Dr. Kergin's Story — Was Crawling Along Beach

Crawling along the beach on his hands and knees, dazed and beaten from the ordeal of an ice cold swim, Dr. William S. "Bill" Kergin was spied from a gas boat by a native resident of Metlakatla, Henry Ryan, hours after the doctor had been dumped off his yacht into cold Chatham Sound Easter Sunday. "He thought I was a seal and I think he was going to shoot me," Dr. Kergin remarked.

He said he does not remember the details of the rescue but only that he recalled lying in a boat traveling at a terrific speed. He said he was thirsty and asked for a drink of whiskey. "And I was hungry. All they had were two sacks of potatoes. For the next few minutes I chewed on two potatoes." From his bed in his Fourth Avenue home Monday night, Dr. Kergin related his grim battle for existence during that raw, windy Sunday afternoon. Cruising in Chatham Sound with his wife and three young children, he stopped the Full Moon for an hour and watched what he termed a "rare sight." About 10,000 brant, a lesser goose, were feeding on herring spawn at Ryan point. Also feeding were 1,000 sea gulls.

The presence of brant in this area, said the doctor, especially at this time of year is rare. "They usually gather at Qualicum Beach on Vancouver Island." After gazing at the birds, he proceeded on the return journey to Prince Rupert. He said he may have come too close to Ryan Point. Also the tide was receding. TELLS OF CRASH "All of a sudden, we crashed and the boat went up to high heaven and over the reef and

Flash Jock Harris Loses Life In Early Morning Fire

A 75-year-old pensioner, resident of this city for 34 yrs, perished in his flaming cabin on Wantage road at 6 a.m. today. The dwelling is a total loss.

Body of John (Jock) Harris, former owner of the Atlas Boiler Works, was found in his bed by firemen who hacked through the rear of the building and pulled out the badly burned remains. The front door, only entrance to the cabin, was a mass of flames. There was a cookstove in front and an oil heater near the bed.

On November 1, 1948, a similar blaze occurred at the same address and a companion of Harris was admitted to hospital. Fireman Jack Furness, on call at that time, remembered the location of the bed. Therefore this morning firemen chopped through the rear wall and found Harris' body.

Canadian Built Ship Hits Mine

Citizens of World

BEST TO LIVE ON THIS EARTH involves the human race in many problems. The longer we live here, and the more of us live here, the more complex become our problems.

Only the generation that is now mature has been worried greatly about relations with people on the next continent. Up to forty years ago the ordinary man's geography became vague when it reached an ocean.

We can't help being involved in the affairs of other nations. There are potent forces at work in Europe which affect every one of us.

It would be easy to make a list of the world's discontents and write an essay about the helplessness we feel as we face them.

In making this attempt, we must avoid the temptation to brew easy-to-take remedies. Many a person who would not prescribe for his sick cat, but would call a veterinarian, still feels competent to prescribe for this sick world.

Nor should we rely upon any equalitarian doctrine. It will not do to think of all humanity being lifted up or levelled down or otherwise made "equal."

Torontonians in their stone, brick and frame houses; Eskimos in their igloos; Arabs in buildings with all their windows opening on a central courtyard; all these have merely devised different means to the same end of protecting themselves against the weather.

Just as people everywhere have found the solutions to physical life problems in different ways, so they have arrived at different ways of solving their ethical and spiritual problems.

It would not do if everyone everywhere thought the same, appreciated the same, hoped for the same. To like everything with the same enthusiasm means in the long run liking nothing properly.

The burden of our thinking today ought to be that while we retain the diversity that gives us character as persons and as nations, we need the unity that will maintain for us the world environment in which we can live our lives safely and comfortably.

The new world view will remain hazy unless we see it from a vantage point of geographical knowledge, economic realities, and spiritual insight.

We should not look for miracles. Our social improvement, comes in small instalments. Advancement will be made up of minute particulars, little by little.

We cannot longer remain indifferent to what is going on in the world, but we need not stand idly by, hopelessly wringing our hands.

Fourth Bank For City is Rumored

There is a report in circulation that, after the new building for the liquor vendor's premises has been taken place.

th and Seventh Streets is completed and the change is made, the former vendor's store at Third Avenue and Second Street will be occupied as a fourth bank. There is no confirmation of the story although reports persist that negotiations have taken place.

