Railway Chiefs Not Satisfied With New Freight Rate Order

MONTREAL (CP)—The amount of freight rate increase granted by the Board of Transport Commissioners will fall far short of minimum requirements "but for an unprecedented traffic volume," chiefs of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways said in a joint statement today.

INCREASE INADEQUATE—Says R. C. Vaughan, chief of Canadian National.

The increase is also applicable to express charges.

Increase was specifically refused on domestic grain traffic moving between the head of the lakes and the west coast. Export grain movements in the same area are also exempt by statute from increases.

The Board lifted the suspension imposed last fall on thirty percent increases imposed by the railways last year on "competitive" rates and made the following other announcements:

1. The railways will be permitted to renegotiate "agreed charge" contracts with shippers.
2. Miscellaneous railway service charges are also allowed to be increased twenty-one percent.
3. Export and import rates affecting Canadian ports will maintain parity with United States ports.
4. Recognition differential between rail and water are to be preserved.
5. Minimum charge for less than carload shipments is set at 75 per 100 pounds.

ARTIST CREATES "FINEST" WORK

Local Landscapes by Bjorne Selvig Very Impressive

A black and white pencil drawing which he describes as the "finest piece of work I have ever done" has been completed by Bjorne Selvig, city artist whose oil, water color and pencil works are well known to Prince Rupert art lovers.

An impressionistic interpretation of a landscape, the drawing has a deceiving simplicity characteristic of all fine works of art. More than 100 hours of intense concentration went into the preliminary sketches and the final work.

The result is a study that technically approaches perfection in the delicacy of its lines and shadings and its impression is one of unusual harmony between earth and sky.

Scene of the landscape is the valley of Hays Creek as seen from one of the higher sections of Wantage Road.

Dr. J. D. MacLean

UNSPECTACULAR but hard-working and persevering, Dr. John Duncan MacLean, former Premier of British Columbia, who died Sunday night in Ottawa, left his mark in British Columbia affairs, although it being twenty years since he was Premier and then only for a year between two such personalities as John Oliver before him and Dr. S. F. Tolmie after him, he may have been to some extent forgotten. He had served for many years as chairman of the Federal Farm Board at Ottawa, quietly but effectively and had become more or less detached from his native province.

A poor farm boy, Dr. MacLean had to make his way through life from the very start. Even to obtain his medical degree, years were required but he had the ambition and resolution to see him through. His personality was such that he made friends, commanded esteem and respect and Greenwood, then a flourishing mining town where he located, gave him his start in public life. He served as alderman and mayor there and was sent as Member of the Legislative Assembly. Soon he was recognized as of cabinet timber and Mr. Oliver named him as Minister of Education and Provincial Secretary.

Dr. MacLean went quietly to work to master the details of his departments, and having done so, gradually revolutionized them. He did not do things in a spectacular manner, but gradually and without fuss accomplished a great deal. He took over the privately operated tubercular sanatorium at Tranquille for the government; established a home for incurables at Marpole, and remodelled and reorganized the boys' industrial school and mental hospitals. The standard of teaching was raised in the province and many important changes were inaugurated in the educational system, including technical schools. He set to work to permanently house the University of British Columbia, and this was accomplished.

In addition to his other departments he was given the portfolio of railways, and this involved the handling of the difficult Pacific Great Eastern situation.

After the 1924 election and the retirement of the Hon. John Hart as minister of finance, Dr. MacLean was given this portfolio, relinquishing those of provincial secretary and railways, but retaining the ministry of education. After a detailed study of the provincial finances, he was able upon the presentation of his first budget to announce a material reduction of taxation, followed by further economies in succeeding years.

During the illness of the late Premier John Oliver he was chosen as acting Premier, and when, on August 18, 1927, Mr. Oliver died, Dr. MacLean was unanimously selected by his Liberal colleagues of the Legislature to succeed Mr. Oliver as prime minister, holding the office one year when his government was defeated. He was already in his federal post when the Liberals came back later under T. D. Pattullo.

SUPPORTS COAST GUARD

EDITORIAL AGITATION which has been going on in such newspapers as the Vancouver Sun and Province and the Prince Rupert Daily News in favor of the establishment of a Canadian coast-guard service on the Pacific Coast receives vigorous support, supplemented by some new ideas, from one of the coast's best known veteran master mariners in the person of Capt. John Muir, for years skipper of Union Steamship Co. vessels and more recently marine superintendent for that company. Vessels of the fisheries patrol, lighthouse and hydrographic services might be used as the nucleus of a Coastguard to give possible succor to crews of distressed vessels in their vicinity, Capt. Muir suggests. Powerful tugboats which operate on the coast could be called upon to tow distressed vessels in case of emergency.

