

Canadian National Railway Losing Money Heavily, Transport Commissioners Told

NEWFOUNDLAND'S RAILWAY—Essential to all of Newfoundland's trade and commerce is the Newfoundland Railway. It links the main centres of population of the country with the coast through which flow the imports and exports of the nation. This is the Port-Aux-Français, the western terminus of the line. From here traffic crosses to North Sydney by the Strait.

GOV'T LINE OPENS RATE BOOST CASE

OTTAWA, ©—Overall deficit of $31,000,000 for the Canadian National Railways for 1948 was indicated last night to the Board of Transport Commissioners. It would be the largest since the start of the war. However, as the government line opened its case for a 20 per cent increase in freight rates, it said that the outlook for 1949 was about $2,000,000 better than last year. The Canadian Pacific Railway completed its case by telling the board that passage of time was boosting the percentage of increase that would be needed to overcome the financial "deficiency" of $29,000,000 for this year. From 20 per cent at the start of the year, the Canadian Pacific submission said, the deficiency would go to 23 per cent on March 1 and 25 per cent April 1.

Sales Tax Under Fire In Legislature; Naval Officer Member Heard

VICTORIA (CP)—British Columbia's three per cent sales tax was under fire from both sides of the Legislature during the Throne Speech debate yesterday. Charles T. Beard (Coalition-Esquimalt) urged that the levy be dropped on all purchases under one dollar. Sam Guthrie (C.C.F.-Cowichan-Newcastle) asked that the tax be repealed or cut to one per cent.

Pr. George To Alaska

Legislation Looking to Building of Railroad Introduced at Washington
WASHINGTON, D.C., ©—Senator Warren Magnusen (Democrat-Washington) introduced legislation today to push a proposed railroad link between Prince George and Alaska, also introducing a resolution to authorize the President to negotiate direct with Canada in the matter. The amendment proposed that the President be directed to negotiate with Canada and have an estimate prepared of the cost of a detailed survey of the economic justification of the line.

REVISION COURT UPHOLDS FOUR ASSESSMENTS

Assessment valuation of four district properties were upheld Thursday afternoon by W. D. Vance in his capacity as judge of the provincial Court of Revision, while assessment on a fifth, a Terrace district farm, was cut in half on appeal by its American owner. Valuations laid down by Provincial Assessor J. G. Garrett were upheld in an appeal by Mike Lyko, of Terrace, two appeals by Christian Anderson of Alice Arm and John M. Gregg of Marion, Illinois on land he owns at the north end of Kitsumkallum Lake. A reduction of assessment from $5 to $2.50 an acre was ordered by Mr. Vance in an appeal by Cecil Perreault, of Detroit, Michigan, on 160 acres south of Terrace. The reduction lowers the total assessment from $800 to $400. Mr. Garrett agreed that the $5 an acre figure was high in relation to assessments on other wild lands in the immediate region. The court agreed that an assessment of $95 on 4.72 acres owned by Mike Lyko of Terrace was not excessive and upheld the valuation. Valuations of $400 and $125 on two lots in the village of Alice Arm were sustained by Mr. Vance. The lots are owned by Christian Anderson who claimed that they were over-assessed. An assessment of $2.50 an acre on 160 acres near Rosswood, north of Kitsumkallum Lake, was upheld. The appeal had been entered by John M. Gregg of Marion, Illinois, the owner.

COLDEST NIGHT IS RECORDED

A sudden clear, cold spell of weather brought Prince Rupert its lowest thermometer reading so far this winter during the night when 13 above was recorded. Previous low for the winter was 14 above on December 16.

