War Of "Gold" Spell Again

PRINCE RUPERT, Alaska (CP)—The magic word that conjured up dance hall girls and confidence men in 1898 and sent them storming to Nome at the turn of the century was "gold" again today.

The "size of peas"—are reported to be smaller this week than last week.

PUMPING PLANT RECEIVES COAL

Fueled by 25 tons of coal which was unloaded yesterday the city's steam water pumping station at Shawatlans Lake is maintaining a fair pressure in city mains. The coal delivery was made hastily after another scow carrying 18 tons, capsized in Shawatlans Passage Wednesday night.

Delivery was made yesterday on a scow rented from J. J. Donaldson, ensuring the pumping station a supply of coal for the week-end.

Meanwhile, work is progressing on repair of the 45-inch water main which was broken more than a week ago by a mudslide which knocked out three lengths of pipe. Actual replacement of the pipe has not yet begun but is expected to start shortly following preparation of the right of way to support it. The work involves removal of a quantity of muck and the construction of temporary supports for the pipe sections.

A combined city and Northern B. C. Power Co. crew is working on the line under direction of city water foreman Carl Gustafson. When the work will be completed is not yet known.

ROTARY CHORUS ACTIVE AGAIN

Another of the winter organizations getting seasonal activities under way was the Rotary Club's men's chorus which had its opening rehearsal last evening at the Civic Centre. Last winter the chorus climaxed its activities with a minstrel show which received a great reception and which it is planned to present again this season.

H. T. Lock, is convener of the chorus and again C. P. Balagun will be conductor. Henry Pluym is assuming the duties of pianist.

Last night old numbers were rehearsed and proposed new ones discussed.

In attendance were: First basses—Andy Wyatt, Dr. J. A. MacDonald and G. R. Brett.

Second Basses—A.D. Ritchie, H.T. Lock and Charles Roberts. Tenors—W. D. Griffiths and W. H. Shortridge.

The next rehearsal will be Monday night.

DEATH IS ACCIDENTAL

HYDER, Alaska—Inquiry into the death of Arthur Campbell, mine foreman, Riverside Mine, Alaska, was held in the office of U.S. Commissioner, Sidney Anderson. The coroner's jury bringing in a verdict of accidental death, recommended that the road should be improved to give greater visibility.

Mr. Campbell was killed when his car left the Salmon River Road about 12 Mile and plunged down to river bed between two and three hundred feet below. He was killed instantly. When viewed the car was found to be a complete wreck.

Portland Canal Lodge No. 1218, Loyal Order of Moose of which the late Mr. Campbell, was a member, held funeral services in the Moose Home after which the cortege proceeded to Hyder, Alaska cemetery where interment took place. Pallbearers were Mike Zulic, Isaac Soderlov, John McKay, Paul Meger, Joe Anthony and Sid Clark. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. C. L. Lomas of the Mission Boat "Northern Cross" and Henry A. Stewart, undertaker, was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Over seventy people attended the service in the Moose Home.

RUSS FIRM IS INDICTED

WASHINGTON, D. C. © — Indictment of Russia's famed Amtorg Trading Corporation and its top officers as unregistered foreign agents appears certain to set off new tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union.

It charged the corporation and six officers with failure to register agents of a foreign power in accordance with United States law. The maximum penalty is a $10,000 fine and five years' imprisonment.

Ray Of Hope In Strike Is Gone

WASHINGTON D. C. © Flicker of hope that a break may come in the United States steel strike dwindled today. The situation in the costly 20-day steel strike, says Cyrus S. Ching, federal mediation chief, "is not hopeless" but Ching said in a statement in New York last night after conferences with United States Steel Corporation officials, that "we do not want to create the impression there is basis for optimism."

Negotiations were suspended today until Monday.

Ching's statement came as the continuing steel and coal tie-ups choked off much of the country's industrial activity and made idle more than 1,000,000 workers.

Meantime, at White Sulphur Springs, coal mine operators broke off arbitration proceedings with the United Mine Workers of America in protest at John L. Lewis' tactics in continuing the strike.

Overt Act By Forces From Rumania Reported

FRANKFURT (CP)—A despatch from the Belgrade correspondent of the German News Agency DPA said today that 500 "Communist partizans" from Rumania, with two tanks and an armored car, attacked and occupied two YugoSlav villages Thursday night. The report was not confirmed in any other source. YugoSlav troops set houses ablaze, the report said, with artillery fire and drove the partizans back into Rumania.

THE HIGHEST GUIDE

THE FLAME OF CHRISTIAN ethics is still our highest guide. To guard and cherish it is our first interest, both spiritually and materially. The fulfillment of spiritual duty in our daily life is vital to our survival. Only by bringing it into perfect application can we hope to solve for ourselves the problems of this world and not of this world alone.

— WINSTON CHURCHILL.

Basic Thinking

ALL JUDGMENTS are based on some sort of experience. The danger of this is that we tend to expect it to be the same experience as our own and hence we expect that the conclusions that arise will be our conclusions. This thinking is founded on a misconception and may be tragically dangerous.

