RAILWAY ACCIDENT ON RAILWAY OF RED PASS JUNCTION

Unique railway accident on Sunday morning, one and one box car of a westbound freight which went off the track of the Vancouver line Canadian National Railways nine miles west of Pass Junction and plunged down a hillside a distance of 300 feet on to the Prince Rupert line 150 feet below. Engineer Carter, who with fireman jumped clear, was slightly injured but, sustaining a twisted knee, otherwise, no one was hurt. Train traffic on both lines was delayed until 11:10 last night when the lines were cleared by auxiliary equipment from Jasper. The train, due here from the East at 10:45 tonight, is seven hours late, it was reported this morning. It should, therefore, arrive at 5:45 tomorrow morning.

The accident occurred in the mountain area west of the junction where the two lines parallel each other for several miles before the Vancouver line heads off to the southwest and diverges from the Prince Rupert line. The freight train ran into a snowslide. Four more cars were derailed but remained on the Vancouver grade.

MORE AID FOR GREECE-TURKEY

WASHINGTON, ©—President Truman told Congress yesterday that he will ask for more money for military assistance to Greece and Turkey. He did not say how much more would be asked but last year the United States sent $400,000,000 to aid the two countries. Mr. Truman said that Greece had been subjected to pressure by a Communist minority subservient to "foreign influence."

Primate Opposes Divorcee Marriage

OTTAWA—Archbishop Kingston, the Anglican Primate of All Canada, now visiting in Ottawa, says he considers it unwise for the Anglican Church to permit remarriage of divorced persons at present. Speaking at a press conference at Christ Church Cathedral, the Archbishop made it clear he was talking as an individual and not as head of the church.

Snowstorm Down Coast

Transportation and Communications Into Vancouver Disrupted—Wires Are Down
VANCOUVER — A sudden blinding snowstorm disrupted traffic of all types and communications here last night. There was a collision in the harbor between a freighter and a boom of logs. Air traffic, motor and ship transportation all were delayed and telegraph and telephone lines were down. The snowfall extended into the Fraser Valley.

Telegraphic and telephone services between Prince Rupert and Vancouver were interrupted this morning by a snow storm near Lytton in the Fraser Valley. The Daily News did not receive its usual Canadian Press dispatches. On account of the land lines being down, long distance service reverted to the old radiophone system along the coast. Fog at Port Hardy delayed today's Canadian Pacific Airlines flights between Prince Rupert and Vancouver.

Dispute In Antarctica

Britain Sends Warship to Falklands to Watch Argentine-Chile Moves

JOHANNESBURG, —8,000-ton British cruiser Nigeria sailed for the Falkland Islands to support the British governor in connection with Argentina - Chile dispute claims in the Antarctic, it was learned today. It was reported that both Argentina and Chile had rejected British protests against their setting up posts and naval bases on British territory on Deception and Greenwich Islands in the South Shetland gubernatorial authority. Argentina is reported sending two cruisers and six destroyers to the disputed islands which are said to contain uranium deposits.

EVIDENCE OF PROFITEERING

Prices Increase Committee Heard at Session in Ottawa

OTTAWA — There was evidence of profiteering and hoarding in such lines as flour, coffee, gasoline, tires, medicinal products, footwear, clothing and radio items, the Combines Investigation Act committee of Parliament investigating prices was told yesterday. There was no evidence of hoarding or profiteering in fruit and vegetables during the past three months.

ST. MORITZ—Barbara Ann Scott was a bridesmaid while here. The groom was Mr. Brooks of the R.C.A.F. and the bride from Copenhagen. It was the second time the champion skater had given her services in that capacity and she laughed when mentioning it. "Always a bridesmaid but never a bride," she chuckled. "Gosh, I hope it won't be me."

CANINE SPENDS 37 DAYS IN WELL

PERTH, Ont.—A spaniel named Nigger, lived for 37 days in the bottom of an abandoned empty well. His persistent barking at last drew attention. The well is on the outskirts of Perth. The dog had dropped in weight from 55 to 17 pounds. A local veterinarian stated it had always been his belief that no dog could live longer than 24 days without water.

FEBRUARY IS POPULAR NOW

OTTAWA — For more years than they care to remember, service men have disliked the month of February because of the hole it made in the old pay envelope. That was because they were paid strictly on a daily basis, not monthly, as is now the case. Now they welcome February, with its fewer days and lower expenses but with exactly the same amount of money as they drew in January or will draw in March.

VATICAN CITY, ©—Gennaro Cardinal Granito Pignatelli de Belmonte, aged 96, second only to Pope Pius in the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church, died today of a bladder ailment complicated by old age.

