Celanese Mill Work Running on Schedule

RAIL SERVICE MAY RESUME ON MONDAY

Rail service between Prince Rupert and Terrace may be restored either Sunday night or Monday, Superintendent C. A. Berner said this morning while railway snow removal equipment fought drifts and snowslides three miles east of Kwinitsa.

The line has been closed since Wednesday night when a storm covered miles of trackage with snow drifts and slides between Kwinitsa and Estew.

This morning, snow plows had worked to three miles east of Kwinitsa and were attacking a big slide, 400 feet long and 20 feet deep, after pausing for five hours during the night to rest and service equipment.

Cold weather is adding to the difficulties of track clearing by forming a crust of snow. At Terrace, the temperature registered five degrees below last night, while at Smithers it was 20 below and 35 below at Endako, Prince George and McBride.

Prince Rupert radio amateurs, co-ordinated by W. W. Wrathall, traffic while the telegraph lines are handling railway telegraph are down. Commercial telegraph traffic is being handled by the Army Signals and the Digby Island wireless station.

Tonight's westbound train from Jasper will come as far as Terrace, then return east. However, it is hoped to get a train through to Terrace either Sunday night or Monday.

Many Workless In New Westminster

NEW WESTMINSTER—There are 7,151 persons registered unemployed in New Westminster but National Selective Service officials believe this large number is due largely to seasonal slowdown conditions in various industries such as lumbering and fishing.

WINTER GRIPS STEWART CAMP

Portland Canal Ice Thicker as Cold Weather Persists—Heavy Snow at Premier

STEWART—This place is still in the grip of sub-zero weather. Although good progress is being made by the public works crew in breaking a channel for the steamer to get to the Stewart wharf, each night sees another inch or so of ice on the freshly opened channel but the battle goes on. However, people are still optimistic that the grip of winter that has held the district for the past month will soon be broken. A week ago by almost superhuman efforts the gas boat owned by Ernest Lewis, wharfinger at Stewart, was broken out of the ice and passengers, freight and mail were landed at Hyder, Alaska, wharf. A good windstorm would be a God-send in clearing the Canal.

Snow plows of the Department of Public Works are battling to open the road to the Silbak Premier mine where the caretaking crew are isolated owing to the heavy snowfalls this winter. The mine crew have a small bulldozer but have not been able to use it lately owing to lack of fuel. However, amp supplies are at the mine and it is understood they are not suffering any hardship.

It is rumored around Stewart that some of the buildings have collapsed under the great weight of snow which is reported as being over 38 feet. That is the total fall for the winter so far.

Progress in breaking the road is necessarily slow as the track made by the company's bulldozer had made a hard centre which is difficult to break through but two shifts are working the plows and it is hoped to get through in the next few days.

Vancouver Power Crisis Continues

VANCOUVER—Weather continues clear and cold here with no sign of much needed rain. Meantime the water supply crisis continues and, unless there is early rain, further curtailment of the use of electricity may be needed. There is only enough water left for 20 days more power. There has been a 27 percent saving in electric consumption as a result of restrictions to date.

IMPORT OF FATS AND OILS FREED

OTTAWA — Internationally-governed restrictions on imports of fats and oils, in force since during the war, are being removed, it was announced yesterday. Eleven other items have also been removed from such control.

A government source said last night that the net effect will be that the Dominion, which has been obtaining these commodities under international quota, will be able to get all edible fats and oils she wants. It also probably means that enough will be available for production of all the margarine Canadians want.

VANCOUVER CRIME DOWN

Burglars Don't Like Working With Flashlights in Blackout
VANCOUVER — Magistrate Oscar Orr, in his report to the police commission yesterday, observed that there had been no increase in crime in Vancouver as a result of the dim-out regulations because of the electric power shortage. This may be, he speculated, because operations of burglars with flashlights are more obvious in the darkness.

The commission heard from Chief of Police Walter Muligan that there were 237 burglaries in January this year compared with 209 in the same month in 1948. There were four hold-ups this January as against 14 in 1948.

The advisability of setting up an emergency volunteer police force in case of disaster was considered.

TWICE AN IMMIGRANT, HE RETURNS TO BRITISH COLUMBIA — Giuseppe Strange, left, has returned to Canada as a two-time immigrant from Italy. Twenty-two years ago he left the coal mines of British Columbia after 13 years in Canada, and returned to his homeland to "raise a family." His family, Giovanni, is raised and Giuseppe has brought him to British Columbia where they were welcomed by Giuseppe's twin brother, Anthony. Giovanna can't wait to get at that cooked-in-butter mushroom and steak feast that his aunt, Mrs. Anthony Strange is preparing for him.

Two Persons Naturalized

Two certificates of naturalization were issued by Judge W. O. Fulton in County Court this week while a third man underwent examination for citizenship. Certificates were received by Melvin Julian Heland and Lee How Guey of Prince Rupert, while Nils Edward Anderson of Bella Bella took the examination.

NORWAY TO STAND ALONGSIDE WEST

OSLO—A Canadian Press representative here has learned that Norway has made up its mind to stand with the western nations, no matter what Russia may think about it. Norway's survival depends on such an alliance although Trygve Lie, Norwegian secretary-general of the United Nations, declares that no alliance can provide the security that would be provided if there were an effective United Nations organization.

SAM CARR ARRAIGNED

OTTAWA—Sam Carr, former general secretary of the Canadian Communist party, was arraigned in Ottawa city police court today on a charge of conspiring to commit forgery. He could receive a term of up to seven years if found guilty. The case is adjourned to February 21. Meanwhile Carr is in the Carleton County jail.

Alleged ringleader of Soviet spying in Canada, Carr did not plead and did not elect method of trial. Nor was he represented by counsel. He told the court he would ask for bail at this time so was remanded without it and thereupon returned to jail.

WILLIE PEP COMES BACK

Regains World Featherweight Title From Sandy Saddler
NEW YORK, ©—Willie Pep, cut around both eyes, recaptured his world's featherweight title last night from Sandy Saddler, the spindly Harlem slasher, who won it from him last October by a knockout.

Pep last night, however, showed a complete reversal of form and outclassed, outboxed and outpointed his 22-year-old rival. Pep, aged 26, and weighing 126 pounds, displayed a brilliant show over his heavier-hitting 124 pound rival. Almost always Saddler was moving forward, measuring Willie with unblinking eyes but the artful dodger from Hartford, Connecticut, was too much for him with his counter-punching.

Terrace Plane With Passengers

Skeena Air Transport of Terrace went into action Friday bringing two passengers from Terrace. They were Mrs. A. H. Taylor and Corporal E. A. Wales of the provincial police, who went to Prince George on Monday on prisoner escort duty. The plane left this morning, carrying John Dunlop, of Smithers and D. J. Boswell, of Prince George to Terrace on their way east. The SeaBee plane was piloted by Tom Scheer.

Margaret's Romance

Idyll of Princess and Handsome Coldstream Guardsman
LONDON, (CP)—A fresh romantic rumor developed last night with the departure of Princess Margaret for picturesque Mountfield Court in Sussex, the family home of Captain Tom Egerton, 31-year old former Coldstream Guardsman.

For the gossips, the 18-year old Margaret's week-end has an idyllic sound. She is "going everywhere" with young Tom.