Capt. Muir adds: "No more efficient or capable hands could be found anywhere for Coastguard duties than the sturdy, fearless lads who earn their living on British Columbia halibut vessels, fish packers, trollers, seiners and gillnetters. Such vessels should, and could, be equipped with modern life-saving equipment approved for mobile coast-guard stations such as those established on the coasts of United States and Great Britain."

Properly organized and equipped, "it would be almost certain that one of our Coastguard, on receiving the international SOS appeal direct from any distressed vessels or relayed from other ships or land stations, would be on her way to render assistance in a very short space of time."

Of course, Capt. Muir suggests, a Canadian Coastguard cutter, with proper and full equipment and trained crew, would be of very useful service. Another suggestion of Capt. Muir's is the establishment of helicopter stations at Coal Harbor, Quatsino Sound and Sandspit.

"It is to be hoped," concludes the captain "that, in spite of federal objections, the editorials will result in some kind of a Canadian Coastguard being formed soon."

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.I.

Oxford lost the annual rowing classic last Saturday. Cambridge, it seems, had the added advantage of swallowing all the rich milk needed, when training. Indeed, they brought their own cow. Oxford used some whale meat as an article of diet. Perhaps they should have ordered cod liver oil (daily pint) in tissue paper with pink ribbon.

An all-wise Providence, doubtless, intended the rat to be of some use in the world but the ordinary man hasn't discovered it. We usually associate the rat with being filthy, a destroyer of needed food, a spreader of fire and a bearer of disease. Therefore, destroy the brute! When it's realized that a single pair can multiply to 1,330 in a year (so it's been estimated) Prince Rupert can afford to lose plenty.

Some of these chilly-eyed Irish sweepstake winners do not deserve to win anything, anywhere, any time. Here's a young fellow in Ontario, with wife and family, and precious little else who, getting the good news in an in-different way and lighting a fresh fag, says he doesn't think $40,000 is so much. Who can really live on that? How many can say that they could actually retire? Being obliging souls, we stand ready to mail him a Prince Rupert telephone directory anytime.

Cadets from Seattle, in Prince Rupert last week on a training cruise admired two of the finest totem poles in Canada reeling on Second Avenue, and said they wondered if there was any law against standing up. They were told no one had been able to find that out, just yet.

CITY INSURANCE

Editor, Daily News:
In your report of the last meeting of the city council it was stated that the council had adopted a recommendation of the finance committee that insurance of all city-owned buildings and equipment be made through a Vancouver firm and a contract on these lines be favored.

I wonder if the ratepayers are aware of what this means. This contract, I understand, is similar to one presented to the finance committees in 1945 and 1946 and which the finance committees of those years, under the chairmanship of Aid. Hills, would not recommend to the council.

Under the terms of the contracts all policies would be written by the company or agent holding the contract for a period of years and the premiums thereon divided between the local insurance agents now doing business in the city, the company holding the contract getting two shares of the premiums and the remainder being equally divided.

Perhaps you ask what is wrong with this procedure? Looking further into it you will find that, during the life of the contract, no firm which is not now in business in the city will be entitled to insure any city property or equipment. In other words, it gives a monopoly to the existing firms.

I am reliably informed that, in the negotiations prior to the completion of the contract, it was proposed that only firms which had been in business for three years be entitled to share in the present contract.

However, owing to the insistence of one of the school trustees, this was not strictly adhered to and a firm which had been in business for a few months was included.

It would be interesting to know who is the local representative of the holder of that contract. Evidently all members of the council were not familiar with the provisions of the contract. Otherwise I do not believe they would have voted for the creation of this monopoly. Perhaps they may look into this and let the ratepayers know the full terms.

It will be argued that the proposal is in the best interests of the city as it will provide for uniform and complete coverage by having one firm taking care of the writing of all policies.

However, this can easily be obtained by having the property official check all policies and see that the necessary coverage is secured both in the writing of new policies and the renewal of existing ones.

Why should city insurance be limited to these now in business and any citizen who may enter this business in the future be barred from obtaining a share of the business?

Let the public know the facts.
H. M. DAGGETT.

GRIM FOREBODINGS

Editor, Daily News:
What with this Easter Sunday's radio commentators abroad, striving desperately to "drive home" the new look on the grim Outlook, Easter's New Look was fairly overshadowed. All of which is understandable. But when dreams vie for the supremacy of "portending" the gravity of the new outlook... it is just too much. For instance, on two successive nights my gentle slumberings have been intercepted dramatically by two respective dreams. In the first dream, I was verily a "Pistol Packing Mama," in a brand new role. After seeing dozens of miniature barely submerged submarines in Prince Rupert's harbor, from where I stood on the wharf, as well as almost simultaneously a gigantic heap of shotguns nearby, I hastily grabbed one of the weapons and "fairly frightened out of my New Look," fled into the nearest of... I raised the shotgun as mute evidence... when it accidentally fired straight into the midst of the half dozen "minding-their-own-business" men. (It was simply a miracle that not one was shot "thank goodness." Then I awakened.

