Ice and Snow Storms Eastern Canada and U.S. Wreaking Further Havoc

Ontario Power Lines, Communication Systems Disrupted—Property Damage In United States Running Into Millions

WINDSOR (CP)—A snow and sleet storm lashed across southwestern Ontario Thursday, snapping power lines, disrupting communications and traffic.

Windsor took the brunt of the storm. Forecasters said the centre of the storm would move eastward to London, Hamilton and Toronto early today.

New Year's Drowning Tragedy

A New Year's night drowning claimed the life of a Sunnyside man whose body was recovered less than two hours after he had fallen into the Skeena River near the cannery wharf.

George Green, fisherman and brother of eight, lost his life when he slipped between his boat and snow at 7 o'clock last night. He was stepping onto his boat when he slipped on the snow-covered deck, falling into the water. His body was recovered about 9 o'clock and taken to Port Edward. It was brought to Prince Rupert later.

CABLE WORKERS WALK OFF JOBS

NEW YORK (CP)—Overseas communication Union workers went on strike in four cable companies today, tying up an estimated two-thirds of the facilities of transmissions between the United States and the rest of the world.

The walkout, which involved 500 employees, began at 1:01 p.m. Central Standard Time, while federal conciliators were attempting to bridge the differences between union and company negotiators. Disagreements were on provisions of new contracts to replace those which expired last night.

A spokesman for the unaffected cable companies expressed belief that they could handle the bulk of traffic ordinarily carried by strikebound companies.

"White" New Year Greet City

Prince Rupert entered 1948 whitened by a three-inch snowfall that began falling early New Year's morning after a night of sleet and rain that did little to halt the night's merry-making.

The snow began to fall shortly after 5 o'clock New Year's morning, continued throughout the day and stopped this morning when the sky began to clear for the first time in days.

The snow blanket was a major factor in several minor auto mishaps, causing cars to skid over curbs and into ditches, but no one was injured.

They were under way, extending into the small hours of the morning. Roisterers pushed over the decaying guard rail on the McBride Street sidewalk between Third and Fourth Avenues shortly after midnight, New Year's Eve. The City Engineer's department placed red lanterns there to warn pedestrians.

A fire at the Pioneer Laundry on New Year's Eve damaged a quantity of linen in a linen closet and scorched woodwork before it was put out by the fire department. Cause of the blaze, the only one with the exception of a chimney fire, is not known.

The chimney fire at the residence of Bert Sheppard, 229 Seventh Avenue East, was extinguished without damage to the building.

The police reported no arrests over the holiday.

INCREASE PRICE OF FUEL OIL

TORONTO, (CP)—Increases in prices of gasoline and fuel oils throughout Canada were announced today by the Imperial Oil Company.

In British Columbia the price of stove and furnace oil increased 1 1/2 cents a gallon. Gasoline prices were not advanced in B.C., pending decision of the Petroleum Control Board.

Heavy industrial fuel oil and engine diesel oil advanced 1 1/2 cents a gallon.

14 KILLED AS TRAINS CRASH IN MISSOURI

OTTERVILLE, Mo., (CP)—Alexander W. Weddell, former United States ambassador to Spain and Argentina, and 13 other travellers were killed New Year's Day in a collision of two passenger trains near this Central Missouri town.

Approximately 12 persons were injured, five requiring hospital treatment.

The collision occurred during a heavy snowstorm while the Missouri Pacific's "The Missouri" was travelling from St. Louis to Kansas City in two sections. The engine of the second section rammed a pullman of the first section.

RELIEF FORCES NEAR KONITSA

ATHENS (CP)—Greek army relief forces pressed to within sight today of embattled Konitsa, where a weary 1,000-man garrison has been holding out since Christmas Day against furious attacks by an estimated 5,000 guerrillas.

Military authorities said the juncture of relieving forces with the garrison could be expected about noon. Rebel losses in the immediate Konitsa area were estimated at 300 dead, 600 wounded and about 100 captured. The wounded were being taken to Albanian hospitals, military sources said.

CANADA SEEKING NEW DELEGATE TO UNITED NATIONS

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion government now has decided against appointing Dana Wilgress as chief of Canada's permanent delegation to the United Nations and is searching for another candidate. It was learned today.