Big Job Going Well

Satisfaction Expressed With Celanese Mill Construction—Much Activity Due

"We are entirely satisfied with the progress that is being made on the work," Dr. R. W. Ball of New York, assistant to the vice-president of the Celanese Corporation of America, told the News Friday afternoon following an inspection of the job at Port Edward where the Corporation's subsidiary, Columbia Cellulose Co., is now starting construction of a $25,000,000 mill.

"Everything is going according to schedule and, as soon as the winter weather breaks, you will see plenty of activity," Dr. Ball said. "Employment will climb rapidly."

One of the first jobs will be the blasting of drains in the solid rock on which the great plant will be reared. This work is such that it could not be carried out after buildings have been erected.

Dr. Ball stated that a part of the plant equipment had been ordered and deliveries were being made up to expectation. There would be no hold-ups owing to unfavorable delivery of the operating equipment.

Deliveries of construction material were also proceeding satisfactorily.

Steel is already on hand for the first three concrete buildings which will be the administration building, pulp storage building and machine shop building. These buildings will serve a useful function during the construction period.

Dr. Ball expects to be in Prince Rupert until Thursday night of next week.

WARNING BY POPE

Sees Conspiracy Against God—Excommunications in Hungary
VATICAN CITY, ©—Pope Pius warned today that "a conspiracy has been formed against the Lord" in certain countries.

The Pontiff pointed up to his warning by excommunicating all Roman Catholics who had been connected with the arrest, trial and sentencing of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary.

In his actual warning the Pope did not mention any particular country by name. However, the Vatican's action left no doubt that he meant Communist-led countries behind the Iron Curtain.

P.G.E. Extension

AFTER MANY YEARS, the province has decided upon the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. Start of construction from Quesnel north to Prince George will be made this year with further extension into the Peace River to follow later. The action is decided upon following failure to interest the federal government or either of the big railway companies and apparent absence of sound offers from other quarters.

Extension of the Pacific Great Eastern was bound to come sooner or later as it could not be left as it was—a line starting nowhere and ending nowhere and a continuing liability on the public with no hope of ever paying its way in its present state.

Now that the government is committed on extending the line immediately from Quesnel to Prince George, the sooner they get on with the job of driving on to the Peace River the better. Then Prince Rupert will have a chance to get in on the heavy traffic from the north—wheat, coal and such like—the opening up of which has long been admitted as being the economic salvation of the line.

Possibly the government has Prince Rupert in mind as a potential coast outlet for heavy Peace River commodities when it adopts the idea of connecting Squamish with Vancouver by highway instead of extending the railway on the south. Of course Squamish will also have its possibilities of development as a port.

Of the several big projects outlined by Premier Johnson in his three-year $89,000,000 provincial development plan, the Pacific Great Eastern commitment is of outstanding importance and it is of particular interest to us in that it is an admission of the immediate necessity of opening up and developing of the north country.

The town of Prince George is getting a big modicum of attention now. We in this western rim of the central interior may expect to receive some large scale attention too. Meantime we are glad for Prince George, realizing that what is good for the budding interior metropolis must also redound to our benefit in the general development of the north.

VALENTINES RUN TRUE TO FORM

YEAR AFTER YEAR, in this so-called hard-boiled practical age, the good old hearts-and-flowers tradition breaks out on St. Valentine's Day. This year's Valentines are if anything mushier and lazier than ever and the sentiments even more delicate and touching. All done up in "buttons and bows"—that's the style for the 1949 billets-doux.

Perhaps it is all a part of the more open display of sentiment these days, reflected in croony melodies and romantic film close-ups.

The connection between St. Valentine and sweet romance was not always so close. In fact there has been a confusing number of saints and priests named Valentine. However, the one traditionally associated with today's exchanging of love messages is Valentine of Rome who was martyred 1672 years ago.

On the eve of the old Roman feast day of Februa Juno, St. Valentine was clubbed, stoned and beheaded at Rome's Flaminian Gate. The feast celebrated the Lupercalia, revels in honor of Faunus, when boys chose their partners by lot.

