Opposition Leader Would Hold Off Pressure If Steel Nationalization Is Deferred
WINNIPEG (CP)—Winston Churchill today offered the labor government a chance to ease its position in exchange for the postponement of nationalization.
The first clash since the elections which cut the majority to seven, Churchill put Prime Minister Attlee on the spot.
Churchill said for a definite date until a date not later than the months after the next election.

Makes Delivery—
Landed On Naas River
Pilot Roy Berryman made flights from Prince Rupert Monday afternoon and this morning to Aiyansh natives village on the Naas River, ninety miles north of Prince Rupert, having been able to land on the river in the village with relief supplies instead of dropping the provisions on a snow covered field as had been at first arranged. He found the river ice sufficiently gone out to make the landings and drew up to the beach and unloaded 500 pounds yesterday afternoon and 1000 pounds this morning.
Pilot Berryman found the people on the Naas River in good shape but appreciative of the fresh supplies.
While ice had cleared from the river for about 2500 feet in front of Aiyansh, the Naas is still solidly frozen below there. Berryman reports.
Berryman left here at 2:45 p. m. yesterday and was back at 5:40 p. m. He left at 10:40 a. m. morning and was back at 12:50 noon.
At 1:30 this afternoon he left for his base at Allford Bay, taking A. B. Anderson, Masset saw-mill operator, as a passenger. Mr. Anderson had been in the city on business.

World Understanding, Developed By Education, Seen As Peace Way

World Understanding, Developed By Education, Seen As Peace Way
Inspiring Address by Pedagogical Head Opens Education Week Here
"Wars are made in the minds of men and only in the minds of men can world peace come." Dr. A. R. Lord, principal of Vancouver Normal School, used these words of Prime Minister Clement Attlee, in an inspiring Education Week address before a public meeting in the Civic Centre auditorium last night.
Dr. Lord, who himself attended the gathering, told how forty-five delegates from 28 countries, widely diverging in race, color and creed, had lived and worked together in the UNESCO conference in England in 1948. At the end of the sessions of this world organization for education they had developed a genuine affection and respect for each other and had become deeply imbued with enthusiasm and conviction of the possibility of world peace through mutual understanding. In each other the delegates had found the common qualities of tolerance, kindness, purity of thought and integrity.
By intermingling and meeting of people in such causes as education and peace, much could be done in the way of reaching understandings that would remove the causes of discord and conflict.
Points of difference between peoples, no matter their color, their religion or way of life, would be found to be much less than their points of similarity.
City ambulance responded to three calls today and yesterday. At 2:45 p. m. Monday, Adeline Cecile was taken to General Hospital from her residence in the Star Rooms. Four natives from Greenview were taken to hospital at 9 a. m. this morning. One patient was a stretcher case. At 12:30 today, John Johnson was transferred from General Hospital to the Coquitlam.

Argument Continues— Aluminum vs. Salmon

Argument Continues—
Aluminum vs. Salmon
VICTORIA (AP)—Salmon fisheries vs. aluminum industry controversy cropped up in the Legislature again yesterday.
Last week the C.C.F. opposition leader, Harold Winch, requested Premier Byron Johnson if he would request Senator Tom Reid to appear before the House and outline his objections to giving the Aluminum Co. of Canada water rights for the establishment of a $300,000,000 plant at Kitimat. At that time the Premier said the government and Legislature were capable of handling their own affairs.
Yesterday Mr. Winch rose to a point of privilege. He said he had written Senator Tom Reid asking if he would appear before a committee of the Legislature and had received a reply in the affirmative.
Then the Premier answered bluntly: "We have no intention of asking for advice."
D. V. Gonder, general manager in addressing the delegates stressed the value of such meetings. "I know of nothing we do that is more valuable to both of us than these cooperative meetings; common problems are approached with an open mind and in a large percentage of suggestions handled, a general betterment results. Today's meeting marks the start of a second quarter of a century, a record we are proud of as it stresses to the industrial world how labor and management can work together amicably for the general betterment of all concerned."