The cabinet apparently felt it was too much to have Wilgress undertake the heavy task at the United Nations after his long siege of international conferences in the last two years. At present he is Canadian minister to Switzerland.

SON HELD AFTER FATHER'S DEATH

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police today investigated the death of Harold Willshire, 55, who died New Year's Eve allegedly after a fight with his 18-year-old son. The son was arrested New Year's Day after running to a neighbor's home and crying: "I've killed my father."

The boy is held without charge, pending investigation.

Nehru Protesting Pakistan Action

NEW DELHI (CP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, accusing Moslem Pakistan again of helping invaders of the border state of Kashmir, said tonight that Hindu India has appealed to the Security Council of the United Nations on December 30 for intervention.

BRITAIN'S JERUSALEM POLICE HAVE BUSY TIME—British police file along a street in Jerusalem after an Arab mob had wrecked Jewish stores and inflicted heavy damage in the area. Prince Rupert Weather Reached Extremes of Sun, Rain in 1947

Prince Rupert's weather in 1947 was a thing of extremes, setting records for sunshine, rainfall and low temperatures in comparison with other recent years.

For instance, sunshine glowed on the city for 873.42 hours, the most since 1944, and more than 57 hours greater than in 1946.

Rainfall, however, captured the real record. In 1947 there were 107.95 inches, the most since 1939.

Last year also met the record set in 1916 for low temperature. On January 31, 1947, the mercury dropped to three degrees below zero, touching, but not exceeding, the 30-year minimum.

Highest temperature during the year was 78 degrees, reached on May 27, which was one degree higher than the 1946 maximum.

Top temperature registered since 1940 was 81.5 degrees, registered in July, 1941. Here is a chart of the annual weather records since 1938. Sunshine is given in hours and rainfall in inches:

Year	Sun	Rain	High	Low
1938	996.6	74.58	78	12
1939	899	118.94	76	10
1940	972	91.76	78	16
1941	1168	93.5	81.5	15
1942	925	82.96	81	22
1943	930	90.76	77	1
1944	978.3	74.3	78	24
1945	828.3	90.45	80	31
1946	816.3	103.32	77	17.2
1947	873.42	107.95	78	-3

December, 1947, with 19.9 inches of rain was the wettest month in the 10-year period. The only month that approached its moisture-laden total was November, 1939, when 18.63 inches of rain fell.

However, for some unaccountable reason, it also was one of the brightest Decembers on record, with 18.32 hours of bright sunshine.

Maximum temperature during the month was 48 degrees, and the minimum 30. Barometer readings showed a high of 30.14 inches on December 4 and a minimum of 28.94 inches on December 18.

Average temperature for the month was 39.5 degrees. Maximum wind velocity was 42 miles an hour from the southeast on December 22, reaching 48 miles an hour in gusts.

Holy Land Strife May Delay British Army Withdrawal

LONDON (CP)—Authoritative government sources said today that Great Britain may be "compelled" to delay her scheduled military withdrawal from Palestine in August, if violence between Jews and Arabs continues.

He indicated also that continuation of the conflict might force the British government to surrender its Palestine mandate to the United States earlier than May 15, as originally planned.

ANTI-INFLATION BILL FOR FRANCE

PARIS (CP)—Premier Robert Schuman presented the new anti-inflation bill to the French National Assembly today and threatened to resign if any changes were voted in it.

The bill is designed to raise about 120 billion francs (billion dollars). Schuman decided to withdraw a previous anti-inflation bill, approved last week by the assembly. The amendments to the previous measure cut the expected income from the bill by about one-third of what had been originally planned. The premier said the new bill was a compromise and told deputies he would accept no changes.

After hearing the premier's statement, the assembly recessed until mid-afternoon.

THROAT CUT, MAN RECOVERS

His throat slashed, Archie McNeil, Port Edward cannery worker, was brought to hospital here at 1 o'clock this morning by city ambulance.

Ambulance attendants John McLean and A. Dewar brought McNeil to hospital from his home after receiving a call from Port Edward shortly before midnight. McNeil, being treated by Dr. A. W. Large, was reported this morning to be recovering.

