Netherlands Yield to U.N. Demands in Indies

HOSTILITIES TO TERMINATE DECEMBER 31

PARIS (CP)—The Netherlands told the United Nations Security Council today that they will order the end of hostilities in Indonesia at midnight, Friday.

The representative also announced that the Netherlands will soon release President Soekarno of the Republic, and cabinet ministers captured at the outset of the Dutch operations. The release will be "on the understanding that persons concerned will refrain from activities endangering public security."

The statement came within twenty-four hours of the deadline set in the order served on Holland yesterday.

PARIS. (CP)—The United Nations Security Council appeared ready today to order the withdrawal of Israeli troops from Negev. Observers said that the British demand for the withdrawal from the southern Palestine desert had a good chance of passage, with or without American support.

The delegates meanwhile awaited its own 11 o'clock deadline for Netherlands to liberate Indonesian leaders captured by the Dutch. The Security Council last night gave them twenty-four hours to free the captured Republicans.

34 PERCENT OF HOSPITAL CARDS ARE MAILED OUT

Figures from the Hospital Insurance Service office in Victoria showed that by Christmas Eve approximately 125,000 Hospital Insurance Cards had been mailed to different parts of the province. This represents about 34 per cent of the total number of cards to be distributed.

In giving out this information, a spokesman for the service said that it had been hoped that all cards would be in the mail before the New Year. But, although a reinforced staff had been working in two shifts, to achieve this, many people would not receive their cards until the middle of January. It was stated that the main reason for this is a slow down in the Mechanical tabulating section where the sorting and filing machines have been under heavy pressure.

The hospitals have been informed of this situation. Any person who has to go to hospital in the early part of 1949 will be admitted under the Hospital Insurance Plan provided he can produce a cash receipt for at least six months' premium payment. Persons who have paid the required amount but mislaid their receipt, need not worry. In their case the hospital will be able to check their eligibility with the records of the Hospital Insurance Service.

FOUR HALIFAX DAILIES JOIN

HALIFAX—For reasons of economy, four Halifax daily papers will merge on January 1st into one morning and one evening paper. The Journal will be published at the Halifax Herald's plant.

The merger of the Halifax Herald and Halifax Chronicle, rivals for seventy-two years, was announced yesterday.

Now the Chronicle-Herald today announced that the Halifax Mail affiliated with the Herald and the Halifax Daily Star, affiliated with the Chronicle, will form the Mail-Star.

Publisher to Sue Gov't for Denying Entry into Canada

VANCOUVER (CP)—Reginald Hipwell, outspoken British publisher who flew from England to be with his two sons here on Christmas, was denied entry to Canada at Seattle because of his criminal record.

In Seattle Tuesday, Hipwell, 41, said that he intends to sue the Canadian government for its action. He said the government refused him entry because of his "moral turpitude."

In a telephone interview from Seattle he said 'I'm advised that I'd never get a judgment against the government in Canada, but in England I'll take it, if necessary, to the Privy Council.'

Three persons were asphyxiated Tuesday in two separate mishaps, one of which snuffed out the lives of an 11-year-old girl and her mother.

The father, the only surviving member of the family, is in hospital in poor condition as is the brother of the victim of the second accident.

Dead are Mrs. Eva Gagnier, 36, and her daughter, Barbara, and Noel Smith, 60. In hospital are Joseph Gagnier, 52, and Joseph Smith, brother of Noel.

Mr. and Mrs. Gagnier were found in the front bedroom of their home and the girl, in night attire, in the rear bedroom. Cause of death was apparently coal gas from an open fireplace.

The Smith brothers were found in their auto court cabin. Four gas jets and a heater were turned on.

YEAR'S LABOR PROSPECTS GOOD

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's three top labor men, Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell, president Percy Bengough of the Trades and Labor Congress, and A. R. Mosher, the Canadian Congress of Labor, agree that the outlook for the new year is good.

Mr. Mitchell said that 1948 "has been a good year." Employment had passed the five million mark for the second straight year. The effectiveness of labor had been increased by the decline in industrial disputes.

