Vancouver Is Storm-Lashed

Floods Threat Easing in Lower Mainland and Vancouver Island

VANCOUVER — A wave of cold air, moving down over southern British Columbia yesterday, brought relief from heavy rains, sleet, snow and snowslides as crews are working to restore to normal rail and highway communications and telegraph, telephone and power services.

Balm winds, heavy with rain, which blew through British Columbia during Wednesday, caused more floods and power failures, cave-ins and slides as the province receded from the most freakish weather it has experienced in twenty years.

At Qualicum Beach on Vancouver Island driving rains eased in an embankment and sent tons of earth and rock crashing down on an unoccupied summer cottage, pushing it more than forty feet.

Wind hit 51 miles per hour in Vancouver and snapped the city's 65-foot Christmas Tree in Victory Square.

Recovering slowly from the unprecedented snowstorm that laid a three-foot blanket and piled drifts fifteen feet high, winds and rains had meant floods and silver thaws. The snow level at Summerland on Okanagan Lake, about 300 miles east of Vancouver, dropped one-and-a-half feet in ten hours during Wednesday night but, with the arrival of cooler temperatures, it began to tighten up there yesterday. However, complete washouts were feared because of shallow frost in the ground.

Rains caused power failures in the Fraser Valley and Chilliwack. Agassiz and Hope were blacked out for four hours.

All highways east of Vancouver were blocked until today. The Cariboo road is still blocked but the new Hope-Princeton highway and the main road between Vancouver and Hope were opened again today although dangerous with ice.

On Vancouver Island, Sooke, near Victoria, is virtually isolated by flood water.

Trainloads of weary storm refugees poured into Vancouver overnight as winter slowly released its grip on British Columbia's interior roads and passes.

Nine Canadian Pacific trains, carrying more than 1800 passengers, rolled over the newly cleared roadbeds after 48 hours' isolation in the worst blizzard in the middle of the province in twenty years.

Clear and cold weather today continued to diminish the fear of flash floods for hundreds more who are still imprisoned on the province's highways around Princeton, 183 miles east of here.

Late reports today said that communication lines, snapped by the silver thaw yesterday, were being restored by line crews who had been working steadily in shifts since the storm began.

HI into their stride, with handsome wins over both. The last quarter was a crowd thriller and Prince Rupert deemed themselves with a twenty point spurt that nearly won them the game. At five minutes to go the Elks were leading by a one-sided score 54-39. Then the fireworks started with Rupert scoring 15 gazzling points to two for the Elks. Ray Spring was as hot as the proverbial firecracker and rattled in four beautiful baskets and two foul shots in the last few minutes to bring his game total to 14. Spring was good for four in the first period, was scoreless in the next two, and his ten point drive in the last spark-plugged Prince

Opening of New Road in Summer

The 61-mile new highway from Jake's Corner connecting the mining town of Atlin with the Alaska Highway and the outside, which was recently opened to traffic, will be officially opened next summer, it has been announced. Financed by federal and provincial appropriations, this road was recently completed by the Canadian Army which will undertake to keep it open the year around. Its building has given the camp of Atlin a new lease on life.

Snow Flurries But Still Cold

Long before daybreak today there was a light snow flurry. What the weather is going to do continues to keep people guessing, although continued cold is still officially predicted. The lowest official overnight thermometer reading was 13 above between 1 and 4 a.m. At noon today, in spite of bright sunshine, it was 19 above—the warmest for 2 or 3 days.

The Weather

Synopsis Really cold air is pouring out of the Yukon over all of B.C. today and all indications are that the province is in for several days of unusually low temperatures. There will be snow flurries today and tomorrow in the Vancouver Island lower mainland areas as well as the more mountainous sections in the interior. Skies tonight though will be mostly clear which will allow very rapid cooling. Strong winds are being reported down the mainland inlets as the cold air moves from the interior towards the coast.

Forecast

North Coast region—Cloudy with a few snow flurries today. Clear and very cold tonight and Saturday. Northeast winds, 20 miles per hour, occasionally reaching 35 miles down the mainland inlets. Lows tonight and high tomorrow. At Port Hardy—20 and 30, Sandspit—15 and 25, Prince Rupert 10 and 20.