Bert Albertson Left Snowbound Prize Car 10 Miles From Home

Helge Sorensen Locates His Partner Only Shortly After Death—No Trace Yet of Automobile

The still-warm body of H. (Bert) Albertson, Dorreen sawmill operator, missing since December 24, was found Wednesday afternoon on the Highway, 10 snowbound miles west of his home.

Albertson apparently had collapsed or was hit by a falling tree in a vain attempt to walk home a week after his car had stalled during a blizzard on Christmas Eve.

Albertson's body, still warm, indicating that he had died only a short time before, was found at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon by his partner, Helge Sorensen, who had set out from Dorreen that morning to seek him.

Up to this morning, searchers had found no sign of the car, a Chevrolet ruffled on December 12 by the Prince Rupert Rotary Club, in which Albertson set out from Terrace at 5:30 p.m. on December 24.

It was believed to be less than three miles west of where Albertson's body was discovered, and the possibility that it went over the bank is discounted.

Only part of the road not covered by Sorensen and Constables Brue and Rogers of Terrace was a three-mile stretch which runs through comparatively flat country, with no steep precipices on either side.

It is thought that Albertson lived for almost a week in his stalled car, and then set out for either Pacific or Dorreen. He collapsed or was struck by a falling tree in the deep snow after walking between two and three miles.

It is known that he had a considerable quantity of food in his car when he left Terrace. He had purchased it during his brief visit to that village. He lived on it for a week.

Constables Brue and Rogers set out in search of Albertson on Wednesday from Usk, snowshoeing eight miles before they became exhausted by the wet, heavy snow.

Scores of trees over the roads made it so difficult for them to carry on that they did not cover the flat, three-mile stretch which is now believed to contain the snow-covered car.

Sorensen, who set out from Dorreen with a sleigh pulled by horses, stopped when he discovered his partner's body, across the Skeena River from the station at Pitman.

Albertson set out from Terrace during a blizzard. His absence was not discovered until Sorensen telephoned to Terrace on December 30 and learned that he had left for home on Christmas Eve.

Police set out again this morning on a railway speeder carrying a small boat and a toboggan. They plan to cross the river in the boat and pick up the body in the toboggan. They also are determined to find the car.

COUPLE DIE IN TRAFFIC CRASH

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two persons were killed in suburban Lulu Island early Thursday in a traffic accident that marred an otherwise light New Year's holiday traffic record in the Lower Mainland.

The dead are: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Malpinka, Vancouver.

Police said the couple were struck by a B.C. Electric Company bus by Edward Butchart of New Westminster.

86-Inch Snow Fall "Trifling" To Stewart

STEWART — The 86-inch blanket of snow which mantles this Portland Canal metropolis is termed "trifling" by its residents who are used to much greater snow depths.

It had little effect on the holiday spirit which warmed the community during the Christmas-New Year holiday week, and thanks to the Public Works Department, traffic was maintained.

A new "Sicard" rotary snow plow purchased by the Public Works Department has done excellent work in clearing the highways. The road to Silbak-Premier mine was closed briefly and it required the motive power of two jeeps to enable a number of married men to get home at Christmas.

House-to-house visiting was carried on through the week and hospitality flourished despite the snow.

SAWLOG SCALE GREATER THAN 1946 LEVEL

Sawlog scale for the Prince Rupert forestry district in 1947 was greater by more than 87,000,000 board feet than in 1946, records supplied by District Forester J. E. Mathieson reveal. Production last year totalled 253,288,573 board feet, as compared with 171,269,003 in 1946.

However, the output of poles and piling last year was less than half the 1946 level. Last year, pole and piling production totalled 2,320,047 lineal feet, while in 1946 it was 4,978,898.

Last month's sawlog scale was 25,425,342 board feet as compared with 14,394,433 in December, 1946. Pole and piling scale dwindled to 63,905 feet last month while in December, 1946 it was 859,991.

Railroad tie production last month, was sharply above the corresponding month in 1946. There were 16,721 ties cut last December, as compared with 9,976 in December, 1946.

There were 10 cords of wood cut in December, while in the same month of 1946 there were 564 cords cut.

