Olympic Athletes From Soviet-Dominated Countries Want to Remain Away

LONDON (CP)—Athletes from Communist-dominated eastern Europe who came to Great Britain for the Olympics are now seeking ways of avoiding going home. A check today showed that at least five men, two Czechs and three Hungarians—had announced plans to stay in England.

Several Yugoslavs and Poles have asked about their chances of staying here or going to Canada or the United States.

A Home Office official said "it is a possibility that more athletes from Communist-dominated European countries may want to see us."

Spy Case "Frame Up"

This Is View of Russian Prosecution Against U.S. Naval Officer

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—A belated spy blast by Russia against a United States naval officer is viewed here as an attempt to cover up waning Moscow interest in the Kosenkina-Samarine schoolteachers cases.

The United States Department of State insists that the espionage charge against Lieut. Robert Dreher is a deliberate Soviet frame-up.

WARM WEATHER HELPING CROPS

Good Harvest of Hay in Bulkley Valley—Grain Ripening in Warm Sunshine

Two weeks of good warm weather after a long spell of rain which was really getting the farmers down has greatly brightened the crop outlook in the Bulkley Valley, reports Olof Hanson who arrived in the city at the end of the week from Smithers with Mrs. Hanson for a few days' visit. A lot of hay, which had been cut and lying in the rain, has now been got in and the crop has turned out to be a good one after all. Grain has been also ripening nicely under the hot sunshine and, if conditions continue this way, there will be at least a fair crop in spite of the long rain spell. Mr. Hanson drove as far as Endako at the first of last week so was able to size things up pretty well. The pioneer timber operator reports his log drive from the upper Skeena down to the booming and yarding ground at Nash about half way finished. There will be a normal production of poles this year.

Uranium Is Found In B.C.

Strike Made in Bridge River District

VANCOUVER, (CP)—The world's most coveted mineral—uranium—has been found in British Columbia, it was reported here today.

The strike was made by 35-year old prospector Ernest Johnson, who has sought precious minerals all over Canada during the last 18 years.

Location of the find is near Gunn Lake in the Bridge River district about 15 miles north of the gold mine town of Bralorne, about 120 miles north of Vancouver.

Dr. J. F. Walker, B.C. deputy minister of mines, confirmed Johnson's claim.

"It's uranium, all right," he said. "It is the first authentic discovery in B. C. of which we have definite information."

"Our tests of ore samples sent by Johnson are not finished yet. We don't know how much uranium exists there, and we haven't yet identified the mineral in the samples. We do know, however, that the mineral is radio-active, and that it contains uranium."

Johnson deliberately sought the valuable substance in the Bridge River country, where cobalt abounds. Findings elsewhere have indicated that uranium often is associated with cobalt.

He took with him a Geiger counter, an indicator whose slow ticking changes to a rapid-fire or continuous chatter when near radio-active minerals.

Working alone, Johnson found what he described as "intensely radio-active" mineral on land owned by J. M. Taylor, a Vancouver mining man. Nearby properties also reacted, so he filed claim on them.

He and Egil Lornitzen have formed the Pacific Uranium Syndicate to develop the property.

Under 1948 legislation, the Dominion government guarantees to buy for the next five years all uranium ore and concentration produced. Similarly, it is illegal to sell to anyone except the government.

CLEAN UP GUERRILLAS

Brilliant Advance Claimed By Forces of Greek Government

ATHENS (CP)—The Greek Army, exploiting a brilliant breakthrough on the southwestern flank of the guerrillas, advanced nearly two miles today to within 700 yards of main Grammos summit along the Albanian border.

General staff said the army had cleared 1140 square miles of territory in a general offensive launched June 21 and that forces of the Communist leader, Markos Vafiades, now hold only 135 square miles of fifteen villages in "Free Greece" of the Grammos area.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mitchell and son and daughter returned to the city Sunday after a motor trip to Vancouver. They travelled through Wenatchee and the Washington Okanagan country.

MRS. KOSENKINA STILL CRITICAL

NEW YORK (CP)—Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, 52-year-old Russian school teacher, who leaped from a third floor window of the Russian consulate where she said she was being held prisoner, was reported to be still in critical condition today at Roosevelt Hospital.

