Oil Warehouse Fire In East Causes Half Million Damage

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP) — Damage was estimated at $500,000 in a fire that today ripped through an Imperial Oil warehouse and still blazed fiercely this afternoon. A column of steel grey smoke mushroomed 2,000 feet into the air over the plant and hung like a huge blanket over the city of 20,000. Cause of the outbreak, fed by a huge store of gasoline, industrial oils and rubber tires, could not be determined immediately.

Scores of residents fled from nearby dwellings as the area on the city's outskirts shook from the explosion of drums of gasoline and naphtha.

The fire was first noticed by two warehouse workers, Howard Caverly and Bill Morris. "It just came 'pooif,'" said Caverly. "I looked up and there was the fire."

Defenceless From Atom

The Housing Plan

SINCE the first step that must be taken in order to bring the new federal-provincial housing plan into Prince Rupert is to survey the need and ascertain the actual possibilities of potential local home builders interesting themselves in the scheme, the city, with the encouragement of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce and other local organizations, is circulating questionnaires through the medium of the Daily News today.

Now it is up to the local people themselves who desire to build new homes here to come forward and show their interest so that further steps may be taken. If, for any reason, no particular interest is shown, then nothing will happen.

Certainly there is a need for housing in Prince Rupert. Its lack is already discouraging people from coming here to locate. Of course, some one has got to do the building. Just knowing that there is the need but doing nothing about it is not going to help the situation any.

As we have said before, the new federal-provincial scheme would appear to have very definite possibilities here. It provides the most generous volume of assistance and the easiest plan for repayment that has so far been offered.

The Daily News heartily commends the scheme to the consideration of prospective home builders and hopes that they will display a sufficient measure of interest to enable some action being obtained towards the financing of local homes under its terms.

"OLLIE" FRANKS

THE Daily News mourns with something of the feeling of a member of the family the passing in New Westminster of A. O. Franks who was a member of our staff for many years as well as having been for a long time a contemporary of ours in the newspaper publishing business.

Mr. Franks was one of the real pioneers of Prince Rupert. There are not many still here who were in the city when John Houston founded Prince Rupert's first newspaper, the old Empire. Except for a very few, he had spent the most of those forty-two years here.

Having exceeded in years the allotted span, he has now passed on after a quiet and unassuming yet useful life. He was one of the army of city builders the ranks of whom are rapidly diminishing as one generation gives over to another.

Those of us who worked with the late "Ollie" Franks knew best his sterling qualities and it is, therefore, with the utmost sincerity and justification, we pay tribute to his memory.

Menace to Freedom—

Warns Against Attempts to Overthrow Democracy

A grave warning of insidious means that are being attempted to overthrow freedom in Canada was sounded to the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce and delegates from Terrace Boards of Trade last night by W. J. Sheridan, executive secretary of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

A growing mistrust of Christianity was pointed out as one of the chief inroads being made into the Canadian way of life. Mr. Sheridan alluded to statements in both Marx's "Das Kapital" and Hitler's "Mein Kampf" to the effect that democracy depended on Christianity for its existence. The cold war was being lost, the speaker claimed, because of the drift away from Christian thinking. He mentioned a survey recently carried out in the United States in which 75 per cent of young people covering all religious creeds manifested doubts about Christianity. He was alarmed that people in North America were drifting away from the beliefs upon which the democratic system was founded.

Another point Mr. Sheridan cited as pointing to losing the cold war was the apathy of voters at election time. He said the 75 per cent that turned out at the last federal election might seem a fair average but he said it also meant there were over 1,500,000 who did not even bother to go to the polls which in most cases were hardly further away than the corner. In provincial and municipal elections, he went on, the situation was even worse. "With such apathy, democracy will disappear," he averred.

