BERLIN SITUATION IS STILL SERIOUS

Britain Will Not Surrender, Says Bevin

Foreign Secretary Tells House Of Possible Grave Developments

LONDON (CP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told Parliament flatly today that British troops would remain in Berlin whatever the Russians might do to drive them out. A "grave situation" might have to be faced, said Mr. Bevin, and Parliament would be kept fully advised. The only alternative would be surrender to the Russians, said the Foreign Secretary, who was sure that no one would agree to that.

Quandary

Merchants Wondering What To Do as New Sales Tax Deadline Approaches

Having received no direct instructions or documentation, Prince Rupert merchants have been wondering what to do about the three per cent retail sales tax which is proclaimed to come into effect as from tomorrow, July 1.

"All we know about it is what we have read in the papers. There has been no direct communication from the government," said one merchant yesterday afternoon. And such seemed to be the general situation.

Knowing, however, that they will be liable and the rates of the graduated tax having been duly advertised, most business men, as the deadline approaches and even lacking definite instructions, are reluctantly preparing to collect and record the imposts.

"But the next move is really up to the government" seemed to be the consensus.

Of course, it is not the merchants who pay the tax. The law specifically says it cannot be absorbed which would be the easiest thing to do.

The extra book-keeping is what worries the already harassed businessmen.

The tax does not apply to meals under 51c, purchases under 15c, foodstuffs and fuel.

LINE REOPENED

Passengers and Freight Traffic Resumed Over C.N.R. At Vancouver

VANCOUVER—Further progress in reconstruction of Canadian National's Jasper-Vancouver line, following disastrous flood damage to railways, is reported by Bernard Allen, C.N.R. manager for British Columbia, who says the line was connected up Sunday in the Fraser Valley area when the last gap was closed just west of Matsqui.

There is still much ballasting and surfacing work to be done on the track but a large force of workmen and equipment is expediting operations. A test freight train was operated over the track and the line was opened for freight traffic Tuesday and passenger traffic today.

NO PAPER TOMORROW

Tomorrow, being Dominion Day and a public holiday, the Daily News will not be published. The next regular issue will appear Friday afternoon.

KETCHIKAN HERE

Fifteen members of the Ketchikan All-Star baseball team arrived in the city at noon today aboard the yacht Catalist after a fairly rough voyage. The team will meet the Prince Rupert All-Stars in the first game of the Dominion Day series at Roosevelt Park tonight.

SKEENA HIGHWAY OPENS

Flood Damage Repaired On Road From Here

The Prince Rupert-Terrace section of the northern trans-provincial highway opened officially at noon today after being closed for more than a month as a result of floods which swept away the roadbed between May 25 and June 10.

Final link in the highway was completed today with construction of a 90-foot bridge a mile west of Shames station, 74 miles east of Prince Rupert. The bridge building job was completed by Public Works men from Terrace today.

"Road back to normal" was the description given by the Public Works office this morning, although this was qualified by the statement that in one or two places, where new grades have been built, the road will be rough for some time to come until it settles.

Since the week-end, a few cars have been coming over the highway, making unauthorized use of a railway bridge adjoining the highway near Shames. There were not many of these, however.

The Public Works department road maintenance equipment will be in constant service, keeping the road in good operating shape during the summer.

CONVENTION HALL ALL READY FOR BIG NOISE—This is how a bird, who has no political preferences, sees Convention Hall, Philadelphia, Pa., where the Republican Party selected its candidate for president last week. The same hall will serve the Democratic Party in July.

PRESIDENT ACTS

Extension of the suspension of the Jones Act so as to permit Canadian vessels to continue loading of ore at Stewart from the Riverside tungsten mine on the Alaska side of the Salmon River Valley has been authorized by President Truman of the United States. The suspension was to have expired today. News of its extension was received by J. H. Scott, managing director of the mine, as he stepped off the steamer Camosun here last night while on his way back to his headquarters at San Francisco.

Mr. Scott reports operations continuing steadily at Riverside in mining and milling of ore although shipments have been somewhat curtailed at present due to labor difficulties with an international aspect. Sixteen men are now employed. The last shipment was of 110 tons made on the Cardena last week.

