient" says, to have beautiful cars either.

All we ask for is that everyone have a good time in order to keep we don't have to go elsewhere for entertainment. In my opinion I don't think that this is expecting too much of us, and please remember that the whole world has changed in 50 years.

As I See It

MR. EDE'S MISTAKE

BY DENYING most foreign supporters of the "Stockholm peace appeal" the rights of free assembly and free speech in Britain the Labor government's home secretary, Mr. Chuter Ede, seems to me to have done deep injury to the cause of democracy.

I take it for granted that well-informed Canadians know that the Communist organized "peace petition" campaign is a hoax.

Word from Ottawa says the number of new coins is becoming so great, that space in the mint will soon be inadequate.

tion asks millions of people to demand, we could get an atomic ban, the end of the cold war and the beginnings of disarmament within a matter of months.

IN HIS GREAT speech of September 27, 1950, to the UN Assembly, Mr. Lester Pearson supplied a formula which would be the acid test of Soviet sincerity. He would accept the general Russian plan for disarmament on one vital condition. He demanded the right of international inspectors to search every nook and corner of the world for all types of armament.

IT is this very demand that the Russians and all Communist satellite countries have adamantly refused. Thus the monumental hypocrisy behind the Communist inspiration of the Stockholm peace appeal.

BUT BY REFUSING admittance to all the key foreign advocates of the Stockholm Peace Appeal, the British home secretary seems to me to be adopting the very thing that is most contemptible in Communist police-states.

How in the name of common sense do we ever hope to encourage the free-speech-starved peoples behind the Iron Curtain to organize to get real democracy if we ourselves curtail free speech, and do so in the very birthplace of democracy?

SATURDAY SERMON

SPIRITUAL PRACTICE

By REV. E. SOILAND, pastor St. Paul's Lutheran Church
Theme: "Growing Christians," based on Colossians 1:9-14

The apostle Paul prays for the Christians in the congregation at Colosse, a community in Asia Minor. In that prayer he gives to the Christians at large some ideas that are beneficial for universal practice. If we will take the time to study the thought in that prayer we will find ideas for helping us to grow as spiritual beings. For it is as we exercise ourselves in the practice of Christian virtues that we become mature as the children of God.

First we must learn to know God's will. This knowledge is acquired by study. God's Word must become familiar to us so that we are sure we know what God wants us to do. Wisdom is a product of knowing what God wants us to do. This knowledge of God's will requires effort on our part. We do not absorb it by lazy day dreaming. We must study the Bible. Real study is a labor that is difficult, but it is also a labor that brings in rich rewards.

The second idea is that we practise in our daily life the teachings of our Christian faith. This may seem self-evident and unnecessary to mention. But is it? Just how often do we not find that in our every day life we forget the very ideas which Christ explained in the Sermon on the Mount. If we are united with Christ by faith we should reveal that fact by our daily lives. Christ should shine through us in our conduct so that others might know we possess Him. This is usually the result of living as a Christian over the years. Seldom is it seen in a person as a sudden change. Allow God to lead you in your daily life and you will walk worthy of a Christian.

Another item that should not be overlooked is the spiritual power available to the Christian. Our warfare against sin and its consequences is spiritual. We need spiritual strength. It is at our disposal. God can supply all that we need for a successful battle. The reserve supply is there. Let us draw upon it and Tonight at the Civic Centre Doc Montgomery will again pit youth against experience when he sends his young charges against Co-op for the second time this season. In the first meeting, even though only ten points divided the two teams, something was witnessed which was lacking in the Gordon & Anderson crew. This was the hustle usually required in competitive sport to assure victory. If corrected this should make a great difference to outcome of the league.