The speaker deplored the tendency of people to look to the government to do everything for them. "Each time you ask the government for something, some one will have to pay for it — usually business," he declared. He said the Chamber of Commerce could do something about the matter and, indeed, was. He told of two communities where the direct action of the Chamber of Commerce had been of use—one where the chamber's action had organized a whole community to build a community centre without asking aid from governments, another where the chamber had conducted a business survey that showed business was good contrary to much loose talk around to the effect things were going to the dogs. He used them as examples to show how the temperament and temper of a whole community can be changed by the Chamber of Commerce. "That is the spirit that can save our freedom," he said. "We've seen freedom killed in country after country, and we're fooling ourselves if we think it cannot be done here," the speaker continued. "We must develop a desire for work and independence."

SELLING FREE ENTERPRISE

Mr. Sheridan told his listeners they believed in free enterprise way of life but did not know how to sell it. He told of how people on the other side of the fence always had their arguments marshalled, whereas many solid believers in capitalism did not bother to gather together their reasons for believing in it. "Until we have faith in our own democracy," he claimed, "we are fighting a losing battle."

Another problem facing the country today, Mr. Sheridan said, was that of foreign trade. With the great production developed during the war he claimed it was necessary to sell much of the produce outside the country. A cut in foreign trade, he claimed, would lower the standard of living.

In this regard, he said, government could do a lot to help. He suggested dropping of controls, particularly foreign exchange controls, and allowing free convertibility of currencies.

Another help would be labor in matching demands for higher pay with offers for greater production so that Canadian goods would not be priced out of world markets.

Business has its obligation to keep production costs down and to sell their products.

Consumers had their obligation, too, by keeping their demands on the government to a minimum. Each time the government was called on to do something it meant a hike in taxes which put the cost of goods up.

There was still some misunderstanding as to what the Chamber of Commerce was, the speaker said, and too many people thought it was just big businessmen in the larger cities of the east. However, it was actually the banding together of good citizen groups in over 650 centres across Canada to work for the general betterment of their communities and the country.

Mr. Sheridan was appointed recently to his position to replace Don Morell, who was made general manager of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

Cool Weather Delays Seeding

WINNIPEG — Cool showery weather has been general over the three prairie provinces and seeding to a great extent has been delayed, according to the weekly crop report of the Department of Agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

Seeding of grain in southern Manitoba will be general this week, while in Central and northern Manitoba seeding is already general with approximately 40 percent of wheat already seeded. In Saskatchewan and Alberta, seeding of wheat is general and in some places 75 percent to 100 percent completed.

Moisture conditions in Manitoba, Northern Saskatchewan and Northern Alberta are satisfactory, but in central and southern Alberta more rains are required to give early germination of crops already seeded.

In the Okanagan Valley, weather during the past week has been fairly cool and there is no change in the crop estimate from preceding reports.

Duncan Kerr, secretary of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia, J. H. Smith, Harry King and James Stevenson motored in from Terrace yesterday afternoon and returned to the interior last night after attending a meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce at which W. J. Sheridan, executive secretary of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce from Montreal, was the featured speaker.

ACTS FAST! STAYS FRESH!

DOUGHNUT TWISTS
1 1/2 c. milk, 1/2 c. granulated sugar, 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/2 tsp. baking powder. Cool to lukewarm. Measure into a large bowl. Add 1/2 c. lukewarm water, 1 tsp. yeast, 1/2 c. sugar; stir until sugar dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Royal Fast Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes. Stir well. Add cooled milk mixture and 2 well beaten eggs and 1 tsp. salt. Stir in 2 c. once-sifted flour; beat until smooth. Add 2 1/2 c. (about) once-sifted flour. Knead on lightly-oiled board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl and let rise. Cover and set in warm place. Free from draught. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Roll down dough and roll out into rectangle, 1/2" thick; loosen ends again to 1 1/2" thickness. Fold strips 7" long and 1/2" wide in half, twist, and pinch ends together. Arrange well apart, on lightly-floured cookie sheets; grease tops. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Carefully lift, a few at a time, into shortening that has been heated to 365°—hot enough to brown a cube of day-old bread in 60 seconds. When under-sides are browned, turn and cook second sides. Carefully lift from fat and drain on absorbent paper. Coat with a mixture of fruit sugar and cinnamon or brush hot doughnuts with the following syrup: Heat, stirring until the sugar dissolves, 1 c. granulated sugar, 1/4 c. butter or margarine and 1/4 c. water; simmer 5 mins., then stir in 1 tsp. vanilla; keep hot over boiling water—if syrup becomes too sugary, stir in a little boiling water and heat to boiling point. Yield—3 dozen doughnuts.
Note: Dough may be cut with an orthodox doughnut cutter; fry the doughnuts and the "holes".