Russia-Yugoslavia Family Quarrel

SERIOUSNESS OF RIFT MINIMIZED—CONINFIRM HEADQUARTERS IS MOVED—WHERE IS TITO?

BELGRADE (CP)—The Coninform rift over "ideological differences" lessened today when the Communist party of Yugoslavia announced it would do everything possible to strengthen co-operation with the Soviet Union or other "People's Democracies." The party's program made it clear that to Yugoslavia the controversy was a "family quarrel" rather than a permanent clash.

The Coninform had charged Yugoslavia with deviating from the Marxist-Lenin line. The party program was published alongside Premier Josip Tito's sharp retort to this charge.

Meantime, it was stated here that Coninform headquarters were being moved at least temporarily from Belgrade to Bucharest, the capital of Rumania. There is some uncertainty as to the whereabouts of Tito. Some say he is on an island in the Adriatic, others say he is at his summer home at Bled and others that he is in the thick of things here in Belgrade.

In Washington it was announced today that the United States and Yugoslavia were reported to be near final agreement on a financial deal which would net Marshal Tito's government about $30,000,000. Extended negotiations over this money accord may have been one of the issues which set off the attack made by the Coninform Monday against the Belgrade chief.

Washington officials are watching Tito's defiance of the Communist High Command with "delight," keeping a silent connotation.

BULLETINS

FLOOD DISCUSSED

OTTAWA—The British Columbia flood, receding on the West Coast, roared into the Commons last night and washed out any hope of a late hour prorogation. George Cruickshank (L-Fraser Valley), and opposition members, dropped the members into a two-hour whirlpool over the size of the federal rehabilitation contribution. They criticized the $5,000,000 grant and suggested that the final settlement be left open until the total damage was assessed. They also advocated the purchase of a $1,000,000 dredge to provide more efficient dredging in the Fraser and insure against further flooding.

DOCK STRIKE OVER

LONDON—The great dock area, which was strikebound for 17 days, sprang to life again today. The workers obeyed their leaders' call to bow to the government's proclamation of a state of emergency to save vital supplies. Authorities at the affected ports reported a 100 percent response, but thought that likely the effects of the stoppage will be felt until the end of the year.

LAST BRITONS LEAVE

HAIFA—The last British troops left the soil of troubled Palestine today ending 31 years of British military occupation of the Holy Land. About 2,500 troops were in the last group to be evacuated. "The British went out of the way to hand over the port in good order," the Jewish port manager said.

POLIO ON WARSHIP

VICTORIA—One member of the crew of the Canadian destroyer Athabaskan is dead, a suspected polio victim, and three others are in hospital here. Edward Zimmerman, 23, Victoria electrical artificer, died aboard ship off the Oregon coast Monday. Preliminary diagnosis was polio and the vessel has been ordered quarantined for fourteen days.

COMMITTEE ON PRICES REPORTS

Recommendations Are Adopted By Parliament—Some Far-Reaching

OTTAWA—The House of Commons Monday night adopted the report of the prices committee calling on the government to reduce the high cost of living but the government has not said when it will be implemented. The adoption slipped through in an anti-climatic finish to a torrid two-day debate.

Hon. Paul Martin, minister of health, ended the discussion with a spirited defence of the committee's report saying it had had a "salutary" effect on prices. The report had been opposed by Progressive - Conservative and Social Crediters.

Here are the committee's recommendations:

Removal of last November's emergency excise taxes on "commodities in common use."

Removal of import ban on fruits and vegetables.

Reimposition of individual controls and revival of temporary subsidies where it is shown a hardship would otherwise result.

Revision of rent controls.

Stanley Knowles, a Winnipeg C.C.F. member, was told in the House today that the government had not yet made its decision in regard to implementing the recommendations of the committee.

Freedom of the Press

What precisely is meant by that familiar phrase, 'freedom of the press'?

