RUSSIA READYING TO TAKE ALL GERMANY

Would Seize Berlin and Rest of Nation by Force

Meanwhile Western Envoys Are Leaving Moscow As Conference Finally Bogs Down

BERLIN (CP)—An anti-Communist newspaper here today claimed that Communists in eastern Germany were arming illegal shock troops for an eventual attempt to seize power in Berlin and all Germany by force. Montags Echo, organ of the rightist Liberal Democratic party, charges that shock troops, composed of armed civilians, are being organized as auxiliaries of the Communist-controlled eastern German police.

Meanwhile Great Britain and United States announced today that envoys to the four-power talks at Moscow on the Berlin crisis will leave Moscow tomorrow for Paris where the United Nations General Assembly's autumn session is opening. The talks were reported yesterday to have bogged down over technicalities on conditions demanded by the western governments.

SHIP AGROUND AND ON FIRE

HALIFAX, N.S.—The 4,000-ton Greek freighter Orion is aground and burning on Flosser Island at the entrance of the Strait of Belle Isle, the search and rescue division of the Royal Canadian Air Force reported here today. Meagre radio information reaching here said that the crew had abandoned the ship but it was not known how many were on board or if any were lost.

HALIFAX, N.S.—Residents have complained to Halifax police of vandals causing damage to houses under construction in western and northern parts of the city. Unknown persons have been reported causing damage to plumbing installations.

QUEVILLE FISCAL PROGRAM OKAY

PARIS (CP)—The French National Assembly early today approved the financial program of Premier Henri Queuille by a vote of 291 to 251 after an all night session.

Was Rescued From Storm

Packer Ruth B. Nearly Perished in Hecate Straits

Two Canadian Fishing Co. vessels joined in rescuing a disabled boat in storm-lashed Hecate Strait Saturday night saving five men from possible death as their craft rode precariously at anchor with its engine broken down. Towed into port here at noon Sunday was the 61-foot Ruth B. operated by Francis Millard Packing Co., which had broken down half way across Hecate Strait 24 hours earlier. She arrived under tow of the Canadian Fishing Co. packer Cape Naden.

The Ruth B.'s crew of five told their rescuers that they doubted if they could have stayed afloat much longer in the storm which developed late Saturday. The vessel had ridden at anchor until the Cape Flattery, another Canadian Fishing Co. packer, put a line aboard at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

The Ruth B. radioed a distress call Saturday afternoon and the Cape Flattery, Capt. Elias Howse put out from White Rocks to her rescue. At the same time, the Cape Naden, Capt. Charles Johnson left Skidegate with the same objective.

The Ruth B. was 26 miles offshore, about midway between the mainland and the Islands. The Cape Flattery arrived first and managed to get a line on the Ruth B. despite the high sea that was running. She towed the disabled boat to White Rocks where they awaited the arrival of the Cape Naden.

At White Rocks, the Cape Naden took over and the Cape Flattery prepared to continue her trip to the Islands. The Cape Naden brought the Ruth B. to port here.

Premier Drew In Leadership Race

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Drew for Ontario today announced he will allow his name to go before the Progressive Conservative convention meeting in Ottawa September 30-October 2 to choose a national leader to succeed John Bracken.

MANY REFUGEES COME TO CANADA

GENEVA—The international refugee organization plans to move 60,000 refugees to Canada by the end of next June. This was revealed in budget estimates.

BODY FOUND IN SKEENA SLOUGH

A body, believed to be that of Gordon Kelly, about 45, of Prince Rupert, who has been missing since he fell from a wharf at Inverness on August 28, was discovered Sunday in the Skeena Slough between Cassiar and Sunnyside canneries. The body was discovered on the beach by Chris Clayton, of Sunnyside who reported it to the provincial police at Port Edward. It was brought here Sunday. An inquest is expected to be held this week.

Asks For UN Force

Secretary Trygve Lie Would Forestall Further Bernadotte Tragedies

PARIS (CP)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie of the United Nations will demand urgently the formation of a United Nations guard to forestall such acts as the assassination last week of Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator in Palestine.

