CANADIAN AT U.N.—Senior English announcer and presentation director for the radio section of the United Nations is Don Pringle, a Canadian from Fredericton, N.B., who joined U.N. in October, 1946. He spent 10 years in commercial radio in Canada and with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation before taking his present post, which makes him chief English contact with radio specialists of 30 nationalities. In Canada recently, Pringle, above, appeared on a Canadian radio program to urge a more optimistic attitude toward U.N. He believes emphasis given differences between the great powers has obscured much of the valuable work done by the world organization.

DEPORTATION NOT JUST YET

Under New Red Barring Authority Assumed by Federal Government

OTTAWA —For the time being authority of the Immigration Act will not be invoked to deport known or suspected communist aliens already in Canada but it is expected these will find it impossible to obtain renewal of their entry permits when they have expired. The decision of the cabinet to bar alien communists from the country is aimed particularly at Reds known to be entering Canada in recent years as labor union officials.

The barring of the communists from Canada was ordered by the federal government after it had received advice that it can do this under existing laws. An authoritative informant declared that the decision had been reached after weeks of legal study by the Department of Justice, culminating in a report to the cabinet this week that the present immigration act gives the government enough powers to shut out the Reds.

SCARLET FEVER VISITS TERRACE

But Influenza Is Only "Catching" Disease Here—Health Unit Report

Mild influenza has been the only prevalent acute communicable disease in Prince Rupert during the months of January and February although several cases of scarlet fever have been reported from Terrace, according to a report for the period covering these two months which has just been issued by Dr. R. M. Lane, director of the Prince Rupert and District Health Unit. School medical examinations have been carried out in Terrace, Hazelton and at Booth Memorial High School. Immunization, both reinforcing doses and initial series for diphtheria, has been administered at Booth Memorial High School and in Terrace, Usk and Hazelton schools.

The Coast Travelling Tuberculosis clinic, in Prince Rupert, from February 11 to February 20 and in Terrace on February 14, examined a total of 140 cases, contacts and suspects. In addition, a chest survey clinic for fishermen was held on four days. Unfortunately, the winter weather was at its height during this survey and the numbers x-rayed were not as large as had been hoped for.

Anty, for rat control, was prepared and distributed in Prince Rupert with good effects.

R. Bowering, provincial public health engineer, visited the unit area from February 10 to February 16 in connection with the inauguration and supervision of community water supplies and other sanitary matters.

What Should We Eat?

MOST CANADIANS are finding it difficult to buy all they want to eat. Few Canadians are unable to buy all they need to eat, at least twice as much as the British diet. Almost all Canadians are complaining bitterly about the cost of what they eat, although most of them do not work half as much as the people who produce the food.

In the circumstances it seems wise to consider how much we should eat, at the least cost, to keep ourselves efficient and to provide food for the millions who cannot eat at all unless we eat less. Surely it is the duty of our scientists to tell us how we can get the most nourishment with the least demand upon the total production of food and other essentials of life.

Dr. L. B. Pett, chief of the dominion health department nutrition division, recently published a diet for a family of five, which could be bought for $16.36 per week at December prices. Howls of derision created widespread suspicion of the value of the information yet many Canadians have succeeded in living well on a smaller food budget although it must be admitted that there cannot be as many beefsteaks, pork chops, roasts of beef, ham and eggs, bread and butter and plenty of fruits and vegetables as the most of Canadians feel they are entitled to since they are produced in such abundance in this country.

MAKING ENDS MEET

WHEN THE COMBINED PRICE of total production becomes greater than the aggregate income of all consumers who, therefore, find it impossible to purchase all that is made, watch out for more vacancies than jobs. As simple as that, say you! But the knowledge, true that it is will not pay for a meal or settle room rent. And some folks at home and abroad are discovering it.

REGIMENTING MEDICINE

VOTE OF BRITISH DOCTORS to boycott the universal free medical service plan passed by Parliament evidences the unwisdom of the Socialist Government in rushing through regimentation of so old a profession as medicine, says Christian Science Monitor. The doctors did not disagree on the major features of the new system: continuation of government sickness insurance, plus free medical care for all.