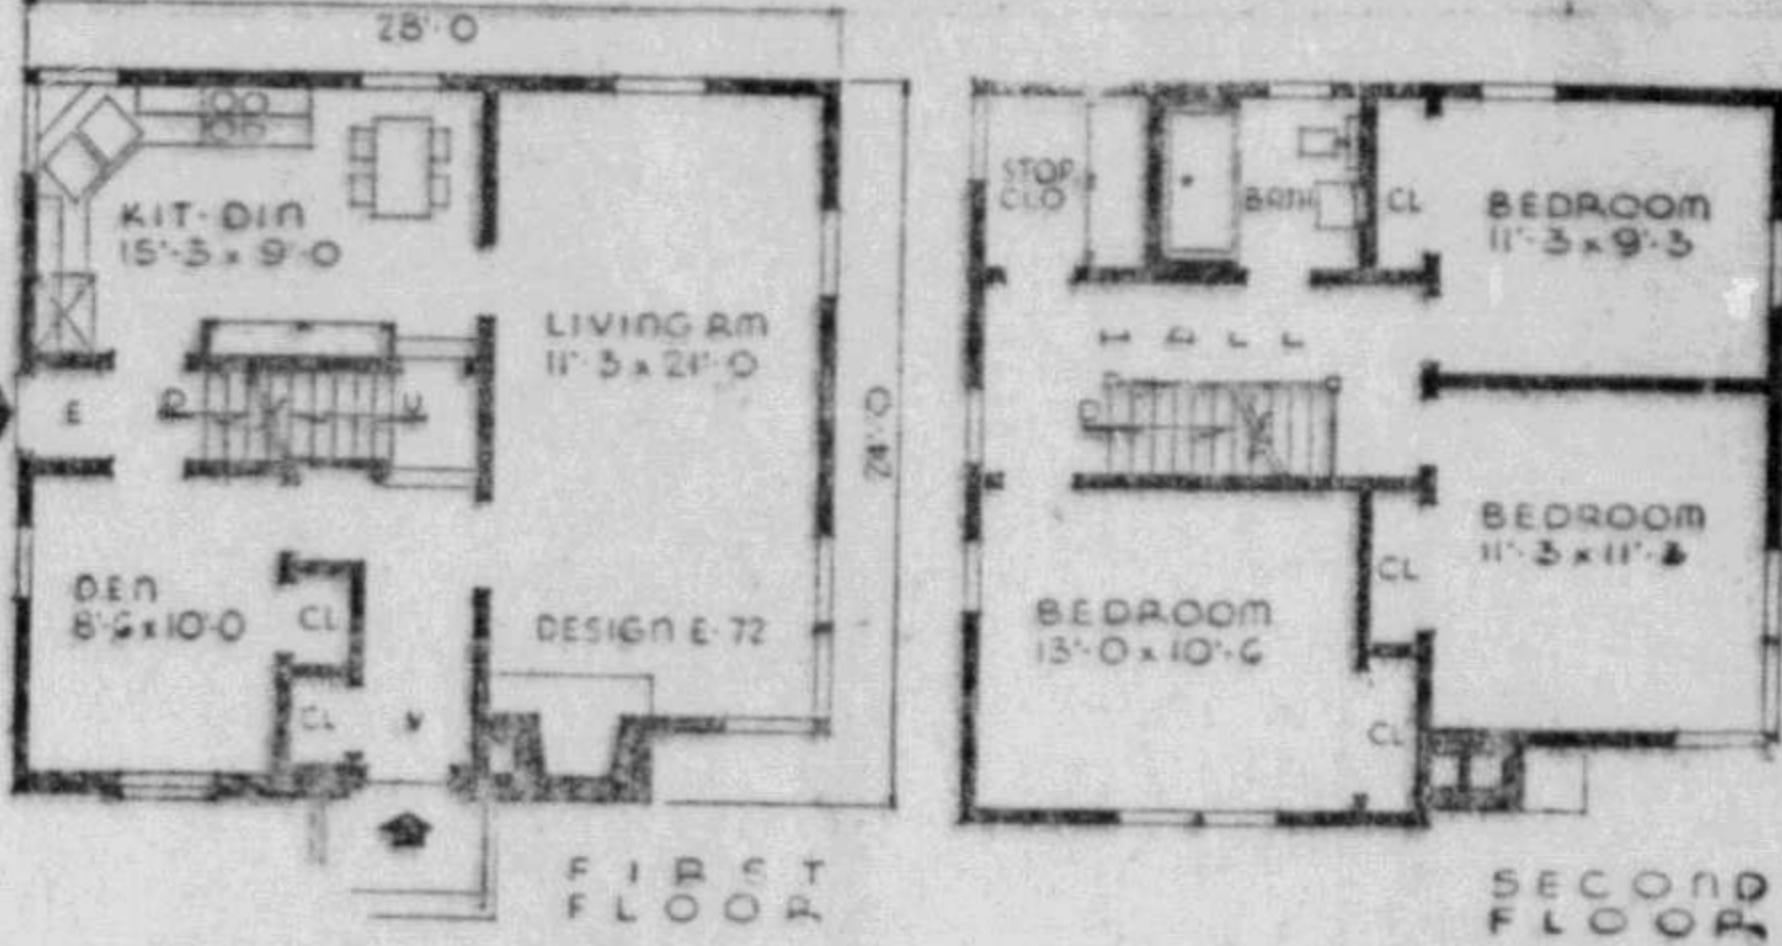

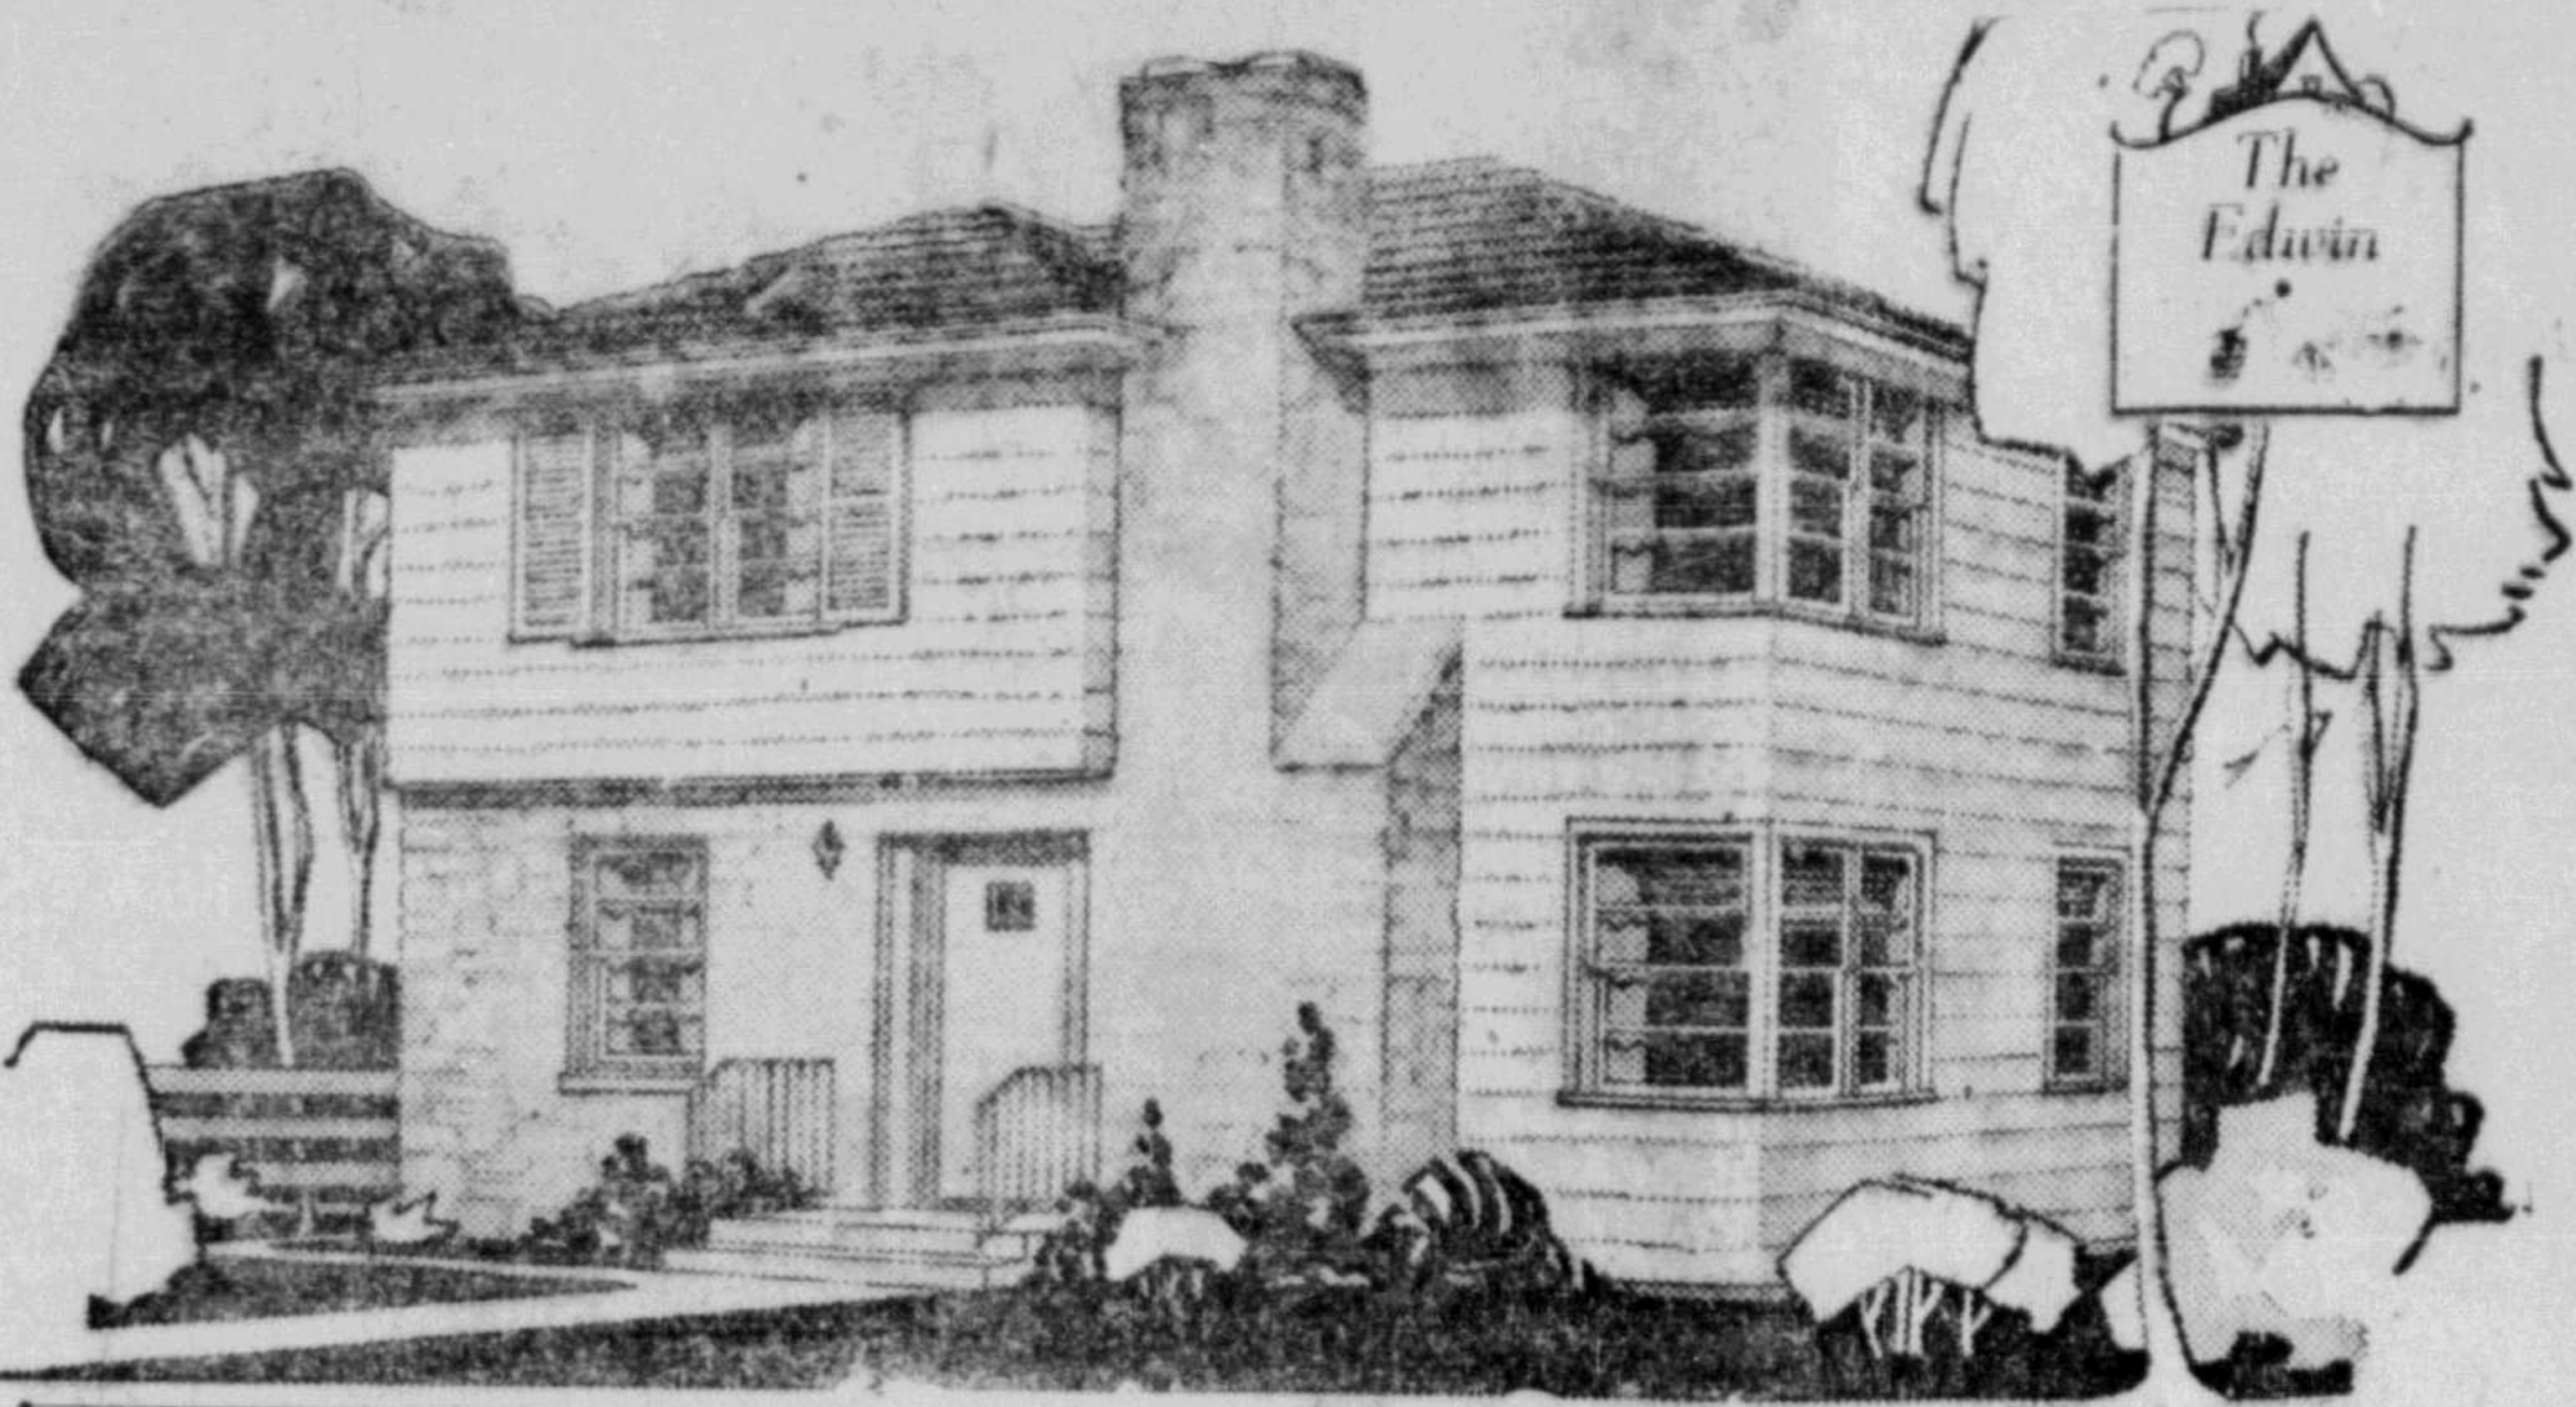

Faunus was the god of cattle and fertility in general and, according to legend, a cave called the Lupercal on one of the seven hills of Rome was sacred to him.

Valentine died for condemning the pagan gods and all ceremonies connected with them. It is thought that this torture and death became a part of the wild celebrations of 270 A.D.

It is perhaps ironical that the survival of pagan rites should coincide with martyred Valentine's day. But as paganism gave way to Christianity, it is thought the early fathers saw it would be impossible to abolish all old customs. Gradually through Christian influences these old celebrations became submerged in Christian festivals.

But that's all history, and some of it conjectural at that. What really matters is the sentiment that comes with the lace heart or beribboned love token. Dripping with romance or strictly friendly, they all say, "Will you be my Valentine?"

THE DURWOOD is a cottage-type, story-and-a-half home with a one-car attached garage. This home has a bedroom on the first floor, making it convenient to leave the second floor temporarily unfinished. When completed, the second floor plans include two bedrooms, one 10' x 10'6" and the other, 9' x 12'6".