The following constitutes my second dream as "out of the clear blue sky" so to speak, generally dozens of... came somersaulting... ing from the skies... fore they touched... without parachutes... they landed... right. "It's just... traveling by air... stander as I looked... ed. Certainly, it... Easter parade for... a single woman... with a New Look... a single woman... VIOLET... You read it in the

RAISE FUNDS FOR ORPHANS

Borden Street School P.-T.A. Has Successful Sale

Spring in the air outside, spring motifs giving the same feeling inside, made the gaily decorated room at the Borden Street School Parent-Teacher Association's cake and candy sale a joyous meeting place on Thursday afternoon.

Supplies of delightful looking eatables that had seemed in the morning of mountainous size were rapidly sold and late comers were fortunate to get anything at all. Many of the gaily decorated boxes had been made by the children and the demand was strong. Upwards of $100 was raised with the first objective of providing for an "adopted" European orphan being easily passed.

The energetic committee consisting of Mrs. S. A. Cheeseman, as convener, Mesdames H. C. Flood, H. E. Amos, W. J. Lineham, W. McLeod, and A. J. Dominato, was assisted by Mesdames George Howe, C. Young, Harrison, E. A. Nixon, W. Weise and A. W. Burnip.

LIVING CANADIANS THROUGH CHEMISTRY

Chemistry?
IT'S MY GREATEST ALLY!

THE DOCTOR is the one man who sees below the surface, who knows from first-hand experience what Chemistry means to health and to our general well-being.

Aside from its great work in water purification through chlorine and in disease prevention through pest destruction, it helps the medical man in countless other ways.

Chemistry produces light-conducting "Lucite" to be fashioned into instruments for internal examinations; X-Ray film, and chemicals for developing it; skin-grafting cement; sutures of nylon monofilament; cellulose sponges; anaesthetics and many other medical and surgical aids.

Yes, Chemistry is with us everywhere, ever seeking and finding new methods and materials. The C-I-L oval is the symbol of an organization devoted to serving Canadians through chemistry.

FOR INSTANCE X-RAY FILM

VISIT OF MAGEE CHAMPS FROM VANCOUVER BASKETBALL EVENT

On Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the Civic Centre basketball fans of Prince Rupert will see the British Columbia champions from Magee High School in action against the local High School "Rainmakers." The southern team arrives tomorrow morning on the steamer Prince Rupert, returning south Thursday night.

At a tournament held in New Westminster in the early part of March the Magee team defeated High School teams from all over the province to win the championship. The Magee team is known to be light and fast and its members are Neil Desaulniers, Don Hudson, Jim Loutit, Ian Mair, Terry Marshall, Bill Mills, Dave Ostrosser, Ted Rea, John Southcoat, (captain).

Booth Memorial High School will be represented by Reg Lavigne, Doug Shier, Jim Flaten, Art Olson, Bill Davidson, Don Scherk, Ray Spring, Mel Thompson, Glenn Carlson, Tom Butler.

The preliminary games will also give the spectators a basketball treat. In the first preliminary game on Wednesday night two teams from the Juvenile League will give the fans an opportunity of seeing "The Stars of Tomorrow" in action for the first time. The second preliminary will show Merchants and Morgan's in a sudden-death game to see which of these two teams, all the players of which come from the High School, may be considered second to the Rainmakers.

On Thursday evening there is one preliminary game presenting again the two girls' teams—Peoples Store and High School—which have just finished a three-game series in which there was only one basket difference in the total score of the three games. For this series the High School is at liberty to take High School players from the Sweet Sixteen team and the Peoples Store non-High School players from the same team.

SHORT SPORT

When the light blue of Cambridge stormed to a sensational five-length victory over Oxford in Saturday's traditional university boat race, a new record time was set for the Putney-Mortlake course. The result of the race augured well for British rowing Olympic prospects. The Cambridge crew clipped 13 seconds off the 1934 record, set by Cambridge to finish the 4 1/4-mile grind in 17 minutes, 50 seconds. The dark blue Oxford crew was two seconds outside the old mark.

Unlike many of the previous occasions on which the event—which annually draws crowds in the neighborhood of 1,000,000—has been contested, there were no Canadians in the slender racing shells which shot along the Thames. But at least one Canadian was involved in the day's excitement. Winnipeg-born Stewart MacPherson, well known commentator, who was circling over the river in an airplane from which he was relaying the news of the race to a radio audience, was forced down during the contest by engine trouble. He was not hurt and merely commented wryly: "Everything happens to me."

