The marriage took place in the Church of the Sacred Heart in Corbell, Ont., and was followed by a reception in the Dionne home at Callander.

ROCKSLIDE AT BURNS LAKE DELAYS TRAIN

A rockslide which crashed into the side of a C.N.R. freight train last night derailed seven cars and will delay the arrival of tonight's passenger train bearing railway President R. C. Vaughan. The slide came down at 10 o'clock Wednesday night two miles east of Burns Lake as a westbound freight train was passing. The rock struck a car of the moving train, throwing it from the rails. Six other cars piled up behind it. It was learned from Superintendent C. A. Berner's office this morning that the tracks will not be cleared in time to permit uninterrupted passage of the westbound passenger train which was due to reach the spot at noon today. The passenger train which left the city last night will proceed as far east as the wreck scene, where baggage, mail and passengers will be transferred from the westbound train on the east side of the wreck. Four of the freight cars are now standing at right angles to the track and three, off the rails, are parallel to it. President Vaughan, his wife and daughter will arrive on the delayed train early tomorrow morning and will immediately go aboard the S.S. Prince George which will hold up her southbound sailing until the train's arrival. The rockslide occurred in a rock cut. It was not a large slide, but its timing was such that it disrupted traffic by derailling the freight cars.

CHICAGO PRINTER STRIKE ENDING

CHICAGO — The long and costly strike by 1,500 printers against Chicago's five major daily newspapers appeared today near settlement. The strikers, who quit work nearly 22 months ago in a dispute over a new contract, will vote Sunday on terms agreed upon last night by union and publishers' representatives. The new pact calls for wage increases of $10 a week. The Union originally had demanded a pay boost of $15 a week. Wages before the strike were $85.50 for a 36 1/4-hour week for day shift and $91 for 36 1/4-hour week for the night shift. The strike against the dailies is believed to be the longest against any group of metropolitan newspapers. But the newspapers—the Tribune, Daily Sun-Times, Daily News, Herald-American and Journal, have not missed a day's publication since the strike began on November 24, 1947.

South African Woman Ended Water Poison

CAPETOWN — An elderly, soft-spoken woman, now living quietly among the bulky volumes and microscopes of her white-walled cottage in Capetown, has played a major role in saving thousands of Transvaal cattle and sheep from the highly dangerous algae poisoning on the banks of the Vaaldam Lake near Johannesburg. She is Edith Stephens, who until her recent retirement was a lecturer in the botanical department of the University of Cape Town. The Royal Society of South Africa recently honored her by publishing a paper on her research on algae poisoning. The algae, identified by Miss Stephens was noticed at Vaaldam when cattle, sheep, horses and dogs began to die along its banks. Toxicologists found that the deaths were caused by a vigorous water-bloom which extended through 98 percent of the whole water area of the dam. Thousands of cattle and sheep had died before samples of the algae were sent to Miss Stephens in Capetown.

Tug In Distress In Gulf of Alaska

SEATTLE — Coast Guard headquarters here reported early today that six persons had abandoned the stricken tug Afognak in the wind-whipped Gulf of Alaska. The Coast Guard said the vessel had radioed that the six went over the side in a 14-foot lifeboat and that there was no land in sight.

ATOMIC TALKS START TUESDAY

OTTAWA — Canada, the United States and Britain will discuss their relations in the field of atomic research in Washington next week, it was announced today. The talks, forecast by President Truman in a statement on July 23, will begin Tuesday.

IT'S THE WORLD'S "HOT-SPOT"—This is the spot where Yugoslavia, Hungary and Romania touch, the hottest spot in the world today—if reports of Russian concentration there are correct. It is only 80 miles from Belgrade, and a Russian concentration of five armored divisions, backed by a warplane armada, is reported there.

AND THERE ARE MILLIONS MORE LIKE THEM—This New York crowd is part of the 16,000,000 war veterans who have signed applications for their insurance dividends. The applications are available for all men and women who served in the armed forces from Oct. 8, 1940, to Jan. 1, 1948. The dividend amounts to $2,800,000,000. Vets will receive amounts ranging from a few dollars to several hundred, based on such factors as the time the policy was in force, its face value and the age of the policy holder. Checks will start going out to vets about January at the rate of 200,000 a day.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES FORECAST SPEECH FROM THRONE OPENS HOUSE

OTTAWA (CP)—The Speech from the Throne read today at the opening of Parliament, forecast steps toward the more complete independence of Canada from the United Kingdom Parliament. The Speech, read by the Governor-General, Lord Alexander, said that Parliament will be asked to approve a bill abolishing appeals to the Privy Council. The measure would make the Supreme Court of Canada the highest tribunal in the country. Steps also will be taken to give Parliament power to amend the constitution in relation to matters that do not come within provincial jurisdiction. At present, the constitution cannot be amended without consent of the United Kingdom Parliament. The Speech also said that the scope of the National Housing Act will be broadened. It gave no details, but it is believed that as a result of recent conferences with the provinces, steps will be taken to lower the down payment on homes. Provision also will be made for aid in the construction of a transcontinental highway. Other matters for approval are: A bill respecting forest conservation. A bill respecting assistance to the ship building industry and merchant shipping. Emergency gold mining assistance act. No details on any of the bills were disclosed.

B. WOODCOCK IS POOR CONTENDER FOR FISTIC CROWN

By ALAN RANDAL Canadian Press Staff Writer MONTREAL — Here in Montreal is a fistic expert who—and no lessening of his love for Empire and jolly old Britain and all that, looks not too highly on the ring chances of Britain's Bruce Woodcock. The expert is Elmer Ferguson and in taking this view he is joining sports columnist John Macadam of the London Daily Express. Fergie notes that Macadam has tossed out the window the tradition that Britons always stick together, also the old school tie and the jolly dish of afternoon tea. He quite bluntly wants the British heavyweight written off as a serious contender for the world title. "What can you make of a heavyweight title aspirant who admits taking a sucker punch, prepares for his next important fight by breaking stones and getting a chip in his eye?" Asks Macadam. "And who trains for a world fight by driving a truck at night?" The latter hobby, Fergie notes, caused the postponement of Woodcock's return bout with Lee Savold until sometime in the spring after the Doncaster Yorkshireman broke a shoulder blade when he drove his blasted lorry into a blinking tree. "Why Bruce should be sticking to night truck driving when promoter Jack Solomons had 6,000 tickets sold for his fight is beyond Macadam's understanding," says Fergie.

SUSPENSION OF SEAMEN'S UNION TO BRING FIGHT

CALGARY — The executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today recommended at the annual convention the eviction of the Canadian Seamen's Union. At the opening of the convention, the executive asked the more than 900 delegates to "make permanent" the suspension of its re-titled affiliate. The controversy between left and right wing factions in the Congress is expected to produce a rousing fight on the issue. A number of locals have asked that the suspension be lifted. The C.S.U. itself has withdrawn from the Congress following the suspension.