PASSENGER TRAIN DUE

Will be First in 10 Days—Cold Weather Tightens Snow
Canadian National Railways officials were hoping to bring into Prince Rupert today the first westbound passenger train in almost two weeks as a sudden cold snap reduced the immediate danger of further snowslides along the line between the city and Terrace. Superintendent C. A. Berner said that a passenger train was to leave Terrace at noon behind a snow plow and that it was hoped to bring passengers, mail and express here by rail for the first time since early last week. It was hoped that the train would arrive about 4 p.m. The passenger train, ordinarily scheduled to leave at 8 o'clock tonight for the East, has been set back until 8:30 tomorrow morning. The first passenger train to leave the city in more than a week headed east Wednesday night and passed through the danger zone between Kwinitisa and Salvia before a slide covered the recently-cleared tracks at noon Thursday. The slide, 400 feet long and 20 feet deep, came down four miles east of Kwinitisa, knocking out telegraph lines and covering the rails. The rails have since been cleared but telegraph communication had not been restored up to noon today. Clear, cold weather along the lower Skeena is expected to hold the snow masses on the upper mountain slopes as long as it lasts and it is believed that normal service may be the order for the next few days at least. There will be no freight train movements until Sunday morning, Mr. Berner said. "Right now, we are concentrating on bringing in passengers, mail and express." The Prince Rupert - Pacific division is not the only line having snow trouble. Rail lines along the Fraser River to Vancouver today were blocked by snow and train service delayed.

EDUCATOR DIES

SACKVILLE, New Brunswick—Dr. George J. Trueman, president-emeritus of Mount Allison University, and noted Canadian educator, died in hospital today. He was 76 years of age and had been elected mayor of this town only a few weeks ago. Dr. Trueman had suffered a stroke last Friday and had been unconscious since.

PYJAMAS AND SLIPPERS FOR CANADA'S ARMY

OTTAWA—It may come as a bit of a shock to dyed in the wool old "sweats" but Canadian soldiers are going to be issued with bedroom slippers and broadcloth pyjamas sometime between now and the spring of 1950. And that's not all. By about next September their wardrobes also will include bath towels, white cotton handkerchiefs and zippered overshoes in addition to the recently announced new lightweight summer clothing. Other new items of clothing planned for issue soon are black, fleec-lined leather gloves, brown leather waist belts, gabardine raincoats and new gymnasium clothing. They will also benefit immediately by an increase in the present issue of underclothing, shirts, ties and socks. It all adds up to one thing. The Canadian soldier not only is going to look smarter on duty in the future, but is going to be mighty comfortable "off parade."

ERNIE PYLE RE-INTERRED

HONOLULU—The body of Ernie Pyle, famed war correspondent, killed by a Japanese bullet during the Pacific war, arrived here February 14 for burial in the new National Cemetery. It had been removed from Saipan, at the request of the father, W. C. Pyle of Dana, Indiana. The correspondent was shot in April, 1945.

REGIMENTS TAKE BACK OLD NAMES

OTTAWA — Reserve Force units of the Royal Canadian Armored Corps are again to be known by their pre-war names, the Minister of National Defence announced today. During the war each regiment was known by a number, followed by its pre-war title. Today the old name, with its geographic and often historic connotations, comes first. For instance, in Ottawa, the 4th Armored Car Regiment, (4th Princess Louise Dragoon Guards) will now be known as the 4th Princess Louise Dragoon Guards (4th Armored Car Regiment). Similarly, the 21st Armored Regiment in Hull now becomes Le Regiment de Hull (21st Armored Regiment). In British Columbia the Ninth Reconnaissance Regiment of Kelowna will revert to the British Columbia Dragoons and the 13th Armored Regiment in Vancouver goes back to the British Columbia Regiment (Duke of Connaught's Own). The revival of the old designations was largely brought about through representations made to the Minister by the Royal Canadian Armored Corps Association at its annual meeting last year. Although experience gained during the Second World War showed the numerical designation to be most satisfactory in that it is simple, easily abbreviated and most descriptive of the function of the unit, the Association felt that the old names were more widely known to, and cherished by, the communities which support the respective units.