It could be that awkward age that is slowing down youngsters like Marshall, Dumas, Gill, etc., but in my opinion it is their inability to acclimatize themselves to the faster senior pace. For the sake of those who flick the turnstiles, tonight should see a determined crew battling the league leading fish packers. If that determination isn't in evidence there could be serious consequences in the form of a dropping off of attendance at the games. Jim Flaten and Rupe Holkestad, who have been called upon to shoulder quite a load, haven't been showing up to advantage so far and Flaten's effort in trying to stop Ray Spring a week ago was a bit short of the necessary. I am not trying to take any of the glory away from a magnificent effort on the part of the agile Mr. Spring but our James just wuzn't where he ought to be when most of Ray's shots were getting away. You've just gotta be there Jim! I'd also like to see Rupe Holkestad back in his centre spot but then I never won't let the good doctor look after that item.

Kayhi from Ketchikan is due here early in December for their annual meeting with Bo-Me-Hu and it seems there may be a weakness on our squad if some of the lads don't get in there and study. Of course the faculty is getting all the blame from the team members but, fortunately, there are few who see it that way and it is a little early in life for any of those youngsters to feel that their team is more important than studies. That comes a little later boys and you'll just have to wait. So far reports on the Ketchikan team are hard to find but it is expected that the Alaskans will also have few seniors back this season.

Don Forward reports that negotiations have broken down with the famous Chicago Red-heads who were to present themselves here later in the season and it looks as though the girls will not show after all. Gobe Trotters and Carol College, however, are still slated to visit us and, with the usual invasion from Alaska, we are in for some interesting games before spring.

Angus Macphie who heretofore as always been known as a settled sort of soul on the coaches

Jack Ewart Is Art Club Model

At Thursday's Art Club meeting the obliging model was Jack Ewart who donned his fireman's helmet and coat and stood for nearly an hour wielding an axe that seemed to get increasingly heavy. Everyone drew him as quickly as possible and then paused for a coffee interval. After this rest another quick drawing was done, this time of Mr. Ewart in a relaxed position smoking and reading. Some of the drawings were left at the Civic Centre to be displayed in the show case.

With people in the city beginning to help the club by acting as models, it is going to be possible to meet oftener. The next meeting will be on November 30 when Duncan DeKergemoux will be responsible for finding a model.

Tickets for the draw on the Jean Cameron picture were issued to members, a limoleum cut of the picture being printed on the front of each book of tickets. The draw will be on December 14, the last meeting before Christmas.

It was mentioned what excellent artistic material there would be for a poster on "Does Prince Rupert Wish to Join the Alaska Music Trail?" It is hoped that a poster contest could be run through the schools and city on such a vital cultural topic.

bench has suddenly developed a Jekyll and Hyde personality and was fit to be tied at many points in last Tuesday's terrific struggle between Co-op and Brownwoods. Alex Bill, playing coach of Brownwoods, had his moments also and at one point when his lads just didn't seem to be doing what they were supposed to do, elected to stage a shooting display from around centre that was nothing short of sensational. I believe it would be much handier if the backboards were removed as they always seem to get in the way when Alex tries his balcony shots. At that though the personable Alex seems to get through to the spectators somehow.

Is there anyone in town that can tell young Bill Sunberg what is wrong with his basketball? Bill, "Monk" to most of us, seems to have all the requisites of a fine athlete and proved it this year in baseball yet he cannot seem to get into stride with the Brownwoods club and is getting a bit disheartened with himself. Keep at it fell!

Vancouver Snow Delays Planes

A snow blizzard at Vancouver this morning delayed the departure of the Sandspit plane from Sea Island airport for an hour but it is expected the day's operation will be completed.

The connecting plane from Prince Rupert left, as usual, during the noon hour for Sandspit and is awaiting the arrival of the Vancouver plane there.

With shortening days, it is now necessary under regulations that the Prince Rupert flight is completed by 4:30 p.m.

This is the season when overnight delays may occur at Sandspit.

Looking Ahead

with JOHN T. FOWLE

"Life assurance" said a friend of mine the other day, "Death assurance is more like it."

This casual remark gave me a chance to put across an important point about the business I am in.