A GLIMMER OF HOPE

Adds Fergie, Perhaps Macadam is unduly worried. Woodcock and his eccentricities may be a bit trying but there isn't much to brag about in the world heavyweight division right now. Ezzard Charles is most convincing and his challengers are no better. "Maybe Bruce will supervise the jaundiced Mr. Macadam. If he beats the aging Savold, when and if they meet, it will surprise us, too, but just a little."

MUSICAL UNIT

A gamut is the set of eight notes in a musical scale which forms an octave. COLD STEEL Some stainless steel can be best worked at 90 degrees below zero, and special tools have had to be designed to work it.

NEW COMMUNIST CONTROLS ARE FORESEEN NOW

WASHINGTON, — New blows against communism in Europe and the far east were forecast today by diplomatic authorities. They viewed these as coming from cold war strategy talks now building to a climax here. Top subjects for discussion at the foreign ministers' conference were believed to be the development of a new western German state, review of negotiations with Russia for an Austrian treaty, exploitation of the split between Yugoslavia and Russia and the erection of far-eastern barriers against the spread of communism outside China.

HART MAY BE LIEUT.-GOV.

OTTAWA — It is reported in political circles here that former Premier John Hart of British Columbia, instead of going to the Senate, will be appointed Lieutenant-Governor of his home province. This explains the recent surprise appointment of Tom Reid, M.P. for New Westminster to a Senate seat, which it had been thought, would go to northern B.C. or Vancouver Island. The recent death of Ian MacKenzie leaves another Senate vacancy for B.C.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis An active storm is approaching the southern British Columbia coast this morning and should move into the southern interior this evening. In the coastal areas the storm will be preceded by rain and strong southeast winds and followed by showery weather and fresh westerly winds. Along the northern coast strong easterly winds will shift to northerly during the afternoon. Rain from the storm will spread into the interior sections of the province during the late afternoon and evening. Forecast North Coast Region—Overcast with intermittent rain this morning becoming cloudy with occasional showers this afternoon and evening. Cloudy with scattered showers Friday. Winds easterly (25) this morning, shifting to northerly (20) this afternoon and evening. Winds northwesterly (20) Friday. Little change in temperature. Low tonight and high Friday at Port Hardy, Masset and Prince Rupert, 50 and 60. W. G. Kelsey, of Winnipeg, assistant C.N.R. tax commissioner, will arrive in the city next Tuesday on business.

REPRESENTS SOUTH AFRICA—Hon. A. A. Roberts, new South African High Commissioner to Canada, has arrived in the capital to assume his new duties. A lawyer, Mr. Roberts has been legal adviser to the South African Government and served as this country's representative at the United Nations agencies. He replaces P. R. Viljoen who is now in Australia. (C. P. Photo)

The Divided Dollar

HERBERT HOOVER, the only living ex-President of the United States was 75 years of age last month, and in valedictory remarks, he issued a warning against government spending and collectivism. He made it plain that if socialization of property had not yet actually arrived, the nation was on the last mile to collectivism, through governmental spending of the savings of the people. There is, he declared, far more courage in reducing debts than in increasing them. Taking out holidays, Sundays and average vacations, there are about 235 working days in the year. This total of 81 days work a year for taxes is about one week out of every month.

"Spending," concluded Hoover, "will absorb between 75 percent and 85 percent of all the savings of the people. In practice it does not work evenly. The few will have some savings, but the many must reduce their standard of living to pay the tax collector. The slogan of a "welfare state" has emerged as a disguise for the totalitarian state."

For those who are avowed believers in the welfare state, this encroachment probably will be considered a welcome step toward the ideal of Socialism, a joyful sacrifice. But to those who retain their belief in a balance between individual responsibility to the nation and individual reward for enterprise and effort, it is proper cause for deep thought.

KEEP FLYING

METAL FATIGUE has been given as one of the reasons for aviation accidents. The recent crash near Quebec could more properly be termed a disaster, for the loss of life was exceptionally heavy but in the search for clues as to the cause, the examination of all wreckage is always prompt, and exceedingly thorough.

Metal fatigue has been found to have several origins—such as a flaw within the metal, a rough spot causing excess friction, or an improper fit between two parts. One small scratch, it is believed, may be sufficient irritation to start the spread of a weakness, especially in moving sections working under a heavy load. Eventually the structure is so reduced in strength that it can no longer carry on.

The time may come when tired metal will be immediately recognized in any vital spot of an aircraft or other vehicle, and when it does, the excellent safety factor sustained by the air lines will no doubt reach an even higher level.

In the meantime, to avoid air travel merely because of an occasional unexplained air crash is an excessive distortion of prudence.

HEAR! HEAR! OLD CHAP

THE AWARDING of five contracts for new naval vessels to shipyards in the Maritime Provinces, Quebec and British Columbia has been announced in Ottawa. So far, it would seem that Prince Rupert in Ottawa. So far, it would seem that Prince Rupert notwithstanding the fact of the local yards and drydock ranking with the finest in the whole Dominion. But really, Canada should expect that every shipyard will do its duty.

B.C. Missionary Hirochima-Bound

Young Anglican Cleric to Start Christian Youth Centre
VANCOUVER — Rev. Harold McSherry, 29-year-old Anglican missionary, who spent five years in the Peace River country, will leave here shortly for Hiroshima, Japan, to set up a Christian Youth Centre.

Last year he studied the Japanese language at Yale. He will start his centre in a former Japanese parade square less than one mile from the scene of the atomic bomb blast which killed almost half of Hiroshima's 310,000 population.

He will be the first member of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada to go to Japan in 20 years. He and his wife, Muriel, former Vancouver school teacher, will be the only Canadians in Hiroshima.

The 10 acres for the centre is a present from the bomo twisted city. "It's like this," said Mr. McSherry. "We murdered a man's wife and children. Then he comes to us with a contribution and says: 'Do what you can with the rest of the kiddies.' It makes you want to do everything possible to help."

The McSherrys will take three tons of freight with them on their 11-day trip by freighter to Japan. This includes a Braille printing plant, 500 pounds of clothing for Japanese children and a year's supply of food for the mission.

"General MacArthur won't allow westerners to live off Japan," he said. "So all our food and furniture has to be shipped from here."

