Working to End Long Newfoundland Controversy

GENERAL UNION WITH CANADA ONE OF
THE CHOICES IN JUNE 3 REFERENDUM

PHILIPPS, Nfld., (CP)—When Newfoundlanders choose their form of government on the coming Thursday, it will have been two years since a national convention was held to study and recommend possible forms of administration.

Off the delegation to Ottawa was one of the steps in the process leading to the final decision of Britain to join the Commonwealth government.

The government and the people will vote on the ballot on the coming Thursday.

In 1947, a seven-man committee under the chairmanship of the convention, the Canadian capital. It was there for 100 days studying what Newfoundland should do if she became a 10th province.

The federal government decided to join the Commonwealth, the federal government would collect $20 million in annual revenues from Newfoundland, but it would not raise more than $26,000,000 in the form of old age pensions, allowances and taxation subsidies.

Newfoundland would raise $10,000,000, including taxation payments. But it would spend $15,000,000 for provincial services. The financial arrangement indicated that Newfoundland would be made a special transitional sub-fund at bringing Newfoundland's services up to a par with the rest of Canada.

Terms, oddly enough, did not state whether Canada would make any offer to the States to take over Amman, worth about $300,000. It was indicated how Canada would not inherit the 99-year lease.

FOR UNION
CANADA
Imposed terms for union would be ready to absorb $100 million of the $78,000,000 national debt, and so it will take over the Newfound-land railway, communication Gander airport, steamer and broadcasting corpor-

Canada will allow Newfoundland to retain $32,000,000 built up during the war providing a third of the funds set aside to meet post-war effects during the first years of union.

Canada would extend to Newfoundland the special subsidy of $1,000,000 awarded to the Provinces after special Commission hearings.

These special subsidies would be added to payments under Dominion-provincial agreement where Newfoundland would agree to abandon income, corporation and inheritance tax fields in return for payments.

Payments for use of Newfoundland fields and the subsidies would amount to a minimum of $6,200,000 annually.

A colony Newfoundland between $35,000,000 and $40 million annually but as a practical matter only $3,000,000 revenue, mainly raised by customs and excise would still be collectable.

Canada would make provision for a series of diminishing grants to give Newfoundland time to develop services, new revenue-pro-cesses.

View of the difficulty of financing accurately how Newfoundland would fare financially. Confederation, Canada would make provision to have its financial resources provided by a royal commission for eight years.

C.C.F. Wins Yale Seat

KELOWNA—Owen Jones of Kelowna carried the federal by-election in Yale yesterday with a large majority. His election was conceded early last night when still incomplete returns showed him ahead with a lead of four thousand. The Liberal candidate, Edward J. Chambers, was in second place with W. A. C. Bennett, Progressive - Conservative, third.

With 10 small polls of a total of 122 missing, the vote stood at:
Jones, 10,576.
Chambers, 6,923.
Bennett, 6,900.
Jones is a 52-year old furniture store owner. The seat had been represented by Hon. Grote Stirling, Progressive - Conservative, since 1924. He retired on account of ill-health.

Jews Bomb Arab City

AMMAN, Trans-Jordan, (CP)—Six Arab civilians were killed today when Jewish airmen dropped explosive bombs and incendiaries in their first raid on this city. Two of the dead were identified as children. The raid came just a short time before Count Folke Bernadotte, U.N. mediator, was to arrive in Amman from Haifa for talks with Arab leaders on a proposed truce.

MR. KING TO TOUR COUNTRY

OTTAWA—Premier King has informed friends that some time this autumn he will definitely leave office but, before doing so, he plans on visiting various parts of Canada. The exact date of the premier's retirement will depend on the convenience of his successor.

Mr. King hinted that when he retires to private life he "may do something in the nature of newspaper work." He would not be a strange rat to the business for as a young man he was a member of the Toronto Globe staff.

22 DEAD IN NAVY MISHAP

Via Army Signals
NORFOLK, Virginia, (CP)—Nine marines and 13 navy men died last night when a navy launch, returning from Memorial Day liberty, swamped at Hampden Roads. The 12-ship task force to which they belonged, under Rear Admiral C. A. F. Sprague, bound for the Mediterranean, was delayed pending investigation.

INITIATIVE IN FLOOD RELIEF

VANCOUVER—The Vancouver Board of Trade has taken the initiative in setting in motion preliminary organization for emergency flood relief. Austin C. Taylor has consented to act as chairman.

While the Red Cross organization is taking over immediate disaster relief and permanent rehabilitation will be a government responsibility, it is felt that there is a need in the meantime and for that purpose an emergency fund is being raised. The Red Cross has agreed to handle the special effort, the need for support of which is urgent.