Fundamentally it is not a special privilege reserved for newspaper publishers. It is rather a phase of a much larger freedom—the freedom of all men to speak their minds openly and without fear. The press claims no right which should not belong to every citizen in a democracy, but freedom of the press is an all-important part of this larger freedom, because, under modern conditions, the press is the principal agency by which the ordinary man receives the information he needs to judge the actions of his rulers and make up his mind on public issues. Without newspapers, or with only gagged and blindfolded ones, he is in the dark, and helpless. An unfettered press is therefore one of the essential bulwarks of a democratic world.

If any proof be needed, it is provided by the record of the Fascist and Nazi dictatorships. Rigid control of all sources of public information, and especially of newspapers, was the corner-stone upon which those regimes were founded. Without it, they could never have held power. With it, they could do as they pleased, to the eventual ruin of their own peoples as well as much of the rest of the world.

Thus disastrous chapter of history should provide a warning against any attempt by governments or by private interests, to restrict the essential freedom of the press. A free people must stand on guard not only against direct censorship, but also against more insidious encroachments. Nominal freedom is not enough. The only truly free press is one which can record the news faithfully and comment on it frankly, without fear of direct or indirect punishment. Neither the press nor the public is safe with anything less than this.

Full liberty, of course involves obligations. The obligation of a free press is to be truly free. It must be thorough, accurate and unbiased in its reporting, sincere and thoughtful in its editorials, and resistant to all outside pressure. It must be both cautious and bold—cautious until it knows all the facts, bold when it is sure of its ground. It must, above all, be inspired by devotion to the public welfare as its staff understands it.

Such a newspaper is worthy of the privileges which the English-speaking peoples have traditionally granted to their press. Such a newspaper is also the best guardian of the liberties of the people.

DOMINION DAY

CANADA tomorrow will celebrate the eighty-first anniversary of her coming nationhood. The British North America Act, passed by the British parliament, July 1, 1867, incorporating Upper and Lower Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, created the first Dominion within the British Empire.

Today, as senior dominion within the British Commonwealth of Nations, she assumes greater importance than ever before in her history. As a member of the United Nations Security Council, Canada has taken a leading position in world affairs as spokesman for the middle powers. Her position as the world's third trading nation has given Canada new and grave responsibilities in the prolonged post-war unsettlement.

In the formative years of the last century when the pioneers of the far-flung colonies of British North America were attempting to bring unity and political harmony to their land, it was on the recommendation of Lord Durham that self-government and legislative union were brought to Upper and Lower Canada.

But Canadian statesmen of the time had wider vision. They dreamed of a great nation stretching from sea to sea. Confederation marked the first important step in the fulfillment of that dream.

In 1870 the province of Manitoba was admitted to the union and in 1871 British Columbia came in. In 1873 Prince Edward Island became the seventh province and in 1905 Alberta and Saskatchewan were taken from the Northwest Territories.

Meanwhile, the Dominion was gaining new powers which added to her responsibility as well as her independence. In 1879, she obtained the right to give preference in tariffs to another colony (or dominion), in 1881 the right of representation when treaties concerning her interests were being discussed, and in 1897 the right to demand that a treaty considered inimical to her interests should be repealed.

The Statute of Westminster, 1931, saw the culmination of the strides which Canada had been taking toward full, independent nationhood. It defined Canada as one of the "autonomous communities within the British Empire, equal in status, in no way subordinate, one to another, in any respect of their domestic or external affairs, though united by a common allegiance to the crown and freely associated as members of the British Commonwealth of Nations."

As India, Pakistan, and Ceylon assume fuller stature as dominions, Canada's political, economic and cultural growths serve as an example and inspiration to her sister nations.

WANTS LETTER

A letter from Mrs. Ross Richardson, having reference to Thomas Meillas, former Pioneer Home resident who was sent to Vancouver last December to have an operation to save his failing eyes, was referred to the Social Assistance committee by city council Monday night.

Mrs. Richardson, who took leadership in raising a public subscription fund to cover expenses for Mr. Meillas' trip, asked that a copy of a letter sent by the director of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind to the local welfare office, more than a year ago, be made available to her.

She required a copy of the letter for her own protection, Mrs. Richardson's letter said.