Mr. Bengough said, "We have reason to expect to get more things done than ever before."

Mr. Mosher said that the outlook for the new year is good.

He said that the government refused the request from United Nations' chief objective, Brigadier General Wm. He added that he was confident that an agreement could be reached for the unconditional command of the Arab states.

CANADA TO PRODUCE U.S. JET FIGHTERS

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto plane factory, De Havilland Aircraft, Canada, on Tuesday night was reported to be negotiating for production of Canada's newest military aircraft, North American F-86 fighter.

At Ottawa today, Defence Minister Claxton disclosed that construction programs will include F-86 which is said to be the fastest operational jet fighter in the world with a speed record of 670 miles per hour.

De Havilland officials made no comment but other sources said it was likely that the firm would build F-86 for domestic use and export to governments allied with Canada and the United States.

ISRAELI TROOPS PENETRATE EGYPT

LONDON (CP)—Israeli troops have penetrated Egyptian territories and are less than 100 miles from the Suez Canal, reports to the British Foreign Office indicated today.

British forces are still stationed at the Canal under the terms of the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian Treaty.

CALIFORNIA NEWSPRINT PRICE RISES

VANCOUVER (CP)—Upward adjustment of newspaper prices to California consumers to spread effect of higher freight rates was announced Tuesday by Powell River Sales Co. Ltd.

Effective January 1 prices increases would permit California consumers full water freight instead of restricted amount in effect since last August 1. The price of newsprint at New York remained at $100 per ton.

WHEAT CONTRACT MAY BE EXTENDED

OTTAWA (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said today that the possibility of the extension in the four-year Anglo-Canadian wheat contract was under consideration as part of the current negotiations on the 1949-50 wheat price.

He said that the question was whether Canadian farmers can be better served by a cash settlement that would close off the contract at the end of the four year term or by greater stability and security which would attend extension.

U.S. TO GIVE $3 BILLION IN ARMS TO WEST

WASHINGTON (CP)—The United States seems likely to give anti-communist allies in Western Europe between two and three billion dollars' worth of arms next year. But much of what Europeans need in the way of military equipment is already available in the forces' storehouses, and can be shipped at a fraction of its original cost. President Truman is therefore expected to ask Congress to appropriate only about one billion for rearmament program next year.

TREMORS PERSIST IN WESTERN U.S.

RENO, Nevada (CP)—Power telephone lines were knocked down and minor highway slides touched off by renewed earth tremors which shook Reno heavily today.

Shocks, apparently centering here, extended through Sierras into northern California, as far west as San Francisco and as far south as Fresno.

Three quakes were so severe that they knocked away the seismograph at the university, Nevada.

CHINA LEADERS MEET FOR TALKS

NANKING, (CP)—From all quarters of China today came Nationalist military leaders to talk war or peace with Chiang Kai-Shek. The president, urged by many to quit, has called the conference. On the decision may rest the future of Nationalist China, now beset on the north by conquering Communists.

COUNCIL URGES COMPLETION OF PAVEMENT ROAD

ACT of the 1948 city council might be to pass a resolution urging the federal government to give "immediate attention to completion of a road through the Fairview Baymen's floots.

Resolution was the final act of Alderman Robert McKay who retires at the end of the year. Mr. McKay told that "completion of the road is being taken up by organization in town," and that city council press completion.

Approach constitutes the front end of a road built by the city at a cost of more than $30,000. It is on government property and must cross the C.N.R. right-of-way, outside authority complete the road.

For its completion was by parliament at its last session, but since then, no action has been taken.

The money is not spent by the government's fiscal year next March, it will be used for other purposes and must be allocated for that specific use. It is estimated that the cost of the road will be incurred by such revenue. The council will request the Mayor to request the federal government to actively support the road.

COUNCIL HOLDS FINAL SESSION

Prince Rupert's 1948 city council sat in its last and briefest session last night, concluding its business with a wave of seasonal greetings half an hour after it was called to order.

