LOCATED IN PRINCE RUPERT—This old picture, taken May 25, 1905, is of George T. Kane and his wife. The spot overlooks Tucks Inlet on what is now the townsite of Prince Rupert which Kane staked as a homestead in 1903. Edward Kane, in the railway mail service here, is a son of the late George Kane and he furnished this picture to the Daily News.

Ancient Dispute Over Ownership Of Prince Rupert Site Recalled

An historic document of keen interest recalling an early dispute concerning the location of the townsite of the Pacific Coast terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, which was eventually to be settled on at Prince Rupert, has been turned over through the Daily News to C. H. Orme, who is contemplating the writing of a history of the city, by Edward T. Kane, son of the late George T. Kane. It is a "petition of right" on behalf of the elder Mr. Kane who contended that he had been騙ed out of his legal registration of the townsite of Prince Rupert by collusion between the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co. and the provincial government. The story of Kane's allegation was well known to old timers of this part of the country. The status of Kain Island and Tsimpsean Peninsula as provincial or Indian reserves entered into the dispute.

The date of the statement of claim was August 23, 1909. The claim was based on an alleged granting on June 18, 1903, of a free homestead of land on Kain Island to Kane. That homestead later became the site of the city of Prince Rupert, terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

Kane, in a letter to the Vancouver World, April 7, 1908, set forth his position. The letter was as follows:

MR. KANE'S ANSWER

"As I see by the daily papers that the government of British Columbia, urged thereto by laudable motives of equity, contemplate cancelling my registration of the townsite of Prince Rupert. I wish to remind the public of B.C. that this same

Prince Rupert's Appetite For Bigger Port Trade Starved by Jones Act

By HARVEY HICKEY
(in Toronto Globe and Mail)

OTTAWA—As they watch workmen build a $15,000,000 pulp plant on near-by Watson Island, the people of Prince Rupert, B.C., are hoping that the future once predicted for their city may at last come true.

During the war 75,000 United States troops and millions of tons of war supplies passed through Prince Rupert for Alaska. It seemed then that the city had assumed its place as a leading Pacific port. The city appeared to be fulfilling the rosy forecasts of its trade possibilities made years ago by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and by Charles M. Hays when he founded the

GANDHI ASHES ARE COMMITTED

ALLAHABAD (P)—Mortal remains of Mohandas K. Gandhi, beloved man who ranked almost as a saint in this land, were immersed in the waters of three sacred Hindu Rivers here today. Tens of thousands of persons, including Indian Prime Minister Nehru, witnessed the ceremony which took place at the confluence of the Ganges, Jumna and Saraswati Rivers.

THE WEATHER

Rain occasionally mixed with snow is spreading down the British Columbia coast and snow is falling over Central B.C. Cloudy skies and showery weather are expected behind the weak disturbance as it moves southeastward across the province and milder weather will prevail tomorrow. Present indications are that this will only be temporary, however, as another weak outbreak of cold air appears to be developing over Alaska.

Prince Rupert, Queen Charlotte and North Coast—Occasional light rain or drizzle today. Cloudy with snow flurries Friday. Winds southwesterly (15 m.p.h.) today and northwest (20) tomorrow. Little change in temperature. Lows tonight and highs Friday—At Port Hardy 37 and 45. Massett 32 and 38. Prince Rupert 32 and 40.

Fear or Friendliness

A CURIOUS PARALLEL has faced the world in the past few weeks. The United States Congress has been debating the wisdom and expediency of appropriating $6.8 billions in a "calculated risk" to support Europe during the next fifteen months. It is a vast gesture of goodwill that it is hoped will restrict the spread of militaristic communism.

At almost the same time the Congress has been considering the budget for the year 1948-1949. The major item in that budget is $11 billion for defence. Together these items alone represent more than twice the total expenditures of the United States, for all purposes, in the relatively bountiful years prior to the war.

In Britain, while the expenditure is less, the proportions devoted to friendship and to fear are similar.