As soon as the fifty-eight delegates assemble tomorrow, Lie will ask for a constabulary of from 1000 to 5000 men backed by "full authority of the United Nations."

SCOWS ADRIFT IN 42-MILE SUNDAY GALE

Most violent storm of the season lashed Prince Rupert early Sunday bearing rain on a wind which reached a peak velocity of 42 miles an hour and drove two scows from their moorage piling them on the northern shore of the harbor.

The storm subsided Sunday but bore down again early this morning with lesser force as a continuing prelude to the usually unsettled equinoctial season.

Rainfall for the 24 hour period which ended at 4 a.m. Sunday was .78 inches, carried on squalls and wind gusts from the southeast which shook houses but otherwise did no damage ashore.

Major casualty was a pile-driver scow belonging to the Skeena River Pile Driving Co. which broke loose from its moorings at the dry dock early Sunday morning and piled up on the north shore opposite the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage. It was accompanied by another scow owned by the dry dock, which beached nearby.

Both scows were returned on Sunday and returned to the dry dock. Damage in both cases was slight although the pile driver scow filled with water on the beach. It was brought back by Armour Salvage Co.

Highest wind velocity was reached at 2:30 Sunday morning when gusts reached a force of 42 miles an hour. Fishermen whose boats were tied up at wharves along the waterfront reported that their vessels rode out the blow without damage.

Wind reached a peak force of 24 miles an hour between 6 and 7 o'clock this morning, and the rainfall for the 24 hour period ending at 4 a.m. was .55 inches.

TREASURES TO POLAND

OTTAWA (CP)—An authoritative source said last night that the Polish government had been allowed to take out of Canada a portion of the famous Czacow treasures which were brought to the Dominion for safe-keeping during the Second World War.

The source said, however, that these were not the treasures over which heated controversy had raged during the last three years.

HEADQUARTERS TO SINGAPORE

LONDON—The Admiralty announces that headquarters of the Pacific Fleet will be transferred from Hong Kong to Singapore. The commander in chief is Admiral Sir Denis Boyd. This change is being made in order to facilitate inter-service co-operation in the Far East.

VESSEL SINKS—MAN DROWNS

Kenneth Cecil Loses His Life at Porpoise Harbor

A gale which whipped up the waters of Porpoise Harbor was responsible for the death at Port Edward Sunday of Kenneth Cecil, 45-year-old Alyanish man, who was drowned when his small gillnet boat sank at a cannery wharf while he was asleep on board.

The gillnet boat sank after it had been crushed by other boats moored alongside as they bobbed in the swell set up by the 42-mile an hour southeast gale which came in gusts from the southeast early Sunday morning.

Efforts to refloat the boat were begun immediately and it was not until the craft had been beached that it was learned that Cecil had been on board. Apparently he had been asleep in the cabin when it sank.

The body was brought to Prince Rupert. An inquest has been set for Tuesday afternoon.

NO 'FOREIGNERS,' SAYS MAGISTRATE

TORONTO—Magistrate (former Brigadier) O. M. Martin gave some advice to three men involved in a row when two of them were called "foreigners." "This," said the magistrate, "is a country of many nationalities and people should not go around calling each other foreigners. As far as that goes you are all foreigners—except me."

The magistrate is a full-blooded Six Nations Indian.

NAVY OFFICERS SEE PRINCE RUPERT WIDE OPEN TO SURPRISE ATTACK

(By FERGUS HOFFMAN in New York Mirror)

On some sub-zero winter morning, shielded by darkness and perhaps a blizzard, three huge cargo submarines will surface somewhere off the 150-mile coastline of the rugged island of Kodiak and a strong force of Arctic-trained commandos will steal onto the unguarded shore.

A couple of hours later, officers of Kodiak Naval Station, stepping from comfortable quarters to jeeps and staff cars, will be blown to bits when they turn their ignition keys.

