Jan Masaryk Takes His Own Life

Son of Founder of Republic Suicides

London and Washington Stunned — Had Been Under Terrific Pressure From Russia

LONDON (CP)—High foreign affairs officials of London and Washington were stunned today at the news of the tragic death in Prague of Dr. Jan Masaryk, 61-year-old Czechoslovak foreign minister and son of the founder of the republic, who apparently committed suicide today by jumping from a third-storey window of his official residence in Prague.

Anthony Eden, former British foreign secretary and a close friend of Masaryk, said: "It is a great tragedy. He gave his life in the cause of freedom."

State Department officials in Washington doubted if it was a case of suicide. They gave no credence to a purported pro-Communist statement by Masaryk, expressing the opinion that he had been actually held a prisoner.

An official announcement in Prague said that investigations were proceeding. Attributing his death to illness and insomnia, it added that the statesman had probably decided to end his life "in a moment of nervous disturbance." Members of the family said he had been having spells of depression.

In London Gen. Lev Pechala, leader of the Czech movement resisting the communist regime in Prague, said London exiles had heard that Masaryk was "under terrific pressure to bring him into line" with the communist government.

Informed reports that Masaryk had taken his own life, Pechala said. "Suicide? It is possible."

New Manager of Traffic is Named

MONTREAL — Appointment of George H. Sheridan as traffic manager with system jurisdiction, Canadian National Express, was announced here by F. N. Wiggins, general manager of the company. ATTACKS UPON BRITISH STOP

JERUSALEM — One of principal points in the new agreement between Hagana and Irgun Zvai Leumi for the mutual defence of the Jews in Palestine against the Arabs is, according to an authoritative source, the promise of Irgun to halt immediately attacks upon British forces now in process of withdrawing.

The merger between the two main Jewish forces is said to have been worked out and details are expected to be ready for ratification by the two organizations at Tel Aviv.

Ben Sampson Found 'Different' People

Ben Sampson, local pioneer who left the city three months ago to spend the winter in California after selling his business interest here, returned to the city this morning. "They are a different kind of people down there," he said. "I like Prince Rupert best."

RESIGNATION IS DEMANDED

Minister of Finance Under Fire in Commons

OTTAWA — Resignation of Finance Minister Douglas Abbott was demanded during a stormy House session last night following charges of "brazen abuse" of Parliament.

Charges voiced by John Dieffenbaker, Progressive - Conservative, Lake Centre, arose from Mr. Abbott's announcement of new excise taxes by radio November 10. He charged that Mr. Abbott had made a "retrograde advance" in Parliamentary life. Cecil Merritt, Progressive - Conservative, Vancouver - Burrard, called for Mr. Abbott's resignation amid cries of "Thank You, Thank You," from the finance minister.

Col. Merritt said that the minister should resign so that the constitution would be respected in a country where there was respect of the constitution. The minister should resign automatically, he said, after it was shown he had breached the constitution.

BULLETINS

WOULD PROBE RED COUP

LAKE SUCCESS — Dr. Jan Papanek, Czechoslovak delegate to the United Nations, demanded today that the United Nations security council investigate the communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

BRISCOE IS FINED

VANCOUVER — Because of an ulcer, Edison Brian Briscoe, convicted of retaining a stolen fishboat, was yesterday given option of a $2500 fine to serving a three-year sentence in penitentiary. Mr. Justice Manson had imposed the fine after being told that a prison term might endanger Briscoe's life. Briscoe was convicted in Prince Rupert and lost an appeal in Vancouver.

THRONE SPEECH ADOPTED

OTTAWA — The House of Commons voted 107 to 95 late Tuesday to adopt the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, signifying endorsement of the government's legislative program and policies in general. The vote brought a lengthy Throne Speech debate to a close.

Dewey Wins In Primary

Shows Strength In New Hampshire For Presidential Nomination

CONCORD, New Hampshire — Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York won the first round in the ballot box fight for the Republican presidential nomination.