Almost three quarters of our population, as the Financial Post has pointed out, came to maturity since the first Great War. They have no practical knowledge of economy that isn't founded on world struggle and its repercussions. They have no knowledge of those years when one out of every three workers was employed in agriculture; and when the average annual wage was $700. They can't remember when even a vast war left us with only a little more than a billion-dollar indebtedness. They live in a world where three out of every four workers are engaged in some non-agricultural occupation, have an average annual earning power of about two thousand dollars, and think nothing of a debt that is well over thirteen billion dollars.

Sixty percent of our population doesn't know how tough conditions can be or how impossible it is to assure security in a world where there are no available jobs and where a little better than half the population must support the other half. They were not adults when world-wide depression set its mark on us.

Forty-four per cent of our people have never known a world without fear and how seriously fear may color all our thinking. They came to maturity just as the dawn of peace was met by the threat of a new aggressor.

We cannot hope to understand these new generations, or they to understand us unless the thinking of an older generation and the reason for it is patiently and painstakingly explained to the new.

CANADA SAVINGS BONDS

THE EXERCISE OF THRIFT is something much to be desired in the interests of the individual, of business and the community at large. Thrift is a fundamental factor in the Canadian way of life. Therefore purchase of Canada Savings Bonds, an issue of which is now offered, is something to be recommended. There is no doubt that the purchase of Canada Savings Bonds has already helped a vast number of Canadians to be better prepared for personal emergencies and for the development of the resourceful family life that is characteristic of our "free enterprise" society.

U.N. ANNIVERSARY

OCTOBER 24 marks the fourth anniversary of the United Nations. The day has been proclaimed in most U.N. member countries as "U.N. Day," a day of commemoration.

Millions of people have heard of, or have themselves experienced, the concrete accomplishments of U.N. in the social and economic fields. Far fewer realize that, in spite of political difficulties, U.N. has actually "either stopped or prevented wars involving 500,000,000 people," as Secretary-General Trygve Lie states in his Fourth Annual Report on the work of U.N.

Since U.N. does not yet have any army of its own, its only agents for stopping wars have been a small number of military observers, mediators and conciliators, "loaned" to it by member countries. Thirteen of these agents of peace have so far been killed in the line of duty, but others carry on.

SATURDAY SERMON

GOD'S LOVE FOR HIS PEOPLE

(Archdeacon E. Hodson, St. Peter's Church)

The Jews believed that they were a chosen nation. Their early history was a romance. Near them was Egypt with the glory of the Nile and of the pyramids.

In the opposite direction was Assyria, a great, strong military power.

Between these two were the Phoenicians, a great naval power. Hemmed in by this mighty trinity of nations was Palestine, the home of the Jews, a nation which had a hard fight to win a country of its own, and a harder struggle to retain it.

Yet this was the nation that gave a pure religion to the world, making a greater contribution to civilization than either Rome with her laws or Greece with her art.

But Israel found, like all of us, that it is difficult to live up to our ideals.

They were God's chosen people, yet were constantly falling into idolatry.

Hosea pictures this unfaithfulness of the nation to God, as the unfaithfulness of a wife to her husband.

Yet for all her backsliding, God's love for His nation remains. "When Israel was a child, then I loved him" and that love remained as strong as ever when Israel had grown up into a nation.

In spite of their unfaithfulness God would draw them unto Himself "with the cords of a man, with bands of love."

Nations like individuals may be given a second chance.

Israel had been unfaithful and untrue to her partnership with God.

Yet God forgave and allowed her not only a second chance but repeated opportunities.

According to the prophet, Hosea, the nation deserved to be destroyed:

The fact that it was allowed to continue to exist was direct evidence of the forgiving love of God.

God's forgiveness, harmonizes with what we revealed in the Bible as to His nature.

"God is Love" and it is in the nature of love to forgive.

God prefers to forgive, rather than punish and destroy and the reason given in this eleventh chapter at verse nine, is "I am God and not man. I will not execute the fierceness of my wrath." "I am the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee."

How great then is that love of the Almighty for His sinful, erring people. Hosea refuses to measure that love by human standards.

He uses the most beautiful illustrations to show this love of God for His people.

"I will be as the dew unto Israel, he shall blossom as the city. His branches shall spread and his beauty shall be as the olive tree."

Israel may not have deserved it, nor, may we deserve it, but the love of God for sinning humanity is a glorious fact of the gospel of Christ, as well as of the teaching of Hosea.

pel of Christ, as well as of the teaching of Hosea.

We have all been forgiven times without number.

Sometimes we are conscious of it, sometimes not, but it is always a blessing and only comes of the grace, the loving kindness of God.

From some of transgression, we have escaped the worst consequences. Some, we have atoned for with pain and bitter tears, and we have gained new aspirations towards God and holiness.

Our idolatry today is not toward graven images, but it takes the form of love of pleasure and the love of gain, than of single-heartedness in the Service of God and our fellowmen.

When Israel renounced her idols, forgiveness was bestowed, and a new spiritual life imparted. So shall it be with us if with true repentance we turn away from the things that separate between us and our God.