They differed on lesser angles of its operation. Obviously the Minister of Health should have worked out these details instead of charging the British Medical Association with conspiracy and sabotage as he did just before its balloting. The needless tangle, this leader of the "further left" of the British Labor Party has gotten the Socialist Administration into raises question as to whether the power it has in Parliament is always going to be used judiciously in solving the much more complex problems of production.

This setback for state medicine will be welcomed by objectors to the introduction of compulsory sickness insurance in the United States. The tendency of socialized medicine is always to expand—to become more compulsory in its requirements of medication and of services demanded of doctors.

AND SO THE SWIMMING POOL-ICE ARENA GOES; BIRDS DEBATE ISSUE

An unknown author at the week-end pulled a double-cross by tapping the wires of the web-foot telegraph. It is a fact that the gulls and the ducks are in favor of a swimming pool but the crows and ravens are holding out for an artificial ice arena. When leading members of the black clan read the item in the Daily News dealing with the gulls proposal to have Hays Creek flats made into a swimming pool they immediately called a meeting to discuss the situation.

"Rave the Raven" was the chief speaker of the evening and, as he pointed out, a swimming pool was alright for those birds with web feet but how about the hundreds who were not so equipped? He claimed that a sheet of ice protected from the snow, rain and wind would provide fun for birds of every description and age. Youngsters and oldsters, "Rave" declared, could have barrels of fun sliding on their tail feathers after taking off from a flying start.

Sliding teams, especially among the younger boys and girls could be organized and sponsored by the various service clubs such as the Klansmen, the Floatarians and Gytrators, he said. He felt that due to the popularity of air travel it would be a simple matter to induce other communities up and down the coast to participate in a junior or senior sliding league.

For those who didn't fancy sliding on their tail feathers, a space of ice could be provided where members of teams could slide pebbles at a target on the ice. In this game their tail feathers would still be an asset when it came to sweeping the stones past the hog-line.

Carnivals would draw large crowds, according to the speaker, who went on to name some of the attractions which could be featured. He suggested a chorus of beautiful starfish dancing to the music of a band of sandpipers as the headline attraction. For comic relief, "Oscar the Octopus," wearing a skate on each tenacle, would provide more laughs than half a dozen Bob Hopes, declared "Rave." Aside from these items there would of course be the usual fancy skating and perhaps a couple of light operas.

During the summer months a floor could be laid over the pipes so that indoor sports such as "crack the mussel" contests might be held. All birds of the waterfront, with the possible exception of the ducks, are adept at carrying mussels and other shell fish in their claws and dropping them from the air, said "Rave" and this sort of recreation lent itself to variations. Dances, indoor carnivals and various other types of recreation and exhibitions could be held during the summer months said the speaker.

According to the Web-foot Telegraph the majority present felt an artificial rink would be more beneficial than a swimming pool.

TOM HOLT

PRESIDENT OF STUDENT COUNCIL, ENTHUSIASTIC BASKETBALL PLAYER

Originally from Irma, Alberta, where he was born, Tom Holt has spent the last five of his fifteen years in Prince Rupert. For more than a year he has been delivering the Daily News in the district south of Borden Street and west of Fulton Street where he has over 100 customers.

A student of Booth Memorial High School, Tom is in Grade 9 and a member of the Drama Club. Popular with his fellow students, Tom was this year chosen president of the Junior Council. When it comes to sports, Tom would as soon play basketball as eat and this season he is a hard-working member of the 65 Taxi team.

Although Tom spent most of his life on the rolling prairies of Alberta, he has a weakness for the rolling main and, through the activities of the Sea Cadets, satisfies his desire to be associated with life on the salt water. A member of the Civic Centre, Tom still finds time to pursue his hobby of stamp collecting, to read and to play the piano.

Tom hasn't made up his mind about a lifetime vocation yet but in the meantime he is saving his money to help pay the costs of his education.