Mrs. Richardson's letter suggested that delay in handling the case may have been responsible for the failure of the operation to save Mr. Meillas' eyesight. The Canadian National Institute for the Blind had expressed its willingness in the letter to the welfare office, to accept the man for treatment nine months before he actually was sent down, Mrs. Richardson claims.

Mayor Arnold questioned the propriety of making social service documents available for public scrutiny because much of the information in them is personal and confidential.

Mrs. Richardson was invited to attend the meeting of the social assistance committee at which the matter will be discussed.

Mr. Meillas, 64, is now at a home in the south.

Several persons who had been making their homes at Usk, have moved to Prince Rupert to remain here for an indefinite time. SHRINERS HOSTS

Visiting Party from Oakland Entertained Here

Hospitality of the Prince Rupert Shrine Club was extended Tuesday evening to 104 visiting Shriners and their families from Ahmest Temple, Oakland, California, who stopped here for eight hours while on a cruise to Alaska on the Union steamer Chilcotin.

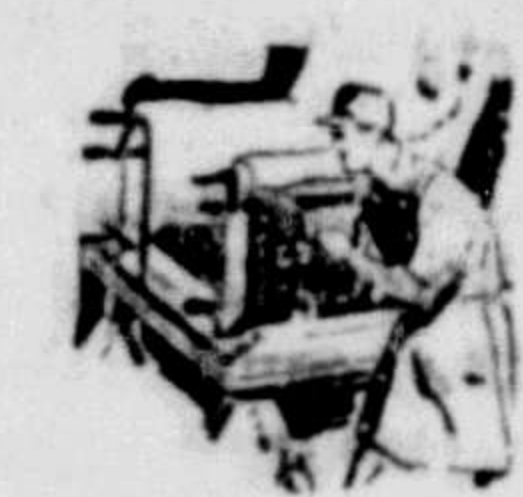

As the vessel docked shortly before 5 p.m., about 20 city Shriners, headed by H. F. Robbins, president of the Prince Rupert Shrine Club, and Dr. L. W. Kergin, potentate's representative of Gizeh Temple, greeted Potentate Robert McDonald, of the Oakland Temple.

After visitors and city shriners had mingled briefly, the Oakland group went on a tour of the city by bus, returning an hour later to the ship where they were hosts to Prince Rupert Shriners and their wives at a reception.

The group then went to the Moose Temple, where a dance was held. Music for the function was provided by Andy McNaughton at the piano. The visitors went back to the ship about midnight, warm in their praises for Prince Rupert hospitality.

A Labor Union says about Communism...

The following extract from a resolution passed at the Cleveland Convention of the International Typographical Union was sent under date of June 3, 1948, to every member of the Union in Canada and the United States:

"It is the sense of this convention that all true and loyal citizens of our great country must reflect the degree of tolerance permitted by the laws of our country with respect to political philosophies.

"It is the sense of this convention that any political philosophy containing advocacy of force and violence as a means of its attainment is contrary to our laws. Those using such methods are subject to punishment by law and they should be prosecuted in the American way.

"It is the judgment of this convention that those who now espouse communism as a political philosophy are being led by those who have absorbed the theories and practices of a foreign power which are contrary to our fundamental concept of freedom and democracy.

"Therefore we must tie to those communists who may be in this country and Canada the acts of those who have a government functioning under Communist principles.

"We cannot accept the philosophy of Communism. We cannot accept as leaders, those who associate themselves with Communism as now advocated and practiced. We rely on the democratic principles of our country and the good sense of our people to keep these principles alive and functioning."

Non-Communist labor leaders are aware that under Communism labor unions lose their power and working people are enslaved by a ruling clique of bureaucrats.

Labor has a great stake in preserving and improving the Freedom System under which we live in North America.

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I prevent rubber boots from cracking?

A. Rubber boots will not crack, and the air will be permitted to circulate freely through them, if the boots are held erect with rolls of card-board when they are not in use.