First meeting of the 1949 council will take place on Monday, January 3 with five new members replacing those on this year's municipal body.

"I take this opportunity to thank the members of this council for their devotion to duty," Mayor Arnold said. "We have done a large amount of work during the year and if we have not accomplished all that we set out to do, it was not because we did not try."

Mayor Arnold paid tribute to retiring aldermen Robert McKay, A. S. Nickerson, Arthur Brooksbank and Ralph Morin for their efforts in behalf of the city. Alderman Morin was absent from the meeting.

"I regret that some of this council will not be here to serve again next year," she declared. "We will particularly miss Alderman McKay, whose service goes back with only one year's interruption, to 1943 when city council government was re-established."

Alderman McKay, Nickerson and Brooksbank then each addressed the council briefly.

Strengthen U. N. By Using It

A GOOD MANY PEOPLE are unhappy about the United Nations. Results of the session of the Assembly which has just ended in Paris are not enough to satisfy them. This unsated appetite for peace is healthy. But it is healthy also to appreciate progress.

The Assembly failed to bridge the chasm between Russia and the West. In fairness, we should recognize that in the U.N. Charter we did not equip it for such a task. We gave the Assembly little more than the functions of a debating society. Those functions are not to be despised. For ideas have a power in themselves, as the totalitarians recognize when they deny at home the freedom of speech which in the U.N. they cannot stifle.

Even Russia appears at times to be affected by world opinion as expressed in the U.N. forum. If one doubts it, he should note how earnestly its delegates strive to win debates in the Assembly. He should note the pains the Soviet goes to in the effort to present itself as a democracy. He should note that it refrains from voting rather than appear in the minority against the genocide resolution. So, too, in the Assembly American policy has had to submit to criticism by the small powers and the "neutrals." The great function of free discussion in sifting the truth has been performed.

In the genocide resolution and even more in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights the Assembly raised up standards of conduct for the nations which can have a tremendous influence. Critics say these codes will not be obeyed because they cannot be enforced. They have said the same thing about all standards of conduct from the Ten Commandments to Magna Carta.

Moreover, the Assembly recognized that it should grow as a peacemaking agency. Under the leadership of Secretary Lie, Senator Bramuglia, and Mr. Evatt it has pushed unremittingly its own efforts for conciliation of the Berlin dispute. It also continued the Balkan Commission, it has played a useful role in the plans for Palestine pacification, and has contributed to better understanding of other disputes.

This isn't enough, of course. U.N. holds little promise of soon developing into the kind of world government which could require the big powers to abide by peaceful settlements. But that, it seems to us, is a growth which must start at the grass roots in the member countries. Only as they are willing to use U.N., to let it decide disputes and to support its decisions, can it acquire the necessary power.

In this Assembly session the United States did submit its case over Berlin to international judgment. The result was of mixed utility. Undoubtedly, world opinion was crystallized in some measure against Russian intransigence, western opinion was united. This may in the end bring Russia to a more conciliatory attitude. But for the present it has seemed to widen the breach. And it was motivated more by a purpose to use U.N. against Russia in a power struggle than to strengthen U.N. as a world peace organization able to prevent such struggles.

Any use of U.N. to further nationalistic aims threatens its fundamental purpose. U.N.'s great need is for people everywhere to develop an international patriotism which will resist abuse of U.N. by their own governments. Understanding of the necessity for the rule of reason and international agreement to supersede nationalistic lawlessness is a first step. Devoted allegiance to that ideal, alert attention to the patient steps required in practical application of it, and firm support of the most promising machinery available should follow. Mr. Evatt gives us good advice, "Hold on to the United Nations; it is all you've got."