Simultaneously, enemy planes will blast Seattle and Prince Rupert, main supply ports for Alaska, while still others lay a mantle of bombs on the Air Force's Elmendorf Field at Anchorage and Ladd Field at Fairbanks.

With the strategic shipping ports momentarily immobilized, America will awaken to find Kodiak another Pearl Harbor, with the pitiful units at Nome and Point Barrow cut off like Wake Island.

This is not fantasy. It is what Navy officers at Kodiak say they would do if they wanted to attack the United States in a surprise attack through Alaska.

There would be nothing to prevent it.

Say, they postulate, that an enemy force known as the Blues decided to capture Alaskan bases and move against the U.S. COAST UNGUARDED.

Moving with secrecy, without even hostile hints emitted by the Japs in the pre-Pearl Harbor days, the Blues could smash many of our Alaskan defenses.

MACKENZIE KING NOT COMING WEST

OTTAWA—Premier King, before going overseas announced that it was doubtful if he would be able to make a cross country tour this year. He would have liked to have travelled across Canada to thank the people for the support given him while in office, but this will be unlikely because of the overseas journey it has become necessary for him to take.

Diefenbaker or Drew?

WITH JUST TEN DAYS now to go until the opening of the Progressive-Conservative convention two of those who are considered to be the principal contenders for the leadership of the party have announced candidature. John Diefenbaker last week entered the ring. In spite of his apparently highly organized campaign many observers believe that George Drew, Premier of Ontario, will get the call now that he too has allowed his name to go to the convention. Of course, Mr. Diefenbaker is highly popular in the west and has friends in Ontario as well as the maritimes. He himself expresses confidence.

When Mr. Bracken's resignation as party leader was first announced it was generally believed that Mr. Drew would be a certain candidate. Now he intimates he is willing to give up the position of Premier of Canada's largest province for the difficult position of leader of the opposition. That is, no doubt why three months after the Ontario general election Mr. Drew has made no move to obtain a seat in the provincial legislature which he failed to win in June.

TEACHING IMPROVIDENCE

UNDER THE IMPACT of high prices and high taxation the Canadian citizen is becoming increasingly improvident. This is due in part, perhaps, to the assumption that if we don't look after ourselves someone—preferably the government—will assume the obligation for us. But more, we believe, it is due to the "what's the use" attitude that is creeping into our thinking. It is an attitude that suggests that we might as well have commodities that we can see and feel, because the security we had been planning is subject to every whim and every increasing demand that is made upon us.

During the war we learned the lesson of saving. It may be that it was partly a patriotic urge, partly the influence of mass action. But, whatever the cause, it did start people saving who had never thought of saving before. By the later years of the war, we were putting away a steady 19% of our income. It was a habit with us and we took pride in it.

Today, the saving habit is running headlong down hill. In 1945, it was 15%, in 1946 12%. That isn't because we have deliberately gone on a spending spree. It isn't anything as natural or as pleasant as that. It is because high taxes and high costs are encroaching on our security, and it isn't secure any more. More than all that, it is because, both in a business and a personal sense, the prejudice against profits and personal initiative and personal independence has undermined our confident belief that looking after his own responsibilities is the first duty of man.

SHADE TREES DISAPPEAR

FOR VARIOUS REASONS, beautiful old shade trees in some of Canada's chief cities are being cut down and there are no replacements. The steady increase of street traffic, extension of lines of communication, and the necessity of utilizing every foot of space on streets already lacking adequate width, help explain why the trees are not being spared. They have grown to such extent that residences are unduly darkened. Some have been standing for a century—splendid elms, maples and other species—the disappearance of which will give a peculiar sense of loss to the many who knew and loved them so well.

EVERY LIFE HAS CRISIS

"And Jacob was left alone; and there wrestled a man with him until the breaking of day." Archdeacon E. Hodson, conducting the morning service yesterday at the First United Church, in the absence of Rev. R. A. Wilson, used this text from Genesis 32 as the basis for his sermon.

