Men's Eyes Reflect Of Malayan War

By LIONEL HUDSON

SINGAPORE—(Reuters)—Two-and-a-quarter bewildered Chinese, Indian and Malay children in the thick of the shooting war being fought between British forces and Communist soldiers. Few have been hurt; but their bright eyes show just how much they are aware of the war in the air.

Thousands of these children are working in the fields, standing in the mud, in the red huts in the villages, and in the market towns in Malaya, Negri, Semakedah.

The parents of some have taken to the jungle. Others only see their fathers at night when it is comparatively safe for them to leave jungle fastnesses. Family ties are strong among the Chinese, one officer said and the government social welfare centres are only occasionally told of children abandoned by their terrorist fathers.

Children have been killed in terrorist hand-grenade attacks; but the killers usually spare the younger members of the families even if they deprive them of their parents.

Americans Are Still On Retreat

Encircling Movement
Now Seems To Be
Strategy Of Reds

TOKYO (CP)—United States forces defending the Kum River were forced back Saturday by Communists from North Korea who are trying an encircling movement. The entire left (west) flank gave way before the infiltrating Communist troops. The Communists came in dressed as United States soldiers and civilians, the Associated Press reported.

The attackers' bridgehead on the south bank of the river "remained intact despite heavy losses" inflicted by American ground fire and aerial strafing, said a communique issued early Sunday by Gen. Douglas MacArthur. American personnel losses are small as compared to those suffered by the Reds, the Associated Press said.

North Koreans burst across the Kum River 20 miles northwest of Taegon during the day. Between 1,000 and 2,000 troops waded and splashed across the river to gain a foothold. They fanned out fast.

The Reds are well equipped. Artillery and small arms duels ensued. Four Red tanks were knocked out on ferries on the stream. Three other North Korean attempts to cross the river were thwarted by American and South Korean arms.

American front line defenders appeared in danger of encirclement, said a Reuters dispatch. Only at the centre of the line were the Americans reported holding.

