Southern B.C., Northwest Menace Continues

EXPECTATION IS OFFICIAL
LONDON, (C) — Buckingham Palace officially announced last night that Princess Elizabeth is expecting a baby. "Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Edinburgh, will be unable to make public appearances after the end of June" was the way the announcement read. Word in court circles is that Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip could expect the child to arrive late in October or early in November.

FLOOD STILL POUNDS TRAIL
TRAIL, (C) — The swollen Columbia River is still pounding this smelter city in the West Kootenay. Yesterday all residents of riverfront areas were ordered to evacuate and, if they fail to do so, will be evicted.

My Love Is Derby Winner
Kelowna Man Cleans Up $10,000 In Derby Sweepstakes
EPSOM DOWNS, Eng. (C) — My Love, French-bred colt belonging to the Aga Khan, won today's running of the famed Epsom Downs Derby. The 100 to 9 shot triumphed by one-and-a-half lengths over Lord Volterra's Royal Drake, also a French-bred horse. Noor, another Aga Khan horse, took third place by four lengths. The winner's take was $49,736.

Retired Lightkeeper To Be Given Empire Service Medal
The retired dean of Canada's west coast light-house keepers today learned that he is to be honored for half a lifetime's efforts in protecting shipping from grinding itself to death on the rocks of the British Columbia coast.
Benjamin J. Codville, who retired from the service in May, 1946 after 27 years as keeper of Pointers Island light near Ocean Falls, was informed this morning by Department of Transport Agent Keith Dixon that "in recognition of the meritorious service you have rendered" he is to be awarded the Medal of the Imperial Service Order.
At a brief ceremony in Col. Dixon's office in the Besner Block, Mr. and Mrs. Codville found it hard to believe that their years of faithful vigilance had resulted in Mr. Codville's inclusion in the exclusive company of Imperial Service Medal holders.
In making the announcement, Col. Dixon said that he was making arrangements for an early award of the medal.
The Imperial Service Order is a civil order of distinction instituted by King Edward VII on August 8, 1902 to "more fully recognize the faithful and meritorious services rendered by members of the Civil Services of the various parts of the Empire." It is held by only 38 other Canadians.

Flood Battle on Columbia
Stricken People of Mighty River Valley Braced for Further Flood Onslaught
PORTLAND, Oregon, (C) — All along the 1000-mile course of the great Columbia River from the headwaters in the Rocky Mountains of southeastern British Columbia to the estuary in the Pacific Ocean, water-logged cities and farm communities have braced themselves for a new flood onslaught this week-end. The river was spawning floods in its headwaters yesterday as the crest of the old one still threatened to punch out weakened dykes near the sea.
Warning of a new flood came as residents of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia were near exhaustion from their two weeks' battle with what has already been the mighty river's most disastrous rampage.

Red Cross executives here say they believe few, if any, of 18,700 residents of war housing projects were lost when dykes cracked and Columbia River waters washed away a city that had been Oregon's second largest such project. The known flood dead, so far, excluding those there may have been in Vancouver, total 23.

Federal and state agencies have co-ordinated plans and their massive reconstruction weight has been applied to the task of rehabilitation of some 5,000 persons and repairing damage running into untold millions, perhaps $100,000,000.

DEATH MISHAP JURY'S VERDICT
A verdict of accidental death was brought in by a coroner's jury which this morning investigated the death of Johan Gottfred Lundgren, halibut boat skipper, who was drowned on Friday at the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Co. dock.
Lundgren, skipper of the Vancouver boat Robert G. Johnston, fell from the wharf about 7:40 Friday morning after he had been warned by a Cold Storage worker of the danger of sitting so close to the edge of the wharf. He apparently had been sleeping at the dock edge.
Alfred MacIntosh, Cold Storage Co. employee, told of waking Lundgren and warning him to move away from the edge of the wharf. Lundgren replied that there was no danger for a man of his experience.
About 8:20 MacIntosh recounted, he heard a splash and saw that Lundgren had disappeared. He and William Gomez rushed to the wharf edge and saw the man in the water 25 feet below. Both then rushed under the dock and Gomez, who was ahead, pulled Lundgren out.
MacIntosh estimated that the man had been in the water for "about seven minutes."
He was given artificial respiration immediately but did not respond. First Aid attendant Thomas Elliott worked on the man until the arrival of Dr. R. G. Large who pronounced him dead.