Nuptials of Berit Rasmussen and Allan Armstrong at Temiskaming

TEMISKAMING, Quebec—A charming wedding took place at Trinity Anglican Church here on February 28 when Rev. A. S.
Mitchell joined in a double ring ceremony Berit Emilie Yordahl Rasmussen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Rasmussen, of Temiskaming, and William Allan Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Armstrong, of Prince Rupert.

The rite took place before the altar, banked with spring flowers and ferns, flanked with candles. The bride, entering the church on the arm of her father, looked lovely in a gown of ivory slipper satin with round neckline, long, tight sleeves and long train. Her flowering veil of embroidered tulle, fell from a coronet of seed pearls and extended beyond her train. She wore silver sandals and carried a shower bouquet of American beauty roses, sweet peas and fern.

Her only ornament was the gift of the groom, a sterling silver bracelet, set with rhine-stones.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Ole Bak-kelund, who wore a floor-length turquoise jersey gown. She carried a colonial nosegay of pink carnations.

Bridesmaid was Miss Pamela Hardy, who wore a gown of floor-length pink net over taffeta. Her halo was of matching pink and her colonial nosegay was of pink carnations.

Groomsmen were Ole Bakkeland, while Gordon MacRae and Roy E. Swanson were ushers, Mrs. Alec Wells, organist, played through the ceremony and accompanied Mrs. Florence who sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" feather toque in American beauty shade trimmed with navy blue veiling.

The groom's mother, assisted in receiving. She wore a triple sheer gown of navy blue, a navy blue hat of baku straw trimmed with beads. Her accessories were black and her corsage American Beauty roses.

Miss R. McKinnon of Toronto, cousin of the bridegroom's mother, also received. Her costume was a cinnamon brown ensemble with a small dusty pink hat and corsage of Ophelia roses.

For her honeymoon in Ste.

SECOND LEGION BILLIARD MEET

Second of the Canadian Legion's winter English Billiard tournaments commenced play on Sunday when David Owen, with a handicap of minus 40, defeated W. E. Hutson, who received 20 points, by a score of 150 to 145. The tournament will continue throughout the week. The competition will see a number of new players who did not take part in the first tournament which closed recently. Only night this week when it is probable that no games will be played is Wednesday when Legion members will hang up their cues to attend the annual general meeting.

SHORT SPORT

Darts, pastime so popular with Britain's beer drinkers, isn't always in good favor with the man who runs the pub. "The trouble is that these games are taken too seriously by the players," said one publican who wrote a letter to the Daily Mirror. "When a match is actually in progress other customers not interested in darts cannot just ignore it. Dart players nowadays require silence for proper concentration, so conversation must be subdued and the wireless turned off. Even the noise of the cash registers is frowned on." Non-playing "regulars" who may have favorite positions in the bar sometimes find their time-honored claims usurped by visiting teams who "have little patience for such trifles." What with one thing and another the writer said, he was sorry he ever started a darts club, "and I am willing to bet most publicans feel the same way I do."

Tom Blower, 34-year-old veteran English and Irish Channel swimmer, is at it again. He wants to swim the English Channel both ways. "I have never swum myself to exhaustion," he said, "and I want to see how far I can go." Such a feat has never been achieved in low-temperature waters like the English Channel, where the tides are not entirely predictable. Half of his task—the England-France stretch—has been successfully tackled only four times in 73 years of Channel swimming, and Ted Temme is the only man who has swum the Channel both ways—on separate occasions, of course. Last year, Blower made the hitherto unaccomplished crossing of the Irish Channel. His 1937 Cap Gris Nez-Dover swim (13 hours, 29 minutes) is the third fastest recorded of 25 successful Channel attempts.

BASKETBALL—SAVOYS BEAT BROWNWOODS

Close Game in Intermediate League

Coach Miner Simundson's Savoy team trampled on Brownwoods in strictly routine fashion Saturday night to clamber again within one point of the top-dog Co-ops in the Senior "A" basketball race which is holding its breathless neck-and-neck competition as the league schedule runs out. Game score was 54 to 46.