The light blue achievement was all the more heroic because at the start their No. 6 oarsman caught a crab and cost his crew at least six strokes, giving Oxford a clear lead. At the mile post, Oxford still held a half-length lead but Cambridge, hitting the water with magnificent precision, stepped up to 35 strokes and seized the lead shortly after the mile-mark. They drew ahead at Hammer-smith and from that point steadily increased their margin. The race was rowed in fairly calm weather holding for Monday, close to 3,500,000 saw league soccer following wind along part

ARE GUESTS AT LEGION PARTY

The official song of the University of Washington and a wide assortment of other harmonious and melodic sounds rang through the Canadian Legion Hall last Thursday night during the Legion's three-hour "Bring - the - Missus" party. The Washington song was sung by a group of American officer cadets who were guests of the gathering.

Home town talent included vocal solos by J. A. Teng and Harold George, piano accordion solos by Mike Colussi, recitations by Reg Kings, Harry Astoria and Stuart Hunter, songs by Mrs. Peggy Anderson, Bob Creedon and Mrs. M. Gilchrist and an instrumental quartet consisting of David Jones, Bob Creedon, Allan McKeever and Walter Gray.

T/Sgt. Willag Liddle of the officer cadet group sang several songs and Sgt. A. Venicoff performed on the piano accordion. A considerable part of the program was given to community singing with Mrs. J. R. Elfert and Mrs. J. S. Black alternating at the piano as accompanists.

Miss Mary Morton was chairman of the entertainment committee and Vic Duncan was master of ceremonies.

MORRIS SUMMIT MANAGER HAPPY

Unofficial reports from the Morris Summit gold mine at Stewart are that developments of recent date indicate that there can be no doubt as to the future of the property. Confirmation of these persistent reports can only be obtained from the head office of the company in Vancouver but there is an old saying "there can be no smoke without fire." Evan Harris, superintendent of the mine, and Donald McLean, engineer, were here today southbound on the steamer Coquitlam it is presumed to discuss future developments with the directors. Mr. Harris was non-committal but jubilant over the outlook. The bringing in of another producer will give a decided impetus to mining in the Portland Canal district.

FINE SHOW—

Job's Drs, Sea Cadets, Score Hit

Variety Concert Staged Effectively At Drill Hall
Lovely Job's Daughters and Wrennettes and clean-cut Sea Cadets, in a smart company numbering about fifty, got together last night on the stage at H.M.C.S. Chatham's drill hall and demonstrated to the delight of an enthusiastic audience of about 350 persons that Prince Rupert does not have to send away for first-class and really entertaining show talent. With turns of song, dance, burlesque and artistry in attractively conceived settings and with kaleidoscopic costumerie, it was adjudged by many present as fine a show as has ever been seen in the big drill hall. That is saying something, too, when one recalls the many fine shows that were seen there in the stirring war days. All the people who saw last night's opening show were surprised and delighted with it and loud in their praises for Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mitchell, who were the main-springs of the highly successful entertainment. Originally and ingenuity in arrangement and assiduity and fine co-ordination were evident in the excellence of the achievement of the show throughout. It was so easy and so pleasant to take, they should pack them in the aisles for the repeat performance tonight.

Effective indeed was the precision marching opening number by the girls in their neat white blouses and pleated skirts with their escort of Sea Cadets. The "How Do You Do Chorists" being a tunesome welcome. Following in quick and snappy succession the twenty various numbers. Each and every one were well received but, to keep the program moving with dispatch and timing, no encores were permitted.

Outstanding numbers included the group items such as the acrobatic tableaux in which ten of the younger Cadets, tense with keenness, presented several pyramid formations which reflected fine training and persevering practice. Taking part were Cadets McAra, Kelly, Sedgewick, Juvik, Pierce, Findlay, Toderaz, Stacey, McFarlane and Anderson.

Delightfully colorful and effectively set were such spotlight acts as the "Three O'Clock in the Morning" waltzing ensemble in ballroom costume with Lorraine Youngman as soloist, partnered by Doug McGreish, and dancing couples in the persons of Kathleen Smith and David Smith, Solveig Mork and Ted Forman, Joanne Langridge and Jack Wynn, Dorothy Becker and Gordon Rothwell, Monica Holby and Allan Forman and Barbara Teng and Alex Mitchell.

The "Picture Game" was another eye-catching novelty combining beauty and burlesque in turn. Barbara Teng was soloist for Dorothy Becker in her lovely "Alice Blue Gown." Larry Vaintin appeared in bathing attire of another era as a chorus sang "By the Sea." Romantic was the "If You Were the Only Girl" scene by Joan Langridge and Jack Wynn with Mickey Murray and Alex Mitchell providing the vocal background. Ted Forman was a handsome young man of the sea for Mickey Murray singing "All the Nice Girls Love a Sailor." The dreamy "After the Ball" scene was depicted by Diane Kennedy and Bob McChesney with Lily Sylvester doing the vocal. Jean Calderwood and Noon Webster went blackface over a mixing bowl in "Shortenin' Bread," accompanied by chorus. Vaughan Tattersal was a burly batsman in "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" while Donna McArthur donned a shawl and sat in a rocker as "Mother Machree," sung in duet by Joanne Langridge and Alex Mitchell.