FAILED TO REACH THEIR GOAL—Seeking the remains of the Ark in which Noah and the animals survived the deluge, these U.S. archaeologists, shown in Istanbul, Turkey, climbed 16,000-foot Mount Ararat. Turkey gave the expedition permission for the climb in the face of vigorous Russian protests that the Americans were not seeking the Ark, but spying. The mountain looks down on Russian territory. A Russian aviator first reported having seen the remains of the Ark while flying over Ararat in 1916. Left to right above are Wendall Ogg, health officer and stenographer; Walter I. Wood, mechanical engineer; Dr. A. J. Smith of the Oriental Archaeological Research foundation of Greensboro, N.C., leader of the expedition, and E. J. Newton, U.S. information staff photographer.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

The railway is anxious to do all it can to co-operate with provision of adequate and up-to-date hotel facilities at Prince Rupert, said President Vaughan in an interview at Jasper. When the Canadian National is prepared to go that far, there is small doubt of the ultimate outcome. For the need is here.

A debonair young fellow, greatly gifted in certain ways has been arrested in Toronto. He may be wanted in B.C. He is thought to be the same man who has been relieving families of jewelry, some of the gems having a value perhaps surpassing that of a small fortune. Meanwhile, it remains one's melancholy lot to dwell on the high cost of living (still climbing) and hearken to the multiplying appeals for Aid.

We know of a small, well-worn frame building way out west. It's tilted a bit forward, the paint has changed to a sad, faded red and the signboard says it's a newspaper. Yet, fearless of successful contradiction we dispute such an assertion with every ounce of strength. Search every inch of exterior and interior, and is there a hint or a symptom of a paper, dead or alive? Nay, nay Pauline! Not a symp. What About CROSS-COUNTRY TRAVEL with a HILLMAN?

READ WHAT A RURAL MAILMAN HAS TO SAY ABOUT HIS 12,323 MILES OF DRIVING ON COUNTRY ROADS
"I've driven my Hillman 12,323 miles since last December," writes Mr. Forsyth, "and this is just to tell you how pleased I am with it. Naturally, my job takes me over all kinds of roads in all kinds of weather, but I've never once been stuck! Some of the farm tracks in my territory are full of deep holes and ruts that would severely test the biggest cars made. But even under those conditions my Hillman is amazingly comfortable and holds the roads well. I'm getting really good gas mileage—about 37 miles per gallon with 250 stops at Rural Mail Boxes."
"I can speak very highly of my local Hillman dealer," adds Mr. Forsyth. "Everyone from boss to mechanics has given me best-class service."
For the convenience of Hillman owners, a permanent network of dealers provides parts and service from coast to coast in Canada and the U.S.A. Arrange now with your dealer for a Hillman demonstration ride!

WOULD RESTORE PUBLIC APPEALS FOR HOSPITALS

British Hospital Authorities Criticize Government Policy Under Health Service Scheme

LONDON — One of the many questions raised by Britain's controversial national health service is whether hospitals should be allowed to appeal directly to the public for funds.

Under the health plan, hospitals are not permitted to participate in appeals. If voluntary gifts are received, they must be used only for amenities or research.

Many hospital authorities criticize this policy. Some say it puts a serious crimp in their efforts to provide a first-class service.

The King Edward's Hospital for London, which for more than 50 years has made grants to hospitals in the London area, suggested in its annual report that the ban on public appeals should be lifted.

If hospitals could obtain support from sources other than state funds, it said, "we might yet make the best of both worlds and achieve a truly British com-

BIG INCREASE IN COSTS

Hospitals, unable to appeal to the public, were turning to the fund for assistance.

Hospital and specialist expenditure in England and Wales under the health service has risen to £170,000,000 ($680,000,000) compared with the £87,000,000 estimated when the bill was presented to parliament.

Health Minister Aneurin Bevan recently ordered hospitals to review their budgets with an eye to saving money, but authorities are pessimistic about the prospects.

It has been estimated Britain needs at least 60,000 more hospital beds. Lack of funds to staff them is the chief cause of the shortage.

NOT MADE FOR BEAUTY—

A disposable constant-flow oxygen mask which will cost about 25 cents when it gets into mass production, is the latest device designed for the comfort of high altitude airline passengers. As the wearer breathes in oxygen, the thin plastic bellows on the mask expands and contracts, and exhaled gases escape through a porous paper face-piece. The mask will be effective at altitudes of from 20,000 to 25,000 feet, but aero medical scientists emphasize it is not expected to perform satisfactorily above that level.

CAMPAIGNS AND NEW METHODS REDUCE FIRES

VANCOUVER — Educational campaigns and improved fire-fighting methods have reduced forest-fire damage in most provinces a Canadian Press survey shows.

British Columbia reported the worst fire damage in a number of years but most other provinces had fewer fires. Government officials attributed the reduction to intensive press and radio campaigns, and improved fire-fighting facilities.

In Nova Scotia 100,000 school children are members of the Green Forests League, hear lectures in fire prevention, publish a magazine and wear identifying buttons. In each forest section of Ontario a lands and forest department employee arranges fire prevention lectures, movies and radio talks. The Alberta government is conducting a four-week press and radio campaign to educate the public to the danger of dry forests.

In Ontario up to late August there had been 1,369 forest fires this year compared with 2,036 in 1948. In Saskatchewan there were 197, compared with 1948's 211. Exact figures were not available in all provinces but Quebec officials said fires were fewer. New Brunswick officials said fire damage was "comparatively small."

Forest fire damage in Nova Scotia last year was the least in 30 years and government officials said they expected about the same conditions this year.

Saskatchewan last year spent $25,000 fighting forest fires that burned through 250,000 acres. Firefighting parachutists stationed at Lac La Ronge, Sask., were believed to be the first in Canada, a recently installed fire-hazard rating system can predict forest conditions two or three days in advance.

Ontario fire-fighters are becoming increasingly mechanized and air-minded. Besides pump trucks and bulldozers Ontario fire-fighters use six Beaver aircraft, equipped with ground-to-air and ground-to-ground radio.

Most provincial officials reported success with the policy of shutting off forest areas when fire-hazard ratings reached a dangerous level. The number of fires on private lands were con-

Wartime Channel Swim Recalled By Present Crop

By DOUG GREEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

REGINA — The recent revival of the sport of swimming—or trying to swim—the English Channel has brought back memories to Tom (Regina Leader-Post) Melville.

"We had the dubious pleasure of seeing a man trying to swim the Channel in 1942," says Melville who, as a Lieutenant in the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, was taken prisoner when the Canadians raided Dieppe that year.

"It was on that raid we've been trying to live down, the one the football year books won't let us forget. The fellow, out of Winnipeg, was a little guy with the magnificent name of Auchterlonie.

"A bunch of us were on the French side, looking at a British destroyer on the horizon and feeling quite homesick.