Black Topping McBride Street

At the suggestion of T. N. Youngs, Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night asked its highway committee to draw up a strongly-worded resolution to the provincial government for the blacktopping of the McBride Street from Second to Seventh Avenue section of the arterial highway.

Mr. Youngs referred to the fact that there had been a vote for this work last year but, the fiscal year having expired without the work being done either by public works or city, the vote had lapsed. The idea is to have a revote of the appropriation.

HOME BUILDING PLAN

Reaching Housing Scheme Made Available

a "far-sweeping" plan which the federal government, through Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, has presented to assist housing construction in cities like Prince Rupert.

In addition to the scheme to encourage private building by reducing the down payment to one-third of the lot purchase price, the province is prepared to operate with the construction of new rental housing which a municipality is expected to take to the housing program.

making payments in excess of the rentals whenever convenient until sufficient such payments had been accumulated to equal the down payment when they would go over to the straight purchase plan.

The government is unwilling to go into the subsidized rental field although, under certain circumstances, it might do so.

After the city has surveyed the need, officials of Central Mortgage and Housing will come in and make the necessary preliminary inspections.

In the new home building scheme, one-sixth of the ultimate price will be required. The federal government will foot 75 per cent of construction costs while provinces will pay 25 per cent. Costs will entail purchase and surveying of lots and erection of houses.

In Order To Ascertain The Need For Housing In This City The Following Form Is Inserted For Your Convenience.

Fill In A Questionnaire Urges Jack McRae M.L.A.

By JACK McRAE, M.L.A.

During the first session of the twenty-first Parliament of Canada, amendments were made to the National Housing Act of 1944 for the purpose of facilitating the construction and ownership of homes in Canada by establishing a structure of joint operation in the housing field by the federal, provincial and municipal authorities.

At the 1950 spring session of the British Columbia Legislature an act known as the "Housing Act" was passed authorizing the Provincial Government to enter into housing agreements with the Federal and Municipal authorities, 75 per cent of the cost to be borne by the federal government and 25 per cent by the provincial and municipal governments.

The Federal and Provincial Governments have, therefore, taken the necessary steps to assist the housing situation throughout British Columbia. Each municipality is being asked to make a survey of housing requirements in areas under its jurisdiction. Your city is now engaged in the preparation of such a survey.

In order for further negotiations to be carried on the need of homes in Prince Rupert must be shown to the Provincial Government. Everyone feels that there is a definite housing shortage in this city. Now it is up to the individuals to assist the city authorities in their survey and efforts to have a housing scheme executed in Prince Rupert. A poor response will produce little if any action. On the other hand, if there is a housing shortage, then a good response will definitely give assistance to your city in gaining aid to relieve the housing situation. It is my understanding that there is no obligation in replying to this survey. It is merely intended to get a true picture of existing facts. This survey is open to anyone who feels they

Third Game Falls Victim to Weather

The weather man and Prince Rupert baseball association just don't seem to be able to get along this year at all. After a reasonably clear morning Sunday he just seemed to open the skies to let the water pour out at game time.

Sunday's scheduled game was the third in aid of the Manitoba flood sufferers to be rained out. Maybe the weather man's spite is against Winnipeg and not the ball association.