ATTEND FARMERS' CO-OP MEET—J. Russell Love, Edmonton, left, president of the Interprovincial Co-operative chats here with W. C. Good, Brantford, Ont., during the United Farmers' Co-operative Co. meeting in Toronto. Mr. Good, who has worked for many years to bring about the reorganization of the co-operative as a wholesale controlled by the local co-operatives, saw his dream come true at the first annual meeting of the United Co-operatives of Ontario. The United Farmers' Co-operative Co. Ltd. was reorganized during the past year to provide for control by over 100 local co-operatives under the new name. Both individuals and local co-operatives owned shares under the old structure.

LACK OF CHILD LEGISLATION CREATES PROBLEM

JOHANNESBURG — Juvenile court magistrates here say that lack of suitable social legislation in the Union of South Africa is placing a great burden on charitable institutions.

There is no law in the Union to compel any wage-earner to pay for the upkeep of any of his children in an institution, nor are court orders for the payment of maintenance binding.

Because of this, say the jurists, thousands of men are defaulting and many children must be taken into charitable organizations, which are finding it difficult to carry on.

Wage-earners can be ordered only to make "voluntary" payments of an agreed sum. There is no machinery to stop wages at their source.

The situation is further complicated, say the magistrates, by the fact that a man may agree to support his children one week, and deliberately stop work the next. When that happens, both the law and social welfare societies are powerless.

The South African Council of Child Welfare intends to ask the Secretary for Justice that powers be given magistrates to impose orders for the support of children.

One of the main reasons advanced for failing to pay for the maintenance of children, apart from lack of responsibility, is that post-war optimism and temporary high wages led men to agree to pay amounts they can no longer afford.

CROWDED INSTITUTIONS

Another reason responsible for the overflow in institutions for unwanted children is that many men have married again since the war and feel their responsibility lies more with the second marriage than the first, particularly if there are any children of the second marriage.

A woman who divorces a man cannot claim maintenance. The courts have no power to order a divorced husband to maintain his former wife, although maintenance can be ordered under a separation order.

Some men agreed to pay weekly sums for each of their children. This sum often amounted to two-thirds of their wages. They then remarried, could no longer pay the maintenance, and the children

Reminiscences

By W. J. — and REFLECTIONS

New Year's Eve, you know, is on the way. And may we suggest the possibility of the night not being silent.

Santa Claus and his reindeers probably reached Prince Rupert over the Skeena Highway, a few drifts and pot holes being mere trifles for such seasoned travellers. Besides, they avoided the mountain differentials one hears so much about.

Someone has started the unconfirmed report that consumers in some part of Canada had side dishes of roast buffalo, along with turkey. And perhaps a chaser of pemmican with quart bottles of Bow River port.

A dozen American airmen, stranded on a Greenland ice-cap since December ninth, were taken off yesterday. One somehow feels that when Christmas dinner comes before them, there will be no reluctance about second helpings.

Two of the largest of Canada's ocean liners were on the Atlantic, Christmas Day. Leave it to the tars to take care of an occasion like that. It is no hardship to be travelling, under such circumstances. There are some Yuletides at sea when it's more like the other way around.

COSTLY BIRD

KINISTINO, Sask. — A plain unadorned turkey sold for $1,355 at an auction in this town of 700 and will pay for the furnishings in the new Canadian Legion hall. The bird was left over from a banquet and "sold" 21 times, highest single bid being $150.

dren had to go to an institution.

Crowded children's homes in the Union show social weakness. There is a serious shortage of foster parents willing to look after children for a number of years without actually adopting them.

There is so much difficulty in finding foster parents that the National Council of Child Welfare has been trying to find a reason. Lack of housing is one reason, the council said, but the main reason is thought to be lack of feeling among South Africans.

There is also a shortage of institutional accommodation for non-European children, who have been committed for their protection.

FRIENDS HONOR MISS MARIE LOCK

A cup and saucer shower was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Cameron, Overlook Street, in honor of Miss Marie Lock whose marriage to Arthur McPhalen takes place on Thursday evening.

The evening was spent in playing games with prizes for the winners. Gifts were presented in novel fashion, each being set on the dining room table with streamers attached from the light fixture. Balloons filled with confetti were showered over the bride-to-be as she opened her gifts after being presented with an attractive corsage.