P.G.E. BLOCKED VANCOUVER — The battle against snow and slides on the Lower Mainland moved into Central British Columbia today along line of the government-operated Pacific Great Eastern Railway. No trains are moving on the P.G.E. and snow ranges up to five feet along the line. Powdery snow fell in many coastal districts during the morning and more snow is expected later in the day with the cold wave descending over the province during the night. Flood and frost-broken roads on Vancouver Island have become more treacherous following snowfalls of from 1/2 inch at Victoria to five inches at Port Alberni, 135 miles northwest of the capital.

Extraordinary Powers Conferred On Governor

HONG KONG (CP)—This British crown colony, faced with the possibility of a general strike, today gave its governor virtual war powers to his discretion. Emergency regulations were published empowering the governor to take steps to meet attack or internal disorder. He is authorized to requisition manpower and property, ban strikes and lock-outs in essential services and utilize extraordinary police powers that would put the colony on a war footing.

The governor may also ban seditious meetings, prohibit meetings likely to cause disturbances, detain or expel any person from the colony, search premises, vehicles, planes and ships.

All types of traffic are placed under his rigid control. Publication of the regulations came as the colony suffered from a rash of labor difficulties which may develop into a general strike.

A large British garrison is here and crews of naval vessels stationed at Hong Kong have been placed on the alert to operate key services.

Workers are demanding increases of three Hong Kong dollars (about 65c) a day.

Wreck Was "Horrible"

CALGARY, — Thirty-five persons are in hospital and 24 are suffering from injuries following yesterday's train wreck at Southeast, railway siding 95 miles southeast of Calgary, one of the worst wrecks in Alberta's history. One man was killed.

Of those in hospital, two are reported in very poor condition, six as fair, and six as very serious.

The train disaster occurred in 20 degree below zero weather. An eastbound Canadian Pacific Railway express train from Vancouver, behind schedule because of storms in British Columbia, side-swiped a westbound passenger train from Toronto. The passenger train was carrying a number of C.P.R. men en route to Vancouver to help repair British Columbia's disrupted communication system.

Reid B. Heffernan of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, one of the men, died of injuries before reaching hospital.

Capt. J. W. Turner, dental officer of the cruiser H.M.C.S. Ontario at Esquimalt, returning to the coast from Christmas leave at Niagara Falls, Ontario, said "the scene at the wreck was horrible."

Workmen Hurt In Explosions

VANCOUVER — Seven workmen were injured yesterday in two separate explosions in British Columbia Electric Co. plants. One is dead.

Five were injured in a flash explosion in a purifier in the Carrall Street gasworks and two suffered burns in a blast in a blacksmith plant at the Kitsilano shops.

Clifford Humphrey, one of the men injured in the gasworks, died today.

Laissez-Faire Deadly

SELF-SATISFACTION and willingness to change are possibly the most serious brakes on the wheels of progress and service.

It is possibly human nature to rest content and leave well enough alone if things seem to be going along smoothly. The person who will stir things up, introduce new ideas or do anything to disturb the smooth routine becomes unpopular.

The resentment against change is to be seen in Prince Rupert as well as other places, particularly among the better established who may not realize that laissez-faire is the decay that eats away the foundations and causes the structure to fall.

Decadence, national, community or individual, is the result of continued inclination to follow the line of least resistance, unwillingness to follow new and modern trends, adopt new ideas, keep pace with the times.

We can and do make mistakes if we take chances or experiment modernistically, however, we cannot win and keep up to-date without some of the speculative spirit. As has often been said, there is no standing still. We must sustain our effort to keep advancing. To stand still is to fall back by being overtaken.

HERVEY ALLEN

HERVEY ALLEN, author of "Anthony Adverse" died this week in Florida. His novel was, to the first Great War, something similar to "Forever Amber" in the latter's relationship to the second. Each is lascivious. Had there been no wars, it is not at all unreasonable to think "Anthony Adverse" and "Forever Amber" would never have been written. Each had to have a general background of strife and stress on a colossal scale, perverted morals and an acceptance of a way of life and ethics that frankly defied criticism and laughed at virtue.