Smithers Team Coming Sunday

Smithers baseball team is coming to Prince Rupert Sunday to play two games with local clubs.

Sunday afternoon they play the Commercial. Monday they play Abel and Odowes if stores are closed for the King's birthday. Otherwise the second game will be played Sunday, also, in a double header for the visiting team.

The local association has also promised to send a second team to Smithers July 1, while the first team will play Ketchikan here. A return engagement with Ketchikan will be played in the Alaska city July 4.

Dogs and cats, as well as people, suffered in the evacuation during the Southern Manitoba floods. Shown above are just a few of the 75 abandoned or lost dogs rescued by the Humane Society and brought to Winnipeg. Gordon House of the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund (left) and Ben M. Bert, Humane Society representative, examine the dogs for identification tags.

BATTER UP!

by ART MURRAY

Tonight at Roosevelt Park the Prince Rupert Baseball Association will again endeavour to open its 1950 season. With consistent interference from the rain man this opening game has been on tap for over two weeks and players and authorities alike are fast becoming irritated by the situation. Tonight it will be Abel & Odowes vs Commercial as announced in these columns many times already.

Watson Island, the team that the Association was rather reluctant to do business with earlier in the month, is rapidly acquiring players from here and there and yesterday announcement of two steals from the Commercial by Dan Doswell has irked Ed Davis enough to have him make the statement that his team won't lose a game to Islanders all season even if he has to go to New York for players. The players in the deal are Haryluk, the Hotelmen's first baseman, who caused so much trouble last season over the eligibility rule in the playoffs, and none other than silent "Miner" Simundsen who still seems to have the odd game left in him.

Ben Dodds, the Terrace pharmacist, who doubles in community-boosting at the interior town.

Opening Up to Weatherman

If the weatherman smiles tonight, the local baseball association hopes to get under way finally with a game between Commercial and Abel and Odowes.

To date three attempts to start have been abortive. The clubs are itching to try each other out. Abel and Odowes are still smarting under the shellacking handed to them in a pre-season game by the hotelmen. They think they can do better.

The football season got off to a good start last evening when in the first game of the North Star trophy the Canadian Legion and the General Motors played to a scoreless draw.

The Legion attacked and Murray and Armstrong threatened but Boulter saved. The Motors attacked and Eby blocked a hard drive. Baxter tested Boulter who cleared and then Ford's hard drive was blocked by Eby. Olsen fed Hornell but the latter shot high. Currie stopped Armstrong and Murray. Wilson drove wide but there was no score at half-time.

Boulter had to run out to save and was lucky later when his clearing drive was blocked by Armstrong but the ball was scrambled away. A cross from Wilson got the Legion defence in a tangle but Yelland saved. The Motors defence got in a jam too but survived. Then a lovely cross by Baxter beat the Motors defence only to find Armstrong with an open goal turning the ball yards high over (Continued on page 8)

Babine Lake Patrol Boat

According to information received from Edward T. Applewhite, M. P., a new fishermen's patrol boat has been built for the Dominion Department of Fisheries for service on Babine Lake. This launch named the "Branta" is 35' 10" in length with a beam of 9' 10". It is of stout wooden construction, chiefly yellow cedar, fir and oak. A special feature is the modified tunnel design of the stern which gives the craft a shallow draft of 12" when loaded. The hull is constructed to give extra resilience and the propeller and rudder are protected by an extension of the iron keel. These features are special protection for craft designed to operate in waters in which are frequently found submerged logs, sandbars and other underwater hazards.

Power is supplied by Chrysler-Royal M-28 marine engine to develop 141 horse-power and turn over at 3200 R.P.M., giving the craft a cruising speed of eleven to twelve knots. Steering and hydraulic clutch controls are in duplicate, one set in the wheel house and one set aft in the cockpit. Fuel is carried in a dispersal system of four tanks with a capacity of 140 gallons which will give forty hours cruising. Cabin and wheel house provide sleeping accommodation for four persons. There is a well-equipped galley and modern plumbing. Something novel in the way of small craft design is the running of hot and cold water. The hot water coming from the engine manifold.