The speaker illustrated how Jacob, who in modern life would have been termed a Smart Alec, was constantly trying to get ahead of his twin brother Esau. Once when Esau was fainting with hunger, he begged Jacob to feed him but before he would grant the request the younger brother demanded that Esau trade his birthright for food. Later, when Isaac was old and blind, Jacob and his mother Rebekah evolved a scheme whereby the father bestowed the blessing of the first-born upon Jacob instead of the older twin. Fearing his brother's anger Jacob fled to his uncle in Haran where he prospered.

After twenty years in exile, Jacob decided to return home with his family and many possessions. Throughout his years of success he had felt that his achievements had been gained by his own ability but when he came to the border of his homeland and learned that his brother Esau was coming to meet him with 400 men he remembered the sins of his past and it was difficult to face them alone. All night he fought with his conscience and admitted that he had sinned and been a cheat and acknowledged the power of God in his life.

"Like Jacob," said Archdeacon Hodson, "you and I must face a crisis in our life when we look back on the sins of our past. No other human can stand with us then and we must face it alone with God." Assisting with the service was the junior choir conducted by J. S. Wilson and accompanied on the organ by Mrs. L. Dakin.

LETTERBOX

TREASON

Editor, Daily News:

I have read with interest the report in your paper of the address of J. T. Harvey before the Rotary Club describing the Communist menace in world affairs, particularly the boring from within method in our own Dominion of Canada and the statement that Communist tactics are synonymous with treason. It would appear that Mr. Harvey's purpose was a patriotic appeal to all good Canadians to treat all those tainted with Socialistic views as traitors—enemies of our own nation working in conjunction with a foreign power.

Mr. Editor, I would like Mr. Harvey to revert back about 37 years in Canadian history. There he will find such persons as Sir Wilfrid Laurier, W. L. Mackenzie King, W. S. Fielding and scores of other prominent Canadians branded as traitors working in the interests of a foreign power. According to Tory standards a vote for reciprocity with the United States in 1911 was pure treason. Again in 1917 a vote against Union government and conscription was treason.

Progress forever will be treason to stagnation.

GEORGE B. CASEY.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

For obvious reasons, the principal one being increased cost of production, it has become necessary for the Daily News to announce a long deferred but small increase in circulation rates to be effective on and after October 1, 1948.

The new rates will be:

CITY CARRIER DELIVERY:
Per Week, 20c; per Month, 75c; per Year, $8
BY MAIL
Per Year, $5; per Month, 50c

Payment may be made up to and including September 30 of any arrears or of advance subscriptions at the present rates of 65c per month and $7 per year for city delivery and $4 per year by mail. Thereafter both arrears and advance payments will be at the advanced rates.

Subscribers are advised to check up their accounts and take advantage of the old rates as long as they last.

CIVIC CENTRE MEMBERSHIP

Annual membership drive of the Prince Rupert Civic Centre is to get under way October 1 with the objective of having every one of Prince Rupert's three thousand homes represented with members. A campaign of intensive publicity will be carried out and staff members will carry out speaking engagements at all service clubs, Chambers of Commerce and other community groups. A special membership secretary will be appointed.

LOCAL GIRL INJURED IN CAR MISHAP

A Prince Rupert girl and a former city man were injured in an automobile accident near Vancouver Friday night. Both are still in hospital but their condition is reported to be good.

In hospital are Kathleen Hills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hills, suffering facial injuries and Frank Warne, Jr., who received leg injuries, when their car crashed head-on into another automobile on the Lougheed Highway, south of New Westminster.

Both cars were badly damaged. The collision took place at an intersection.

Mrs. George Hills, wife of former Alderman George Hills, flew south Saturday afternoon to attend her daughter who is training for a nurse in the south. Frank Warne is the son of Frank Warne, former supervisor of fisheries here, and now at Vancouver.

PRINCE RUPERT YEARS AGO

Twenty-Five Years

E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., and 11 directors of the company visited Prince Rupert for a few hours during a north coast cruise which was part of the directors' annual inspection of the system.

Members of the Royal Grain Inquiry Commission arrived in the city from Prince George for sittings and the public was urged to attend the sessions to express Prince Rupert's viewpoint.