Small wonder that these stories, born in the heat of a war-crazed world, and presenting emotions and passions harmonizing more or less with the times, enjoyed vast success. The fundamentals of human kind were drawn with a ruthlessness, drama and truth, that compelled attention everywhere.

AFTER STALIN WHAT?

THE COMPLETE ABASEMENT of the great Russian nation to one man, in the person of Stalin, is tragic. It is at moments ludicrous. But it is certainly important. It is important to realize that the "Communism" of 1949 is not Communism at all in any real sense of the word. It is something which would have drawn from Marx and Lenin all their scorn for a thing so false and so evil. It is a system of complete grovelling servility to the will and whims of a semi-divine Emperor, a God-Emperor surrounded by his pretorian guards.

What, one keeps on wondering, will happen when the all-wise, all-powerful God-Emperor dies?

Letters to the Editor

WAR, CIVILIZED AND SAVAGE

Editor, Daily News: Sherman said, "War is hell!" The ancient Germans thought war was heroic, even heavenly and divine.

Our first reaction to this contrast is instantaneous and emotional: we think Sherman and the rest of modern Christian warriors are at least half-civilized, whereas we think the ancient Germans must have been ferocious savages. But instantaneous appraisals are often faulty and a more careful study may at least raise doubts about snap judgments.

One historical fact is that there have been many kinds of war. There is a cold war, a warm war, and a hot war. There have been wars of extermination, wars of religion, dynastic wars, wars of piracy and robbery. So far as I have learned no nation has long been free from lethal conflict of some sort between man and man. Nations have outlawed war but without much effect, either in domestic, or in external affairs; we still have riots, lynchings, murder and armed robbery to fill the intervals of international peace." Even the Christian ethic recognizes enemies while it bids us forgive them and love them.

Now I think that since the ancient Teutonic culture, no other culture, past or present, has achieved a more perfect compromise between the human duty to protect the weak, and the Christian ideal to love the enemy. That culture is now hidden from us by the dark shadows of the past rendered darker by the efforts of hostile chroniclers. But faint receding rays still reach the searching eye and half-doubted whisperings echo faintly. Offa, the Angle, was a kingdom and the faith and loyalty of a rival nation by the hazard of his life, and his alone, against two. The Teutonic trial by combat, the sacred gamble of a life to save many lives is now the butt and target for jests of meander men; but if we could peer through the inky myths of clerical chroniclers and monastic ballad-mongers, we might learn and exult that Merclan and West Saxon met and washed away their hates in the voluntary blood of two brave champions on Ellandune, and we might learn that Brunanburgh was a field of honour whence Welsh and Scots, Danes and English, parted in manly brotherhood.

EDWARD J. G. LETCHFORD.

MAYOR'S REPLY

Editor, Daily News: As one of my last official acts as Mayor of this city I wish to protest the very unfair implications contained in your editorial entitled "On Being Kicked Out," and would ask that you give this letter equal publicity, to the end that the public may know the facts of the case.

This incident occurred, not at a regular meeting of the Council, but at a special meeting during which the Council sat as a Board of Appeal under the Motor Vehicle Act. Neither the public nor the press were excluded during the hearing of the evidence at the conclusion of which the litigant, the public and the press were asked to leave while the verdict was determined. This is standard procedure in any British Court. Even the judge is excluded while the jury deliberates, so is the Coroner under similar circumstances, and it is obvious that the deliberations of Appeal Court Judges are not open to anybody. Nobody is a greater believer in the freedom of the press than I am, and I also acknowledge its power. Power in any form imposes duties and the power exercised by the press imposes the duty of accurately reporting to the public all news which is in the public interest and regular meetings of the City Council must surely fall into that category. As a result of this supposed slight, the newspaper man charged with this duty left the special meeting, and failed to report the happenings of the regular meeting which I can assure him included many matters which were of interest to the public.