In a message to Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce throughout the province, Howard T. Mitchell, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, is emphasizing the desirability of full and generous response to the appeal.

Skeena Flood Receding, Damage Surveys Started

Water Down Between 18 Inches and Three Feet Today

Marked recession of the flooding Skeena River today gave rise to hope that its week-long rampage, which has destroyed homes, communications and transportation and left scores of people homeless in the central interior may be ending. Word from up-river points of Kwinitsa and Exstew this morning indicated that the turgid water is now between 18 inches and three feet below its last week's crest and railway and public works authorities are hoping that it will continue so that they can make surveys of damage to roadbeds and communication lines.

Provincial Police Inspector F. B. Woods-Johnson, who returned to the city last night from a survey of interior communities, said this morning that a general recession has been in effect since Sunday and that Sunday evening the water was 14 inches below its crest at Copper River, east of Terrace.

"Nobody is really suffering any hardship," he said today. "There is sufficient food and clothing and the Red Cross and neighbors are helping out in every way possible."

A message from Ed Coughlan, Social Service officer who is now at Usk, indicated that things are well under control in that flooded town. "Clothing, bedding, food and housing are all adequate," Mr. Coughlan's message said. "The children are well cared for and speedier transportation has been established to Terrace."

One expectant mother has gone to Terrace. Those requiring temporary accommodation are housed in tents and at the school. "Biggest problem at Usk at the present time is fresh water dis-

VISITING HERE—Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests and M.L.A. for Skeena. Mr. Kenney arrived by air yesterday from Victoria and flew today to his home town of Terrace, also planning to visit Smithers and other points in his riding on the present trip. The flood emergency decided him to come north earlier than he had originally planned.

of his assistants, have been continuous.

Eight homes on Braun's Island south of Terrace, were washed out and their occupants were taken in by friends or housed in army buildings in the village. Among the worst hit were Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Craig, who have a family of six. They lost their barn and, of course, their crops.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Fournier, also of Braun's Island, were forced to flee, leaving all their belongings behind.

Terrace people banded together into a dyking crew and probably saved the south side of the town from inundation by continuous effort on Saturday and Sunday. The dyke held and saved 30 families from flood loss.

At Pacific, there was a foot of water on Saturday.

Neighbors of Vic Giraud, fisheries inspector at Terrace, aided in saving the Sherwood home from being undermined on the bank of the Skeena. They sawed the building into three parts and moved it to higher ground.

HAZELTON IS NOT SUFFERING

At Hazelton, no one is suffering, Inspector Woods-Johnson reported. A couple of buildings were in danger of being washed away, but were moved across the street to higher ground. Residents of the flooded Kispiox Valley have been evacuated.

STILL SERIOUS AT PRINCE GEORGE

In the interior, four cities reported a recession of flood waters. They are Kimberley, Grand Forks, Fernie and Terrace. Prince George reported the situation still serious with some evacuations under way in low lying areas. The East Kootenay town of Creston, took the worst blow. A dyke gave way forcing hundreds from their homes. Officials at Kelowna say the situation there will not be serious for another 8 days. Vancouver hospitals say that a survey has been made of hospital facilities in non-affected areas in case of an epidemic in flood areas.

TEL AVIV IS NEXT TARGET

JERUSALEM — Reports say that the city of Tel Aviv is to be the next target of Arab troops. Arab armies are said to be massing for a three-pronged assault against the capital of Israel.

Meanwhile, there may be new efforts on the part of the United Nations to halt the warfare in the Holy Land.

The United Nations mediator for Palestine has arrived in Haifa by air from Egypt. However, no other details are available.

There are 23 species of the opossum in North and South America, ranging in size from a rat to a cat.

Emergency Is Declared

Army Is Placed In Charge of Southern Flood Areas

VICTORIA—State of emergency in flood areas of the province was officially declared yesterday by Premier Byron Johnson. There will be division into sections each with an Army officer in charge.

There was still little sign of an abatement of high waters which have caused great devastation in the Fraser Valley. In the southern interior the Columbia and Kootenay Rivers are still on the rampage.

Premier Johnson's statement came as the flood situation on the Fraser River seemed strangely quiet. All dykes were reported holding late last night. Officials in two places expressed fears of a break through. The places are the Queensbury section of Lulu Island and Pitt Meadows. There are several places where the dykes are in precarious positions. They are Rosedale, Barnston Island and Chilliwack. No dykes have broken in any of these places.

The Army said late last night that they had filled work commitments with volunteers and would make another appeal when more workers were needed. This presumably meant there were enough workers to get through the night.