Cardinal Pignatelli, who was a prince of Italian aristocracy as well as a prince of the church, died in his simply furnished apartment in the historic Vatican church of Saint Martha.

The aged cleric had known five Popes in his long life and had been an intimate of the present pontiff and his predecessor. He had been dean of the College of Cardinals for nearly 18 years.

At top, the captives sit on the ground in the compound of a Wuchang school, awaiting disposition of their case. Bottom, some of the women political workers captured among the group. Except for two, none of the girls had any school education, yet all were well indoctrinated in the Communist philosophy.

PLAN INDOOR CARNIVAL FOR CIVIC CENTRE—AGRICULTURE, STAGE SHOW

Civic Centre carnival this year will be an indoor gala, instead of outdoor, as in previous years, the Civic Centre executive decided last night. By using the building, the cost of erecting outside shelters and bringing in rides will be eliminated. Emphasis this year will be placed on development of a first class horticultural and agricultural show, reviving the activity in that line that was shown in the earlier years of the city. The indoor carnival also will feature a first class stage show, the executive decided.

Budget for the 1947-48 fiscal year was established at $23,275, which will be about $1,400 higher than the previous year. Higher operating costs plus widening of the school program in the Civic Centre was given as the basis for the increase. Two dances will be held early this year. The first will be designated a "trophy" dance and will be held early in April in honor of the basketball trophy winners. The second will be held on April 30 and will be known as a "May Day" dance. Highlight of this function will be a Maypole in the centre of the auditorium with Maypole dancers trained by Neil Ross and Margaret Slinn, physical instructors. Committee members, whose names were turned in by chairmen appointed at the annual meeting in January, are as follows:

Finance—M. C. Brydges, chairman, and the executive, Dr. R. G. Large, T. N. Youngs, C. G. Ham. Youth Activities—A. P. Crawley, chairman; Emile Blain, Harold Hampton, George Vierbeck. 2. Widows' pensions are up from $60 to $70 with the same children's increases as those of disabled veterans.
3. Married student veterans attending universities or vocational schools will get $90 per month instead of $80, plus $18 per month for the first child instead of $12. For a man with a wife and three children the monthly check will now be $134 instead of $114.

RESTRICTIONS ARE APPROVED

Government's Dollar Saving Plan Ratified—Flare-up in Debate

OTTAWA, ©—Opposition efforts to have Canada's dollar-saving import restrictions applied only against dollar countries were defeated 49 to 42 on Monday in the House of Commons after Minister of Finance Douglas Abbott said he was "honestly convinced" that the restrictions were helping United Kingdom trade in Canada. Howard Green, Progressive-Conservative member for Vancouver South, created a flare-up in the debate when he criticized powers given Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of trade and commerce, under the Foreign Exchange Conservation Bill. He said the minister had the power to "arbitrarily" tell industries what they could or could not do.

Mr. Howe said that Mr. Green was being "silly" and that his arguments were "ridiculous."

Hoaxed Hold-Up To Get Name In Paper

TORONTO — Hector Robert reported to the police that he and his wife had been attacked in a park and robbed. He had been hurled to the ground, stabbed in the arm and relieved of his wallet containing $10. Since then, Robert has been charged with "effecting a public mischief." If We Had $2,000,000

HERE IS SOMETHING delightfully naive about the remark of the dear old lady in Victoria who inherited two million dollars and said: "Dear me, I really don't know what I'll do with it as my husband and myself are comfortable now."

Which brings up the question of what any of us would do if we suddenly inherited two million dollars. Certainly, there would be few of us who, if we did not know what we were going to do with it, would admit a problem.

Some of us might think first of our own material pleasures, would incline to relax into the satisfaction of our own desires, whatever they might be.

Some of us might think at first of continued leisure, of acquiring material things which we have dreamed about, of travel, of the pursuit of our individual happiness.

But probably human nature for the large majority of people would be to derive the greatest satisfaction from sudden wealth by exercising the ability of giving pleasure and help to others.

A TRUE CHAMPION

LIKE THE FIGHTER who reached his peak before the big event, we exhausted our adjectives in praise of Barbara Ann Scott too soon. Maybe we should have been less lyrical, less generous with our headlines when she won the European skating championship and then the Olympic. Then we would have had a little left over for praise of the world's championship quest instead of the whole thing being now a little anti-climatic.

Perhaps it is a little silly anyway to editorialize about it as we are quite sure that everyone feels just as delighted as we do over Barbara Ann's successive triumphs and can express it just as well.

