Far Eastern Policy

WHILE Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, in spite of the recession of his prestige, is appearing in the picture again in Nationalist China, Secretary of State Dean Acheson of the United States and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Great Britain are billed to discuss possible development of anti-communist bloc countries in southeast Asia.

There is little use now in looking back at the vacillations of the Americans and the weaknesses of the Chiang leadership in Nationalist China which have been conducive to the rise of communism in China. Possibly even yet American, and to lesser extent British, policy could support a strong, progressive, anti-Communist leadership in China when such leadership exists but it cannot create it when it is non-existent.

Now, as Nationalist resistance dwindles, the victorious Communists are faced with forecasts of the greatest famine of the century following the gigantic floods and dislocations of this year. Their bold plans and promises will be put to a severe test. If they fail colossally as the self-appointed leaders of the revolutionary drive for a more abundant life, the revolution will in time grind them down as it has ground down the Nationalists.

Shall western policy by renewed aid to the discredited Nationalist remnant help the latter—through its blockade of coastal ports for instance—to swell the accumulating miseries of the masses, hoping thus to bring chaos down on the Communists? Or would such a policy divert the wrath of the people from their Communist masters to American "imperialism" and its Nationalist "running dogs"?

The answer to this dilemma must rest on moral as well as pragmatic grounds. To fight communism in China, it is necessary above all else to have a vital alternative leadership for the people to turn to. The finding and fostering of such leadership must be a continuing aim of western policy.

THE NEW HOTEL

FOR WEEKS, following the original announcement some time ago, there had been much interest in developments in regard to the new Sir Charles M. Hays project for Prince Rupert. It was, therefore, satisfactory to read the assurance of Frank Kafel, Toronto financier, who is the moving spirit of the project, that it is going ahead just as rapidly as possible.

With Prince Rupert's already new growth, the expansion of city and district which it is conceded on all hands is immediately in store and the seemingly tremendous possibilities of stop-over business if adequate and suitable accommodation is available, augmentation of hotel facilities at Prince Rupert are long overdue.

It is quite possible that even the new hotel will soon find itself in the position of being inadequate to meet the needs of the growing city and that already existing facilities will continue to be hard pressed as they usually are today.

Additional theatre service will also be in line with the requirements of the general growth and advancement of Prince Rupert.

Send Off To Applewhaite

Member-Elect Meets With Local Association Before Leaving For Ottawa

Prince Rupert Liberal Association gave a send-off last night to E. T. Applewhaite, M.P.-elect for Skeena, prior to his departure for Ottawa to attend his first session of Parliament. Mr. Applewhaite leaves tomorrow afternoon on the Princess Norah for the Capital with brief stops in Vancouver and Nelson en route.

The member-elect received words of sage counsel from Olof Hanson who spoke from the experience of sixteen years in Parliament and was also given suggestions of certain matters which it was felt should be pressed upon for immediate action such as the installation of the breakwater for the Fairview fishermen's floats, the completion of the road to those floats, improvement of radio service to Prince Rupert and central British Columbia and an airplane landing field at Prince Rupert.

The general consensus was, however, that, if anybody had a grasp of the problems and needs of this district, it was Mr. Applewhaite himself and little advice was, therefore, required by him.

Mr. Applewhaite asked for the views of the Association on the matter of rent control and, after some discussion, a resolution was passed favoring the continuation of the existing type of control with certain modifications and the establishment of a representative of the board of appeal at Prince Rupert. (At present control affects only tenants who are not moving, there being no ceiling for new tenants or new property).

Mr. Hanson counselled Mr. Applewhaite, on arrival at Ottawa, to "listen, get friends and co-operate." By that means, accomplishment could be achieved. It had been his (Mr. Hanson's) experience that, if a solid case was put up, supported by facts and backed by the people concerned, fair requirements would be met. "Do what is right and don't get excited and you will be member as long as you want to," declared Mr. Hanson who urged the importance of such bodies as the Chambers of Commerce, the Boards of Trade and the home riding associations keeping the member posted and advised as to needs and requirements.