Union New Approved

Newfoundland Resolution Will Be Sent to Mother of Parliaments
OTTAWA ©—Draft resolution on terms of union for Newfoundland with Confederation of Canada, having passed the House of Commons, received Senate approval yesterday and Royal Assent today. Now it will be sent to the United Kingdom Parliament as a joint petition for legislation confirming the union. George Drew, Progressive-Conservative leader, carried to the last barrier in the House of Commons his fight against the union and lost 140 to 74. The Leader of the Opposition said he was not opposing union but the constitutional methods adopted by the government in effecting it. In the showdown vote he was supported by Progressive - Conservatives, Social Crediters, one Liberal, one Independent, one Independent-Liberal and one member of the two-man Bloc Populaire. With the blessing of a repentant voice from Nova Scotia's anti-Confederation past, the historic move for union with Newfoundland cleared the final Parliamentary hurdle in the Senate in two swift jumps and was sent on its way with the singing of "God Save the King" for the Governor General to give the Royal Assent to the legislative instrument for the enlarged Confederation. Between now and March 31, the United Kingdom Parliament will give full approval to the bill embodying the terms for making Newfoundland Canada's tenth province and the "humble address" which asks the King to have Parliament confirm the union.

WARTIME HOUSE OFFICE CLOSING

Administration office of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation here will close permanently on February 28 and the city branch of the Bank of Montreal will handle local affairs of the corporation after that date, purchasers and tenants of wartime houses are being advised. The closure is being made as a result of the sale of practically all the 522 former wartime houses to private owners since September 1947, when they were first placed on the market. Purchasers are being advised by C. H. Coull, administrator here, that the Bank of Montreal will accept future payments after the closing of the office. Having made a special call at Port Edward to unload a compressor, steamer Coquitlam arrived in port at 1:45 this afternoon from Vancouver.

SMALL BOY YIELDS TIP

Search Continues For Trigger Happy Victoria Bank Bandit
VICTORIA ©—Six-year-old Peter Rankin heard loud bangs in a telephone conversation with his father, Charles Rankin, in the Bay Street Canadian Bank of Commerce robbery Wednesday. Not understanding, he told his mother and this provided the tip-off for the police who are seeking the "Wild West" gunman who robbed the bank of $7,000. Police hunt has been widened for the trigger-happy bandit who shot up the downtown bank, commandeered a cab, stormed into the bank, fired a shot at the ceiling and two more at the manager's office. No one was injured. "This is a hold-up," said the bandit as he forced Doris Blault, 26-year-old cashier, to open the cash drawer which she had slammed shut when he entered. "Get that cash out or I'll plug you. I'll shoot and I don't care who gets it," the robber shouted. It was the first bank robbery in Victoria since 1943 when the same branch was cleaned of $1500.

SEES ELECTION BEFORE JUNE

VANCOUVER ©—Vancouver News-Herald, in a news page story, said yesterday that an election before June 1 in the province appears almost a certainty but quoted C.C.F. members as saying they would delay any move to prorogue early.

EMERGENCY DECLARED

Drastic Action By Siamese Premier Against Communism
BANGKOK ©—A state of emergency will be proclaimed in Siam within the next twenty-four hours "to combat the growing communist menace," Prime Minister Pibul Songkham announced today. The Prime Minister added that Siam had agreed to the British request to seal off the Siam-Malayan frontier, the scene of anti-Communist drives during the last few days. The emergency measure is intended to combat a growing Communist threat to Siam from the latest developments in neighboring countries—Malaya, Indo-China and Burma.

Harry Perry Is Hailed As Hero

As Prince George Celebrates Pacific Great Eastern Railway Extension Announcement
Harry G. T. Perry, former member of the provincial cabinet and speaker in the Legislature, was hailed as a hero at Prince George as the interior town celebrated the announcement of the provincial government's decision to extend the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Quesnel. Mr. Perry, who has campaigned for extension of the line to Prince George ever since it began operation, made a special radio address to proclaim that "we shall all witness in the next two years a magnificent development in the whole area of central B.C." He foresaw new capital coming into the district settlement of three million acres of land and rural electrification. C. O. Albins, chairman of Prince George Board of Trade railway committee, heralded the opening of a new economic era and described the plans as tripling the size of the active part of British Columbia. It was the second time Prince George had celebrated announcement of a P.G.E. link with the coast, but the old-timers who saw their dreams fade the first time are confident that the hour of the area's destiny is at hand.

