Communists Endeavour To Upset Government In Western Germany

BERLIN (CP)—Berlin's communist press today threatened reprisals against Germans who are forging a western government at Bonn and accused them of "high treason." A Soviet-controlled newspaper said: "Every German who helps at Bonn to create a separate western German state tears the unity of Germany. Some day he will be asked to account for it." Meantime Russians kept up their drive to take over political control of Germany in spite of the continuing four-power talks aimed at solving the 73-day-old crisis.

He thought that the townspeople of Prince Rupert was one of unique beauty. After visiting all the Rotary Clubs of Alaska as far north as Nome, Mr. Warner arrived in Prince Rupert Wednesday and last night proceeded by train to Prince George. He will visit the club there tonight and enplane tomorrow morning for his home in Tacoma.

BLOODSHED IN 'FRISCO STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO — Water-front employees and Harry Bridges' C.I.O. longshoremen drew their lines tighter today for a bitter "fight to a finish" in the maritime strike on the United States west coast. First blood in the strike was drawn today at Wilmington, port for the Los Angeles, when sailors and union pickets battled over the unloading of a lumber ship. Heads were struck and knuckles bruised in the melee. Two men, including policemen, are in hospital and ten others required first aid treatment.

The party will be entertained while here by the Prince Rupert Shrine Club. INDIAN PREMIER GETS INTO SWING—Strange goings on for a prime minister, you'll say. But there's more in this swinging than meets the eye. Prime minister Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru of India is observing a traditional custom of "Sawan," a summer period during which men, women and children usually make merry, mostly by the swing method, to celebrate coming of the rains.

LABOR DAY

LABOR DAY, which falls this year on Monday, September 6, is unique among Canadian holidays because it is the only one this country has adopted from the United States.

All our other holidays—except perhaps Thanksgiving—are of British origin or entirely Canadian, such as Dominion Day, and in Quebec, St. Jean Baptiste Day.

It was a Canadian—Alexander W. Wright, a native of Markham Township in Ontario—who put Labor Day on the Canadian calendar. Wright, who had worked as a newspaperman in Guelph, Ontario, and later became editor of an influential American labor journal, also was largely responsible for United States labor deciding on the September observance. One faction of American labor favored May 1, but Wright, never well disposed towards Communists, stubbornly opposed the date common in European countries.

And it was Wright's zeal that resulted in Labor Day becoming a statutory holiday in Canada, through a bill introduced—oddly enough—by a Conservative prime minister and endorsed by Conservative majorities in the Senate and Commons.

Wright returned to Canada after working in the United States and, without funds, went to Ottawa as a labor lobbyist. The dynamic journalist not only talked a majority of the Conservative members into favoring the idea; he even converted Prime Minister Sir John Thompson, who personally piloted the measure through Commons in 1894.

The holiday, originally observed Sept. 1, later was fixed for the first Monday in September to provide a long week-end.

Though Labor Day is American in origin, the idea of a labor holiday isn't a modern one. It is written that in the Middle Ages processions were organized by trade guilds in England and other parts of Europe. The parades showed the medieval working man's pride of craftsmanship and stressed his position in the society of his day.

HARVEST—OLD AND NEW

THE LONG TRAINS of harvest excursionists have faded into the past. The thousands of husky, adventurous young fellows seeing something of their country for the first time have become but a memory.

Other days, other ways. Getting the harvest in now is different from what was common practice long ago. There may be a few who could be called excursionists but it is nothing more than a weak trickle, and not to be compared with what it was.

When the boys headed toward the Great Lakes and beyond they went in their thousands, accompanied by a few experienced officers to preserve order. As the trains moved across country, they picked up new passengers. There was a cheerful informality. Many lasting friendships were formed. Lads who were out on a big adventure lived to help build new cities, and develop the prairies on a major scale. All were optimists, and without serious care. In their exuberance, fights would sometimes break out, but these were swiftly healed. There would be much singing, to help while away the hours. Dozens had musical instruments with them.

The excursionists brought new and vigorous life to the waiting west. It was the right kind of an invasion.

VANCOUVER WEATHER

AN ONTARIO DAILY prints a despatch from Vancouver. It's about the weather, and is told with refreshing candor. It says:

"Diplomatic relations with the weather man have been severed. Beaches, normally crowded at this season, are virtually deserted. The usual sound of merry-makers is replaced by rain drops. At the Pacific National Exhibition opening day figures showed a drop of 20,000.