The woman is technically under protection of the United States government since she accepted a subpoena Saturday to testify before the House of Representatives un-American activities committee in a probe of alleged communists spying on the United States.

It is said that it will be at least three months before the woman can testify.

LOCAL BOAT LANDS 15,000-POUND CATCH OF TUNA FISH AT RUPERT

Quantity Arrival May Herald Development of New Type of Fishery Here

First tuna fish ever to be landed in quantity at Prince Rupert was brought here Sunday by a Prince Rupert boat which made its catch off the west coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands. The event may mark the beginning of a new type of fishery for this port.

The tuna, 15,000 pounds of it, was brought to the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative by Capt. Morgan Berg in his 46-foot vessel North Pacific. It had been caught in the area between Cape St. James and Skidegate Inlet, about 12 miles off the Islands.

"It has been known for years that there has been tuna off the Islands but nobody has ever done much about it before," said Norman Bellis of the Fishermen's Co-op in announcing the arrival. "We expect three or four more boats to come in with tuna this week."

He admitted that the interest in tuna in northern waters may herald the beginning of a new type of fishery for Prince Rupert. Every year, more local boats have gone after tuna, but this is the first season that they have been pursued in quantity in waters near this port. Capt. Berg's cargo totalled 15,000 pounds and the fish averaged 13 pounds each. Market price at the present time is $650 a ton, giving the cargo a value of about $4,800.

The fish were immediately frozen by the Co-op and will be shipped south for canning. Having had nothing to do with tuna before, Co-op officials are not yet certain whether the fish could be canned here with the equipment available.

Capt. Berg's boat, North Pacific, was built last winter by the Edward Wahl boat works at Digby Island.

Should be Thankful

"OH, YOU NEVER MISS the water till the, etc., etc., etc.," yet isn't it a fact that most of us never dream of giving a second thought to our blessings. Everything, it seems is taken as a matter of course—whether a sound body and robust health, or in the enjoyment of creature comforts and privileges. Outwardly, at least there appears but small evidence of gratitude.

It is when, for example, through disease or accident something is lost, never to be restored, that the true value of what one so lightly—almost flippantly—regarded, at last stands revealed.

How often can circumstances unexpectedly change and remain that way? Perhaps it never occurred to you that you had, actually, been doing pretty well. We hear a great deal about "standards of living." What standards? But have you ever, calmly, clearly and impartially tried to appraise yourself, how and where you stand and to what extent, it is your duty to confess to a feeling of thankfulness?

AMERICAN VACATIONISTS

SUGGESTIONS THAT Americans should be advised to reduce their vacation trips to Canada, because of the restrictions on foreign exchange, do not appear to be receiving much support. The tourist traffic continues heavy. Across the border, inquiries concerning Canada are as numerous as ever. And, in addition to all this, any policy such as the discouragement of vacations north of the line, is regarded, in many quarters, as short sighted.

Beneath the whole situation is the dollar shortage and one of the changes that this brought about was the action of the Canadian government in restricting the amount a Canadian can spend for travel or recreation in the States as well as limiting imports.

To sum it up, the American opposition to any foregoing of holidays spent in Canada could only damage American prosperity as well as her best customer and neighbor.

WILL BE MISSED

IT HAS BEEN for years, as fall and winter approached, both a joy and a privilege to listen to Metropolitan Opera broadcasts each week-end. But there is almost possibility that the season of 1949 will be an exception. The finest music coming over the air, it is greatly feared, will cease for the time being and the famous old building in New York will be in darkness.

Anyone, anywhere, if he had a radio, could follow the programs. The golden voices of great stars and matchless melody would entertain the poor and obscure as quickly and fully as the wealthy and elite. But, times are changing. Broadcasts have been costing too much. Balance sheets show losses which cannot go on.

Overhead outlays, economic and wage disputes, existing deficits, and mounting outlays in other directions all contributed toward an impossible situation.