SOUTH IS HARD HIT

VANCOUVER—Battered rail and telephone communications hamstrung British Columbia today as snowslides and floods followed the province's first big rain since December. Eight box cars were swept from Canadian Pacific tracks near Grand Forks, dropping 200 feet into deep snow. One Canadian National train, marooned at Floods, just west of Hope, with 50 passengers since Wednesday morning, was extricated from giant snowslides today.

NORTHWEST IS SNOW-STRICKEN

CHICAGO ©—Mountainous snows and flood waters in some areas of the storm-stricken western states yesterday isolated several communities, stranding thousands of persons. Food and fuel shortages in some snowbound Wyoming towns became more acute. Misery of ranch families mounted. At least a dozen small towns and several ranches in Nevada were marooned. "State of emergency" has been declared and planes are flying food into the area. Flood waters have isolated five communities in northwestern Washington State. Snow slides have roared into Pacific Northwest mountain passes, impeding rail and road travel.

Election Winds

AN EARLY provincial election may be in the wind. Coalition members in the House are talking that way. The C.C.F. indicates that it would just as soon head off a contest within the next few months.

With big industrial enterprises actively interesting themselves in setting up in the province on an unprecedented scale, the suggestion is made that an unstable political situation in British Columbia might have an adverse effect upon final decisions to locate here. Therefore, it would be desirable to clear the political atmosphere once and for all.

From the straight political standpoint, it is understandable from the coalition aspect where an early election might be desirable. The Premier has brought down an ambitious expansion program, the effecting of which would ensure a great measure of development and a long era of prosperity. The government has something on which to go to the country.

Also from the political standpoint, it might be considered desirable that an early provincial election be held so that the solidarity of the coalition, whatever its degree of strength and cohesiveness may be, would not be adversely affected by differences between the two old parties which might be accentuated in a federal contest which is also a practical certainty this year.

There appears to be good reason to believe that the provincial election may come first after all.

CITY OR WILDS

IT SO HAPPENS that most of the people living in British Columbia also dwell in or near the city of Vancouver. It's always been that way. What's to be done about it? Not very much! Time can make a change but it's a tedious process. As a matter of fact, much of B.C. is still a wilderness. Some people prefer a crowd to the frontier. But the bright lights, the shows and the Hollywood flavor attract attract more. Most of us want the easy and not the hard way. But that does not say it's always easy in the big town. The lure, however, is there but ample ground for expansion will always be available in the great open spaces.

BARREL STAVES

DOWN the gleaming snow slopes of the world's winter resorts a modern generation slides and glides on skis. It is an exacting sport, an exercise calling for co-ordination, a pliant strength and timing. Practiced by experts it achieves dazzling speed, grace and rhythm.

But can the stylized performance of the present ski enthusiast produce the rollicking fun of an earlier boyhood's haphazard descent down a neighborhood snow hill on barrel staves? Here was shown a native dexterity born and nurtured in the school of hardy experience. No instructor taught the youngster how to place his feet, how to attempt a turn, how to preserve a balance. Those were accomplishments seldom attained. There was little direction, other than downward. Grace was inadvertent and infrequent, and a successful slide was more a miracle than a triumph.

But there was a rich reward in laughter from himself and his fellows when the curved staves dub into the snow to throw a rider into a drift, or when the rockered boards raced out from under him. The game was an invitation to light-hearted merriment, to rough bumps cheerfully taken. And though it lacked the possibilities of smooth perfection, of elegance in execution, it held a boisterous appeal that was all its own.

