England Coming Back

UNDER THE LEADERSHIP and inspiration of the courageous Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps, champion of austerity and apostle of all-out man production, England is staging a great industrial and economic comeback. The latest to acknowledge the strides that Britain is making in its economic recovery is Paul Hoffman, United States administrator of European aid. Last week we were told about it right here in Prince Rupert by Sir Alexander Clutterbuck, United Kingdom High Commissioner to Canada.
Britain seems to be well on the way to being able to stand on her own feet when the expiry date of help from the European Recovery Program comes. In spite of the enfeeblement caused by a disastrous war, she is doing this. She is accomplishing it by the toil and sweat of her people. England is coming through and she is winning the surprised admiration of the world.

UNIONS AND COMMUNISM

CANADIAN LABOR leaders admit themselves that truck with Communism is an invitation to trade union suicide. The position of organized labor under a statism such as exists in Russia would be entirely different from the position it occupies in Canada today. Its bargaining power in negotiations with the state would deteriorate to the vanishing point and, as a creature of the state, the rights it has fought for and won over a period of many years would be nullified.
Labor unions in Canada are generally accepted as the protectors of the legitimate rights of the working people. Their power and their currently responsible positions have been achieved because they acted within bounds and a free society recognized them. If labor tolerated the reds, it would imperil its own future. If it does not use the knife sparingly to gouge out the cancer of Communism, its own existence as a free movement in a free society will be destroyed.

COLDS UNNECESSARY

MANY PEOPLE consider that winter and colds go together like ham and eggs. But a few ounces of preventative will help avoid winter colds. When the temperature drops, dress for the weather, avoid chills, eat nourishing food and get plenty of sleep. And stay away from people who have colds.
Just because the mercury is shivering around freezing in the thermometer is no reason why we should seal ourselves into airtight chambers these early winter nights. It is better to use an extra blanket or two and leave the window open than to risk colds by sleeping in dry, stuffy rooms.
Feel a cold coming on? Might as well face it, to it. You are in for an unpleasant few days. But you can help yourself a lot by taking it easy—go to bed for a day or so if possible. Eat lightly of nourishing foods and stay away from other people as much as you can. Remember, colds can be dangerous.

TAKE IT AWAY, MR. BRACKEN—Retiring leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, John Bracken, was presented with a new car by the convention. Looking very pleased is Mrs. Bracken as her husband tried out the front seat for size.

Letters to the Editor

ONE OR TWO YEARS?

Editor, Daily News:
Local autonomy being the democratic prerogative of the people, powers, authority and responsibility vested in their hands constitute the safety valve of civilization. This principle must be safeguarded if we wish to remain democratic and progressive. That being the philosophy of my life, I do not hesitate to quote Col. Drew or any other public man in defence of a common principle that any liberal should accept.
As a citizen of Prince Rupert who has done his best to retain all authority possible for the people to exercise in the discharge of their responsibility, I claim the provincial government has infringed on municipal rights in changing the term of the chief magistrate from one to two years without consulting the people affected. In my opinion this is a reactionary move and I propose to try and get a plebiscite before the people at the forthcoming election in December so an expression of opinion may be obtained.

We are compelled to have annual elections. Why run the chief only once in two years? I think it would be better if the whole council were subject to approval by the people once a year. Aldermen are not like whisky. Time and age do not necessarily improve them.
GEORGE B. CASEY.

Union steamer Coquitlam, Capt. Alf Aspinall, returning to the Queen Charlotte Islands run, arrived in port at 1 o'clock this afternoon from Vancouver, Namu and Butedale and will sail at 1 o'clock tonight for Massett Inlet points whence she is due back here Sunday to sail at 11 p.m. on her return south.

RACIAL HATRED

Editor, Daily News:
Regarding your front page article dealing with Russian cruelty during the war, it is sad to think of people still dying of war effects. Our military hospitals are full to capacity of wounded and dying caused by the cruelty of the Germans. Also thousands of we Canadians are still suffering from effects of the first and second world wars. Why stir up racial hatred in so an unsettled world?

Reminiscences and Reflections

By W.J.

A small plainly dressed man walked into a Vancouver bank and asked to have a check cashed. The clerk inquired his name and the stranger said he called himself Lord Beaverbrook. Whereupon the accountant became suspicious and hesitated. The manager appeared just then and explanations were prompt. But who could blame the bank clerk? Pulling his leg is something that's rarely or never done.

The campaign concludes and Truman and Dewey call it a day. The excitement subsides. The dust is settling. Verily, the country is going to be saved again, as sure as shootin'. Well, the candidates cannot say they have not had a lot of fun.