Fire and Dust Sweeps Plains

Fire and Dust Sweeps Plains
CHICAGO (AP)—Double-barreled threat to farmlands—fire and dust—plagued wide areas of the plains states today. High winds had whipped up dust clouds yesterday over thousands of acres of crop land. Visibility was cut to half a mile in some parts of Texas and New Mexico.
In Kansas two traffic fatalities were blamed on dust clouds.
The dust brought back memories of the "black blizzards" of the early thirties because it started blowing so early in the year.

HAWAIIAN STATEHOOD
WASHINGTON—Statehood for Hawaii was approved by the House of Representatives today on a vote of 261 to 110. With the Alaska Statehood bill, approved last week by the House, it now goes to the Senate where considerable opposition from the East is expected. Big Eastern states, and California, too have argued that it is disproportionate to give Alaska and Hawaii two Senators, an equal number with large states.

Management-Labor Meet

Management-Labor Meet
WINNIPEG—Representatives of the Labor organizations in the mechanical department of the Canadian National Railways, together with representatives of the company management, have just finished a conference in Winnipeg, when problems of both groups were thoroughly discussed. It was the twenty-sixth annual gathering of the unique system of employee-management get together originated in 1924 by the late Sir Henry Thornton.
The meeting was held under the joint chairmanship of T. H. Lindsay, vice-president of the railway company, and A. Beardshaw, general superintendent of motive power and car equipment. Representatives were present from all points in Western Canada, as far west as Vancouver.
Problems dealing with general working conditions, safety suggestions, fire protection, suggestions from the employees, and many other matters affecting the daily work of the men were discussed and recommendations will be assembled and passed along to the system co-operative meeting to be held later in Montreal.

Dr. Ford said he was basing his estimate on the fact that it took eight centimetres to each kill a dog.

Statehood for Alaska

WITH ITS APPROVAL by the House of Representatives, lower body of United States Congress, statehood for Alaska has taken its biggest jump toward fruition. Now it has to ride the hurdle of the Senate where there are some powerful, and possibly selfish, influences at work against it.

Statehood for Alaska is, as we have said before, a matter of vital interest to Prince Rupert and achievement of statehood, involving the automatic removal of certain restrictions, notably in regard to freedom of transportation by which the territory is hampered, will make possible the real and freer employment of this port as the "Gateway to Alaska." As a matter of fact, it is fear of Prince Rupert's strategic advantage in respect to Alaska, that has caused some of the opposition to statehood.

Meantime it's all guesswork as to what will happen in the United States Senate to the Alaska statehood bill. Any forecast may just as well be left unsaid for there are no precedents, despite the act of the subject being a old one.

Washington bought Alaska in 1867 and as far back as 1872 requests for full representation in Congress were received from Alaska. Since then efforts have been repeated.

In 1946 a plebiscite showed two to one in favor of statehood. Also seeking statehood is Hawaii, once under a crowned head, annexed to the United States in 1898, which became an organized territory two years later.

Like Alaska, there is in Hawaii, a great and growing desire for statehood.

Next month, there is to be drafted a state constitution.

"CIVILIZED" EXECUTION

ABOLITION of hanging, but not the ending of the death penalty, continues to be a subject of some frequency in Canada. There seems no overwhelming tendency not to inflict extreme punishment, once the fact of guilt is proven beyond all question, but the nature of such restriction is what is looked at.

Any line of deliberate action involving the taking of a human life is grim enough in all conscience. There must be some other, some different system to substitute for the naked barbarism of scaffold and rope. Surely there is a less gruesome method—nor need it be the chair—for the person who, when the moment comes, pays a debt to society.

Education Week Is Business of Community

By L. M. FELSENTHAL
President Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce

All of us, who have reached the age of business and commerce, remember all too well the warnings and advice of our parents in the period of our lives preceding our coming of business age. Yes, students, the advice of your instructors and of your parents too that you are receiving today, is no different than that received by our generation of twenty years ago. The advice to continue your education, as long as ability and good fortune permits, is sage wisdom that has not diminished in importance with the years.