He said he found unemployment increasing, prices going down, and the worst weather in American history. In Nevada, 45 below zero was recorded. He saw deer and sheep lying near the railway tracks, frozen to death. More than 800 lumber mills were closed down in Oregon and Washington. The Southern Pacific Railway had laid off 2,500 employees. Mr. White attended a Republican convention in Omaha.

Harmony In Blackface

Songs, Atmosphere of South With Rotary Minstrel Show

The old-fashioned minstrel show came to Prince Rupert Thursday for a two-day stand, bringing audiences who attended evening and matinee performances at the Civic Centre the delightful song and color of a South that existed probably only in the imaginations of composers and inspired dialogue writers.

It was the second presentation of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club minstrel show, complete with an excellent male chorus, prattling end men, dance teams and pantomime, all wrapped up in packages as black as burned cork.

The two-hour show opened with a matinee for children in the afternoon and then played to an audience of 400 in the evening. Those who were in a position to compare yesterday's performances with those of the original minstrel show last year noted a marked development in the chorus which was the backbone of the show. Under the direction of C. P. Balagno, its conductor, it has in the last few months, blossomed into a harmonious unit in which voices and sections blend smoothly.

The whole show was presented in a professional manner and moved along with a certainty that is often lacking in amateur performances. To achieve such a result with so large a cast is highly creditable to the musical and dramatic direction.

Although songs of the south naturally predominated in the choral numbers, the group did deviate from the Mason and Dixon atmosphere to include the rousing light operatic "Drinking Song" in the early part of the program. With that exception, the chorus went through the almost complete library of nostalgic songs.

Often with novel arrangements, many produced by Mr. Balagno, the chorus sang "In the Land of Cotton," "Deep River," "Kentucky Babe," "Old Man River," "Swing Low," "Roll the Old Chariot Along," "Going Home" and a final melody which included almost everything that they had missed previously.

The chorus was supported by an 11-piece orchestra drawn from the Prince Rupert Symphony Orchestra and conducted by Neville Gerrard. It completed in a most satisfying manner the music of the singers.

Perhaps the finest arrangement of the evening was the choral rendition of "Going Home" which was sung beautifully and gave excellent opportunity for the group's two tenor soloists, A. J. Teng and H. S. Whalen.

Interspersed between the songs was the chatter of the four end men, in continual controversy with each other and with interlocutor E. T. Applewhite. With costumes inspired obviously by a particularly lurid nightmare and dialogue developed from the local scene they were in the tradition of their kind. In spite of their black faces, they were named, Mr. White, Mr. Green, Mr. Brown, a color combination that was glorified by Miss Topsis Spink. The players in the above order were P. H. Linzey, M. F. Saart, Jack Cobb and A. P. Crawley.

A dance team of five pickaninies from Mrs. Mavis Colclough's dancing class did a pleasing group tap dance to "Small Fry" as sung by Bonnie Sprinkle with accompaniment by Andy McNaughton, pianist, and Bob Woods, drums. The dance was marked by skillful precision and clever footwork. The five little dancers were Janice Taylor, Sonja Berg, Jackie Gustafson, Ann Colussi and Elsa Insulander.

Tiny Heather Macdonald, did a solo performance of a syncopated dance and a tap routine which was widely applauded.

The pantomime routine of Jerry and Janice Taylor, in which Jerry pantomimed the actions of Al Jolson while Jolson's voice sang from a record, drew curtain calls.

The report of the directors cited the instituting of a "genuine checking service" as its most important step during the year. Members can now draw on their deposit accounts anywhere in the country by writing a check against those accounts. Drafts are collectible through the Royal Bank of Canada.

Life insurance service is also being offered by the Union under which, by payment of $100 per year on a ten-year endowment basis, there is protection of $2000 in case of death or a full $1000 surrender value in cash at the end of ten years. Members' borrowing liabilities are also protected.