It would have been a stunning thing if Barbara Ann had lost any of these title quests. But she came through as expected and with exemplary attitude. Always she kept her poise, naturalness and good humor. She has, no doubt, won the hearts of the people of the world as she has already captured those of Canadians. She's a true Olympic champion, not only because of her skating ability but because she has conducted herself at all times as a champion should.

A GREEK TRAGEDY

THE GREEK, famed for drama and tragedy since the mighty days of Homer, again plays his drama to the hilt. This time as a nation. Even the word "tragedy" is Greek. It literally means "goat song." And many a Greek, today, feels that the land of Hellas is singing a goat's song to the tune of power politics. What is this land of that goat's song?

Greece is a country of 50,147 square miles. Her population is less than London's. Much of Greece is rugged mountains and rocky lands. Her climate ranges from the blistering sirocco of mid-summer to icy mountain winds and deep snow in winter. Yet for all that forbidding picture, Greece is an agricultural country and farming is as tough and thankless there as any place in the world.

Only twenty percent of the land in Greece can be farmed, yet sixty percent of the workers are farmers and two thirds of the national income is torn from these tiny mountain plots. Three quarters of all Greek farms are 7 1/2 acres or less in size. Even in peace and plenty, life for most Greeks can only be an endless struggle, but now, in a torn and starving world, they play the tragedy and sing the goat song more than ever before.

NEWS REELS PRICELESS

NEWSREELS MAY APPEAR to be of temporary importance only but there is another viewpoint. What would we not give today for a screen glimpse of Napoleon and Wellington directing the Battle of Waterloo from their hilltops? Or of the landing of Maisonneuve at Hochelaga, row Montreal, and his welcome by the Indians? Or of the first view of the Pacific by Alexander MacKenzie and his painting on the rock "Alexander MacKenzie from Canada by land July 22, 1795." Newsreels are records of history in the making, even though for today's audience they are merely interludes in an entertainment show.

REVEAL FILM COUNCIL PLANS TO DELEGATES

Operating set-up of the Prince Rupert Film Council was explained last night to a meeting of more than 30 delegates from organizations which have subscribed to it in order to promote distribution of films for instruction and entertainment of local groups.

The outline was given by Sgt. L. A. N. Potterton, council chairman, and Mrs. J. M. Black, secretary, at a meeting in the Civic Centre and contained the latest information supplied by the National Film Board and the extension department of the University of British Columbia.

Sgt. Potterton said that so far, 28 organizations have taken out membership in the Film Council and that he anticipates an even larger membership. The interest shown, he said, will have an influence on the extension department in the matter of supplying films.

Under the scheme, Mrs. J. M. Black said, a block of 20 films will be supplied by the extension department for a period of two months. Only cost to them will be shipping charges. At the end of that period the films will be exchanged with another Film Council in this province for films held by them.

Movement of these films will be on a circulating, co-operative basis which will assure a constant flow of new films to Prince Rupert.

In addition to this, the Film Council is required to purchase another block of films at a cost of $200. How many films will be in this block is not known at present. However, these "purchase" films will form the basis of another circulating system which will alternate monthly with the original block of 20 basic films.

The council will have the choice of what films it buys but the block of 20 basic films supplied free will be chosen by the extension department.

The meeting decided that, since it now has a substantial membership, it will seek immediate delivery of the 20 basic films. Purchase of the other group of films can be made any time this year.

Any groups desiring to obtain special films can do so at extra cost to themselves but the delegates felt that the request should be channeled through the Film Council. Catalogues of National Film Board films and other productions are available.

Mrs. Black impressed the delegates with the importance of filling in the information requested on cards that accompany each of the films. The cards request information on the number of people attending the showing and their reactions to the film. This information is used as a basis for National Film Board production policy the following year and also gives them an indication of the activity of the local council.

In a discussion of the need for funds, it was decided that the council would not solicit money, but would let its member organizations know that donations will be acceptable. The treasury at present contains about $100 and the council faces the need to purchase films this year and the eventual purchase of a projector.

In order that the present projector and films may get the broadest use without damage, the council plans to open a school for projectionists. More than a score submitted their names for training last night.

More than 400 million children in Europe and Asia are still paying the cost of war. It's a levy written in hunger, cold misery and disease. To help these children, the Canadian Appeal for Children seeks to collect $10 million. This money will also be made to meet their educational needs. The need is urgent if these children are to be saved.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.J. Pat Daly

Pictures showing arrival of the first through train to Prince Rupert in April 1914 indicate a pleasant enough day. Most of Prince Rupert's population appears to have been represented in the size of the reception crowd. Some are in shirt-sleeves. Here and there may be seen horse-drawn rigs. Smiles can be noted, which was natural enough. No one suspected it, but the Big Noise was only four months distant. August was on the way and new songs, "It's a Long, Long Way to Tipperary" and "Pack Up Your Troubles" would be heard everywhere. The balance and out of step.

