North Korean Drive Being Halted Today

British Troops Get Into Action For First Time—Pohang Taken by Reds

TOKYO, (CP)—Stiffening United Nations forces recaptured Yonchong today and halted the plunging North Korean drive on Taegu and its highway arteries. A highway junction 20 miles east of Taegu, Communist guerrillas had seized the town and then counter-attacking Allied forces re-took it.

Tax Changes Are Coming

OTTAWA — Minister of Finance Douglas Abbott told the House of Commons Tuesday that he expects he will propose some tax changes at this session of Parliament. Mr. Abbott gave no details in replying to a question from Stanley Knowles (C.C.F.—Winnipeg, North Centre).

At the opening of the House, Mr. Knowles asked the minister of finance if any tax changes were to be proposed at this session.

Mr. Abbott replied merely that he anticipated he would have "some proposals."

It is reported that Mr. Abbott's object is to curb inflation by drawing off purchasing power and raise money for increased defence expenditures.

Other Allied troops plunged northward from Kyongju, another highway junction eighteen miles southwest of bombed and flaming Pohang, port on the Japan Sea coast.

However, the North Koreans moved two fresh tank brigades and eighty-four Russian-made tanks into front-line position to spark the thrust toward Taegu, hub of northern and western battle lines.

American air force warplanes destroyed or damaged seventeen Red tanks in day-long fighting in main combat areas. Bombers set aflame Red-captured Pohang which fell to the Communists for the second time in the war.

Allied resistance to the Red general offensive stiffened up with the reappearance of planes on the battle fronts. Air support had been largely out of action the day before because of bad weather.

On the western sector of the northern front, British troops were in action side by side with the Americans. They took over the left flank of the American division, eight miles southwest of Taegu, during the night. The Britishers beat off Red patrols after a company had been threatened with encirclement and suffered their first casualties of the campaign.

First Lesson In New Land

It was 43 years ago that Bert Morgan and three other young lads landed at Quebec from Wales to test their luck in a new land. Wise boys that they were, they had sent their money forward to a bank in Quebec and kept out only enough to take care of their needs on the crossing from England.

But the boys landed Saturday and when they went to the bank to draw some money they found the door open but the bank closed for business. The teller told them they would have to wait until Tuesday for the bank to open, as Monday was Labor Day. In desperation, they saw the manager and explained their predicament. Sizing the boys up, the manager gave them enough money to make their trip across the country to Saskatchewan, their destination. The remainder of their money he sent forward to the bank in their town. Thus was learned the first lesson in a new land.

Hector McDonald left on yesterday's plane to resume studies at Oregon State College after visiting his mother, Mrs. A. McKinnon, Seal Cove.

OUT FOR BLOOD... T. Norton Youngs, again chairman of the local Red Cross blood donor drive this year, hopes that the 1950 campaign will be as successful as last year when there was an enthusiastic response of local donors. The annual clinic is being conducted September 25, 26 and 27 with the personnel being flown from Vancouver to join the panel truck. The blood drawn at the clinic here is flown to Vancouver for final classification and storage and the Prince Rupert bank is replenished weekly therefrom. A recent example of the usefulness of the local bank was during the railway strike when properly classified plasma was rushed to Terrace by highway for an urgent case there. This is but typical of the use of the well-organized service. Last year there were 700 donors here. The campaign will be organized at a meeting of the local Red Cross tomorrow night.

Sea Stewardess Ready To Retire

VANCOUVER — Sea-roving stewardess Mary Peck says she'll settle down—but only on conditions.

She wants a home overlooking the sea, time to entertain her seafaring friends and the chance for an occasional short cruise.

"I'd settle for that," says the brown-haired stewardess, who has visited all the continents, seen all the seas, and sailed through both the Panama and Suez canals.

Miss Peck, who resumed her maiden name after her husband's death eight years ago, has spent five years as stewardess on Swedish and Norwegian ships. She is visiting her eight-year-old daughter and parents at nearby New Westminster.