Jurors were William Long, Frank Parlett, Libro Basso-Bert, Murray Oliver, Cherril McIntyre, Wilf Bolam.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS SUBSCRIBE $100
Handsome donation of $100 to the British Columbia Flood Emergency Relief Fund was passed last night at the monthly meeting of the local Bethel of Job's Daughters. It was the final meeting before the usual summer vacation recess and two new members were initiated—Margaret Tattersall and Ingra Peterson.
Following the meeting, a dancing party was enjoyed until 1 a.m. with music by Andy McNaughton at the piano. Games were played and delicious refreshments were served. Alex Mitchell was a genial master of ceremonies. Many parents were in attendance to also enjoy the proceedings. Dorothy Kergin was the winner of the attendance prize.

DOMINION COMING TO AID OF B.C. IN HER GREAT DISASTER
OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government yesterday extended a helping hand to flood-devastated British Columbia. Offering to contribute financially to the relief, rehabilitation and restoration of the Pacific Coast province, Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons that the amount of the contribution remains to be decided.
"It is clear," the Prime Minister said "that damage caused by the floods has already reached proportions where federal assistance is needed not only for relief but for rehabilitation and the restoring of devastated areas to help in allaying anxiety in the minds of Canadians who are homeless and have lost so much in this terrible disaster. I have, with the approval of my colleagues, informed the Premier of British Columbia that the federal government is prepared to assist the province financially not only in meeting expenditures required for immediate relief but also the cost of rehabilitation and restoration."
The announcement was applauded by all members.

Negotiate For Truce
No Starting Date Has, However, Yet Been Set
CAIRO, Egypt, (C) — Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden, United Nations mediator, seeking to set a date for a four weeks' truce in the Holy Land, conferred for 90 minutes with Premier Nokrasky Pasha of Egypt here today and planned to leave for Lebanon, Haifa, Amman and Transjordan. He denied a report from Amman that he had fixed Monday for the beginning of the truce.
Both sides have agreed to the Security Council's order for a four weeks' truce, and are now negotiating to set a date for the start of the truce.
During negotiations both sides have disagreed over interpretation of the United Nations resolution calling for the truce.

Duluth Has Big Fire
Millions of Dollars Damage in Business Section of Lake Superior Port
DULUTH, Minnesota, (C) — Fire swept through sections of two retail business blocks in the heart of Duluth early today, causing damage estimated at several million dollars. All telephone services were disrupted as more than 150 firemen mannevered every available piece of fire apparatus. One fireman was slightly injured.
Police said that the fire apparently started in the four-story Rudolph Furniture Co. building, one block off the city's chief thoroughfare.

ONTARIO FOREST FIRES ARE RAGING
TORONTO, (C) — Several big forest fires are still blazing uncontrolled over 125,000 acres of northern Ontario but officials report that fire fighting conditions are generally improved. There has already been much loss in lumber camps, equipment and wild life.

RAIL SERVICE EXTENDED EAST OF SMITHERS
Canadian National Railways extended their flood-bound rail service in the central interior today as road repair crews restored to operation sections of trackage washed out by the rampaging Bulkley River, east of Smithers.
The westbound passenger train, which has only been coming as far west as Houston, today proceeded another 50 miles to Tatlow, five miles east of Smithers after washouts in that region had been repaired.
Service from Jasper to Smithers is expected to be resumed within about three days, it was learned this morning.
Meanwhile, between Terrace and Prince Rupert, the railway has a power shovel lined up to load gravel into trucks which will repair the washed-out roadbed east of Kwhitsa. An operator will be flown in from Smithers at the beginning of the week.
Trucks, which are being hired by the railway company to move the gravel, will go into operation as soon as the shovel starts working.
The company plans to send out a work train early next week to augment the crews already working.

Flood Relief Board Named
VANCOUVER (C) — Sorely stricken flood victims received heartening news yesterday with the announcement that Major-General B. M. Hoffmeister and Eric W. Hamber, former Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, had been appointed a two-man commission to direct the spending of $1,000,000 in flood rehabilitation.
Last night Hoffmeister, who represents the federal government, assured flood control committees that assistance would be provided and fodder insured for livestock in the stricken areas.
The provincial government also promised assistance to Fraser Valley farmers to offset reported livestock profiteering by racketeers who are said to be exploiting the feed and flood situation to buy stock at sacrifice prices.

