Soviet Continues Its Boycott At Chinese Nationalists Presence

RUSSIA QUITS (CP)—Soviet bloc delegations from the United Nations bodies today in Geneva continued presence of Chinese Nationalist representatives. They said they would spread their boycott to all United Nations organizations.

The first new walk-out occurred in the economic and financial committee's committee.

Break With John Lewis

MINERS DEFY HIS ORDER to Return to Work on Three-Day Basis

PITTSBURGH—A big group of striking western Pennsylvania soft coal miners yesterday voted to remain on strike, defying an order of John L. Lewis, who a few days ago suggested that they return to work tomorrow on a three-day work basis. The men want to work five days.

At least 22,000 United Mine Workers said they would stay at home. Local after local in the rich Fayette County fields near Uniontown, Pennsylvania, ignored pleas from their leaders that they quit their unexplained strike. Lewis did not say a word.

Paul Terreta, president of one of the United Mine Workers locals, said later that members were disgusted with the present situation and want a five-day week instead of the three-day week ordered by Lewis. He said the miners are staying out so the situation can be brought to a head.

Another miner said: "Regardless of what Lewis says now, there'll be no contract no work. The miners want a showdown."

Rescuers Digging For Buried Miner

MAHANOY CITY, Pennsylvania—Twenty workers spurred by the news of one trapped coal miner today, made a renewed effort to reach his brother still entombed by a rockslide in a gallery here. John Burda, 30, was brought to the surface Sunday after being trapped for forty hours. Further down the slope is his brother, Eddie, 25. Rescuers held out little hope that he was still alive.

NO FLASH VICTORY—Prince Rupert Jets Are Clear Masters Of Smart Aggregation From U.B.C.

Prince Rupert Jets proved quite decidedly on Saturday night that their first victory over University of British Columbia Chiefs was not of the flash in the pan variety. They won the second game of their two-game series by a wide margin with a 59 to 35 score. This gave them the series by 106 points to the Chiefs two game total of 78.

Coach Angus Macpherson put Ray Spring to hold the high-scoring Raptis in check for the evening and he did so very effectively. Raptis scoring only 5 points, while Spring himself scored 12, sharing top scoring honors with Don Scherk, who made 12 and played a first class game.

The Jets took the lead right from the first, ending up the quarter 7 points ahead at 16-9. At the half their lead was whittled down a bit as the Chiefs out-

THE WEATHER

(Synopsis)

Extremely low temperatures in the British Columbia interior this morning included 72 below at Lac La Hache, coldest spot on the continent. Kamloops set a new record at 57 below, lowering the former record set in 1909 by 6 degrees. A major storm plume in the ocean 1800 miles west of Vancouver holds out a possible return to milder weather in the Vancouver area later this week but for the next two days it will continue cold. Snow flurries are expected in the southwestern part of the province today and Tuesday. The northern sections will remain clear and extremely cold.

(Forecast)

North Coast Region—Mostly clear but occasionally cloudy with snow flurries off the mainland shore. Continuing very cold. Winds north east (15 miles per hour) except some mainland inlets northeast (30 miles per hour). Lows tonight and highs tomorrow at Port Hardy, 15 and 25; Sandspit, 16 and 24; Prince Rupert, 10 and 20.

United States Moves Official Personnel Out Of Communist China

WASHINGTON D. C. (CP)—In contempt of American protests, Chinese Communists Saturday took over the United States consulate office in Peiping. The State Department immediately ordered all its official personnel out of Red China. It is reported to have acted with President Truman's direct approval.

Two calls were answered by city ambulance over the weekend. From his residence on the Co-op road, William McLeod was taken to General Hospital Saturday at 4:15 p.m. At 10 a.m. Sunday, Albert Bartlett, was transferred to General Hospital from his home at 329 Seventh Avenue East.

The State Department blasted at the Communists' latest anti-American move as "flagrant violation of our treaty rights and of the most elementary standards of elementary usage and conduct."

The first Bible from the Cambridge University Press was published in 1629.