Although she admits that sea fever is hard to cure, Miss Peck says she's "really going to have a stab at staying home." She says she is looking for a shore job, preferably "something exciting."

"I'd like to remarry, settle down and have my little girl live with me," she said. Linda has been staying with relatives in New Westminster.

Asked if she would consider a proposal from a sailor, Miss Peck said "That's a difficult question to answer—I know so much about them."

Born in Edmonton, she had never seen a ship before she was 21 and was seasick on her first trip to sea.

"I'll always remember the customer who asked me for pie a la mode and coffee," she said. "I just turned on my heel, and ran." But she added that was the only time she had been bothered by Mal De Mer.

Sixty-two days is the longest time she ever spent without seeing land and the longest time she's been ashore in the last five years were the nine months she spent at different jobs in Australia. There she canned fruit in a factory, helped make alarm clocks and looked after stores for a machinery company.

Miss Peck's conclusions after five long years of knocking around the world, "There are more nice people than the other kind. Grouches miss a lot in life."

Conservation Measures Taken

OTTAWA — British Columbia's Fraser River and Gulf of Georgia will be virtually closed to salmon fishing from 8 a.m. tomorrow until October 2, Fisheries Minister Mayhew announced in the Commons today. Fishing will be restricted to nets with a mesh of eight inches or larger because of the disappointing volume of "Adams River run" sockeye spawned in 1946.

SEATTLE — Closing of Northern Puget Sound waters to protect the escapement of sockeye salmon into Canada's Fraser River was announced today by State Fisheries Director Alvin Anderson. He acted on a request of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission. The area will remain closed until September 15.

Truman Calls For Senate Vote On Statehood For Alaska-Hawaii

WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Truman prodded Congress again today to vote for statehood for Alaska and Hawaii and Democratic leader Lucas of Illinois said the Senate may consider next week the statehood bills already passed by the House.

Senator Lucas' statement was made after E. L. Bartlett, Alaska delegate, said President Truman told them at a White House conference he would "use every possible influence" to get the Senate vote.

Hunt For Missing Girl Intensified

JASPER — Aircraft, police dogs and two hundred searchers have been continuing in the hunt for two-year-old Lorraine Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Smith of Edmonton, who disappeared on Saturday while her parents were talking on the roadside near Lake Edith. They had stopped their car and, when they were about to start up again, the child was gone. Vicious bears, possibly grizzlies are reported to be prowling in the area. Thirty skilled searchers have been brought in to join the search and a helicopter is also being used.

Former Local Banker Dies

L. M. DeGex, who was for several years manager of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in earlier years, passed away Tuesday in Vancouver after a long illness, according to word received this morning by Mrs. R. L. McIntosh from Mrs. DeGex.

Mr. DeGex had lived in retirement in Vancouver for many years.

He came here from Ladysmith and, before there, had served in various parts of the west.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Forward and family, who have been holidaying at Lake Kathlyn, returned to the city yesterday afternoon by car.

The missionary vessel "Lower Light", which spent a few months in Alaska and Northern waters during the summer, is back in Vancouver. Prince Rupert was included among the Lower Light's calls.

Police Acquitted Of Conspiracy

MONTREAL — Chief Judge Edouard Archambault Tuesday acquitted two Quebec provincial police detectives and a former detective on charges of conspiring to commit bank hold-ups.

Exonerated were Lieut. Marcel Patenaude, chief of the provincial police hold-up squad; Detective Sergeant Gaston Archambault and former Detective Paul Hervieux.

Russian Landing Unlikely—

Defense Minister Discounts Alarms

in Canada was not envisaged at present. Speaking during continued debate on the government's defence plans, Mr. Claxton said that George Hees (Progressive-Conservative, Toronto - Broadview), in a speech Saturday, had envisaged a large scale enemy amphibious landing in Canada. Of course, said Mr. Claxton, anything was possible in modern warfare, but he could assure the House at the moment that such a landing was not envisaged. When one considered the surface vessels and other craft available to the only possible aggressor, large scale amphibious landing seemed highly unlikely. Mr. Claxton admitted the possibility of diversionary raids for the purpose of keeping Canada and American forces at home. The entire coastline could not be made completely impregnable.