Forward Joe Davis put on one of the most prodigious scoring displays of the season for Savoy when he rang up 21 points, a somewhat notable feat considering that he did it without a single foul being charged against him.

Both Savoy and Co-op have been using the underdog Brownwoods as a stepping stone to boost their league standings, meanwhile offering the fans the period spectacle of a battle of giants when they themselves clash. To date, Co-ops have maintained a narrow edge.

Pattern of Saturday night's game was strictly routine with Brownwoods getting off to a slow start, then building up to a flashing finish that lacked impetus to overcome the Savoy margin.

Brownwoods scored 20 points in the final quarter, three more

Reminiscent of winter wartime scenes when ships of the Royal Canadian Navy came in from the North Atlantic convoys, H.M.C.S. "St. Stephen" returned to Halifax recently with chill evidence that her second patrol as a weather ship in Davis Strait had been a man's job. In the above photo the masses of frozen spray have been steamed clear of the winch in order that it may operate, but the heavily-encrusted bridge and superstructure bespeaks the icy month of lonely operation the ship has just completed. DISPLAY AT TERRACE P.T.

Interesting Program at Monthly Meeting—Soup Program Curtailed

TERRACE—At a well attended meeting of the Terrace Parent-Teachers' Association held Thursday evening in the Primary school, the girls of Grades 5, 6, 7 and 8 gave a splendid display of folk dancing and physical exercises. Miss Lips, who trained the children, was in charge of the program and the announcer was Anita Brue. A silver collection was taken at the close of the program and $16.75 was realized, the money to be added to the school collections for the children of Europe.

The regular business of the monthly meeting followed the program with President Mrs. C. R. de Kergommeaux in the chair. After some discussion for and against, it was decided to send a delegate to the Parent-Teachers' Easter convention in Vancouver and Mrs. H. Phillip will be the delegate.

Mrs. Phillip, convener of the hot lunch program, reported that the organization had stopped serving soup to the Primary school children at the end of February because the number of children taking it had dropped to less than half of the original number. From November to the end of February 3,280 cups of soup had been served. Over $100 had come out of the P.T.A. funds to keep this program going.

Plans went forward for the P.T.A. Easter tea and school display which will be held on Easter Saturday. Mrs. McIlroy will be the convener for the tea. Mrs. Phillip for the home cooking and candy stall and Mrs. Alice Campbell will convene the school display.

Rehearsals for the P.T.A. play have started with Alf Attree as the director.

The opening of the Red Cross Outpost Hospital on March 16 was announced and all were urged to attend it.

SHOWER FOR TERRACE GIRL

TERRACE—A miscellaneous shower was held by Mrs. Gordon Haugland and Mrs. Alice Campbell at the former's home on Friday evening for Miss Edna Robson, local school teacher, whose wedding to W. Howard Fisher will take place in the United Church on Good Friday evening. The hostesses brought in a gaily decorated basket piled high with gifts which were opened by the young bride-to-be. Following this, quiz games were played, prizes being awarded to the winners who were Mrs. C. Holden, Mrs. Grace Fell, Mrs. Lloyd Johnstone, Mrs. C. Michiel and Mrs. C. R. de Kergommeaux. Delicious refreshments were served.

Those present included Mesdames C. Holden, Hamilton, Kirby, C. Haugland, D. Kerr, L. Johnstone, C. deKergommeaux, Kennedy, Squires, Michiel, Fell, Fisher, Barr, T. Olsen, McAdams, Campbell G. Haugland and the Misses Robson and Lips.

TERRACE CHURCH LEAP YEAR TEA

TERRACE—A Leap Year tea was held in the newly-decorated social parlor of the United Church by the Guild ladies. It was a well attended affair and the tea tables and stalls were beautifully decorated. There was a good display of hand-made articles, three patchwork quilts being greatly admired. The home cooking and candy stall was well patronized.

Pouring were Mrs. McKay, Mrs. McGinnis, Mrs. T. Moore, Mrs. Haugland, Serviteurs were Mrs. McAllister, Mrs. Barr, Mrs. B. Smith, Mrs. Johnstone, Mrs. Ross. The home cooking and fancy work was in charge of Mrs. Gavan, Mrs. McLeod, Mrs.