Fraser Crisis Still Coming
COLUMBIA SORE SPOT
VANCOUVER — Punched-out, soggy dykes along the Fraser River were today the source of anxiety to thousands of jaded defenders against "Old Muddy's" offensive but the Fraser River's rampaging was not the sorest spot. It was the Columbia, 250 miles east of here. In Trail sand bags were being loaded for a renewal of efforts to stop the river which threatened to sweep into the business section of the smelter city. The Columbia has risen nine inches in the last 24 hours.

VANCOUVER (C) — No new break-throughs of Fraser River dykes have been reported but this week-end is expected to be a critical one for warm weather continues and, with large quantities of snow still melting in the mountains, the run-off is definitely still incomplete.
The Army said last night that the response of volunteers to work on the dyke-manning and reinforcement had been very satisfactory. In addition to the men now actually at work, there is a mobile service standing by ready to be dispatched to any point of emergency.
Some districts report a further slight recession.
Weary workers are toiling constantly to strengthen the dykes in all areas, pouring thousands of sand bags and tons of rock into the breaches and on top of the parapets.
The critical period in the already stricken Pitt Meadows area is expected to be about next Thursday when high tides may supplement the swollen river waters.

Tiny Barnston Island, 2 3/4 miles long and 1 1/2 miles wide, 20 miles up the Fraser River, was abandoned early yesterday and its land, flooding slowly, was completely covered by the middle of yesterday afternoon.
The Barnston Island dyke collapse followed an earlier break at Hatzie Lake, 45 miles east of here, which tore the largest section so far out of the slowly weakening dykes as the Fraser roared through at about 15 miles per hour.
In other sectors of the far-flung flood front little change has been reported. Spongy dykes are still in danger but all major water barriers are holding.

Prince Rupert Responds

PRINCE RUPERT, always to be counted upon in support of good causes, is rising with a fine response to the occasion of the flood emergency campaign. Early survey of the voluntary contributions and results of canvassers' solicitations indicate a degree of generosity compatible with the unusual circumstances of emergency and need. Satiated with a multitude of appeals to which we have been subjected over the years, we nevertheless realize the seriousness of this effort to come to the aid of British Columbians who have been stricken with desolation and disaster. That is satisfactory, too, and the friendly generosity that we are manifesting in this tangible manner towards our afflicted neighbors to the south will, we may be sure, be deeply appreciated. It is an illustration of provincial solidarity and goodwill, demonstrating that any sectional differences we may have at times are, after all, not very deep. The flood waters, for all their disaster and tragedy, may well develop a new spirit of friendship which will be all to the good after the floods subside and happiness and prosperity are restored following the long and hard battle to come.

Meantime, as we have done before, may we again bespeak that the good start which the relief campaign has made will be definitely and speedily consummated in the reaching of the high goal that has been confidently and enthusiastically set.

NEWFOUNDLAND REFERENDUM

THE PEOPLE of Newfoundland have voted almost in deadlock in the referendum to determine what their future form of government may be. They are definite enough, however, on one thing and that is that they do not want any more commission government. That is ruled out but it may take another referendum to obtain a definite expression as between responsible government and confederation, the latter implying joining up as a province with the Dominion of Canada.

Canada observes the expression of Newfoundland's opinion with keenest interest. We would welcome Newfoundland as a new province although its joining would probably increase our responsibilities and overhead more than the advantages in a material way would be capable of balancing. And, if Newfoundland, should decide to go it alone with her own responsible government she would have our best wishes. No matter what happens Canada will always have a direct and friendly interest in the neighbor island out in the Atlantic.

LETTERBOX

GIFT TO BAND

Editor, Daily News
On behalf of the members of the Prince Rupert Shrine Club Band we take great pleasure in acknowledging publicly a donation by cheque from the Parents' Association of the Boys' Band. Mrs. Viereck, president, and Mrs. Perkins, secretary-treasurer of this association, presented the cheque to the bandmaster, Peter Lien, at the practice last Monday night.