In every field of endeavor, education is in many ways comparable to the difference between the paved highway of today and the roads at the very beginning of Prince Rupert. It is true that our predecessors overcame the roads of yesterday but how much faster and more direct are our paved roads of today. Yes, students, it is within your power to surmount the highest mountain of industry—either with or without an education, but (and we repeat, a mighty big "But") your chances are very much enlightened and improved through the medium of your Education.

INSPIRING ADDRESS

although Dr. Lord did not believe much could be done with the Russians or the satellite countries of communistic belief in view of the way in which they were ruled.

Dr. Lord expressed his conviction of the importance of travel, not speedy travel by aircraft but slow travel in the course of which one met and talked to people—the getting acclimated—in the development of better relations and understanding between people.

The operation of UNESCO in various European and Asiatic countries was described by Dr. A. R. Lord.

Responsibility
"We had a burden of responsibility on our shoulders and felt that UNESCO could do what it was expected to do," he said in speaking of the conference.

The Doctor pointed out that the educational organization is not a part of the United Nations. Today, he said, 48 countries are members, the majority United Nations personnel, but Russia is not included. He spoke of amazing advancement of education in England, India, the Philippine Islands and Ethiopia.

In England, in 1942, the education stated, the government appointed the McNair committee to investigate the educational system of that country. The committee brought down a report in 1944, and in 1945, the schooling system of England was revolutionized. Dr. Lord did not agree with transition to secondary school at the age of 11. He believed a child is too young at that age to choose his or her life occupation.

Six months after India gained her independence, Dr. Lord said, education of the people commenced. It was thought the plan of education would take fifty years to complete, but the marvelous job being done by teachers may cut the time considerably. He explained curriculum included industrial education. Visual education is used more extensively than in this country, he added.

"It doesn't matter what color people are, what their religion or the way of life they follow,

Professional soldiers can sometimes find sham war anything but imaginary. It was that way in "Exercise Sweetbriar." The troops are back home. Major-General M. H. S. Seven Teams For Tourney

Native Teams to Compete For Coveted Trophies

Seven teams are entered in this year's Northern British Columbia tournament which opens Wednesday at the Civic Centre. This is the fourth annual event of this nature and the competing teams will be Port Simpson, Sons of Kincolith, Metlakatla, Greenville, Kitkatla, Kitimaat, and Bella Bella.

Four of last year's entrants—Bella Bella, Aiyavish, Masset and Hartley Bay—are not entered this year because of transportation and housing difficulties.

There are two new entries, Kincolith, competing again after a two year lay-off, and Bella Bella, in competition for the first time.

Port Simpson has only one entry this year with the Y. P. E. A. and Athletic Club teams combining to make one strong team for this all-important play-off.

The teams will compete for two trophies—the B. C. Packer's award, emblematic of the Northern B. C. Native Championship, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce trophy which goes to the winner of the consolation round.

Kitimaat, winner for two successive years, will again have a strong team on the floor. They have their high scoring centre Chris Wilson, in their line-up. Last year Chris won the most valuable player trophy for the second time and in yesterday's practice session he looked just as big a threat as ever.

Metlakatla, winners of the consolation round and the Junior Chamber of Commerce trophy are strong contenders for this year's championship. They have been taking lessons from coach Angus MacPhee of the Jets, making a special trip to town each Saturday for this extra coaching.

The competition organized by the Native Basketball Association will again be directed by the Prince Rupert Referees' Association who will provide all officials. This afternoon the Native Association held a meeting to draw for the initial flight which gets underway tomorrow evening.

The winner of this year's tournament will have the option of meeting Prince Rupert Jets in the B. C. Senior "B" semi-finals. It will be decided at this afternoon's meeting if this option is to be exercised.