Q. What is a remedy for goldfish when they do not appear as lively as usual?

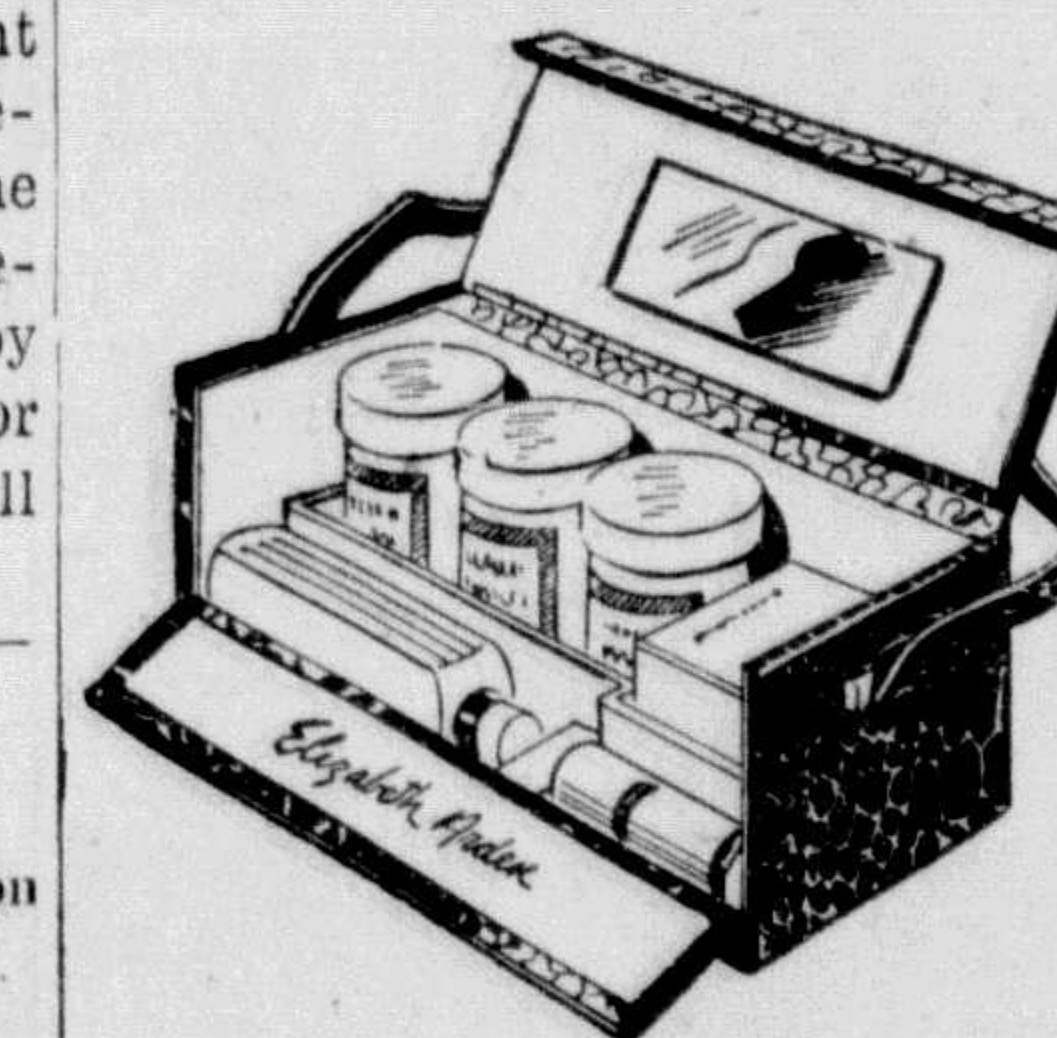

A. It will often help them if one teaspoon of salt is added to each quart of water.

Q. How can I make pie crust nice and brown?

A. Add a teaspoon of sugar to the pie crust. It will not be noticeable to the taste.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Capt. Grace Cranwell
Honored by Friends

Twenty members of the Salvation Army Home League honored Capt. Grace Cranwell, whose marriage to Capt. J. Cooper is to take place in the near future, at a shower at the Citadel this week.

The function was opened by song and prayer led by Mrs. Brigadier J. T. Gillingham, followed by a Bible reading by Mrs. J. Wilkie. Musical entertainment was arranged by Mrs. C. Ytreberg.