Sawlog production last month was made up as follows:

Fir	701,991
Spruce	13,140,389
Cedar	4,502,389

It's A Great '48--Or Is It?

THIS MORNING, a fair proportion of our population arose feeling an unaccountable inner glow which, after a moment of fuzzy thought, they managed to identify as a radiance resulting from their New Year's resolutions. Bedside consideration of their calendar of resolves may or may not have added to that inner radiance.

Take any hypothetical member of that group who have committed themselves to the excoriation of their faults and peccadillos. "Out," this man said nobly, "with these annoying bad habits which have been hounding me, complicating my life. The coming year will see me rid of them all."

Immediately he became suffused with a glow of virtue which he felt, justified any sacrifice involved in parting with his burden of minor vices. The feeling was so rich, so good, that he wondered why he had waited a whole year to enjoy it. That was the first step.

The second step came this morning, January 2, when he arose from bed to take up the labors that he had laid down in 1947. Things were pretty normal, except that he felt unaccountably good. Remembering his resolutions he felt even better, ready to face with conquest the day, the week, the year.

On the other hand, closer examination of his resolve may have raised the spectre of endless days without the consolation of those habits which he had so nobly renounced. But still relishing his feeling of freedom and virtue, he put his doubting thoughts behind him and continued about his morning routine.

The third step in this annual drama will not be completed for some days, weeks or even months yet. From it will be determined the success or failure of this adventure in self uplifting and mastery. No statistics are available on the mass results of previous New Year's resolutions, but it is pretty well recognized that virtue has had a pretty hard time of it.

But this year, of course, we are determined to make a success of it.

EDUCATION TODAY

Education has been described as a drawing out—an unfolding of the inner mental faculties—whether as a flower which may be a matter for discussion, and it is a long process and not completed when the boy or girl leaves school, even though it be the senior high school. It should be a lifelong pursuit, and no matter what one's age may be, there should be the same wide-awake interest in not only what is going on in the way of current news, but in the discovery of new ways of learning and in strengthening the memory for what is best.—Amherst News.

LOG CABIN IS COWICHAN BAY ART GALLERY

Amateur Artist Also Master of Miniature Penmanship

COWICHAN BAY, B.C. — John Spears' art gallery which has attracted considerable attention in this Vancouver Island town, 35 miles north of Victoria, is a squared-log cabin built in the year of Confederation.

The pictures, all water colors of Vancouver Island scenes, number about 200, were painted by Spears in leisure moments between jobs on his farm. Spears now 74, came to his grandfathers cabin from Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, at the age of 14.

On the backs of some are such labels as first prize amateur, Vancouver Exhibition 1920; second prize amateur, Victoria, 1923; and second prize, professional, Vancouver 1929.

"Summer visitors often come up to look them over," he said, "and I sell about half a dozen a year. But I won't be painting any more now; that's all past history."

Spears won fame in quite a different field 20 years ago—miniature penmanship. He wrote the alphabet on pinheads and the Lord's Prayer in a two-inch pencil line, again "for a hobby."

Three exhibits of his work, including a postcard with 12,500 words pencilled on it without use of magnifying glass, are now in the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C.

"Used to write a little for publication, too," he said, "but the man who had the real touch for that profession is the man who kept the store and taught school at the next farm section. You know him—Robert Service."

"Down in the south of France now, I hear. That's not for me; I like the outdoors, the kind of outdoors we have here in Cowichan Bay."

STYLE-SETTER—Stylists who keep an eye on royalty may soon be making copies of this ensemble worn by Princess Margaret Rose of England, shown on her way to a theatre in London. She's wearing a hat, coat and muff trimmed with beaver. Ribbon tied in a bow is wrapped around the muff.

AUSTRALIA MAY SET UP F.B.I.

SYDNEY, Australia — To simplify law enforcement in Australia a move is being made to establish a Federal Bureau of Investigation similar to the F.B.I. of the United States.

Work of the proposed bureau would include scientific and statistical recording of all criminal offences and offenders "within and without the commonwealth."

Police here maintain that the scientific analysis of small, seemingly insignificant objects enables F.B.I. of America to solve crimes and track down criminals who would escape without the help of science.