VETERAN NEWSPAPER MAN—Frank Burd, on his 60th birthday anniversary, marks completion of 47 years with The Vancouver Daily Province. Fellow employees gave him 30 roses. Mr. Burd started as advertising manager and ended his active newspaper career as president of The Province. He now is an adviser to the younger men carrying on his work. (C.P. Photo)

62 Below At Burns Lake

As far as local reports are concerned, Burns Lake appears to have hit the low mark for cold weather over the week-end. A local business concern received word from its branch there today that the thermometer had hit 62 below. Meantime, the official weather report for the day showed Lac La Hache to be the coldest spot in British Columbia with 72 below.

Cold Takes Death Toll

VANCOUVER—Winter continues to hold British Columbia in an icy grip. Record and near record low temperatures have taken three lives.

At Lilloet Mrs. F. Minnick was found dead in an unheated cabin. She had frozen to death.

At the week-end an aged woman was found dead in a fuel-empty suburban home at Chilliwack after the mother had to be carried to hospital on a stretcher when a taxi was snowbound.

Over on Vancouver Island Ladysmith is running short of water following the freezing up of the reservoir and Mayor Leonard Ryan has made an appeal for conservation of dwindling supply.

Water is also running low at Duncan. Gas was cut off in three sections of Greater Victoria where kindergarten and primary grade children have been sent home from school.

General "Hap" Arnold Dies

SONOMA, Cal.—General Henry P. (Hap) Arnold, who directed the United States air war against Axis powers, died at his ranch home here yesterday. He was 63 years of age and a veteran aviator.

The wartime commander of the Army air force succumbed to a heart condition. He had been ill since 1944. It was not until June 1946, however, that he allowed himself to be retired to his 50-acre ranch, 40 miles north of San Francisco.

Arnold was one of four five-star United States generals. The others are George Marshall, Douglas MacArthur and Dwight F. Eisenhower.

Terrific Weapon May Now Be Developed By United States Gov't

WASHINGTON D. C. (CP)—The Truman administration is nearing a momentous decision on whether to put the hydrogen atom to work toward development of a super bomb far surpassing even the latest atomic weapons.

The project has taken on urgency from the disquieting knowledge that Russia may also be working desperately toward the same goal.

The whole subject of the hydrogen bomb is surrounded by deep official silence. Energy released would be twice that of uranium fission.

Plane Strip Considered

Local Committee Working on Possibility of Field At Tugwell Island

Proposed landing strip on Tugwell Island, the only feasible location for an airport to serve Prince Rupert and district, was considered by the airport committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce during an informal meeting recently with Norton Youngs, chairman of air transportation for the senior Chamber of Commerce, and Phil Linzey, secretary of the senior Chamber.

An airport committee with Ed Williams, agent for the C. P. A. here as chairman was organized some time ago to assist the Chamber of Commerce effort to erect an airfield for wheeled aircraft. The move resulted in a visit from W. R. May, connected with C. P. A. in Vancouver, who was here to locate satisfactory location for an airfield.

An explanation of the geographical features of Tugwell Island was given by Mr. Norton Youngs who stated the island was an Indian Reserve controlled by the Metlakatla tribe. He informed the group that necessary steps had been taken by E. T. Applewhite M. P. in Ottawa to see that the island can be obtained at a reasonable price, when and if the occasion arose to obtain the ground for an airport.

There are three possible methods of runway construction on Tugwell. After close study and deliberation, the group concluded the most practical landing strip would run down the west side of the island. Its length, the maximum of the three, would be 7000 feet. This particular strip was chosen for two reasons: first, no obstructions for instrument approach and landings from either north or south exist and, secondly, the maximum length of the runway would accommodate modern four engine machines that may some day land at Prince Rupert regularly, providing the airport is secured.

Other two strips are across the north end, a length of 4,100 feet and down the east side of the island at a distance of 5,000 feet.

In the latter two cases, instrument approach would be hazardous due to the mountains.

The southeast approach would be clear of obstructions.

Down the east side of the island, the approach from the north would also be difficult due to the mountains in close proximity off the end of the runway. Clear landing would prevail from the southern approach.