WHAT'S UP JACK?—The old Manassa Mauler himself is finding it difficult to learn who is mauling who in this beef-trust epic. Jack Dempsey, refereeing in Toronto, peeks from behind three wrestlers. The villains, Strangler Bob Wagner, left, and Nanjo Singh, right, have Yukon Eric, in a serious situation. Yukon Eric was billed to take on Wagner and Singh one at a time. But the two snakes-in-the-grass broke the rules. However, Our Hero Eric finally emerged victorious. (CP Photo)

Three Rinks Undefeated

VANCOUVER — Undefeated

INFANTRYMAN OF THE ARCTIC—L. Cpl. A. Wood of Westlock, Alta., is shown in the gear that the well dressed soldier wears for fighting in the Arctic. He is taking part in Exercise Sweetbriar, the Canada-U.S. manoeuvres in the rugged stretches of the Yukon lying north of Whitehorse. The white parka is a perfect camouflage against the snow covered hills and the goggles give much needed protection from glare. The clothing has been designed by the army to retain a maximum of body heat in the sub-zero temperatures.

after two rounds yesterday, Cliff Manahan's Edmonton rink and Carl Amussen of Kitchener, Ontario, advanced in the curling championship here.

Manahan's rink defeated Northern Ontario 13 to 12 in the first round and New Brunswick 12 to 9 in the second.

Amussen's Ontario squad nipped Saskatchewan 9 to 6 in the first round and Manitoba 11 to 9 in the second.

Undefeated too, with victories over British Columbia and Prince Edward Island, was Barney Haines of Bridgewater, Nova Scotia, skipping a young rink.

Two other rinks, Northern Ontario and British Columbia, indicated last night that they might be shaking off first round defeats with wins.

Manitoba and Saskatchewan suffered second setbacks along with Prince Edward Island.

New Brunswick and Quebec, after first round victories, found the going heavy and dropped contests.

SAYS HE'S 100 HAS 100 WIVES—West Africa's famed Fon of Bikim tribe, is shown at ease in his African compound, where he lives with his 110 wives. A special U.N. mission sent to look into the Fon's polygamous state reported back to the U.N. last week with the conclusion that the African custom of plural marriage is at least partly a means of sustenance to the women, and none are held by duress. It is common practice for the African chiefs to take as wives all the first-born daughters and all female twins of certain families within their tribes, or to give the girls in marriage to their attendants and sons. In addition to this much-married state, the Fon told the investigating committee that he was not the 80 years of age people thought he was. He insisted that he was more than 100.

Halibut Skipper Chamber Member

For the first time a halibut boat owner has become a member of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber, in accepting the application for membership of Ole Stegavig, president of the Halibut Vessel Owners' Association and owner and captain of the fishing vessel Cape Spear, last night expressed the hope that he would not be the last. In fact, members of the chamber commented on the desirability of more active operators in the fishing industry taking part in the affairs of the organization.

J. S. Lingsay, automobile dealer was also elected to membership in the chamber.

Royal Hotel Has Bowling Cinch

With only five more weeks of the Sunday Ten Pin Bowling schedule to go, the teams are battling for play-off positions. The Royal Hotel squad pretty well have the number one spot all wrapped up. However, the other three play-off spots are very much in doubt every game counts. The Grotto squad are hanging desperately on to their two point edge for the runner-up position.

Joe Davis of the Prince Rupert Plumbers took individual honors on Sunday as his big 224 was high single for the day and his 536 aggregate took the high three honors.

Jack Lindsay pounded out 554 pins to put himself on top for the high average honors. Jack's average of 172 leads both the Sunday and the Friday sections of the league.

Ice Destroys Osland Float

Worst ice damage to public works mooring facilities by unusual ice conditions in the Skeena River area during the past winter was, apparently, done at Osland where 200 feet of approach and the float was carried out. Assistant District Engineer C. F. P. Faulkner of the Department of Public Works was at the scene during the past week to assess the damage which will involve the letting of a contract for repairs.

Port Essington floats were also badly wrecked by the ice. A new wharf for the snagboat under construction by Armour Salvage Co. at Balmoral, on the east side of the mouth of Ecstall River also suffered damage. Cannery wharves also suffered ice damage.

NEW SANDSPIT WHARF FINISHED

A new wharf at Sandspit on the Queen Charlotte Islands has been completed by contractors Atkins, Palmer & Way. Final inspection was made during the past week by C. F. P. Faulkner and R. P. Henderson, engineers for the department of public works.