McIlroy, Mrs. Loveless, directing. Mrs. R. Rogers was the cashier.

BOWLING FINALS HELD AT TERRACE

TERRACE—The bowling alleys at the Civic Centre were packed on Wednesday night with a cheering crowd of fans to see the play-offs for the championship of the commercial bowling league. Little, Haugland and Kerr's team won, beating the Copper River's team two out of three and also winning on total points. Playing on the winning team were Dudley Little, Milton Alger, Frank Pongracz, Charlie Pratt, and Bob Harrison.

Letters to the Editor

EMPLOY LOCAL PEOPLE

Editor, Daily News:
I would like space in your paper to say down with married women working and give our local girls who were born in Prince Rupert, a chance. Why give the prairie people the work while our own people are walking around day after day? And that goes too for the men folk from the prairies while our own men are taking a back seat. When prairie people landed in Vancouver thinking there was work they were sent back and that is what should be done here. Give our own folks who were born and raised in Prince Rupert, the jobs.

MRS. BELINDA BLEINES.

IDEAS OF GOD

Editor, Daily News:
Scientists tell us this world has existed for millions of years and during that long period many forms of life have evolved in relation to natural conditions and many have become extinct by the same law of nature.

Whether or not man evolved from a lower form of life is uncertain but we do know that he was at one time a naked savage, having emerged from that status to the present-day standard.

During the long period, the understanding of man's surroundings has enlarged in proportion to the development of his intellect. Hence we find evolution in the idea of God. When man was a savage, he had a savage for a God as shown in the different epochs of civilization and enlightenment. As man became more civilized so did his conception of God, right up to the present day. That man cannot explore beyond his imagination or reason is shown in the various concepts regarding the idea of God and the religious creeds which he accepts as fact or truth. The value of his acceptance lies in the exercise of thought to determine the truth. Whether or not the Holy Bible be the Word of God, it was written by men in the

THE YOUNG JOBLESS

Editor, Daily News:
So the young people are kicking? A danger signal to all us seniors who can contribute our quota towards developing this town, ensuring that all available resources are used such as the grain elevator and wonderful wharfage where timber, lumber and maybe coal could be exported—a most attractive development program ensuring facilities to manufacturers to open out here. There is an object lesson in Britain today in her coal and cotton towns where the present lack of manpower and output is the result of the exodus of the most adventurous young people to places affording them a future. "The Pied Piper of Hamlyn" will be enacted here if we fail in our duty. So let's get going and make the government understand how concerned we are!
CYMRO

dark, dim past and reflects the opinion of that period which in great part I refuse to accept.

Mr. Blackaby tells us that Prof. Joad, after being thirty years an agnostic, renounced his conclusion in favor of a personal devil. That surely put Joad in a "devil of a fix."

For my part, I do not think you can scare people to heaven, even with the assistance of a devil. We must find a better plan than that. For me I am willing to dispense with the service of the devil.

I have made up my mind that, if there is a God, he will be merciful to the merciful and will not torture the forgiving, that every man should be true to himself and that nowhere in the world is honesty a crime.

In my opinion, the "honest man, the good woman and the happy child should have nothing to fear either in this world or the world to come.

GEORGE B. CASEY.

THE REALLY NEEDY

Editor, Daily News:
In answering "Workingman's Wife," I would say she didn't have two bits worth of reading.

Because there is more than one employed in a family, she wants the employers, mayor and city council to purge into their homes and private lives. If none of them worked they would be known as shiftless and no-goods, or some other name would be set aside for them by our two-bit correspondent.

She says, instead of worrying about the starving people of Europe and D. P.'s we should first worry about our own miserable predicament, about 31,000 unemployed, over a period of from 3 to 6 months.

Does she realize that millions and millions of people have not only been unemployed but starving to death over a period of 10 years in Europe alone.