Russia's Side Of Plane Case

MOSCOW—Soviet Russia, in a strongly worded statement today, declared that a Soviet Russian plane which had been shot down by United States fighter planes off the Korean coast was an unarmed aircraft on a training flight out of a Russian air base, 89 miles distant.

A full examination, punishment of those responsible and compensation is demanded.

United States had claimed that it was an armed Soviet plane screening enemy forces in the Korean war.

Keeping Sidewalks Clean

WE HAVE rapped the city for the untidiness and unkempt condition of some of the streets and public premises.

Thoughtless and careless people are always causing a litter but little can be done about that.

About the best remedy, it still seems, would be the assuming of personal responsibility of each business place for its frontage.

AGE HAS ITS PROMISE

MATURITY as well as youth has its promise. A new outlook on longevity is developing as older people become more and more predominant in the population.

Dr. Martin Gumpert, writing in the New York Times, points out that people are fully developed only about the age of 35 and, if they are not wilfully neglected, they can remain on their level of highest development up to the greatest age.

Most people stop learning before they start thinking, Gumpert claims, adding that "learning is a lifetime job."

Opportunities for this development and usefulness can be made available through new social and economic policies and practices as the country wakes up to the urgent need of making use of the great reservoir of natural resources in its older population.

COURTING A BREAKDOWN

CHECK your diet, get some fresh air regularly, take some exercise and learn to relax.

Worried businessmen get that advice from the Royal Bank in its August letter. It's good advice. Far too many of these people, as the letter points out, eat too fast and too much and during their waking hours never for a minute get away from talking or thinking business, politics or the international situation.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

When the railway strike was on a lot of us called it that, knowing the name was wrong. There was a certain unfitness. It could be felt, yet not described.

Few in Prince Rupert appear to have heard much about trout fishing this summer or have gazed in an appraising way at some splendid catch in a store window.

Three young British soldiers were hanged in Egypt late last week for the murder of an Egyptian car garage watchman.

Fifty British boys have returned home after touring Eastern Canada, and fifty Canadian lads are back after touring Britain.

Quoting General Pearkes, M.P. of Nanaimo, the Vancouver News-Herald printed a scare head screaming that "Rupert was open to Russian attack."

The region around Prince Rupert, traversed by roads leading to Tye, to Watson Island, Prudhomme and Rainbow Lakes.

Highway Busy On Labor Day

There was considerable private car traffic on the highway during Monday afternoon and evening. The weather was dull throughout but at no time was there rain.

None of the cars appeared to be having any serious difficulty in driving between the city limits and Galloway Rapids bridge where extensive highway improvements are being made.

GOOD NEIGHBOUR POLICY

Hanging out my laundry I noticed that Mrs. Layton's next door, was whiter. I couldn't help asking her why. 'Reckitt's Blue keeps out that yellow tinge', she said.

Pastor Reflects After Trip East

If members of families can settle their differences and maintain their happy homes, why cannot nations do the same without continued crises and wars, asked Rev. L. G. Seiber, pastor of First United Church.

Mr. Seiber reflected on incidents of his trip east and imparted some inspiration. A visit to Niagara Falls and the beautiful parked promontories had inspired reflections on the grandeur and beauty of God's handiwork.

Mr. Seiber returned home last week, travelling by bus through the United States because of the railway strike, and to Prince Rupert by plane.

Stevedores End Work Stoppage

Members of the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union are once again working the boats of Frank Waterhouse Co. of Canada Ltd., according to a statement by a union official today.

In making the statement, the official made it clear that the union was not on strike against the company, but had merely refused to work their boats. Since the union has no contract with the company they cannot strike.

Negotiations are now going on in Vancouver in an effort to have the contract signed.

Most of Canada's local trade unions are branches of international organizations, either craft or industrial, with headquarters in the United States.