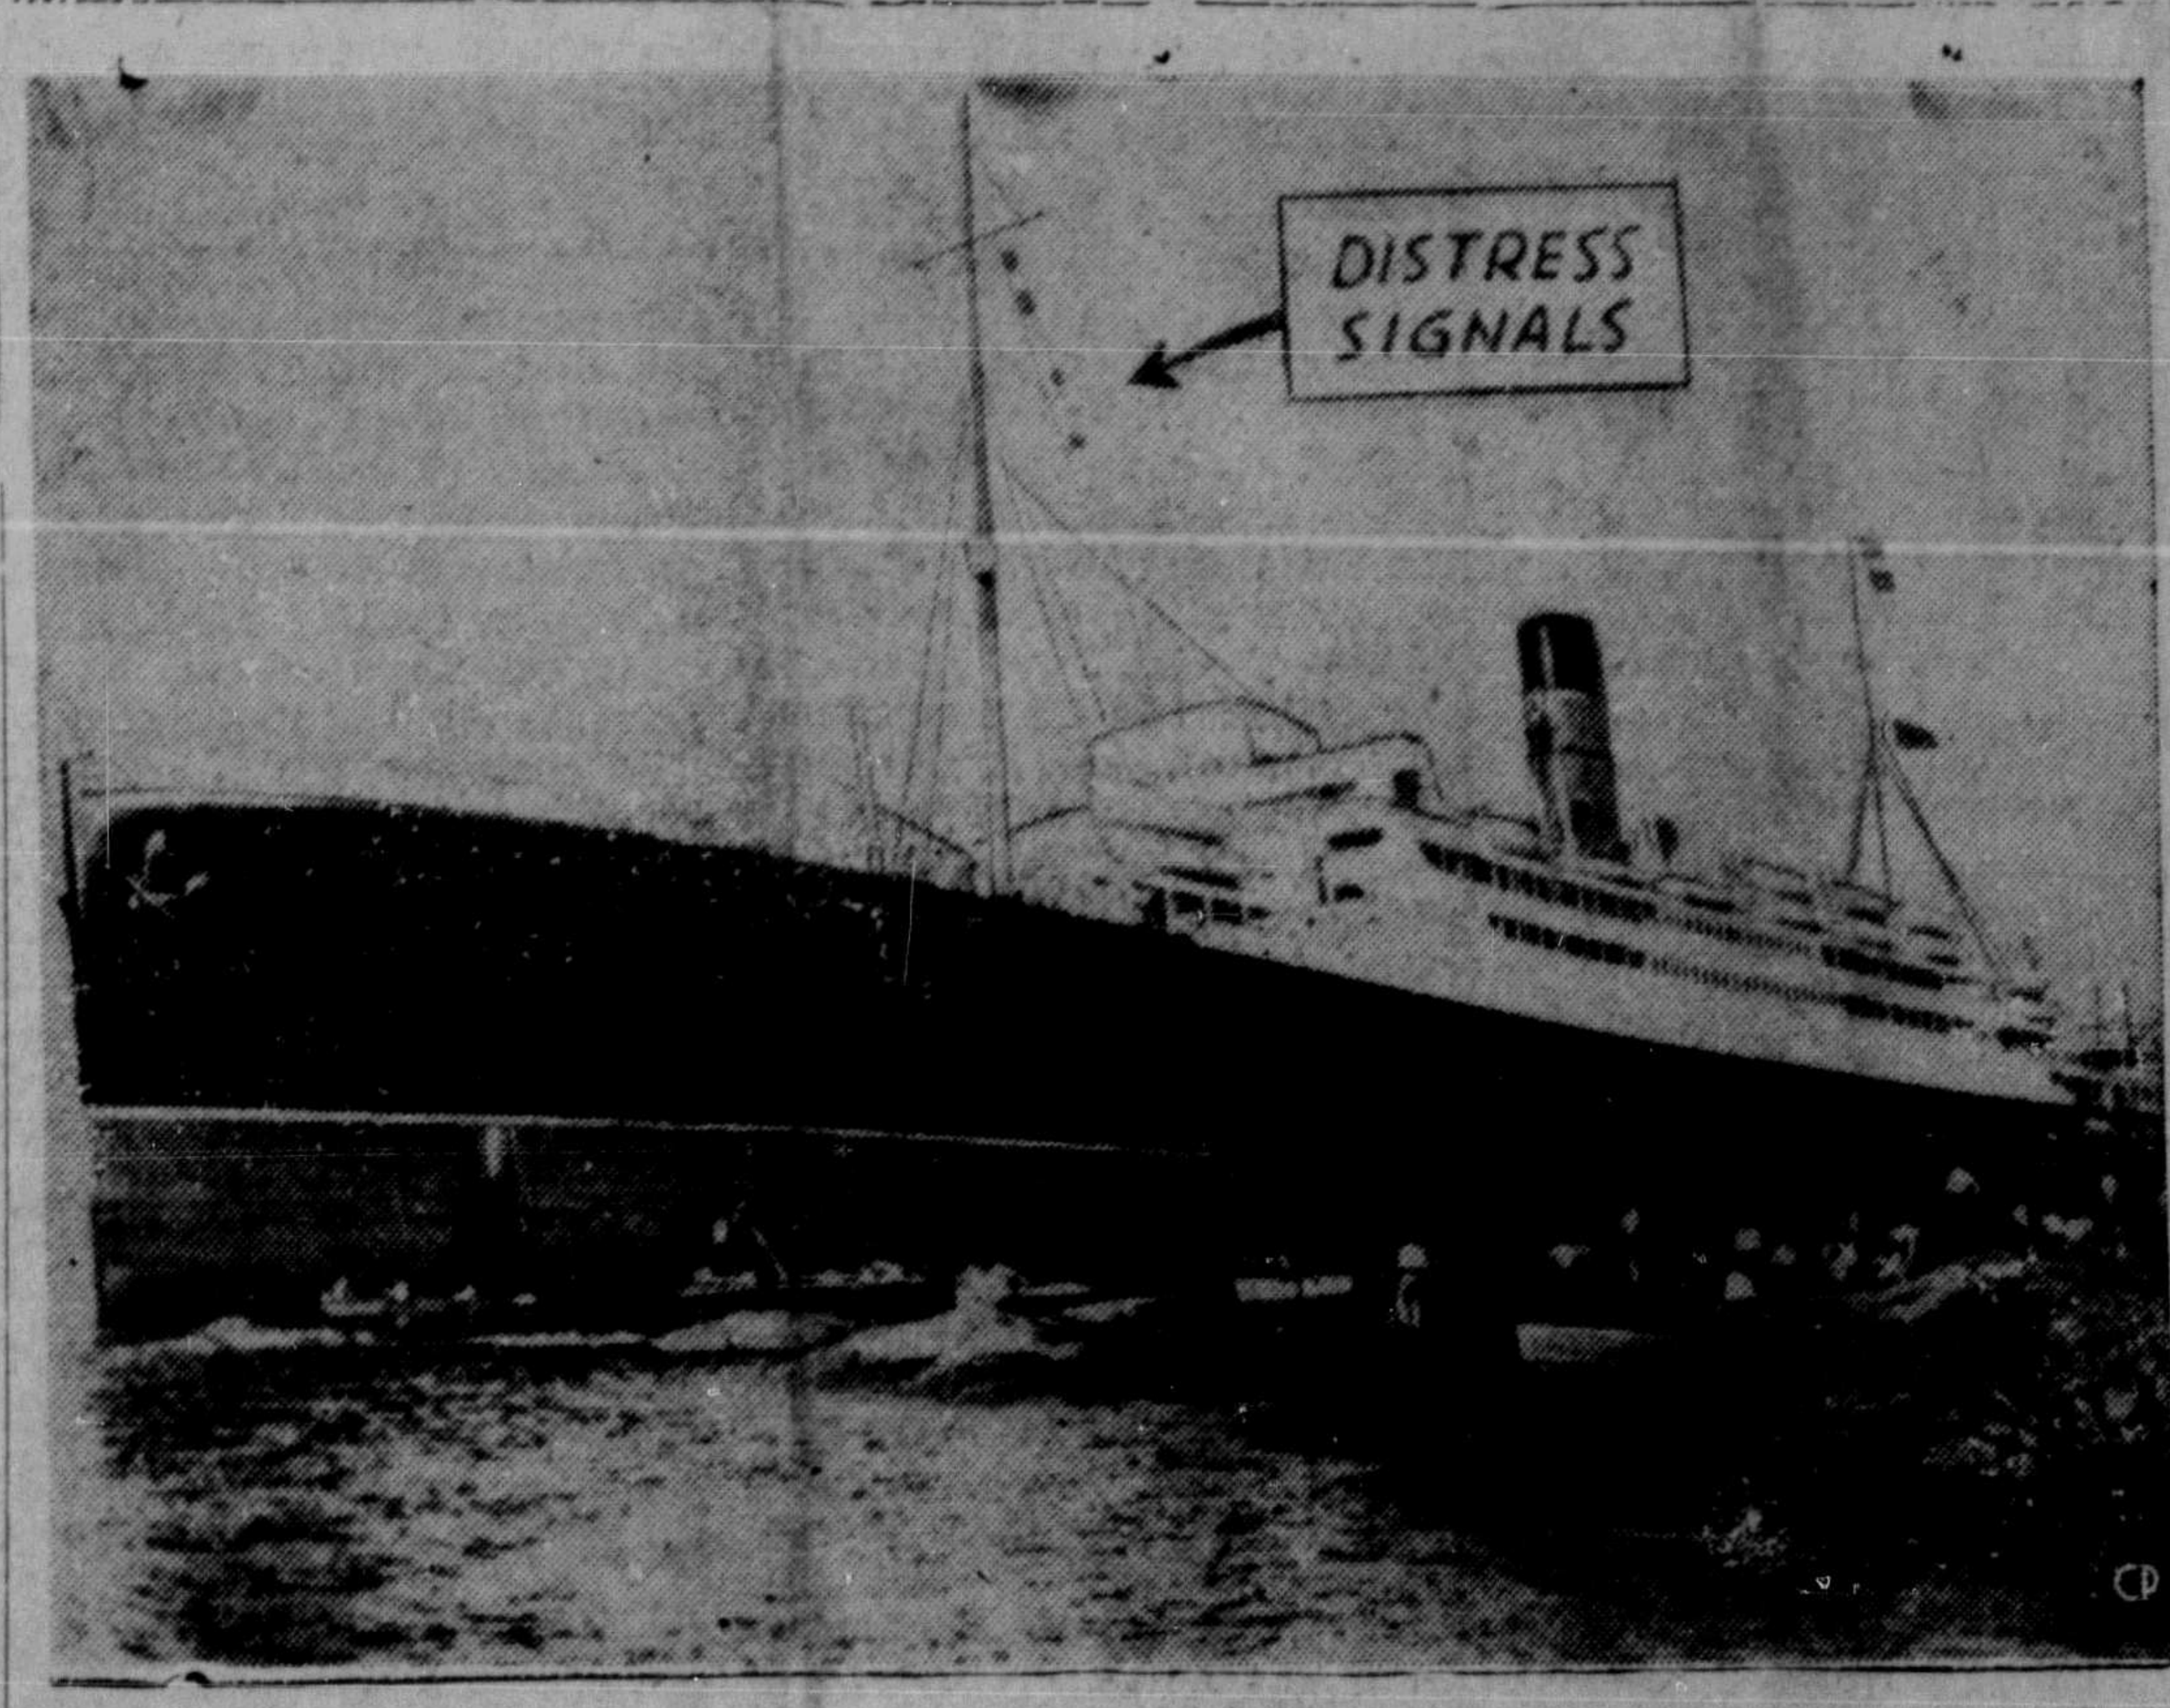

General MacArthur said the main Red break through was at Sangyp, 20 miles northwest of Taegon. Taegon is the abandoned emergency capital of South Korea.

Withdrawing Americans blew up bridges and roads as they retreated. William R. Moore, Associated Press correspondent, in Korea, said in his 10:52 p.m. (4:32 a.m. P.D.T.) dispatch that some Red soldiers were seen advancing in the face of mortar fire.

Earlier Moore had reported some American troops had re-organized and were establishing their new positions. Intense air strikes by the Americans were credited with knocking out four Red tanks and crippling ten more.

The Communists were apparently trying to drive a wedge between American right flank and Koreans defending the sector ten miles south of Chongju. Heavy fighting raged in that sector.

Earlier Gen. MacArthur said American and South Korean forces were withdrawing before superior forces. He said they were fighting rearguard actions while awaiting reinforcements.

FRANCONIA AGROUND — The 20,000-ton luxury liner Franconia is flying distress signals after running aground Wednesday night on the Island of Orleans, 10 miles east of Quebec City in the St. Lawrence River, where she is still held fast. The 780 passengers feared the Liverpool-bound vessel would topple over. They climbed into tugs, private yachts and harbor craft and were transported to Quebec City. Charles Wilkinson, a Prince Rupert boy, was one of the passengers. (CP Photo)

Of Concern To Canada

Korean Situation Discussed
by Minister of External Affairs

TORONTO — Talk by External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson to 1200 delegates attending the 64th annual and general professional meeting of the Engineering Institute of Canada and the American Society of Civil Engineers at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, last night was broadcast over the CBC Trans Canada network. Mr. Pearson discussed the Korean situation. He called for cool and far-sighted consideration of the Korean situation which he admitted was of primary concern from the standpoint of Canada's national honor and safety. It constituted a threat to world peace, the minister said, but he warned against throwing all strength into the Pacific because it might be needed elsewhere.