As we read the New Testament we constantly hear Jesus saying "Son thy sins be forgiven thee" "Her sins which are many are forgiven her." "Go and sin no more."

This same way of redemption is open for us. It comes to us through conviction of sin, repentance, then follows forgiveness, reformation and fellowship with God.

At the close of his prophecy the prophet Hosea uses these words in chapter fourteen, verse nine: "Who is wise and he shall understand these things, prudent, and he shall know them."

These words are a personal application for all the readers of the Book of Hosea.

If we strive to obey and follow the ways of God we grow in grace, if we disobey it tends to our own destruction. These things are hidden from the worldly-wise and prudent, but are revealed unto the lowly and humble in heart.

NOTICE

Drivers are warned to exercise extreme caution at all points between Prince Rupert and Galloway Rapids, as construction work of various kinds is now in progress throughout the greater part of this distance. The road may be temporarily blocked at various points and blasting operations may render the surface very greasy. Consequently, great care is necessary, especially at some of the sharp turns.

UPSETS AGAIN, MANSON'S CLOSE

With the winning of three points from the highly rated Manson's, Jaycees No.1 pulled off the biggest upset of the Men's Five Pin League bowling of the current season. With the possibility of gaining top spot in the league, Mansons were unable to settle down and, are now in a second place tie with Brownwoods one point behind Stones.

The victory for the Jaycees No.1 was aided through the efforts of D. R. Hay who had high three game total for the night with 688. High single game was scored by M. Anderson of Triple points. They were J.C.'s No.2 C's with 320. Triple C's won 3 points from the Ambassadors. Two teams won four points. They were J.C.'s No. 2 from Undesirables and Rupert Motors from Canadian Legion.

Another upset of the evening occurred when Home Oil lost 3 points to the Commercials. In the only other match of the night Cold Storage and Oddfellows split points.