Mr. Applewhaite expressed his sincere thanks and appreciation for the support at home which had resulted in his election. "I am going to miss the atmosphere of these home town meetings," he admitted. "I suppose I shall be a very small load in a large sea at Ottawa. I know I have a hard man to follow in Olof Hanson but I am conscious of the responsibility and will face the job with humility. It is going to be a real job of work, I know."

While he warned against passing resolutions just for the sake of passing resolutions, Mr. Applewhaite, nevertheless, suggested that it was the duty of the Association to see that the needs of the riding were brought at all times to the attention of the member with well-founded representations having in mind the interests not only of local district but the country as a whole.

BASEBALL— Letourneau Beats Savoy

Commercial Topple League
Leaders 9 to 4

Pitcher Dick Letourneau was the hero of last night's City Baseball contest when his sixth inning triple scored three runs to assure his team of a 9 to 4 win over the league-leading Savoy. The Commercial was trailing at the time on the short end of a 4 to 3 score when the bases were loaded on two Savoy errors and a base on balls. Letourneau connected with the first pitch and sent it on a long low drive into centerfield. Nick Pavlikis went far back for it but had no chance of pulling it down. It was one of the best hits of the year and certainly the most fruitful.

Commercial had opened the scoring in the first inning when Guthrie doubled and scored when Vanetta was safe on an error. Savoy came back in the second and scored three runs on three hits and three errors.

They picked up another tally in the fourth on hits by Ted Arney and Pavlikis and the Savoy crew appeared to be heading for another satisfactory win.

It would have been a good game had it ended like that but Mr. Letourneau had other ideas and made it a better game—from Commercial viewpoint at least—with his base-cleaning tactics. For good measure the First Avenue gang added two runs in the final inning on hits by Cornwell, Sinclair and Howdick.

Beside his hitting achievement, Letourneau outpitched his opponent when he struck out seven to Bill's four and allowed seven hits while the Savoy hurler was giving up ten. Both teams played gamely in spite of fog that at times almost obscured the outfielders. There was a total of seven errors that could be partly attributed to the poor visibility, but there were enough sparkling plays to make it one of the most exciting games of the season.

Nick Pavlikis went into right then left field on two successive plays to make spectacular catches. Don Sharpe had a perfect night at the plate in three appearances and Stan Cornwell showed signs of returning to his batting form with three hits, two for extra bases.

Commercial won on merit and the Savoy went home beaten but with no alibi.

With each team having six games to complete the schedule, the league is the closest it has been since the first round of games. Merchants are two games behind the league leaders, with Commercial sandwiched between.

LONDON BOYS SPORT GREEN HAIR—These London, Ont., boys are the centre of interest as they show the latest thing in juvenile coiffures—green hair. The coloring occurred accidentally in the city's swimming pool. To remove algae from the floors of the tanks, copper batusim is dissolved into the water. Too much was added. Result: green hair.

CITY GIRLS HARVEST ENGLISH CROPS—England this year is harvesting a bumper crop of vegetables, grain and fruit and schoolgirls and city workers by the thousand are spending their holidays on farms. Valerie Lambert, of Manchester, typifies the spirit of the farm holiday as she holds a basket of potatoes she picked in Somerset County.

Seasonable Ideas for Housekeepers

MAKE THE MOST OF VEGETABLES NOW SUMMER DAYS ARE HERE

During the summer months, fresh vegetables are begging to be served and served often. Fresh, tender and inexpensive vegetables from the garden or market are packed full of sunshine and health-giving elements. Crisp greens will fill salad bowls with flavor and color. Raw or cooked, vegetables are at their best in summer.

The homemaker has a wide variety of fresh, abundant vegetables from which to choose this month and the rules for cooking vegetables as quickly as possible until just tender will give maximum color, flavor and texture.

The Home economists urge homemakers to make the most of the vegetables available this month.