ALASKA PURCHASE

WITH RUSSIA and the United States, just now, prominent in the news of the day, the following, concerning the purchase of Alaska, is not without timely interest. It is an excerpt from an editorial in the Montreal Gazette dated April 30, 1867. It gives a new slant on that historic deal, and of how some were viewing public affairs eighty-one years ago. The Gazette editorial reads:

The Russians seem to be quite elated at the success of their negotiations for the sale of Russia-America and to use a current term, evidently think that the United States have got a "hard bargain." The Yankee cuteness, however, will yet stand them in good stead. It was generally supposed that the "bargain" would have to be settled for good hard gold, equal to at least eleven millions in greenbacks. But in this, it appears we were all mistaken, the Russian government being satisfied to take the account out in monitors instead of gold. We do not know what these may be worth apiece but, as they cannot have cost much less than a million each, the Russians, if Congress consents will be entitled to seven or eight. They would undoubtedly be well adapted to the shallow waters of the Baltic but the difficulty will be to get them there. In any event, both parties would be mutually satisfied. The United States will have a territory perfectly useless for all practical purposes, and the Russians a fleet of slow-going half-worn-out war vessels which can never keep the sea or make head against the swifter, heavier and handier iron-clads of the old world.

FAIR DEAL FOR INDIANS

Editor, Daily News:
The citizens of Prince Rupert need not think for a moment that we have any hard feelings against city business concerns. We have enjoyed circulating our earnings from fishing during the past years in the hotels, restaurants, picture shows and, especially, at the Carnival. However, from what I have actually seen in the city myself, I would say that the last two weeks have been among the worst I can remember. Certainly the police are right on the tail of the native people, even prowling into their hotel rooms without permission of the proprietor. But what about the Carnival this week-end?

We understand that the police do have to keep law and order and protect the lives of the people and we praise them for that part of their work but, when it comes to prowling on the tail of the native people everywhere, whether or not there is trouble or disturbance, that is a different thing. It is my opinion that we should stay away from Prince Rupert entirely.

Of course, we know we are considered Indians. However, when we deal with any of the business firms, we are asked to pay the government taxes. Many of our young men failed to return from overseas where they fought for our country. We are, also asked to pay other taxes. Yet we are not allowed to touch a bottle of beer or to take a drink in the beer parlor.

THIS AND THAT

"Oh, an engagement ring! I just adore engagement rings!"

May I ask the citizens: Is this playing fair with the Indians?

VERDUN, QUE., AUDIENCE SEES GIRLS WRESTLE—Blonde June Byers and dark-haired Rose Evans, two buxom females from south of the border, put on 55 minutes of exciting wrestling in the ring at Verdun, near Montreal, and gave the audience their money's worth. Hair-pulling and eye-gouging were some of the tactics used by the girls in their wrestling. Here Rose winds up and seconds later June was flat on her back. City aldermen said they would immediately take steps to try to prevent another performance of female wrestling.

C.N.R.A. Protest Their Own Victory In Play-Off Game

C.N.R.A. 13, 99 TAXI 4

Canadian National Recreation Association tied the city fastball play-offs at one game each when they administered a 13-4 drubbing to 99 Taxi at Gyro Park Saturday night, then turned around and jeopardized their victory by entering a protest to the fast-ball commission at 99 Taxi's use of a player whom they considered unqualified.

If the commission honors the C.N.R.A. protest, C.N.R.A.'s victory will be strictly for the fans and not for the record because the game would be stricken from the books, leaving the railroaders still trailing the taxi boys 1-0 in games. Bone of contention is Art Olsen, whom 99 Taxi put on the mound in the second inning, despite previous C.N.R.A. warnings that, since he had not taken part in two league games for 99 Taxi prior to the start of the playoffs, he would not be considered eligible under the commission rules.

The railroaders immediately entered a complaint but agreed to finish the game under protest so that the fans would not be left on the bleachers without seeing a game. Later, despite the fact that they won, they announced that they would make the protest stick as a matter of principle.

The railroaders had little trouble dominating 99 Taxi at any part of the game. In the first three innings, they ran up a 10-3 lead which the taximen never threatened at any of the later stages. They employed Ian Dunbar on the mound and pro-

An unsolved mystery is the disease which attacked the trout in Blagdon Lake, Somersetshire, England, causing the water to be closed to anglers the last year. Reopening has been set for September 1. Many trout died or wasted away when the epidemic was at its height. Scientists from Bristol University and ministry of agriculture and fisheries experts were unable to trace some definite parasitic infection. One theory is that shortage of food for the young trout used for restocking during the war caused weakness and liability to diseases. A big restocking program now is being carried out, with the introduction of some 20,000 five-inch yearling trout from the Bristol Waterworks Company hatcheries. So fattening is the natural food at Blagdon that five-inchers grow to one pound in a year. Biggest trout caught in the lake weighed 10 pounds four ounces.