Picture Placing Recalls History - Wismer Going To Bench

VICTORIA — Plans are now afoot to hang pictures of all the Lieut-Governors and Premiers of British Columbia in the main lobby of the Legislative Buildings, just inside the Golden Gate entrance to the Legislative Chamber.

Provincial Archivist-Librarian Willard E. Ireland is now gathering the pictures. They will be framed alike and under each will be a small plaque with names and dates so that visitors to the Buildings will know something of British Columbia history.

Education Minister W. T. Straith, who is in charge of the library and archives, is taking a personal interest in this matter. He told the recent session of the Legislature of the plans for the picture hanging and all the M.L.A.'s said it was a good idea.

The first Premier of British Columbia was the Hon. John Foster McCleight. He served from the time the province entered Confederation in 1871 until the end of 1872. The second Premier was that fiery old bachelor, Amor de Cosmos, who was born in Nova Scotia.

Hon. Byron Johnson is British Columbia's twenty-fourth Premier. There are but two living ex-Premiers—F. D. Pattullo and John Hart.

The men who located the doctor brought him up to the sand bar in a small power boat and there transferred to the Two Rivers (The writer's boat). We in turn brought him through Metlakatla Pass to the waiting, P.M.L. 15.

Give the credit to whom it rightfully belongs, to those men from Metlakatla who conducted the search and especially to the person who actually found Dr. Kergin on the rock at or near Ryan Point.

Only by their prompt and efficient action was a tragedy averted and a miraculous rescue affected.

At the recent session of the Supreme Court Act was opened up to allow appointment of seven justices. At present there are six. Increase in population and, naturally, increase in work, has made another judge necessary.

Mr. Wismer is now 62. He has been in politics since 1933, except 1941-45 when he was out, having been defeated in 1941. He was appointed Attorney-general by T. D. Pattullo in 1937. He became Attorney-general again on the death of Hon. R. L.

Maitland in the Spring of 1946. Once he tried for the Liberal leadership, when John Hart resigned in the winter of 1947. Had he won he would have become Premier. But he was beaten by eight votes by Byron Johnson.

Mr. Wismer is one of the controversial figures of B.C. politics. He has more friends and more political enemies than any other politician. No one is indifferent to him. All—whether friend or enemy—admit his brilliance of mind, his political astuteness.

Several present-day justices have served as attorney-general. Chief Justice Sloan was attorney-general from 1933 to 1937. Justice Norman Whittaker was attorney-general for a few days while the Pattullo regime was collapsing. Justice A. M. Manson was attorney-general in the days of John Oliver.

CREDIT TO NATIVES

I read with some surprise in yesterday's paper of the role I was supposed to have played in the rescue of Dr. Kergin. I certainly would like to correct this. I took no part in the search or finding of the Doctor as I was not there while it was in progress.

The men who located the doctor brought him up to the sand bar in a small power boat and there transferred to the Two Rivers (The writer's boat). We in turn brought him through Metlakatla Pass to the waiting, P.M.L. 15.

Give the credit to whom it rightfully belongs, to those men from Metlakatla who conducted the search and especially to the person who actually found Dr. Kergin on the rock at or near Ryan Point.

Only by their prompt and efficient action was a tragedy averted and a miraculous rescue affected.

Easter Memories

Remembering scenes of my childhood days I can see—on a flowerstrewn hill— An old wooden cross all weathered and gray Standing there—peaceful and still.

I often would bring to that comforting shrine My troubled heart and my woes, There trustfully offer my childish prayers And lay at its feet a rose.

And soon all was right with my world again As I knelt so contented and still, While the purple shadows of evening Stole over the quiet hill.

Oh how I long for that far-away hill Since life's golden dreams turned to dross, For that faith and the wonderful peace I knew At the foot of that ancient cross.

Honors Are Unsettled

Friday Bowling League is Far From Over Yet

Friday's section of the Ten Pin Bowling League is far from over yet. With one more game to be played this Thursday night there is quite a fight for that fifth and last play-off spot.