Parking bylaws in Prince Rupert are to be enforced. The gendarmes will "crack down." The city is growing. Everyone is car-conscious. Times have changed since the less complex days when Jack Beatty's transportation system consisted of a strong wheelbarrow. He had parking space to spare.

Ocean Falls, in 1947, experienced a generous rainfall. It went beyond 150 inches. There are various parts of the world where such a total might be considered a shade niggardly. Fast is, the more one learns about other lands, the less reason is there to bracket Canada's Pacific Coast with the ancient wheeze—"the place where it rains all the time."

Eastern Canadian readers have had a diverting glimpse of the Queen Charlotte Islands in September, the writer being Guy Jasmin of Montreal, whose two column story appears in the Windsor Star. It's refreshing to see something in print about the

to all interested and "an assurance of dividends" in character and citizenship building accruing from the work of Cubing and Scouting in these dangerous days. Mr. Anfild thanked all those who had been associated with the Association in the work of the past year—the executive members, the various groups and auxiliaries and, above all, the lads of the troops and packs.
Paying tribute to the self-sacrificing service rendered by the retiring commissioner, Mr. Anfild declared that Col. Dixon, perhaps more than anyone else, had brought Scouting and Cubing back in Prince Rupert. Mr. Anfild acknowledged a splendid donation which had been made to the Association funds by the Rotary Club. There had also been a magnificent donation by the Canadian Legion in the form of complete sets of colors to all packs and troops.

"The eternal problem facing our Association is that of more and more leaders," said the presidential report. "The boys are there in profusion but to find men to lead them is an ever-present worry for executive and commissioner." Mr. Anfild pleaded strongly for the enlistment of young men of sterling character as clubmasters and scouters.
Mr. Anfild also acknowledged the splendid gesture of the Prince Rupert Symphony Orchestra in presenting its forthcoming concert for the benefit of the Boy Scouts and expressed the hope that it would be an overwhelming success.

COMMISSIONER'S REPORT
Col. Dixon's report as district commissioner claimed two principal accomplishments in the two years since the Association had been formed—one, Scouting in Prince Rupert had been firmly re-established and, two, steady and sure progress was being made. At this time last year there had been three groups with a total of 83 boys—60 Cubs and 23 Scouts. During the past year another new group had been organized under the auspices of the A.O.T.S. of First United Church and now there were four Cub packs and two Scout troops for a total of 110 boys—80 Cubs and thirty Scouts. Standard of training had also showed a marked improvement. By next summer it was hoped to have some first class Scouts qualified to attend the first Canadian Scout Jamboree to be held near Ottawa.

Col. Dixon cited as outstanding events of the past year—the good turn-out and fine display at a joint Scout-Guide rally, the excellent showing made by the Second (Conrad) group with their entries in the May 24 parade of the Kinsmen's Club and the formation of a Ladies' Auxiliary to the Conrad group, something that he felt might be emulated in connection with other groups.
Col. Dixon hoped that it would be possible to hold a full ten-day camp next year.
The commissioner also stressed the urgent need for the enlistment of further leaders so that the work might be carried out more adequately.
The meeting, by formal resolution, expressed its appreciation of the enthusiastic and efficient work of Col. Dixon during his two years as district commissioner.

Present at the meeting were F. E. Anfild, Col. Dixon, Col. Grant, Neville Gerrard, E. T. Applewhite, Robert Cameron, Inspector F. B. Woods-Johnson, Staff Sergeant G. A. Johnson, Fred Conrad, George Williamson, Grant Stewart, Dennis Garon, Dr. J. A. MacDonald.

GARDEN 'NOTEBOOK'

IT'S TIME TO GROW FLOWERS THIS WINTER

Daffodils can be grown in the home when the weather is in what the "good potting soil." of your best top garden part sand and one part moss will make a fine mixture. Add more sand if soil is heavy, thorough and run through a mesh screen.

It is necessary to allow bulbs to make roots; and for the pot must be kept in a dark and cool place, cannot freeze or dry out. A cold frame, can be covered with glass or sand, will do. Planted in this storage should be thoroughly watered. No further watering necessary. If stored in cellar or closet should be kept from drying out. Root action will follow when top growth begins to be brought indoors the storage place and until wanted.

When brought indoors must be given all the care and kept in a temperature which averages 60 degrees. Stems, leaves and roots are formed. After formed a temperature of 65 degrees will bring out the flowers and if haste is needed temperature will rise.

NORWAY SONS OBSERVE 18TH ANNIVERSARY

Prince Rupert's Sons of Norway Lodge was host last night to the international organization's supreme President during observances of the eighteenth anniversary of this city.