Another appeal made last night met with much success. This was the appeal for any kind of sacks. The citizens of Vancouver were asked to leave any sacks, suitable for sandbag use, on the curbs outside their homes. Sacks on the streets were picked up by cars.

The embargo on all Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railway traffic to Vancouver is continuing. Officials of the two railway lines say no attempt will be made to bring trains through the Fraser Valley for at least 72 hours.

In Vancouver, officials of several oil companies are meeting to decide whether or not to ration gasoline for non-essential driving.

At the same time, food stores are rationing butter and in some districts it is almost unobtainable.

A flood expert has expressed the possibility of a milk famine in the city.

Premier Johnson's emergency statement said the Army will be very closely associated with the Navy and Air Force. The B.C. Police, the department of public works and other provincial government agencies and the Red Cross will come under the direction of the commanding officer of the Army in B.C. or his duly appointed representatives.

AIRCRAFT ARE BRIDGING GAP

Every Available North Star
Pressed Into Service to Coast

MONTREAL — Every available four-engined North Star aircraft of TransCanada Air Lines that can be spared has been routed to Western Canada to provide emergency links between Vancouver and Alberta. Anson C. McKim, vice-president of Traffic, announced here yesterday. Use of the 40-passenger planes will not interfere with regular schedules and, meantime, the air routes are providing the only form of transportation between the distressed West Coast province and other parts of the nation.

All the North Stars that can be spared have been rushed west to provide service in that area. Some of the planes were flown from Montreal. Twelve extra sections are now being operated in both directions by TCA between Vancouver and the rail centres of Edmonton and Calgary to meet the crisis.

NEW SHIP AT KETCHIKAN

KETCHIKAN — Marking the line's first full scale entry into the Alaska passenger business, the SS George Washington of the Alaska Transportation Co. is now operating. The vessel 5,184 gross tons is 375 feet long, and was formerly the New York-Bermuda cruise ship. She will call at Ketchikan, Juneau, Haines and Skagway north-bound, and return south via Sitka and Ketchikan. Her skipper is Capt. Larry Parks.

Yale By-Election

IT WOULD BE FUTILE to attempt to discount the satisfaction that the C.C.F. party must feel in its very decisive victory yesterday in the federal by-election in Yale, a seat which has been almost traditionally Conservative. Owen Jones, the popular Kelowna man, who is highly esteemed and has a large personal following not only in his home town but elsewhere in the district, was always expected to be a strong contender but possibly it was not anticipated that the preference accorded him would have been so large. It was more than a personal victory but an expression of protest on the part of the people of Yale—at such things as failure to relieve taxation, the increase in freight rates and, possibly to some extent, the agricultural policy.

The government, with all its strength, made a strong bid for the seat and took second place. The Liberals possibly are not so greatly disappointed although it would have been a great feather in their cap had they been able to capture the seat.

Greatest disappointment of all in Yale will be that of the Conservatives who also had a very popular candidate, W. A. C. Bennett, but who could do no better than come third in a seat which has been almost traditionally held by his party.

If the C.C.F. claim that the result of Yale is an indication of the trend of the political tide in British Columbia, it will be hard to deny it. As far as the other parties are concerned, they would be well advised to face the fact and govern themselves accordingly. Maybe they will realize now that, if they really mean business, it is high time they were getting down to it.

A WORTHY MOVE

IT IS TO BE SINCERELY HOPED that the plight of sufferers from the floods in the central interior will not be so intense as to require a large relief program. However, it is well that a public meeting is being called tonight for the purpose of considering the situation and organizing for such relief as may be necessary on a co-ordinated basis. It would have been a most inconsiderate thing if some sort of a community move had not been made here to come to the aid of our interior friends if such help should be required.

Doubtless, there will be a large and representative gathering tonight to hear what is already being done and consider suggestions for further effort. Prince Rupert people have always been known to be generous in the support of good causes. Here is one right at home.

Even if it does turn out that a great deal is not required the gesture of goodwill and readiness to help will be greatly appreciated.

WORLD TRADE WEEK

DESIGNED TO EMPHASIZE the importance of world trade to every citizen of Canada, World Trade Week is being observed this week and it is fitting that Prince Rupert, which aspires one day to become a world port and certainly is admirably situated to realize that ambition, should give some thought to the matter.

British Columbia has a vital role in world trade. During 1947 ninety-eight different countries received products exported through the ports of this province. In the same period seventy-five different countries sent products to British Columbia. Both imports and exports through British Columbia ports reached an all-time high during the year. Exports of British Columbia products increased from a value of approximately $112,000,000 in 1939 to over $340,000,000 in 1947. That is indeed big business. One can picture what a difference it would make to the economic welfare and prosperity of this province if it had not that business.