A. E. Smith are three big points out in front with Mugwumps putting on a terrific battle right behind them. City Transfer dropped four points on Friday but still hang onto third place by virtue of their having bowled more pins than Paramount with whom they are tied in points, each having 29. Leftovers leaped into fifth spot by drubbing City Transfer for four points. Cloverleafs are right behind having only won one point from the league leading A. E. Smith squad. Thom Sheet Metal's squad just can't seem to get going in the second half, dropping all four points and Gyro bring up the rear.

Results of last Friday's games are:
Thom Sheet Metal — (0) 750, 714, 784—2248.
Paramounts (4 points) 779, 731, 820—2330.

Leftovers—(4 points) 847, 804, 859—2540.

Mugwumps—(4 points) 749, 810, 820—2379.

Youth Triumphant— Oldsters Lose In Hoop Finale

Fitting Climax to Local Basketball Season

The Old-Timers tried hard to re-capture some of their spirit and fight of other years last night but, even with the help of Jet regulars Beynon, Morgan and Arney, they were not able to come close to the Prince Rupert Jets who won by a score of 62 to 39. It was a good game and pretty well even until the second half when youth took command with the Jets outscoring the Old-timers 18 to 11 in the third quarter and 20 to 10 in the final.

Herb Morgan was high man for the old-timers with 13 and Ted Arney scored 11. Jack Lindsay showed a bit of his old fire in the second half to score 7 and Fred Calderoni netted a picture basket just as the whistle sounded to end the first half.

For the Jets Don Scherk was hot, popping 16 points through the hoop. Rupert Holkestad was second high man with 10 and Lavigne, Spring and Davis each scored 8.

It was a fitting climax to an active season. During the game special mention was made of the excellent work of the St. John's Ambulance Brigade whose members had attended every game and provided valuable assistance.

Lineups
Old-Timers—Bill 2, Beynon, Morgan 13, Dominato 1, Arney, Calderoni 2, MacPhee 3, Lindsay 7, Alexander, Ted Arney 11—Total 39
Jets—Platen 4, Pierce 4, Lavigne 8, Spring 8, D. Scherk 16, Sunberg, Davis 8, S. Scherk 4, Holkestad 10—Total—62

PRELIMINARY
The Intermediate All-Stars provided an upset when they won over High School Seniors 34 to 22. High School had their full team out but were only able to outscore the Intermediates in the first quarter. The All-Stars played with but two spares and earned their win.

Wesch was high man with 10 followed by Smith with 7. Carlson was high for Bo-Me-Hi with 8 and Kristmanon scored 7.
High School coach Jack Evans used his second string most of the time but it was a real feather in the cap for the Intermediates and they were a pretty happy bunch when the game was over.

Lineups
Intermediate All-Stars—Wesch 10, Smith R. 7, Dumas 3, Marshall 4, Walsh 2, Christoff 3, Slatka 5—Total—24
High School—Spring 6, Carlson 8, Kristmanon 7, Sharpe 2, McChesney 4, Ratchford, Bill, Scherk 3, Webster 2—Total—32

Royal Hotel Are Champs

Had Easy Margin in Sunday Bowling League

As was expected, the Royal Hotel squad took the Sunday 10-pin League Bowling championship. Although dropping three points in the final game to the W.E.A.C. the Royal Hotel led the league by 10 points, ending up with 43 points.

Highlight of the afternoon's play was a mighty effort by Len Garner of 99 Taxi who bowled over 603 pins for three games, taking the high three game honors away from Jack Lindsay whose 597 pins led the league for over two months.

The taximen broke another record—the team high single game, formerly held by the Royal Hotel—by rolling a big 916 pins. They came very close to taking the high three but fell off slightly in the last game.

W.E.A.C. went into a tie with Grotto as they edged the Royal Hotel for three points while Grotto were dropping three to the Prince Rupert Plumbers. By sweeping three points from the Commercial Hotel squad, 99 Taxi took over fourth spot and the hotelmen slipped into the fifth and last play-off spot. Savoy Hotel finally hit their stride in a belated effort, drubbing the hapless Liquor Control Board.

Results of the final games were:
Commercial Hotel—(1 point) 715, 769, 795—2279.
99 Taxi—(3 points) 818, 934, 784—2536.
Grotto—(1 point) 810, 803, 752—2364.