There are very few occasions when it is necessary for the City Council to go into closed session and the 1949 Council, did not, I believe do so on any single occasion until this last meeting. However, in certain cases when the character, record or circumstances of a private citizen must be discussed as in social welfare cases, or those offending against the law, the privacy of such people must be observed. Put the cap on your own head, Mr. Editor. If you or any member of your family became distressed, or in conflict with the law so that help or consideration from the City Council was needed, you would not wish to have a press man sit in on the hearing of all the distressing details. I have enjoyed much favorable publicity from the press and I shall continue to be its firm supporter as long as its duties transcend personalities.

NORA E. ARNOLD, Mayor.

What City Council Did

Reports of various committees were heard. The finance committee reported the sale of lots 11 and 12, block 13, section 2 to Robert E. Montador for $800.

A letter received by the board of works committee from Bayfield and Archibald was read. The correspondence regarded the proposed engine and pump and council's account for $30 was approved.

Police report for the month of November was received and approved.

Ray Reflects . . . and Reminisces

The dawn of a New Year will soon be breaking and millions are to hear the old, old salutation. After all life hinges largely on what you make it. Plenty of persons possessing advantages are miserable. They are not, nor can they be happy. Yet others, in one sense poor indeed, are rich in the things of the spirit. Their state of mind is a fortunate circumstance. A Happy New Year! How about counting your blessings. The chances are you will find a few.

It's not all beer and skittles. Six hundred homeless men are down to partake of a free holiday dinner at a Vancouver city mission on December 30. There is never a picture without the other side.

There is always a touch of what usually can pass for winter at Prince Rupert around the holiday season. How it's received depends a great deal on how one is feeling. Generally speaking, when one shakes hands hard enough to make you wince, it's not so bad.

The twentieth century quoth Laurier in a moment of glowing ardour "belongs to Canada". Wilfrid himself has gone and within the next few days the same will be said of the first half of the hundred years. We'll talk it over once more next Christmas season and take another look around.

Fifty-two Canadian curlers will tour Scotland early in January, repaying the visit to Canada last year by the Royal Caledonian Curling Club, Christmas, and a that, isn't entirely over for some folks.

Santa Claus Still Around

Although 'twas a few days after Christmas, Santa Claus was still around and at the Valhalla Lodge hall Wednesday afternoon, he distributed gifts and candies to 24 children. The annual Christmas Tree of the organization was convened by Mrs. C. H. Insulander. In the evening, members and friends gathered at the hall for a party and dance.

Among the northbound passengers aboard the Princess Narah, which called at Prince Rupert today, was J.A. Simmons, M.P. for Yukon, heading for Whitehorse now that the Federal parliament has prorogued for the Christmas and New Year holidays.

Regular Sandspit-Prince Rupert C.P.A. return flight was held yesterday afternoon due to the late arrival of the flight from Vancouver on account of weather conditions in the south. Passengers were housed at Sandspit overnight and arrived here at 9 a.m. this morning. Yesterday's passengers from here to Vancouver got through last evening.

NEW GREAT LAKES SHIP PLANNED—"Hull No. 11" will be the name of the largest Canadian-built ship on the Great Lakes. Her keel will be laid in a few days at Port Weller, Ont. She will be 654 feet long and have 6,500 horsepower, compared with the present giant of the lakes, the recently launched Hochelaga, 640 feet and 3,500 horsepower. Shown here, examining the bow of a 14-foot half-model of the bulk carrier, are, left to right, John O. McKel-lar, secretary-treasurer of the Colonial Steamships Ltd.; Naval Architect Alex S. Morris who drew the plans; Capt. R. Scott Misen-ner, president of the line; and Charles A. Ansell, president of the Port Weller Dry Docks Ltd.

CANADIAN FILM WINS ITALIAN AWARD—A silver medal, won by a Canadian film company at the Tenth International Exhibition of Cinematographic Art held in Venice, Italy, was received recently by Paul Malone, second secretary of the Canadian embassy in Washington. Mr. Malone, right, is shown here receiving the medal from Mario Lucicli, counsellor of the Italian embassy.
The film, "The Loon's Necklace" has been purchased by a U.S. film agency.