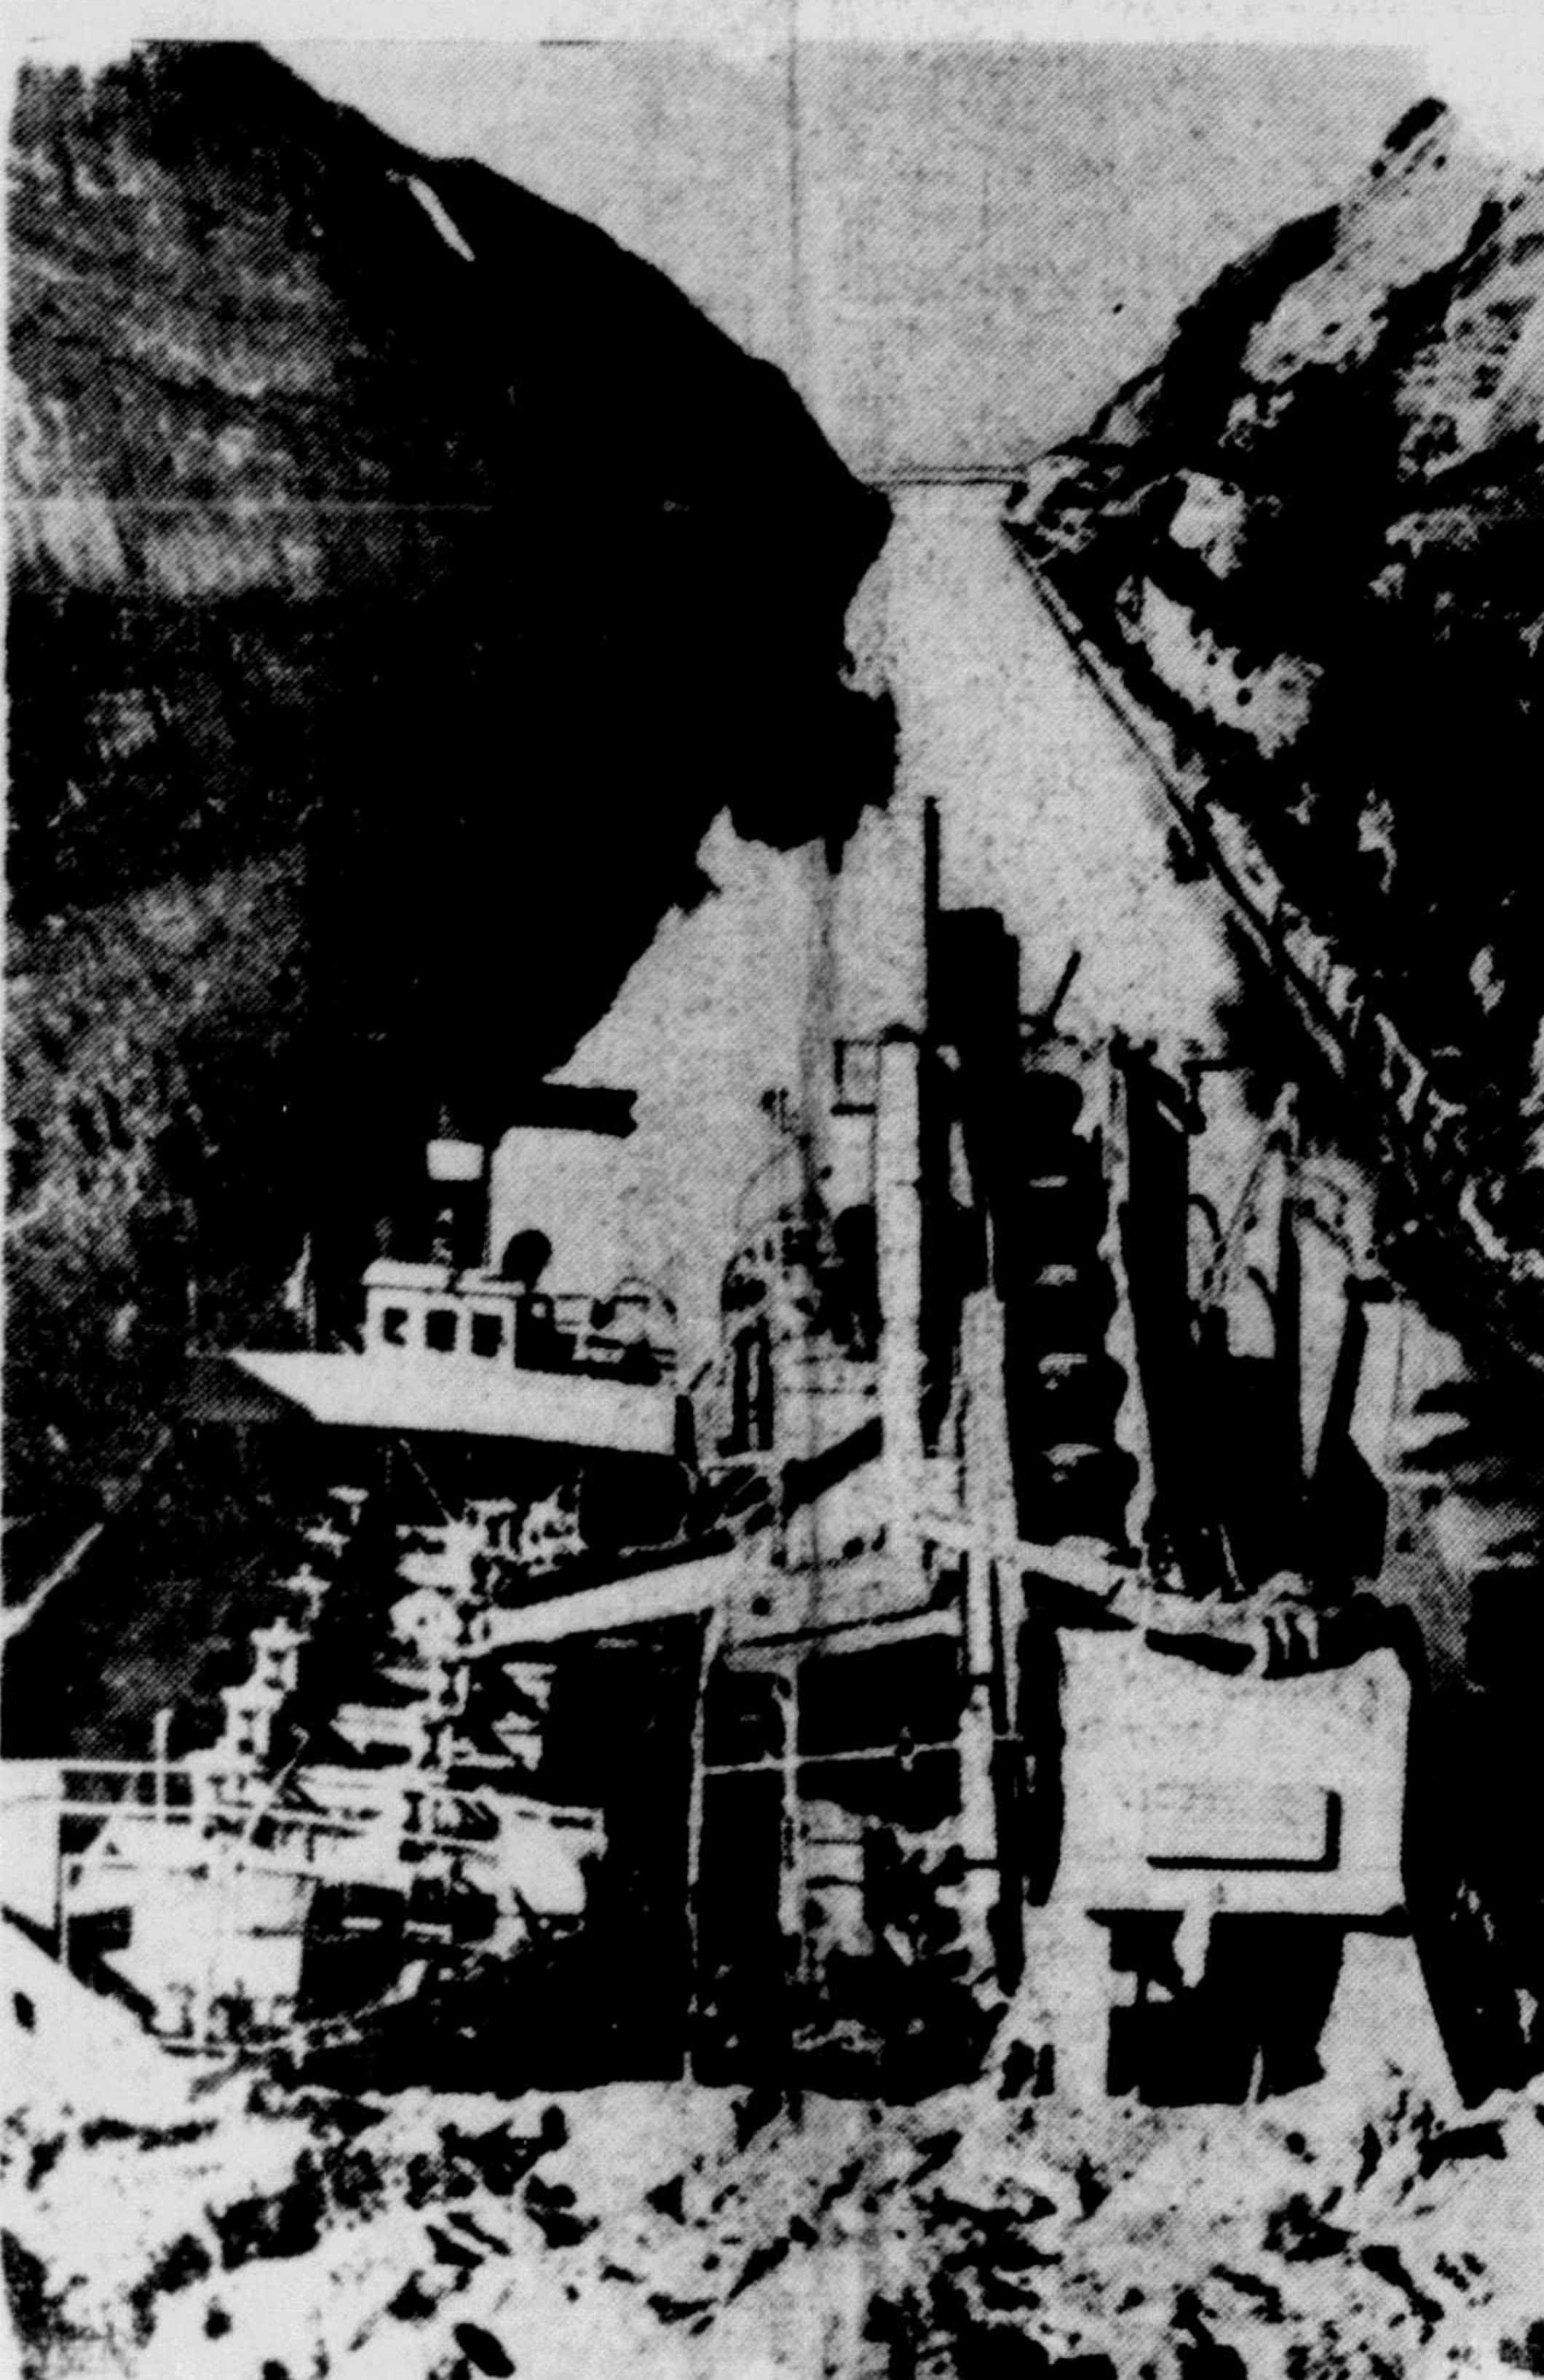

The New York governor swept six of eight delegates in the New Hampshire presidential primary, the first in the 1948 campaign and one that politicians held important from a psychological standpoint, showing strength in both rural and urban areas.

Dewey beat back the challenge of Harold E. Stassen, the only other announced Republican candidate to enter a full slate.

WESTERN POWERS' AGGRESSION SEEN

At Least That Is What Russia Purports to Observe in Western Europe

MOSCOW — Russia declares that the western powers are trying to build up a military potential in the Ruhr to "turn western Europe into a strategic base for American imperialism in Europe with the purpose of aggression against the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics." A note, made public after being sent to United States, Britain and France, does not say what action the Soviet government intends to take.

UNDOING BIG NAZI SABOTAGE JOB IN GREECE — The opening, clearing up and deepening of the Corinth Canal is one of the major projects undertaken by the U.S. mission for aid to Greece program.

When the Germans withdrew from Greece, they did a good job of blocking the canal by blowing up bridges, blasting millions of tons of rock and earth into the cut and running in 70 railroad carriages and several locomotives. Two big dredgers are shown at work in Athens at the clearing job. When the canal is put back in commission it will shorten journeys from the western Mediterranean by 36 hours.

LOW PRICE COMPLAINT

Submission in Reverse at Parliamentary Probe

OTTAWA — The Ontario Bankers' Association, charging that the Atlantic and Pacific grocery chain was selling bread at a loss, called upon the House of Commons price investigation committee for a "thorough investigation" into the alleged practice.