FANTASY IS NOVEL

Walt Disney's "Melody Time" At Capitol Theatre This Week-end

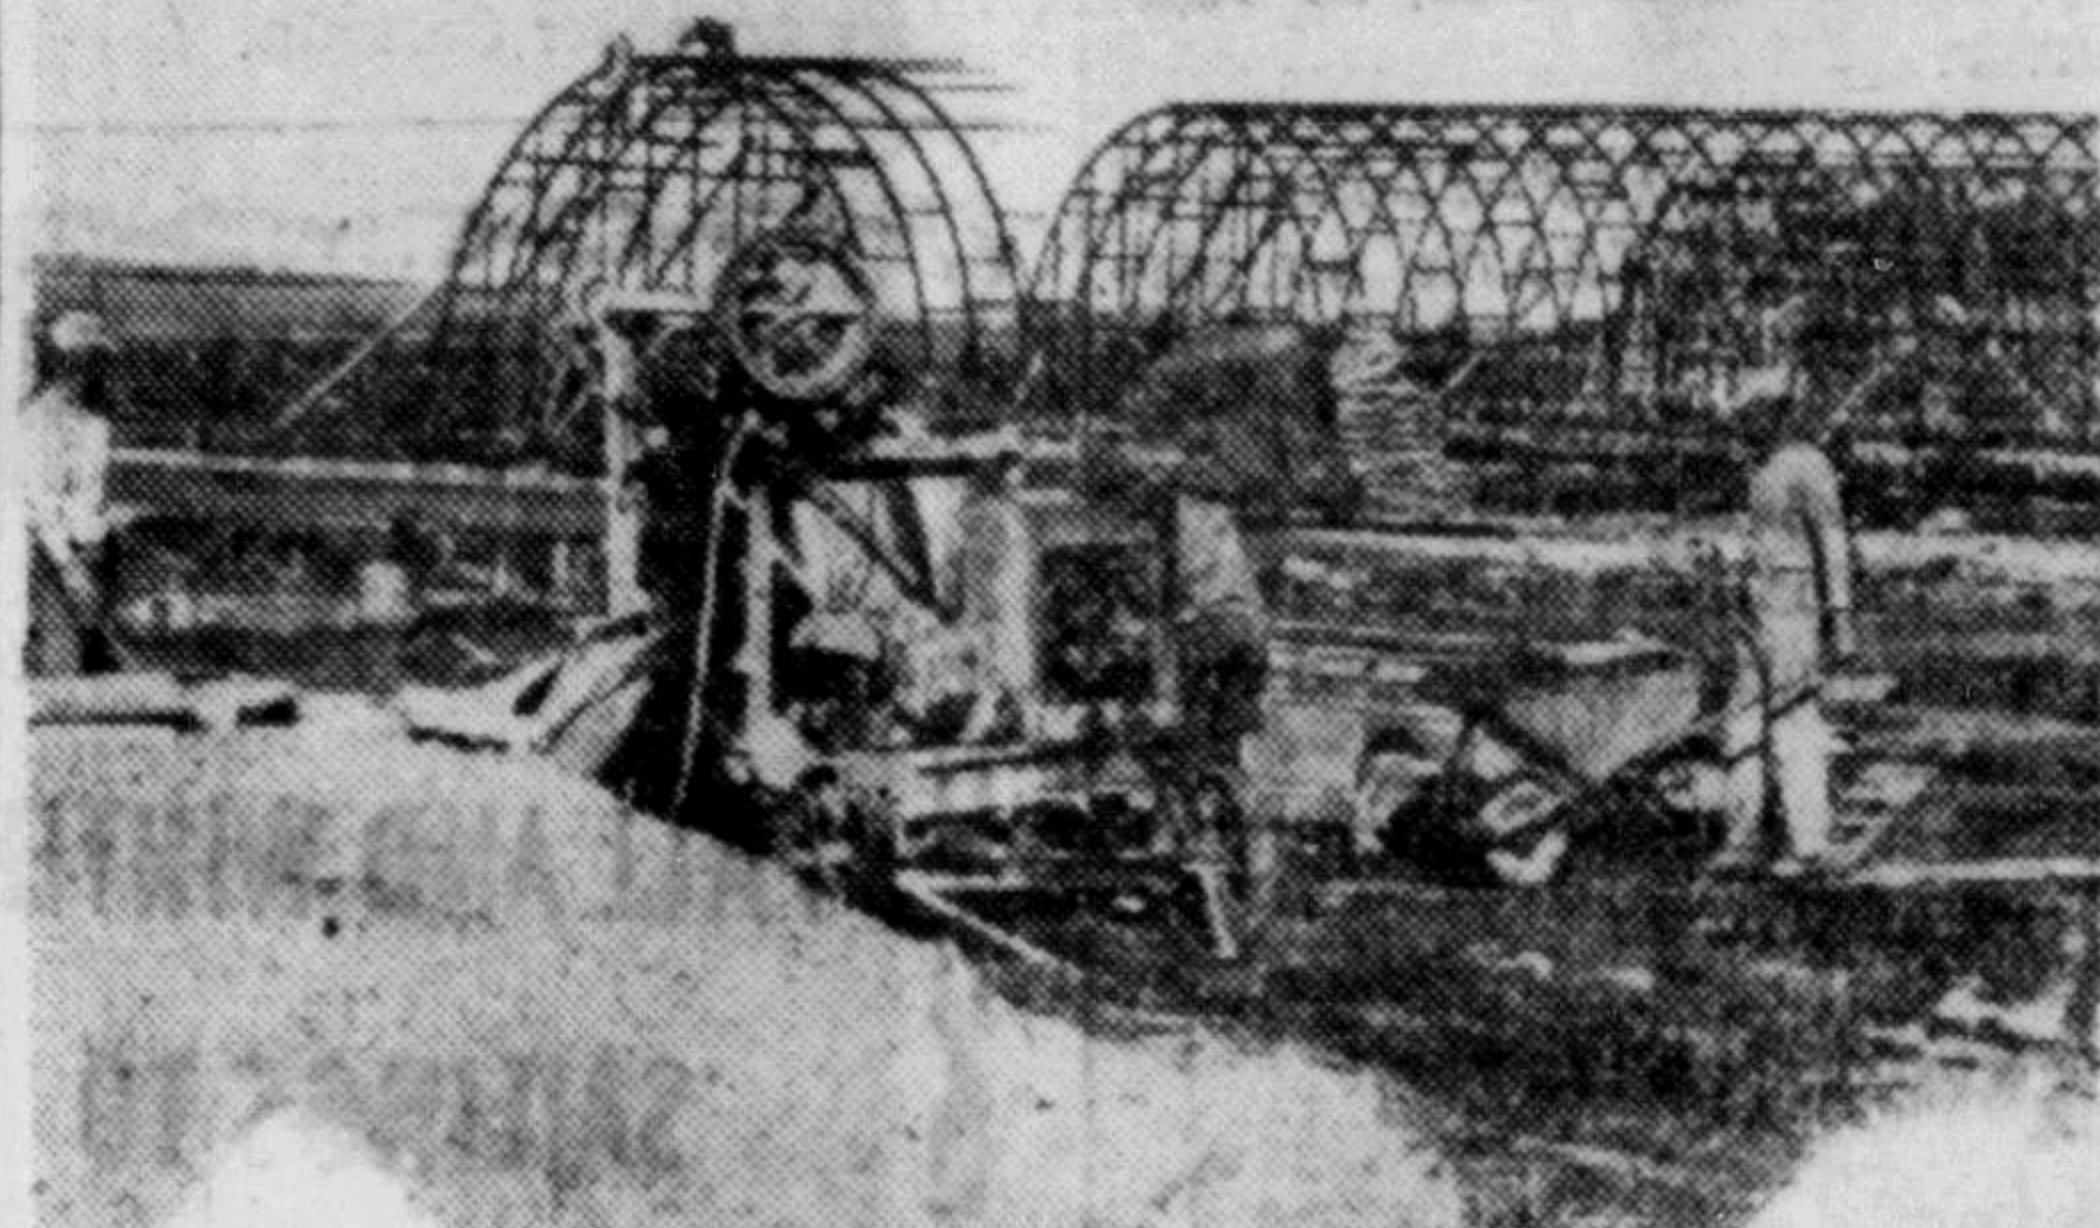

Walt Disney's latest fantasy, "Melody Time," colorful and fantastic with fun and fable, is delighting week-end audiences at the Capitol Theatre where it is having its closing runs today.