The plan of The Durwood provides easy access to all rooms. There is a large dining space in the compactly-cabineted modern kitchen; and convenient connection to the garage. There are closets near both entrances; a linen closet on each floor and large wardrobes in all of the bedrooms as well as a storage closet in the garage. Construction is of frame, with an extra fire-proof wall between the house and attached garage. The exterior of the house is siding. The roof is covered with asphalt shingle. The dimensions of the main body of the house are 32 feet wide and 26 feet deep. The net area, without the garage, is 799 square feet; and volume is 19,987 cubic feet including the basement.

PUBS - THEN AND NOW Reminiscences of Carefree Britain Half a Century Ago

The sale and consumption of liquor appears to be restless, as a public question. It was urged in Prince Rupert not so long ago that there be a greater measure of temperance. There was particular reference to the outlay of money for drink, and nothing but drink! Quite a sizeable sum, in fact! It cannot be said there is entire satisfaction, so far as British Columbia is concerned, with the system under which sales are made. One can hear criticism and read complaints. And now comes a blast directed at public houses, not in British Columbia, but a long way off. British pubs have been slammed, and letters appear in the press defending them. In other words, the critics, in more ways than one, are described as all wet.

We spent a summer in England once. Times must have changed since then. No one worried about Russia, and the south coast was a pleasant part of the world to be in. Weather was good and so was the beer which everyone consumed as a matter of course. People were easy to meet, and the lone Canadian received as many kindnesses. Some were prone to inquire:

"You are a Yankee, are you not?"

"No, my home is in Canada. But why do you guess, so often? What makes you say 'guess'?"

Perhaps there was a forty second cousin somewhere in the population of Dover, or Hythe, or Folkestone, or Hastings, or Sandgate. Paternal forbears had moved from the south coast to America a few centuries before. The old town of Dover one remembers best, built close to the sea and with the shores of France sighted on clear days, away in the dim distance. More than forty years ago—it may be there yet—there was a long promenade paralleling the beach. Life seemed leisurely in Dover. Cars were not unknown but there were few indeed. As a rule, people did not rush. Daily concerts by a military band in a public park helped entertain one.

Dover Castle overlooked one end of the long breezy walk, and miles away, in the opposite direction, loomed Shakespear's Cliff, with endless murmur of surf and a favorite spot for a plunge. Steamers ran regularly between Dover and Calais. The one we travelled on once was called the Port Warden. But that's another story.

It was no effort to become accustomed to the daily brew. There were numerous pubs, and patrons, generally speaking, had their favorite resorts. England, in 1900, gave no evidence of being afflicted with uneasiness and anxieties affecting liquid refreshment. There it was if you had the inclination, and the price, which wasn't much. How about a snack? For a trifling sum one could try the benefits of a thick sandwich and foaming beaker of stout. Somewhat doubtful if it could be duplicated today for the money.

Summing it all up, and, as far as a Canuck a long way from home could see, the situation pertaining to liquor was handled with common sense and judgment. Doubtless, there was intoxication. But, it was taken care of. Displays of exuberance seemed very infrequent. All the pubs had bar-maids who knew and performed their duties acceptably. Drinking was not a license to cause others discomfort or embarrassment. The whole atmosphere was one of quietness and good order—sort of cross between a club, one's home and a place of business. But what it is today, after the lapse of nearly fifty years is not for the writer to say—W.J.R.

HEALTH NURSES EXTEND VISITS

Port Edward and Digby
Islands being included—
Monthly Report

Public health nurses from the Prince Rupert Unit are to extend their visitations to Port Edward and Digby Island on a regular monthly basis, arrangements for these visits now being near completion, the monthly report of the Unit for January discloses.

Child health clinics in the city are being increasingly patronized by mothers with their children of pre-school age. The attendance is now 26 and during the month of January eleven immunizations were given.

Health in the schools of the city was good in January. No cases of communicable diseases were reported. City property, the unit says, was inspected during the month and found to be in "fairly good condition."

The six-inch sewer on Third Avenue from Third Street to Sixth Street, which has been in a state of collapse, is being replaced by a 12-inch line which will serve as a combination storm and sanitary sewer.

Demolition of two houses, condemned by the city, has been completed. A new dairy got under way at Prince Rupert during the month, the report says, and, as one of his first projects, a newly appointed sanitarian at Smithers, T. Mayoh, is making close inspection, with a view to improvements, in the milk supply to Prince Rupert.

During the past month the annual meeting of the Union Board of Health for Prince Rupert district was held, officers being elected and plans laid for the coming year.

Also during the month a full staff meeting was held with Miss D. Brown, the public health nurse from Smithers, and T. Mayoh, the sanitarian from Smithers, in attendance. Provincial and local policies were discussed and the senior nurse, Miss Joyce Leslie, reported on a meeting she had attended in Victoria.

During the month the senior nurse made her first trip of the year to the interior, visiting Smithers, Hazelton and Terrace.

2 tablespoons cold water
1/2 cup boiling water
1 1/2 teaspoons vinegar
Pinch of salt
2 hard-cooked eggs
1/2 cup cottage cheese
Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes. Add to boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add vinegar and salt. Pour into a well-greased mould, either round or square. Chill and when partially set outline a heart by placing alternately, sliced hard-boiled eggs and small balls of cottage cheese. Chill until set.

SECOND LAYER:
2 tablespoons gelatine
1/2 cup cold water
2 1/2 cups strained canned tomatoes or tomato juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon celery salt
2 whole cloves
Small piece of bay leaf
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon spiced meat sauce
2 tablespoons vinegar
Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes. To tomato juice add salt, celery salt, cloves, bay leaf, sugar, spiced meat sauce and vinegar. Bring to boiling point, strain and add soaked gelatine, stirring until dissolved. Chill until mixture thickens, but is not firmly set. Carefully cover heart design with mixture and chill until firm. Unmould on salad greens and garnish with celery curls. Yield: six to eight servings.

ICE-FLOE TRANSPORT
Polar bears have been known to drift from Greenland to Iceland on cakes of ice.

CRAM PUFF PIE
1/4 cup shortening
1/2 cup boiling water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 eggs
Put shortening, water and salt in a saucepan and beat until shortening is melted. Add flour, stirring vigorously until it leaves the sides of the pan and forms a ball. Remove from heat, beat one at a time, beating and cool slightly. Add unbeaten thoroughly after each addition. Mixture should be stiff. Spread evenly on an ungreased pie plate and bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees F., until well puffed and lightly browned, about 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 375 degrees F., and continue baking for 25 minutes. Cool, slit through and remove top. Fill with any desired cream or fruit filling. Replate tops and garnish with whipped cream and cherries or other red fruit. Yield: Six servings.

WHERE BOYS BEAT GIRLS AT NEEDLEWORK—Proof that boys are as good—if not better at needlework than girls—can be found at St. John's School, Waterloo, London, where the girls are "taking a back seat" at such feminine accomplishments as needlework and cooking. These unsuspected talents were discovered when the headmaster, A. C. Baker, decided to allow pupils to choose from a selected list their own occupations on Wednesday afternoons. Boys who were turned away from overflowing boxing classes, flocked to needlework and cookery lessons and proceeded to show what they could do with a needle and thread. Here David Newbolt, aged 14, is shown busy at work on his embroidery at the school.