I told him life assurance was concerned with life rather than death. Its chief job was to defeat the consequences of death by making a normal life possible for those left behind. I told him of homes held together by the proceeds of insurance policies; of widows saved from poverty; of old folks living out their lives in dignity and comfort; of children getting a good start in life with a college education; of farms and businesses saved to provide a means of livelihood for a growing family.

These things are made possible every day by life assurance. Through life assurance a man reaches beyond death and continues to bless and enrich the lives of those he loved. Yes, it is indeed life assurance.

CITY COUNCIL

Dominion and provincial governments, Mr. Brown said.

Mr. Brown made it clear that government and city must agree on plans. The commissioner asked for common understanding between the three levels of government—city, provincial and federal.

"Your survey of names is useful," said Mr. Brown, referring to the list of applicants already prepared by the city clerk. Mr. Thain reported that these names are being screened to find bona fide applicants.

ESTABLISH NEED

Besides legitimate applicants Mr. Brown said that the other main information he would need to assure the construction of rental homes would be facts on the amount of crowding within Prince Rupert, and health conditions. "We must be sure of not over-supplying," he said.

This information could be given immediately by Dr. Duncan Black, director of the Prince Rupert and District Health Unit, it was said.

"The federal government will not accept our recommendation unless we have the facts in black and white," affirmed Mr. Brown. "It must also be shown us that, if we built 50 houses for sale that it would not be encroaching upon private enterprises; not taking away the market from the builders," warned Mr. Brown. "But this would not be so for houses for rent; that would be under the authority of Prince Rupert citizens. They would have to form a responsible board of directors, like a school board, and have a manager. Tenants will be selected based on the need, until homes were filled, Mr. Brown explained.

In reply to questions from Ald. T. B. Black, Mr. Brown said that the city will receive taxes at the current rate, with assessments on the same basis as other houses.

In reply to a question from Mr. Thain, Mr. Brown believed that property owners who wished to build under the commission would be credited with the value of his property on the applicant's down payment.

LOWER INCOME CHANCE

W. F. Stone, representing the Chamber of Commerce, asked Mr. Brown if it was possible to build within the low income brackets. He felt that a subsidy would be needed on building materials, since the average house here ran around $10,000 in building costs, he wondered how the commission's $5,000 to $6,000 homes could be kept within that price. The building prices of Prince Rupert were higher than in most places, Mr. Stone felt.

Mr. Brown replied that no definite construction figures could be quoted until tenders were called depending upon the variable cost prices. But he said he was aware of the difficulty of unstable prices. It was a gamble the government took.

"We agreed that $40 to $45 or $50 a month was what the working man could afford," said Ald. George Casey to Mr. Brown, referring to their conversation at Nelson recently.

"Seventy dollars a month rent was too much to be expected from the working man," Ald. Casey said.

Mr. Stone pointed out that this price was being asked by owners of wartime houses that were originally bought for a little more than $1,000.

The council agreed that they had missed out on "that good business" which Mr. Stone referred to.

The commissioner said that he felt $40 to $50 was a fair rental price and that they would do all they could to curtail costs.

A vote of thanks, moved by Ald. H. F. Glassey and seconded by Ald. W. J. McLean, was extended to the commissioner.

The Chamber of Commerce was represented by L. M. Felsenthal and W. F. Stone.

Local Battery Getting Active

With completion of alterations to the local armory, the 120th H.A.A. Battery is now reorganizing and recruiting.

Among recent recruits are two 102nd Battery members, Robert A. Taylor and Robert W. Montgomery, who served in the 102nd Bty in 1940, going overseas with that unit. A. F. Everleigh, who served overseas with the Cape Breton Highlanders, and George W. McAfee, veteran of Canadian Paratroopers are other recruits.

Due to lost time while improvements were being made to the armory, the battery is now parading Tuesday and Thursday evening. Thursday is regular training night and Tuesday is NCO and Specialist Training, kit issue and administration.

The OLD MASTER PAINTER says...

FRESH, COLORFUL PAINT MAKES CHRISTMAS BRIGHTER

You'll be surprised how a few dollars worth of paint can smarten up your house interior and make it livelier for the coming Christmas season.