PATIENTS HAVE TREK OVER ICE

After an eight mile trek over the frozen Naas River from Greenville to Red Bluff, Simon Calder, a stretcher case, and three other natives, Charlie Moore and Magnus Stevens were transferred to the steamer 'Coquitlam' at Kincolith and finally brought to General Hospital here by city ambulance this morning. The patients were accompanied by Mrs. J. B. Leite, field nurse at Kincolith.

Quits Office In Protest

Power Company Head Consents, However, to Remain as Commerce Chamber Member

Thomas B. Black, general manager of the Northern British Columbia Power Co., has resigned as vice-president of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce in protest at a communication from the Chamber to the city. Mr. Black has, however, been induced by a special com-mitter of the Chamber consisting of Dr. L. M. Greene, W. F. Stone and L. M. Felsenthal to reconsider resigning as a member of the Chamber.

In a letter to the Chamber, Mr. Black dubbed statements in the Chamber which were offensive to him as being "grossly biased," the statements being "extremely inimical" to any understanding of the power company's position and reflecting conclusions which have been reached without due consideration and investigation. Pointing out that the communication had not consulted with the mayor or himself, Mr. Black said in his letter of resignation that, if this was fair and just procedure, he could not subscribe to the action and, therefore, tendered his resignation.

The resignation as vice-president was accepted with regret, in view of the fact that he had proven obscure after being interviewed by a committee seeking his reconsideration but it was agreed that he should be requested to at least remain as a member.

At the same time the meeting last night ratified the communication to the city council which had proven offensive to Mr. Black.

The executive of the Chamber, before the next meeting, will present a nomination for vice-president to succeed Mr. Black.

School Pupils Offer Program

A novel and diverting program was presented by pupils of the various schools in the city to over 600 parents and friends in the Civic Centre auditorium last night as the opening feature of an Education Week public gathering.

Children, ranging from grades two to seven presented a concert of folk dances, action songs and choruses. Contribution from Booth Memorial High school consisted of a debut of the school orchestra, an 11 piece organization directed by Frank Huber.

The program commenced with a chorus of youngsters from the Borden Street School who sang "Our Canada from Sea to Sea" by Stringer and "Begone Thou Care" and English traditional melody. They were conducted by J. S. Wilson, principal. King Edward school pupils staged a delightful playlet entitled "Joke on Jackie". In addition they executed two folk dances, "Hendricks" and a Danish schottische. Miss D. Robertson and Miss N. Coldwell were in charge.

The Annunciation School Choir directed by Sister Mary Lawrence, rendered three chorus numbers entitled "Pancakes", "My Hearts in Canada", by Thompson and "Salve Regina", a traditional sacred selection. Folk dances and an action song were presented by grades five and two pupils of Conrad Street School under the Principal T. G. Bateman. The dances were entitled "Ruffy-Tuffy" and Sellinger's Round.

The Booth Memorial High School orchestra presented "The First Assembly" by Herbert and

LIVING COSTS UP—Canada's cost-of-living index went up in January, the first increase in six months. Higher food costs in the first month of 1950 shoved the index to 161.6, up 3/5 of a point over the figure at Dec. 31, 1949. A long climb from the end of major price controls in 1946 reached an all-time peak of 162.8 in August, 1949. (CP Photo)

Teachers' Problems

Dr Lord Speaks Professionally at Association Dinner

Guest of honor at a dinner of the Prince Rupert Teachers' Association at the Civic Centre Auditorium last evening, Dr. A. R. Lord, principal of Vancouver Normal School, discussed in the course of a brief address, problems of particular interest to the teaching profession and reminded interestingly on experiences of thirty years ago when he was the first resident school inspector of Prince Rupert.

In those days, Dr. Lord recalled, this inspectorate extended from Bella Coola on the south to Atlin in the north, from the Alberta border on the east to the Queen Charlotte Islands on the west, also including the Peace River. There were no aircraft then and no thorough roads. He had walked along the railway line, although not all at one time, of course, if the way from Dunster to Smithers. It was not unusual to hike the ties for 20 or 25 miles in order to avoid a three or four day layover waiting for trains.