LIBERTY UNDER LAW

FORTUNE MAGAZINE'S editorial "Too bad they didn't live to see it" caused such a stir that it was reprinted in another Luce publication, Life magazine. It reviews the accomplishments of the hundred years since the Marxist manifesto, which signalled the birth of Communism, and challenges the suggestion that private enterprise capitalism is old-fashioned. It matches the capitalist record of achievement against the communist record and suggests that where democratic capitalism is falling down is in "not understanding the rules." It points out that the whole United States economic system, although not specifically defined in the Constitution, stems from principles which can be summed up under the concept of "liberty under law." Americans (and this certainly applies in an equal degree to Canadians) must understand and properly value their traditional system and not be bullied and wheedled into allowing a piecemeal encroachment on their liberty.

Translator Is Heard Here

At the first annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society at St. Andrew's Cathedral Hall on Friday evening representatives from the various churches assembled to hear reports and the guest speaker for the evening who was Rev. J. I. Kaardal of the French Sudan, Africa. Mr. Kaardal, is at present on furlough, having completed the translation of the New Testament in the Mundang language. The translation is now in the hands of the British and Foreign Bible Society, London, England and will soon be off the press.

Mr. Kaardal's address was inspiring and informative as he outlined first of all his own early connection with this Society, when it undertook the writing of the first translation of the Gospel of Mark some years ago. There was food for thought in the realization that, since the natives of the Sudan are nearer to the place where the Scriptures were born, in many cases their interpretation is closer to the heart and meaning of the Word than in involved English.

Judge W. E. Fisher, president of the branch, presided while other ministers of the city took part in the program.

The election which took place at this gathering returned all officers for the year, as follows: President, Judge W. E. Fisher. Secretary, Miss Margaret Fraser.

Treasurer, P. H. Linzey. Representative members from the various churches are to be appointed by the Ministerial Association at their next meeting.

The chairman's remarks covered a review of the past year's activities, with special mention of the campaign for funds in December 1947. It also covered a preview of that which should be undertaken by this branch as a unit of the British and Foreign Bible Society in its gigantic task of giving the Scriptures to every nation in its own tongue. Particular attention was drawn to the fact that the pagan peoples of the world are rapidly becoming literate and, if the Scriptures for which they are pleading are not given to them, they will read that which is not nearly so safe as the Word of God and thus become a menace to the world.

The treasurer's report for the year 1947 was read, as follows:

Receipts
First Baptist Church	$27.16
Salvation Army	18.05
Anglican Cathedral	11.31
St. Paul's Lutheran	11.00
United Church	6.15
Presbyterian Church	5.30
Gospel Tabernacle	5.05
St. Peter's Anglican	5.00
Expenditures
Cheque to headquarters	$39.02

Plans for the fall campaign are under way and it is believed that this branch will do its share toward making possible the $25,000 objective which is the Society's goal for this province.

BISHOPS' WIVES WILL AIR VIEWS

Women's Get-Together to Be Novel Feature at Lambeth Conference

By Norman Cribbens
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON. (P)—A conference of more than 100 bishops' wives from many parts of the world will be a feature of the Lambeth Conference to be held at Lambeth Palace, headquarters of the Archbishop of Canterbury, from July 1 to August 8.

Although not an official part of the Conference, it has the blessing of the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, and bishops of the Church of England.

"For some time there has been a feeling that women might play a more important part in the work of the Anglican Church," an official at Lambeth Palace said.

"As so many bishops from abroad are bringing their wives, it was felt that might be a good opportunity for women to air their views."

Picturesque visitors to the Conference will be dignitaries of the old Catholic and Orthodox Churches.

NOTABLE FIGURES

They include Archbishop Damaskinos of Athens, the former Regent of Greece; the Metropolitan Dionysius of Warsaw; the Patriarchs of Antioch and Alexandria and the Archbishop of Abo (Finland). Both Warsaw and Finland now are under Russian domination.

Another striking figure among the visiting bishops will be the assistant Bishop of Colombo, Right Rev. H. L. J. de Mel, a Cingalese who studied at Keble College, Oxford.

From Mombassa, West Africa, will come Bishop R. P. Crabbe, only Anglican bishop to be dean of two cathedrals in one diocese. He will be minus his traditional silver and ivory pastoral staff which was stolen from him recently.

Before the Conference, 12 of the visiting bishops will tour Scottish dioceses and in Edinburgh will attend a meeting organized by all church parties in Scotland.