Distinctly unique in its composition, "Melody Time," produced in technicolor, assembles in one cartooned musical package subjects dealing mainly with salient items of the American scene. Seven different sequences are projected on the screen in cartoon form, each accompanied by musical renditions by screen and radio notables and featuring either humorous or sentimental appeal.

Among these stars are Dennis Day, Roy Rogers and the Sons of the Pioneers, Organist Ethel Smith, the Dinning Sisters, Buddy Clark, the Andrews Sisters, Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, Frances Langford and Freddy Martin and his Orchestra.

WHAT SPORT FANS WILL DO!—Lining up, hours before the games' start are just a few thousands of baseball fans who hope to find standing room to watch the World Series played at Yankee stadium, in New York city. Leading this line were Marie Flynn and Beverly Brafman, who made themselves comfortable as they could on the sidewalk with rugs, sandwiches and thermos bottles.

STEEL HUTS FOR CORN STORAGE—Called upon to perform a modern miracle, "little business" in 10 corn belt states is tackling one of the biggest jobs of its kind ever undertaken anywhere in peacetime. Its Herculean assignment is the site preparation and erection of 2,300 steel locations. The task arose with the U. S. grain belt's acute need this fall for space in which to store the record-breaking carryover of 1948's corn crop. Photo shows some of the Quonset buildings under construction near Arlington, S. D.

A variety of sports wear—slacks, snow suits, sweaters, and skirts, and the popular three-way jacket was exhibited.

A new feature in rain wear, the matching pork-pie hat was shown with raincoats of brilliant plaid, gabardine, corduroy, some with the fashionable chain belt.

Classical suits of gabardine and wool, with becoming accessories, drew admiring glances from the audience. Modish taffeta, lace crepe and woollen dresses were worn, with stylish coats and feathered hats.

Attractive formals, with padded hip lines, fish-tail drapes, some with cape neck-lines and graped hems, sequin-trimmed, some with bustles and one black strapless dinner dress.

Honored Queen Lorna Donaldson made a presentation to Mr. Felsenthal, manager of Rupert Peoples Store, of flowers for Mrs. Felsenthal, and graciously thanked members of the Peoples Store staff who had co-operated heartily with the Job's Daughters. They were Jack Marchant, Mrs. Robert Strachan, Mrs. R. Webster, Mrs. C. S. Stordal, Mrs. A. Haines, Mrs. F. Partridge, Mrs. J. Perchaluk.

Models were Margit McArthur, Alice Nickerson, Donna McArthur, Margaret Strachan, Lueella McDonald, Mrs. James McDonald, Pat Mitchell, Mary Lou Lunn, Rena Ingram, Joan Smith, June Ratchford, Muriel Shier, Pat Hill, Marjorie Tattersall, Clare Ritchie, Isobel Taylor, Carol Moorehouse, Gail McRae, Inger Peterson, Jeanne Husoy, Olive Strand, Norma McKay, Mary Addison, Mary McAfee, Rosaline Thain, Kathleen Smith, Melaine Brechin, Mary Strachan, Diane Kennedy, Mickey Murray, Barbara Teng, Sheila Bennett, Dolly Smith, Ruth Ketcheson, Peggy Gowan, Agnes Smith, Laura Mitchell, Lorna Donaldson, Mrs. Brechin, Marion Shenton, Mrs. Knutson, Gerd Lien, Mrs. Eby, Heather Brewer, Jeanne Calderwood, Diane Kennedy, Rose Marie Poburne and Mrs. Donaldson.

Mrs. J. S. Black was accompanied and Mel Skalmerud commentator.

During intermission a humorous skit, with typical Swedish dialect songs, was chorused by Diane Kennedy, Jeanne Husoy, Edith Jordan, Lorna Donaldson, and Rosaline Thain, who, incidentally, was modeling the latest thing in long underwear.

Rowland Miles sang several selections.

The Scottish element was introduced by the Highland Fling, as played by Piper Bill McKay, and danced by Mickey Murray, Jeanne Calderwood and Heather Brewer.

As light was focused on a large picture frame, Alex and Laura Mitchell sang to the portraits. Alice Nickerson appeared as "Girl of My Dreams" while Edith Jordan portrayed "Lulu Belle Lou," Rosaline Thain was Molly Maloney.

Marion Shenton, in Gay Nineties bathing suit, illustrated "By the Sea," while "Faraway Places" was sung to Norma McKay, Diane Kennedy, and Claire Ritchie. Leonard Sykes did a lively monologue and Elsa Insulander executed a graceful ballet dance.

Herring Outlook Predicted 'Fair' Lumber From Alaska

Herring fishery will be the next operation to command the attention of a great part of the west coast fishing fleet and prospects for it are fair, according to the qualified predictions of the Research Board of Canada.

The Research Board makes annual predictions on which are based much of the future operating plans of the industry. Head predictor is Dr. A. L. Tester, biologist in charge of the herring division of the Research Board and in past years, his observations have had a notable record of accuracy.