In making the presentation, Mrs. Viereck said that it represented the balance of cash on hand which they felt should be put to use by the present band. This we are most pleased to do and intend that most of it will go for the purchase of new music to augment our music library and in that way the money will be enjoyed by more people and for a longer time.

We wish to thank these ladies for their generous gift and for the kind thought behind it and for their good wishes. Also many thanks to the members of their organization.

Thank you, Mr. Editor, for this space.

The Prince Rupert Shrine Club Band,
F. M. Gulland,
President.

Personalities Of Early Days

WESTON COYNEY

Weston Coyney left Yukon when the northland's first and greatest gold rush was commencing to fade to locate in Prince Rupert when this city's real estate temperature was becoming feverish.

He was not, however, particularly concerned with getting rich quick. If he made a fortune in the Klondyke, it had in some way got away from him. But he never worried. He was companionable and took things for the best. Mr. Coyney had originally gone to Dawson to describe the stampede for the New York Herald. He did so without ever returning east. He was in Dawson for years, sending striking word pictures of scenes and events that the Herald unfolded before its news-hungry readers. He was identified with the Dawson News. He had varied interests and enjoyed a wide acquaintance. Publicity was his middle name.

Mr. Coyney was an Englishman and much of his active and eventful life was spent in the United States. He had been around and his storehouse of memories was well stocked.

For some time he had served as private secretary to a United States vice-president. He had been employed on some of the largest and most influential of American dailies. By the time he settled in Prince Rupert he was along in years and his neatly pointed beard was gray. He was a man of fair height, of slender build and endowed with a most engaging manner. He served on the Prince Rupert newspapers at different times and for a while issued a publication of his own which he called "Resources." This appeared monthly and it provided a lot of timely stories dealing with the natural wealth tributary to the city and district. He was the staff. About the only thing he omitted, in the personal service line, was the printing and binding.

The local press found in him a convenient source of information. A despatch would come in telling of a happening in distant climes. It hardly mattered where. Look up Coyney! He would usually remember something more or less indirectly about that part of the globe and what was going on. If a story looked rather bare and needed a bit of descriptive embroidery, give it to Coyney! And his stuff would be true and real, four times out of ten, he'd been there.

There was no more distinguished looking figure in town than Mr. Coyney. On some sharp January or December morning he would dig out his coonskin coat and wear it with an air. Somehow, he just naturally had style.

THEY LOOK CUTE, TOO
Removal of freckles is frowned upon by health experts. There is no safe way to remove them as they are coloring matter, or pigment, in the deep layers of the skin.

SATURDAY SERMON

THE RACE AND THE PRIZE

Rev. A. M. McColl, Presbyterian Church
"I therefore so run, not uncertainly; so fight I not as one that beateth the air."—Corinthians I, Chapter IX:26

In the olden days, the Romans would enter the arena, and in chariot or on foot would contend for the prize, or even engage in mortal combat so that one or the other might come out victorious and thus obtain the approval of his fellow-countrymen. St. Paul was a modern sportsman. Athletic matches of today are beneficial for the youth and for the world. But for one to take a prominent part in the game he must diligently practice and undergo a certain course of training to fit him for the coming contest. It is not only physically beneficial for him but it is also beneficial mentally and morally. A great amount of anxious training is necessary in the preparation for the race. He has to do his best in training before he can even take part. There is often gigantic work behind a simple production, and when we think of the performance we feel that it is one of the greatest gifts of God.

Picture Show For Flood Relief Fund

Of many interesting events being arranged to raise funds for the British Columbia Flood Emergency campaign, the latest one to be announced is a showing of pictures in the common lounge of the Civic Centre next Wednesday under the direction of A. M. Wilson, field representative of the National Film Board. Mr. Wilson makes his headquarters at Prince George ordinarily but was caught in this area by the recent floods which tied up the railway and highway and has not been able to return home. A variety of topical subjects will be encompassed in the program next Wednesday night including "People's Charter," dealing with the United Nations; "Eyes of Tomorrow," on the prevention of blindness; "Atlantic Salmon," tourist promotion; "Fuel and Heat," steam and combustion engines; "Eye Witness," Northwest Territories, scenic and industrial, and immigration of displaced persons, and "Beaver," a nature study.