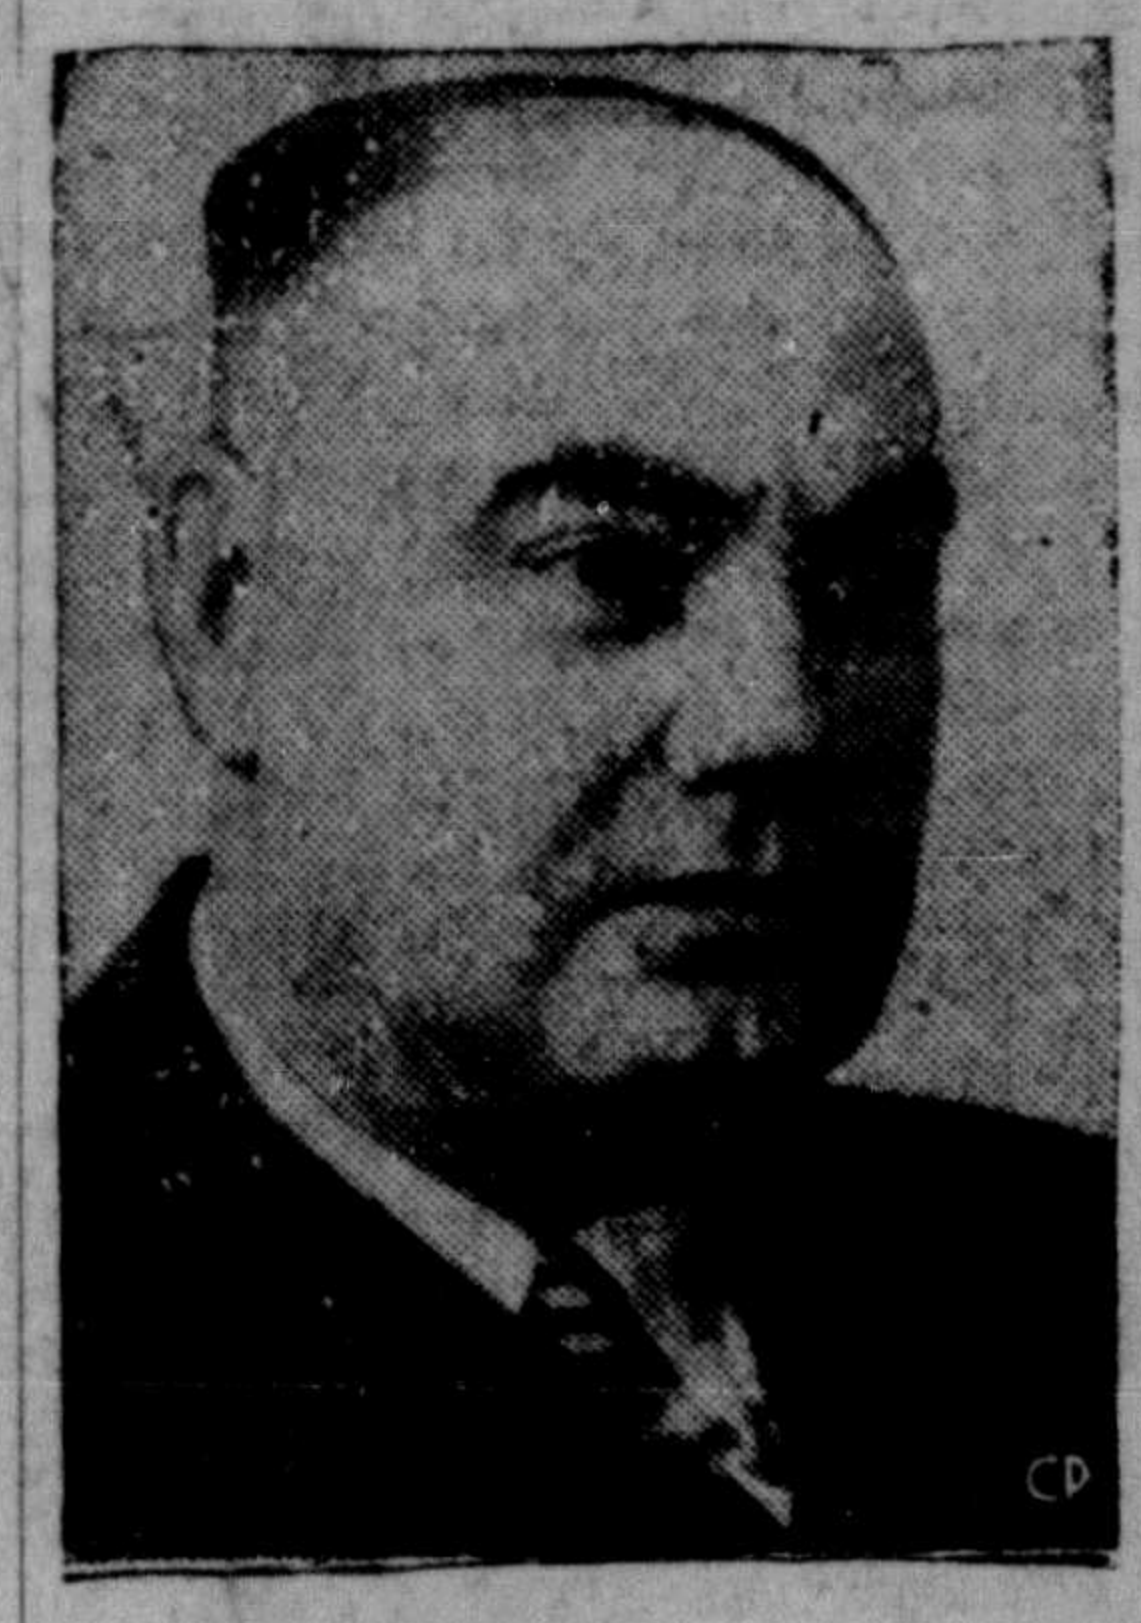

The minister was outspoken in blaming the Communists for aggression in Korea. The External Affairs Department announced today that the appeal of Trygve Lie for more help in Korea had been received here and is being considered by the government. The Department withheld the text of the message for the time being but said its nature is "substantially as forecast in press reports." This appeared to indicate that the Secretary General had asked Canada to consider sending ground troops to Korea in addition to the three destroyers which this country has already dispatched to the fighting zone.

A government informant said here it could be safely assumed that Lie's message, as drafted to Canada, had taken cognizance of the destroyer aid and had also contained a general request for ground troops. Yesterday Lie announced that he was sending an appeal to 52 nations backing the United Nations action in Korea asking for additional assistance "including combat forces, particularly ground forces."

C. A. Berner, divisional superintendent, Canadian National Railways, is expected back in the city next Tuesday night following a trip to Vancouver and Jasper on official duties. He also has been at Vernon for a visit with his brother, Adolph Berner, who years ago was Soldiers' Settlement Board representative at Telkwa.

Aluminum Company Continues Surveys

VANCOUVER—Diamond drilling and preliminary investigations in connection with dam construction for Aluminum Co. of Canada continues in Tweedsmuir Park. Plans are contemplated for the building at Kitimat of an aluminum plant, total cost of which would be $300,000,000.

HEADS ENGINEERS—James A. Vance of Woodstock, Ont., has been elected president of the Engineering Institute of Canada at the annual meeting held in Toronto. Owner of the firm J. A. Vance Contractor, a Western Ontario construction company, Mr. Vance is a director of the Ontario section of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. President of Avlon Fabrics, Stratford, he is also director of a number of independent telephone companies. Mr. Vance recently returned from Johannesburg, South Africa, where he attended the conference of Commonwealth engineering institutes as Canadian representative. (CP Photo)

Leaving on Saturday's plane for Vancouver were Miss Daisy Arden and Miss Irma McKinnon. They will visit Vancouver and Seattle for the next three weeks.

Aussies Win In Straight Sets

MONTREAL — Australia's Frank Sedgeman and Ken McGregor today showed too much over-all power as they loped to straight set victories over Lorne Main and D. Brendan Macken in the Davis Cup singles matches. Young McGregor beat Lorne Main 6-1, 6-2, 7-5. Sedgeman, ace of the Aussie squad, won 7-5, 6-2, 6-2. Tomorrow Henri Rochon and George Robertson meet Jack Bromwich and Sedgeman in doubles.