It is understood that the chief of the F.B.I., J. Edgar Hoover, has furnished the Australian police chiefs with secret documents concerning the methods of his department.

If an F.B.I. is established in Australia new laws will have to be introduced by the federal government to enable the federal "G-men" to follow their man over the state borders. At present police of one state cannot cross over to a sister state in search of a criminal but must apply to the police of that state to take up the hunt.

DE VALERA GIRDS FOR CHALLENGE OF STRENGTHENING REPUBLICANS

By PATRICK QUINN

DUBLIN (Reuters) — After 15 years in power, Eamon De Valera, 65-year-old Eire premier faces the most stubborn struggle of his career in general elections due early next year.

Leading challenger to his rule is a brilliant barrister 22 years his junior, Sean MacBride, head of the new Republican party, which in recent by-elections wrested two seats from De Valera's Fianna Fail party by large majorities. It was this by-election reverse which decided De Valera to go to the country for a new mandate.

Like De Valera, MacBride is a romantic figure by Irish standards, with all the attributes of political leadership. Son of a rebel, cold, austere, yet likeable, a teetotaler and a good speaker, he is a former chief of staff of the Irish Republican army. His father fought with Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts—now South African premier—in the South African war in the Irish brigade, and was executed later by the British for his prominent part in the Easter Rising of 1916. His wife is the daughter of a rebel. The policy of the Republican party has never been clearly defined. MacBride's main argument is that De Valera and his party have been in power too long, have done too little for the country and have outlived their usefulness. Observers here regard his eight-point "basic policy" as vaguely worded and say any party could use it without changing a punctuation mark.

BACKED BY LABOR

Belief is that MacBride has strong Socialist leanings. In the coming elections Labor and the Republicans will co-operate and are expected to secure seats for one party or the other, in a number of constituencies.

Fine Gail, official opposition party of the right, has been covering some lost ground in by-elections. Some independents and farmers' candidates will join in the onslaught against De Valera's group and are expected to gain some seats.

De Valera and his Fianna Fail party are not under estimating the challenge. Frank Aiken, minister of finance, said recently the party was "stretching its muscles and rousing itself for the most vibrant election in its 21 years of life."

Grave, scholarly, sphinx-like De Valera, who has spent half his life in active military and political campaigning, is determined to rouse his followers to a supreme effort.

PERSONAL INTEGRITY

Thrifty, a teetotaler and non-smoker, De Valera, severe in demeanor and dress, the premier was destined for the priesthood. Instead he became a teacher of mathematics before he took up the political struggle. Even his most bitter opponents never question his personal integrity. The great problem is whether, under Eire's system of proportional representation, there will not emerge from the elections a parliament with three groups of approximately equal strength but each unable to form a government against the opposition of the other two.

AUSTERITY NOT TO BAR TOURISTS

LONDON — Britain is brushing up the welcome mat for 1948 tourists with promises of adequate food and accommodation for visitors, and entertainment in the form of the Olympic Games and a series of cultural festivals.

"Dismal Jimmies in Britain who tell us tourists wont come here because of our austerities overlook the fact that provision has been made whereby visitors staying at a hotel do not require a ration card unless their stay exceeds 28 days," said Sir Alexander Maxwell, chairman of the British Tourist and Holidays Board.

"They can buy goods so long as such goods are sent to their address overseas or to the ship on which they are returning home, and they receive a gasoline allowance which, while not fully adequate, allows them to see a great deal of the country from their own automobiles."

SPRING AND AUTUMN

Visitors are being urged to come in spring and autumn, in order to avoid summer crowds, and to stay in the country or at centres outside London, where hotel accommodation is always a problem.

Those who like spectacles will probably time their visit for the Olympic Games, July 29-August 14. A week later the second International Festival of Music and Drama opens at Edinburgh.

The Shakespeare Festival at Stratford-upon-Avon will run from April 15 into September, and the Malvern Festival of Drama, dedicated to Bernard Shaw, which took place annually from 1929 until the outbreak of war, is being revived July 26-September 4 and will feature a new Shaw play. Other big events include cricket test matches with the Welsh National cricket team, the Welsh National Rifle Association meeting at Bletchley July 5-17 and the Industries Fair May 3-14.