They include Bishops W. F. Barfoot of Edmonton; F. A. Bennett, of New Zealand; J. Hunter of Kimberly and Kuruman; G. B. Barne of Lahore; R. A. Kir-

ARMED PREPAREDNESS IS URGED

Naval Reserve Inspected by Capt. Adams

Capt. K. F. Adams, director of Naval Reserves, last night stressed the value of preparedness for war as an instrument for peace in an address to the complement of H.M.C.S. Chatham Reserve Division. On a tour of reserve divisions on the West Coast, he arrived here Monday afternoon.

"I think this town could support a larger reserve," he said, "but I believe that they have not done so because the people are not aware of the need for national defence."

If the people of the United States and Great Britain were not strongly persuaded that a strong military force was necessary to maintaining peace, the danger of war probably would be much closer, he declared.

"The United States understands that if you want to avoid war, you must prepare for it," he asserted.

Capt. Adams said that he was "extremely well satisfied with the general attitude toward reserve training throughout the country." He congratulated the group on its awareness of its responsibilities.

"I'm sure you don't come down to amuse yourselves. The people of Canada should congratulate you for being here."

He declared that the "feeling" that existed between the permanent force navy and reservists before the war had largely been eradicated and that "if I have anything to say about it it will be done away with altogether."

"There is only one navy, whether you serve in it 365 days a year or 30. After all, you are all Canadians who were brought up in the same schools and played baseball on the same sand lots."

Prior to his address, Capt. Adams, accompanied by Lieut. Commander J. Pratt, assistant director of naval reserves, and Lieut. Commander Simms, technical officer, inspected the Reserve division and the permanent force division of H.M.C.S. Chatham.

Lieut. Commander Jack McRae

and officers of the Division were present during the inspection. The visiting officers left by plane today for Vancouver on their way back to Ottawa.

Carey had expected to get away yesterday afternoon but poor visibility around his destination prevented his take-off until today. These supplies were prepared at the Prince Rupert General Hospital.

Likewise Pilot Ronald Angus, flying relief supplies and passengers into Terrace with the Skeena Air Transport Seabee amphibian plane, was held up yesterday by poor flying conditions.

Both Carey and Angus got away this morning.

Carey said he might try a landing somewhere near Usk to pick up a sick woman who is said to be in need of hospitalization.

Returning by way of the Okanagan, they are expected home on the Prince Rupert tomorrow morning.

Clarence Insulander, who was in Hazelton a week ago, took care not to linger too long before returning to Prince Rupert and managed to beat the rapidly rising Skeena River flood. Once west of Kwantlen, the highway was in good shape. The river was a sight. The debris included good-sized trees, some having been dragged by the force of the water free from their roots and swept along, some going fast and straight up.

HOW CAN I ???
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Is celery good for one who suffers from a nervous disease?
A. It is claimed that celery is excellent for those who suffer from nervous diseases and rheumatism. It can be cooked with a cream sauce, or just stewed with a butter sauce. Use it with salads, stewed tomatoes, or stuffings.

Q. How can I remove mud spots from fabrics?
A. By drying the garment and then rubbing with a piece of flannel. Or, spread on a paste of fuller's earth and water, allow it to dry, and then brush and sponge with warm water.

Q. What is the best thing to use for stretching the fingers of washable kid gloves?
A. A curling iron is excellent for this purpose.

The Experts Say - -

By Kay Rex
Canadian Press Staff Writer
HIGH HEELS—High heels may be making fashion headlines, but as far as health experts are concerned, they just mean so many more pairs of sore feet.

In a booklet "The Care of the Feet," the health and welfare department recommends a heel 1 1/4 inches high. Anything more than this is

... ABOUT THE SALES TAX

Was listening to a Socialist ranting against the new sales tax in British Columbia the other day.

To hear him you'd think that if people only had the good sense to put in Socialism, there wouldn't be any sales taxes.

For my part, I don't like sales taxes any better than the next fellow. But let's look at the record.

In Saskatchewan, where there's a little Socialism, the C.C.F. Government was elected on a pledge to abolish the sales tax. But the sales tax hasn't been abolished though there have been five sessions of the legislature since the C.C.F. took office.

In Russia, where all industry is socialized, the heaviest sales taxes in the world are concealed in prices. These sales taxes have been estimated at 350 to 365 per cent of the price of the consumer goods. Two-thirds of the budget of the Soviet Union is raised BY SALES TAXES. That's not surprising, seeing that Russia can't tax a non-existent private industry.

A sales tax is the easy way to collect taxes... particularly if you have a Socialist dictatorship and the voters can't strike back at you! Until Socialism can point Socialist administrations that give the people a decent standard of living without sales taxes, it had better drop the stick labelled "Sales Tax" which it has picked up in order to pound its opposition politically.