U.N. Awaits Assistance

LAKE SUCCESS — The United Nations watched anxiously today for replies from fifty-two members to Secretary General Trygve Lie's call for all-out fighting to aid in stemming the Red invasion of South Korea. Lie expressed his concern over the United Nations situation in Korea at a press conference yesterday. He made it clear that he expects every United Nation member, except the dissenting Soviet bloc and Communist Yugoslavia, to help turn back the North Korean Reds. Lie does not expect troops from every one of the 52 countries. However, all are expected to chip in some supplies and other evidence of aid.

HARRISBURG, Pennsylvania (CP) — Representative James E. Van Zandt (Republican, Pennsylvania) said today that the United States "may have to evacuate Korea within the next 72 hours."

Van Zandt, member of the House armed forces committee and joint Atomic Energy committee, made the statement in a speech before the Pennsylvania convention of Veterans for Foreign Wars.

Woods Inquest Hearing Starts

The body of Moses Woods Friday was released for burial after identification by his brother, Benjamin Woods, before a coroner's jury. Woods lost his life in a fire and explosion aboard a fishing boat at North Pacific Cannery Sunday. Members of the jury are W. Nesbitt, foreman, J. Martin, Charles Pollock, Percy Karris, L. F. Brewerton, E. H. Hicks. The inquest was adjourned until Thursday, July 20, after viewing the body, as the condition of the principal witnesses, who are in hospital, was too serious for them to attend. The funeral was held this afternoon from St. Andrew's Cathedral, Rev. Canon Basil S. Preckter officiating.

Would Resume Flier Search

WASHINGTON—Senator Donnelly of Texas has requested the United States Air Force to re-open its search for five of the fliers missing in the B-36 crash near Princess Royal Island last February 13, while flying from Alaska to Seattle. The wife of one of the airmen went to Princess Royal Island this week to undertake a further search of the area, thinking there might still be clues. She wrote she had been told a partially inflated rubber boat had been found off an island.

A Serious Situation

WE are all confident, of course, of the eventual successful outcome of the campaign in South Korea, to the liberation of which from the communist aggressors the United Nations is committed. We cannot, however, be too complacent about the seriousness of the situation there. The North Koreans are across the Kum River, which was to have been the firm line for the Americans to hold. The provision capital of Taejon has been evacuated and American expeditionary forces are threatened with being cut off. Another "Dunkerque" operation is hinted.