It is a curious judgment on our developing civilization that the very people who are doing their utmost to restore a world to its pre-war prosperity and happiness must still go about their work of mercy with arms in their hands. Perhaps it is true, as men have claimed, that war is man's natural element. Perhaps it is only that our friendships are not as strong as our fears, and there might be something we could do about that.

FRIDAY, THE THIRTEENTH

FARSOME FRIDAY THE 13TH will be here again tomorrow, and every bold citizen who avoids black cats, leaning ladders and three or more matches had better arm himself with a horseshoe or clover-leaf, knock on wood, or simply stay in bed all day.

Safety-conscious employers might ponder the latter course (after all, Friday the 13th comes only twice this year—its next occurrence is in August).

This method of foiling fate is recommended by at least one eminent psychologist. Some people are so upset by their superstitious dread of Friday the 13th—explains this authority—that they concentrate on one pet fear with the result their alertness to other dangers is diminished.

"If you are desperately fearful something is going to happen to you on Friday the 13th, it is well to stay in bed," he concludes.

As for the origin of the ill-omened day, it's any goblin's guess. The number 13 was deemed unlucky by astronomers of ancient Babylon and Scandinavian mythologists blacklisted it because Balder, their sun-god, had to die when it cropped up in the circle of Valhalla.

Most widely accepted version of its origin, however, is the fact there were 13 guests at the Last Supper, including Judas Iscariot who next day—traditionally a Friday—betrayed Christ.

The old hoodoo hasn't put in an appearance since last June—the only Friday the 13th in 1947. No year is complete without at least one day when it behooves the superstitious to sleep, eat, walk and talk warily. Six times during the last five years Friday has been dated up with the 13th.

It's hard work to love a grouch...

Have you ever noticed how often the men with sunny dispositions seem to have "the grouch"? . . . in love or in business? It would be odd if they didn't! It is hard work to love a grouch.

If you want to be happy (and beloved), one thing you certainly must avoid is that "jumpy," irritable, depressed feeling constipation causes. There is a simple, pleasant precaution you can take. Eat Kellogg's All-Bran every day. It is guaranteed on a double-your-money-back basis to keep you regular naturally. No wonder nearly one out of every two Canadian families now serves All-Bran. Get some today.

Brutus Fulmen, their order in "I wish to point out to the council, which may uphold and aforesaid worthy and honorable confirm, but cannot invalidate gentlemen and the public in the tenor of the Registry Act. general who may be induced to

"I staked a portion of Kain Island early in 1904, as I had a right to do by the laws of the land, placing thereon seven S. staking and application constitutes a cloud on their titles and A. war scrip and one pre-emption. I had before then for months traversed the coast examining various harbors and finally decided that Tucks Inlet was the most suitable terminal for a transcontinental railway, and in the event of no railway, then one of the most beautiful locations for a fruit farm. The government appeared to accept my applications until it had finally dispatched an adventurous commission to spy out the land, and on its reporting favorably, my application was refused on the grounds that the land applied for was a reserve. The case was tried as a test—Harold Daly vs. the Crown—the judge deciding that the reason for refusal, viz., that the land in question was reserved in 1891, was in error. Then the honorable and virtuous gentleman who was engineering this scheme, put in the significant and ominous plea that the 'King can do no wrong,' but like his unfortunate prototype, he lost his head by trusting too much to this antiquated doctrine.

Meantime, the aforesaid adventurers hurried to Montreal to peddle the result of my labor and investigation, and from all that could be gathered from their own garbled evidence, or so much of it as the commission appointed to investigate the matter, would permit to leak up, it appears they realized an amount in excess of $40,000 out of the transaction, and the honorable and worthy gentlemen who are now so anxious to uphold the equities, whitewashed their colleague, who had tried to prove that Kain Island was not a reserve at all, but a peninsula on which the reserve in question was placed in 1891, thus not only ignoring justice and equity, but the physical facts of creation itself, in their eagerness to deprive me of my lawful rights.