Those present were Mesdames W. D. McAra, Eby, J. T. Langridge, Iverson, George Murray, Mawhinney, Bert Wallace, S. Currie, jr., G. T. Bateman, H. T. Lock, R. Cameron, A. Cartwright (Ocean Falls), and Miss Yvonne Lawrence.

MAKES CALL TO FAMILY IN SWEDEN

A delayed, but welcome Christmas "meeting" thrilled a city resident Tuesday when he talked with his daughter and son-in-law in Sweden.

Carlo Hansen sr., who came out from Denmark several months ago on an extended visit with his son, Carlo jr., here, placed a long-distance call to his daughter in Stockholm, Sweden early this month but because of transmission difficulties, it could not be made at its intended time—Christmas Day.

Tuesday morning, however, it came through and Mr. Hansen talked with Mr. and Mrs. E. Halse with fair clarity. Because of technical difficulties there was an interruption, but the conversation was resumed.

Mrs. Halse visited Prince Rupert several months ago while on a tour of the continent.

The call was the only holiday long-distance connection between Prince Rupert and Europe this month, the city telephone office reported.

SIMPSON COUPLE UNITED HERE

A wedding that united members of two well-known native families took place at the First United Church, Prince Rupert, on December 16 when Miss Stella Wells, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wells of Port Simpson, became the bride of Vernon Dudoward, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dudoward also of Port Simpson. Rev. R. A. Wilson officiated at the ceremony.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Stella Wells, matron of honor and Miss Mareta Musgrave, Miss Belle Wesley and Miss Myrna Wesley as bridesmaids.

Following the ceremony a banquet was held at the Broadway Cafe where speeches were made wishing the newly married couple all happiness. An interesting fact about the date was that it was the thirty-second wedding anniversary of the bride's parents.

FIGHT TO DEATH
WOODLANDS, Man., —Arthur Withers of Winnipeg, on sighting two buck deer fighting with their horns locked, tried to free their horns, but couldn't get close enough to the struggling animals. Finally one pushed his opponent over and fell on him. Withers stepped on the neck of the smaller buck and sprang the horns free. It jumped up and went away. The other buck was dead, its neck broken.

Training and experience together with personal interest in his policy holders give them confidence in his ability to look after their insurance problems promptly.

This confidence is the reward of hard work in a highly competitive field where the payoff comes to those who have initiative and energy.

Our competitive way of life is good. Take away competition and you remove with it the incentive for service.

Just like any other business, if insurance or any part of it is controlled from one non-competitive source, the round the clock efficiency of the agent is replaced by red tape.

FRANCOIS LAKE— DANGEROUS TRIP ON ICE FAILS TO SAVE SAWMILL FROM FIRE

FRANCOIS LAKE—On Saturday morning Everead Hickey brought word to the Landing that the sawdust pile near Hamre and Waale's mill was burning fiercely and threatening the mill itself. Mrs. Cowan, of Clemetta was informed by telephone and asked to get word to the Hamre brothers who have moved across the lake for winter logging.

Tom Cowan borrowed a bicycle and in spite of his mother's advice, cycled over the newly-formed ice to carry the message. When a hundred yards from the other shore the ice gave way and he went through. As he tried to climb up on the ice it kept breaking away under his weight.

Hans and Peter Hamre and Nils Waale managed to push a log towards him but it sank. Then they tied a rope to a slab of wood and pushed this out. Young Cowan got hold of it and was pulled out still wearing his glasses and cap when rescued. The bicycle was lost. The mill caught fire and burned down on Sunday afternoon.

Francis Kennedy who taught school here last year is spending the holidays at the Keefe ranch.

"Sandy" Junkons has moved back to Colleymount from the Landing where he has been working on the Perlite Claim.

Timely Topics from Terrace

Mrs. C. R. De Kergommeaux, Terrace Reporter

It was a very quiet Christmas in Terrace this year. The weather was seasonal and ideal for getting out on foot to "make the rounds." There were no disturbances on Christmas Eve and the local policemen were able to enjoy the festive season with their families. Over 30 guests attended a banquet given by the Silvertip staff.