A wild Syracuse southpaw called Johnny Vander Meer walked 10 men but limited Toronto Maple Leafs to five hits to give the Chiefs a 3-1 international League victory 11 years ago today. The next year he found his control and made the experts throw the record book out the window by tossing two consecutive no-hit games for Cincinnati Reds. Vander Meer is still on the Reds' pitching staff.

Doubles' Bowling

stab at a line drive off A. Hartwig's bat. There were runners on second and third at the time and Parlett's catch made the third out, thus cutting off a promising 99 Taxi rally.

Pierce and Gurvich were the heavy hitters, the only players who made more than one safe hit.

Dunbar's record on the mound showed that he allowed eight hits, walked four and struck out eleven.

Olympics Wound Up

Impressive Ceremonies Bring Games to End

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Wembley, Eng. — A throng of 84,000 stood in respectful silence Saturday and watched the final ceremonies of the 1948 Olympic Games.

Contested in rain and damp, sultry weather since July 29, the 14th modern Olympics closed in brilliant sunshine.

There were bands and choirs, speeches and prize-giving, and a parade of Boy Scouts carrying each country's flag. Unlike opening day, there was no parade of athletes.

Mexico won the final two prized horsemanship crowns. In Prix de Nations, an arduous test of riding skill, Lt.-Col. H. Mariles-Cortez, on Arcton, won the individual championship with a superb performance against which only six and one-quarter faults were charged.

His marvellous ride gave Mexico the team championship, with Spain second and Great Britain third.

As the flag-bearing Boy Scouts disappeared down the competitors' tunnel, voices of the great throng joined a white-robed choir of 400 men and women in singing the Olympic hymn "Let Us Be Glad." It was specially written by Sir Alan Herbert. It is sung to the tune of "Londonderry Air," better known as "Danny Boy."

The chorus: "Let us be glad, but not because of winning; Let us go home one family today. God make our games a glorious beginning, And hand in hand, together guide us on our way."

A five-gun salute boomed out, rocking the packed stadium. The Olympic flame in its seven-foot urn flickered out. Then, as if in protest, it flared up again momentarily in a great lick of fire, and subsided for good.

MITCHELL VISITS ROYAL BUCKINGHAM PALACE

King and Queen and Princess Elizabeth—Everything Informal and Chatty at Reception.

Mitchell, Anyox-born son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell of West Vancouver and grandson of R. Mitchell, who went to London as a member of the Canadian basketball team for the Dominion at a reception in London.

He met the King and Queen and Princess Elizabeth, and Princess Margaret, and the Duchess of Kent.

Queen Mary and the Duchess of Kent were standing together but I did little more than say "Hello."

"Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip showed great interest in basketball. Elizabeth had played a girl's game called netball. I spent some time explaining the difference between the games."

"The members of the Royal Family were not as tall as I had thought. The Queen was most gracious. The King was very friendly and laughed heartily. Elizabeth did most of the talking while Philip seemed content to back her up. Princess Elizabeth is very much like her mother."

As for the basketball games, the Canadians had played three games when the letter was written including the one they lost to Hungary. "We played very poorly. The shots would not go in the basket, most of them hitting the hoop. The referees were European and gave us a raw deal."

Smiles and Chuckles

The famous psychologist had just delivered a most interesting lecture, and was now conducting a question session.

A timid little man down front held up his hand and was recognized.

"Doctor," he said most respectfully, "did I understand you to say that a good poker player could successfully handle any sort of executive job?"

"That's exactly what I said," was the confident reply.

"Tell me, Doctor," asked the little man, "what would a good poker player want with a job?"

Three small boys were bragging about the prowess of their dads. The first boy said, "My dad writes out a few short lines on a paper, called a poem, sends it away and gets ten dollars for it."