"It is perhaps a hopeful sign that frail humanity still pays such tribute to virtue that when any of them seek the suffrage of their fellow men, they cannot afford to flout it altogether, and in this case, the aforesaid honorable and worthy gentlemen, acted on Hamlet's advice to his mother, 'Assume a virtue if you have it not,' and as they knew the statements of the said honorable and virtuous gentleman who cheated me out of my lawful rights, could not be swallowed by the intelligent voters of B.C., they discreetly determined to dump him overboard for the

Smiles and Chuckles

Three salesmen wanted to discuss some things at lunch, but couldn't find an empty table. Finally they sat at one where a little elderly lady was eating. One salesman said, "You know, boys, it's been three weeks since I've been able to take a bath."

The second one caught on and said, "Heck, it's been six weeks since I've had a bath."

The third backed them up by saying, "Shucks, you guys are plumb clean. I haven't had a bath since last August."

They then sat back to see what would happen. Finally the little old lady piped up, "Will one of you stinkers please pass the salt?"

I think that I shall never see
 A girl refuse a meal that's free;
 A girl with hungry eyes not fixed
 Upon a drink that's being mixed;
 A girl who doesn't like to wear
 A lot of junk to match her hair;
 But girls are loved by guys like me,
 'Cause I don't like to kiss a tree.

Joan had been naughty and when her mother was putting her to bed she said: "When you say your prayers, Joan, ask God to make you a good little girl tomorrow."

"Why, what's on tomorrow, Mummy?"

Two Hollywood kids were talking as they walked home from school. "I've got two little brothers and one little sister," boasted one. "How many do you have?"

"I don't have any brothers and sisters," answered the second lad. "But I have three papas by my first mama and four mamas by my last papa."

Host: "There are my grandma's ashes over there."

Guest: "Oh so the poor soul has passed on?"

Waterside Workers' Ban On Handling Dutch Ships Is Still Being Maintained

By LESLIE BRODIE
Canadian Press Correspondent

SYDNEY, Australia—The Australian waterside workers' ban on the handling of Netherlands ships in Australian waters has cost the Commonwealth at least $125,000,000 in lost trade according to the Chamber of Manufacturers.

The ban was imposed by the Waterside Workers' Federation more than two years ago on the grounds that Dutch ships were carrying arms for use against the Indonesian republican forces. It is being maintained despite the cease-fire agreement signed by both parties to the dispute.

Action was first taken by Brisbane dock workers who stopped work in September 1945. Melbourne and Sydney workers quickly followed their lead.

Prime Minister Chifley assured the Dutch minister to Australia that his government would see to it that food and medical supplies, badly needed in Indonesia, would be loaded, but the waterside workers refused to have anything to do with them.

The Australian Council of Trade Unions backed Mr. Chifley and called upon the men to obey the prime minister's request to load "mercy" supplies for former internees and prisoners of war, but the union ignored the appeal.

ORDER CANCELLED

In April, 1946, the Dutch were forced to cancel a $20,000,000 order for Australian goods. Other cancellations followed.

Dutch-Australian relations were further strained when the destroyer Piet Hein, leaking after a collision, arrived for repairs. The workers refused to touch the destroyer, regarded as "black" on account of the watersiders' ban on all Dutch shipping.

External Affairs Minister Evatt succeeded last June in having the ban lifted after long discussions with the men and

FOOD PRICES EASING OFF

Reaction Here to Downward Movement in United States

Easing off in the United States of prices on some food lines and on other commodities is being felt slightly in Prince Rupert, according to several merchants. Prices on the food market were beginning to come down when Canada's austerity program was introduced by Ottawa. The immediate effect was to stiffen prices generally. Merchants here are looking for the price of flour to go down while oats and other cereals ease off.

FILM COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP IS GROWING

More than 20 local organizations have taken out membership in the Prince Rupert Film Council, according to Sgt. L. A. N. Poterton, president. The council provides films and projectors free for its members' use at meetings and social affairs.

Following its creation last fall, there was a lag which Sgt. Poterton ascribed to general lack of knowledge of the purpose of the council, but now new groups are joining steadily. Annual membership fee is $2.50.

Present demand for the films is good, Sgt. Poterton said. The films are kept at the Prince Rupert Public Library and can be drawn by council members in a manner similar to which books are borrowed. A projector and projectionist, if needed, are also supplied by the council.