"It was too much for Auchterlonie, who shed his boots and made a run for it across the beach. He had an unfriendly audience on the high cliffs above, but somehow or other they couldn't hit him and the last we saw of Auchterlonie was a dot on the horizon, where the destroyer had been some time before.

"It was the last we saw of him for a couple of hours, that is."

Then, Tom recalls, the dot reappeared and slowly came into shore. Finally, Auchterlonie's feet hit bottom and he waded, unmindful of the missiles, through the water and up to the beach, to collapse under the sea wall.

"Geez!" somebody said, "where you been?"

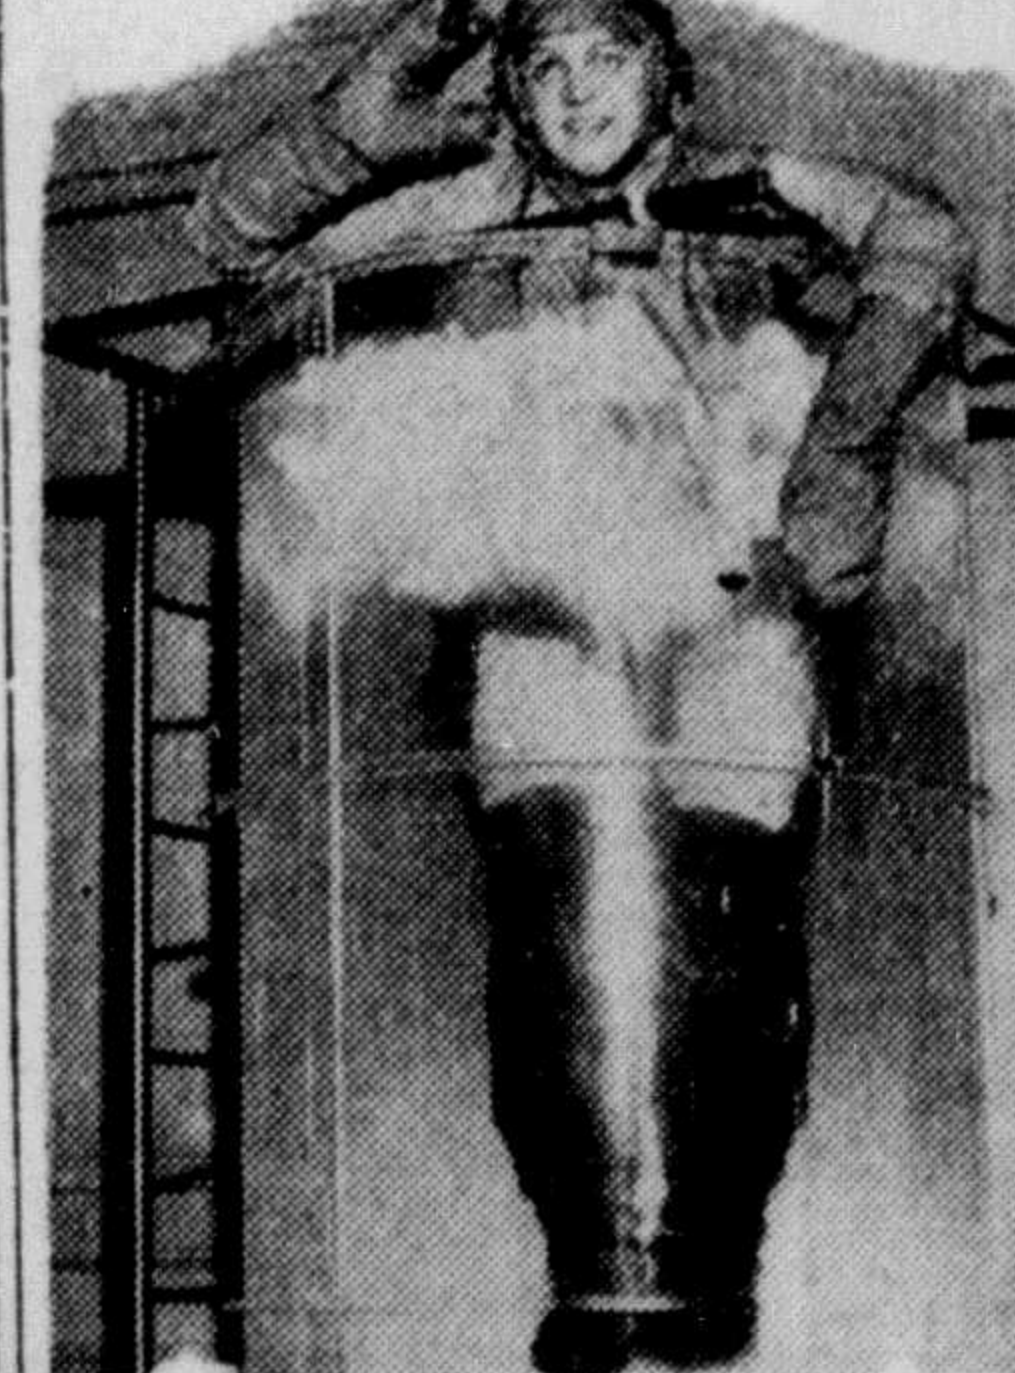

"Auchterlonie managed a breath or two and whispered, 'I went after that blankety-blank destroyer. I waded at it, but the dirty so-and-so wouldn't stop!'"

"How far did you get?"

"Hell, I was half way to England, but I got tired and had to come back!"

If Auchterlonie had looked after his mathematics when he went to school, Melville adds by way of postscript, he would have been the first man to swim the English Channel fully clothed.

"Instead, he spent three years with the unfriendly audience

THE OLD ROCK BACK IN FORM

NEW YORK. — The wild-eyed Rocky Graziano of old returned just in time to stop Charlie Fusari in 2:04 of the tenth round at the Polo Grounds here last night in a furious brawl.

Referee Ruby Goldstein stepped in to save Fusari from serious damage as he stood helpless in a neutral corner after taking a savage, last round beating.

Knowing well that only a knock-out could win, the ring-rusty Rock, returning to the New York ring after a three-year exile, exploded his old wild fury in the tenth.

Draping Fusari over the ropes with a two-fisted attack, Graziano dropped Charlie for the count of nine—and Charlie did just beat the count. Then Graziano went after him again, pinning him in a neutral corner under a deluge of sledge hammer blows.

which had been potting at him from the cliffs."

Now that Shirley May France has given up her attempt to swim the Channel, and provided no further aspirants appear, the Channel should be safe for shipping from now on, Melville observes with a sigh of relief.

Cuts Living Costs In Tree-Top House

VANCOUVER. — Robert Fairweather has been up a tree for the last year.

He has no rent to pay, no taxes to worry about, no lawnmower for the neighbors to borrow. And he wonders why more people don't live in trees.