STUDENTS ATE WELL MONTREAL, Q.—Students attending McGill University approximately $1,566,513 for board and lodging during 1946-47 term, it was announced here. Some 3,215 individuals more than 2,000,000 men.

Weather Station Modern, Lonely

HALIFAX, N.S.—Beside a single trail on lonely Sable Island stands the large modern quarters of the Dominion meteorological station as though transplanted from the edge of a city street.

Weather equipment is stored in one room of the building while the remainder is occupied by Alex Eccles, officer in charge his wife and an assistant, Ralph Roberts.

Mrs. Eccles, a native of Missouri, says she likes the island especially when "I remember there's no worries about food shortage at the corner store."

Rev. and Mrs. Peter Schell of the Pentecostal Assembly arrived in Terrace at the weekend from Prince George and eastern Canada, remaining until Tuesday when they left for Vancouver via Prince Rupert. They are on their way to China, where they will conduct a mission among the river boat people on the Yangtze River.

The Experts Say

OTTAWA — Just a little extra planning and the housewife can turn any luncheon from a dull bread-and-tape affair into one of the most interesting meals of the day.

And when it comes to this mid-day meal, oven dishes are not only nutritious, but they're tasty, economical and easily prepared. One of the simplest to make is Corn and Cheese Casserole.

INGREDIENTS. One cup canned corn; one cup bread and cracked crumbs; one cup grated cheese; one-half teaspoon salt; two cups scalded milk; one tablespoon melted fat; one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; two eggs.

Mix altogether except milk and eggs. Beat egg yolks and then add milk. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and place in a greased baking dish and bake in a moderate oven until set (about 40 minutes).

Here is a basic recipe for all scalloped dishes.

INGREDIENTS: Four tablespoons melted butter; four tablespoons flour; two cups milk; salt and pepper; three cups cooked vegetables or meat or any combination desired. Melt butter, blend in flour and seasoning, add milk gradually and stir until mixture thickens. Cook three minutes.

Place layers alternately in casserole and cover with buttered crumbs and bake in hot oven until brown on top. One-half cup of grated cheese and pinch of mustard may be added to sauce.

Vegetables or meat used in this recipe may include: two cups meat or fish, one cup cooked celery; two cups meat—one cup of cooked mushrooms or 1½ cups meat or fish; 1½ cups green peas; or four hard-cooked eggs, two cups cooked spaghetti or macaroni; or three hard-boiled eggs, one cup salmon and one cup peas or celery.

Something new in pies is what nearly every cook is looking for and she may find just what she's seeking in Peppermint Chocolate Pie.

INGREDIENTS: Two cups hot water; one cup white sugar; two drops essence of peppermint; three heaping tablespoons cocoa; five level tablespoons cornstarch; a dash of salt.

Mix sugar, cocoa, cornstarch and salt together with a little cold water. Stir into hot water and cook until thick. Sprinkle coconut, crushed cornflakes, or whipped cream on top. White of egg or crushed graham crackers may also be used.

Maple Pie—INGREDIENTS: One-half cup milk; two egg yolks; one tablespoon gelatin; two tablespoons cold water; one cup cream; one-third cup chopped nuts; one-half cup maple syrup.

Heat milk and syrup in boiler and pour over the beaten yolks. Continue cooking until the mixture is thick. Remove from fire, add gelatin (which has been softened in cold water and stirred until dissolved). Let mixture stand until it begins to thicken. Add whipped cream and nuts put into baked pie shell.

Reminiscences By W.J. and Reflections

People do return to Prince Rupert, after having said with some emphasis that once out of the gray, unlovely town, wild horses would not be strong enough to drag them back. Yet, it's a fact. It is odd the twists that pang of nostalgia take! Probably another sign of the truth of the old saying that if you abuse a place hard and long enough, ridicule will change to something resembling affection, or what had been a dour dislike becomes mingled esteem and envy.

You remember the old line of popular conversation, with a dash of banter:

"Prince Rupert? Oh yes! Up there where they live on fish and strangers. I was there once. Never could understand what made me go. Rains all the time. Such a soggy, dull sort of place."