Despite earlier A and P evidence that it was making a profit on a loaf retailing for 10 cents, C. M. Ruttan of Toronto, Bakers' Association secretary-treasurer, contended before the committee that the company was using bread as a "loss leader."

Mr. Ruttan said, however, that he could not give the committee evidence in support of his claim.

THE WEATHER

synopsis
With clear skies over most of the province last night temperatures dropped below normal. A few degrees of frost were reported at several coastal points while stations in the interior gave readings near zero. Increased cloudiness is expected over the western portion of the province for tomorrow with clear cold weather persisting over the remainder of British Columbia.

Forecast
Prince Rupert, Queen Charlottes and North Coast—Intermittent rain today, cloudy with showers Thursday, wind southerly (20 miles per hour). Little change in temperature. Lows tonight and highs Thursday: Port Hardy 34 and 45, Massett 36 and 45, Prince Rupert 36 and 45.

BENES MEETS NEW CABINET — Worried and harassed President Edouard Benes (right) is shown in conversation with Communist Premier Klement Gottwald as the latter presents to formally present the new all-Communist cabinet. Benes, long-time champion of Czech democracy, finally accepted the overwhelming Communist and reluctantly accepted the new cabinet, at the same time giving out some vestiges of political freedom for the

COAST GUARD LIFE SAVING SERVICE

PROPOSED FOR BY PRINCE RUPERT MLA
VICTORIA—Case for a coastguard service on the Columbia coast was brought up by W. H. G.C.F. member for Prince Rupert, speaking in the legislature yesterday in the debate in reply to the making of claims of excessive cost of such a service. Mr. Brett declared that the value of saving human lives should not be measured in dollars and cents.

The matter should be brought forcibly to the attention of Ottawa with pressure for the institution of the service in which navy and fishery patrol services might co-operate.

There had been several incidents of late around Prince Rupert emphasizing the necessity of a coastguard service and one of these cited by Mr. Brett was the wreck of the Clarkdale Victory on the west coast of Queen Charlotte Islands with loss of forty-eight lives.

"Recent happenings on the coast, entailing the loss of many lives, brings forcibly to light the appalling lack of coastguard facilities on this coast," Brett said. "We must press upon Ottawa the seriousness of the situation and refuse to accept the explanation of a federal cabinet minister."

The Prince Rupert member said the scheme should be worked out through the assistance of the navy or the fisheries department.

Mr. Brett also called attention to the "exorbitant" rates set by the Transport Board for emergency calls of transporting sick people from remote districts to Prince Rupert and asked for an easing of the burden.

Alex MacKenzie, Sixth Avenue West, recently found in his home an interesting souvenir of the spring of 1914, when the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway construction was close to completion. This was a photo showing a group of railway men standing around a couple of steam shovels, opposite each other, facing presumably east and west, and at a point near Fraser Lake in Central British Columbia. The time was April, 1914. It was here that the steel was joined. Some of the men in the picture may possibly be recognized by old timers.