Reasonable Ideas for Housekeepers
WHO'LL BE MY VALENTINE? SOME HAPPY RECIPE IDEAS
Valentine's Day always makes a fine excuse for a celebration. A formal affair with invited guests or a meal with all the features of a party. The homemaker who has the knack of fixing a simple and substantial food, so that it looks pretty and festive, has found the way to win hearts any day in the year.
On Valentine's Day, the theme and color are already determined, so that the only problem is to suggest hearts and flowers and keep to the color scheme of delicate pink and white or deep red and white.
Home economists suggest the following ways of embellishing everyday food to suit the occasion:
A cherry or a bit of red jelly in the morning grapefruit starts the day on a festive note.
A simple "Floating Island" for dessert at lunch may have the same red garnish on each island.
Baking powder biscuits cut with a heart-shaped cutter are in keeping with the theme.
A plain cake, iced in fluffy white icing, may be sprinkled with small vari-colored gum drops or the icing may be tinted pale pink.
"Blanc mange" tinted a delicate pink and served in sherbet glasses looks like an elaborate dessert.
Sometimes a special dessert or salad may be the feature. Almost any jellied salad may be made in a heart-shaped mould or, if in a round mold, cream cheese or salad dressing may be piped or spread in heart shape on the top.

DIVIDED ON PUCK GREATS

Selections Dissimilar—Who Is Best Goalie?
By TREVOR ICETON

TORONTO. (C)—When your friends don't agree that your favorite hockey player is one of the all-time greats, don't feel too badly—even the experts can't agree.

Andy (Toronto Star) Lyle says: "Recently I asked Lionel Conacher, Dick Irvin, Art Ross and Lester Patrick to name 11 hockey players in each of three eras that they considered were outstanding in their day and times.

"They obliged, each picked 31 players. Irvin placed Patrick as one of the great defence men and Lester retorted by naming Irvin as a great scoring forward.

"I polled a number of experienced judges of ice talent, 10 of them all told, and their choices were dissimilar enough to make it clear if you were to poll 500 experts you would get almost as much variety as I received from 10.

"When Lionel Conacher gave his great players list, he added his opinion that the greatest player is Milt Schmidt; the most durable, Hootie Smith; the most graceful skater, Dave Trotter; the toughest hombre, Bill Cook; the most thrilling to watch in action, Howie Morenz."

GOALIE AWARD

The race for the Vezina trophy—symbol of goal-tending supremacy in the National Hockey League—is tightening rapidly. But Doug (Windsor Daily Star) Vaughan doesn't think the manner in which the trophy is awarded is a true yardstick for measuring the goalie's ability.

Because a netminder winds up with the fewest goals scored against him in a season does not mean he's the best, Vaughan added.

"It could just mean that he has the best defensive club in front of him.

"In 44 games, Bill Durnan of Montreal has yielded 108 goals. Harry Lumley of Detroit has been nicked for 109 in 45 games while Chuck Rayner of Rangers

Allan Hurst, (-10) won a close 150 to 146 decision over D. C. Stewart, similarly handicapped, in a quarter final match in the Canadian Legion English billiards tournament. Fred Hardy is now waiting to meet the winner of Hurst vs. Jack Campbell in one of the semi-finals.

The other bracket is somewhat further behind with Dave Owens and C. L. Youngman to meet in one quarter while Jack Laurie and Alex Harvey have yet to meet to decide who will play Vic Duncan in another quarter final.

The Basketball Association last evening a final decision was made on the proposed trip to Alaska for the senior reps and they will embark 10 strong for Ketchikan and New Metlakatla early in March. Jack Lindsay will not be travelling due to business reasons but, without Jack, Alex Bill will still have an able squad to represent the city. Hope was expressed by some of the players that Louis Felsenthal, popular sports fan and sponsor of the city team, might be able to make the trip with his boys.

Alan Hurst, Bo-Me-Hi principal, proudly announced this week that he has made final arrangements for the Duke of Connaught hoopers to visit Prince Rupert in the near future for a series with Bo-Me-Hi. This series will be a test of strength for the students and will be a deciding factor in their plans to attend the provincial High School championship tournament in the south this year. With Don Scherk still carrying his arm in a sling the students are not as strong as they have been, yet they are expected to give a very good account of themselves against the powerful Connaught squad.

The annual native tournament held here each year is drawing near and Vincent Wells, secretary of the tournament committee, advises that he has no less than 10 entries this year. This may mean running off some of has had 105 scored against him in 42 games. Break these marks down to a percentage basis and you'll find that Lumley has had a slight edge—but it is so slight as to be almost negligible.

"Chuck Rayner's record with a team which is only a half step out of the league cellar speaks for itself. He has a total of six shut-outs to his credit. Two more than either Durnan or Lumley."

DR. KERGIN IS PRESIDENT

Aero Club Has Annual Meeting

Prince Rupert Aero Club heard reports of its second year of operation, elected officers and presented a retiring officer with a life membership at its annual meeting at its headquarters at Seal Cove.

On behalf of the club, Dr. W. S. Kergin, the new president, presented Jarvis H. McLeod with a life membership in recognition of his services in helping to found the organization and carry it through its initial period. Mr. McLeod retired from the presidency at the meeting.

Membership and financial reports showed that the club is thriving. About 50 members are now enrolled. Plans are still in progress for the acquisition of a light aircraft for training flyers and pleasure flying among qualified members.

The meeting elected 10 directors who then selected from among themselves a slate of officers.

Officers and directors are: President, Dr. W. S. Kergin. Vice-President, George Stanbridge. Secretary, Mrs. Helen Marchildon. Treasurer, Bud Timmermeister.

Directors—Robert Kelsey, Bob Woods, John Findlay, J. C. Guler, Clifford Abercrombie, William McLean.

"They have their reward." Matthew 6:2

The present tense used in this sentence provides food for serious thought. That very real rewards for both good and evil actions are received in this world as well as in the next, is a fact easily verified by our own experience and observation.

Some rewards are physical and some spiritual.

Business Women Plan Bridge Party

Plans for a "telephone" bridge party to be held in March were laid at the monthly meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Civic Centre this week. The business meeting followed a dinner held in the Civic Centre dining room. Following the dinner, an international candle-light ceremony was conducted and interpreted by Mayor Nora Arnold, Honorary President of the club. The showing of three short films by Miss M. Anstey completed the program.

Rough Weather Holds Fishing to Minimum — U. S. Coastguard Cutter Here for Repairs

Beam trawling is the only fishing operation being carried on in the Prince Rupert area this week, and it has been held down to a minimum by rough seas and cold weather. Landings this week were light and were reflected directly by a smaller employment figure among fish handlers on the waterfront.

Of the dozen trawlers operating in Hecate Straits, four delivered cargoes that were smaller than their usual landings. Storms on the Straits allowed the fleet little time for fishing.

In the meantime, herring fishing in Edey Pass, which a week ago was at its peak, ceased abruptly this week when the fleet headed farther south after spending the week-end here. This week the seiners were in Kwakshua Inlet in Fitzhugh Sound, south of Namu where 15,000 tons were taken.

The catch in Kwakshua Inlet Thursday was 3,000 tons, the best day's fishing of the period. So far this winter, more than 20,000 tons have been taken from around Namu, 7,000 tons from local populations prior to Christmas. While the bulk of the quota will naturally come from the migratory populations, fish caught from local populations are included in the quota.