Spinach Cartwheel
2 lb. spinach
1 medium onion
8 medium potatoes
2 tablespoons butter
2 teaspoons salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup milk
1 can cream of celery soup
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 lb. process cheese
Cook spinach, without water,

just until tender. Drain and chop finely. Boil onion and potatoes together until tender, drain and mash with butter, salt, pepper and milk until fluffy. Heat celery soup, add nutmeg and the chopped spinach. Line a greased casserole with 3/4 of the mashed potatoes and fill the centre with the spinach mixture. Cut cheese into narrow strips and arrange on top of the spinach, spoke-fashion. Line the inside rim of the casserole with the remaining mashed potatoes, fluffing them up with a fork. Place under the broiler until cheese is browned. Yield six servings.

Summer Supper
8 whole small potatoes
12 whole small carrots
1 cup green beans, cut in 1-inch pieces
6 green onions, chopped
1 cup boiling water
1 1/4 cups thick cheese sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Cook the potatoes, carrots, beans and onions in the boiling, salted water until tender, about 25 minutes. Drain well. Add vegetables to cheese sauce, re-heat and serve, sprinkled with fall, although for the early part of the season a number of snappy looking suede suit shoes are appearing in black, parkway green, and browns. Snakeskins have been employed to make tailored pumps, combined also with a suede.

PLANE CRASH VICTIM—Jack Aveson of Winnipeg, 31-year-old reporter for the Canadian Press, was one of 21 persons aboard an R.C.A.F. aircraft which crashed and burned while flying from Churchill, Man., to Winnipeg. Aveson, who specialized in stories of searches for wrecked aircraft in the north, is shown as he flew on another northern assignment—Operation Attache—in September, 1948. Airmen who found the burnt wreckage of the twin-engined Canso, which was carrying Aveson and his companions from Churchill, reported there were no survivors.

HER HIGH HEeled after-five shoe probably will be suede, either in the sandal or classic pump style. Since the working girl often must make this do double duty as an evening shoe, she will be wise to buy one designed on simple lines—for instance a delicate high-heeled suede pump can always be worn with evening clothes.

The homemaker needs a balanced shoe wardrobe every bit as much as the career girl. She should have a properly fitted house shoe which will carry her through her many household tasks. She may find the closed wedge casual comfortable, or the tie oxford such as nurses wear. If she wears a comfortable shoe during working hours she can then afford to be frivolous in her choice for a dressy shoe—high heels and very open styles.

FALL FASHIONS
In some quarters fall shoe fashions are not placing as much emphasis on straps, although high-riding straps and buckled instep straps are certainly being used. However, a good deal of emphasis is being put on pump styles, with both closed and sling-backs.

Modern Etiquette

Q. In an informal introduction, is the mere pronouncing of names permissible?

A. Yes; "May I present" is not necessary. You may accentuate the more important person's name with a slightly rising inflection.

Q. When dining with a man in a public place, does the woman give her order direct to the waiter?

A. No; the woman tells her escort her preference and he in turn gives the order to the waiter.

Q. Is it good form to have "Miss" before an unmarried girl's name on a calling card?

A. It most certainly is; in fact, the omission of the title "Miss" is a social error.

WELCOME HOME, JOB'S DAUGHTERS

(The Job's Daughters' drill team returns home at 4 p.m. today on the steamer Catala from Spokane where they captured first honors in one drill competition and second place in another at the international session of the order.)

Prince Rupert's fame first spread afar
Through fish caught in its waters,
Our latest claim to world renown
Is made by our Job's Daughters.

With Alex Mitchell in command
Their drill grew hot and hotter,
No one who slacked could ever hope
To drill like a Job's Daughter.

A word of praise to Laura too—
In kilts they marched like toppers,
It was the grandest sight to see
The swing of our Job's Daughters.

For weeks they were content to learn
To drill the way they "oughter,"
Then at Spokane they won first prize,
Each was a proud Job's Daughter.

So hats off to our winning team,
Let's gather from all quarters
And line the docks to welcome home
Our champion Job's Daughters.