If plans for an airport are okayed, clearing of the landing strip would entail three weeks work, the committee agreed. The island has a small amount of muskeg and sufficient fill-in close at hand to make a solid foundation.

In regard to service between the proposed airport and the office here, the committee stated that the time element would be much the same as from downtown Vancouver to Sea Island which is a distance of twelve miles.

Three Missing Gillnet Boat Men Safe After Trying Trek

After three days of trudging along the ice-clad and desolate shores of Burke Channel heading for the nearest known human habitation, a homesteader's cabin at lonely Kwatna Inlet, three men from two gillnet boats, which had been missing for eight days on a projected trip from Namu cannery to Bella Bella, were sighted and picked up late Saturday afternoon.

by the B. C. Packers search boat, the packer Tahsis Chief.

They were speeded back to Namu where, at last reports to the provincial police, they were resting comfortably over the week-end, little the worse for their arduous experience.

Manager M. M. McLean of Namu promptly reported the safety of the men by radio-telephone to Inspector F. B. Woods-Johnson of the British Columbia Police, enabling the calling off of a search which had included two days of reconnaissance flying by a Dakota Aircraft of the Royal Canadian Air Force from Vancouver. However, it was the Tahsis

Chief which located the three men and took them aboard. They had not eaten for three days and were suffering somewhat from the effects of cold weather exposure. They had beached and abandoned their two boats which were traveling together, when ice closed in around them. It was not far from Kwatna Inlet, their destination for shelter, that they were sighted by the search boat. Ice conditions had been hampering the Tahsis in her search but she kept resolute on and can very likely be given the credit for saving three lives.

The three men were George Robson, Leonard Crowe and Marshall Cole, all of Namu.

Talking Weather - Who Isn't?

WE HAVE BOOSTED Prince Rupert's weather so often and, indeed, have become so used to our superfine meteorological conditions here...

Perhaps, some of us in the older brackets whose blood is not as thick as it used to be and who are not so ambitious about vigorous outside exercise to keep us warm and would rather find our heat from external rather than internal sources...

But, frozen water pipes and fuel bills notwithstanding this is a great winter we are having. As long as we are able to keep warm, and we are not unmindful of those who from circumstances of one sort of another may be finding it a hard thing to do, we might consider our weather lot in comparison with many other less blessed communities...

That might be a comforting thought to keep up our spirits until (and we hope it won't be too long) those skies over in the southeast commence to cloud up and bring us that gentle precipitation and those refreshing zephyrs which we are so used to and which we really don't appreciate enough...

HOUSES AND HOMES

VIRTUALLY ALL CANADIANS will be interested in work now being undertaken by the National Research Council in an effort to devise new, inexpensive methods of constructing warm houses...

The strained analogy is used to make a specific point. Housing schemes subsidized by Dominion authorities here have unquestionably helped to relieve a very severe shelter emergency. But limitations in design have created a certain sameness that frequently fails to appeal to feminine eyes...

Our suggestion to the research authorities is that not only should cheapness and warmth exercise their attention. Design should also be given considerable thought. The young people of today frequently will accept any kind of accommodation which is within their means and meets normal standards of comfort...

The Annual Meeting of Shareholders The Royal Bank of Canada

Programme for Trade Recovery Calls for Exchange Stabilizer

Canada's reputation, achievement and strength offset anxieties caused by world conditions—development of resources, increased population and foreign trade needed

A five-point programme for world recovery was a feature of James Muir's Presidential address at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders of The Royal Bank of Canada.

Reviewing international currency experience during the 19th and 20th centuries, Mr. Muir referred to the stability of sterling before 1914. "Several important factors contributed to the enduring dependability of the sterling standard."

Combine Past, Present "In meeting any emergency we must combine the lessons of the past with inventiveness and imagination in the present. In the past, as in any relatively normal period, responsibility for international economic stability was divided between the creditor and debtor countries of the world."

Mr. Muir discussed the Canadian economy in 1949 under four main heads. "(1) Canada's reputation, (2) Canada's record, (3) Canada's weakness, and (4) Canada's strength."