Does she realize what the word "starving" means. I hope not, because I do. I advise her to ask some of our veterans who served in Italy and Northwest Europe. Ask some of those lucky people who had the good fortune to come to a land of plenty, from a land of starvation, misery and desolation.

It may be hard for them to tell you, because it makes me sick to remember children, mothers and fathers fighting like mad dogs over a crust of bread in an ash can, and the filth of want, begging and vy-

NEW FLORAL DESIGNS GREET EASTER SEASON

Perfect symbol of the dewy freshness of Easter morn, bonnets of fresh flowers will appear in greater number and variety than ever in this year's Easter Parade. Shown above is one of the newest designs created by using feathered carnations, blue iris and a bit of tulle. Below, the fragile calla lily becomes a durable costume highlight through a new waxing process which permits severely classic corsage designs like this. At home, flowers for the Easter breakfast table gain added interest when "bunny" is made welcome by a novelty container fashioned from cabbage-and-carrot rabbit food. This holds a tasteful display of yellow jonquils, stock and pussy willow.

ADMIRABLE LETTER

Editor, Daily News:
Any letter as good reading as E. E. Hyndman's ought not to have escaped your editorial page in Prince Rupert Daily News. For elegant in its simplicity and admirable for its calm purposeful reasoning intoned with spiky wit, it bespoke highly of our worthy Inspector of Schools.

Furthermore, in a world that gives so stingily of its apologies—inasmuch as we all are invariably right, or wrong, for the first time—anything so rare and preciously wholesome Mr. Editor, as a sincere apology ought never to materialize and by chance left to be discovered as in a Treasure Hunt, not even near Easter-time.

VIOLET INGALLS

ing for anything to keep them alive.

This will be hard for you to believe because the Yanks were here then and everything was fine. There were Yanks there too, "God bless them," but everything was not so fine.

I sympathize with "Workingman's Wife" in her misfortune, but why blame it on to the already starving, miserable and cold Europeans who are trying to better themselves? There will only be a handful, compared with the numbers suffering and dying, who have the good fortune to come here.

"Workingman's Wife" went to the show and spent 50c to see them. They would give half their lives to be here. That 50c would have fed 20 people for one day in Europe, and most likely a week.

You can buy four loaves of bread with 50c in Prince Rupert, but they can't buy it there because there is no bread.

"Workingman's Wife" was kind to give the mayor and city council the benefit of the doubt. Why can't she be kind enough to give the people of the world the benefit of the doubt for trying to help themselves. We have a chance, they haven't. Time marches on.

Thanking you for your space Mr. Editor.

Reminiscences By W.J. and Reflections

The local lock-up has not always been a place of stern enforcement and bleak routine. Once there was a wedding there. When long ago, Prince Rupert was merry and bright, when no one seemed to feel unduly worried over being a guest of the king, and the new jail looked and felt new, there came a demonstration of what is known as "love at first sight." Through minor misdemeanors, two were brought together behind lock and key and mutual attraction was swift and sure—also simple ceremony. And so they were married. As a city hall staff member remarked at the time, "what were they waiting for?" The jail hasn't been so jolly since.

A blue gown and pearls for Barbara Ann, who is to join the distinguished company in Madame Tussaud's wax works. All this, without mentioning her happy face and personality. This should relieve the grimness of the waxworks to some extent. For anyone who has visited London's famous attraction will understand just how grim it can be.

Many a breezy character has stamped his personality on early Prince Rupert and none more so than Robert Hanna, salty seaman, world rover, humorist and with a Scottish accent so sharp, penetrating and many-edged that nothing else could stand against it. He had a weatherbeaten, square cut face, clean-shaven and observant, and loved a jest, even on himself. He hailed from Rothesay and one evening left home in a most unobtrusive way in the mistaken belief he had killed a warden. He served as a gunner in the United States Navy during the Spanish American war and some years later found himself in Rupert where he helped build the wireless station. Scores of saucy yarns were told of Robert—all true and none flat. Once ordered to fire at a certain mark on shore, during the war with Spain, Hanna told the officer "he'd send a slug through the key-hole." And ever after he was known as "keyhole Bob."