Herring operations, which will begin in the south within the next few weeks—providing, of course, the herring show up—however, will not be completely dependent on these forecasts. Fishermen also use local information gained by scout boats and seiners which start out in the areas where migrant populations might be indicated.

The long-range forecasts, however, are helpful in the laying out of equipment by the companies and their achievement is definitely not an accident but the result of continuous work on the part of Fisheries Department inspectors.

No black magic is employed in the predictions, nor are the qualifications contained in them attempts on the part of the biologists to slide out from under responsibility for their statements. They admit they are unable to guarantee the movements of the migratory herring schools.

Based on information provided from field workers, which is almost always the fisheries inspectors, the biologists are able to say that since such-and-such a set of conditions has prevailed in the past, it is reasonable to anticipate that such-and-such a condition will prevail during the coming season.

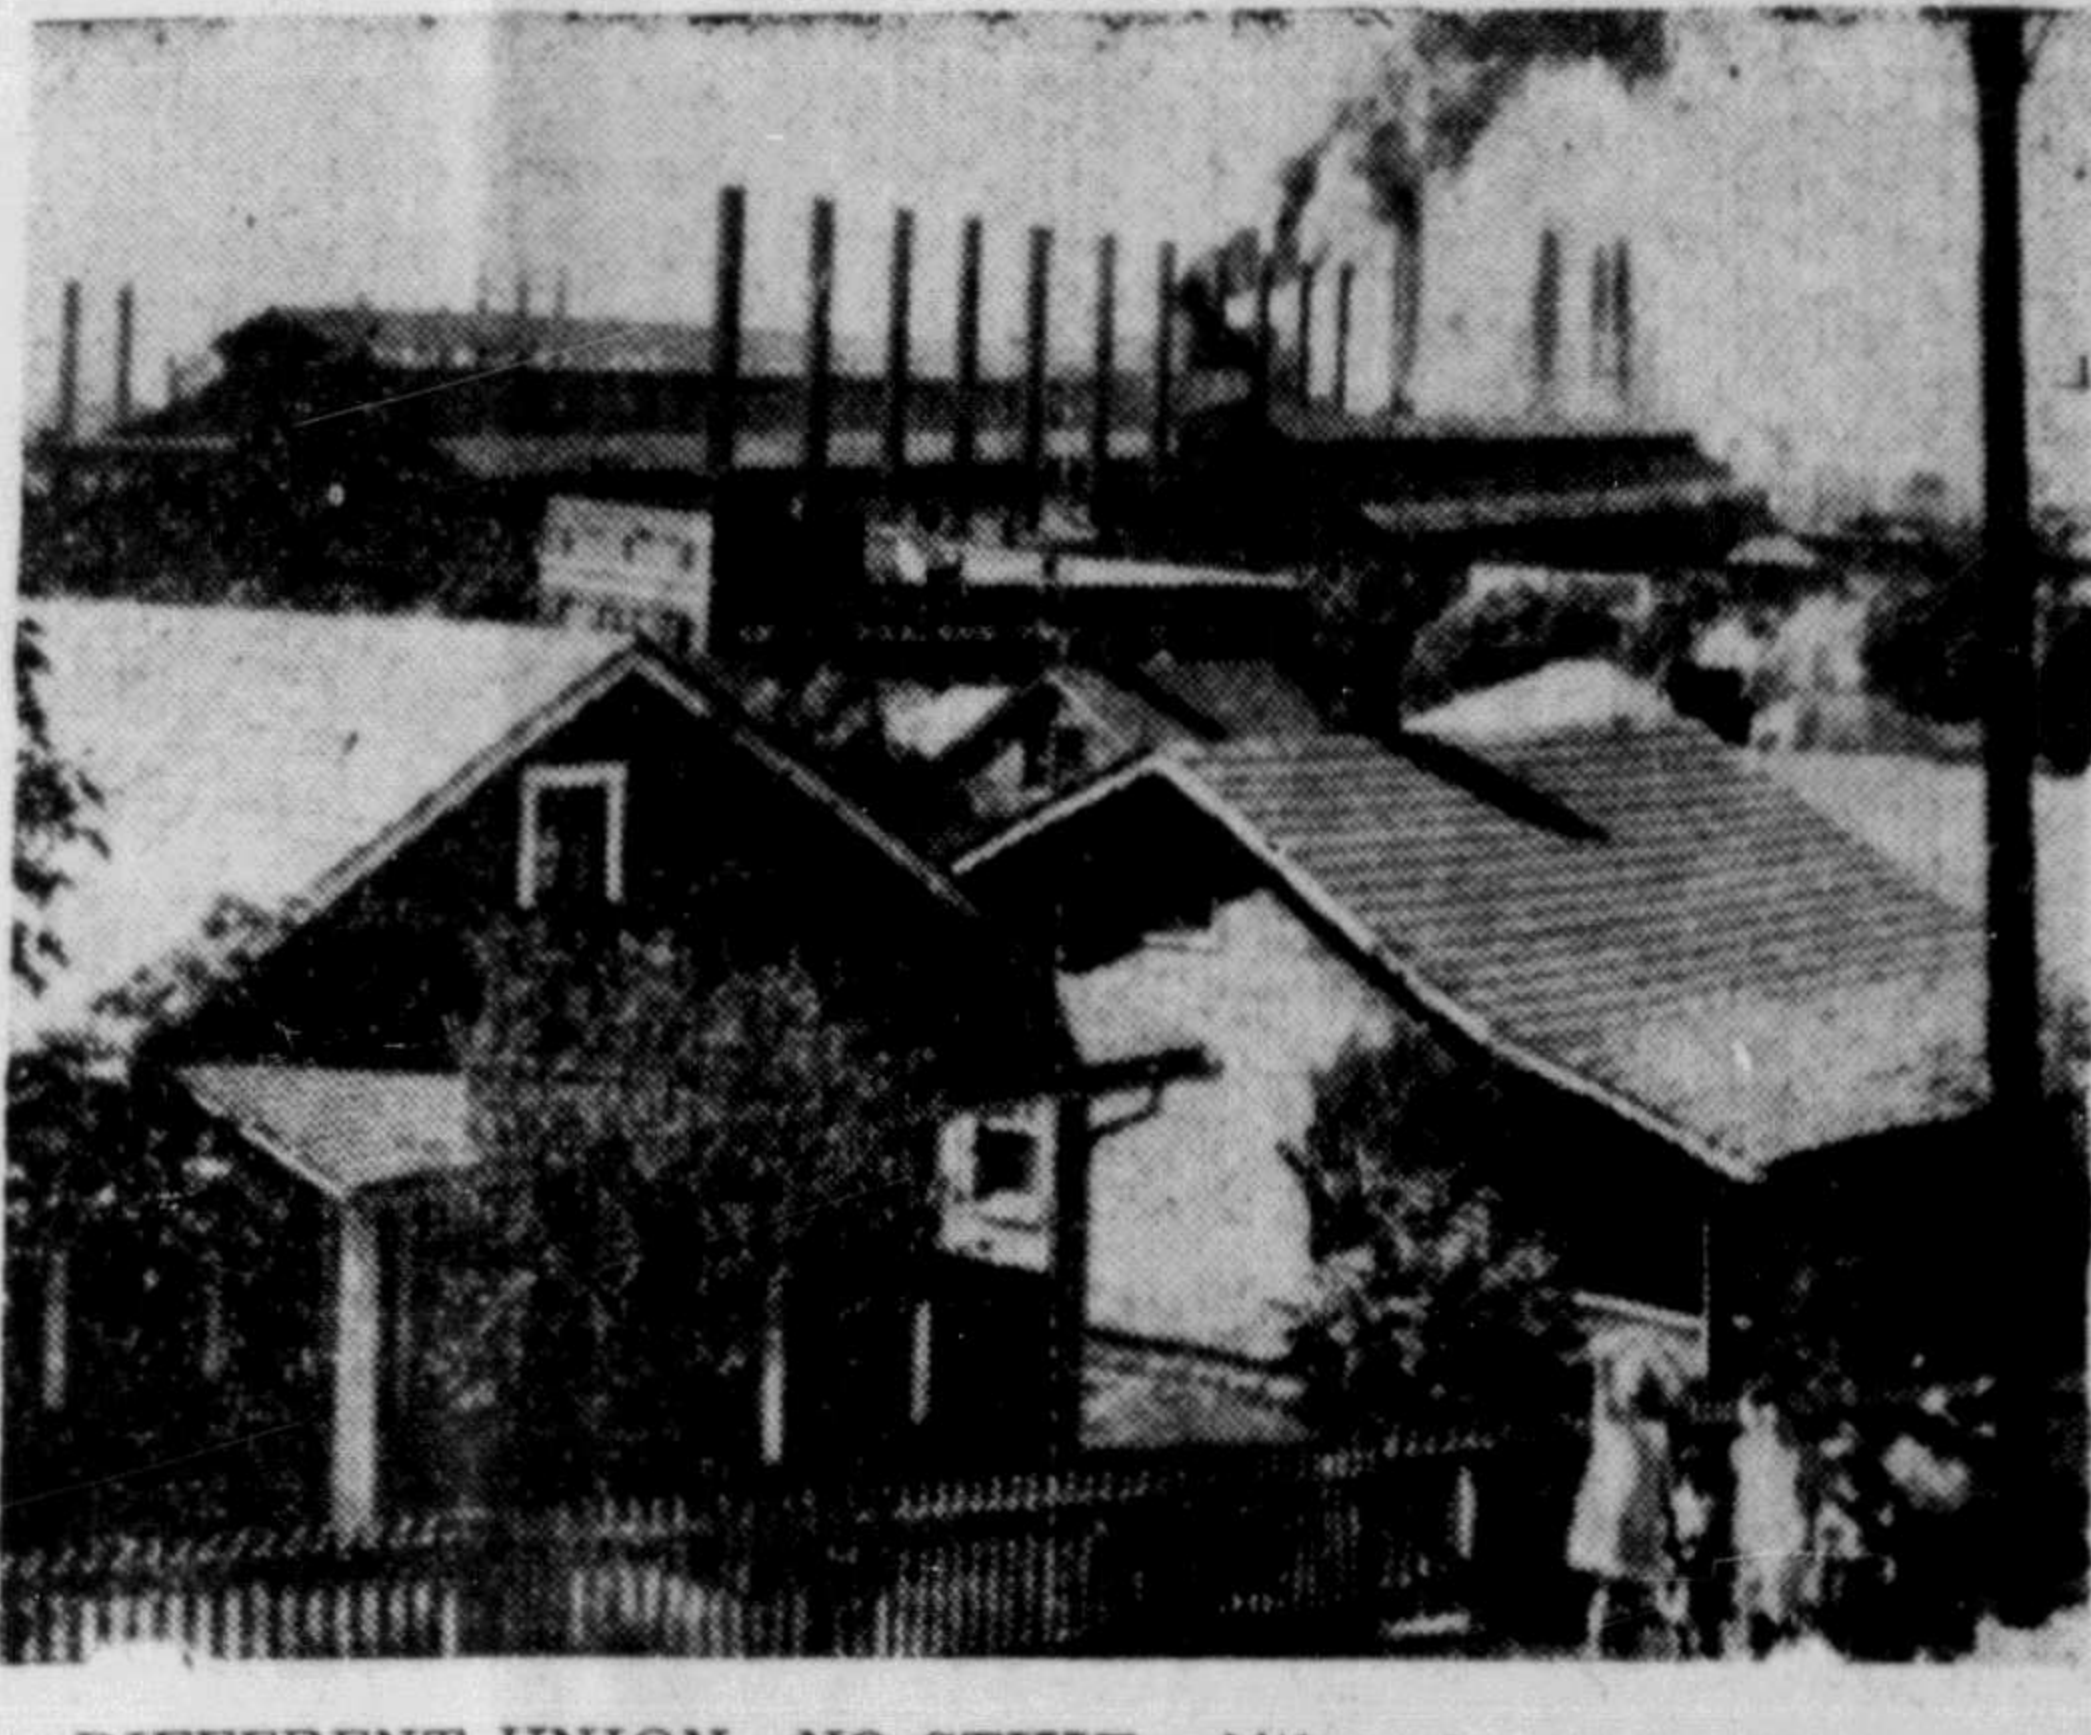

Past predictions have given Dr. Tester a high standing in the industry, which is a remarkable record, considering the myriad of variable factors involved. From the mass of reports which come in from Fisheries inspectors, estimating the amount of herring at given points, the size of the annual catch, the size of the annual spawn and the percentage of fish hatched from the spawn, the biologists are able to arrive at their conclusions.