Carrier Boys Win Awards

Harold Carlson, who delivers the waterfront route, was presented with a handsome new bicycle at the Commodore Cafe
last evening when the Daily News entertained its carrier boys at a happy dinner party. Harold was the winner in a new subscription and delivery efficiency contest which has been in progress for the past several weeks. He just nosed out Clyde Trudeau of the Rushbrook Heights area who received a substantial cash prize.
Third in the contest was John Laporte whose route is up Fulton Street along Fifth Avenue and Borden Street to Biggar Place.

The dinner was presided over by G. A. Hunter, managing editor, and arranged by Alf Worthington, circulation manager, who explained further plans for encouraging the boys to sustain circulation and general service.

LOOKING BACK

10 Years Ago

December 30, 1939

First step in reorganizing the Girl Guides in the city was taken at a meeting at the home of Mrs. C. V. Evitt, Fourth Avenue East. Plans were laid for the organizing of two troops.

Revived for wartime activity, the Prince Rupert Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society received a new charter and planned a public organizational meeting in the near future. City Commissioner Alder presided at an executive meeting.

Municipal voters, in a plebiscite, voted emphatically in favor of a city manager under an elected advisory body in place of the city commissionership which had prevailed for the last few years.

25 Years Ago

December 30, 1924

Arrangements were nearing completion to ship Bulkley Valley cattle to Japan, according to Charles Kelly of Smithers. It was planned to bring the Canadian vessel, Canadian Miller here to load the livestock.

The halibut boat Azores, Capt. Charles Edwards, exploded and sank near Thurston Harbor, Moresby Island, but her crew of two escaped in a dory.

City Council was studying a suggestion by the Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association that the city hire a city manager to head its affairs.

KETCHIKAN WINS

Rupert to a near-victory. Johansen, for the Elks, was high man of the game with a tidy twenty points. He was followed by the fast stepping Duane Vincent, who garnered 17 and Christiansen who sagged the hoop for eleven. Arney was off from his usual form but, along with Holkestad and Flaten made a valuable 27—nine apiece.

Rupert Tonight?
Tonight's prediction is a win for Prince Rupert but, if they do as predicted, it will be the hard way as the Elks will take some beating. Rupert team has played a game together now and Coach MacPhee knows his best combinations of players after last night's rather hectic workout. One thing is sure, the fans who saw last night's thrilling finish will all be back for more and the many who were unwilling to brave the cold are going to be sitting in the warm Civic Centre gym to witness tonight's thriller from the reserved seat sections.

Line-ups:—
KETCHIKAN—Brewer, Christiansen 11, Harry Johansen 20, Vincent 17, Bob Christopher 4, Jack Johansen 4, J. Christopher. Total—56.
PRINCE RUPERT—Arney 9, Spring 14, Holkestad 9, Davis, Beynon 1, Flaten 9, D. Scherk 8, S. Scherk, Sunberg 2, Morgan 2 Total—54.

League Fixture
North Star won a surprise victory over the more experienced Merchants' team in the Intermediate League game played as a preliminary to the main event last night. They did it the hard way, trailing by 25-7 at the half. In the third period North Star hit their stride, scoring 20 points to take over the lead 27-25, and held it grimly throughout the last period to win by one point 37-36. The game was fast and furious throughout and was featured by clean play, only 14 penalties being called on each team. Dick Wesch for North Star and Ron Christoff for Merchants shared top scoring honours, each getting 12 points.

Lineups:—
MERCANTS—Currie 4, Dumas 7, Anderson 2, Christoff 12, Marshall 3, Davidson 2, Walsh, Boulter 6, Total—36.
NORTH STAR—Wesch 12, Young 1, Smith 8, Simonsen 6, Parnell 7, Sedgewick, Hamilton, Ketcheson, Hartwig 3 Total—37.

MER (E)MAID, TO BE SURE—Doing what comes naturally, Kathy Tongay of Miami, Fla., has added a backward dive to her repertoire of swim stunts—at the age of 18 months. The child, daughter of a former water safety instructor at St. Louis, has been swimming since she could toddle. With her brother, Russell, 3½, she swam for five miles in the Mississippi river last summer.