Prince Rupert Plumbing (3 points) 742, 829, 806—2377.
Liquor Control Board—(0) 744, 743, 761—2238.
Savoy Hotel—(4 points) 846, 745, 802—2493.
W.E.A.C.—(3 points) 797, 869, 873—2539.
Royal Hotel—(1 point) 842, 864, 769—2475.

The standings at the end of the season:

	Agg.	Ave.	Ttl.
Royal	34,591	823.5	43
W.E.A.C.	33,316	793.2	33
Grotto	32,577	775.6	33
99 Taxi	33,544	798.7	31
Commercial	33,186	790.1	27
P.R. Plumbing	32,013	762.2	25
Savoy	32,539	774.7	24
Liquor Board	29,694	707	8

Sunday League's play-offs get under way this Friday night with the W.E.A.C. meeting 99 Taxi and Grotto tackling Commercial Hotel squad. The winners will meet Sunday in the final.

ONE HE MISSED—Chuck Rayner, brilliant goalie of the New York Rangers, cleared this rebound in a tight moment in the fourth game of the N.H.L. playoffs in Montreal between Canadiens and New York. A hard backhand shot by Lach in overtime gave Montreal a victory. Here Lach is cut off from the puck. Frankie Eddolls, nearest Lach, and Allan Stanley, Ranger defence pair, are also shown. Rangers eliminated Montreal four games to one to enter the Stanley Cup finals. (C.P. Photo) changes should be made but were divided on the nature of the changes.

Interest in North

Mr. McRae spoke of the congenial attitude all the ministers displayed at Victoria in regard to Prince Rupert. All departments were showing a keen interest in the development of this part of the country and everywhere he went there was an apparent desire to co-operate.

With work of the straightening out and resurfacing of the highway from Prince Rupert city limits to Galloway Rapids now under way and the public works department resolved that it must be speeded up, a survey of the section from Galloway Rapids to Port Edward is about to be undertaken with a view to similar improvements, Mr. McRae said.

As for the road to Terrace there would be a more active program of resurfacing and crushed rock laying this year. Mr. McRae was assured at Victoria. He was confident that, as soon as traffic showed signs of justifying it, the road would be kept open year around. Mr. McRae expressed belief that logging operations at Terrace for the Watson Island celanese mill would bring about that increased traffic almost immediately. (In the Legislature Mr. McRae had strongly advocated keeping the Prince Rupert-Terrace road open throughout the winter.

Discussion of oil and gas pipe lines from Alberta to Pacific Coast had loomed large at Victoria, Mr. McRae said. Favor was expressed for a line through Yellowhead Pass and thence to the coast through British Columbia in a resolution that had been passed, Mr. McRae himself being the seconder. It was felt that the supply to British Columbia should be protected before any exporting was permitted.

Mr. McRae spoke of the matter of housing and expressed surprise to hear that Prince Rupert had not even done the simple preliminary of surveying the needs for housing here by the distribution of questionnaires. There should be no further delay. The city certainly needed housing and he felt the scheme of government assistance could very well be taken advantage of here. He hoped there would be no further delay in the local preliminaries being undertaken.

is to look at what some city gardeners have done with the assorted blue clay, mortar, and broken bricks some builders have used for grading up the backyard. Almost anything will disintegrate in time and what won't be hauled away or used for drainage. With very heavy soil and lying fairly level some drainage is needed. With large plots this can be done by installing tile drains although an open ditch will be a lot cheaper and may do well enough.

After this, treatment for very heavy or very light soils is about the same. The main thing is to get in plenty of humus and cultivate. Humus is simply a high class name for ordinary manure. Grass cuttings, straw or even just green weeds and other plants. The more of this stuff that is dug in the more open and porous the soil becomes. Where possible it's a good plan to grow a crop of clover, fall rye, oats or some rank-growing thing and dig or plow this under. After a few years' treatment even in the toughest or most barren soil becomes mellow and, as he old timers say, friable.

It's Not Just Luck - "He's always lucky in transplanting things." One often hears a comment like that in the spring or fall when trees, shrubs, vines and other things that come under the heading of nursery stock are being planted or moved. But it's not luck at all. It is merely knowing how.