This requires a terrific amount of work on the part of the inspectors and is one of the answers to what Fisheries inspectors do in their continuous ramblings on the coast.

To aid in this research, the Fisheries Department last year equipped its protection vessels with echo sounders which commercial boats have found to be of great value in spotting bodies of herring, and in determining their size. However, department boats almost reverse the use to which commercial vessels put the instruments.

Where the seiners and scout boats survey the herring schools in order to determine how much they should take out, the department boats survey them in order to calculate how much should be left to maintain a natural increase.

Normally, the herring fishery begins to get active on the south coast in November, working up to a climax in December. Herring on the north coast begin to show up in commercial quantities in January and February and for weeks Prince Rupert is the temporary base for scores of seiners and packers. Then canner-

DIFFERENT UNION—NO STRIKE—Although other steel mills throughout U.S. have been shut down because of the strike of United Steelworkers, business goes on just about as usual at a steel company in Weirton, W. Va., as smoking stacks indicate. Employees of Weirton company belong to an independent union. They have their own pension plan to which they contribute and which pays them $100 a month. There is no sign of settlement in the U.S.W.A. strike.

les at Port Edward and Prince Rupert hum with action. The west coast of Vancouver Island is one of the most prolific herring grounds on the coast.

With the termination a week ago of the Prince Rupert-Haines barge service, which had been carrying American Army supplies to Alaska through this port during the summer, it is encouraging to seek the resumption of a lumber shipment from Alaska to the States, such occurred this week. Although the shipment was only a small one, involving four carloads, it adds to the activity on the waterfront by keeping longshoremen busy. Currently, too, all coastwise boats are carrying heavy freight cargoes which are providing employment for a number of men unloading.

The Union steamer Camosun, Capt. Harry McLean, sailed at midnight for the south Queen Charlotte Islands. She will be back from Sandspit, Queen Charlotte City, Skidegate and Cumshewa Inlet on Sunday, sailing in the evening for Vancouver.

The Ketchikan fish packer Sydney, Capt. Henrickson, arrived in port Friday with four carloads of salmon which it delivered to the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co.

A strike was called this week aboard the luxury cruise vessel Corsair, which spent the summer in Northern B.C. and Alaska waters. The Sailors' Union of the Pacific, it is stated by Bob Dombroff, the union business agent, asks a $35 monthly in-