With little or no color outside, you can re-create the pleasure of garden colors with your paint brush indoors.

See your paint dealer for suggestions on how to add charm and freshness to walls and woodwork through proper selection of colors. They will enhance Christmas decorations and of course remain when these are taken down.

If you prefer to have the work done for you, call in your painter and decorator for advice and service.

Blackwood On Bridge
By Easley Blackwood

I know a player who has an odd weakness at the bridge table. He plays the cards magnificently and most of his bidding is excellent. He is strong on humanics and gets the very best out of his partners. But he has an idea it is better to play a hand offensively than defensively. Nearly every time he will go ahead and try for game rather than double his opponents in a low contract. Both sides vulnerable. East dealer.

The bidding:
East South West North
1 D 1 H 1 S 1 Pass
2 S Pass 4 S All pass

Mr. Dale, the wise old duffer who plays the cards as well as the cards, knows this player, too. In fact, there's not much in the way of useful information that escapes Mr. Dale. I saw him get away with murder on the hand shown today.

According to the text-books he had no vulnerable overall of one heart at all. He might have been murdered. But our friend who would rather play the hand than defend was sitting on Mr. Dale's left. There was very little likelihood of a double.

LEADS KING OF HEARTS

Against the four spade contract, Mr. Abel in the North seat led the king of his partner's bid suit—hearts. Mr. Dale flashed the nine spot and North continued with the three of hearts.

Mr. Dale won with the ace and returned the seven of hearts and North trumped with the jack of spades. Now there is no way for West to avert the loss of a diamond trick and he was down one.

Do you think Mr. Abel would have been good enough to open

M.H.O.'S CASE

A strong case in support of the need for more adequate housing in Prince Rupert was made out by Dr. Duncan Black, medical health officer. Many people, unable to find anything better, were being forced into inadequate and unsanitary accommodation.

"Astonishingly poor living conditions do exist here," Dr. Black asserted. "That is no idle talk. Housing is badly needed."

There might be 150 cases of inadequate housing and some of these cases were really deplorable.

Dr. Black described how inadequate housing led to an increase in sickness and mortality, a decrease in the expectation of life, spread of communicable diseases and increase in moral delinquency. Even in the jails men were found whose downfall might be traced back to inadequate housing.

Both Mayor Rudderham and L. M. Felsenthal, president of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, expressed appreciation of Mr. Brown's visit here. The mayor assured the meeting that the council was most anxious to get action on the matter of getting a housing project going and there would be no delay.

Winter Gales Lash Fishing Waters—Balsac in With Cod—Northern Express In

Northeasterly gales swept waters outside of Prince Rupert harbor during the past week, hampering such limited fishing operations as are still going on. Yesterday the local vessel Balsac, Capt. Ed Telseth, arrived in port with a load of 8000 pounds of black cod which was caught off the east coast of the Queen Charlottes in Hecate Straits waters. The catch was disposed of to B. C. Packers. Capt. Telseth and his men think they have had enough now and they are going to stay in port until after the New Year.

Capt. Ben Cook and party aboard the halibutter Lois N. headed into the stormy west on Tuesday for a hunting trip to the Queen Charlotte Islands. It was a family party consisting of members of the regular crew and their wives.

Coastal freighter Northern Express, Capt. Sorensen, will arrive in port Saturday afternoon from Vancouver. She has 44 tons of general cargo. Before leaving here for Port Simpson, 15,000 feet of lumber will be added to the 10,000 already aboard. Fifty tons of concentrates will be loaded at Alice Arm before she returns here to load salmon for Vancouver. Enroute south 110 tons of fish meal will be loaded at Butedale.

Union steamer Chilcotin, Capt. Harry McLean, arrived in port at 2:30 Friday afternoon from Vancouver and waypoints and sailed at 9 last night for south Queen Charlotte Island points whence she is due back here Sunday to sail at 8 p.m. for the south. The vessel brought in a substantial freight cargo and several passengers.