"My dad," spoke the second "makes some dots on a piece of paper, calls it a song, sends it away and gets $25 for it."

"That's nothing," declared the third boy. "My father writes out a sermon on a sheet of paper gets up in a pulpit and reads it, and it takes four men to bring in the money."

The landlord of offices tenanted by a firm of Scots lawyers whose lease was about to expire wrote to ask whether they were going to continue occupation. Their reply was:

"Dear Sir: We are, Yours truly—"

Not appreciating this effort in economy of words—and paper—he wrote again to demand whether or not it was their intention to remain. The answer was:

"Dear Sir: We remain, Yours truly—"

The landlord is not trying again.

A surveyor walking around an army outpost on the edge of a western town became acquainted with the soldier who fired the cannon for retreat every evening.

"Do you fire the cannon at the same time each evening?" he asked.

"Yes," the soldier replied. "At six o'clock on the dot, and I time it carefully with this watch. And just to make doubly sure, I check the watch every day by the big clock in a jeweller's window about two blocks from here."

Several days later the surveyor entered the jeweller's shop.

"That's a mighty fine clock you have there," he said, indicating the clock in the window.

"It keeps perfect time," answered the jeweller. "Why, that clock has not varied a second in two years."

"That's really a wonderful record."

"Yes, and we have a check on it, too. Every evening at exactly six o'clock they fire a cannon over at the fort, and my clock is always right on the dot."

PRINCE RUPERT YEARS AGO

August 16, 1923

H. O. Crew and T. C. Duncan completed a reconnaissance survey of a proposed road from Prince Rupert to the Skeena River canneries. The survey was under supervision of Major R. M. Taylor, district works engineer, and recommendations were to be sent to the provincial public works department.

A. E. Wakefield, American Consul at Prince Rupert delivered an address to the Prince Rupert Rotary Club following a tour of the United States. He said that business conditions were particularly good in the midwest.

Acting Mayor Theo Collart presented the Fair Board with a silver cup to be awarded to the owner of the best-kept flower and vegetable garden to be judged by three persons as yet unappointed. The contest was too be judged September 1.

Modern Etiquette
By ROBERTA LEE

Q. Is it necessary for a hostess at a large reception to introduce strangers to at least a few other guests?
A. No; this would be too large a task. The thing for the guests at large receptions to do is to begin conversations with their fellow-guests—in an unobtrusive and gracious manner, of course.
Q. Should dry cakes, such as lady-fingers and macaroons, be broken as each bite is taken?
A. No. It is better to take small bites out of them.
Q. Is it necessary for a girl to thank a man for bringing her home from a party?
A. No; this is not necessary.

Reminiscences and Reflections
By W.I.

Now and then one reads in the press of someone finding a purse containing papers, address and a few thousands in cash. He returns it to the rightful owner, receiving as a reward $1.50 or possibly as much as $5. If we ever found a wallet kicking around Third Avenue or Sixth Street, it would be pocketed instantly and opened privately. With $10,000 in it, two conclusions would be arrived at without delay, as follows: (1) Anyone carrying $10,000 around is unfit to possess it. (2) Thus, confirmed by the fact he lost the said $10,000, therefore the legitimate and logical course of action is to have ownership transferred to finder for permanent use as he sees fit.

The publisher of the Toronto Star has passed away, leaving an estate valued at around eight million. He made his star twinkle exceedingly bright.

Prince Rupert has almost forgotten the, first and only hold-up in the railway station—the one that never happened, unless it was in the over-active imagination of a station employee. He might have had some experience on the stage for his act was well put on. He had, he said, in a convincing way, been overpowered in mid-afternoon and a sizeable piece of change (not his) taken. And it all happened right in the station. It was a startling story but did not wash. By the time a few cold-eyed investigators got through asking questions, he found himself all tied up in knots. For there was a lot he had not foreseen.

Speaking of recent blessed events, it may be recorded that a San Francisco cow named "Margo" has an offspring. The new livestock will be called "Margarine."