The interior is treated with fire-resistant paint and three fire-extinguishers help reduce the fire hazard.

The boat, which is now completed, was built in Nanaimo and will be delivered to Babine Lake as soon as Provincial Public Works' regulations allow the carrying of heavy loads on the highways it being the intention to ship the "Branta" in by truck. She will be used primarily in connection with patrolling during salmon spawning season and at other times may be employed in connection with the scientific or other work of the Fisheries Department.

Pleads For Local Firms

Holding that it was wrong in principle to let contracts to outside firms for construction of new liquor stores, particularly when bids were close, J. T. Harvey proposed to the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night that representations be made to the Liquor Control Board in the matter of the letting of a contract for new liquor store construction at Prince Rupert, Terrace and Vanderhoof.

Yesterday it had been announced in the press that the contract for the new stores had been let to the Fraser Valley Builders Limited of Mission in preference to bids from local firms in each case.

It was a very unwise policy, Mr. Harvey felt, to ignore local firms in such a manner. He alluded to the large amount of money that went out of Prince Rupert in the way of liquor purchases and mentioned that, according to the press, three lowest tenders in Terrace were lower than that of the successful bidder. The Chamber agreed with Mr. Harvey's suggestion.

Casey Appreciative— Old People Are Kindly Treated

"They treated me like a prince A millionaire could not have received more attention or consideration."

So says Ald. George B. Casey, Prince Rupert's No. 1 old age pensioner, who spent some time in hospital at Vancouver recently receiving surgical treatment for the preserving of his failing eyesight.

Ald. Casey, who never was known to draw his punches when criticism of the authorities seemed due in his opinion, does not subscribe to the sometimes expressed opinion that the coalition government is careless of the interests of the old.

"Yes, I was an old age pensioner but there was no cause for me to feel in any way humiliated. If the treatment I received was any criterion I want to congratulate the government on the way it is treating the old people," Ald. Casey says.

Young Conservative Leaders Are Coming

In the course of a tour of the province for the purpose of organizing young Progressive-Conservative groups, Les Bewley, president of the British Columbia Young Progressive Conservative Association, will shortly visit Prince Rupert. Frank Barker, federal organizer for British Columbia, will make the trip with Mr. Bewley. Prince George and Quesnel areas will also be visited.

To Urge Split Halibut Season in Commons When Departmental Estimates Up

Desirability of a new international halibut treaty which would make clear authorization for the International Fisheries to recommend a split season for halibut fisheries will be advocated by E. T. Appelwaite, M.P. for Skeena, when estimates of the Department of Fisheries come before Parliament at Ottawa. Mr. Appelwaite has advised the Daily News that it is his intention to speak at some length on this subject.

Mr. Appelwaite has written to the Daily News as follows on this matter: "With reference to the proposal for a split halibut season and, in particular, to the proposal that the International Fisheries Commission should have the power to recommend a split season, the attitude of the Department of Fisheries as I understand it, is that the activities of the Commission are devoted solely towards the conservation of supply, and that they have no authority to issue any order based solely on economic or commercial grounds, or on grounds of convenience."

I am familiar with all the arguments already put forward as to the amount of conservation which would result from a certain amount of fishing of the July run of halibut which is now never fished at all. However, the authorities are apparently not yet satisfied on this point. In the 1951 estimates the item "to provide for Canadian share of expenses of the International Fisheries Commission appointed under treaty dated January 29, 1937, between Canada and the United States for the preservation of the North Pacific halibut fisheries has been increased this year by the sum of $15,000. It is expected that the American authorities will provide for a similar increase and that there will be approximately $30,000 available this year for further investigation of the biological and conservation features of a proposed split season."