Listed as "no small achievement" was the financial position of the Union which, during the year, had been changed from one of borrowing itself to meet members' servicing needs to one of lending $170,000 to the Co-op Federation, thus helping the Co-op in its financing on fish settlements and store accounts.

ELECTIONS

The meeting elected to the board of directors Julius Johnson and David Deane for three year terms and Hans Hagen for a two-year term. Continuing members of the board are Oscar Pettersen and Verne Fossum, two

GUEST SPEAKER

Guest speaker at last night's meeting was Gordon Butcher of the Credit Union of Canada Health Services Society who urged members to take a vocal interest in these annual meetings in the affairs of the organization so that the officers they elected might be better guided on their wishes in regard to general policy. Borrowers were just as important as investors, Mr. Butcher declared. The necessity of making fundamentally sound loans was emphasized by the speaker.

Mr. Butcher went on to discuss the activities of the health services society which was now specializing in medical service now that the provincial government had taken over the field of hospital insurance. Other insurance fields were also being entered. In the course of questions, Mr. Butcher disclosed that medical service did not include alcoholism, drug addiction, cosmetic effects and tuberculosis.

Nels Rudd, chairman of the board of directors, presided over the meeting which concluded with the serving of refreshments and the showing of moving pictures.

Looking Back in SPORTS - Reminiscences and Records

GREAT HOCKEY DEEDS
Great names, great deeds are associated with the Stanley Cup. It has been the symbol of the game's growth, the tears, the laughter, the hardships — yes, and even the game's tragedies like the 1919 final series, the only Stanley Cup season in 55 years that bears the record of "No Winner." That was the year of the fatal flu epidemic that halted the series in Seattle between the Pacific champions and Montreal Canadiens when Joe Hall, Canadiens' star, died.

Great games, great achievements are etched into its background. So determinedly have the competitors battled down through the years that the record books are studded with brilliant victories won when all hope seemed lost. The greatest team achievement, for instance, was accomplished by the Toronto Maple Leafs who lost the first three games of the 1941-42 finals and then came back to take the next four and title championship.

Of all Stanley Cup games there are two that will remain vividly in the minds of hockey fans because most of them sat up half the night awaiting the outcome. The first occurred on April 3, 1933, when Toronto and

Eight years ago tonight Boston Bruins ran an unbeaten streak to 22 games by holding the Toronto Maple Leafs to a 2-2 draw. This improved a National Hockey League record they established five days earlier when they broke New York Rangers' mark of 19 undefeated games set in the 1939-40 season. Bruins extended the streak another game before being stopped by Rangers.

Fred Matheshin, 22-year-old Quebec miner, was taken to hospital after being knocked out in Toronto's "white hope" boxing tournament 13 years ago tonight. He died in hospital three days later. Sponsored by Jack Dempsey, the tournament failed to unearth a serious challenger for Joe Louis.

LEGION BILLIARDS NOW NEAR FINAL

Youngman to Play Winner of Hurst vs. Hardy

In the semi-finals of the handicap English billiards tournament at the Canadian Legion Hall, which is expected to finish this week, C. L. Youngman (plus 29) defeated Vic Duncan (plus 40) by a score of 150 to 101, thereby becoming one of the contestants in the final match of 200 points this week-end.

A. M. Hurst (minus 10) reached the semi-finals by defeating J. Campbell (minus 25) after a hard-fought match by 150-138 and will now meet Fred Hardy in the semi-final, the winner of this game to be matched against C. L. Youngman in the final.

Advertisements in the Daily News!

Today in spite of its age and rugged treatment in the past, the Stanley Cup is no "battered old mug" as sportswriters often term it. The original $50 basin, its silver glistening, sits atop a 30-inch column of silver panels, each bearing the engraved names of championship teams (and a few assorted names that have been scratched into the surface by people who got close enough to the cup to do their own engraving).