WAS FRIEND OF HITLER

There died in Scotland a few days ago, a woman whose case aroused deep interest just prior to the outbreak of the Second World War. She was the Hon. Unity Freeman-Mitford, daughter of Lord Redesdale, who had come under the evil spell of Hitler. She had been living in Germany. Twenty-three in 1938, she wore a swastika, and openly avowed the new order. Her relations with the Nazi leader can only be presumed. Suddenly she was sent home—with a bullet wound. At Hitler's express orders she was given the right of way from Berchtesgaden across Germany to Dover where she was met by family members. There has been silence since. It was evidently an infatuation, and doubtless the using of it for German ends as long as it could serve.

MARRIAGE AT TERRACE

Miss Marjorie Doll Becomes Bride of David MacKay

TERRACE — At a charming evening ceremony at the Catholic Rectory on Wednesday evening Miss Marjorie H. Doll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Doll of Terrace, exchanged nuptial vows with David MacKay, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. MacKay of Terrace, before a number of friends and relatives. Father Racette officiated.

Given in marriage by her brother, Stanley Doll, the lovely bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin with ruffles extending from the sides of the waistline to the centre-back hem, with an off-shoulder yoke of lace and long sleeves. Her bridal veil, held in place with a Mary Queen of Scott's headdress was borne by two small train-bearers, Dorothy Geary of Prince Rupert and the bride's nephew, Alan Unger of Ocean Falls.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Doriel Doll of Prince Rupert, in a floor-length gown of white jersey and blue chapel veil, and Miss Ruby Wikstrom, also of Prince Rupert, in a similar styled gown of pale pink and a pink chapel veil. Both carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Attending the groom was his brother, James MacKay. George Anderson was usher. After the ceremony a reception was held in the Orange Hall where the young couple stood under a decorated arch to receive the best wishes of their many friends gathered there.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. H. Doll, in a figured jersey gown, rose accessories and corsage of carnations and Mrs. MacKay, in a navy figured silk gown with navy accessories and carnation corsage.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Father Racette and responded to by the groom. James MacKay proposed the toast to the bridesmaids.

The newlywed will make their home in Terrace.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital in Victoria.

KINSMEN'S DANCE FOR FLOOD RELIEF

The flood emergency relief fund benefitted substantially last night as a result of a dance which attracted a crowd of 300 persons to the Civic Centre. Ray McLean, George Dibb and Stan Saville organized the affair and Vic Duncan was master of ceremonies.

One of the features of the program was the spot dance of which Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hogan were the winners of $5 which was promptly turned back to the cause.

All services were donated including those of De Carlo's Orchestra which provided snappy music.

An entertainment program included balancing stunts by Leslie Parks, piano accordion solos by George Elliott and whistling and piano accordion duet by Vic Duncan and George Elliott.

Armine Boas presided at the door.

Careless Smokers Cause N.B. Fires

FREDERICTON, N.B. — Thirty per cent of all fires in New Brunswick forests during 1947 were caused by smokers. This 30 per cent also accounted for 70 per cent of the total loss.

Chief Forester G. L. Miller in his report to the provincial legislature, said that the province had 300 fires during the year and that 52,000 acres had been destroyed.

Runaway brush fires ranked second to careless smokers as the causes of the blazes. The total area burned during 1947 was 20 per cent greater than in the previous year.

The apricot, related to the cherry, almond and plum, is largely cultivated in Europe.

High School Takes Lead

Students Defeat Battery With Good Exhibition of Gilhuly Cup Football

In the second game of the Gilhuly Cup football competition last evening a much-improved High School team won deservedly from 120th Battery. Final score of the hard-fought contest was two goals to one.

Opening exchanges were even with both teams showing good combination. Wart's pass gave Hardy a good chance and Boulter had to be good to stop the latter's shot. At the other end Sharp tested Morgan with a fine long drive. From a free kick Veitch scored with a grand shot to put the Battery one up. High School fought back and Morgan cleared twice, one being a very good save from Bob Currie. Holkestad and Wart attacked but Sunberg cleared and then, from Olsen's through pass, Wilson went in close to beat Morgan for the equalizer. High did most of the pressing and Owens gave Morgan a hot hand. Veitch sent his forwards to the attack but Olsen sent them back and half-time came with the score tied at one each.