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

His gratuity helped many a soldier build a house in the Red River Valley. But stripping off your uniform and travelling back home, thousands of miles from the front, goes not always mean you've seen the last of a dangerous enemy.

A publication devoted to literary matters prints an anecdote told by a gentleman who said he had travelled from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast and had noted how in every hotel he patronized, a Gideon Bible and bottle-opener would be in his room. That is to say, almost in every hotel! For in Prince Rupert there was no Bible. All he could see consisted of two bottle-openers.

Last April, 439 families living in British Columbia and drawing family allowances moved east. In the same month, 216 families moved to British Columbia. Chances are, dwellings will be scarce and living costs high, east, west, north or south.

Canada's eastern coast seems to be due for another change of name. The region used to be known as Acadia, and later on, the 'Maritimes.' Today, with the inclusion of Newfoundland, the suggestion is heard that in future New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland be known as the Atlantic Provinces. This would be true, apt and business like.

FOOTBALL

Teams:

Canadian Legion — Vanderheide, Sunberg, Eby, Shore, Yelland, Greer, Baxter, Wyatt Smith, Armstrong, Murray and Alexander.

General Motors — Boulter, Price, Robinson, Charlie Currie, Olsen, Wellens, McKay, Wilson, Hornell, Ford, White and Welter.

Referee— Sid Woodside.

Linesmen— Diezens and Halverson.

For an opening game it was well-contested with players of both teams leg weary at the end. Vanderheide was sound but had little to do. Eby was very safe and with Sunberg defended strongly. Yelland was always in the thick of the struggle and had good support from Greer and a newcomer Shore. The best forwards were Baxter, Armstrong and Murray with Wyatt and Smith threatening. Alexander replaced Shore and did well. As a line they were better than the Motors but found the opposing halfback line a tough obstacle.

Boulter had more to do than his opposite number and kept his lines intact. Robinson was hard to beat and Price kicked strongly. Olsen was very effective at centre half with Wellens, a newcomer, playing a great spoiling game and kicking well under all conditions. Currie completed a strong halfback line. Forward the Motors were weak. Ford showed clever footwork and is fast. Pat Wilson was very quick and twice tested Vanderheide with troublesome shots. Hornell opened up the play but shot poorly. McKay was not so effective as usual. White played himself out in the first half and was replaced by Welter who tried hard. But the Legion defence gave the forwards few chances.

TIM-BER-LOX
Protects Paint from Peeling and Blistering
A Penetrating Sealer and Paint Mix
Tim-ber-lox is a clear liquid made from the finest, toughest resins and water repellent oils and is used as a thinner for oil based paints or as a clear primer before painting or varnishing.

OUTSIDE PAINTING
In order to secure a good paint job it is first necessary to secure a good ground or prime coat. It is in this prime coat that the addition of Tim-Ber-Lox to paint is highly recommended. Paint with Tim-Ber-Lox added, has superior penetrating and sealing qualities which provide a reinforced foundation against moisture and helps prevent the peeling and blistering of succeeding coats of paint.

PLYWOOD
A single application of Tim-Ber-Lox will prevent warping, buckling, surface checking and will eliminate "Grain Raise", leaving the surface smooth and uniform for subsequent coats of varnish or paint. It costs no more to use Tim-Ber-Lox—as Tim-Ber-Lox replaces the prime coat of paint or acts as a varnish undercoat where plywood is later to be varnished.

Distressed Boat Taken to Namu

VANCOUVER — The disabled, halibut trawler Oceanus reached the haven of Namu Harbor yesterday in tow of the coast guard cutter Northwind.

She had had a 12 hour battle against galewinds and high seas in northern British Columbia waters. The vessel radioed for assistance Sunday night after the line fouled in her propeller. Later the skipper of the craft, Haakon Selvar, Seattle, messaged they were able to proceed after partially disentangling the line. However, the Northwind took the craft in tow yesterday morning on rolling Queen Charlotte Sound and guided it to safety.