ISBRANDTSEN

U.S. PROTESTS SHELLING OF FREIGHTER - With a patch (arrow) over the hole ripped in her side by shell from Chinese Nationalist gunboat, the Isbrandtsen Line freighter "Flying Cloud" rides in Korean waters. Gunboat apparently fired one warning shot across bow before shelling. The U.S. protested the shelling, and has, as yet, received no reply.

CANADIAN PILOT IN ANTARCTIC SEARCH - With this wooden-hulled relief ship as his base, Peter Borden St. Louis, veteran Canadian bush pilot, will fly over uncharted sections of the Antarctic ocean in hope of rescuing British scientists marooned in the area of Stonington Island. He will fly a Norseman amphibian. The ship will set out from Deception Bay, Antarctica, and will penetrate deep into the Antarctic ice fields.

It's Not as Bad as All That!

A worn-out shoe saddens this youngster on a visit to an emergency shoe repair shop, supplied by the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) in Vienna. But he, like almost 6,000,000 other youngsters and nursing and expectant mothers, will this year have their Christmas dinners supplemented with food sent by UNICEF. Other children will be wearing good shoes and warm clothing, manufactured from UNICEF supplies.

WORLD'S MOST EXPENSIVE HAMBURGER—"Judge Roy Bean," grand champion steer of the golden jubilee livestock exposition in Chicago, went on the auction block for the record-breaking price of $11.50 a pound, for every one of his 1,200 pounds. At that weight the sale price would be around $43,800. The record bid was made by David Meeker, right, and proceeds of the sale will go to the Pecos County 4-H club, owners of the champ.

Harry Davies, general agent
here for the Canadian Pacific Railway, returned to the city on the Princess Norah today after a trip to Vancouver and Victoria for Christmas.

Cards, Music, Moose Social

A ladies of the Moose social comprising four tables of whist and entertainment was held at the Moose hall Tuesday night.

Selections were presented by the all girl Classy Lassie band and a dance, to the music of Mike Colussi, followed.

Winners at cards were Miss Sylvia Johnson, Mrs. Steve Dumas and C. H. Collins.

The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. G. Foster, Mrs. P.
MacInnis, Mrs. William Terry,
Mrs. P. Bond, Mrs. J. Hoskins,
Mrs. R. B. Skinner, Mrs. L. Ever-leigh, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. R. Leclair, Mrs. P. Curle, Mrs. E.
Blair and Mrs. Harold Muncney.

Death Takes Samuel Bell

Samuel Bell, 64 employee at Sibak Premier Mines, Stewart, died in General hospital Thursday morning. Born in Ireland April 18, 1885, he had lived at Stewart for the past 26 years.

Mr. Bell was brought to hospital December 23 for an operation for acute appendicitis. The emergency flight was made by Bill
McLeod of the Queen Charlotte Airlines.

He is survived by his wife
Amelia in Stewart.

Funeral arrangements, in charge of B. C. Undertakers, will be announced later.

The remains will be forwarded
Sunday night on the Coquitlam to Stewart where interment will be made.

SHIPS and WATERFRONT

Up to the present time, fishermen have caught 2,210 tons of herring in northern waters.
When the vessels hit for port during the middle of this month, a good showing of herring was noticeable at Kwak-waka Pass and it is hoped the situation will remain the same when the boats begin leaving the city January 4 after the Christmas and New Year vacation suspension.

Nineteen carloads of frozen fish were unloaded here Monday
by the Alaska Steamships vessel Lucidor, Capt. E. C. Trondsen.
Completing unloading here, the ship sailed Tuesday for Everett, Washington, where the final part of the cargo was to be discharged.
The frozen fish from Ketchikan will be transported by rail to American points.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. Graham Hughes, arrived in port from Vancouver at 12:30 p.m. today sailing for Alaskan points at 2 p.m. Northbound passengers included Lorne Adams to Ketchikan and Guy J. Moyer to Whitehorse.

Union steamer Camosun, Capt.
Harry McLean, arrived in port at 1:30 p.m. today and sails for the Queen Charlottes at 10 p.m. Passengers from here for the Islands include Miss M. Mackie who is returning to Skidegate after a short visit here.