Peace Gas Project

THAT IS AN ambitious project which prominent Vancouver business men have in mind—a $40,000,000 scheme to carry natural gas from the Peace River district to the coast, letting some off at interior points enroute.

It is only one, although possibly the most expansive outside of the making of direct railway connection from the Peace River to the coast, of many developments that will be occurring, and possibly not so long now, as the opening up of Canada's last greatest northwest materializes.

Nor do we need to worry too much in Prince Rupert about whether we or Vancouver benefit the most. There is room for both of us to be sure and if we continue the endeavour to work together in the development of the district, which after all is most directly tributary to Prince Rupert, a port will not and cannot be denied, we shall all benefit. So we wish the Vancouver men good luck in their venture in gas.

ALPHABETICAL SOUP

ALPHABETICAL PASSIONS still run high and the Second World War didn't help any.

Gone are the simpler days of World War I when KP was a man's worst worry. Now he has to decide whether OD means his uniform (of "olive-drab" complexion) or the officer of the day. CIC could mean either counter-intelligence or commander in chief; CO could mean conscientious objector or commanding officer.

Haven't things gone too far? Even to be world-minded today is to be alphabet-minded. The UN proliferates into ITO and FAO, ECOSOC and UNESCO. How can the man in the street (hereafter known as MIS) give his heartfelt loyalty to a bunch of consonants and vowels? Wistfully we look back to the verbal richness of earlier days of wobbles and mugwumps, do-gooders and know-nothings. Well might the MIS start a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to the Alphabet (hereafter not to be known as the SPCA).

STARVATION IN BRITAIN

THERE IS A CLEAR distinction between the expressions starvation and malnutrition. To apply the former to victims of circumstances in certain parts of the world is not trifling with the truth. It is a stark, a literal fact. Life ceases because of lack of food and for no other reason, but to say this happens in the British Isles is highly questionable. Nevertheless, such a claim has been seen in print and, if it ever occurred, it must have been due to the fact of none knowing what was going on.

Malnutrition is something else again. It is common enough anywhere, and can be experienced in the midst of prosperity. People who have spent months in the Old Country and studied the rationing and general food situation agree that there is a stringency. Most people accept regular, if perhaps somewhat monotonous fare. But few, if any, are overtaken by real hardship. And parcels from overseas are, of course, ever welcome.

HENRY BLACKABY

BORN IN COW COUNTRY BUT HAS SPENT MOST OF HIS LIFE HERE

Henry Blackaby, who commonly has his surname shortened to "Hen," first greeted this world at the well-known ranching centre of the interior, Williams Lake, but he left there before he was old enough to straddle a horse with any degree of confidence. For 9 of his years he has resided in Prince Rupert, receiving his public school education at Borden Street School.

This year he is in Grade Seven and having his first taste of high school.

Henry is a member of the high school stamp club, gathering postage stamps is his hobby. A fondness for the outdoors prompted him to join the Junior Forest Rangers, an organization noted for its valuable educational and conversation work throughout the province.

A member of the Civic Centre and an enthusiastic basketball player, Henry fills a berth on the Civic Centre Arrows' roster. He likes to spend his spare time practicing basket shots with his football. Reading isn't a favorite pastime with him but he likes music and is studying piano now.

When his schooling is completed in Prince Rupert, Henry plans to attend university although as yet he isn't sure what he will specialize in.

Henry's route is Number 21 which takes in the customers living on Park Avenue, Eleventh Street, Water Street, Beach Place and a long block of Second Avenue West.

Letters to the Editor

DOING GOOD JOB

Editor, Daily News:
Answering your letter of March 8 entitled "Employ Local People," your reference to married women working does in my opinion, create a lot of argument for and against but I'll leave that point to be battled out with our single sisters. My job here is just an ordinary one but, if any member of your correspondent's family can do it better than myself, they can get in touch with me. The Canadian National Railway still runs out of here.

Unions are they run efficiently like Ford's, Nuffield's etc. I wonder. Strikes never did any good and never will. What do the members get out of them? I think unions are a failure.

REAL "MERCY" FLIGHT

Editor, Daily News:
Shortly after writing the first letter regarding "Mercy" flights from Massett, there was another case of sickness here requiring immediate hospital treatment.

We got into communication with the Canadian Pacific Air Lines Ltd. at Prince Rupert. They were unable to state whether they could come to our assistance but would call us up in an hour's time. As this sounded doubtful and the case urgent, we got into communication with the U.S. Coast Guard Service at Annette Island, Alaska.

The answer was, we will call you in 10 minutes. In five minutes we were told that a plane would be at Massett in an hour's time. It arrived and the patient was in Prince Rupert General Hospital within two hours of our first call.

To add to the above immediate help, the U.S. service was asked what the charge would be.

the reply was "Charge! Why, nothing. It's our job."

What a difference to the cost in Canada of $252 for our first "Mercy" flight of 70 miles and about half the distance the American plane had to travel.