Although playing uphill the students were the first to attack in second half and Morgan had to run out to clear. High School right wing of Bob Currie and Mercer went ahead but Ferguson cleared and then James headed away into safety. Holkestad and Parkhouse combined nicely but Wynn broke it up. A Gomez was through until Sharp blocked him and High School was hard pressed for a time but steady defence held safe. Then Morgan was tested several times. The High School forward line was combining effectively and, was well supported by Olsen and Sharp. But the pressure was telling and, after Charlie Currie and Mercer had gone close, the ball came to Wilson who beat Morgan with a beautiful shot. In a Battery attack Hardy headed close and then Boulter tipped a grand drive from Parkhouse over the bar. Wilson and Currie went close as did Owens but then Boulter had to be very smart to save from Hardy. Mercer gave Morgan a hard shot but full time came with the High School deservedly winning by the odd goal in three.

BASEBALL TOMORROW

Rookies vs. Old Timers Flood Benefit Game

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 Roosevelt Park fans will see the Rookies once again try to dethrone the Old Timers in "the battle of the ages." The proceeds of this game are being turned over to the Flood Relief Campaign and it is hoped that the public will give generously to this worthy cause.

The Rookies have imported a new manager for this game in the person of Art Murray. While Art is no stranger to baseball it seems that the Rookies are determined to leave no stones unturned in their effort to best the aged veterans and Art Murray should be the man to guide the strategy of his club.

The Old Timers are being managed by Doug Kerr whose baseball experience will be pitted against Art Murray's. Rookies line-up will be as follows: infield: Morgan, Davis, Hartwig, B. Simundsen, Arney, Scherk and Postuk. The outfield Pavlikis, Gurvich, Foster and Shier. Pitching: Alex Bill, Jack Sharpe and Richard Letourneau. Rumors are that Murray is going to start Letourneau, the young man who pitched a one-hit game against the Moose.

BALL PLAYER ARRESTED ON BRIBERY COUNT

WINSTON-SALEM, North Carolina.—The arrest of Bernard De Forge, former player-manager in the Carolina Baseball League, was announced last night by police chief John Gold. Gold said the arrest was in connection with bribery charges.

The arrest was made after investigation into game-fixing charges involving a Winston-Salem Reidsville game here on May 14.

Former pitching manager De Forge was banned from baseball for life Tuesday by Minor League President George Trautman.

was the sparkplug of the High School attack although all played well. They combined cleverly and unselfishly and showed lots of resource. The team is a well balanced one and gave a good exhibition of individual and combined ability.

For its first game of the season the Battery did well. Morgan had more to do than Boulter and had no chance with either of the scoring shots. Ferguson and James were steady but found the students as persistently troublesome as the spectators found the files. Veitch played a strong game and was well supported by the Gomez brothers. Wart was the best forward but Holkestad and Parkhouse were not far behind. Pilfold showed to advantage but the Battery forwards found the students very strong and quick in defence.

High School was full value for the win. Boulter showed a big improvement on his previous game, fielding and clearing the ball well. Sunberg and Wynn were a fine pair of backs, tackling fearlessly and kicking surely. Olsen at centre was a stand-out again. He tackled well and fed his forwards with good judgment. Sharp was clever. SHORT SPORT

The pot is boiling for the summer Olympics in London and, as usual, the ingredients going into the Olympic stew are providing some meaty morsels for the sport commentators. It seems impossible to conduct the Olympics without incidents of one sort or another—humorous or otherwise—cropping up.

Mike Rodden of Kingston Whig-Standard chuckled over last week's Canadian Olympics boxing trials at Montreal where a beaten boxer attacked a referee and Adam Paul of Regina won the heavyweight title after earlier being declared the loser in preliminary bout against Amos Dorsey of St. Catharines.

"The decision against Paul was so ridiculous that it demanded an investigation even on the part of amateur officials," said Mike. "It was then that the amazing discovery was made that Bobby Leitham, former Canadian professional bantamweight champion, had while acting as judge, imagined that Paul was Dorsey and vice-versa."

"The boxers were then notified that it was all a mistake and Paul proved that it was a monumental one when he defeated Jimmy Davis of Montreal. If this isn't the limit in nonsense, the world must be square and the moon is a man."