But life, for all of that, had its compensations and one of the best of these was the intimate contact which one had with the "fascinating" pioneer people.

Dr. Lord recalled some incidents of those times including the coming of immigration to the Bulkley Valley.

Great expansion of education, the annual cost of which had increased from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 in eight years, was alluded to by the speaker. Increased population and changes in the way of living, due to industrial and scientific developments, had necessitated great changes in educational processes and technique.

The speaker discussed new educational mechanics in Ontario was experimenting now with a system whereby teachers carried on through the grades with the same pupils instead of teachers concentrating on one grade and where autonomy in courses of study was being left to local control with committees representing industry, labor home and school associations to select the type of curricula which seemed most suitable to the local needs.

In Winnipeg another interesting experiment was a "self survey" of educational problems.

Dr. Lord dealt with salary matters, expressing favor for a system whereby remuneration was based on equal pay for equal service with due allowance for dependents. The importance of adequate salaries to get and retain suitable people in the profession was emphasized by Dr. Lord. At the same time, if a teacher was to receive more he must be prepared to give more. The importance of the prestige of the teacher in the community was also stressed by Dr. Lord. Only the teachers' organization could ensure that there was financial recognition for the profession.

Speaking of teacher training, Dr. Lord expressed the opinion that good teachers were more important than good buildings on which such great emphasis was being placed today. He favored higher academic standing and longer special training for teachers.

F. R. Wright, president of the Prince Rupert Teachers' Association, was in the chair and special guests at the gathering, which consisted largely of teachers and their wives, were Dr. R. G. Large, chairman of the board of school trustees, and Mrs. Large and Joseph Chell, inspector of schools, and Mrs. Chell.

MASSET GETTING PLANE LANDING

Masset is to have a new seaplane landing if estimates of the public works department, now before Parliament in Ottawa, are approved. The location will be at the southerly end of the entrance of Delakla slough into Masset Inlet just south of the village of Masset.

City housing, waterfront rentals, air strip and highway were among the matters which came up at the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber received a report from its civic committee on progress being made by the city council in canvassing the possibilities of a new federal scheme of housing being adapted in Prince Rupert. Steps were now being taken by the council with a view to having a survey of the needs here. The committee asked to pursue the matter further and bring in further information.

The trade and commerce committee, Harry Davies, chairman reported on a matter of a recent 146 percent increase in the waterfront rental of Home Oil Distributors Ltd which was described as "quite a raise which hadly seemed justified." In view of the fact that more waterfront property might be subjected to increase in rentals as leases expire and that business of the city generally might be affected the board went on record as favoring statutory arbitration of waterfront valuations on which it was considered five percent of valuation taxation might be fair.

Housing Is Discussed

Two Plans On Breakwater

Tenders for the breakwater at the fishermen's floats at Fairview Bay on the west end of the Prince Rupert waterfront, returnable to federal department of public works by March 15, call for bids on two separate plans and specifications—one providing for a solid concrete structure and the other a rock mound construction.

The breakwater will be 800 feet in length if all and will have natural foundation on a reef from which it will be built up to thirty feet above low water mark and five feet above extreme high water.

Construction of the project, appropriation of $300,000 for which has been made, is to get under way early this year.

Another local waterfront project upon which work will commence shortly will be an extensive $55,000 job of reconstruction of the fishermen's floats east of the dry dock, contract for which has been awarded to the Skeena River Pile Driving Co. All the existing floats will be replaced with the exception of two which were renewed a few years ago.

Still another local waterfront project of the federal government involves the putting in of floats—one 140 feet long and another 70 feet long—together with approaches for the accommodation at Seal Cove of patrol vessels of the Department of Fisheries.

GOOD NEIGHBOUR

Hanging out my laundry that Mrs. Layton is a whiter. I couldn't help but wonder why. The reason is that yellow tinge, which you can only obtain with blue, and your chances with anything else are slim. That's good neighbourliness advice. It's back to you now on pattern costs so little.