And so on, and so on. But, it is true that many a former citizen looks northward again, and would do more than that if they could find it convenient.

Picking a cemetery site, when Prince Rupert's favorite indoor recreation was trying to guess which way the new city would grow, was a serious business. Making a choice was up to one of the early city councils, and in justice to each and all, it must be said they gave to their duties most earnest and conscientious attention.

Manifold matters had to be studied, weighed and regarded from a variety of angles. What was the nature of the ground? Where situated? What bearing, if any, would future city development have on it?

And these were but a few. For years funerals had been held but none on the townsite. Instead, bodies were taken to hallowed Garden Island across the harbor—a place of seclusion, beauty and utter peace.

There are many rugged miles between Seal Cove and Fairview and the gentlemen charged with establishing a cemetery must have walked over most of them. Streets, roads and trails were fewer 35 years ago. And it is certain there were no planes. The pioneer city fathers trudged and climbed, pondered and compared.

It was a wearisome job, but looking back over it all, they showed discernment and judgment. That can hardly be disputed.

Wenner-Gren Magnate of M.

The war-time visit of the Swedish capitalist magnate, Axel Wenner-Gren, to Prince Rupert, was a memorable event. He was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Wenner-Gren, and a large party. The visit was a success and the party was a great one.

Incidentally, the Br services had a copy aboard, disguised as a Mexican, and has been that country's telegram rates, for he owns of the stock in two ing phone companies.

GHOST WILL AID TREASURE HUNT

VANCOUVER, B.C. — Ten gold seekers and a ghost—who will be used exclusively for public relations work—are making plans for still another assault on Cocos Island, tiny, shovel-scarred pile of rock off the Costa Rican coast.

The ghost—nicknamed "Mortimer" by Hollis O'Hanlon, skipper of the 125-foot schooner Dwyn Wen—came with the vessel at no extra charge when the former R.C.A.F. flier and his four brothers bought it.

"It's the funniest thing," O'Hanlon said, "we hear footsteps up and down the deck but we have found nothing to explain it."

Uninhabited by humans, Cocos has been the scene of strange and ghostly occurrences and is reputedly roamed by restless spirits. That is where "Mortimer" comes in—to intercede for the crew.

"We are convinced there is treasure on Cocos and are definitely going after it," O'Hanlon said.

He believes there are at least three separate pirate hoards, the biggest being the fabulous "loot of Lima" said to be worth $60,000,000.

Don Brown has returned from a brief visit to Vancouver where he found the weather anything but favorable for enjoying a holiday. It was just one rain-storm after another, with spells of fog in between.

RECONSTRUCTING FAMOUS ABBEY

By JOHN TALBOT

ROME (Reuters)—The task of reconstructing the great Benedictine Abbey of Monte Cassino, heavily damaged in one of the toughest battles fought by Allied troops in Italy, is well under way, although it will be at least five years before it is complete.

Reconstruction has been undertaken by an international committee under chairmanship of Don Ildefonso Rea, abbot of Monte Cassino.

Four times this great abbey has been damaged in its 1,400 years but never has the damage been so extensive as that wrought by Allied bombers. It is estimated that more than 12,000,000 lire (about $25,000,000) will be needed to restore the huge building.

But the sarcophagus containing the remains of St. Benedict had a miraculous escape. An unexploded bomb was found lying close to it. One part of the monastery which did escape is the little tower in which St. Benedict had his cell and where he slept most of his life.

HOW CAN I ???
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a good home remedy to relieve coughing at night?
A. Try mixing equal parts of strained honey and glycerine, and adding a few drops of lemon juice. Take a spoonful whenever troubled with coughing.

Q. How can I remove ink spots from paper?
A. By applying a solution of muriate of tin with a soft brush. When the stain disappears, rinse, and then dry the paper carefully.

Q. How can I hasten the cooking of meat?
A. When cooking meat and vegetables, add a little calcium and it will hasten their cooking and make them tender.

Prince Rupert had 104 fire calls during 1947, according to the records of Fire Chief H. T. Lock, and fire losses for the year are expected to exceed $65,000, the highest in several years.

There were also 104 fire calls in 1946 but losses totalled only $6,000.