The recent Liberal convention at Ottawa had its lighter moments. Arthur Ford, editor of the London, Ont., Free Press, just back from Brussels, told this one. It was narrated at a small but select luncheon by no less a celebrity than Churchill himself. Stalin died. It was a problem to know where to bury him. Various shrines were examined. Peter the Great said he did not want Old Joe beside him. Other Czars and Emperors felt the same way. Finally they found the tomb of the Empress Catherine. "Sure, put him here" said she. "I'm not fussy who I sleep with."

Be it said to the credit of housewives they have often proved their ability in domestic financing. Many have plainly a gift in causing a trifling sum to go an uncommonly long way along the dusty weary road of "making it do." They know how to buy. Some learn the hard way. But this performing of miracles, indefinitely, will surely come to a sudden halt if the women, as they threaten, pull "a buyers' strike." Meat, already high, keeps climbing. A cow is reputed to have once leaped over the moon. That may be all right in a nursery tale but it's out of place in real life.

Pretty brunette Margaret Brain, 17-year-old city telephone operator, is Prince Rupert's nominee for "Miss P.N.E." honors and the chance to win a trip to Hollywood to hob-nob with the movie stars and possibly achieve even greater recognition of her charm and beauty.

As a result of winning popular acclaim by a large margin through the votes of Prince Rupert Capitol Theatre goers who voted Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights in double sessions, Margaret gets a trip to the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver. There, with beautiful girls from other parts of British Columbia, she will compete for the final honors.

The long-tressed and shapely Prince Rupert-born girl, who is popular as well as beautiful, was obviously a favorite with the theatre audiences.

The final vote for the winners was:

Margaret Brain, 4368.
Edith Jordan, 2692.
Stella Kurulok, 2394.
Lois Thompson and Mona Mutch were close runners-up.

On Tuesday night Margaret, with Edith and Stella, will be presented on the stage of the Capitol Theatre by Mayor Nora Arnold.

On Thursday she will leave for Vancouver. Counting of the ballots was carried out yesterday, President Stuart Furk and other members of the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce assisting Theatre Manager J. Harry Black.

GREAT DAY IN RUPERT

Everybody Outdoors in Sunday Sunshine

To say Prince Rupert was deserted yesterday would of course be an exaggeration, but nevertheless it is safe to declare a few thousand of the population put on holiday dress and, with refreshments in hand, left their homes and firesides. They scattered. And small wonder.

Weather has been grand ever since early in the summer and the call from out of doors Sunday could not be resisted, even had there been the slightest wish to do so. And there certainly was not.

Those with cars went spinning along the Skeena Highway, some to the attractive havens along the shores of Digby Island, and to the smaller islands lying off shore, some just went cruising, and hundreds were glad to find in Tony Crawley's ferry opportunity to put in an afternoon at the salt lakes across the harbor. There was all the business that could be handled, and it seemed that everyone there could both swim and dive. The board walk through the woods is in excellent shape and if one, arriving at the lake, preferred to relax and observe, instead of taking the plunge, that also could be done with reasonable comfort.

Rail Finances Not So Good

Rest of C.N.R. Not as Healthy as Maritimes, Says Vaughan

MONCTON, N.B. — Railway traffic on the Atlantic region is good, said R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, here at the week-end on a visit to the Maritimes.

Mr. Vaughan said, however, that the outlook for net earnings for the entire system is not good. "The increased payroll as a result of the recent 17 per cent wage award will add $41,000,000 to the Canadian National payroll and the cost of materials has already gone up $25,000,000 over last year, the total for the two items amounting to more than $65,000,000," he said. "Against this we have $35,000,000 from the supposed 21 per cent increase in freight rates which actually represents only an overall increase to us of 13½ per cent due to exempted commodities. We are, however, doing our best to provide an adequate railway service as we realize our responsibilities in this connection."

Before the present inspection trip to the Maritimes Mr. Vaughan made a three week's tour of western Canada and he said that the recent rains will probably produce an average crop but there is little likelihood of a bumper crop this year. The railway expects to have sufficient equipment to handle the traffic.

About $5,000,000 worth of equipment, freight and passenger, is now on order for the Canadian National Railways but not all of it will be delivered this year, said Mr. Vaughan.

"We have passenger equipment which has been on order for two years, and conversion work in our shops has been delayed owing to our inability to get material. We have plenty of box cars and are meeting current demands for this type of equipment."