His house is a nine-by-nine log cabin perched about 15 feet off the ground in the fork of three tree trunks, in the woods on the north shore of Vancouver harbor.

It has two thicknesses of spruce and poplar logs, with a thick layer of mud on the inside and a steep pitched roof, made of boards from packing cases.

He's started to build a heavy plank stairway from his bedroom to a wooded stairway, and then upstairs. I like the floors and places. I'll stucco the walls, time, too."

Fairweather, 33, who came here in 1947 to get social assistance was out of work in the woods with his started building.

Mrs. Dudley Little was hostess at her home to a miscellaneous shower for Miss Greta Cockcroft, anaesthetician at the Outpost Hospital who was married to Dale Steffansen in Terrace on Monday morning at a civil rite performed by Constable Brue. The honoree, who came here from England early in the year and who has been a very popular member of the hospital nursing staff, was surprised and delighted with the lovely gifts she received. A social evening was quickly passed and a buffet supper served by the hostess. Among those present or sending gifts were, Miss E. Spence, Mrs. E. Mills, Mrs. McGilvery, Mrs. Sikler, Miss Michasiv, Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. Bain, Mrs. McAdams, Mrs. Dodds and Mrs. Kaulbeck.

Jay McGilvery had a narrow escape from drowning last Sunday when out fishing with his dad at Copper River, he fell in. The current was carrying him downstream when the doctor heard his son's cry and fished him out. Fortunately, he is none the worse for his experience.

Judges for the Fall Fair who arrived in Terrace on Wednesday and are for the Women's division, Miss Eileen Cross of the Extension Department, University of British Columbia, Mr. Ken Ellison of Smithers, Mr. Ken Jamieson, Shirley Preston of Prince George. All are arriving by car from the interior.

Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch Smith, with their son - in - law and daughter arrived by car on Monday and have taken up residence in their old farm home along the Eby Road. Leaving here early in the war, they have been located at Trail for several years.

Mrs. D. Tunison and Ann returned on Friday from Vancouver where Ann has been undergoing medical treatment.

Holland War Graves Given Loving Care

VANCOUVER (C)—Graves of Canadian servicemen in Holland are better cared for than those in Canada, reports a mother whose son was killed in the Second World War.

Mrs. Margaret Bristow, of Vancouver, president of the Silver Cross Mothers, who has just returned from a two-month tour of European cemeteries, says, "It was white crosses and flowers all the way in Holland. The cemeteries could not be tended more lovingly."

Mrs. Bristow, first Canadian mother to visit Dutch cemeteries as guest of the Netherlands war graves committee, says Dutch families have "adopted" every one of the 4,000 known Canadian graves in the country.

FRANCOIS LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rushton entertained at a wicker roast at their home the lakeshore "Sleepy Hollow" recently. The home was filled with young people from Burns Lake and Francois Lake and all had a grand time singing and consuming quantities of delicious home-cooked food.

Mrs. Andy Anderson, now of Victoria, is visiting Mrs. R. K. Jones at the J.P. Ranch.

Mr and Mrs. Jack Reed drove in their station wagon to Prince George Saturday morning, taking Margaret, Elizabeth Godwin and Jacqui White on the first lap of their journey back to Vancouver. The girls spent their holidays at the Tweed Ranch.

Ann Schreiber will stay with Mr. and Mrs. John Keefe and attend Burns Lake High School. Dorraine Rushton will stay with Mr. and Mrs. J. Reed and also go to Burns Lake School by bus.

Mrs. Gwen Van Zanten entertained at a wedding shower on Sunday evening in honor of Josephine Marie (Josie) Keefe who will shortly be married to Hugh Neave.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Reed took several school children to the Stampede at Vanderhoof on Monday, and report having enjoyed it very much. We are proud of two riders who went from here, Chuck Miller who rode in the bucking horse competition, and Matthew Nobles who came in first in the stake race. He broke the record for Vanderhoof in the time he and his horse rode this race.

Social Life Absent For Many Londoners

LONDON (Reuters)—Many of London's women are too tired to do anything at the end of the day except to go to the movies, according to a survey here.

The survey was prepared by Mrs. Muriel Smith, community centres director of the London Council of Social Services, and it revealed that for many people social life does not exist.

"Very few men or women took part in any organization—religious, political, educational, recreational or social," the survey reported.

"We are surprised to find that many people said they had lived in the same apartment for many years and had never spoken to their neighbors except to say 'good morning.'"

So quick—(one fifteen minute treatment destroys lice and their eggs)—so sure—so easy! Here's all you do—Rub Cuprex gently and thoroughly on your youngster's hair and scalp, using a small quantity at a time. After 15 minutes, wash the hair with soap and water and, while it's still damp, comb thoroughly with a fine comb. Works wonders!—just be sure to follow the directions with every bottle of Cuprex!

Home . . . often busy, untidy home when you rush in from school with a mess of your chewing gum and a mess of your chewing gum . . . but there's a handy little thing called ENERGEN chewing gum, green and pink! Cut Your Milk Bill with "Carnation-and-Coffee"

Says MRS. RONALD JACKSON of Montreal, Quebec

Mrs. Jackson is mother of five healthy, growing children—all were Carnation babies. She knows the importance of stretching a food budget! And Mrs. Jackson finds Carnation so economical!

Undiluted Carnation is wonderful in coffee, for instance—and in most recipes that call for cream. Diluted Carnation (half Carnation, half water) is ready at a moment's notice, to fill every whole milk need. And there's no spoilage in the unopened can, even at Summer temperature and without refrigeration.

Make the "6-cup Test!"

Carnation costs only about half as much as cream—yet millions prefer it in coffee. You owe it to yourself to give it a fair trial—and one cup of coffee isn't enough.

So drink your next 6 cups of coffee with Carnation—and vary the amount in each cup until you get the combination that suits you best. It'll cost you only a few cents to find out how to save dollars—and to discover that: "You can't beat Carnation 'n' Coffee."