Bible Society Getting Active

Officers for the ensuing year were elected, arrangements made for a rally on September 22 when the general secretary for Canada, Rev. W. H. Hudspeth, will be in Prince Rupert and plans set in motion for a house to house canvass the last week in October by the Prince Rupert branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society.

Members of the executive will be nominated by pastors of various churches at a later date. Mr. Hudspeth will give an address at the rally which will be preceded by a dinner.

Rev. E. Solland, pastor of the Lutheran Church, opened Sunday night's meeting with devotional exercises, after which P. H. Linzey, the President, conducted the business of the session. The president welcomed the representatives of the various churches and briefly outlined the work which the Bible Society was doing throughout the world.

Still Nursing After 60 Years

TORONTO — Mrs. Caroline Sewell's immediate ambition is to keep nursing for just one more year—to bring her record to 60 years on the job.

The 79-year-old nurse, now doing floor duty at the Toronto General Hospital, sees nothing remarkable in her long service. "After all," she says, "I was only doing my job. There are lots of other nurses like me, if you look for them."

Mrs. Sewell was graduated from Queen Charlotte's Hospital in London, where she specialized in midwifery. She delivered at least 3,000 babies there before coming to Canada in 1908 with her husband. After coming to Canada, she says, "I had to call in a doctor for delivery."

She herself has nine children and 22 grandchildren. Following special training in home and foreign fevers, Mrs. Sewell served for two years in Alexandria, where she came into contact with everything from measles to bubonic plague.

When the Sewells came to Canada they settled in the Temiskaming district of Northern Ontario. She continued her nursing in the district, as her husband's heart condition prevented him from doing heavy work. When Mr. Sewell died in 1928, she went back to nursing, later moving to Sarnia, Ont., district, where most of her children have settled.

She came to Toronto six years ago and was accepted as staff nurse at the Toronto General. "I hope to go on one more year," she says. "But one never knows just what is ahead."

W. M. Watts, back in the district after a motor trip to the Maritimes and Eastern and the United States, arrived in the city on Saturday night's train from Smithers and returned there Monday night. He and Mrs. Watts and family will drive from Smithers to Vancouver where they will make their future home.

Sunday was the first Sunday in the eleven years since Frank J. Skinner has been here that a Union Steamships Line boat has not been in port, he said this morning. Due to the strike of seamen last week the Camosun did not sail Wednesday and the Coquitlam was held up in sailing from Friday until Saturday, making her arrive here Monday instead of the usual Sunday.

Provincial Head Of Eastern Star Here

Mrs. Ellen Brown of Nanaimo, Grand Worthy Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star for British Columbia, arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert today for the south to pay an official visit to Belist Chapter here Friday night. This evening there will be a dinner in her honor at the Broadway Cafe and tomorrow night a bridge party at the home of Mrs. W. D. Vance, Atlin Ave., Westview. Mrs. Brown will return south by plane on Saturday.

Many Mourn Mrs. Sundal

TERRACE — This community paid its final tribute this afternoon to the memory of Mrs. Bella Hall Sundal, the first woman to settle in Terrace whose death occurred Sunday after a long illness. Knox United Church was crowded with mourning friends and sympathizers, Rev. P. H. Mallett officiated.

Interment followed in Kalum Cemetery, where deceased's two husbands are interred, and the pallbearers were L. H. Kenney, William Donald, Ralph Cory, Dudley Little, S. N. Kirkaldy and Elwood Brooks.

Mrs. Sundal was born in Yar-mouth, Nova Scotia, August 13, 1881. When she first arrived here in 1911 she brought her small children with her. Her first husband, D. B. Kenney, was drowned in the Skeena River in 1913. She married O. T. Sundal in 1917. He passed away on January 25 of this year.

Always active in community work, Mrs. Sundal was a charter member of Knox United Church Guild and received a life membership in the Red Cross for her war work. She was also a member of the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association.

Deceased is survived by two daughters — Mrs. Elsie (J. H.) Smith and Mrs. Gladys Jordan, both of Terrace. A son, Orville Kenney, died in a boat explosion in the St. Lawrence River in 1943. There are two grandchildren, Mrs. A. Harrison and Alex. Jordan, and a great-granddaughter, Randi Harrison, born August 13 last.