Our suggestion to the research authorities is that not only should cheapness and warmth exercise their attention. Design should also be given considerable thought. The young people of today frequently will accept any kind of accommodation which is within their means and meets normal standards of comfort...

President Advocates Five Steps Toward World Trade Revival

Devaluation has at least broken the log jam; but we must take immediate advantage of this initial break in the barriers to trade which have been thrown up by overvalued exchange rates and rigidly held in place by government controls.

The steps, in my opinion, are as follows: First, nations of the world should re-learn a basic lesson of the first world war, and settle their war debts...

Second, for a certain fixed period, we should let the market determine rates of exchange, as it did immediately after the first world war...

Third, at the end of this period of free-market valuation, we should stabilize currencies by reference to the rates which the free-market has determined...

Fourth, having stabilized exchange rates at the level decreed by the free market, the world must adopt some device to keep them that way...

Canada's Weakness. Mr. Muir referred in some detail to Canada's export position and her vulnerability to the current unbalance in international markets.

Mr. Muir referred to the danger of losing established markets in Europe but "the continued failure of our overseas customers to earn sufficient dollars, through trade and investment rather than through gifts from the dollar area may force us to realign our trade."

The most favorable development in our world trade would be an increase in our imports from Europe and especially from the United Kingdom, or increased dollar earnings by these countries in their trade with the United States.

"To attempt this shift through further curbs on imports from the United States would be a move backward to more rigid exchange controls with all the disadvantages of such a move for ourselves and for the world economy. Fortunately, the recent devaluations have provided some incentive for precisely the shift we have in mind without an increase in controls..."

"The plain truth is that Canada's domestic prosperity depends upon our handling of a complicated foreign-trade problem. And in the final analysis both our domestic prosperity and the future of world trade itself will depend upon a concerted international effort by all nations to return along the path we outlined earlier; that is, along the path to multilateral world trade unhampered by exchange restrictions, bilateral pacts, and all the paraphernalia of government control."

General Manager Reports Assets, Deposits Are Up

Mr. T. H. Atkinson, General Manager, reviewed the 1949 Annual Report and stated that the bank's assets had risen by $112,498,000 during the year to $2,334,985,000 and that liquid assets constituted 76.27% of the total liabilities to the public.

Improved Facilities Referring to the provision of new premises, Mr. Atkinson said: "Since our last report eleven new branch offices have been constructed at points where facilities were inadequate and where extension of existing premises was impracticable..."

Service To Traders Mr. Atkinson stressed the role played by the Royal Bank's 62 branches abroad in facilitating foreign trade. "For well over a quarter of a century we have operated an extensive chain of our own branches in foreign countries..."

Proud of Staff A warm tribute to the bank staff was paid by Mr. Atkinson. "There's nothing this Bank is prouder of than the quality of its personnel. Within every officer, I believe, there is a fine sense of pride in this great institution..."

TO CONTINUE AS A.E.C. HEAD—Chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, David E. Lilienthal, is shown after a conference with President Truman. Lilienthal, whose resignation, became effective on Jan. 1, 1950, indicated that he may continue his duties for a short period beyond Jan. 1 until the chief executive picks his successor.

wealth. Against this prospect the few hundred millions of U.S. dollars that measure our present dollar difficulties pale to insignificance. "This prospect of economic independence does not mean a reduction in trade. We do not have to turn our backs on the interdependence of nations that accompanies international commerce."

Present Weather Will Continue

In spite of a sharp north wind this morning, milder weather prevailed in Prince Rupert over the week-end although no great change is expected.

Sunday afternoon, when temperatures ranged between 15 and 20 above, and a clear sky enabled the sun to shine warmly, Morse Creek became covered with skates, hockey sticks and pucks.

The future outlook, said the weatherman, is for clear skies with northeasterly winds at 20 miles per hour. Temperatures will be about 11 above during today and Tuesday afternoon.

While temperatures here did not drop below the zero mark, Lac La Hache had the unofficial distinction of being the coldest spot on the continent when the mercury plunged to 72 below over the week-end.

Phone Engineer Is City Visitor

In Prince Rupert surveying the city's telephone system needs is F. J. Bartholomew, electrical engineer with the Electric Power Equipment Ltd. of Vancouver.