Take a Deep Breath Before Saying This

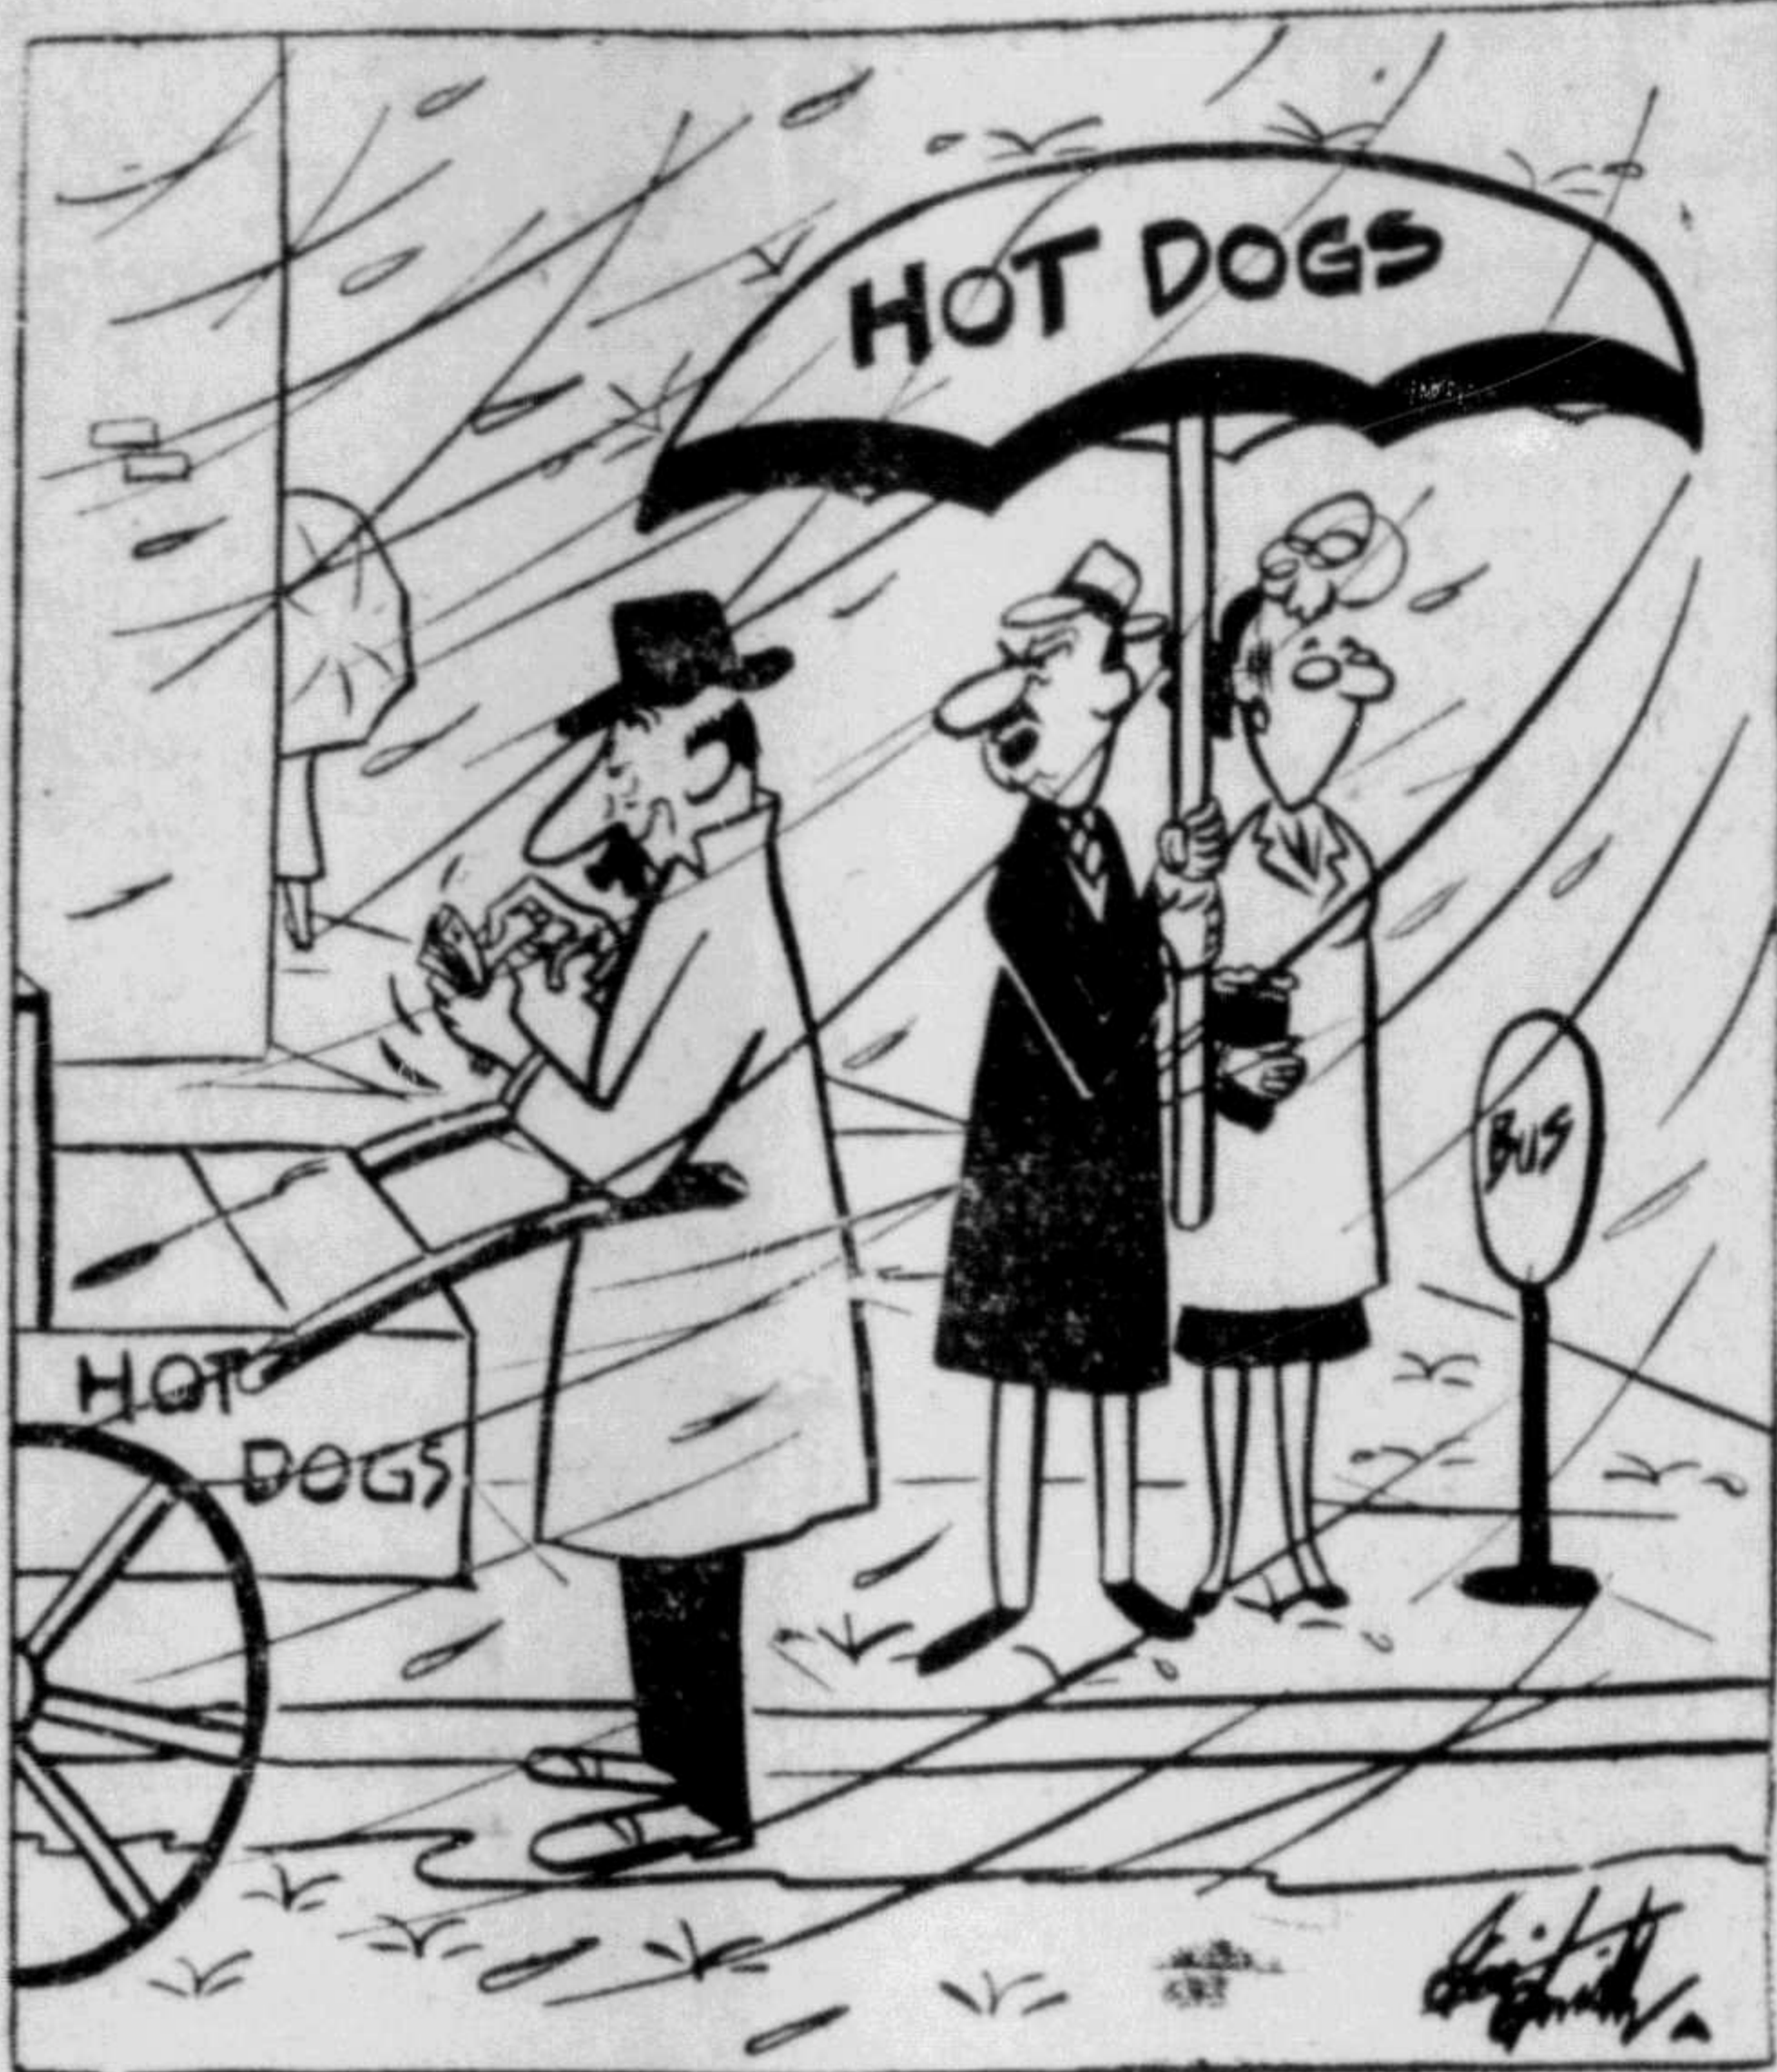

COPPERMINE, N.W.T. ©—Suinnekduarattakeluktalarluarakarlungale. That's one word—in Eskimo. It is one of the many tongue-twisters in the Eskimo prayer book of Rev. Lucien Delalonde, Roman Catholic missionary at this mining settlement 950 miles north of Edmonton. The word, in English, means "because I have sinned a lot in the past."

Both words include the phrase "in the past." It would be natural to assume they would look alike. But there is almost no similarity. The Eskimos, who have more to do with snow than any other race, don't even have a word for it. Instead, they have several words for different kinds of snow—snow on the ground, falling snow, granulated snow crystals, fluffy snow, wet snow and others.

Lack of Fish Diet Hurts Mink Farming

Fur Industry in Lac La Biche Area Wanes Because of Death of Whitefish. LAC LA BICHE, Alta. ©—Mink ranching, once a popular industry in this town 90 miles north-east of Edmonton, has waned in importance as the area's whitefish have been dying off. The whitefish, used as food for the mink, died off due to lack of oxygen in the water during the winter months. Provincial game authorities say a heavy weed growth on the lake floor used up the oxygen in the water.

As a result commercial fishing in the lake has been banned until the now-meagre whitefish colonies are once again in sufficient supply. Enough fish survived that authorities decided restocking would be unnecessary, and it is hoped the lake may be reopened to commercial fishing again next year.