Incidents like these may have been what Andy Lytle of Ontario Star had in mind when he remarked: "In international sports encounters Canadians occupy a position similar to that of a poor relation... We do, in traceable to lack of organization. It isn't that our athletes lack ability... It is we are without competent ership in such games as we confront in Davis and Olympic Tilting."

It's a good idea because from there the responsibility is on other riders.

gets to be a habit this look-around like a question mark. Why? We ask it about anything, and our echo comes from all thinking people, intellectuals. And we are in-actual, we moderns. We are far out ahead of Grandpa's philosophizing that we have around behind him, which I suppose, put him out again. Anyway, we have answers to nearly everything, and again we get stumped. Why does a hen keep her head under her breastbone instead of in her beak? She has to keep her food sooner or later, are there no taste-buds in the head, so look what she misses swallowing her food whole. A hen obviously does not eat, and, if she doesn't, why does she live for? It can't be much of a lark laying eggs.

GARDEN NOTEBOOK

Gay Dooryard Flowers Returning to Fashion

Dooryard gardens gay with flowers are returning to fashion many cases to hide them, and to as the result of two influences, the general acceptance of functional design in home building, and recognition of the need for sunshine to maintain good health.

Modern homes, in which adherence to any traditional architectural style is ignored, in order that the rooms may be arranged to obtain maximum comfort and convenience in family living, tend to present a rather severe appearance to passerby. One-storey houses, with floor level close to the ground, predominate.

Conventional landscape planting of trees, shrubs and evergreens in front of these houses the council put a halt to water treatment.

That is what they printed but should we mind? We are not entirely unfavorable to advancement, but don't think we swallow silly ideas of chlorination hook, line and sinker. We are moderns, who think for themselves.

(Boiled water has a flat, insipid taste, don't you think?)

Civil Servants Will Not Move to Capital

WELLINGTON, N.Z., (P) — So acute is the housing situation in Wellington, capital of New Zealand, that many civil servants are turning down promotion rather than accept transfers to the city. The government is now holding threats of dismissal over a number of single men who have refused transfers. Some government offices in Wellington are desperately short of staff and efforts are being made by transfers to relieve the worst bottlenecks. The government has power to dismiss men who refuse transfers and this has been upheld in Supreme Court action. The Public Service Association is studying the situation, in view of the serious outlook confronting public servants who are required to transfer to cities and towns which cannot accommodate them.

CHURCHILLS SENT FLOWERS TO RITES

Syd Hamblin has received word from his niece, Miss Grace Hamblin, in England, of the recent death of his brother, Edwin, at his home in Kent, England, where he had spent much of his life. The brothers had not met since back in 1910. There was a large attendance at the funeral service, and among the numerous and beautiful floral tributes was a wreath sent by Mr. and Mrs. Winston Churchill. Miss Hamblin has been for more than 15 years a valued member of the secretarial staff of the former prime minister and war leader.

Two Million Pounds of Halibut In Four Days—An Incident Here With the Soviet—Port Day Committee Seeks Counsel and Work

In the four-day interval since Area Two closed on Tuesday, almost 2,000,000 pounds of halibut have been landed at this port by boats of the American and Canadian fleets. Landings for the season, up to Friday totalled 7,154,000 pounds, a drop of more than 2,000,000 under the 1947 season.

Landings here since last Saturday have totalled 2,104,000 pounds, of which 1,522,000 pounds were from Canadian boats and 582,000 from American.

Canadian landings for the whole season have been 5,602,000 pounds while the total from American vessels has been 1,522,000. More than half the Canadian landings have been marketed through the Fishermen's Co-op which took 3,865,000 pounds, according to the daily landing reports. There were 3,289,000 pounds sold on the exchange.

During the 1947 Area Two season, which lasted 42 days, 9,437,000 pounds were landed here from the fleets, 8,087,500 from Canadian boats and 1,423,500 from American.

A minor international problem arose at the wharfside here yesterday when the Russian vessel Chukotka warped up to the C.N.R. dock to take on fresh water. There might be a moral in it but if there is it is a moral based on common sense and might be carried beyond the realm of shipping and into international diplomacy.

Anyway, the Chukotka, being a former German vessel, has fittings gauged on the metric scale which is different from the inch-foot system used in these parts. Ivan became aware of it when he tried to connect his ship's hoses to wharfside water outlets to fill his tanks.