"excessive," and frustrates the activity of the calf muscles and those in front of the leg in moving the ankle joint.

"Soon these muscles become impaired, those of the calf tend to shorten, and it is not uncommon to meet people who cannot bring the foot to a position at right angles to the leg," says the booklet, which was written by Alexander Gibson of London, England.

Buying shoes that are too small is one method of cramping the feet, but wearing stockings and socks that are too short is another.

Woolen socks should never be rubbed or wrung out, but always should be dried on forms to preserve length and width.

With hot weather approaching, the booklet has a few tips on foot comfort. It urges: daily cleansing and thorough drying; the use of footwear that permits free action of the muscles; exercises—contrast baths, leg muscles, toe muscles.

For persons who constantly mistreat their feet, the booklet lists a grim series of penalties.

Foot-strain is one of the most common disabilities. Callouses come as a result of pressure, and "usually are derived from badly fitting footwear."

Hammer-toe generally affects the second toe and often is traceable to short-shoes or stockings. Ingrowing toenails are seen on the great toe and result from wearing a shoe which is too narrow, and too pointed in the front part.

Bunions result from the use of improper shoes. When they are well marked nothing short of an operation will bring comfort to their owner.

HUGH DALTON IS BACK IN CABINET

LONDON—Hugh Dalton, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, who resigned last year over a leakage of news prior to the presentation of the budget, has returned to the British cabinet. Announcement was made yesterday that he had been appointed Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.

FAIRBANKS IS HIT BY FLOOD

FAIRBANKS—This city has been damaged by flood, the water, having risen to within two feet of the highest mark in its history. Water poured into the basements and first floors of many homes. A quarter of all Fairbanks families have had to move. In the village of Nenana, 50 miles south, water averaged four feet deep. Water was up to the windows of the local school building.

RESTORING OF SERVICES

Communications eastward from Prince Rupert and through the central interior, completely disrupted by the big floods in the Skeena and Bulkley River valleys, are gradually being restored on at least an emergency basis. Long distance telephone service from Prince Rupert into the interior was still cut off today but Government Telegraphs yesterday had a "phone as far west as Terrace and a telegraph wire into Hazelton whence traffic was being dispatched by circuitous radio routes. Canadian National Telegraphs here, completely without a land wire, are still routing traffic by way of Dominion Government Radio-telegraph and are also being assisted by Army Signals and amateur radio stations.

HIGHWAY IS STILL IN USE

Interior flood conditions notwithstanding, the northern transprovincial highway can still be travelled from a point approximately six miles east of Cedarvale to three miles east of Houston, according to latest highway reports from the interior. There are two bad spots between Telkwa and Smithers but these can be detoured.

MRS. STEEVES IS NEW C.C.F. HEAD

VANCOUVER—Mrs. D. G. Steeves has been elected president of the British Columbia-Yukon section of the C.C.F. party. She succeeds Colin Cameron of Vancouver in the post. Mrs. Steeves is a former member of the provincial legislature for North Vancouver and she was named to her new position at a party conference in Vancouver yesterday.

NAAS VILLAGES OBSERVE MAY 24

Horse Parade Feature of Victoria Day Celebration

AIYANISH—This Naas River village put on one of the biggest May 24 celebrations in its history, drawing spectators and sport contestants from Greenville, Canyon City and Kincolith in addition to its own entries. Well over 100 visitors attended the events at Empire Park.

The celebration opened with a parade which was headed by the Aiyanih Silver Band, followed by all contestants and about 50 children, all carrying flags. The parade formed at the school and wound through the village to the Park.

A highlight of the day's events was the horse parade which followed the sports events. This event, unique on the coast, included 50 horses from the nearby district. The parade was followed by a race in which Beal, owned by James Adams, was winner.

A dance at the Y. M. S. Hall concluded the celebration. The hall was crowded by visitors and villagers.

Winners of the men's baseball and softball trophies was Greenville which came out on top of the four-team play involving Aiyanih, Kincolith and Canyon City.

Aiyanih won the football trophy after defeating Greenville by a score of 3-0 and Canyon City 1-0.

Canyon City won the girl's softball by defeating Aiyanih.

Following are the results of the foot races:

100 yard dash—Cecil Morvin, Aiyanih.
220 yard—Cecil Morvin, Greenville, Tommy McKay.
440 yard—Albert Robinson, Greenville, Nathan Woods.

Mile Race—Albert Robinson, Greenville, O. Woods.
Relay Race—Aiyanih team.