"Vancouver streets are almost permanently wet. Skies are lowering and dismal and intermittent rain sprinkles the coatless. Hardy souls, going anywhere usually wear raincoats or ulsters and carry umbrellas.

HUDSON BAY SHIPPING

THE NUMBER of ships carrying wheat away from Port Churchill before ice seals Hudson Bay this year may total six. The brief season has been a busy one. The present is a time when all that's said for, as well as against the port, as a shipping centre is being thoroughly tested. The result, however, is not conclusive. The period when freighters can come and go does not exceed a couple of months. Loadings can continue through all winter in Atlantic coast ports and on the Pacific coast. Hudson Bay, in fact, means doing business in a costly way. Marine insurance for example is away higher. And still Prince Rupert goes without.

LABOR DAY

Here is your man—his name is Labor. He worked hard and long to help win the last war—now he is working hard and long to prevent another war—he is working hard and long to preserve the democratic way of life—he is working hard and long to build an everlasting peace. He is the man responsible for putting Canada first in production. He is the man who deserves the highest tribute and recognition on this day.

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.J.

Henry Wallace, barnstorming across Louisiana, aroused the displeasure of the southern gentlemen. He can't put his message across—not just yet, anyway. He left Shreveport yesterday, evidently in a hurry. He went with the wind, one might say. A matured egg struck his aeroplane. And seeing the height at which planes travel, that was darned good throwing.

Apart from all that's said both for and against Labor as an institution, this would be a sweet-scented world without it. Even with all of our troubles of today, compare 1948 with 1848. What then—but a century ago?—of living standards, education, health, plain humanity and a thousand other forward steps along the hard path leading away from ignorance and cruelty? There is something to celebrate on Monday.

Mrs. Oskana Kosenkina, Russian school teacher, leaped from a third-storey window rather than continue to live under the Soviet in Russia. She has no quarrel with the Russian people. The woman is in a New York hospital, and may survive. The Soviet call her "an enemy of the State." The odds appear somewhat uneven.

A friend remarked yesterday he felt rather curious whenever he saw the word "motel" in print. He understood if had had been mainly in other parts of the globe. But today, Alaska is on the world's front page. There is too much at stake, now and in the future, to relegate Alaska back to a cold and more or less mysterious obscurity. Alaska, already big, is becoming bigger in more ways than one.

Speaking of moisture, it had been the intention to stage an "Apple Caravan in the Blue River region of Yellowhead Pass" and promoters sent out a scout to report on how the weather had been, which was grim enough. The substance of his wire was "has not stopped raining for 2 weeks. Bridges out on both highway and railroad. Caravan impossible."

FIRE CALLS IN AUGUST LIGHT

There were only three fire calls for the city fire department during the month of August. For the first twelve days the alarm did not tinkle once but on the morning of August 13 the department answered a call to Cow Bay where an explosion on board James Shaw's boat caused burns to his teen age daughters, Sally and Norah. There was no damage to the other two fires of the month.

This month's low number of fire calls equals that of May and brings the total for 1948 up to 67, two fires less than during the same period last year. Records back to 1943 show that August of this year holds the record for having the lowest number of fire calls compared with the same month for the last six years.

Although the fire engines took a rest during August, the ambulance made 30 calls, a record since the fire department took over the ambulance service.

Customs Revenue Shows Increase

Custom collections at the Port of Prince Rupert during the month of August amounted to $22,092.71, which is $111.98 more than was taken in during the same month of 1947. However, except for April when collections were only $24,797.22, August revenues were the lowest so far in 1948.

Total collections for the first 8 months of 1948 have been $352,093.22, the highest since 1944 when the same months yielded $386,637.79.

Extracted Checks From Post Office

SMITHERS—Faulty locks or carelessness of the local box holders in leaving the locks insecure are factors believed to have been taken advantage of by Joseph Forrest, a recent arrival from Saskatchewan, who was sent down for six months' imprisonment at Okalla by Judge W. O. Fulton in a session of County Court here this week on two charges of theft from the post office. It was in this manner that Forrest is believed to have been able to extract family allowance checks from the post office. A third charge was also laid against Forrest of retaining stolen micrometers. He pleaded guilty.

FRAUD CASE AT ASSIZES

James Howard Foster of Smithers will come up at the fall session of the Supreme Court Assizes in Prince Rupert later this month on a charge of obtaining money by false pretences. Having been committed for trial by Stipendiary Magistrate Harvey Davies, he appeared before Judge W. O. Fulton in County Court at Smithers this week and elected for jury trial. Foster is alleged to have obtained $1500 from a Japanese at Smithers on the understanding that the money was to be used in connection with the financing of a bakery partnership. Later Foster was picked up in Vancouver and returned to Smithers. Application was made for bail which was set at $5000.