The program consisted of solos by Miss Mary Calder, Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Penner, who accompanied herself on the Hawaiian guitar. There was a poetry reading by Mrs. Gerten and action songs by three children of the sand tray class, Dorothy Penner, David Jarrett and Martin Yreberg. A Bible quiz followed after which there was a trio consisting of Miss Joan Ryan, Virginia Clarke and Adjutant Chambers.

While the company sang "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" two small boys wheeled in a wagon decorated in pink and white and loaded with lovely and useful gifts, which the bride-to-be

FOOTBALL FINAL

High School to Play 120th

The feature football fixture of the Dominion Day sports and athletic program will be the final of the Dominion Day Football Cup between 120th Battery and High School. This should be a big attraction.

To date the High School has the better record and that is one reason why tomorrow's game should be specially good. The gunners are out to make the cup final their first win over the students. The young High School team is just as determined to show that they are still the best. The Artillery men have the edge in weight, age and experience but the school lads have a faster team and play good football.

Both teams hope to be at full strength and the students are counting on the boys who are out fishing to be in for the game.

Lineups:
Battery—Morgan, James, Ferguson, A. Gomez, Veltch, Darrow Gomez (captain), Holkestad, Pavlikis, Ward, W. Gomez, Hardy.
High School—Boulter, Sunberg, Wynn, MacKay, Olson, Sharp, Bob Currie, Mercer, Charlie Currie, Pat Wilson (captain), Owens, Adams, Lien and Large.

The stripes ordered for High School have not arrived and it is probable that the students will play in the Canadian Legion colors.

Today in Sports

FELLER NAMED "SPORTS FATHER OF YEAR"—Bob Feller kisses his wife, who ought to know, after he was awarded medal as 1948's "Sports Father of the Year" at Yankee Stadium in New York recently. In addition to the kiss, Mrs. Feller got omelets from her husband, too. The medal was awarded to the Cleveland star pitcher by an ice cream company in behalf of the youngsters of America who look upon Bob as quite a guy.

ALL SET FOR DOMINION DAY

Plans for tomorrow's Dominion Day sports celebration at Roosevelt Park were finalized last night when the Canadian Legion sports committee held their final organization meeting at the Civic Centre. An eventful day is promised Prince Rupert sport fans with a bumper crop of track and field entrants assured from Kelchikan, Hazelton, Prince Rupert and communities on the Naas, and Skeena. The meet will get under way in the morning and will conclude in the afternoon in time for the special Dominion Day ceremonies being held in the baseball infield.

Mayor Nora E. Arnold will officiate at the brief ceremony which will be followed by the second game of the Ketchikan vs. Prince Rupert Baseball Series—the first game being played tonight.

Soccer fans will see the playing of the Dominion Day Cup finals at the conclusion of the afternoon baseball game when 102th Battery plays the High School.

The evening baseball game will be followed by a gala Sports Dance at the Civic Centre. Trac and field awards and other presentations will be made by Mayor Arnold during the early part of the evening's dancing.

Sport Shots

Take a look at your sport pages. Freud is invading the press gallery. Those tired old clichés about thundering herds, spirited drives, diminutive second sackers and iron men are giving way to cold, objective, science. Russ Stewart (Halifax Chronicle) writes: "The usurper is personified by a graying, scholarly man (as we see him, at least) with a number of initials tacked after his name and a phi beta kappa key on his tweed vest. He is the psychologist. No more of these hit-or-miss predictions, these quarrelsome post mortems, turned in by tired old scribes who chew cigars."

"The spearheader of this athletic turn of deeper thought is Dr. J. L. Moreno, M.D., a noted psychiatrist hired by the Associated Press to predict the outcome of the Louis - Walcott match. You can't tell us he smokes a cigar. The venerable doctor predicted Louis would win by a knockout in the early rounds—not a bad job for a cub reporter. Once he hits his stride, it may mean the end of bookmakers."