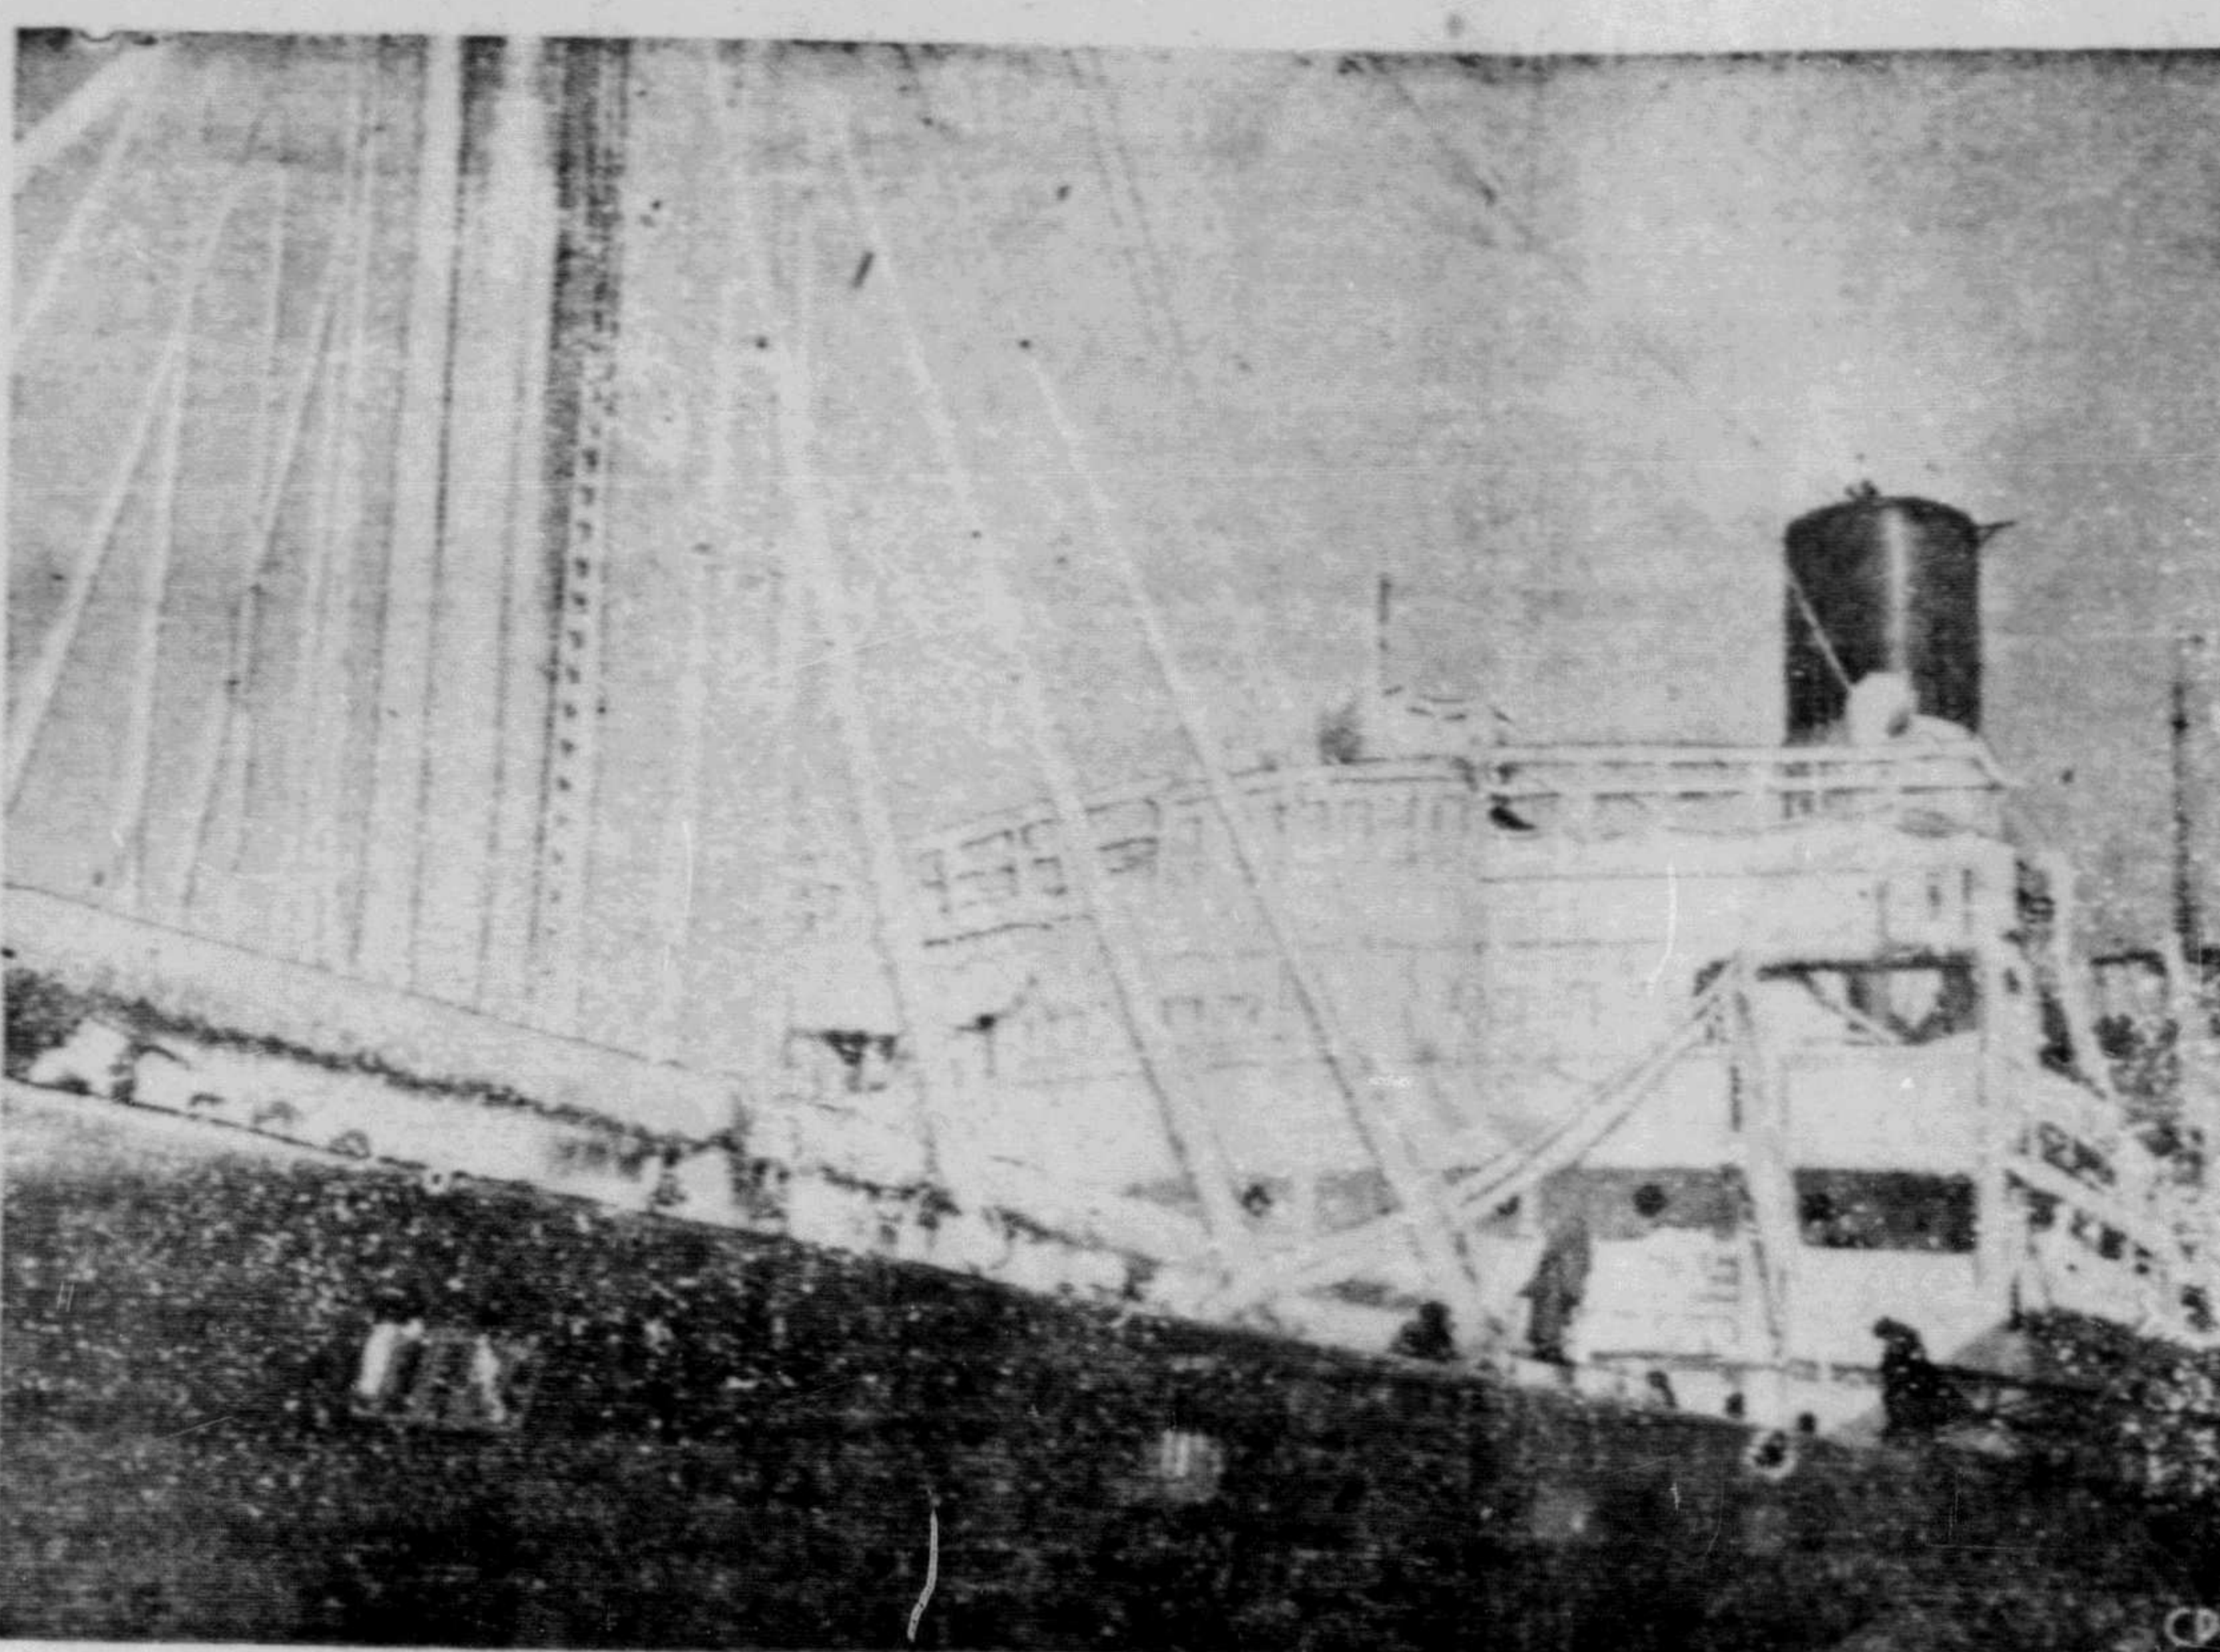

Apparently the fleet found little to attract it to the Edey Pass area, despite the presence of a large body of herring. Fishing almost in the open Hecate Straits swells made the operation difficult and some vessels sustained damage. It also would seem that most of the fishermen prefer working closer to their home port of Vancouver.

In the 10-day period in which the fleet fished Edey Pass, 18,000 tons of herring were taken, 12,000 tons short of the quota for the region.

The American Coastguard cutter White Holly was a visitor to Prince Rupert Friday for a few hours. The sleek, motor vessel tied up at the ocean dock while minor repairs were made in the engine room. The White Holly is based at Ketchikan and has taken a leading part in many rescue operations in recent years.

H.M.C.S. Chatham, Prince Rupert's naval reserve division, has a new executive officer, replacing Lieut. John Flynn, who will leave Monday for Ottawa. He is Warrant Officer Alex Gray of Esquimalt, who arrived this week. Warrant Officer Gray is a veteran navy man and has visited Prince Rupert on several occasions. He was a crew member of H.M.S. Colombo which stopped here. He visited here on several other occasions before and during the war. The city, he says, has changed considerably since he last saw it.

Reminiscences By W.J. and Reflections

The expression, "Progressive-Conservative" may appear unwieldy but, apparently, it has come to stay. There is less indication than ever, today, to sanction any change in the interests of more brevity. Well, so be it! Yet, people do like conciseness. Who, for example, would ever go back to "Co-operative Commonwealth Federation" when they can get by with C.C.F.?

Can it be that Canada's law givers are becoming too sensitive to the long arm of democracy, so-called? For it would seem that even on a day of importance, such as the opening of the House, at least half of the cabinet members did not recognize those little niceties of dress, expected on such an occasion. They wore this year an ordinary business suit and that was that. No touch of sartorial taste, or distinction! No morning coat? Gosh, no! There is such a thing as paying too much attention to what others may or may not be thinking.