The city police commission announced that a "clean-up" would be begun of bawdy houses, disorderly and vagrant persons, liquor sellers and other lawbreakers. Commissioner E. H. Shockley told a meeting of the commission that the Attorney General had taken him to task for conditions prevailing in the city.

MAN IS FOUND DEAD AT HOME

Daniel McKenzie, a former miner, was found dead in his home at 1119 Park Avenue Saturday by a friend who called to visit him. He had apparently died of natural causes in his sleep. He had suffered from a lung ailment. A cousin, Hector McDonald of Alice Arm is expected to arrive in the city Tuesday. Deceased was about 60 years of age.

Moose Card Party-Dance Draws Many

The weekly card party and dance sponsored by the Loyal Order of Moose attracted the usual number of enthusiastic participants Saturday night, despite blustery weather.

Winners at whist, which took up the early part of the evening under direction of M. A. Blair, were Mrs. D. Applegate and Mrs. R. Christensen while J. P. Moller and J. Ritchie shared honors for the men.

Dancing to music provided by the Moose orchestra under direction of Gunnar Varfeldt and featuring Mrs. De Carlo at the piano commenced at 10:30 p.m.

During intermission refreshments were served and prizes distributed to the winners at whist.

Timely Recipe

Corn Pudding

2 cups milk
2 cups canned or fresh corn
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 eggs, well beaten
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper

City Men Going To World Series

Heading for Boston This Week-End.

Prince Rupert will be represented among the thousands of baseball fans who will attend the World Series at either Boston, Cleveland or New York next month. A local quartette will begin a motor trek to the so-far undefined shrine of swat later this week.

The four are Herb Morgan, Boyo Gurvich, Nick Pavlikis and Alex Bill—all practising members of the game as played in Prince Rupert—and they are not particularly worried about the fact that they don't know where they are going.

Where they arrive depends on the final results of the American and National league pennant play-offs which will decide the two league winners who will clash in the World Series.

From present indications, it would appear that Boston may be the venue, since the Braves are well out in front in the National League with a six-game lead and the Red Sox have top spot in the American circuit but only with half a game over Cleveland.

However, anything can happen, and often does, so the boys are not setting their radiator ornament too firmly in the direction of Beantown.

Cleveland and the New York Yankees are only half a game and one game respectively behind the Red Sox in the American League while Pittsburgh and Brooklyn are now tied for second place in the National League.

The pilgrims feel fairly certain of getting tickets, however, since Alex Bill has corresponded with every one of the contenders and received assurances from the team managers that, "if we win," seats will be available. These assurances were couched in cordial terms.

Riding in Boyo Gurvich's car the group will leave Friday with Spokane as their most immediate objective. From there they will go to Fargo, North Dakota, which will be the jumping-off place for the World Series games.

MEN'S 5-PIN LEAGUE OPENS

The Men's City Five Pin League got off to a high-flying start Friday evening with remarkably accurate bowling for the initial session. Brownwoods showed the way with a grand total of 3,395, followed by Malkins with an aggregate of 3,160.

Ian Dunbar bowled the highest individual score, 738, trailed closely by S. Dziapka with 737 for three games. Other high scores were A. Lemay, 727; T. McMeekin, 713; B. Moxley, 706; E. Mussellam, 704; S. Davison, 702; H. McKinnon, 700; G. Withers, 695; M. Halverson, 689; J. Paul, 681.

Highest single game score of the evening was bowled by A. Leamy with 301.

Team results: Brownwoods 4, Continentals 0.

Malkins 4, Scotians 0
Jaycees 3, Alley Cats 1
Maple Leafs 3, Mallets 1
Stones 3, Ambassadors 1
Burns 2, Moose 2.

FIVE TIE IN TACOMA GOLF

TACOMA—The $12,500 Tacoma open golf tournament wound up in a five-way tie yesterday with Ed Oliver of Seattle, Charles Gogdon of Tacoma, Fred Haas of New Orleans, Vic Ghezzi of Englewood, New Jersey, and Harry Middlecoff of Memphis all even at 274 for the 72-hole event. The five are playing today for prize money totalling $6,130. Vancouver's Stan Leonard finished twenty-first with 284 and collected $70.