Mr. Bartholomew, also a representative for the English General Electric Co., manufacturer of automatic switchboard and telephone equipment, arrived in the city unexpectedly Saturday.

Frank Carter, M.L.A. for Atlin, arrived at the end of the week from his home on the Naas River and sailed last night on the Chilcotin for Vancouver where he will pay a business visit before proceeding to Victoria for the session of the Legislature opening next month.

TO CONTINUE AS A.E.C. HEAD—Chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, David E. Lilienthal, is shown after a conference with President Truman...

"Canada's scarcest natural resource is her working population. Here, as with our forests, mines, and oil fields, we must practise conservation through the wise and economical use of what we have. But to parallel our new discoveries and to ensure their full and efficient use we must embark on a bold policy of immigration. In this way we can increase the quantity of the one resource that is in short supply. This way we can remove the one factor that sets a present limit to the growth of our natural wealth."

CLAIMS THEORY BEFORE Einstein—Amateur Scientist William G. Graves (above), 32, Marlboro, Mass., told newsmen that he had developed the same gravitational theory as Dr. Albert Einstein. Graves said that one of the important points of the theory is that gravily is a substance and that in the "mass," it travels faster than light.

JET-PROPELLED "HOT ROD"—The very latest in "hot rods" is this jet-propelled, 15-year-old auto, remodelled by John R. Mitchell of Grand Prairie, Texas. A rear sign warns autoists and pedestrians not to get too close when the jet is in operation. The car, driven with a conventional motor in cities and congested areas, costs about 2-3 cents a mile to operate.

PRINCE RUPERT JETS

Referee Comadina and Dominato had a busy evening, calling 29 fouls on the U.B.C. boys and 24 on the home team.
As in the first game Rupert outscored U.B.C. on foul shots, making 17 of 32, in comparison to the Chiefs 11 for 27. Ray Spring and Raptis left the floor in the final quarter for five fouls, the fifth one for each of them being on each other, when a double foul was called.

Once again the fans were pleased with the Jets showing as a team unit. Each game they show to better advantage, working the ball in nicely, and sifting through the defense smoothly for the lay-ups. Joe Davis' snagging the rebounds more frequently, and the offense was clicking, particularly so in the first quarter. The Chiefs do not play any better brand of ball than is seen in the local league twice each week, and the fans are missing some fine entertainment, if they only turn out for these exhibition games. One thing seems certain Prince Rupert Jets will be worthy contenders for this year's senior basketball championship.

Line-Ups

Chiefs—Raptis 5, Wollaston 8, Hindmarsh 4, Bertram 2, Mitchell 5, Briggs 2, Brown 2, Desautels 4, Gutteridge 3. Total 35.
Jets—Holkestad 7, Arney 5, Flatten 1, Davis 6, Beynon 7, D. Scherk 12, Morgan 2, Spring 12, S. Scherk 1, Samberg 2. Total 59.

Junior League

Rupert Hotel and Kinsmen played in the Junior League preliminary game at the Rupert Hotel for the lay-ups. Joe Davis' snagging the rebounds more frequently, and the offense was clicking, particularly so in the first quarter. The Chiefs do not play any better brand of ball than is seen in the local league twice each week, and the fans are

SPORTS

Rupert Going To Smithers' Spiel

One and possibly two curling rinks from Prince Rupert will travel to Smithers when the Smithers Curling Club holds its twenty-third annual bonspiel, in the fine new four-ice sheet curling rink which has just been opened there. Dr. L. M. Grigne and R. S. Collinson are taking the lead in organizing local curlers for rinks to make the trip.

made 9, and Forman racked up 7 for the Hotel team. It was a clean game, referees Large and Hartwig calling only 8 fouls on the winners and 15 on the losers.
Rupert Hotel—Morrison 1, Sather 15, Marki 2, Stacey 4, B. McFarlane, A. McFarlane, Donaldson, Forman 7. Total 29.
Kinsmen—White 3, H. Blackaby 4, Peneff 2, Letourneau 2, A. Blackaby, McIntosh, McKay 9, W. Blackaby. Total 20.