In a carefree moment the other morning we said there could not be a horse found in all Prince Rupert and then there stood corrected. It seems there is a pony, and that's close enough. But don't cultivate the notion that this continent is becoming a hundred percent motor car. Jockey Club registrations, last year, recorded a total of 8,200 thoroughbreds, and 9,000 foals looked for this spring. Pleasant news!

Since 1940 to the present, according to government figures, the increase in the average personal income of all Canadians, in cash or kind, was 93.8%. But it might be possible to discover a few exceptions. We all want a living wage, paid on time. So

Now and then someone phones in or calls to ask about the date or time, of some happening and it's always a pleasure to give them the information providing it's possible, which it usually is. But pray, for the love of Michael, refrain from doing this! Within the cenotaph, standing on the Court House

Square, are copies of the Daily News and Evening Empire, placed there the morning the memorial was set up and sealed. Please do not ask the day of publication. We plain forgot and wouldn't fancy going any further anyhow.

Standard Oil Co.'s tanker B.C. Standard, Capt. H. J. Jellett, arrived in port at 11 o'clock last night and today discharged fuel at the company's local tanks. She will return to Vancouver by way of the Queen Charlotte Islands.

RED IN ROME "PEACE LINE" DRIVE—Leader of Italy's Communists, Palmiro Togliatti (left) and Marcel Cachin, a Red leader in France, exchange compliments after they spoke in the Adriano theatre in Rome, Italy. Playing up the new Communist party line peaceoffensive, they insisted that Russia does not want war. In the event of war, they said, both the Italian and French governments would be overthrown by the people.