Lorne and Bert Kenney, brothers of Mrs. Sundal's first husband, have arrived here from Prince George to attend the funeral.

Tuna School Shows Again

The school of tuna that was lost after the storms last week has been found again bigger and better than ever between Gowgala Bay and Anthony Island on the west coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands. The fish range in size up to 20 pounds and boats are averaging catches of 100 a day. High boat Monday took 200 tuna. Fifteen boats are fishing them.

The first appearance of tuna in local waters in two years, catches started off smaller and the fish weighed only up to 15 pounds. At first they were away offshore but seem to be coming in closer. Bad weather has made fishing for tuna difficult for the past week but conditions this week have improved. None were landed Monday. Tuesday's landings here were:

Aircraft Are Keeping Busy

In spite of the resumption of rail and steamship services following settlement of strikes, both Queen Charlotte Airlines and Canadian Pacific Airlines are still working their planes to capacity.

William Priest, local agent for Q.C.A., said this morning there had been no falling off from the peak loads imposed on the line last week. They had had to refuse charters over the week-end because their equipment was working to capacity.

E. C. Williams, C.P.A.'s local agent, said this morning that, although advance bookings had fallen off and some cancellations of booked passages had occurred, it was still necessary to make an extra flight yesterday morning. However, he feels there is a leveling off.

Thomas Dewey May Be In Field Again

ALBANY — Thomas Dewey, in spite of a previous announcement that he would not seek re-election, has changed his mind about retiring and will seek a third term as governor of New York. Franklin D. Roosevelt jr., son of the former President of the United States, may run against him.

Dewey's yielding to a draft call came two days before the Republican state convention. He was urged to run again, among other reasons, because of the international situation.

Between May, 1949, and May, 1950, Canada's manufacturing wage index rose 4.06% while the cost of living increased by 2.82%.

Don Stewart left by plane Tuesday for Winnipeg to attend the funeral of his father, who passed away at the week-end. He will return in a few days.

Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Large and daughter Peggy, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Mills were week-end visitors by motor to Terrace, and Gold Creek near Usk.

Jasper Golf Tourney On

JASPER — With a capacity entry of 186 players, 121 men and 65 ladies, the twenty-first annual Totem Pole Golf Championship in the Canadian Rockies opened here Labor Day. Driving the first ball to officially open the tournament was Martin Clement, chairman of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Railway, who cheerfully handed over a $5 bill to Pucee Grose of Newmarket, Ont., the caddy who retrieved the ball.

In the men's section 19 players, taking advantage of a course in magnificent condition, broke 80. Jack Starky, Edmonton, twice holder of the championship, won the medal round with a birdie three on the 18th hole to give him a 71. Runner-up was Norman Wilkinson of Vancouver with a very neat 72. Other low scores were J. E. Greene, Seattle, former winner, 74; W. McElroy, Vancouver, former Canadian junior champion, 75; Eddie Shore, famous National League former hockey great, 75, and Murray Marsh, Seattle, 75.

In the ladies' division Mrs. J. H. Todd, Victoria, winner of the Totem Pole Championship in 1947 and 1948, turned in a magnificent par score of 77 to capture the ladies' medal. Mrs. Todd went out in 37, two under par, and came home in 40. Tied for runner-up was Mrs. R. H. Cleat of Vancouver and Mrs. J. B. Stret, Toronto, with 87.

The ladies' team championship was won by the Vancouver No. 1 team with a score of 366. Mrs. R. H. Cleat 87, Mrs. J. C. Deitrich 93, Mrs. T. P. Dunlop 95 and Miss G. Thomson 91.

Flight play starts Tuesday and will continue until the ladies' finals Friday and the men's finals Saturday.