Surely the Canadian governments, federal and provincial, should do something about emergency flights and make them possible for all, rich and poor.

GOD AND FUTURE LIFE

Editor, Daily News:
I really feel impelled to interject a word into this rather frivolous correspondence about God and the Future Life.

It is all very well to talk about ideas but if we do shall have to be consistent and not go to bat for fundamental opposites. Either we believe that we are free in a real sense... that man stands indeed at the crossroads in this mortal life and the choices we make are real choices. Or we believe that nothing matters very much and that human life is totally illusory and back of what we know is neither good nor evil, pain nor pleasure, reward nor punishment.

In the latter case there can be no fear. I strongly suspect that nine out of ten of the people who tell me they do not fear the future are convinced that there is no future and, therefore, nothing to be glad or sorry about.

But to be convinced of what is not true is only like a shot of mental morphine. It does not alter the facts.

BASIL S. PROCKTER.

SHOULD SMARTEN UP

Editor, Daily News:
I see complaints in the paper about people from the prairies working while Prince Rupert people are out of work.

Mrs. Belinda Bleines writes that our own men are taking a back seat. What is the matter with them? Can they not compete on the labor market, with men from other parts of Canada? If that is so, it is time they had some technical as well as practical experience as more skilled labor is going to be needed as Rupert progresses. Men will have to be imported from the so-called prairies if local men are going to sit in the back seat complaining, instead of smartening up, so they can fill the bill.

As for single girls, the same applies to them. When you see some of the single girls standing chewing gum and smoking instead of serving the customers, you cannot blame employ-

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. Should one try to keep the righthand margin of a letter even?
A. Yes; while it is usually uneven, care should be taken not to turn the lines too near the edge of the paper. It should have some balance with the right hand margin.

Q. When attending a bridge party, should a woman leave her purse with her hat and coat or carry it with her to the table?
A. She may carry it with her if she wishes, but keep it in her lap.

Q. Should a son be taught to seat his mother at the table?
A. Yes; this is excellent.

Her Death Is Much Regretted

Numerous were the expressions of regret that were heard yesterday at the announcement of the death of the week-end in Vancouver of Mrs. Eleanor Tobey, wife of William H. Tobey, general manager of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and for many years identified first with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and later the Canadian National Railways here. Death came to Mrs. Tobey after an illness of considerable period from which it had been realized of late she had little chance of recovery. Born in New England, Mrs. Tobey came to Prince Rupert in the very early days and left here eight years ago when Mr. Tobey relinquished his duties as divisional superintendent of Canadian National Railways here to assume the management of the provincial railway. Besides the widower, Mrs. Tobey is survived by three sons, William at Tulsequah, Robert in England and Edward (Ned) in Ocean Falls.

In city police court Tuesday morning, Ted Davis was fined $50 plus $3.50 costs when he pleaded guilty to supplying liquor to an Indian.

BEERY THE FATHER—Actress Gloria Whitney is pictured with her week-old baby, Johan R. Schumm, at Los Angeles, Calif. The 33-year-old actress, whose real name is Gloria Schumm, named veteran screen actor Wallace Beery 63, as the "father of her child." She filed suit in superior court to establish paternity of the child and also asked a "reasonable sum" for support. Miss Whitney declared that the child's birth followed a long-time romance with Beery. SHORT SPORT

More important at the moment to Fernando Gagnon, Canadian bantamweight and featherweight champion, than in the ringing of the cash register in his hash-house in Quebec is arrangements for a rematch with Montreal's Hubert Gagnier, deposed featherweight king, a grudge battle in the making. Seemingly, some people—including Gagnier—weren't convinced Gagnon's quick kayo of the Montrealer in Quebec a week ago was no fluke. So the curly-haired Quebec boy, who added the featherweight title to his bantam crown, wants to prove he can do it again.

That there were doubting Thomases must have surprised Dink Carroll (Montreal Gazette), who dismissed the result of the title affair in four lines, only two of which are reproduced here: "No one was surprised by the outcome . . . Gagnon was known to be a fair belter and Gagnier to have a China chin."

Roland Sabourin (Quebec L'Evenement - Journal, noting that "some of his colleagues" in the metropolis had gone overboard for versions of the fight given by Gagnier and his father on their return to Montreal, says: "Personally, we think the Gagniers should have kept silent . . . and accepted their defeat like gentlemen, for their blabbering could do nothing else but blacken the name of the sport."

Stepping off from there, Roly quoted Capt. Leo Bouchard, Gagnon's doctory manager as follows: "Gagnon will meet Gagnier anywhere within 72 hours notice . . . in fact, he's so anxious for a rematch he's willing that the bout be fought on a winner-take-all basis. If Canadian boxing authorities floor play. Shooting on both sides was poor. After trailing the suburbanites for three quarters, Fashion Footwear put on a last-minute drive that netted eleven points in the fourth quarter but which was insufficient to overcome the Port Edward lead.

Gurney of Port Edward was top scorer, netting 12 points, six of them in the last period.