As a champagne bowl the Stanley Cup has proved an ideal and popular receptacle at championship celebrations. The most famous story concerns the time New York Rangers defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs in the finals and then staged a victory celebration in a Toronto hotel. Ranger officials expected about 35 persons to attend—but they reckoned without considering a big dance taking place in an adjoining ballroom. When they received the bill the next day it totalled $3,700—for everyone at the dance had moved in to sample Stanley Cup champagne!

EXPLAINING TO NEWFOUNDLAND

ST. JOHNS, Nfld.—The intricacies of the customs of Canada, taxation, the postal service, family allowances and unemployment insurance are being explained to Newfoundland officials by Ottawa civil servants in preparation for the taking over of the island by the Dominion government next month.

Plans also include Easter gifts for the nurses at the hospitals. Mrs. C. Aiger is the new president of the society and Mrs. McClelland secretary.

UNITED CHURCH VALENTINE TEA

The home of Mrs. A. J. Dominato, Taylor Street, was the setting of a delightful Valentine tea held Thursday afternoon under sponsorship of the Women's Auxiliary of First United Church.

Valentine Day colors were employed strikingly in the table centre-piece which consisted of red and white tulips flanked with silver candlesticks holding white tapers twined with red ribbon. A bright log fire in the hearth added to the cheerful atmosphere.

Mrs. Andrew Thompson, Women's Auxiliary president, received the guests, assisted by Mrs. Dominato. At the urns were Miss Helen Hurd, Mrs. R. C. Large, Mrs. R. A. Wilson and Mrs. A. S. Nickerson.

Serviteurs were Mrs. J. Macdonald, Mrs. B. Fraser, Mrs. Hugh Macdonald, Mrs. R. Irvine, Mrs. M. F. Stuart and Mrs. George E. Peters.

In charge of the home cooking table were Mrs. G. Cleopoe and Mrs. Robert Barclay. Mrs. D. Santurbane was cashier.

Mrs. W. Faught was convener for the tea and her assistants were Mrs. N. Marneau, and Miss Margaret McLeod.

HEAVENLY CALAVO SALAD
Reach up to your pantry shelf for a can of cling peaches and some pineapple to combine with crisp celery and winter Calavo for this "Heavenly Calavo Salad." The celery provides just the right amount of crispness for the three delicious fruits. The thin French dressing accents their flavors to perfection.

Calavo Salad
1 medium-sized Calavo
Lemon juice
Salt
4 to 5 canned cling peach halves
2/3 cup chopped celery
Salad greens
Tart French dressing
Cut Calavo into halves lengthwise, remove seed and skin and dice fruit. Sprinkle with lemon juice and salt. Dice well-drained peaches. Blend fruits and celery lightly and serve on salad greens with French dressing.
Serves 4 to 5.

ISLAND SHIPYARDS—Since Newfoundland is an island and fishing is the major industry, shipyards are required to maintain the many ships used in trade and commerce by the country. This photo shows the Newfoundland dockyard operated by the Newfoundland Railway at St. John's. Besides maintenance of the railway fleet of coastal vessels, foreign shipping is also handled here. The Experts Say

By KAY REX
Attractive Dessert—An attractive cream dessert is pleasing to the most critical of dinner guests—and it is always popular with the children. Here are several delicious cream desserts:
Coffee Tapioca Fluff—Ingredients: four tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, one-quarter cup sugar, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-third cup seedless raisins, two cups coffee, one teaspoon vanilla, one cup whipping cream.
Cook tapioca, sugar, salt and raisins in coffee in top of double boiler until tapioca is clear (about 15 minutes). Stir frequently. Add vanilla and chill. Whip cream and fold into mixture. Pile into serving dishes and chill thoroughly. Yield: six servings.
Date Fritters—Nearly every hostess likes to surprise her guests with something "special" at dessert time. Perhaps she might like to try Date Fritters.
Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups flour; 1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder; one-quarter teaspoon salt; two-thirds cup milk; one egg; one cup dates.
Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Add milk, egg and dates, which have been chopped and pitted. Cook in deep fat. Drain on brown paper and sprinkle with powdered sugar.
Prune Pudding—Ingredients: one cup cooked prunes stoned and chopped; one-half cup sugar; one-half cup milk; one-half cup bread crumbs; one teaspoon baking powder; one teaspoon vanilla; one tablespoon melted butter; one-eighth teaspoon salt; one-half cup chopped nuts. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven and serve with whipped cream.