Of most serious significance of all is the sudden and urgent appeal of the Secretary General of the United Nations for "effective, not token," ground forces to assist the South Koreans and the hard-pressed American forces. Canada is one of the nations that is thus appealed to. Such an appeal makes it look like things are really bad.

If the United Nations was faced with only South Korea, it would not be so bad. Once there is proper organization, that situation could probably be cleaned up quickly enough even though the starting odds are predominantly in favor of the big and powerful organized force which moved in its own good time against an admittedly unready defence.

The more serious possibility is that Korea may only be a diversion and that more and larger thrusts, depending on the immediate results in South Korea, may develop elsewhere. That is why it is alarming that a relatively minor conflict in Korea should be requiring so much attention and so heavy fighting resources. In the light of possibilities, Korea might have been considered relatively unimportant under normal circumstances. Instead, it seems every day to be assuming proportions of immediate major seriousness.

RUSSIA'S PLAN UPSET

His statement on Korea which M. Gromyko recently issued is a very revealing document. It is in the form of an indictment of the United States and the United Nations. But it is, in fact, an exposure of a Soviet plan which failed.

It is clear that the Soviet planned that their model was to be Spain, with technical improvements learned from Hitler. There would be a sudden Hitlerism attack. Then Russia would propose "non-intervention" in "civil war." The Western Powers would readily agree, would snatch at the opportunity of avoiding a collision. The Security Council would decide that the conflict was outside its jurisdiction. The U.S.A. had already made up its mind that South Korea would have to be abandoned. South Korea was known to be militarily weak and unprepared. The Northern Government had already been given all the equipment it would need for the operation, and could easily be given more if it were necessary.

So non-intervention and yaks would achieve in Korea what non-intervention and German planes had achieved in Spain—only far more swiftly. And the Soviet Union—at a cost of a few million roubles and a few thousand Korean lives—would have won a resounding victory which would have repercussions throughout Asia.

That was the plan. However, the Western Powers and the United Nations, instead of hesitating, acted. Everything has gone just as Moscow did not intend nor expect. Their plan has collapsed and now plans must be made for new circumstances. What those plans may be are today a matter of anxious speculation. What is reasonable to expect is a blow in another direction.

Text: Acts 11: 20—"Some of them." Read Acts 11: 19-26.

THE ANONYMOUS BUILDERS

I love to think and to read of the building of the Church of Christ in the world and its extension in the midst of unfavorable conditions and the gathering in of unbelievers to the place of trusting and obeying the Lord Jesus. But who does the greater part of the building?

Here, we read that "some of them," certain anonymous Christians travelled as far as Antioch, after the persecution which arose around Stephen in Jerusalem. There they labored in witnessing to the "Grace of God." Because of their efforts, believers were first nicknamed "Christians" in the ancient city. These were some of the many anonymous builders whose names are written only in the Lamb's Book of Life. We praise God for them. Without their faithfulness, the Church of Christ would never grow.

It is so easy and thrilling to call the roll of the "illustrious," like Peter, James, John, Paul, and we certainly need good leaders. But we also need good followers. We talk about the "great preachers" of days gone by but it takes "good hearers" to make great preachers. It was Lot Nehemiah who built the walls of Jerusalem. His leadership was necessary but it was the people who had a mind to work who did the job.

The anonymous Christians of Acts preached the word and showed the "Grace of God" in their words and living, i.e., in faith and love. And we read that "much people was added unto the Lord." This comes first and then they should be added to the local church. Later on, Barnabas and Paul came. They consolidated the work which others had done.

Many Christians covet to be among the "illustrious" but it is a poor ambition. The Lord is not looking for such folk. He often passes by the wide-be-great and uses the humble worker. In the city of Lashai, they said: "An unknown Parsee came and told us."

When Spurgeon told how he was saved, he said that into the the church that cold winter morning there came a "tall thin man," an officer of the church, who took the minister's place. He spoke the words which to me meant life. Bunyan, in telling of the days before his conversion, speaks of going down the street in his town one afternoon and hearing several women

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT
REPLY TO L.P.P.
THE MOST FURIOUS

attacks made by the Moscow press in recent days are not on the old targets—Wall Street warmongers, etc., etc. They are on Trygve Lie, the secretary general of the U.N.

I am not surprised therefore, to note that the most furious criticisms in the Canadian Communist press are on myself. The Pacific Tribune for July 7, 1950, devotes two full columns to an attack on me for calling on Canada to stand firm against the flagrant aggression by the Communist armies of North Korea. "To earn his thirty pieces of silver, this British Columbia counterpart of Dorothy Thompson has deliberately obscured or distorted a number of very important factors relating to the Yankee intervention in South Korea."

I HAVE BEEN WRITING FOR Canadian newspapers now for almost thirty years I have spent studying Russian moves, good and bad. Hence I was too old a hand to be taken in by the recent Communist world line of "peace" while in fact preparing actual aggressions, such as the one lately launched against South Korea—and another one soon coming against Yugoslavia. For one must have been blind not to see that another change (for the worse) was coming in the Moscow line.

I warned in 1938—the year before it happened—that Stalin would do what he did do a year later, make a deal with Hitler. The Canadian Communists were as furious with me then as they are now. How could THAT happen? They roared. Were not Communism and Fascism mortal enemies?