SMITHERS HERE OVER HOLIDAY TO RING DOWN BASEBALL CURTAIN

Owing to the recent unsatisfactory weather conditions, the local baseball play-offs received a setback that has forced the League Executive to decide to cancel the play-offs. Thus the league-winning Savoys are city baseball champions for the third straight year. The Smithers-Prince Rupert series tomorrow and Monday will ring down the curtain on baseball here this season. Smithers is bringing this time a stronger team than it had on a previous visit when the locals won 2 to 1
and an interesting set of games is expected.

Prince Rupert All-Star line-up for the three-game series with Smithers is announced as follows:

Pitchers—Rosedale, Lindsay
and Eluik as starters, and Bill
as relief.

Infielders—Davis, Hartwig, Dahl, B. Simundson, Windle and Arney.

Outfielders—M. Simundson, Pavlikis and Linney.

Catchers—Morgan and Abel.
Bill Lambie, manager.

The local league was fortunate to be able to finish its schedule during the good weather and thus was able to boast of one of the best-played leagues in many years. The competition was better and the games well played and well attended by fans.

If the weather for the intercity series with Ketchikan and Smithers had been favorable the league would also have had one of its best financial years. As it was the league still ended up in the black.

STUART SHIELD DONOR THANKED

Football Executive Expresses Appreciation

At the executive meeting of the Prince Rupert Football Association last evening, appreciative mention was expressed of the contribution to sport that the donor of the cup, D. C. Stuart, had made in presenting the trophy so long ago.

A new generation of footballers has grown up since the trophy was first presented for competition. It would be interesting to know how many players had taken part in the many games played all through the intervening years. It has provided a valuable stimulus for many hard fought games and has done its full share in developing footballers and cultivating a strong fighting spirit.

Sincere wishes were expressed for Mr. Stuart's early and complete recovery.

FINAL SOCCER GAMES ARE SET

At a meeting of the Prince Rupert Football Executive last evening arrangements were made for the playing of the remaining games of the season. While the final of the Stuart Shield had been planned for Labor Day, the executive had to re-arrange their schedule as the baseball association has taken the day for their series with Smithers. The first game of the Stuart Shield has now been set for Wednesday September 8, between the Battery and High School. On Friday, September 10, the replayed game between the Battery and High School in the Gilhuly Cup will be played.

Then on Sunday, September 12, the final of the Stuart Shield will take place. There is still the game between the Legion and the Battery in the Mobley Cup to be played.

Evening games are to start at 6:30 from now on. The Sunday game of September 12 will start at 3 p.m.

Present at the meeting were
J. S. Wilson, S. P. Woodside,
Ralph Smith, Darrow Gomez,
Nick Pavlikis and Stan Veitch.

LIFE'S EXPERIENCES (REV. EARL SOILLAND, Pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church) "Life's Experience Contributes to the Christian's Good." —Romans 8:18-39.

How varied are the experiences of the average Christian! Is there any purpose to all of them? Since he lives in a sin-cursed world, there will be more or less the curse of sin to contend with. This has many forms and meets him in many places. Sometimes he meets difficulties from the enemies of God. This may take the form of persecution, either in the form of physical pain, or else in the many subtle ways that ostracizes him from the relationship of others. He is made to feel that he is information that there is no force outside of a person that can pry him away from Christ. These facts lead us on to some other thoughts.

When trials come to a person who is Christian, such a one alights the invitation of Christ and calls upon Him in his need. By doing so, he gets the spiritual strength or wisdom needed so that he can meet and solve them. This makes for a more intimate union with Christ. It brings Him near so that His presence is felt. Such experiences teach us not to lean on our own strength alone, but to lean on the strength of God. They reveal the fact that there is a spiritual force at our disposal which we need. Out of all such events, we learn to trust God.

Therefore we can meet all the changes and difficulties in life with the confident assurance that as long as we love God, each and every one of them will turn out for good in our lives.

PIONEER OF NORTH DIES

One of central interior's best known and most colorful real pioneer personalities passed away in the Terrace Hospital Thursday when Neil McInnes, who lived at North Bulkley since the turn of the century and was identified with the construction of the original Yukon Telegraphs line, died at the age of 94. He was familiarly known as "Uncle Neil" and for the past few years had made his home at Terrace with Mr. and Mrs. Archie McInnes. The funeral is taking place at Terrace to which point the remains were accompanied today by Mrs. McInnes. There are two brothers, Archie McInnes of Terrace and Dan McInnes of Merritt, and a sister, Mrs. McLean of Toronto.