There were five adult patients and one baby to spend Xmas in the hospital. The wards were decorated by the nurses and a large Xmas tree held gifts for all. A turkey dinner was served and the whole staff joined in making the occasion as happy as possible for the "shut-ins."

Mrs. Sherwood returned to Smithers on Tuesday morning's train after spending Christmas with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. V. Giraud.

Mrs. D. Brentzen and daughters left on Tuesday's train for their homes in Prince George, after a Yuletide spent in Terrace.

Jimmy Arseneau is spending a few days in Terrace.

Absent members of the Irving family (local station agent) have returned home to spend the Christmas holidays. Dorothy Irving R.N. will be leaving at the end of the week for the Royal Inland Hospital, Kamloops, where she is supervisor of the operating room. Gerry Irving, operator of the B. C. Power Commission at Vanderhoof and Victor Irving of St. Anthony's College, Edmonton will be leaving early in the New Year.

Alfred Timms, who has been visiting his parents at Kitseas leaves on Tuesday for the south where he will rejoin his ship, the oil freighter, "Imperial Edmonton."

The L.O.L. held their annual Christmas party in the Orange hall last Thursday evening. The hall had been seasonably decorated by the lodge members and under a large Xmas tree, gifts for 25 children were placed ready for Santa Claus to distribute. A long table was set up and refreshments were served to the children after which games were played. In charge of the refreshments and children's games were Mrs. F. Jackson, Mrs. H. Fisher and Mrs. Gordon Haugland, while the men served the refreshments. A social evening followed for the adults. Mr. G. Haugland was Santa Claus.

YEAR'S ROOKIE MATCHES ELDERLY IN ICE SKILL
By FRANK KAPLAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO—Allan Stahley, 22-year-old rookie with New York Rangers club, had his dreams of National Hockey League fame when he played shinny with the neighborhood kids on the corner ice rink. Now the Timmins youngster is shaping up as the "Rookie of the Year" and it looks like his dreams will come true.

The Ranger is being played like a champion since his arrival from Providence.

But, as Doug (Windsor Star) Vaughan points out, "It is, strictly speaking, unfair to the rest of the New York Rangers to credit him... as a one-man re-

Alex Bill, local melon mentor has finally sifted this senior turnouts down to a workable size. From those that regularly attended his practices in the Civic Centre he has picked twelve of the city's top basketball talent.

While the bulk of last year's Senior 'B' champs are still around, a few new faces are in evidence. Jack Lindsay, Sev Dominato, Herb Morgan, Rup Holkestad, Sonny Beynon, Joe Davis, Don Fitch and Angus Macphee are the holdovers from last season. The remaining four berths are occupied by Mel Thompson, Heige Holkestad, Ted Arney and Jimmy Flaten.

Alex has chosen his material this year to combine the best in experience, speed, shooting ability and height. He has repeatedly emphasized the latter as the surest way of controlling the boards, an essential factor in the modern game with the accent on shooting.

With the Co-op oldsters definitely slowing down and currently winning games only by taking advantage of the mistakes of their less experienced rivals, a large share of the exhibition chores will have to be borne by the younger players.

Both Davis and Rup Holkestad have proven their ability to meet outside competition and Alex is expecting similar results from the other four. Both Thompson and Arney are playing 'heads-up' ball with Mel currently dropping hoops that are out of this league.

TREMENDOUS BUILDUP
"Doug continues: "The most remarkable aspect of the rookie's showing is that he has withstood so well the pressure of the tremendous build-up." The youngster was praised as a future ace from the first day he was introduced into big-league hockey. From there on it was the rookie's ball. A building like Stanley got could easily have gone to a youngster's head.

Alex is hoping that he will regain his former shooting eye in time for the first important series.

Jimmy Flaten, Bo-Me-Hi's captain and spark is the last. Jimmy is the people's choice and easily the brightest prospect since Sonny Beynon grew up.