Gas Rationing Curtails Trip

Mr. and Mrs. George Place and son, Charles, returned to the city Monday from a motor trip which took them to Calgary and Edmonton. They had intended driving up the Alaska Highway but gas rationing, due to the railway strike, would not permit that trip. They motored to Vancouver and thence over the Hope - Princeton Highway, through the Okanagan and via the Big Bend to Banff and Calgary, thence to Edmonton and west to Jasper and home via the Columbia River Ice Field, the Big Bend and Cariboo. They had excellent fishing in the Babine and Endako River.

Labor Day At Terrace

Loggers' Sports and Barbecue Draw Many Visitors

TERRACE — Fine, although chilly, weather prevailed in Terrace on Labor Day and the Civic Centre was well patronized all day long for the annual loggers' sports and barbecue and other events.

Extra buses from Prince Rupert, as well as private cars, brought visitors in over the week-end and sleeping accommodation for many of them had to be found in private homes. The cafes were kept very busy trying to feed the crowd.

At the Civic Centre, where the day's activities were sponsored by the various organizations, the day began with the children's sports followed by the opening of the barbecue pit. The fire for the barbecue had been lighted at 10 a.m. on the Sunday and the meat placed in the pit at 8 o'clock in the evening. When taken out, it had been cooked to perfection. Expertly carved by willing hands, the barbecued beef sandwiches were sold at the canteen and were in demand all day long until the close of the dance in the early morning.

In the early afternoon, the logging sports got under way and winners of the power saw contest were Jimmy Norstrum and P. Benoit.

The usual games, with the Canadian Legion in charge, were set up in the gymnasium of the Civic Centre and drew the usual crowds.

However, the busiest spot was the canteen which was in charge of members of the Parent-Teacher Association, Catholic Women's League and the Legion Auxiliary, with Mrs. F. Clifford as general convener. Supplies and volunteer help were plentiful and a brisk business was done all day long and all through the dance.

BOXING SHOW

An early evening attraction was the boxing card in the auditorium which drew a large crowd of fans. It was a good show with the boys showing great progress under their trainer, Nick Schmeling. There were four bouts of three rounds each. The first was Ronnie Earl of Terrace and Ralph Wieck of Prince Rupert, which ended in a draw. Second, Louis Tetreault of Terrace and Cecil Roberts of Prince Rupert, also ended in a draw. The third - Larry Morgan of Terrace and Simon Wesley of Prince Rupert - was won by Larry Morgan. In the fourth bout, Pat Johnson beat Wally Carlson.

Over 350 people attended the big dance in the auditorium where dancing to the music of Frank Gavan's Rhythmaires continued until nearly 3 a.m. At midnight, the drawing of the lucky ticket was made by Norma Perry and announced by Jim MacKay. The first prize, the choice of a chesterfield suite, a refrigerator or an electric range, went to John Konechoe. Second prize, choice of a washing machine or electric radio, was won by Mr. Hans Koch. The third prize, a mystery prize, was won by John Haaland.

Though the expenses were necessarily high, the financial success of the day was attained.

Terrace Takes Disaster Care

TERRACE — A Red Cross executive meeting was held in the nurses' lounge of the Outpost Hospital on Friday evening with J. H. Stevenson in the chair. Others in attendance were Mrs. J. Harris, secretary; Mrs. W. Robinson, Father Racette, Rev. P. Mallett, Mrs. Newhouser, Mrs. Ross Thomson, Mrs. Norrington, Mrs. Hamlin, Mrs. E. T. Brooks. Following correspondence from headquarters in the south, the executive decided that, of the three probable disasters, fire, flood and earthquake, they would like to have instruction on how to meet with the disaster of fire spreading through the town. A disaster committee, formed in June, will attend to this and, following an outline of campaign from headquarters and due preparation, fire manoeuvres will be conducted at some unstated hour when the call comes from headquarters.

On the disaster committee are Mrs. W. Robinson, Rev. P. Mallett, Father Racette, Mrs. Norrington and Mr. J. H. Stevenson.

Rev. P. Mallett is the local delegate to the Regional Conference at McBride on September 13. Mr. Stevenson will represent the Red Cross at the inaugural meeting of the Cancer Society which will be held on Friday evening in the Red Cross lounge.