Colorful crepe costumes appropriate to the garden patch scene were worn by Solveig Mork (petunia), Ruth Ketcheson, Mickey Murray, Melaine Brechin, Bernice Eastwood, Pat Guyan, Donna MacArthur, Peggy Pullen, Kathleen Hills, Lorna Donaldson, Marion Shenton, Kathleen Smith, Jean Calder-wood, Joan Ketcheson (onions), and Noon Webster (skunk), in the "Lonely Little Petunia" number.

COMEDY HAS FULL FLING
Comedy had full fling in the "Hill Billies" scene featuring feudin', mountain music, corn licker and rustic costumes with Lorraine Linney, Diane Kennedy (as grandma), Monica Holby (daughter), and Benice Eastwood, Ruth Ketcheson, Peggy Pullen, Jean McAfee, Dorothy Becker, Lorna Donaldson and Solveig Mork as the lattered Hill Billies.

Vaughan Tattersal, Ted and Allan Forman, Gordon Rothwell and Bob McChesney were daring and hairy female impersonators in the highly amusing "Dance of the Rainbow Fairies."
Other group numbers were "Deck of Cards" act, a novelty bit by Doug McGreish, Gordon Rothwell, Norman Shenton, Ted Forman and Diane Kennedy and "Duty Watch" by Alex Mitchell and Cadets McChesney, Wynn, Forman, Rothwell and Tattersal.

The brightly costumed tango by Lily Sylvester and Vaughan Tattersal was precisely executed and liked by the crowd as were Monica Holby and Allan Forman in their "Way Down South" tap duo.

"Sailor's Hornpipe" was a typical number and proved popular as presented by Wrennettes Diane Kennedy, Lily Sylvester and Lorraine Youngman.

The solo items of the evening were by Violinist Vaughan Tattersal, Pianists Bernice Eastwood, Piano Accordionist Robert Woods and vocal soloist Barbara Teng and Joanne Langridge.

Allan Forman received a virtual ovation for his "Bumble Boogie" on the piano.
After brief remarks of appreciation by Lt.-Cdr. Alex Mitchell and special applause for Accompanist Lorraine Linney, a spectacular Grand Finale with the entire cast—Job's Daughters in their white gowns and Wrennettes and Sea Cadets, smart in their uniforms, flanking Honored Queen Solveig Mork and Petty Officer Ted Forman in a raised central frame—brought the show to a rousing and impressive climax. Cadets Prevost and Woods carried the flags.

Important parts in backstage arrangements were played by Doug McGreish as stage manager, Robert Smith and Allan Hartwig, illumination, and David Smith, public audition.

SHRINE CLUB PARTY ENJOYED

More than 100 couples enjoyed dancing and refreshments at a party last Thursday night sponsored by the Prince Rupert Shrine Club in the Moose Temple. The red fez of Gizeh Temple was worn by Shrine Club members and paper replicas by other guests. Music was supplied by Andy McNaughton at the piano. Terrace Civic Centre Annual