LADIES MAKE HIGH SCORE

In the Ladies' League game, High School trampled Sweet Sixteen by a score of 38-25 in the highest-scoring games of the season's schedule. The game also was one of the best to watch.

However, there was little doubt after the first quarter that the league-trailing Sixteens would not improve their position in the standings at the expense of High School. The students emerged from the first quarter with a six-point lead which they expanded as the game progressed.

Budinich of High School and Currie of Sweet Sixteen were top scorers, each with 13 points.

TAXI MEN BEAT HIGH SCHOOL

The first period was scoreless for both sides in the Junior League game which saw 65 Taxi take a 18-12 victory from High School. Both sides displayed poor shooting.

The taxi boys played strictly zonal positions, a strategy which forced the students to take long shots, most of which were unsuccessful.

Holt and Bill were each responsible for six of the 65 Taxi's 18 points, while Weiss scored six for High School.

You saw it in the Daily News!

blackness of night. As far as humanly possible, the long lines of cars winding through the mountains must be made invisible. Here was a job calling for resourcefulness, watchfulness, and ingenuity to say nothing of co-operation by everybody.

Remember the armored cars that kept coming into and going out of Prince Rupert through the long weeks when people confused steamship whistles with sirens and now and then a fellow would remark he hated to feel jittery. The armored cars, the purposeful gun crews and sleek weapons looked like bad medicine for any wandering fliers from Tokio. The artillery had a far longer range than anyone in town thought—not that information was ever given, but because the guy around the corner had been tipped off by a friend of his that so and so didn't have the least doubt of it.

Tens of thousands of United States troops, by the time they stepped off the trains at Port Edward or Prince Rupert had a widened idea of America, and that Canada is a roomy sort of place. Many were from away down south—and they spoke with an easy drawl. They were likeable, genial boys, full of unspoken questions and not overlooking much. Some had not been beyond their own State, and all had come a long way.

Railroad men, like all other loyal workers and citizens, shouldered a never ending list of responsibility and anxieties. Emergencies had to be met and solved. Ever present would be need for judgment and discretion. Prince Rupert and this end of the vast railway system grew swiftly in international importance, as Washington discovered what was here. And it is distinctly to the credit of everyone concerned that not once was there an "incident" here. There was a smoothness, efficiency and finality.

The Prince Rupert Optimist, dated July 16, 1909, announces that it has a name, the competition having ended with the choice favoring what was submitted by J. H. Pillsbury, and the presentation to him of the prize—a $25 gold watch. Other names suggested included the "Leader," "Enterprise," "Star," "Hyacinthe" (from a lady in California) "Dreadnought" and "Wediddahid."

With the time for the annual Rod and Gun Club dinner coming around again, it is seemingly to arise and tell the assembled company that once upon a time, one could penetrate the everlasting hills around Prince Rupert and drill an unsuspecting, savory mountain goat. You might do it today but with heavy odds. Civilization is nearer.

The defence idea must have been in the mind of the powers that be, quite early in the history of Prince Rupert. As far back as midsummer 1909, five years before there was any thought of war in Europe, military men came here to take a look around. These included General W.D. Otter, who took the first Canadian contingent to South Africa, Col. Rutherford of Ottawa, a naval lieutenant and a captain from India. They spent a day on the harbor, and a week in the district. The general was interviewed. They were in the north on pleasure bent. Fishing was fair! An interesting visit! Beautiful scenery. Defence? Oh yes! No, nothing today!