FIRE FIGHTERS' "GOLF" CROWN CHANGES HANDS

To the average person, golf is a game played on a glorified pasture with a club and hard rubber ball, but to members of the Prince Rupert Fire Fighters Recreational Association, the greensward is replaced by the green baize of a billiard table and the club by a pool cue.

What happens thereafter has little relation to the outdoor game, other than that it is also called golf.

The boys held their annual golf competition yesterday and the championship crown changed hands.

New champion is W. H. (Buster) Hill who finished off the finals by defeating Jack Burgess, John McLean and Sgt. L. A. N. Potterton.

Jack Ewart, holder of the crown last year, was eliminated midway in the evening's play.

Formal methods of addressing the new champion is "King of Golf."

Lorraine Browning Sings, Dances and Acts in "New Faces," at Persian Room

By PAT USSHER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Six years ago, Lorraine Browning was cigarette girl at a supper club in Vancouver, where she was born.

Now the attractive, aburn-haired singer and dancer is about to step into a role in a revue-type show opening at New York's swanky Persian Room this month.

Miss Browning, now 22, related some of the incidents of her career in an interview to which she hurried the other day from a rehearsal for "New Faces."

Her real name is Lorraine Havercroft. For stage purposes she changed it to Browning, the maiden name of her mother, Mrs. Ethel Havercroft, who used to live in Winnipeg but now is in Vancouver.

A stage career was one of Miss Browning's earliest ambitions, but not the only one.

"I was dying to be a veterinary surgeon at one stage, but I couldn't afford it," she says. So she settled for the entertainment world, aided by the Lions Club of Vancouver which financed her in a course of singing lessons.

Miss Browning, blue-eyed and five feet, two inches tall, has appeared in night clubs and theatres in Vancouver, New York and elsewhere in a bewildering variety of roles. She has been singer, dancer, cigarette and hat check girl. Her main objective is "straight acting."

"I want to succeed in show business; then I want to get married and have children."

She is fond of animals, especially horses and dogs; likes to cook and knit, and prefers country to city for scenery.

Her stage debut was in Vancouver at the age of four—in a performance of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Then she "retired" from the stage until she was 12.

There were elocution lessons and singing in amateur shows in Vancouver and then, in 1942, her first job, as cigarette girl in the Vancouver Club. She was then 16. The job lasted three years and during its later stages she appeared as a singer in some of the club shows. At the same time she studied dancing.

In September, 1945, Miss Browning came to New York, "on spec." She got into the Shubert Repertory Company for a six-month tour as a dancer in "The Merry Widow," "Rose Marie" and "Countess Maritza." The tour covered the northeastern United States and included a stand in Toronto.

After another dancing engagement she became a singer at the old Knicker Music Hall on New York's East Side.

"I was tired of just dancing," she says, "it was like beating my head against a wall."

The old Knicker job covered a lot of territory; at one time she was in a horror show and subsequently played the lead in "The Drunkard," a comic version of the old drama. Before she knew it she was dancing there again, too.

Then Leonard Silman, producer of "New Faces," saw her performing and engaged her for his show. It is a revue, with a cast of 12. The dances are by Charles Weidman. Miss Browning is the only solo dancer in the show, in which she also sings and acts.

MOTHER DIES AT BIER OF SOLDIER SON

NEW YORK—No tears were in Mrs. Nettie Le Voffs eyes as she entered the funeral parlor, where the flag draped casket, containing the body of her son who had been killed in 1944, during an action in the South Pacific, had been placed.

"Sonny," she murmured softly, "you've come home." Then she sank to the floor, dead of a heart attack.

"It was the waiting that killed her," said her husband, planning later. "The boy was the army gave her too much to think about it. He said she wished the army could be made to realize how hard it was on their parents waiting for the boys brought back."

"She had a heart attack when we first got word of our boy's death," said LeVoff. "She lay in bed six months. After that she spent all her time waiting for the body to be brought back."