Yet when it did happen those same Canadian Communists heekly used the new Moscow line. Until August, 1939, they were the main organizers of the anti-Fascist fronts, just as they have been recently of the "peace" fronts. Yet the minute the Stalin-Hitler deal was made, and the world was plunged into war the Communists somersaulted.

They did everything they possibly could to sabotage our war effort, until Hitler shot Russia into the war in June, 1941.

IN 1946 THE U.S. SENATE Department invited the three leading Russian journalists to tour North America. Our own government later invited the trio, Ilya Ehrenburg, Konstantin Simonov and Major General Galatkinov to visit Canada.

A great honor was given to me. Because I had stood through thick and thin for an honorable peace and friendship with Russia, I was asked to speak with the three Russian visitors at great mass meetings in Toronto and Montreal. For days I racked my brains to decide exactly what to say to the three visitors which the people of Canada would want them to repeat to the Russian people.

In the presence of 7,000 people in Toronto and about 12,000 in Montreal I told the Russians that this was the truth which they could take back to their own people:

1. The people of Canada would never take part in, nor condone nor permit an attack on Russia, but

2. The people of Canada would certainly resist with all their power an attack by Russia, or her allies, on others.

THE RUSSIANS LIKED what I said then—maybe because of its implication re an atomic attack by U.S.A.

But I meant exactly what I said, on both points, in 1946—and I still do in 1950.

Canada's Trade Balance Better

OTTAWA — Canadian imports hit an all time monthly high in May and at the same time exports to the United States touched a new record.

A high of $177,200,000 in exports to the United States resulted in Canada's adverse trade balance with that country being slashed to $18,300,000 for the month compared with last May's debit of $49,100,000.

Bet You Don't Know This About Advertising

Quiz No. 6
How much does it cost to advertise a 10c box of Canada's biggest-selling crackers? Is it 1c? 2c? 3c?

Answer: It costs less than 1/10¢. And that's only half the story. Advertising lowers your cost two ways:

Cuts the selling costs. And by helping make mass production possible, lowers the production costs, too.

So advertising saves you many times that 1/10¢ per box.

DETROIT — The biggest trade in the history of the National Hockey League is disclosed with word that the Detroit Red Wings had swapped five players for four from the Chicago Black Hawks.

Championship Fights Loom

NEW YORK — The possibility of September championship fights between Joe Louis and Ezzard Charles and Jake LaMotta and Sugar Ray Robinson has the boys buzzing along Cauliflower Row. Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, said Louis would come out of retirement to oppose Charles in September if he could straighten out his tax problems with Washington. The promoter said, if everything worked out right, LaMotta might defend the middleweight title against Sugar Ray in the first week of September.

Away 10 Years—Ham Is Back

LONDON — Tinned ham, which did a disappearing act shortly after the start of the Second World War, is expected to make a comeback soon on British food countries.
Since 1940, the black market or North American food parcels have been about the only source of ham.
Now the government has announced that it can be freely imported from "sterling areas." This means wholesalers and retailers can buy as much as they want.
Hams from Canada and other dollar countries are still barred.
A food ministry spokesman predicted: "The trade will be after this like a shot. There will soon be plenty in the shops."

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Russia's population in 1939 totalled 170,467,000. Last January the total was 830,428,000. If Russia seeks still more people there are some in British Columbia who might be spared. They are known as the Sons of Freedom.
The current Macleans prints the last chapter describing the long battle between the I.T.U. and the chain of Canadian dailies owned by the Southam family. Largest of the five, the Vancouver Province, has made peace, at last. Its scrimmage with the typos can be described as a tidy bout. The Province fought hard—even suspending publication for months—a dangerous practice. To recover prized possessions such as prestige and circulation takes both time and trouble. Yet, the show must go on.
Mr. Mayhew says consumers of fish in Canada are slowly yet steadily increasing. Some are consuming not only on Friday but also on Monday and even Wednesday.
Now Ducharme has been hanged, the subject of capital punishment will in all likelihood resume in the shape of letters to the Vancouver press, debates, arguments and general controversy. The case was followed with exceedingly deep interest. Despite existing differences of opinion and changing trends, there seems little chance of witnessing a change in the enforcement of law. In Canada murder means hanging. Cold fear has stopped many a tragedy.
History has shown, says Washington correspondence, that there is no basic difference between the Czarist planners in the Kremlin and the Communist plotters in the Kremlin. They all reached for the same objectives.
Magnus Eyoifson is home from Valley Forge and Charles Wilkinson is on his way overseas, to spend a while becoming acquainted with England and Scotland. Both Prince Rupert boys are learning a lot. This, also, is education as well as the public school. Starting out in life, any boy is just that much better equipped when able to remember what he saw and heard on his travels.
What is known as "loss of face" is a matter of consequence, and especially so in Asia. Just now, United States troops in Korea have all they can take care of. Heavy reinforcements cannot arrive any too soon. It can't be denied that, once prestige is lost in Korea, the struggle to get it back will be harder than ever.
Noticing a reference to the Aleutian Islands in Thursday's News, Dave Crocker phoned over to add something. Fifty years ago, said Mr. Crocker, in a dory with a companion, he sailed between Little Diomed Island (Alaska) and Big Diomed Island (Russia) situated in the narrow-

Pre-Marital Peep Urged

CHRISTCHURCH, N.Z. — Men should see their fiancées at least once without make-up before marriage, said Rev. C. L. Horwood, in an address to the Marriage Guidance Council here. He held it would be a check to union's based only on the personal beauty of a girl.
New Zealand girls are not very greatly impressed with the idea as a pre-marriage test. Of many girls questioned, most declared that their fiancées had seen them not once, but dozens of times, without make-up. Some said that if the idea had any value it had better be extended so that men should see their fiancées in a house dress and slippers and hair in a handkerchief, scrubbing the kitchen floor.
Brian Knight, a prominent consulting psychologist, doubted whether the no make-up test would be of any great help. He declared that an engagement based on sound motives was strong beyond lipstick, but equally an engagement based on the wrong motives was usually strong beyond reason.