Year's Activities Reported On—Executive Re-elected—Question of Ownership

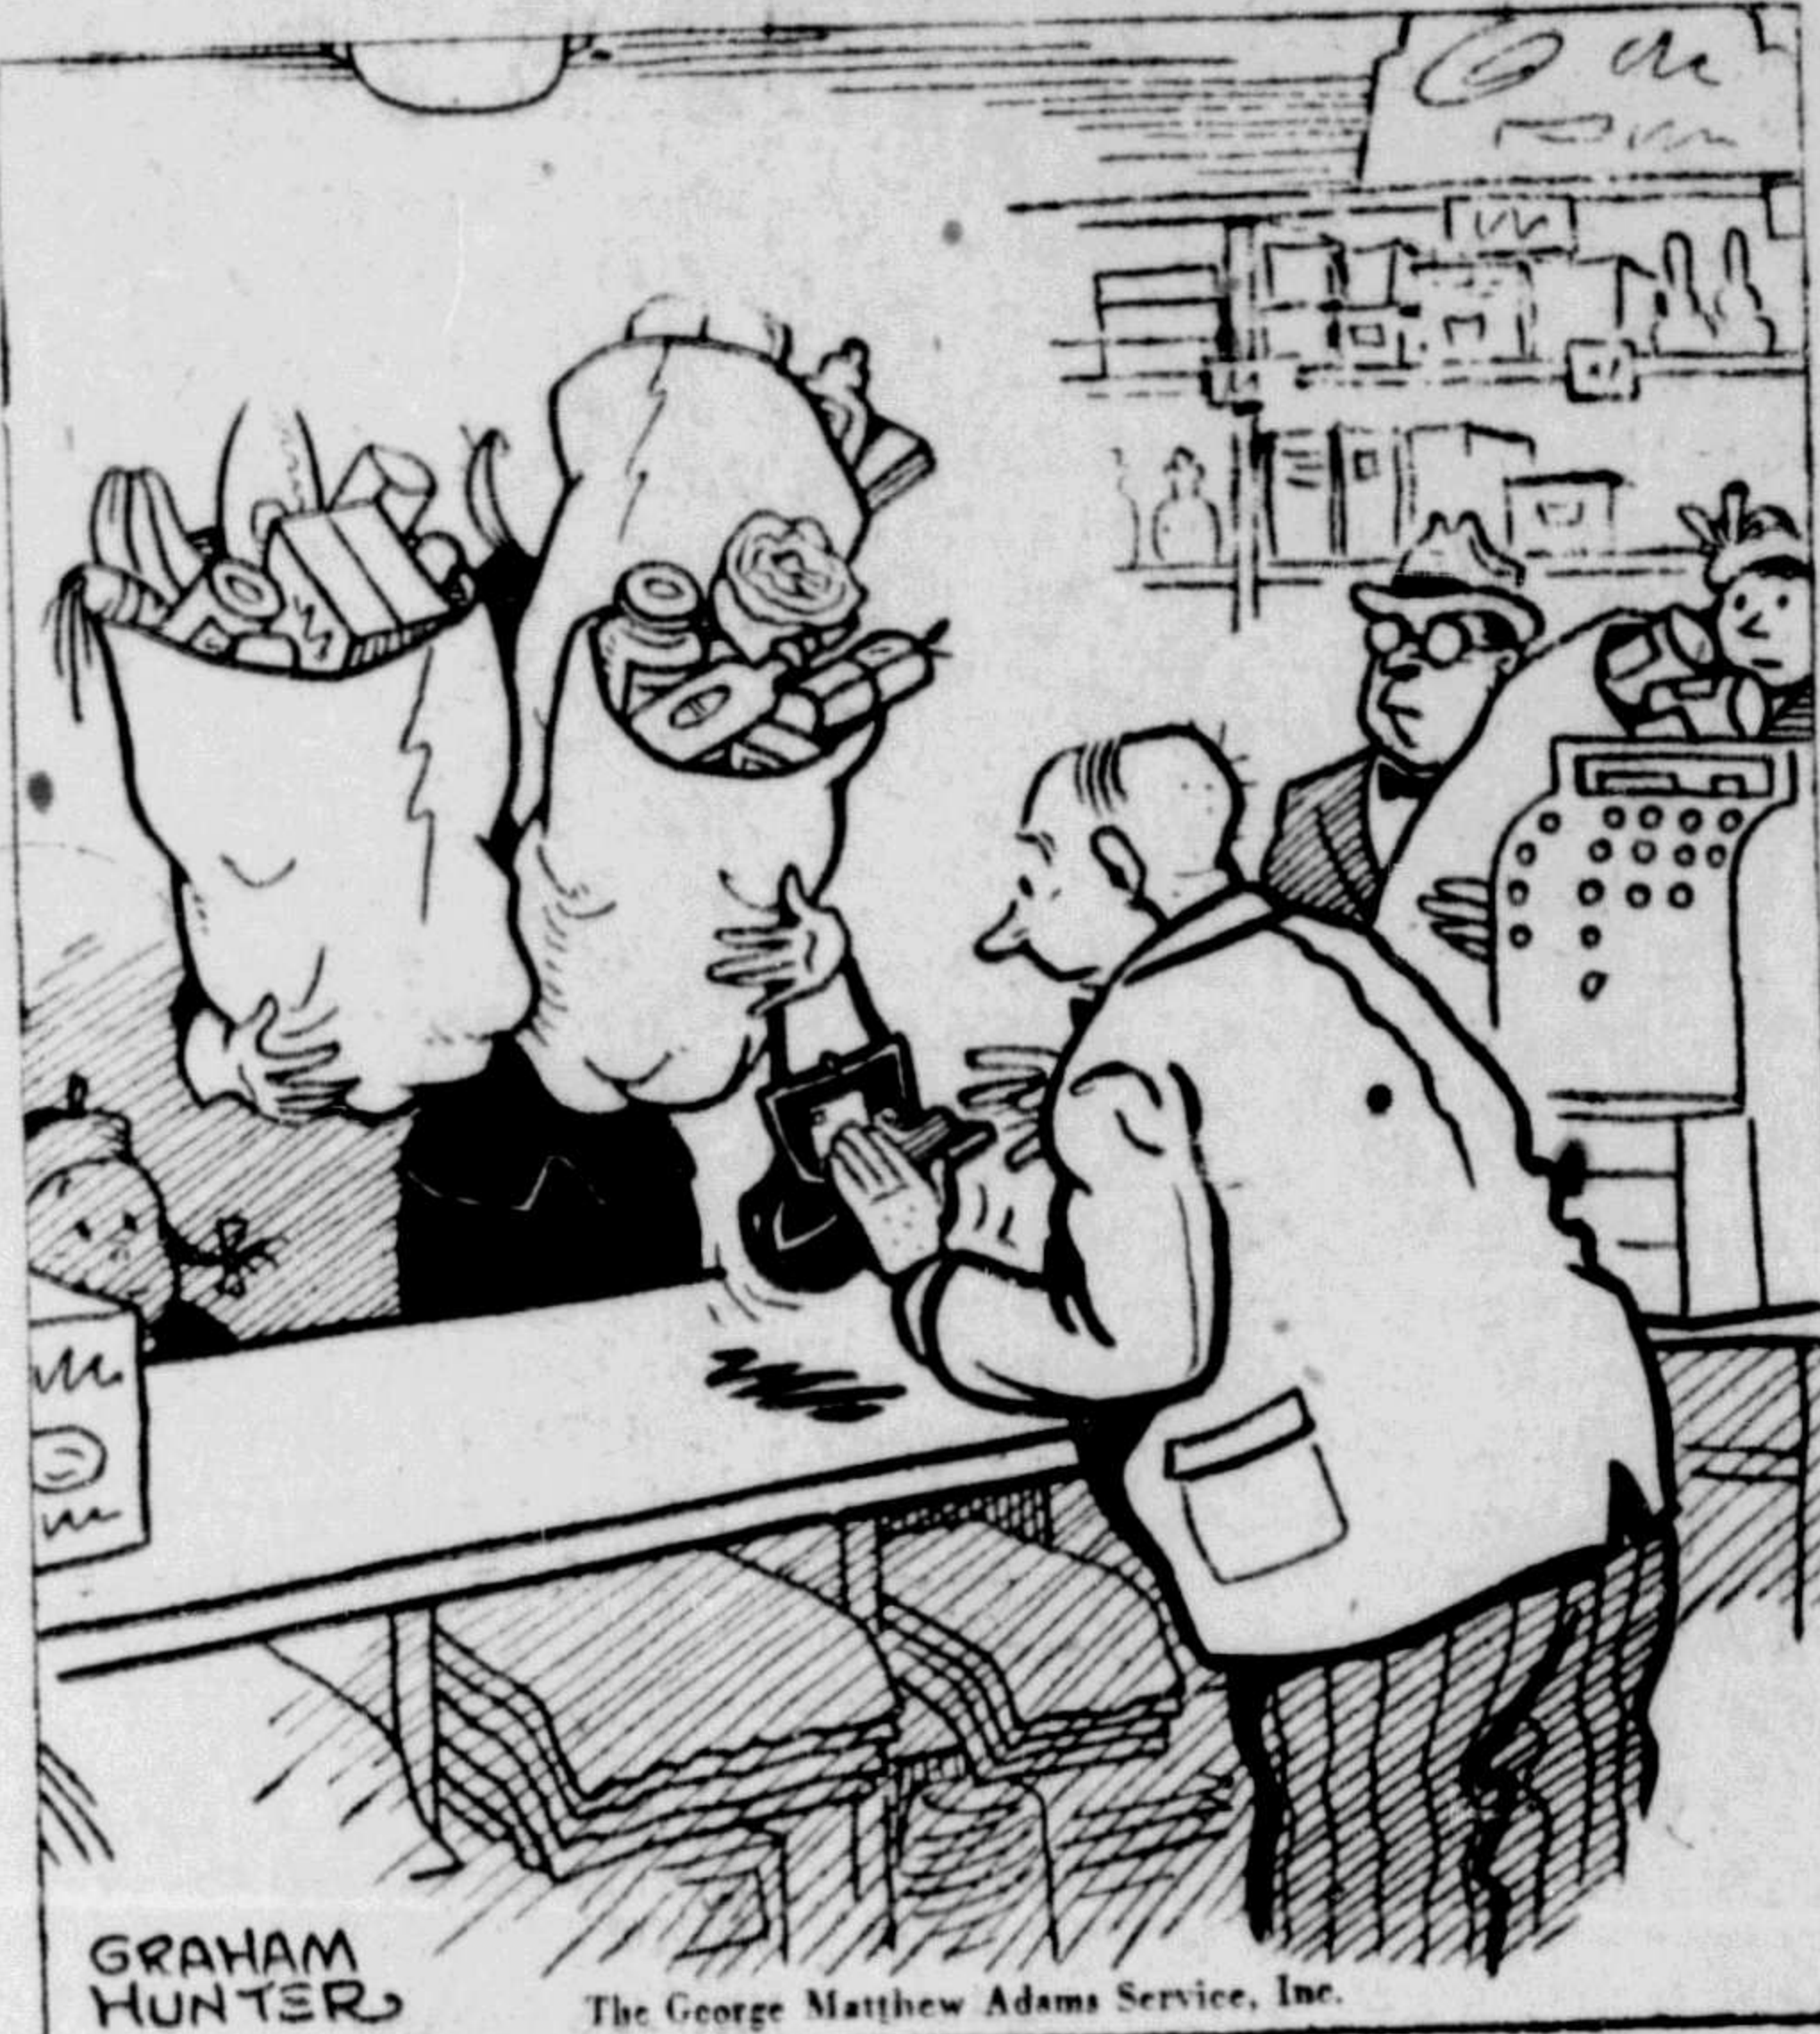

TERRACE—The first annual meeting of the Terrace and District Civic Centre Association was a well attended, congenial gathering of representatives of cross-sections of the whole community in the bowling alleys at the centre.

The chairman spoke of the events leading up to the Civic Centre Association being formed.

C. J. Norrington explained his financial statement. The various committee chairmen gave their reports.

A. Yoxall, director of the centre, stated that activities had started with the bowling alleys and these have been the main source of revenue and have quite definitely kept things going. All activities were successful throughout the year.

A badminton club was formed and,

GRAHAM HUNTER

"Now lift up those letters from Aunt Hattie to the left of my compact, feel under that orchid hankie but watch out for some pins, and you'll find a red purse. Open it and take out that wad of postage stamps, three sticks of gum and a nail file and you'll see, two tens and a five. Take one of the tens... the torn one, please, and..."

though very active at first, it had gradually dropped off due to conditions in the hall. Basketball was started and, though there were two good teams, there were very few spectators at the games which showed a lack of adult interest in the sport which was discouraging to the boys. The boys had shown up well in boxing and, as a result, two boys were to go to Prince Rupert to take part in a boxing tourney with boys from that city and Ketchikan. The dramatic club was going well but stage defects had to be remedied before any play could be staged in the centre. He thanked all those who had helped him in any way.