Separating the wheat from the chaff is the big problem facing Coach Vic Obeck as he attempts to mould his 1948 entry for old McGill University in the Intercollegiate Football League. Obeck, imported from Columbia University at the start of last season by McGill in an effort to lift the team from the bottom of the league, turned the phrase recently while pondering where to obtain talent for this year's crew.

Dink (Montreal Gazette) Carroll, a former McGill grid star himself, sympathizes with Obeck in a recent column. Says Dink: "If there were 40 football players on the team, brother Obeck would be sitting pretty. But as it is, if he gets more than 10 players of genuine intercollegiate calibre out of that mob of 40 he will be lucky." During the last two weeks the McGill coach has been trying to pare down his squad of 80 hopefuls to 40 in his attempt to separate the wheat from the chaff.

This brings Dink to the controversial question of whether college grid players should be awarded sport scholarships. Both Carroll and Obeck agree that a boy sincerely desirous of continuing his education should be helped by graduate athletic endowment funds. Obeck himself is a product of this endowment system. He said he was still paying $25 a month for the money he borrowed from an endowment fund to pay for his own education.

"I don't see anything wrong with this system if both parties to it are honest," Obeck told Dink. "If the boy seriously intends to pay back the money he borrows from an endowment fund and, if the university gives him to understand that it ex-

THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS...

No man can enjoy a true life and true liberty, or pursue a genuine happiness, without first conceding the right of his fellow man to do the same. The extent of our enjoyment of these rights depends entirely on our unselfish willingness to keep our own pursuit of happiness from interfering with that of others. The moment the use of our own liberty restricts that of another... we are abusing the ideals our forefathers fought to maintain.

The House of Seagram believes that moderation is the key to the successful pursuit of happiness... moderation in our thinking, in our actions, and in our personal habits. That is why, in the use of whisky too, the House of Seagram has repeatedly said, "Drink moderately, or not at all."

world. Undoubtedly, however, the spies are getting ready for their underground activities among the spring collections to come.

It's a highly specialized occupation, this fashion piracy widely practised in the style centres of the world. It's as complicated as anything found in a Hitchcock movie.

Cloak-and-dagger stuff in the cloak and suit world has all the thrills and laughs of a real spy plot.

But while the Mata Hari of the newest silhouette may be banned from a dressmaking establishment, blacklisted and shooed away by haughty doormen, they do not suffer more drastic penalties. The worst that can happen—and this is the equivalent to being shot down—is to have their sketch-books torn up in public.

Paris, while the fashion spy's paradise, is by no means the exclusive area of operation.
Last year London designer Norman Hartnell, charged with designing Princess Elizabeth's wedding gown, hired a couple of private detectives to make sure no one filched prematurely his classified information. His action, oldtimers maintained was about as effective as trying to hold back the tide with a picket fence.

The top custom designers in the United States whip up their creations in darkest secrecy. Rarely or never is a brand new and revolutionary model placed in a conspicuous show window. Buyers, press and private customers get a thorough check-up before admission to the show room.

Tricky Business
After the first public unveiling, however, the situation is out of the designers' hands.
Pictures tell the story.

Designers spy on each other;
the mass production trade keep a sharp eye on the custom designers—and on each other. New York, Chicago and California agents infiltrate Paris maisons. Operatives of the Paris couture do their darndest to get into New York and Hollywood. It is a serious business, catching a trend. Missing the boat — shortening a hem when everyone else is dropping them—can mean the loss of buckets of doubloons.

Some pirates hire or subsidize society women who buy models ostensibly for their personal wardrobes. Frequently the models are on a boat or plane without ever gracing a hanger in anyone's closet sometimes they merely travel by limousine from Fifth Avenue to Seventh Avenue. And smuggled patterns may be bought.

The fashion marts of London, Paris and New York are

HOW CAN I ???