During recent years, Prince Rupert has been pretty consistently represented.

As usual, there is a splendid offering of fine trophies for a large list of major events. For years, the Smithers bonspiel has been noted for the keenness and enthusiasm of its play. In fact, the annual bonspiel there attracts curlers from far and near and is one of the year's major events in the interior railway town.

Tom Wark is president of the Smithers Curling Club with Mrs. I. Bannister, secretary, and Mrs. H. Haftner, treasurer.

The bonspiel committee consists of Dick Heggie, Art Simpson and E. Butchart.

Mushing From Alaska - Maine

Cecil (Mush) Moore, driving a dog team outfit from Fairbanks to Lewiston in the State of Maine, was, when last heard of, in the State of Maine and coming along all right. Several extra cold snaps had been experienced.

One day, with the temperature 50 below zero, it was necessary to have warmth and shelter all day, for there was danger of the dogs having frosted lungs.

There was a point near the Swift River, along the B.C.-Yukon border, where the temperature dropped to 73 below. Moore and his dogs avoided the locality.

Alcoholics Anonymous— Drinking Can Be Stopped And New Life Started By Joining

By ED COSTELLO (In Trail Times)

When the tall, soft spoken young man said he was from Alcoholics Anonymous the other morning, I thought:

"Ye gods, don't tell me they've heard about Saturday night, too!"

It transpired that if they had, they weren't mentioning it. He didn't stick an application for under my nose. (That isn't the way they operate, I was to learn later.)

He just wanted to know if I knew that Alcoholics Anonymous was forming a group to continue the work of a movement that has brought new life and new hope to thousands of "incurable" alcoholics.

I was interested.

Alcoholics Anonymous, eh? Alcoholics Anonymous, we flip ones had usually called them.

We made an appointment for last night today, while there is much about "A.A." that I don't know, I am convinced of the fact that here is a worthwhile movement that can be investigated by any alcoholic who sincerely wants to stop drinking and who just isn't able to stop drinking and who isn't able to make it alone.

Two Who One

Last night I met the two originators of the local unit, (there are 1500 in B. C., mostly in Vancouver) and after talking to them for three hours I came away impressed and even exhilarated. I was exhilarated perhaps because that is a feeling that is contagious. I had talked to two people who were honestly and sincerely happy. They were alive again after long years of acute alcoholism. They were happy that they had been able to overcome the horrible, inner clawing that drives them to drink, makes them slaves to John Barleycorn. They weren't supermen. They were just ordinary people, the type we meet on the street. One of them, as a matter of fact was a woman.

Both had a "glow" on, but it wasn't from liquor. It was the result of the new life that membership in Alcoholics Anonymous brings. The man had been a chronic "drunk" for 20 years. Right now he hasn't had a drink for four months and he's reasonably confident that he won't ever have to have another as long as he attempts to live up to the precepts as laid down by "A.A." He's in the process of "drying up." Liquor has taken its toll of this man's health, perhaps, but he's getting it back. His eyes are clear. He eats better every day. But more than that his conscience is clear and his tongue is no longer thick. He no longer has any reason to drink. He has new friends and a new outlook on life and is one of the most interesting, intelligent men I have talked to for a long time.

The woman's glow was for the same reason. It's over seven months since she had a drink. It hasn't been easy giving up liquor, but she found, through Alcoholics Anonymous the strength and the desire to win the battle. She has found new happiness in her home and family.

It was she who brought back the zeal and spirit that is responsible for the forming of the Trail group of "A.A." She had spent two months in Vancouver with them, getting hold of herself. She knows how it has for "A.A." membership. That is an honest desire to stop drinking. No one will ever try to force the "A.A." way of life on anyone. It must be wanted.

There are no dues. The meetings combine social activities along with discussions on the teachings of "A.A." Meetings are usually held on Saturday night, the dangerous night in the life of most alcoholics.