"Dr. Moreno's next task was to cover the fight from a psychological standpoint. His performance here as an investigator of reactions and psychoses is hard for a layman to judge, but as a sports story it reads about as good as any. You might expect to find such terms as "neurosis," "complex," or "dream pattern" cropping up, but that is to underestimate Dr. Moreno. He keeps his language within easy grasp of hot stove leagues.

"But there is evidence of a minor revolution. We find that up until the eleventh round Walcott was playing a 'game of chess.' When a game of chess comes, can a cup of tea be far behind? The point is that a whole new stage of sport may be opening up. The day may come when every sports page has its staff psychologist. The mood may also strike the athletes themselves. Who knows but that the great dimag may eventually be stymied by an outside curve served up by some malingering schizoid?"

Seasonable Ideas for Housekeepers

MEALS TO CARRY WITH YOU

Outdoor Lunches Are the Thing For These Summer Days

With warm weather the desire for outdoor meals becomes preponderant. Call a meal a picnic, whether it is on the back porch, in the nearby park or deep in the woods and everyone will be enthusiastic. The small fry enjoy the freedom from formalities at a picnic but any meal in the fresh summer air is soul-satisfying to most adults as well.

If the picnic is planned in advance, it is a nice gesture to make things that are special favorites with the family. If the idea for the picnic comes an hour or so before meal time and the basket must be packed in a hurry, the lunch may be just what would have been served in the dining room. It is well, however, to have a few prize packages on hand and ready for such emergencies.

Sandwiches are always good picnic fare. Fillings which may be made ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator are excellent summer standbys. There are also many fillings which are made from supplies in hand such as eggs, cheese, left-over meat or poultry mixed with a good dressing. Picnic sandwiches should have generous amounts of filling.

Cookies for picnics may be large and thick rather than thin and dainty. Cup-cakes are also well adapted to picnic menus. They may be cut and filled with either a sweet or fruity filling. This way they carry better than when the icing is on the top.

The home economists suggest a sandwich filling, a special bread and a cake that will satisfy all comers to the picnic.

SCHOOL CLOSING

Beverly Comer Awarded the Miss Mills Memorial Trophy

Closing exercises for the graduating Grade Six were held yesterday afternoon at Borden Street School with parents of the graduating class and pupils of Grade Five and Four also present.

The features of an enjoyable program were various presentations. Joe Scott of the Board of School Trustees presented reports to the graduates, adding an appropriate remark as he congratulated each pupil.

The presentation of the Miss Mills Memorial Trophy was made by Doug. Frizzell, M. Frizzell referred to the debt that former pupils owed to the late Miss Mills. Ex-students would ever remember her as a good teacher and friend. The trophy, he explained, was awarded to the pupil who was outstanding in scholastic achievements, sports and sportsmanship, and extracurricular activities. The recipient this year was Beverly Comer and the applause which greeted the announcement of the name of the winner was testimony to the popularity of the choice. Beverly was the leading pupil throughout the year, was one of the best table tennis players, class librarian, queen in the operetta, a member of the school choir, and popular alike with teachers and classmates. Accompanying the handsome trophy, which Beverly will hold for a year, was a smaller silver cup which becomes her permanent possession. Beverly thanked Mr. Frizzell for the trophy.

Then as valedictorian of the school Miss Comer thanked the teachers for their instruction and help and called on the pupils still remaining to keep up the good character of the school. Her classmates joined in three cheers and a "tiger". On behalf of the next year's Grade Six and the other classes, Mary Lou Lunn wished the graduates all success. She promised that they would keep up the name of their old school and then called on in 1919.

Three cheers for the graduates. Principal J. S. Wilson made the presentation of a fountain pen to Olive Strand who had given such valuable help as accompanist for the choir at practices and public performances throughout the year.

An impressive review of the work of the school both in school subjects and community activities was also given by the principal. The variety and excellence of the services given were indicated by a resume which enumerated appearances of the choir at various functions, the successful presentation of an operetta, participation in Drama and Music Festival, and the school's particularly outstanding performance in Junior Red Cross work.

In the course of the program the school choir sang several numbers and, after the giving of the school yell and the singing of the school song, the meeting ended with the national anthem.