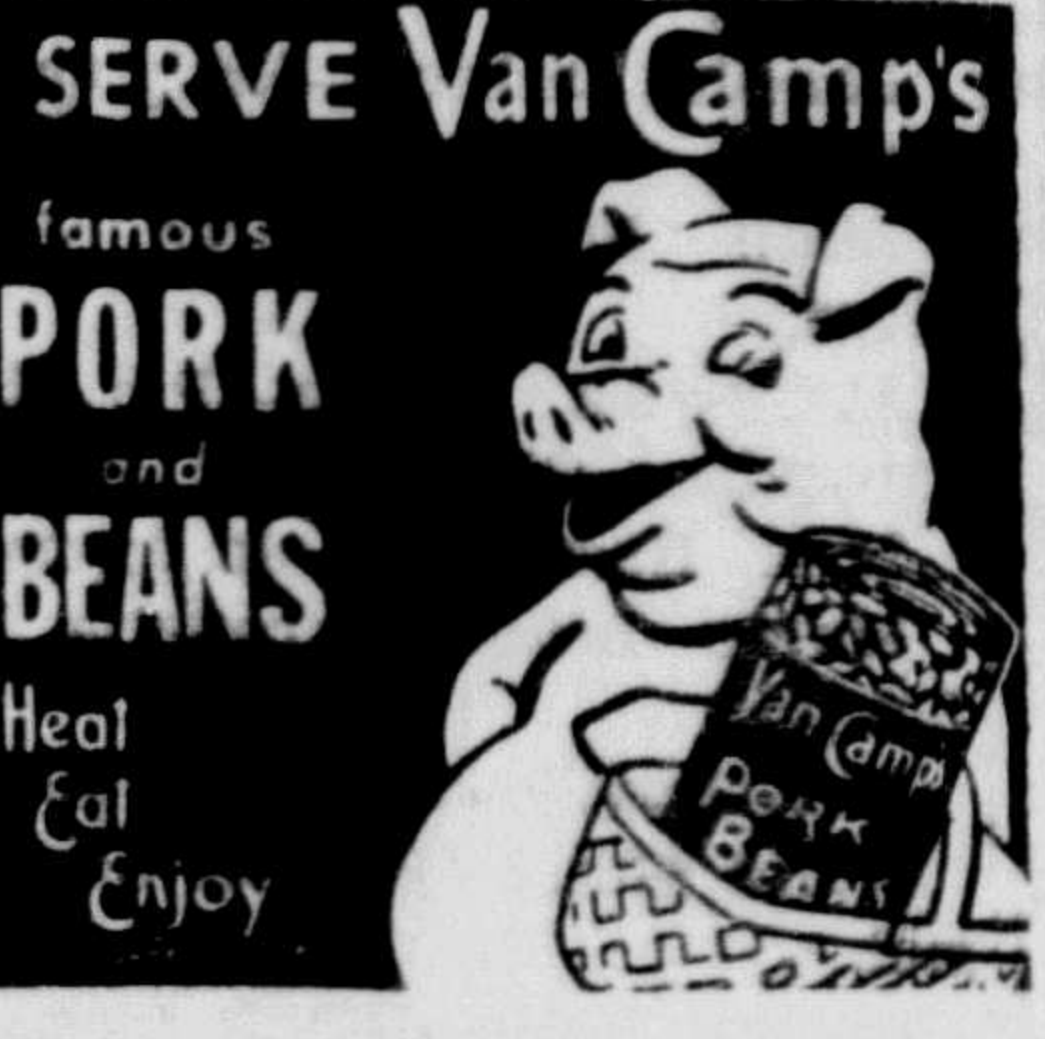

More persons, returning to Alaska or Prince Rupert after visiting in the south or east, are saying "so glad to be back." It would be interesting to know how much of this is polite fiction or is honestly meant! If the former, there is no harm done. Perhaps, after all, language was invented to help conceal a great many of one's real thoughts.

RICHEST WOMAN—Doris Duke Rubirosa, the world's richest woman, is shown leaving customs at La Guardia Field in New York after her arrival from Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic. She was enroute from Buenos Aires where her husband, Porfirio, is Dominican ambassador to the Argentine. It was learned that Mrs Rubirosa stopped off in Ciudad Trujillo to visit with her in-laws, but declined to say what her immediate plans were.

Reminiscences

By W.J. and Reflections

Prince Rupert folk were blessed with steady nerves back in the days of '41, and after, when Pearl Harbor spoke. The air and ocean fleets of Japan were ranging the Pacific. Two of Britain's proudest ships had been sunk. The assumed impregnable fortress of Singapore had fallen. Here, we slumbered more or less vocally and rejoiced in the sudden spurt of business, the abundance of jobs and the handsome wages.

Japan made it her business to know something of the railway out of Prince Rupert. It was realized that a few well placed bombs would isolate this port as far as rail traffic was concerned. Between here and Terrace, steel had spanned wide rivers and deep gulches. Between Prince Rupert and Terrace? What distance was that to a bomber? There were targets that meant far-reaching destruction.

Railroaders had their orders. The transcontinental, in particular the Pacific zone, realized the menace. A first and vital essential was silence. No talk, no matter how unimportant or innocent it might seem, anywhere, any time, must be rigidly recognized. War had come and alert, unfriendly ears were liable to be anywhere.

Lights on a train—any train—could no longer pierce the

Eye-Filling Style Show

Charming Fashion Parade
By Annette Mansell Last Evening

Eye-filling new fashion creations for budding spring and an early Easter were displayed in stunning style by bewitching mannequins from the stage of the Capitol Theatre last night in Annette Mansell's fashion revue and tonight the show will be repeated. A full house was on hand to see that austerity appears to have gone at least as far as ingeniously smart and chic costumerie for the ladies and girls in Prince Rupert is concerned. The whistles of the male enthusiasts and the admiring gasps of the feminine section testified to the popularity of the style parade.

No less than thirty-nine items from leading costumers in Canada were paraded, ranging from delightful ensembles for mature matrons to the willowiest of frocks for sub-debs. There were suits and coats with intriguing accessories. Then came the dresses in all the latest designs and shades and for all occasions.

Crowning event was the bridal procession in which beautiful brunette Mary Adcock ascended the floral dais in her white Duchess satin creation with its long tulle veil, as comely a bride as one could wish to see. Accompanying her to form a lovely marital scene were eight winsome bridesmaids in their pretty frocks of various delicate pastel shades.

The models and the creations which they wore were:
Mrs. Bussey—Old rose coat, rose and blue striped Jersey dress.
Mona Mutch—Grey coat, printed dress, green hat and purse.
Marie Acton—Beige coat, brown accessories.