I was impressed with what I learned of it. It's a system of give and take. The alcoholic gets a "lift" by helping someone along the road to recovery. If an alcoholic wants help, it will be forthcoming from an alcoholic at any time of the day or night. That helping hand given by the "A.A." member is part of the debt to society he is paying off.

No Cockiness
In both cases it was plain to see there had been helpful understanding from the mate. The woman's husband, like the wife of the man who was an alcoholic is a strong supporter of and believer in A. A. Neither of them is or has been an alcoholic, but they wouldn't have a drink any more than would their mates.

The thing perhaps that impressed me most about the two "A.A." was their complete humility. There's nothing cocky about them, nothing flip or smart—just a feeling of gratitude, complete and self-effacing, and a desire to lend a helping hand to others.

Alcoholics Anonymous isn't a "cure". It's a way of life. The precepts of the movement are applied to every-day living. It's not like going away for a "cure" at an institution. And there are no drugs in the treatment, for it is not physical but mental therapy.

True in some cases it might be necessary to have drugs administered in order to effect a long enough period of sobriety to allow the alcoholic to understand completely; just what he must aim at through participation in Alcoholics Anonymous. But after that he's on his own, so to speak.

Drugs, I was told are like liquor. Liquor is a "crutch". The "A.A." way of life helps the alcoholic to walk alone, without the help of the "crutch".

One of the first things I asked was:

"How does one know when one is an alcoholic?"

They both laughed. "You'll know, if you black out while on a party you're well on the way. If you find you have to have a drink the next morning to sober upon, it's got you. If you just cannot meet any sort of a situation without having a drink to bolster your courage or steady your nerves, and if you cannot stem the desire for liquor and go to the extremes of hiding it where it will be available in times of need, you're an alcoholic."

The first "A.A." member was cured in 1934. More than half its members have never relapsed despite the fact many had been considered incurable.

Their approach to the problem of drinking is based on their own experience what they have learned from medicine and psychiatry and upon spiritual principles common to all creeds. It is not however, a religion. Belief in God helps. I was told But their "God" can be the acceptance of the fact that there is a supreme power.

Shattering Illness
They think of alcoholism as an illness; an obsession of the mind coupled with an "allergy" in the body. It is a shattering sickness—physical, emotional and spiritual. There is only one requirement

Alter Guild—Mrs. Dover, Mrs. Giggley.

Mrs. West gave her report on the year's activities and the financial report, as presented by the secretary, showed that the past year had been very successful. The church has now been 21 months without a minister and it is hoped that the vacancy will very soon be filled.

Word had been received that Mrs. T. J. Marsh, widow of the late Canon Marsh, had fallen and broken a bone in her shoulder. She is living with her daughter Etanda. Mrs. Jim Faragher in Montreal. A token of remembrance will be sent to her by the W. A. members.

The next meeting will be the Valentine tea meeting when each member takes a small article to be sold for 25c, the proceeds going towards the Thanksgiving Fund. It will be held at the home of Mrs. West on February 9th.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. R. Thomson at the close of the meeting.

First Wedding Of 1950 At Terrace

TERRACE—The first of the 1950 weddings took place on Thursday evening last when Rev. Percy Mallett united in marriage at the new United Church, Margaret Julia Mile and George Russell Homer.

in a white satin gown with net yoke edged with beads, and panier style skirt, and fingertip veil held in place with a Queen Anne headress the bride carried a beautiful bouquet of crimson rosebuds and white carnations. She was given in marriage by her father, Andrew Mile.

Matron of Honor was the elder sister of the bride, Mrs. Lillian Houghland, who wore blue organdy, shot puff sleeves, frilled, bustle effect skirt and a blue veil headress. Her flowers were yellow chrysanthemums.

A younger sister, Sarah Mile, was bridesmaid and she wore a gown of blue Swiss embroidered voile trimmed with frilled taffeta and small shoulder cape to match. Her headress was of blue net and her bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Oddfellows' Hall where, attired in blue crepe, Mrs. Andrew Mile, mother of the bride, received the guests.

A cold supper was served and the wedding cake was cut with due ceremony by the bride, with the groom's assistance.

A toast to the King was proposed by Norman McNabb to the bride by Robert Squires and to the bride's mother by Don Hull.