Stormy Weather Holds Up Tuna Fishing—Juneau Lumber Cargo Held 'Hot' Here

Stormy weather which has prevailed almost continuously throughout the past week brought practically all fishing operations to a standstill, including the new tuna harvest on the west coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands. The run is still there, the Department of Fisheries stated last night, and the fishing vessels are still hovering nearby but the catches in the new marine bonanza have been reduced to a minimum. So far 600,000 pounds of tuna have been landed here. There has been a drop in the price this week to $550 per ton. It was $600 per ton before.

Another barge shipment of some twenty carloads or 400,000 feet of lumber from the Juneau Spruce Corporation's sawmill at the Alaska capital arrived at Prince Rupert on Monday of this week behind the motor tug Santrina but still remained unloaded yesterday at the lumber assembly wharf here. It is the second consignment of its kind, the first having been made last spring through the dry dock pier. Since then the Juneau mill had been tied up by labor trouble. The lumber is considered "hot" cargo here because of the fact that it was not loaded by the regular longshoremen at Juneau. There seems to be uncertainty as to the final disposition of the shipment.

With fourteen carloads of frozen fish from Sitka for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways, Northland Transportation Co.'s big refrigerator motorship Lucidor was in port yesterday from Alaska. After discharging here, the Lucidor sailed for Seattle.

Ken Weaver, fisheries inspector at Alert Bay, who lost his life in a plane crash near Alert Bay this Thursday, was no stranger to Prince Rupert. In 1945 he was engineer on the fisheries department cruiser Beldis which was stationed in the Rivers Inlet area. With Fisheries Inspector Charles Lord he visited here on more than one occasion. Mr. Weaver served for seven years with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the Arctic before the Second World War in which, despite his age of 34, he became a flight lieutenant air-gunner, doing a tour of duty in Lancasters. He is survived, in addition to his widow, by two children in Vancouver.

Whether or not a big overhaul job is to be undertaken soon on the veteran Canadian National Steamships coastal liner Prince Rupert will be carried out at Prince Rupert is the question upon which enlightenment is being awaited here. Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce has instituted inquiries for definite information following the announcement yesterday that the Rupert was being withdrawn from service at the middle of this month, being replaced by the new Prince George. The yesterday from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. on her final voyage of the season in the Alaska tourist service.

After an absence of several weeks on a cruise as far down the coast as the Gulf Islands, Dr. W. S. Kergin is due home today with his power yacht Ful Moon. He also called at Vancouver where his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Kergin, reside and met his brother, Dr. Fred Kergin, who has been on the coast from Toronto. Mrs. Kergin and family are returning home by steamer next Wednesday.

Seiners operating in Naden Harbor and Massett Inlet have lifted slightly more than 500,000 pounds since the Queen Charlotte Island waters since the season opened. There were about 40 of the big netters operating in Massett Inlet during the week but since Monday storms have practically put a stop to their activities. The southeastern portion of Butedale fisheries area will be open to seiners at midnight Sunday, September 5. With the exception of Roscoe Inlet, the whole of the Bella Bella area will also be open to seiners at midnight Sunday. Most of the catch in this area will consist of chums and cohoes. According to reports, the water level of most rivers leading to salmon spawning grounds is higher than average, a condition that permits the fish to gain their spawning beds without too much difficulty although when the streams are high, salmon eggs are likely to be deposited too far up the banks in many cases leaving them exposed to frost when the water recedes.

IMPRESSED WITH NORTH

British Information Director Sees Great Tourist Traffic Possibilities

Greatly impressed with "the most interesting part of the world" he has ever seen and he has travelled extensively in the Imperial government service, Peter H. Bennett, deputy director, United Kingdom Information Service at Ottawa, sees tremendous possibilities from a tourist standpoint for all the north country—Northern British Columbia and Yukon—when it becomes better known. Mr. Bennett motored over the Alaska Highway from Whitehorse to the Klauane Lake country and was particularly struck with it.

Mr. Bennett, whose trip has been partly on vacation and partly on business, flew into Whitehorse. He also visited Dawson and came here Wednesday afternoon on the Princess Louise from the north. Yesterday he left by plane for Sandspit and will spend four days on the Queen Charlotte Islands visiting logging operations and native villages. After two days in Vancouver he will proceed East.