* Some islands are rainy—or snowy—and some are juicy. Precipitation in the Kalen group is around somewhere between showery and a bit wet but in the Hawaiian islets, it's something else again. On the island of Kauai, for example, there are extremes. Near Mount Waialeale the annual rainfall is about 460 inches. Elsewhere but not so far away, the climate is so dry that desert cactus flourish and the soil is powdery.

No Markets—No Pay-cheques

As British Columbians, our ability to produce fishery products far exceeds Canada's volume of consumption. Our dependence on export markets is, therefore, very real.

Under our system of free enterprise on this North American continent, a higher standard of living is enjoyed by more people than anywhere else in the world, whether under the same or any other economic system.

The maintenance of this living standard is aided by our continual efforts to produce quality products at costs which will admit them to all competitive markets.

Modern Etiquette

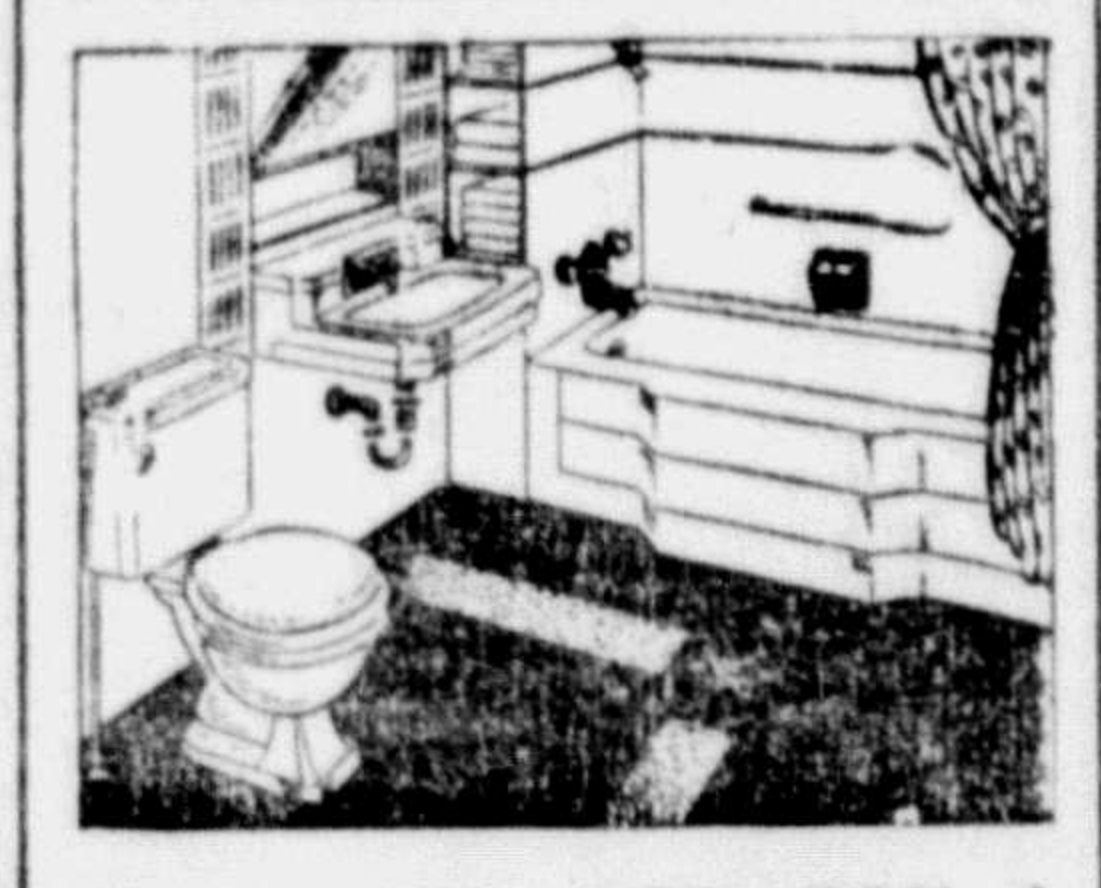

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. What is a faux pas, and how is it pronounced?
A. This is a French phrase meaning a false step, especially an offense against social convention. Pronounce fo-pa, o as in no, a as in ah, with the principal accent on the last syllable.
Q. How is it determined whether one should have a church wedding or not?
A. This is altogether a matter of preference and whether one can afford the expense.

Q. Should a woman guest remove all her wraps at a bridge party?
A. Certainly. She would look very much out of place at the bridge table, wearing a hat, coat, and gloves.