Later, a dance was held in the hall, where, dancing to the strains of the local orchestra continued till early hours of the morning.

200 Million Dollars Lost Yearly In Canada to Colds

According to recent surveys, colds cause more loss of working time than any other disease. These studies indicate that colds will cost Canadians over $20,000,000 this year in lost wages. It was also found that most of us have between three and four colds a year which cause us to lose a total of more than 50 million working days.

To reduce the misery caused by these colds, more and more Canadian men and women are turning to Vicks VapoRub. They know that VapoRub brings quick, comforting relief from the painful distress of colds.

They know that even as they rub Vicks VapoRub on throat, chest and back that VapoRub's soothing medicinal vapors are penetrating deep into congested bronchial tubes to soothe irritation, relieve annoying congestion and ease coughing spasms. Best of all, VapoRub keeps working for hours to bring really comforting relief from the misery of a cold, sore throat or bronchitis. Be sure to keep Vicks VapoRub handy—buy a jar today.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Building of a paper mill at Edmonton, to cost ten million dollars is to commence in July. Its capacity will be two hundred tons of newsprint daily. When the late Frank Oliver carted the little plant of what was to become the Bulletin across the plains about 80 years ago, one of his worries was where to find enough paper to keep him going. Fort Edmonton was a long way from anywhere that far back.

Frost, if its keen enough, puts a crimp in your pay cheque for it means more coal, more oil, more clothes, more everything. "I know this month is going to cost me about $35 extra," remarked a local business man with a "but what's to be done about it?" expression on a vexed face.

A newspaper that doesn't make you mad once in a while isn't worth the price of subscription.

Sometimes you hear it said that had there been no war there would not have been a Skeena River highway or a Civic Centre and no certainty of a cellulose plant. Or suppose Prince Rupert itself had never been heard of?

Bill Bailey, old soldier entered hospital late last week. Old soldier is right. Grizzled, but still erect, he can tell you about India when Rudyard Kipling's "Barrack Room Ballads" pictured T. Atkins in a way he'd never been described before. But Bill is getting along and that's true of a lot of us.

There is more than one way to feel warm during Prince Rupert's longest and coldest spell of frosty weather. One is to increase underclothing and remain handy to a hot stove. Another is to go skiing on Mount Hays. The latter allows no time to think of anything except skiing.

Mrs. C. C. King and Mrs. Emil Haugland were passengers on Prince Rupert on Sunday morning's train.

Very Cold At Terrace

TERRACE—Although the official low temperature of the prevailing cold wave was 18 below on Saturday morning in Terrace, other spots in the district have been much colder. At Kitsum-Kalum the thermometer went down to 39 below. Until Saturday, a raging gale blew for five days in Terrace, but, past the Catholic church there was no wind although a greater drop in temperature. It was reported to be 25 degrees below near the H. King farm. This has led several citizens to believe that, the wind, though biting, tempered the intense cold and thus the difference in temperatures in places a half-a-mile apart.

Although the schools were open, very few of the children turned out.

With a clear sky and brilliant sunshine, no hope of relief seems near.

SHIPS and WATERFRONT

Union steamer Chalcotin, Capt. Harry McLean, returned to port at 1:30 yesterday afternoon from southerly Queen Charlotte Island points and sailed at 9 p.m. for Butedale, Namu, Westview and Vancouver.

With fair-sized list of passengers and considerable freight, Union steamer Coquitlam, Capt. William McCombe, arrived in port at 6:30 last evening from Vancouver and waypoints and sailed at midnight for Alice Arm, Stewart and other northern points whence she will return here tomorrow to sail south at 1:30.

Queer Ideas About North

TERRACE—The Terrace youth are chucking over the stories brought back from the south by Gerald Toop who recently returned from the Boys' Parliament in Victoria. Totally ignorant of the location of Terrace and even Prince Rupert, some of the boys there were eager to know if Gerald travelled by dog sled and they were very keen to know all about the Eskimos. They were amazed to know that there are planes, trains and cars here. Even in these times it hardly seems possible for children in B. C. not to know how the other half live.