Angel's Delight—Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups milk; one cup sugar; eight tablespoons butter; six tablespoons flour; one pound marshmallows (chopped fine); one small can grated pineapple; one cup nuts; one-half pint whipped cream.
Cook until thick, let cool and stir in marshmallows. Add pineapple, nuts and whipped cream. Chill.
Carrot - Munching—Health and welfare department officials have a few words of cheer for the carrot-munchers.
"Raw vegetables are one of the best sources of important vitamins and minerals for building strong teeth and producing healthy blood, says the department.
For the harassed housewife who has trouble thinking up an attractive meat dish, the department suggests a good fish dinner.
"Apart from the good eating, fish equals meat in protein value," says the department.
"It has other valuable elements including phosphorus and calcium which are important for the formation of bones and teeth."

HUGE BOX OF CANDY - PRIZE

Robert Dunn of Grade 8 is being hailed as "The Sweetest Boy in Prince Rupert." Robert's name was drawn from among 800 others by Miss Pat McRea, making him the winner of the Cheer Club candy raffle. The box of candy which he won measured 30 by 38 inches and held about 10 pounds of candy. It was attractively decorated in red and white satin by Donna Richards and Joyce Tattersall.
The drawing took place on Friday at a Coke Dance held in the school auditorium. After much persuasion on the part of Miss MacRea, dancing finally began. A few hopefuls were telling their friends about the candy they were going to take home. Miss MacRea squashed their hopes when she pulled Robert's name out of the box and, much to everybody's surprise, he wasn't even there. The dance broke up amid groans of disappointment from the unlucky ones who had counted on being lucky.
Profits from the dance and raffle amounted to $83.

Personalities

OUR LAILA

Prince Rupert's habitual calm was shattered the frosty Friday of February 21, 1931, when twins Laila and Jeanne Husoy reached the land of the living. Laila, the elder by 20 minutes, is secretary of the Students' Council. In addition to her efficient fulfillment of this office, she does stenographical work at McRae Bros. and is the Ski Club's publication representative. She is taking the high school commercial course, and has reportedly a high average. Laila may be seen any night after six at 302 4th Ave. East doing homework, playing rummy or discussing politics. (She cooks, too, boys).
That becoming cosmopolitan atmosphere we notice about both the Husoy girls may, doubtless, be attributed to their three-year sojourn in Vancouver, where they attended both Lord Byng and Fairview Commercial schools. Finding Vancouver too small, the girls returned to Rupert. Laila to continue officiating at Booth, and Jeanne to work at Fashion Footwear. Laila astounds one with her sparkling conversations, which she carries on in English, Norwegian and Spanish. She attains the latter tongue by dint of rigid determination and morning classes which begin at dawn (8:20) every morning. For further information phone Green 169 and ask for "Loquacious."

J. Lindsay was fined $15 and costs in city police court Wednesday after pleading guilty to a charge of driving in excess of the city speed limit.

Junior Valentine Party

The Junior High party was held on Saturday in the school auditorium. It was attended by many students of the Junior High School. The auditorium was tastefully decorated with paper streamers, hearts and cupid for the occasion. The fun started with a rabbit dance after which the pupils enjoyed waltzes, fox-trots and old time dancing. Cakes and doughnuts were sold by the refreshment committee. Credit is due to Mr. Pium, the master of ceremonies; Miss Anstey, the head of the refreshment committee; Miss Jokanovich, in charge of the entertainment; Miss Gib-