Ray Reflects...
... and Reminisces

Last week's shooting and attempted bank robbery in New Westminster was not to be compared with what happened in the same city in September, 1911. In the present instance, the gunman made a sorry mess of things. Thirty-nine years ago in the Royal city, the Bank of Montreal was relieved of $271,000 in gold, silver and bills. It was all so sleek, so neat, and almost silent—rated the biggest thing of the kind British Columbia has known. The case, however, did have a hangover. Two days later, a paper-boy, George Lavery, while playing under a ravine sidewalk near the scene of the plunder found $50,000 in gold. Lavery, now a longshoreman, never received any reward.

The public assumes that banks in Prince Rupert, as a general rule, hold substantial sums, but so far as known, no robbery attempts, either in a bank or during transit, have ever been tried. An accepted reason for the non-appearance of bandits is that Prince Rupert is a difficult city to escape from, or to remain in, without sooner or later being detected. For one thing, Prince Rupert is more than 500 miles from a large centre. It is taken for granted, there must be payrolls. If potential bad men ever did size up the situation here, it is thought they concluded there was too heavy risk for their peculiar talents.

While local bankers have been free from the attentions of freebooters, the latter, early one evening, operated in their immediate neighborhood. This was when the safe in the jewelry store of R. W. Cameron, next door to the Royal Bank, was emptied of its cash: a total of somewhere between five and six hundred dollars. It looked like the work of experts.

While on the general subject of police and perception, it may not be out of place to tell about a Prince Rupert warden who once found himself on the wrong side of the lock-up. Without his keys, he had stepped inside for a moment. A prisoner swung the open door which promptly clicked — and there he was, speeding toward the street entrance. The officer, from within, shouted and fired, the bullet making a hole in the guardroom wall. At the doorway the other paused. Then he sauntered along the sidewalk and vanished into the lane by the city hall. It's a fair guess to say he hasn't been seen here since.

"I've never heard yet," remarked a bank manager Wednesday "of any way to remain safe. There is always the chance that has to be taken. It is now, and always has been a problem. A general alarm, the instant it's known a gunman is around is not enough. The noise can terrify, but this cannot save the situation. He can shoot his way outside or at least try to."

Gary Cooper As Easy Mark Seen

A warm-hearted human interest comedy was seen at the Capitol Theatre last night and will be repeated tonight in "Good Sam," starring Gary Cooper and Ann Sheridan.

Cooper has the role of the general manager of a department store who is known as "Good Sam" (short for Good Samaritan) because of his unflinching generosity to his fellow beings when they are in need of a helping hand. Miss Sheridan plays his devoted but sometimes exasperated wife who tries to teach him that charity begins at home. Sam's good deeds keep the family's fortunes at a low ebb and his wife on the verge of despair. Many complications, both hilarious and serious, crop up before Sam's philosophy of life pays off and the family attains security.

Excellent support is given Cooper and Miss Sheridan by such favorites as Ray Collins, Edmund Lowe, Louise Beavers and others.

Vimy Ridge
Anniversary

The flowers on the altar given by the 102nd Battalion, (North British Columbians) in memory of the fallen at Vimy Ridge on Easter Monday, April 9, 1917, marked the thirty-third Anniversary of that famous battle. The battlefield memorial stands in an honored place in this church and the regimental colors are displayed in the chancel.

Happy Meeting
On Third Ave.

Four eyes could not believe what they saw last week. After five years, the past suddenly surged in and brought two war comrades together on Third Avenue. The last time they had seen each other was when they fought in Burma in 1944-45.

Ed Mussallem, local businessman, and Derick Hyland of Bournemouth, England, were former R.A.F. members of the South East Asia command in Burma and were connected with supply drops in the 14th Battalion.

Mr. Hyland was in Prince Rupert conferring with Columbia Cellulose Company officials. He represents Hylahd Warick Company of Bournemouth, a heavy duty boat equipment and ship chandlery concern.

Attention For Floats at "Bay"

A special joint meeting of the federal and provincial Liberal Associations received word that the District Engineer Stevens had been authorized to draw blueprints to have the Cow Bay floats and approach put into first class shape.

A nomination committee was appointed from the two groups to select a lady candidate to attend the Liberal ladies' convention at Laurier Hotel, Ottawa in June.