The celebration took the form of a banquet and dance in the Sons of Norway hall, Fifth Avenue East, at which more than 150 persons gathered. Guest of honor was E. B. Hauke, of Minneapolis, Supreme President, who flew from Ketchikan for the event.

Other out-of-town guests were Nels Nelson, President of the Ketchikan Sons of Norway Lodge, and Mrs. Nelson, and C. M. Lien, Past President of the district lodge, and Mrs. Lien. Chairman of the banquet was Percy Knutsen, vice-president of the Prince Rupert Lodge. During the banquet, he introduced the three visiting officials and Pat Deane, president of the local lodge.

Congratulations on the growth and activity of the Prince Rupert lodge were voiced by Mr. Hauke who particularly commended the city group on obtaining its own hall. He also commended the size of the membership which has grown greatly during the last year.

An invitation to local members to attend a celebration by the Ketchikan Lodge Saturday night in honor of the visit of Mr. Hauke was extended by Mr. Nelson. A number of Prince Rupert lodge members plan to make the trip.

Following the banquet, dancing was enjoyed. Music was provided by Chris Fossum on the piano accordion and Ray Fossum on the guitar. Later in the evening, refreshments were served. Catering both for the banquet and the late luncheon was carried out by the Sonja Lodge under chairmanship of Mrs. Alf Henriksen.

The Ketchikan visitors, who arrived here Thursday afternoon in a chartered Ellis Airlines plane, planned to leave today to return to the Alaska city.

'MUSKEG' DIES AT PIONEERS' HOME

The dog "Muskeg" has given his last bark and investigated his final telegraph pole. He died yesterday. He was getting along in years. "Muskeg" was in his early prime during the war and became a sort of soldiers' canine. After the war finding a home for him caused concern to local humanitarians.
"Muskeg" was always in or handy to camps and short of falling in and trotting off for the front, valiantly performed his "bits." He passed out at the Pioneers' Home.

SEWING COURSE
Interest is growing in the sewing courses to be conducted at the Civic Centre during the two weeks beginning November 8 by Miss Sylvia Dyson of the Extension Department of the University of British Columbia. Women taking the afternoon dressmaking course are already hunting through local stores for patterns and materials for dresses, blouses, pajamas or whatever they have decided to make. Those taking the evening course, the sewing of children's clothes, are buying their patterns and material or merely deciding which of their used clothes to make over into

PLANNING FOR NEW FESTIVAL

At an executive meeting of the Music and Drama Festival Association, held last night in the Civic Centre, hopes were expressed that an enlarged program might be presented when the spring festival is held in May.

Peter Lien and his advisory committee were asked to investigate the possibility of including vocal solos and duets as well as instrumental selections by pianists and violinists. It was also suggested that rural schools be encouraged to participate especially in the elementary drama class.
The advisory committee was also asked to prepare a list of test pieces for the festival and to prepare a report on the advisability of having part of the music festival arranged on a competitive basis. According to questionnaires sent out by the former executive, about half the choir leaders contacted thought competitive group singing would furnish greater instructional value.

Present at last night's meeting which was under the chairmanship of president Richard Cleland, were Miss Jean Urquhart, Mrs. T. Fraser, Mrs. R. G. Large, Carlo Hansen, Basil S. Prockter, Peter Lien and Harry Seaman.

JUNIOR CHAMBER GROUPS PLANNED FOR INTERIOR

Two new central interior Junior Chambers of Commerce will be officially inaugurated next month under sponsorship of the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce. The formalities will take place at Smithers on November 13 where the Smithers and Burns Lake Jaycee groups will come into being.

Organization of the two groups will bring the number of Junior Chambers in the Prince Rupert region to three. Formerly, Prince Rupert was the only centre having one. Prince George, which has a Junior Chamber group, is in a different region.

Presiding over the inaugurations will be Stuart Furk, president of the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce and District Councillor for the B.C. region. He will be accompanied to Smithers by a number of officers and members of the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber.

According to information received from Smithers, initial membership there will be about 20 while a similar number will be enrolled into the Burns Lake body. Both towns have a number of young men who have no community service affiliations.

Gordon Williams of Smithers has been instrumental in organizing both prospective groups.

DOLL DRESSING
The little girls who come Wednesday afternoons to dress dolls are beginning to feel that they are accomplishing something worthwhile and their instructors are looking forward even more than they to when they progress to more interesting doll's clothing.

Each little girl has learned how to place a pattern on the fold of material then cut it out, baste it together, sew French seams then put on the lace. Some do it all by hand, others baste it then take it home and sew it up on the sewing machine.

Having each finished a lace edged doll's slip, they have gone on to decorative panties and next week they will bring gay material out of which to make each doll a drindle skirt.