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I melt ice on cement steps?

A. Sprinkle several handfuls of saltpeter on cement steps or walks that have ice on them.
To keep ice from forming, wash with hot water in which a handful of salt is dissolved. This is better than sprinkling with salt.

Q. How can I make smelling salts?

A. Break one ounce of rock volatile into small pieces, then cover it with eau de cologne and allow it to stand for a few days before using.

Q. How can I remove brown stains from the steel fittings of the gas range?

A. By using a rag dipped in vinegar. Then polish in the usual way.

You saw it in the Daily News!

full of little people with facile pencils and some degree of entree who will sell a sketch for a fee.

A cynical fashion reporter once wrote that the working week of some designers was broken into three periods: one-third to finding out what the opposition was up to; one-third talking to material salesmen to find out what the opposition was buying; and one-third to combining in "original" designs all that had been found out.

There is even a school of fashion philosophy which maintains that fashion trends are born of espionage.

MEXICAN WINS TENNIS TITLE

FOREST HILLS, New York, (P)

of losing the singles tennis championship to a foreigner when Richard Gonzales captured the final by overpowering Eric Sturges of South Africa 6-2, 6-3, 14-12 in the finals of the sixty-seventh tournament.

The only two California youngsters left in the men's singles division of the national tournament faced a couple of hot-shot foreign boys in the semi-finals. Herbie Flam, aged 19, met Eric Sturges of South Africa and Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, 20-year-old Mexican from Los Angeles, met Jaroslav-

Catherine B. Quits Historic Ferry Service—Cardena Takes Over Camosun's Run

An historic harbor ferry service has ended. The Department of Transport's motor vessel Catherine B. made its last run to Digby Island at the end of the week. Henceforth it will be engaged in lighter duty of servicing aids to navigation in the close proximity of local headquarters unless some other decision as to her future disposition is made. It is close to forty years since the Digby Island service which the Catherine B. has now relinquished was instituted. It started when first the construction of quarantine hospital, former marine depot and wireless station commenced and was maintained throughout the years in order to provide transportation to and from the city from those establishments and the small communities which formed around them. First the old Rhona carried out the service to be replaced some fifteen years ago by the Catherine B. which had been acquired by the department after, as an American fishing vessel, she had been seized and confiscated for illegal fishing. At one time or another the Rhona or Catherine B. would make as many as four trips a day. However, since the marine depot was moved from Digby Island to Seal Cove about a year ago, the service was gradually curtailed. Withdrawal of the Catherine B. isolates the Digby Island wireless station but it is understood that arrangements for a new ferry service will be made by the radio division.

Taking over the run from the Camosun which has been withdrawn for an overhaul, Union steamer Cardena, which recently came off the Vancouver-Bella Coola-Ocean Falls route, arrived in port at midnight last night and sailed this morning for Alice Arm, Stewart and other northern points. She will be back here tomorrow morning to sail at 1:30 p.m. on her return south. After completing her overhaul, the Camosun is expected to go on the Queen Charlotte Islands run in place of the Coquitlam which will then receive her annual reconditioning.

LIVED LIFE OF DANGER

LONDON—Viscount Greenwood, 78, who died recently, was a native of Whitby, Ontario. It was in 1906 he made his political debut in Great Britain. He was the centre of bitter controversy between 1920-22 when he served as Chief Secretary for Ireland. Relations with England were strained to the breaking point. He was censured in both Britain and Ireland but many insisted that, when near-anarchy was prevailing, a firm hand was needed. Long after his retirement from active politics a police guard, given him when he was Chief Secretary was maintained outside his law offices at Grays Inn. His life had often been threatened.

COAST SALMON PACK SMALLER

Despite an exceptionally fine run of sockeye on the Skeena River, British Columbia's canned salmon pack this year is almost 65,000 cases under 1947, according to figures contained in the latest bulletin issued by the Chief Supervisor of Fisheries, Vancouver.

Production to the week ending September 11 was 932,754 cases of all varieties for the coast, while for the comparable period last year, it was 1,069,880.