Greatest fire loss last year was incurred by the destruction by flames of the Clapp Block, Shortridge Apartments and Central Hotel.

COACH CONACHER TO LEAD HAWKS FROM HOCKEY PIT

By BERT ALLEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL—Charlie Conacher has bowed in as a Big League coach with Chicago Black Hawks, but whether the old bullet-shot artist of Toronto's famed Kid-Line will be able to lift the Hawks into contention will be interesting to watch.

Although the National Hockey League doormats have been showing signs of making it tough for the other clubs lately, Dink (Montreal Gazette) Carroll said his first reaction on learning that Conacher would succeed Johnny Gottselig, was the thought that "big Charlie can't tend goal."

"But he may know where to lay hands on a goaler," said Dink, "and if he does it will help the Hawks a lot."

HIGH-SCORING HAWKS

It is easy to see that Dink is on the right track, for a glance at the standings before the week-end games showed Hawks were the highest-scoring team in the circuit, but had had 121 goals scored against them, 31 more than any other team.

Coach Dick Irvin of Canadiens thinks Conacher will help the Hawks, Dink reports.

"He's the driving, forceful type—on or off the ice," was the Montreal mentor's comment.

Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson asks how a guy is supposed to rate the NHL clubs on their past performances so far this season. It can't be done, says Fergie, citing these games which upset all calculations.

YOU FIGURE IT OUT

"Leafs, who hadn't scored a goal on Montreal ice previously this season, came to Montreal and blanked Canadiens; Rangers, beaten in New York by Canadiens lost out, went to Detroit and set down the second-place Wings without a goal; Chicago with the weakest goaling in the league, hitherto, betook themselves into Boston and deluged one of the league's greatest netwinders, Frankie Brimsek, with rubber; before that, Rangers had invaded Toronto, beat the Leafs, then Canadiens went to New York, whipped Rangers, but couldn't score a goal on Leafs last Thursday."

VANCOUVER WINS FIRST GAME FOR FOOTBALL TITLE

VANCOUVER — Vancouver Blue Bombers defeated Hamilton Tigers 13-5 in the first of a two-game total point series for the Dominion junior football title.

BASKETBALL CHATTER

(By BILL LONG)

Dropping down to the Civic Centre gym the other evening to watch Alex Bill put his senior All-Stars through one of their strenuous practice sessions, it struck me that Prince Rupert is on its way to much greater heights in B.C. basketball honors than any of us believe.

We will send a team out on to the floor next Wednesday and Thursday against Vancouver Arrows, one of the top senior "A" teams in the southern league, which by the way, has been producing Canadian champions for quite some time. We will not only send our boys out on the floor, but we will send them out as favorites.

Many of the skeptics around the locker rooms insist that it all boils down to mathematics, and that figuring it out in that manner, we just have to accept the short end. Well, we'll see next Wednesday and Thursday, but this column goes on record as favoring our "underdogs" to win.

As a matter of fact, anyone favoring the locals has many points to support his decision, points that casual observers fail to observe.

We have a coach who definitely rates being classed among the foremost in the game in this province, one who was responsible for the fine rating our Bo-Me-Hi team secured in their southern raid last winter.

Although he looks a bit too youthful for his chore, Alex Bill would amaze you with his knowledge of all aspects of the game as it is played today. And he has been handed an eager and co-operative group of players to carry out his orders.

We have as team captain, Big Angus MacPhee, a lad who just can't be sold short, and rarely is. MacPhee is the choice of his teammates—and of many others—and has proven himself equal to the best we have seen here in the last 10 years.

To back up these two, we have a band of players, 14 in number, who are the best in the senior league. These 14 will be whittled down to possibly 10, but since the process has not yet begun, nobody, with the possible exception of Alex Bill, knows who will don a uniform and hold one of the coveted positions in the All-Star game.

Many of the players do not know it, but Prince Rupert will be represented in a provincial play-off this season if they overcome this Arrow obstacle. Word of this comes from the inner circle, the executive.

What division they will enter is still uncertain, and whether or not the play-off will be an official one is also uncertain, but one thing is sure—they will be given a chance to show their quality away from home.

And why shouldn't they?