Available at the present time are films from the National Film Board and University of British Columbia which, theoretically at least, arrive once a month. The old films are returned.

Future plans, however, call for the establishment of an exchange service under which the Prince Rupert Film Council would buy a block of films.

Prince Rupert Daily News Ltd.

When these have been used, they would be exchanged for a block of films belonging to some other community film council. In that way, fresh films would be kept circulating continuously. The council plans to hold its monthly general meeting at the Civic Centre next Monday night.

HOW CAN I ? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I wash electric light bulb properly?

A. Care should be taken to wet only the glass part when washing electric light bulbs. Water left in the metal section is liable to cause a short circuit.

Q. How can I avoid having lumps in cereals?

A. Sometimes cooked cereals become lumpy when warming up. If this happens, beat with an egg beater and it will quickly smooth out.

CONRAD STREET P.T.A. MEETS

Members of the Conrad Street Parent - Teachers' Association had the mysteries of the modern school report card explained to them by Schools Inspector E. E. Hyndman at their monthly meeting Tuesday night. The brief talk was designed to aid puzzled parents in understanding their children's scholastic ratings.

Pupils of the school gave a demonstration of physical exercises under the direction of Mrs. Sam Currie. The display included demonstrations of marching, tumbling and pyramid work.

During the business session, Mrs. Victor Pick was appointed treasurer in place of Mrs. Fletcher, who is leaving the city. Miss Freda Hall was named literature convener.

Following the business session, a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served under the convenership of Mrs. King. Members were reminded of the card party on February 20 and of the white elephant sale on February 28.

Timely Recipe

ALMOND BLITZ TORTE

Torte

1/2 cup butter
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
3 egg yolks
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons milk
4 egg whites
1 cup granulated sugar
2-3 cup slivered roasted unblanched almonds

Filling

1 cup milk
1 1/2 tablespoon cornstarch
3 tablespoons granulated sugar
Few grains salt
1 egg yolk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

Torte — Cream butter; add confectioners' sugar gradually, creaming thoroughly. Blend in egg yolks, beaten until light, and lemon rind. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Beat thoroughly. Spread evenly in bottom of 2 greased 8-inch layer cake pans. Beat egg whites until stiff; gradually beat in granulated sugar. Spread meringue over the cake batter, sprinkle with almonds and bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) 45 minutes. Cool thoroughly. Remove from pans, spread one layer with filling and top with second layer.

Filling — Scald milk. Add the blended cornstarch, sugar and salt, and cook and stir over very low heat until thickened. Add egg yolk beaten lightly and cook 2 to 3 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; add flavoring. Cool thoroughly before spreading on torte.

Serves 10 to 12.

Note: Roasted unblanched almonds may be slivered easily when hot and freshly roasted. Remove a few from the oven at a time, cut these, then remove second lot, to avoid cooling too much.

Large Fire In Toronto

TORONTO — Muffled blasts and occasional puffs of flame still came today from the storage area of the British-American Oil Co., aftermath of a conflagration for several hours last night which fire department officials estimated had caused a loss of $500,000 and which for hours threatened to bring major disaster through the explosion of huge oil storage tanks.

For the first time in three years a four-alarm was sounded, bringing fire fighters from nine district stations. They were bolstered by oil company fire squads.

New Swimming Pool Planned

Gyro Club to Concentrate on Further Development of McClymont Park

Installation of a new 20 by 50 foot concrete swimming pool in McClymont Park, where the club will concentrate its playground development activities this year, was adopted by the Prince Rupert Gyro Club yesterday as its principal objective in 1948. The executive made this proposal at the club's monthly business luncheon and the members duly adopted it and sent it on to the playground committee for implementation. The new pool will augment rather than replace the present wading pool.

Principal ways and means activities of the club for the year will include a Klondyke Night, Apple Day, Hallowe'en Hoedown and Labor Day dance.

The club decided to continue again this year its monthly grant of $50 toward the Civic Centre and voted the sum of $2.50 to the Prince Rupert Film Council to assist the financing of the council's film service into the city.