However, in the Naas and Skeena areas, cannery output this summer was 374,942 cases, the greatest output since 1945, while the sockeye pack of 119,929 cases in those areas was almost double that of last year.

Other parts of district Two, of which Prince Rupert is administrative headquarters, produced 291,276 cases, which was less than a year ago, but greater than 1946 production.

Canned salmon production 60,841.

NAVY OFFICERS SEE

A small group of soldiers, on maintenance duty at abandoned Fort Greely, and a token unit of Marines made up the rest. Three companies of defenders.

The plan called for an air operations officer, but it left him no aviators. They were busy commanding ground units. They were busy mounting broomsticks on the dismantling concrete anti-aircraft battlements which dot the islets and mountain shoulders surrounding the airfield.

The invaders blundered, they didn't slip into Kodiak base the way the defenders would have come, had the situation been reversed, and the Army was repelled.

"If they had been a little smarter," one officer commented, "we couldn't have done a thing about it. If they had a larger force, we would have been out of luck."

The officers, of course, blame public apathy for the sad state of Alaska's defenses. Congressional economy has choked off the stream of men and material needed.

Even this winter, because of the lack of permanent housing, the Army will be forced to withdraw 7,000 combat troops from Alaska. And this with Kodiak's Fort Greely standing virtually abandoned.

Reminiscences
By W.I. and Reflections

Prince Rupert's city engineer, in submitting a report back in 1911, wrote: "In designing a system of waterworks for the city of Prince Rupert it is necessary to provide now for a population which will probably reach 20,000 in five years." We know better.

There is one thing that can be said of John Diefenbaker who announces his willingness to be a candidate for the Progressive - Conservative leadership. When he speaks in Parliament, he is, as a rule, listened to. That's more than can be said about everyone who journeys to Ottawa.

Sport involves a certain proportion of physical injury but nothing is gained by going to excess or taking hazardous risks. A fatality is by no means uncommon. Every fighter is not made like Joe Louis. A fractured ankle or impaired knee can provide ample time for sober reflection. It is not always a coincidence that athletic renown in youth can mean early decline later in life. There is always a point where unholiness to win should stop and horse sense begin. The human body was intended to be reasonably well taken care of.

Mr. Truman will visit the Pacific coast soon on what, frankly, will be a political tour. Henry Wallace is back from the Southern States. His presence there was more of an experience than a sojourn. Mr. Dewey is quietly making policy medicine and keeping his weather eye open. All in all, the United States presidential campaign appears normal.

Four million dollars worth of salmon was unloaded from one freighter, at Prince Rupert, during the week-end. It was the late Charles M. Hays who once said the day would come when freight trains would run from Prince Rupert, carrying nothing but fish. And some folks gave him a fishy look.

Suppose Diefenbaker wins the election and the first Tory in many a long year presides at Ottawa. And he hails from the first and only C.C.F. province in all Canada. Moreover, there is no love lost between the Conservatives and C.C.F. The old maxim that politics make strange bedfellows seems still to hold true.

THOMPSON HARDWARE CO.

Going Steady...
...15 Tons at 40 Per

THE general who worked on the theory of getting there "fastest with the mostest" was a pretty shrewd operator. Transportation plays a key role in our lives. That's why those giant Diesel trucks, those powerful, modern freight trains are indispensable today for getting things done quickly, efficiently.

TRUE, all this freight could be moved by horse or oxen... but much more slowly... in smaller quantities and at a higher cost. But progress in transportation, the saving of time and money, brings to Canada goods from all over the world at lower prices... and raises our own standard of living.

PROGRESS is a hard-to-win fight; and no fight is ever won without the incentive to win. No monopoly system, privately or State-owned, ever has this incentive, for a monopoly has no competitors with which to contend. Competition developed the efficient methods which make our free system great.

THE story of Canada's progress is one of competition, of capital at work creating products people want; making them better, cheaper; moving and selling them faster. This system, we believe, offers the greatest incentives, the highest standards of living, the best job-security and freedom of opportunity.