The problem called for a reasonable compromise which was finally settled and Chukotka eventually began taking on her 600 tons of water.

Of course, there was the inevitable comment from a dockside wag that the Russians must have heard that Prince Rupert has stopped chlorinating its water and had come from Vancouver to fill his tanks here. That, however, was a slight exaggeration. Capt. Alexeev's original intention was to take on fuel as well but he found that there was apparently none to spare at this port.

Chukotka, a passenger-cargo vessel of 10,000 tons, is registered at Leningrad but was formerly a part of the German-South African line. She was taken by the Russians as a war prize. Her interior appointments show signs of a vanished luxury and her woodwork is badly in need of varnish.

The 1948 Port Day committee, spearheaded by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, but with strong backing from representatives of the fishing industry, is planning to make this year's Port Day the best yet and is not passing up any offers for support from any quarter.

After the 1947 Port Day, the Daily News published a letter to the editor which pointed out in no uncertain terms the failings of the marine gala. That there were failings no one will disagree. Some events dragged and there were organizational difficulties that were not completely ironed out. Putting on a celebration of that sort is a complex thing that requires ideas and work by a large group—especially work.

So at this time, before Port Day, it is felt by the committee that it might be a good idea if incipient critics take a hand in promoting its success rather than waiting until after it is over, then blasting it for its shortcomings.

It was suggested at Thursday night's committee meeting

Walked Here From Terrace

Former Usk Man Did Not Even Get His Feet Wet

Edgar Baxter, who has been working with the Canadian National Railways section gang at Usk, walked over the railway grade from Terrace to Kwinitsa this week without even getting his feet wet.

He started out Tuesday morning and followed the wrecked track all the way. It was laden with silt to a depth of two feet at some points. He had to use a boat to cross water at Shames. Tuesday night he spent at Ex-stew in the station house. He hitch-hiked in on a truck from west of Kwinitsa.

There are two big washouts on the line, Baxter says. The largest is west of Salvus. Another is at Shames. There are also several smaller washouts.

At some points the tracks are tilted over and carried out of place.

Baxter, who is heading for the Queen Charlotte Island logging camps, thinks it will take from six weeks to two months to get the trains running again.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. What should a hostess do when she is entertaining several guests and one of them shows plainly that she is thoroughly bored?

A. Ignore it and devote all your attention to the others. A guest who is this rude will of course not be invited again.

Q. Should every guest at a wedding reception congratulate the bride and bridegroom?

A. The bridegroom should be congratulated, but not the bride. One should extend best wishes for happiness to the bride.

Q. Is it permissible to ask a friend to introduce you to other people?

A. Not unless you are sure the meeting would be a mutual pleasure.

Q. When the ice cream is served on pie, should the ice cream be eaten with a spoon?

A. No, the fork should be used.

that if the written formula for a successful Port Day can be composed after the event, the critic is the logical man to take a leading part in making the next Port Day a success. And that, the committee feels, is an invitation to work.

Reminiscences and Reflections

A Russian deep sea ship, "Honk Hack Had Hap-Hazard Hoist!"

Once, Prince Rupert entertained a man who had been president of the United States. Portly and pleasant he was Mr. W. H. Taft. This was away back in the days just after the first Great War. He was guest of the Canadian Club at luncheon with the late Judge Young in the chair. Mr. Taft was ample. He had an amiable look and an almost musical chuckle.

Duck Lake has history and no growth. It is situated between Rosthern and Prince Albert, Saskatchewan and when the rebellion broke in the spring of '85 there was a massacre there. P. M. Ray who returned this week from Saskatoon, where he attended the Legion Convention, managed to visit Duck Lake, where, more than 40 years ago he was employed in a bank. He remembered a few folks but Duck Lake, smaller than ever, is just a dusty spot on the bald prairie.

They had car smashes in Prince Rupert even as far back as 1910. We learn that on December 29 Harry Sykes backed into a plate glass front, then broke a candy kitchen window, and then jolted into a street excavation, to lay on its side with motor still running. The Evening Empire's alliterative minded headline man put it this way—

In the 14th century when Venice imported sugar from the Orient it was so costly that only the wealthy could afford it.