Gyros agreed to co-operate with the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association in the sponsorship of a drama and music festival to be held in the city in the spring.

The club's blessing was given to the Canadian Appeal for Children campaign which is now under way with the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, sponsoring it in Prince Rupert. Individual members were urged to be as generous as possible in their support.

LEGION REJECTS SALE OF BEER OFF PREMISES

Members of Prince Rupert Branch, Canadian Legion, have voted unanimously against a suggestion that its club room be allowed to sell beer off the premises in a manner similar to commercial beer parlors.

The decision was made at the monthly meeting of the branch last night after members had expressed the opinion that the club would lose more than it stood to gain by the amendments to the Liquor Act required for the change.

The matter was brought to the attention of the meeting in a letter from the Legion's provincial command. The letter said that there had been agitation from several licensed clubs for such an amendment and that a poll was being taken before the provincial command chose to support or reject the idea.

Nomination period for the branch's 1948 officers was opened and will remain open until the March meeting when elections will take place. Positions to be filled are those of president, first and second vice-presidents and executive board. Several names were placed on the nomination sheet.

The meeting acknowledged a donation for the building fund. Plans have been laid for expanding the present building. A donation of $150 was made to Queen Mary Chapter, I.O.D.E. for care of the soldiers' plot at Fairview Cemetery and a grant of $15 was approved for the Prince Rupert Public Relations Council to aid in publication of a publicity pamphlet.

Chairman of the meeting was V. G. Houston, branch president.

RUPERT'S APPETITE

(CCF, Skeena), who lives in Prince Rupert. Mr. Archibald, who is 37, knows the Alaska shipping trade by experience, for before the war he was a deckhand on coastal ships. Posted to Prince Rupert as a leading aircraftmen in the marine section of the RCAF during the war, he stayed there to win the Skeena riding for the CCF in the 1945 general election.

"Either the Jones Act must be amended or Prince Rupert's future depends on the natural resources in its hinterland," Mr. Archibald said.

Just now, he said, a start is being made on the development of the natural resources. The Celanese Corporation of America is building a $15,000,000 pulp plant on Watson Island, nine miles east of Prince Rupert. It is expected that this plant, when completed will employ 3,000 people.

GENERAL PEARKES IS INTERESTED

Another British Columbia MP who is interested in Prince Rupert is Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, (PC, Nanaimo). In the House of Commons Gen. Pearkes asked the government whether it had made any representations to Washington with a view to having the Jones Act amended in favor of Prince Rupert. External Affairs Minister Louis St. Laurent replied that no such representations had been made. He added:

"The government is willing to consider making representations of this sort when major Canadian interests are involved and if a statement can be submitted to the government on behalf of the Canadian individuals or concerns affected, the advisability of such representations will be carefully reviewed."

Gen. Pearkes regards this as hopeful and is now informing interested British Columbia people of the government's attitude. He hopes in this way that a request for representations to Washington will be made to the Government here by Prince Rupert. Vancouver and other interests. Amendment of the Jones Act would benefit Vancouver as much as Prince Rupert, Gen. Pearkes said.

PLANNING FOR VICTORIA DAY

Kinsmen Executive Meeting
Names Committees—
Anniversary Party

Plans for May 24 celebrations were dealt with at the Kinsmen Club's executive meeting held last night in the Civic Centre. All the pomp and pageantry of crowning the Queen of May will be a part of the festivities as in past years but this year the selection of the ruling lady will be left to the schools.

The executive recommended

R. G. Moore as chairman of the

May Queen committee, William Bremner, Sports committee; Bruce Stevens, dance committee; Herbert Young to supervise sale of refreshments and Pierre Le Ross to handle parade arrangements.

Don McEwen, who is catering for the anniversary party, reported plans well in hand. He proposes to serve a cold supper with turkey as the dish. During the meeting it was decided to hold the party at I.O.D.E. Hall on Saturday instead of Friday night as originally planned. President Moore announced that two members, Art Williamson and Ray McLean, will be in charge of the anniversary party.

Stan Saville, chairman of the 24 door prize committee, said that distribution of books was underway and already released in the ch