Mr. Yoxall's recommendations included: 1. The hiring on a salary of a competent assistant in sports. 2. The complete finishing off of the hall according to the floor plan. 3. The finishing off and shelving of the bowling alleys in the immediate future. 4. That each annual meeting after this be in the form of a dinner meeting.

Speaking for the Kinsmen, P. vanStolk assured the association of the continued co-operation and support of the Kin Club.

President Little, in his report, thanked the executive and all who have helped him, also the Kinsmen who have contributed to the centre funds to such a great extent.

Election of officers resulted in Finance—Duncan Kerr, Steve Howlett. Building Maintenance—W. Chesler, J. McKay. Membership and Organization—O. Baxter, S. Kirkaldy, Mrs. Mills. Athletics—M. Peek-Vout, W. Toop, Oliver Baxter, Irene Pratt. Choral and Dramatics—Mrs. Chesler. Publicity—Parker Mills. George Little, donor of the land on which stands the building, was made an honorary member. Four members at large were elected to the directorate, these being S. Kirkaldy, Oliver Baxter, G. McAdams, Miss Elliott Head. Auditor is J. Stevenson. Mrs. D. Little offered her services to teach badminton to the school children. The matter of improvements to the building was again brought up with Mr. Yoxall's recommendations to the fore. It was generally felt that ownership of the building should be transferred from the village to the Association. It was urged that a meeting should take place between the directorate and the village commissioners in an endeavour to have this vexing problem ironed out. In the meantime, estimates for the completion of the building would be asked for. J. Lambly offered to start off any drive for funds towards further work on the building with a $50 donation. The meeting adjourned at a late hour.

Mr. Hladun, born in Manitoba in 1904, became identified with the Young Communist League as a youth and was so diligent as a party organizer that he won selection as one of an annual quota of twenty Canadians to go to Lenin University for advanced training, his companion being Harvey Murphy of Vancouver with whom he distinguished himself agitating among mine workers in Lethbridge. Not only have Canadian Communists sworn allegiance to the interview, but their interview in Canada is actually that of a world revolution. Communist domination parts of the globe. He called that Communist party call for constant warfare between man and man, group, and that mutual standing between employees can never be published under Communism of flouting authority creating overall confusion. No Markets - No Pay-cheques

As British Columbians, our ability to produce fishery products far exceeds Canada's volume of consumption. Our dependence on export markets is, therefore, very real.

Under our system of free enterprise on this North American continent, a higher standard of living is enjoyed by more people than anywhere else in the world, whether under the same or any other economic system.

The maintenance of this living standard is aided by our continual efforts to produce quality products at costs which will admit them to all competitive markets.