Beautiful Montreal Is Association Aim

MONTREAL — Members of the Midtown Sherbrooke Street Association here are determined to keep their street beautiful and dignified.
The association, founded a few months ago by W. R. Watson, an art gallery proprietor, was formed to "prevent any breakdown of protective by-laws and ordinances." At their latest meeting, members outlined their policy for all to see and hear.
"The Sherbrooke Street Association will prevent any breakdown of protective by-laws and ordinances obtained," they said.
"It will foster the elimination of unsightly signs, posters, mechanical window displays, mendicants, 'fake closing-out sales,' sidewalk photographers and other obnoxious persons and practices."
How will they do it? "Through carefully selected officers in constant contact with city departments."

Five Members Of L.O.B.A. Initiated

Five new members were initiated in the orange degree at a regular meeting of the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association Thursday night. Common Labor Is $1.23 Per Hour President H. S. Harrison was in the chair at Thursday night's meeting of the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council which proposed that the quarterly dues from local unions to the council should be raised from 10c to 15c per capita, the extra 5c to be placed in a special organizational fund. With a total of 1,400 to 1,500 members in the various locals, quite a tidy sum would be involved.

The council received a report from the Construction and General Laborers' Union that agreement had been reached with Columbia Cellulose for a basic wage rate for common labor of $1.23 per hour.

Electrical Workers' Union reported an agreement having been reached with B.C. Bridge and Dredging Co. which is carrying out electrical work at the Watson Island project.

Halibutters Happy Over Returns—Some Are Coddling—New Boats Noted

Halibut season is over at Prince Rupert for another year and for the most part fishermen are pretty happy about the returns they have received. All boats are now in and owners are repairing some of the damage to equipment the fast and furious season was bound to cause.

Halibut boats are now working Hecate Straits for flat fish. Among these is the Hero No. 1, Captain Fred Vinberg, which landed at Atlin Fisheries Ltd. yesterday with about 39,000 pounds of rock sole, lemon sole and brill, which brought from 3½c to 4c a pound—nothing like the prices paid for halibut but still enough to make it worth Captain Vinberg's while. The crew of four and himself, took five days to get the load.

Union steamship Camosun, Capt. William McCombe, arrived in port yesterday afternoon at 3:30 from Vancouver and way points en route to the Queen Charlotte Islands. Among passengers disembarking here were Colleen Sites and Lorna Melvin, Terrace, who were returning from a Baptist girls' camp on Keating Island. They went out on last night's train.

Causing quite a stir on the waterfront yesterday afternoon was the Cape Devon, Sea Master senior recently completed at Burrard shipyard, Vancouver, for Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company. Captained by Tony Bruich, she saw her first week's fishing this week. She is one of three ships built for the same company. The other two are presently working in the Butedale area. Sixty-six feet long with a 17 foot beam, the Cape Devon is powered with a four cylinder Buda diesel engine and can attain over 11 knots. She is operated by a seven man crew.

Const. C. E. Powell, C.N.R. police, Winnipeg, has been guarding the gate at the Canadian National wharf for the past two weeks and will remain through the summer season. He expects to be joined by his wife and family shortly.

Getting back to ship building, we find Johnny Johnson fitting out his new drum sinner. It is 36 feet long with a 10 foot beam, built at Bendix Boat Shop, Digby Island. Johnny hopes to finish it within two or three weeks. Here again something new is being tried. The hull is built of plywood. It is powered by a 150 h.p. Packard marine engine and makes over 13 knots. It will be operated by a two man crew.

Canadian National cruise ship draft. Ribs are 3-inch by ¾-inch steel and a keel of six inch heavy duty channel steel. The two steel at the nose drops straight down and forms a right angle at the bottom, falling away from the bow at the bottom. She is picked up a number of passengers powered with a 110 horsepower for Vancouver.

Prince George docked here last night on its return voyage from Alaska. She took aboard two automobiles here. Disembarking were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kanthe bottom, falling away from the bottom. She is picked up a number of passengers powered with a 110 horsepower for Vancouver.

Two new lighted "buoy float type" buoys have been established in this district, an announcement from the district marine agent of the Department of Transport announces. One is well up the Skeena River off the Khyex River, marking the southeastern point of a shoal which dries at approximately twelve feet. The light is white and flashing and the visibility is five miles. The other is approximately half a mile northeast of Aytan Island in the Skeena River, marking the north end of a shoal in the main channel of the river which dries at six feet. This light is also flashing and white with a visibility of five miles.

Ketchikan motorship Sidney Capt. O. Hendrickson, was in from Ketchikan this morning and unloaded three carloads of Alaskan halibut for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways.