Today in Sports

SHORT SPORT

ARCHERY—most ancient, most difficult and most English sport—is today enjoying a post-war craze, particularly among women. More than 50 societies in Britain, whose membership lapsed in wartime are building them up again. Sports outfitters report a boom in equipment which includes bow, waistquiver with half a dozen arrows, armguards and leather shooting tab.

Women like toxiphily—archery's official name—because it develops graceful postures and lithe figures. Experts say no sport achieves a quicker effect on physique, powers of judgment and concentration. But it is more strenuous than one might think. An average woman's bow needs a pull of 25 pounds. In a shooting "round" four dozen arrows are launched at a target from 60 yards, and another two dozen from 50 yards. Three arrows are shot in succession from alternate ends of the range, so that the archer walks three and a half miles.

There are no professional archers in England. Archers consider themselves comrades and teach others at their clubs. The King took up archery two years ago. He invited two members of the 270-year old Royal Company of Archers to Balmoral Castle to teach him. The Royal Company presented him with bows and arrows which were 28 inches long and carried his racing colors of red and blue in their flight feathers. Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret also have bows and arrows.

Archers' biggest worry today is the cost of bows and arrows. Purchase tax is still charged on selling prices at 100 per cent. Some arrows cost $20 a dozen. A good yew bow costs $15—three times the pre-war price. Steel bows, which modern archers find less susceptible to weather changes, can be had for about three guineas ($12.50). Bows and arrows figure in the British export drive. At Oldbury, outside Birmingham, thousands of bows and arrows are being made from high tensile tubing used in Spitfire fighters and Lancaster bombers during the war. After 602 years the Woodmen of Arden, whose club is possibly the most exclusive in the world of archery, sneer at the metal bow and pin their faith to the yew bow of Crey. Mrs. Petronella Burr won the English archery women's championship and the world women's championship at Stockholm last year with a steel bow. Some London bowmen belong to the Royal Toxophilites, who formed their society in 1780. It is said that the gallantry of the 18th century still prevails there. Men still

Reminiscences and Reflections

This column prefers to touch over again at Portland Oregon on the lighter side of life but yesterday. Not in the death list, there come times when such a choice is distinctly out of place. This is one of them. To those who might read, it could be a thoughtless and cruel affront. For in few places indeed, in the Pacific Northwest is there the suggestion of levity, as thousands flee for survival, and contemplate wreckage, and ruin.

Suffering, exposure and losses are being felt today throughout a busy, a populous and a beautiful land. Handsome estates and the fruits of industry and enterprise in varied directions are being torn and ravaged by a power that cannot be halted. Nature can nourish and enrich. Nature can also exhaust and impoverish.

One Sunday morning in Saskatchewan, long ago, the Saskatchewan River was flowing fast, also rising, and littered with nearly everything from small shacks to old baskets. There had been recently built a new traffic bridge. Around the nearest bend came a small, tug-boat sized steamer called the "City of Medicine Hat", bound for Lake Winnipeg. She was traveling fast and couldn't very well stop. Water was so high it meant her smoke-stack would hit the bridge and it did. The city firemen, called out, were quick to lower ladders and help every one off the boat. It was the first shipwreck one had seen on the prairies.

It was the Johnston flood all ask permission to smoke when watching women shoot. Women champions are still called "championesses."

MAY BUILDING PERMITS UP

A permit authorizing construction of a $9,200 service station at the corner of Second Avenue and McBride Street by Bob Parker was the largest of the 20 building permits issued by the City Engineer's department during May. Total value of permits issued was $15,400.

The new service station is to be situated on the site of the former Canadian Army garage on the southwest corner of the Second Avenue-McBride Street intersection.

Last month's construction total brings to $84,755 the value of permits issued for the first five months of 1948. This is about $20,000 greater than for the same period last year.

Permits issued during April totalled $6,710.

VILLAGE PROUD OF NEW SAWMILL

AIYANSH—The new community sawmill here, the pride of the village, is making an impression as stacks of new lumber go into home reconstruction. New sidewalks were laid in time for the May 24 celebration during which Aiyansh was host to three other Naas River villages. The mill, which has a capacity of about 10,000 board feet daily, also will cut lumber for rehabilitation of other native villages on the north coast.

FAIR EXHIBITS NEW TEXTILES

LONDON (P)—Two new interesting motifs were seen among the designs in the textile section of the British Industries Fair held in May. They were West African and Old English. Volles, piece-dyed and printed, in addition to the usual choice of delicate floral patterns, are also being produced with sombre colored-patterns inspired by native West African designs. These shades—navy blue and wine is a typical combination—are suitably styled for city wear.