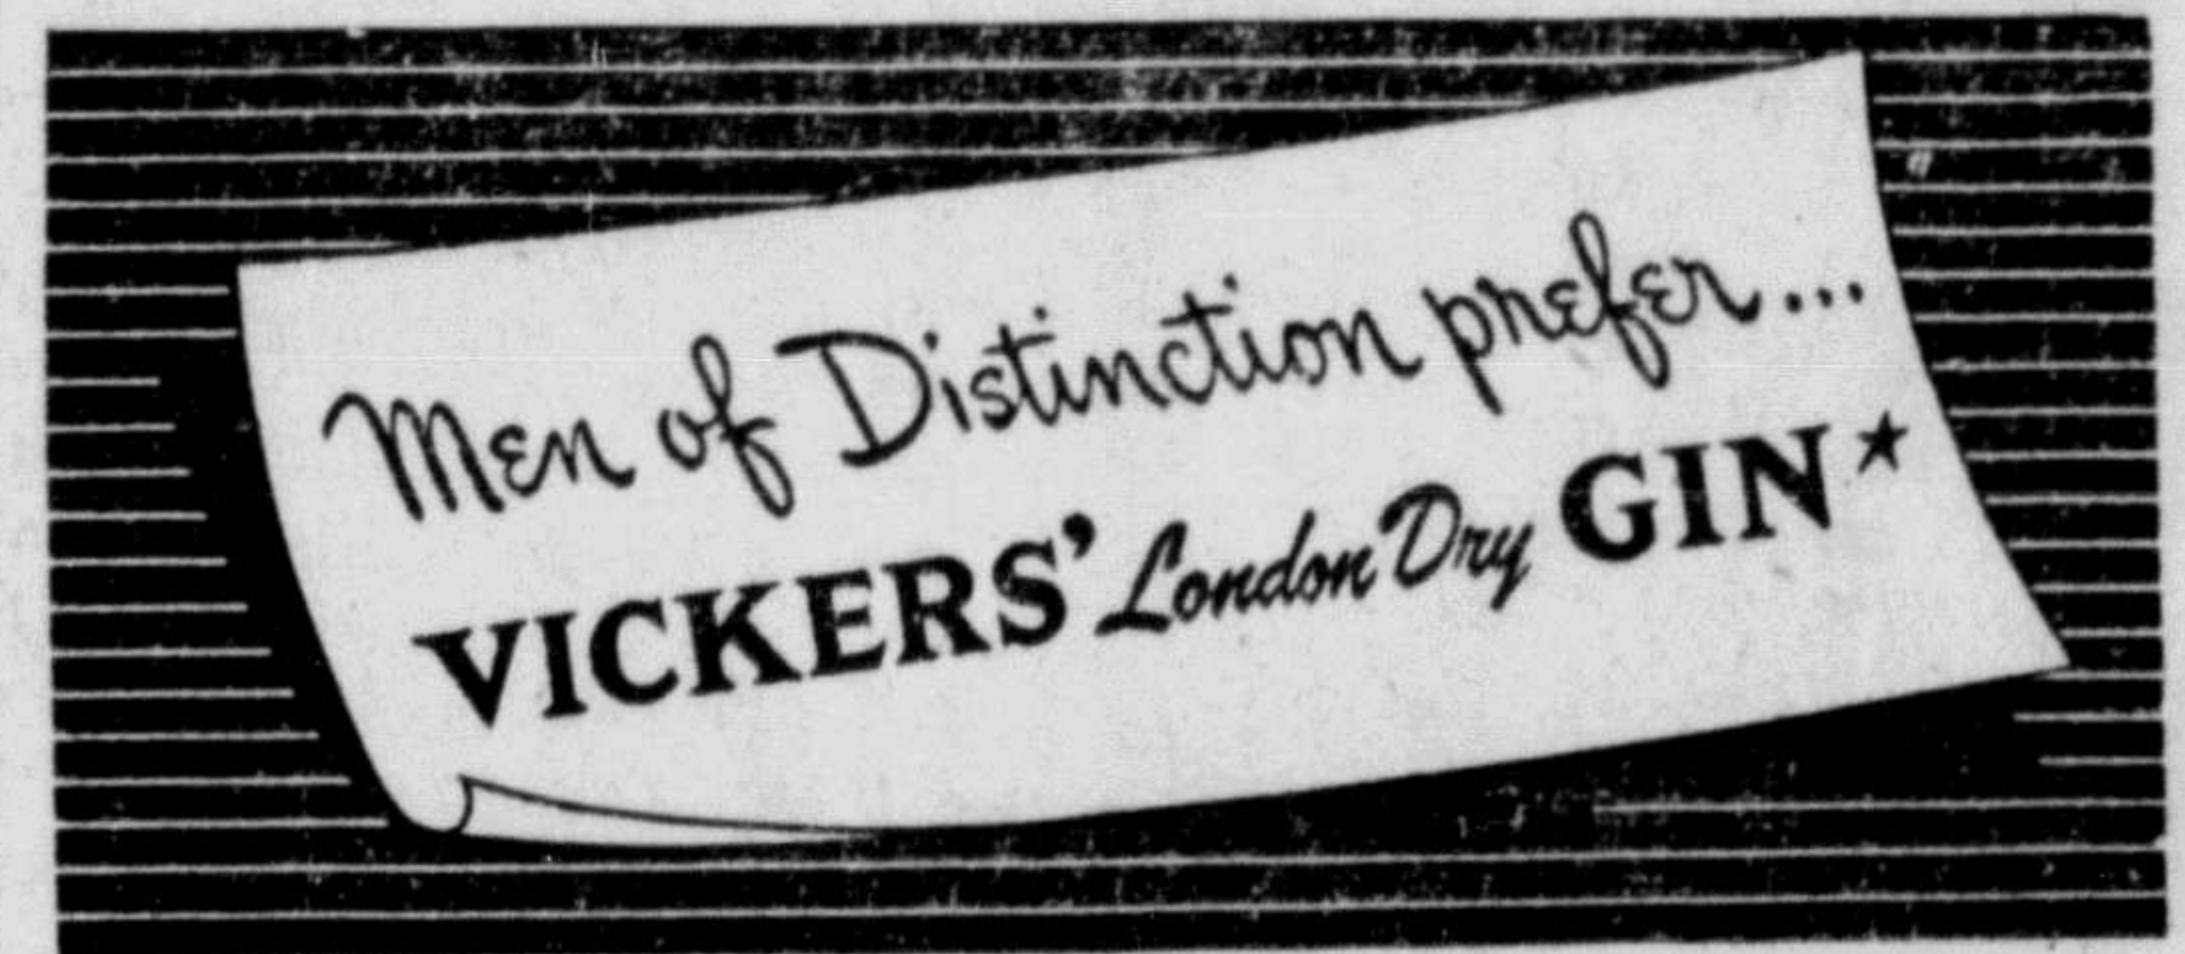

Meanwhile the mink industry is in the doldrums. Some ranchers even tried to fly fish into the area to feed the mink, but high transportation costs and falling milk prices made this impractical. Now many of the farmers have turned to raising alfalfa, waiting for the day when the lake's fish population gets back to normal.

WOULD AMEND MARRIAGE LAWS

HALIFAX ©—The lower house of the seventeenth Synod of the Church of England in Canada voted Wednesday to permit the "innocent party" to a divorce to re-marry and keep all church services and sacraments.

The motion endorsing the action, sponsored by the Diocese of Calgary, needs approval of the House of Bishops before any move can be made to amend the church's laws on marriage or divorce.