POSTMEN GOING INTO GREY SUITS

OTTAWA—The postmen of Canada are to wear grey instead of blue uniforms. This is because textile shortages force the change, grey being easier to find, than blue. The new dress will be provided as the old wears out.

GARDEN NOTEBOOK

Gardeners may depend upon D.D.T. and rotenone, singly or combined in either spray or dust, as all around insecticides in both flower and vegetable gardens. No new pest killers have yet proved superior to this team for home garden use.

D.D.T. is safe to use, easy to apply, and long lasting in its effects. Rotenone will kill the insects on which D.D.T. fails. This combination can be used generally on garden crops except such as squash and melons. On these use rotenone alone, or one of the older insecticides.

New insecticides have been developed, and found safe on greenhouse crops; but for the home garden they are still experimental. Chlordane, which resembles D.D.T. in action, and has greater killing power on household pests and aphids, may prove to be an improvement for garden use; but is still in the testing stage.

D.D.T. is different in action from the older contact insecticides and stomach poisons. Insects had to be hit by the contact poisons, and it was not easy to hit leaf hoppers, for example, which swarmed up and flew away when you approached the plants they were destroying. Stomach poisons only affected insects which ate plant tissues, and left the juice drinkers unharmed.

But D.D.T. gets both kinds, by contact; only instead of hitting the insect direct it lies waiting on the plant until the insects walk over it, through the feet of the prowler. This "residue" may remain sufficiently on the plant for days, or months, depending on its strength in the first place, and its exposure to sunshine and rain, both of which shorten the toxic period. But in any case it remains effective far longer than the older poisons, requiring fewer applications.

Of the herbs which have survived in cooking, parsley is the most popular.

Quick-grown, young vegetables are the best, and only the home garden, where they may be harvested as needed, can provide them.

H.M.C.S. Ekholi, the coast's first oceanographic survey ship, now operating out of Prince Rupert, is having her work interfered with by Skeena River flood conditions. With Lieut. Robin Hayward R.C.N. in command, there are 16 men. The vessel, regularly based at Esquimalt, was part of the fishermen's reserve fleet during the war.

Lettuce seed germinates best in a soil temperature of 60 to 65 degrees. If necessary to sow when temperatures are higher, place the seed between moist cloths and store for several days on ice. Dry the surface of the seed before sowing.

Every hour devoted to a garden will save at least its current labor-market value on the bill for food this summer.

OMELET ON HIGHWAY
LONDON (P)—Makings of an estimated 240 omelets spattered along a highway near here in a recent accident are the subject of a damage suit. Percy Bice, Westminster Township farmer, suing Robert Hill of Delaware Township for nearly $600, claims that Hill's automobile struck his parked truck, destroying 20 dozen eggs.

Smiles and Chuckles

Building contractors have their troubles nowadays, too, not the least of which is the poor quality of lumber frequently offered them. A despairing contractor recently dispatched this telegram to the mill that had just sent him a carload of lumber:

"Knot holes received. Send the knots."

Agricultural scientists reveal that some 50 gallons of water are required to produce one ear of corn. However, many public speakers frequently come up with a lot more than that just on one pitcher.

It's no trick at all to turn "hopeless" gloomy surroundings into an enchanting, cheerful room. Yes, even on a slim-Jim budget! Try a gay print bedspread... wallpaper trim around the windows... a cozy writing nook. But be sure you start with a sparkling new Gold Seal Congoleum rug! That's the way to get a floor covering that lends excitement to your whole color scheme... that is smooth, easy to clean, comfortable underfoot. Best of all, it's such a good "buy"! For Gold Seal Congoleum—both rugs and by-the-yard—has a wear-layer of heat-toughened paint and baked enamel equal in thickness to 8 coats of best floor paint applied by hand! But remember—without this familiar Gold Seal—it isn't Congoleum! So look for it before you buy! You'll be surprised how much quality you can buy for so little money.

Gold Seal Congoleum is a product of Congoleum Canada Limited, Montreal.

Your dealer may be temporarily out of Congoleum because supplies are still very short. Please try him again, as he receives limited shipments from time to time.

DON'T SPLIT GERMANY SAY REDS—A prominent sign placed by the Russians over Brandenburg Gate, main entrance to the Soviet sector in Berlin, Germany, reads: "Who is splitting Germany, aids reaction!" This is in obvious reference to the western powers.

MERCHANTS OF PRINCE RUPERT

Are you telling the people of Prince Rupert that you have the goods of quality and at prices as good?

Or are you letting the catalogues beat you to it?

The Daily News, which everybody in Prince Rupert reads every day, can help you get that business.

The money spent at mail order houses is cash money. You can have a share of it by telling the home town buyers you have what they want. Do so by
